

President Patterson presented a petition from some of the students praying to be allowed to institute a fraternity in the College.

On motion of Prof. Nelson a committee consisting of Profs. Nelson, Neville, White, Anderson and Macite was appointed to consider the advisability of ^{allowing the} introduction of fraternities into the College.

There being no further business the Faculty adjourned.

J. W. Newman
Sec. Faculty

A. and M. College, Feb. 29, 1893.

Meeting called to consider the reports of the committee appointed to take under advisement the propriety of admitting fraternities into the College. The committee appointed at a previous meeting reported favorably with the exception of Prof. Neville the petition referred to them. The report was adopted by a vote of 14 to 3. Those voting in the negative were Prof. Patterson, (W.C.) Prof. Neville and Prof. Matthews.

There being no further business the Faculty adjourned.

J. W. Newman
Sec. Faculty

Springfield, N.Y., N.Y. State College, Mar. 31, 1893.

Meeting called by Pres. Patterson to consider the settling of honors for the class of '93. Present: Pres. Patterson, Prof. Shackelford, Neville, Helveti, Nelson, Prof. Anderson, Macite, Blanton, White, Matthews, Bennett, Penie, Gorman, Patterson, Newman.

The following persons were named as candidates for graduation: White, and Railey in the C. & C. course, Johnson in the M. & C.

course, Miss Adams in the A.B.; and Nobby, McCarlin, Lunn, Bryan, Hillis in the B.S. course, Roberts and Courtney in B.Ed. course.

On ballot for first honor Miss Adams received five votes, Nobby six. The latter was declared valedictorian, One ballot for second honor Miss Adams was ~~cast~~ by a large majority over Johnson, and was declared salutatorian of the class.

On motion the President appointed a committee consisting of Haste, Anderson, Nelson, White and Shackelford to arrange a basis upon which honors should in the future be determined.

On motion the Dean of each department was allowed for the present term.

There being no further business the Faculty adjourned.

J. W. Newman
Sec. Faculty

State College of Kentucky
Apr. 13, 1893

Faculty met in call session to consider matters pertaining to the Military departments. There being a quorum present Col. Blay stated it was necessary for him to have some time in which to give the cadets exercises in "Guard Mounting" etc. as he was not to go into camp with them this year. After discussion a committee consisting of Col. Blay, Prof. Neville, White, Nelson, Anderson and Patterson was appointed with power to make necessary provision for the required time. There being no further business the Faculty adjourned.

J. W. Newman,
Secretary of the Faculty.