

Military Ball Set For Tonight

At ease, gentlemen! Tonight's the night of the annual Military Ball to be held in the Student Union Ballroom between 8:30 p.m. and 12:30 a.m.

The event, jointly sponsored by Air Force and Army ROTC units, is formal. A no-flower policy has been announced. Late permission (1 a.m.) has been granted by Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes.

Admission is $1 per person with the Troubadours providing the music. The festivities are not limited to military students only.

Queen of the annual ball will be selected from a group of 16 AFROTC and 16 Army ROTC candidates.

Six finalists from each group of 16 candidates were selected in elimination rounds late Wednesday afternoon.

Air Force finalists included Catherine Shelburn, Marcia Wilder, Booker Andrews, Nelda Clarkson, Mary Hazelwood, and Sandy Perry.

Army finalists are Jane Loyd, Mary Ann Ogden, Vera Dean Scott, Martha Utterback, Greta Boswell, and Norma Jean Brandenburg.

The AFROTC candidates are: June Mefford, Patt Hall; Miss Andrews, KKG; Miss Hazelwood, McDowell House; Jane Fowley, Boyd Hall; Miss Clarkson, Hamilton House; Miss Wilder, KD; Phyllis Chernek, ZTA.

Miss Shelburn, KAT; Vera Baldrige, DZ; Jane Ann Clark, Dillard House; Bette Harris, Lydia Brown House; Joan Huffman, ADPI; Miss Perry, XO; Joan Blevins, AGD; Donna Turner, Jewell Hall; and Mary Ellen Bruce, AXID.

The Army ROTC candidates are: Jane Loyd, Boyd Hall; Mary Ann Ogden, KKG; Sabra Wood, Jewell Hall; Vera Dean Scott, Hamilton House; Martha Utterback, XO; Marian Willis, DZ; Shirley Lynn, Dillard House.

Shirlee Maier, Lydia Brown House; Emily Bell, KAT; Greta Boswell, AGD; Ruth Harris, McDowell House; Elynor Newman, ADPI; Carol Conrad, ZTA; Norma Jean Brandenburg, KD; Sammy Hancock, Patt Hall; and Donetta Browning, AXID.

Distinguished Prof To Present Annual Honorary Lecture

Dr. Lyle R. Dawson, 1954-55 distinguished professor for the College of Arts and Sciences, will present the annual honorary lecture at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Guignol Theatre.

The distinguished professor title, the highest honor for scholarly achievement that the Arts and Sciences faculty can accord, was awarded to Dr. Dawson last spring. His topic for the special lecture will be "Some Aspects of the Chemistry of Non-aqueous Solutions."

Following the lecture an informal reception will be held in the music lounge of the Fine Arts Building. Members of Sigma Xi and the Research Club will serve as ushers.

Inaugurated in 1944 as a means of recognizing "outstanding accomplishment in a chosen field," selection of a Distinguished Professor of the Year is made annually by the Arts and Sciences faculty. Last year's recipient was Dr. Herbert P. Riley of the Biology Department.

The honored professor is granted a semester free from teaching duties in order to conduct or continue some research project and to prepare the annual Arts and Sciences lecture.

Dr. Dawson has been the head of UK's Department of Chemistry since 1945. He became acting head of the Graduate School Feb. 1.

A native of Long Point, Ill., Dr. Dawson became research chemist and group leader on the Atomic Bomb Project in 1943 at the University of Chicago. He also was a member of the committee which organized the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

The U. S. Army Signal Corps and the Army Ordnance Corps have awarded Dr. Dawson research contracts totaling $143,000. A chemical consultant for several industries, he was elected a Fellow of the American Institute of Chemists in 1952.

This year's distinguished professor graduated from Illinois State Normal University (B.S.), the University of Illinois (M.S.), and the State University of Iowa (Ph.D.).

Members of the distinguished professor committee are Dr. Riley, Dr. Arthur C. McFarlan, Dr. William F. Wagner, Stuart W. Hallock, Robert W. Bagley, and Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Leadership Conference

The program for a Leadership Conference to be held by the YMCA at Camp Daniel Boone on the Kentucky River next fall is discussed by Prof. R. D. McIntyre (with pipe) and Chairman, Ruth Lewis.

The project is sponsored by Links (junior women's honorary) and co-sponsored by Mortar Board, ODK, and Lances.

76 UK Students Get A Standings

Seventy-six students attained an all-A (4) standing last semester, according to information issued this week from the deans of the various colleges.

Arts and Sciences again led other colleges with a total of 26 students achieving the perfect standing.

The College of Education listed 19 all-A records, College of Engineering had 15, College of Agriculture and Home Economics listed nine, College of Commerce had six, and the College of Law listed one student with an all-A record.

The students include: College of Arts and Sciences — Raybell M. Adams, senior majoring in modern foreign languages; John

T. Bondurant, junior majoring in pre-law; Larry Tod Brown, freshman majoring in psychology;

Thomas Franklin Coats, senior in arts-law; James M. Deacon Jr., sophomore in arts-law; Avery O. Dotson, of Covington; Letha Yvonne Eaton, junior in journalism; John D. Fischer, senior with a topical major; Betty Jo Fritz, junior in chemistry; George Francis Gray, senior in anatomy and physiology; Mona June Hayward, junior in physics.

J. S. Pope To Give Lecture Monday

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, will deliver the second in a series of Sigma Delta Chi lectures at 2 p.m. Monday in room 211 of the Journalism Building.

He will speak on "Editorial Production Problems."

Pope will be the guest of the journalism staff at a luncheon Monday in the Marguerite McLaughlin Room of the Journalism Building.

The series of lectures are sponsored by the Louisville chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Norman Isaacs, managing editor of the Louisville Times, opened the 13-lecture series on Feb. 21.

Committee Gives Plans For 1965

Specific purposes which the Committee of 15, organized to make plans for the centennial celebration in 1965, hopes to accomplish with the aid of the faculty and staff were outlined at a University Assembly meeting Wednesday in Memorial Hall.

The purposes given by Dr. Thomas Clark, chairman of the Committee, were:

1. Have a review of the budget by June 1956. The budget should also be in a form that the people can understand.
2. Make better use of the University "plant" than is being made now.
3. Decide what new buildings are needed and those that will receive preference. Also try to make it possible for all temporary buildings to be removed.
4. Study the University curricula.
5. Improve classroom teaching and place new emphasis upon this.
6. Make a continuous study of the salaries of the faculty and staff.
7. Keep the University free and non-partisan at all times.
8. Maintain a good public relations program at all times.

The Committee of 15, composed of faculty, was organized in September 1954 by President H. L. Donovan and the Board of Trustees to determine what the University can and should like at the Centennial in 1965.

"It is not the objective of the committee, however, to plan a celebration in 1965," Dr. Clark said.

He explained that five sub-committees have already been appointed and are working on parts of these problems. Those committees are a committee to draw up recommendations that the faculty and staff have made for the next president of the University and one to make a report on the budget.

These recommendations are to be submitted to the Board of Trustees through the Committee. Dr. Amry Vandenbosch is chairman of the presidential committee.

The three other committees are studying the enrollment problems, public relations, and the curricula which is described as one of the largest problems.

Dr. Clark told the Assembly that the Committee does not have the sole responsibility of solving these problems and achieving the purposes, but that it must be the understanding of the entire faculty and staff. He said that the success of the Committee may mean the success of the University.

Leadership Conference Proposed

A Leadership Conference to train potential leaders and to aid those students who have achieved positions of leadership will be sponsored by four campus honoraries next fall at the YMCA Camp Daniel Boone on Kentucky River.

Sponsors of the project are Links, junior women's honorary; Mortar Board, senior women; ODK, senior men; and Lances, junior men's honorary.

As explained by Chairman Ruth Lewis, "The conference will provide general information on methods of leadership, specific information on extracurricular activities, suggestions for improved techniques for campus organizations."

The hazards that a young lady faces in college today have been greatly increased of late here at the University of Kentucky. As if there weren't enough hazards for them to get into, M & O has to put those open steam line trenches across all the walks. These two co-eds aren't dug in for an atomic attack—they just walked too near the edge.

Law Frat To Present Libel Show

Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, will present its annual libel show Thursday.

Skits are to be presented by members of the fraternity depicting life in the College of Law. Each skit is a satirization of a professor, as he appears to the students. The members of the cast are kept secret until actual presentation, for obvious reasons.

Dave Sebree, clerk for the fraternity, is in charge of the libel show committee. He is aided by Edward Fossett, Tom Soyars, James Levin, Dave Levy, Thomas Collins, and Thomas A. Mitchell.

A door prize will be given to the freshman who is able to guess prior to the show which student will portray each professor.

Sweater Swing To Follow Game

A sweater swing will be held from 9-12 p.m. Saturday in the Student Union Ballroom following the Kentucky-Tennessee basketball game.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF BOOKS

You busy college people — you with your classes and your studying and your social activities and your three-legged races — it is no wonder that you have so little time for reading. I mean reading for the pure pleasure of it, not to cram for exams. It is a sad omission, and my heart goes out to you. I do, however, take comfort from the fact that the graduation season approaches. Many of you will soon leave the hurly-burly of college for the tranquility of the outside world. Oh, you'll love it on the outside! It is a quiet life, a gracious and contemplative life, a life of ease and relaxation, of plenty of time to enjoy the treasures of literature.

It is with you in mind that I sit now in my cane-bottomed rocker and close my kindly gray eyes and smoke a mellow Philip Morris cigarette and remember books that made me laugh and books that made me cry and, remembering, laugh and cry again. It is, I say, with you in mind that I sit thus and rock thus and close my kindly gray eyes thus and smoke a Philip Morris thus and laugh and cry thus, for I wish to recommend these lovely and affecting books to you so that you too may someday sit in your cane-bottomed rockers and close your kindly gray eyes and smoke a mellow Philip Morris and remember books that made you laugh and books that made you cry and, remembering, laugh and cry again.

Sitting and rocking, my limpid brown eyes closed in reverie, a plume of white smoke curling lazily upward from my excellent Philip Morris cigarette, I remember a lovely and affecting book called Blood on the Grits by that most talented young Southerner, Richard Membrane Haw. It is a tender and poignant story of a sensitive Alabama boy who passes safely through puberty only to be devoured by boll weevils . . . A lovely and affecting book.

I puff my splendid Philip Morris cigarette and close my dancing blue eyes and recall another book, a thrilling true adventure, lovely and affecting, called I Climbed Everest the Hard Way by Cliff Sherpa. Mr. Sherpa, as everyone knows, was the first man to reach the peak of Mt. Everest by tunneling from below. In his book he gives a lovely and affecting account of his trip, which was not as easy as it sounds, you may be sure.

I light another merry Philip Morris cigarette and close my lambent hazel eyes and recollect another book — Life on the Farm by Dick Woolly. This is a short book — only 55 words — and rather a dull one. It would not be worth mentioning here were it not for the fact that the author is a sheep.

I exhale a cloud of snowy white smoke from my bracing Philip Morris cigarette and shut my laughing green eyes and think of the vast, vast array of historical novels that have given me pleasure.

There is Blood on the Visor by Richard Membrane Haw (he who wrote the lovely and affecting Blood on the Grits). There is Cold Steel and Hot Flashes by Emmaline Prentiss Moulting. There is The Black Shield of Sigafoos by Wruth Wright. There is Four Quarts in a Galleon by William Makepiece Clambroth. There are many, many others, all lovely, all affecting.

But sitting here, drawing on my matchless Philip Morris cigarette, my saucy amber eyes closed tightly, I am thinking that the loveliest, most affecting of all historical novels is May Fuster's classic, I Was a Serf for the F.B.I. Mrs. Fuster, justly famed for her rich historical tapestries, has outdone herself in this tempestuous romance of Angela Bodice, fiery daughter of an entailed fief, who after a great struggle rises to the lofty position of head-linesman to the Emperor of Bosnia and then throws it all away to lead the downtrodden peasants in a revolt against the mackerel tax. She later becomes Ferdinand Magellan.

But the list of fine books is endless, as you will soon discover who are about to leave the turmoil of the campus and enter into the serene world outside, where a man has time to read and rock and close his rakish taupe eyes and smoke good Philip Morris cigarettes.

The makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, tell you that in our book, PHILIP MORRIS is the mildest, tastiest cigarette anybody ever made.

Give The Lawyers A Break

Lafferty Hall, between classes, is the scene of rollicking football games, heated discussions of politics, debates over the attributes of the coeds passing by, and penny-pitching exercises.

The young men gathered there are the prospective lawyers and state leaders of Kentucky. They certainly need these few minutes of relaxation, because many and long are the hours that they spend inside their sacred halls poring over torts, criminal law, and "cigarette cases".

This is the way most of the UK students know and think of the Law College. Too few ever get inside the doors and actually see what makes it tick, or realize the effort, energy, and time expended by both the students and faculty in maintaining the successful Law College that they have.

In the face of a national decrease in enrollment of law students, UK's enrollment has continued to increase. UK has one of 52 Law Colleges that showed an increase out of the 128 law schools approved by the American Bar Association.

Known and recognized to be the "roughest" college on campus, the Law School has continued to keep improving in the last year. They have acquired several thousand books from the old State Library and have redecorated the class rooms.

Along the lines of improvement, the law school has approved a Legal Research Committee report asking for a permanent agency to coordinate legal research and to cooperate with other agencies inside and outside the University.

They sponsored the first Kentucky Traffic Court Conference, have refitted one room as a courtroom and have approved the policy of conducting seminars on a regular basis for second and third year law students. These seminars were begun this semester.

The students in law are some of the most outstanding students on campus and have in many cases proved to be the campus leaders. The faculty of the law school, which was increased by one this year, has established a record of achievement, service and activity.

These students, their faculty, and their progress during the past few years deserve a great deal of credit, because they have kept progressing into one of the best of the nation's smaller law colleges.

Their needs at the present, according to Dr. H. L. Donovan's annual report, are more funds for books and scholarships and an addition to Lafferty Hall or a new building.

The annual Law Day trial is an event of campus-wide interest. The growth and accomplishments of the law school should be of state wide interest. It is the cornerstone of the state's future, as President Donovan states in his report.

These men and women of the law school deserve much more attention and recognition than they have received in the past. There is an outstanding and encouraging achievement of success for the University of Kentucky.

New Four Point System Fails

The new deal four point system for UK scholastic standings seems to have become a thorn in the flesh for both the Administration and for those students who make E's.

The new deal began this fall in hopes of giving quality points to students who pass a course with a D. All students are to be graded by this system.

It was assumed that all standings would be raised just one whole point, and that the D student would be greatly benefited. However, these dreams have been shattered by the realization that the person who happens to fail a course suffers much greater loss than under the old, three-point system.

This loss has been great enough that the sororities decided through Panhellenic to lower their standing for initiation to a C average for this semester, until the equivalent of a 1.3 on the three-point system is translated to the four-point system.

The faculty voted last year to put the four-point system into effect this year. However, it appears that they did not take into consideration the difference that would be made in the case of an E, or else they did not realize it. They also must not have considered all of the work that would be necessary to change the standings for three-fourths of the students from the three to the four-point.

They were evidently trying to give something to some students for nothing (D's), but have only taken more away from those students who have a little less of nothing (E's) and have caused a great deal of unnecessary work.

A better solution to the problem would have been to figure all standings by the method used when computing quality points for graduation. When grades are figured toward graduation, the E's and failing withdrawals are not considered.

This would have eliminated many of the failings of the three-point system, and could even now clear up the difficulties of the four-point system. If the E's are not considered at all, there would be no difference in the standing because those hours would be forgotten.

There are two other courses of action. One would be to go back to the well-known and well-understood three-point system.

Or, in keeping with the spirit of advancement, try a five-point system. This way everybody would get points and no one would be left out. It would mean a change in the number of quality points required for graduation, but this would be less of a loss than that suffered by the student who receives an E under the four-point system.

The loss of work hours for the changing of the systems and the loss of the students with E's seem to outweigh any benefit gained by a four-point system.

It would seem more logical, since the hours of E's are not considered for graduation, not to consider them on figuring standings. Also, since we operate on the five letter grading system, it seems more logical to use a five-point system than a four-point system.

So, of the possibilities for remedying the present situation, we prefer the five-point system and/or the eliminating of E grades altogether.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"Did you notice that genuine imported cashmere sweater?"

As Sherman Said

By RAY HORNBACK

My name is Herbie Jeebies. Last week I was a lowly pledge. But now I'm an active . . . a glorious active of the Ungah Gamma Hapsilon fraternity. I am an active UGH.

I am fatigued, for I have just been through "Hell Week." You may say that such a statement is utterly ridiculous, as hell weeks are forbidden by the deans. But don't let that ruin your fun. I have just gone through one week of pure hell such as Faust never dreamed of. Now don't get the impression that I'm not happy as an active UGH.

After the past week, I wouldn't trade my UGH pin for all the big cars on campus. Nor would I place it upon the sweater of a pert young coed. I love my UGH pin. But back to hell week. It all started Monday morning early Monday morning—when I was urged to acquire the signature of the milkman—written in milk. He was a nice milkman, even at four in the morning.

I went to all my classes on Monday. That evening I was asked to participate in games with the boys. The first game was called "paddle." It was sort of a funny game, a game in which I was the butt of the joke.

Next, we played "bend at the waist." It was sort of a funny game too. In fact, I was the butt of the joke again.

And, finally, we played "assume the position." Come to think of it, it was sort of a funny game too. And darned if I wasn't the butt of the joke again.

As I was going to bed, I spoke to the milkman. He didn't seem to be quite as nice as I had remembered.

Tuesday, I missed my first two classes. That night I played more funny games and spoke to the milkman again before going to bed. I think my first impression of him was false.

Wednesday, I didn't quite make it to my first three classes. That night, I had a good square meal and participated in several limbering-up exercises. To be truthful, they really laid the limber to me. I again spoke to the milkman before retiring. He certainly is a grouch in the morning.

Thursday, I didn't see the smiling face of a professor until the eighth hour. That night I went on a scavenger hunt. The first thing I was to acquire was a kitten—a dead kitten. But I could only find a live kitten—poor kitty-cat.

Next, I was told to bring back a certain piece of women's apparel which is worn above the waist and is not seen by the male eye. The girls at the Chi Oopslon house were very obliging. Bless them!

The list of required objects also included a picture of an English professor reading Mad Comics, a dirty ROTC rifle, and a record of

"Donkey Dee" saying "We wuz robbed."

I also had to bring back a fully clothed picture of Marilyn Monroe, a 10 pound bullfrog (which is a lot of bull in anyone's league), the names of five students who like to live under a dictatorship, a snuff box, and an original copy of Tschainkovsky's "Swan Lake."

I went to bed at 4:35, but not before speaking to the milkman. I found that speaking to him was almost unbearable.

Friday, I did not go to class. I was pooped. That night, the royal, most-impressive, all-powerful, and moth-eaten robe was placed upon my shoulders. I was led through the sacred ceremonies of Ungah Gamma Hapsilon . . . until finally . . . the sacred, jewel-encrusted, $37.50 pin of Ungah Gamma Hapsilon was placed upon my breast.

A week of crying, laughter, pain, embarrassment, tolerance, and plain hell is now behind me. I've proved to the boys that I've got guts. For I'm an UGH!

And in becoming an UGH, I've proved that I can take any and everything—that is with the exception of milkmen. I just can't stand milkmen.

Ungone Gal

Speaking of popular girls, we know of a story that circulated widely recently to the effect that a lovely young thing had run away to get married. All because she stayed home one whole day to write a term paper and wasn't seen by her numerous associates. We disappear and people merely mutter that it won't be for long enough.

The Sign

Out in the business world, so they tell us, the surest way to measure a man's character and popularity is to see how many of the secretaries in his office resign.

Branching Out

As a public service, the Kernel would like to warn all persons on the University campus that M&O has strewn tree limbs and branches in the gap once filled by the fence by the Journalism Building. These branches can't be seen at night, and there's a possibility of injury to persons cutting across No Man's Land. We're keeping a supply of bandages, splints, and crutches to make up for M&O's oversight.

How True

"Thinking is an unnatural and arduous activity for human beings as walking on two legs is for monkeys. We seldom do more of it than we have to; and our disinclination to think is generally greatest at the times we are feeling the most comfortable."—Arnold J. Toynbee, from "Greek Historical Thought."

THE MOON

A place of utter desolation, no habitation, no plant life, no haze, smoke, clouds, dust storms, water, wind, sound, twilight, or dawn—that's our moon. Since it is about one-eightieth as heavy as our earth, most astronomers believe that some two billion years ago it was pulled from what is now the Pacific Ocean area of Earth by the tidal force of the sun.

The earth-moon material was spinning much faster before separation than now and the solar tides occurred every two hours. According to Sir George Darwin, this was the natural period of oscillation of the body. The tides grew and grew until a globe was broken off, whirling through space, attracted by the mother planet, and held almost as its twin. At that time, perhaps, the moon had an atmosphere like that of the globe left behind. However, its small size made its gravitational pull insufficient to retain any other than the rarified gas of outer space. The absence of an atmosphere is revealed by the lack of a halo during a total eclipse of the sun.

The absence of clouds of any kind allows the full force of the sun's rays to be felt where it shines on the daughter of Earth. Total darkness prevails in the shade. If it were possible for a person to visit the moon at a spot where the sun would be directly overhead, he would experience a temperature of just above the boiling point of water. He must certainly reach for the blanket at night. The temperature drops rapidly after sundown and reaches 250° F below zero. This same moon visitor, were he an average jumping athlete on earth, would find his running broad jump to be about 100 feet. His high jump would put him on top of the average three story building.

Look at the moon. For a treat use field glasses. Notice the mountains on its outer edges. Study its many craters. Don't forget the interesting shadows. For many observers these shadows show up as familiar objects. In the center is a clown, sometimes appearing as a large bear or a woman with a double chin. A girl's profile appears to the rear of this and a dog's head in front. The profile of a man and a small jumping lamb are buried in the shadows. A hare, a donkey's head, an elk's head, and a hen and chickens are a few other objects seen in the picture-puzzle face of the moon.

A lunar halo, caused by the refraction of sunlight or reflected moonlight by high icy clouds in our own atmosphere is a beautiful sight. These halos are formed in much the same way as our rainbows and sometimes appear in color. The most common halo subtends an arc of 22 while a larger one, subtending 46°, occasionally forms.

Thousands of people have experienced the enchantment of the moonbow seen above the falls on the Cumberland River. Here the mist rises above the falls and is struck by the reflected light from the full or near-full moon at just the right angle to form the colorful moonbow in the mist. The moonbow may also be seen at Victoria Falls in Africa.

But what of the death of the moon? At present the moon is receding from Earth at a very slow rate. Its distance from Earth, now 240,000 miles, will gradually increase to about 300,000 miles. This will take from 30 to 100 billions years. The moon will be dragged back toward Earth and will eventually be torn to bits by the tidal pull of Earth. Earth will then be surrounded by a ring similar to one of those now seen encircling Saturn.

Several individuals with whom I have talked have expressed a desire to be around for this magnificent spectacle. By the time this takes place, if our speculations are correct, there will have been some changes which will make this little alteration go completely unnoticed.

Bird Dogs Snatch Coeds

By BILL HILLITER

All the world loathes a bird dog. Of course we're not referring to the big, shaggy canine. We're speaking of the big, shaggy date-snatcher. He's obnoxious.

A bird dog, although resembling a human, is actually of a much lower animal species. He has been classified as a leech, Virginia creeper, and mistletoe. Needless to say, the bird dog is a bum.

Consider how frustrating a bird dog can be. A guy gets a date with some lush tomato and gets all vaulted up about it. He plans one big evening, something to sweep the frail off of her feet.

So he takes out salt tomato and wines and dines her. He empties his billfold in one big spree. But what happens? You guessed it. Enter the bird dog.

Now bird dog also has been shot with the tomato's program. But bird dog, shrewd devil that he is, figures it hardly worth bankrupting himself to impress the dame. So he bites his time.

When Love-sick Lunatic comes on the scene, the bird dog is all set up. Love-sick Lunatic is the stoop that carries the co-ed from one clip joint to another. He's nothing more to the tomato than a schmoe with dough.

Just when Love-sick Lunatic thinks he's sufficiently impressed his date with his generosity, the bird dog strikes. The attack varies, but Love-sick Lunatic always gets flushed at the outcome.

The bird dog is a cunning one, we must admit. He slinks into where the damsel and her date are partying. Sliding into a chair, he lights a cigarette, rolls his beady eyes, and cackles.

Soon the bird dog slithers out of his chair and weasels his way to the dance floor. Flashing a toothy smile, he gurgles, "May I cut in?" Before the poor guy has a chance to refuse, the bird dog and the tomato are gone.

Now it wouldn't be so bad for Love-sick Lunatic if the bird dog only kept the co-ed for one dance. But the cad proceeds to go through one dance after another with the dish. All the while, Love-sick Lunatic is forthing at the mouth and nursing the urge to kill.

The tomato is generally returned to Love-sick Lunatic by the time the band begins wheezing out "Goodnight, Sweetheart." Sometimes, however, the bird dog even takes this dance.

It would be hardly fair to condemn the campus bird dogs without placing some of the guilt on the wretched co-eds themselves. The heartless co-ed dotes on the attention of an unscrupulous bird dog. She loves it.

A co-ed surveys the situation as soon as she enters a scene of party going. She looks for a possible bird dog. More than likely she spies one. Then she goes to work. She nods to the bird dog and lazily flutters her eyelashes at him. She blows him a kiss. In fact she does anything possible to show him she's bored with her legitimate date.

Naturally the tomato in question furiously denies that she likes to be whisked off by some date thief. The standard line: "But, honey, what else could I do?" Then she feigns innocence.

The Asylum has done some careful research on how to foil a date-snapper, bird dog, heel, four flusher, or whatever one chooses to call such vermin. Our suggestions:

First, you can always try the avoidance technique. Take your date to some highly secluded place, say a haunted house. Tell no one where your destination is; trust no one.

Second, you might try disguise. Put a gunny sack over your date before bringing her into the dance. This might fool the bird dogs.

Third, come well armed. A knife between the ribs generally discourages a bird dog.

Fourth, be blasé and casual. Act as if you're really quite glad the bird dog took your date off your hands. Act relieved. This shakes up a date snatcher. He wonders if the co-ed was worth bird dogging.

Fifth, always date a complete beast. This is the sure way to avoid bird dogs. Don't think how revolting the little monster is; just remember that you—lucky you—possess an unbird-dogable date.

ROTC Chooses Queen Tonight; Honoraries Give Parties

JUDY BOTELER

The Military Ball will be held tonight at 8:30 in the Student Union Ballroom. The Military Ball Queen and her two attendants will be chosen by those attending the dance who will vote at the door.

The dance, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, which is chairman group this year, Scabbard and Blade, and Pershing Rifles, is formal.

The Troubadors will provide the music, and there will be 1:00 permission for the girls.

The Air Force ROTC candidates are: Booker Andrews, Squadron A; Nelda Clarkon, Squadron B; Catherine Shelbourn, Squadron C; Marcia Wilder, Squadron D; Mary Hazelwood, Squadron E; and Sandy Perry, Squadron F.

The Army ROTC candidates are: Jane Loyd, Company A; Mary Ann

Ogden, Company B; Vera Dean Scott, Company C; Martha Utterback, Company E; Greta Boswell, Company F; Norma Jean Brandenburg, Company G.

RE Week, sponsored by the Interfaith Council, will begin on Monday with a convocation in Memorial Coliseum at 10:00 a.m. Students will be dismissed from classes in order to attend.

During the week many speakers will appear before assemblies in various colleges and in many classrooms.

Mortar Board held a "smarty party" last night in Boyd Hall Lounge to recognize those girls who have achieved a 3. standing or better.

Cwens and Alpha Lambda Delta were hosts for a tea yesterday at the home of Dean Sarah B. Holmes in honor of all freshmen women with a standing of 3. or better for last semester.

Pouring for the tea were: Miss Ida Bennett, Miss Jane Haselden, Betty Jo Marlin, past president of Cwens, and Mrs. Mildred Cronin, past president of Alpha Lambda Delta.

New officers for Alpha Delta Pi are: Martha Kay Mason, president; Ann Young, vice president; Janet Lewis, treasurer; Elynor Newman, secretary; Joann Barrett, Jo Anne Menne, and Rhea Peacher, rush chairman.

Newly elected officers of Panhellenic are: Sharon Miller, AXID, president; Marilyn Rug, KD, vice president; Joann Barrett, ADPI, secretary, and Jennia Collier, ZTA, treasurer.

STEP RIGHT UP FOR LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below. Droodle suggested by Robert Bardole, University of Florida.

ENJOY YOURSELF to the hilt whenever you smoke. Simply light up a Lucky and get Luckies' famous better taste. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Now for the Droodle above, titled: Better-tasting Lucky smoke puffed by modern sculptor. Make a monumental discovery. Next time you buy cigarettes, try the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

Donovan Attends Group To See Garrett Funeral 'Gaon Sathis'

The 61-year-old president of Western Kentucky State College died at his campus home Monday. He was Dr. Paul L. Garrett, Western's second president since the college was founded in 1906. Official UK representatives at the educator's funeral Wednesday included President Herman L. Donovan and Comptroller F. D. Peterson.

Governor Lawrence Wetherby called Garrett's death "a cruel and heavy blow to the progress of higher education in Kentucky." Dr. Garrett did graduate work at UK between 1928 and 1935.

"Gaon Sathis," a movie in color produced by the Ford Foundation, will be shown at the annual Agriculture and Home Economic banquet, Thursday, March 24.

This will mark the premiere showing in this section. The film tells the story of a young man and his wife who decided to be village workers in India. It pictorially presents the obstacles they came up against.

Other feature of the banquet will be the awarding of scholarships to high ranking students of Agriculture and Home Economics.

'God And The Campus', Is R.E. Theme

reigning everywhere

AFTER SIX formalisms are king on campuses! "Natural" fit, "stain-shy" finish. Princely values at pauper prices. Have lots more fun—go

Seven outstanding speakers will be on campus Monday through Wednesday to participate in the Religious Emphasis Week at the University.

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Interfaith Council, will open at 10 a.m. Monday with a convocation in Memorial Coliseum. All third hour classes will be dismissed for the opening session.

The speakers taking part in the annual event will appear before classes, fraternities, sororities, and student organizations. The theme for the special week this year is "God and the Campus."

In addition to the Monday morning convocation, there will be nightly sessions in Memorial Coliseum from 7 to 8 o'clock each of the three days.

The purpose of Religious Emphasis Week is "to show students that security found anywhere except in God is superficial and inadequate."

Sydney Fitch and John Fischer are the co-chairmen for the event and Andy Blane, Baptist Student Union director, is the advisor.

The following will be the participating speakers:

LT. Col. George W. Almond, deputy post chaplain at Fort Knox, began his military career in 1944. He served in the European theatre, and following the war, he was the senior chaplain for the American Graves Registration Command.

Later he saw duty at Sandia Base, Albuquerque, N.M., and in Japan. Ordained in 1938, he received an A.B. degree from Wayne State Teachers College, Wayne, Neb., and an STB degree from Boston University School of Theology.

Rev. T. B. (Scotty) Cowan, pastor of Everybody's Church, a community church in Lexington, was born in Scotland. He came to America in 1923, working for a time in the steel mills of Pennsylvania.

He received his A.B. degree from Yale and Vanderbilt. Previous pastorates were held by the Rev. Mr. Cowan in Tennessee.

Dr. Paul Homer is the David W. Swensen Kierkegaard-Chair Professor of Philosophy at the University of Minnesota. An outstanding exponent of Kierkegaard, he received his Ph.D. from Yale University.

Rabbi Joseph Rauch, rabbi at Temple Adath Israel, Louisville, is a native of Austria. He graduated from the University of Cincinnati (B.A.), University of Chicago (Ph.D.), University of Kentucky (L.L.D.), and Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, (D.D.)

Rabbi Rauch is the author of several religious books, and he has travelled extensively through Europe, the Near East, and Central America.

Orchestra To Appear In Series

One of Europe's finest orchestras will perform at the University next week.

The Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Herbert von Karajan, will appear at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Memorial Coliseum.

Van Karajan, a 46-year-old maestro who has already received international acclaim, was born in Salzburg and educated in Vienna.

Before he was 30, von Karajan has conducted "Tristan" and "Pidelio" at the Berlin Opera. In addition to concerts and recordings with the London Philharmonic Orchestra, von Karajan has appeared in most of Europe's major music festivals.

The Berlin Philharmonic is making its first American tour under the patronage of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and under the sponsorship of the German Ambassador.

Monday night's program follows:

- Overture to "Egmont," Opus 84, Beethoven;
- "Adagio for Strings," Opus 11, Barber;
- "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," Opus 28, Richard Strauss;
- "Symphony No. 7 in A major," Opus 92, Beethoven.

A play about a Kentuckian, written by two Kentuckians, had its premiere in New York last December.

Co-author of the play, "Mrs. Patterson," starring Eartha Kitt, is Greer Johnson, '41, of Lexington. The other Kentuckian who authored the play is Charles Sebree, native of Hopkins County.

L. Walter Allen Hogge Jr., of Lexington, a 1949 graduate and assistant wing communications officer at Moody Air Force Base, Valdosta, Ga., has been promoted to captain in the Air Force.

His wife, Betty Viola Harris Hogge, is also a UK alumna.

Mrs. Myrtle C. Wilson recently accepted the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant in behalf of her son, former Lt. Herbert Mackey, who now lives in Sonora, Ky.

Mackey, a 1952 graduate of UK, asked her to receive the medal in his name because "she is the kind of mother most soldiers wanted and needed."

Mackey was awarded the medal for meritorious service in Korea.

Troupers To Give Chapel Program

The University of Kentucky Troupers will give another of their performances for high schools at 9 a.m. Thursday at a Harrodsburg high school chapel program.

The Troupers performed Tuesday night at the Phoenix Hotel for a meeting of the Lexington General Telephone Company. Acts included Macey Burman with an acrobatic act; and Ronnie Eversole, Margie Cruden, Barty Bates, and Patsy Cloud doing an adagio act.

Tryouts for membership in the Troupers will be held at 8:30 p.m. on the next two Tuesdays in the Euclid Avenue classrooms.

'Stars In Night'

Organizations expecting to bring to participate in the annual Stars in the Night program April 6 in Memorial Hall must have the necessary information in the Program Director's office, room 122, Student Union, by Thursday.

Letters have been sent to organizations usually participating in the program. Other interested groups are asked to contact the Program Director at once.

Proficiency Tests

The foreign language proficiency test will be given Friday, March 18. Students who wish to take the test should make arrangements with Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Captain Bill Evans and the rest of the Kentucky team were carried off the floor by happy fans after the Cats had downed Alabama 66-52. The conference eligible-NCAA ineligible Evans will play his last game for the Cats tomorrow against Tennessee.

UK Ends Season With Vols

By TOM PRESTON

UK's Invitational was the big one, the DePaul game was the big one, Alabama was the big game... and now here comes the really big one... Tennessee.

Yes sir, all Kentucky has to do is stop the Orange and White from Tennessee and Baron Adolph Rupp can claim his 16th SEC championship crown.

From numerous observations, the latest opinions, beliefs, and hopes are that Kentucky won't have too much trouble with our neighboring state. Of course, the way fate has been showing around here, Wildcat fans have become accustomed to expect almost anything.

Tennessee will enter Memorial Coliseum Saturday night sporting a 15-6 overall record and an 8-5 SEC mark. Their highest scoring score was against Florida when they racked up 102 points.

Last Monday night the Vols defeated Auburn 86-77. If they can surprise Kentucky by downing them and Alabama can get by Auburn, the conference will be in an uproar. But, if the Cats carry out the expected, it's all over till next season and as usual, the Big Blue can be called king of the SEC.

Toting the load for Tennessee will be a pair of 6-3 foreigners, Ed Wiener from Brooklyn, N.Y. and Carl Widseth from Minneapolis, Minn. Both men are hitting around 20 points a game and are certainly doing their share of rebounding.

Coaching the Vols is Emmett Lowery, known around the Bluegrass as UK's local guest during football season.

Lowery is always regarded as a pain in the side because of his outstanding scouting records concerning UK. A monument around Stoll Field during grid season, Lowery usually knows Kentucky about as well as Wildcat coaches.

Oh, not quite as well! In 1950, UK fell to Tennessee in Knoxville, 66-53. Since then the Orange clad basketekers have been coming out second best to Kentucky both at home and away.

Just exactly what Coach Lowery has cooked up for the Cats is a big dark secret. One thing for sure: Kentucky will be against a hustling and fighting club.

6 Teams Still Unbeaten In Intramural Volleyball

Six teams sport undefeated records in intramural volleyball play as the round-robin schedule nears the halfway mark. The regular season ends on Tuesday, March 15.

Three of the undefeated teams are in league I. They are SAE, DTD and Tri, all with three wins. League II is represented by KS with three wins and PKT with two wins. Scott Street Barracks is the only undefeated independent team with a 2-0 mark.

In badminton singles, Ray Hornback, PKT, has gained the finals by defeating Tom Kuiper, DTD, 15-7. 15-1. Hornback now meets Joe Taylor, SAE, in the finals. Taylor is the defending champion.

Weightlifters Meet Malick Gym Sunday

A weightlifting meet will be held Sunday afternoon between Kentucky and Malick Gym of Louisville. The meet will be held at three o'clock in Alumni Gym.

Bill McCubbin, I-M director, has announced that the entry deadline for badminton doubles has been changed to Friday, March 4. Play in badminton doubles will begin Monday, March 7. Each organization may enter four teams.

Ping-pong doubles is in the second round of play. McCubbin also announced that bowling will begin on March 22.

Baseball Hopefuls Meet Monday

Baseball Coach Harry Lancaster has called a meeting of all candidates for the diamond squad, both freshmen and varsity for Monday afternoon at three o'clock in the squad meet-room of the Coliseum.

Lancaster said the squad is desperately in need of pitchers and catchers.

Cats Whip Tide; Gain SEC Lead

It's all over except for the shouting. Kentucky whipped Alabama 66-52.

No matter what the Cats do from here on, they have fulfilled a long awaited task... to down the Crimson Tide.

Early in the contest though, it seemed as if UK fans would be in for a shaky and hectic evening as the visitors jumped into an 8-2 lead.

Big Bob Burrow didn't have the same opinion. The lanky Wildcat center took one look at Alabama's star, Jerry Harper, decided that there were other "pretty fair men on the floor," and began hitting, rebounding, and moving like a wizard. In fact, he looked like an all-American.

Quite a bit of the credit must go to UK's guards, Bill Evans and Gayle Rose. Their ball handling and excellent passes to Burrow couldn't have been more perfect.

Jerry Bird, feeling the intense pain of his injured ankle, was a madman under the boards all night. He nabbed 19 rebounds.

And then there was Johnny Brewer. Young number 80 with his 14 points and 11 rebounds certainly gave Coach Rupp something to shout about in gay fashion. Brewer, only a sophomore, is quickly convincing fans that he can fill the shoes vacated by injured Cookie Grawemeyer.

Also, there was action courtesy of Dan Chandler but that comes under fisticuffs.

Alabama, after getting off to a quick start presented only one other major threat during the contest. Starting with the second half when the Tide began sniping Kentucky's lead and with eight minutes remaining they had moved in front by one point.

UK roared back with renewed vigor and was able to break the Tide's backs with backboard dominance and accurate shooting.

The victory was Kentucky's 21 in 23 starts. They now lead the SEC with 11 wins and 2 losses.

Johnny Dee Cracks Off
With More Wild Talk;
Burrow, Evans Win Honors

By GEORGE KOPER, Sports Editor

The usually talkative Johnny Dee pulled quite a surprise Monday night when he departed the Coliseum without offering any comments about the defeat suffered by his Alabama five.

Dee is widely known for his many and varied comments about any and all phases of the cage sport. And he has never passed up an opportunity to voice his feelings about Kentucky or Coach Adolph Rupp. It was hard to understand whether Dee was shocked into silence by the setback or whether he was changing character and playing it nice.

But the youthful Notre Dame graduate didn't waste much time in getting back to his old self. Before the Tide left town, Dee, in reply to a question, said "No, Kentucky wasn't the best team we've met this year."

The Bama Coach ranked St. Louis and North Carolina as better than Kentucky. He also issued a reminder that Alabama would be ready next season when the Cats journey to Tuscaloosa.

From this side it looks like Dee only makes his own team look worse by classing St. Louis and North Carolina as better clubs than the Wildcats. For those of you who may not remember, St. Louis downed the Tide 50-45 while Kentucky romped the Billikens 82-65. While Kentucky didn't meet North Carolina, Alabama downed the Wolfpack 77-55 midway through the season. Comparative scores certainly aren't a safe measuring stick, but they do give an idea of a team's potential and also indicate that Dee was voicing anger rather than thoughtful statements.

Billy Evans' final appearance tomorrow night means that only two of the original starting five will be on hand for the NCAA meet, provided that Kentucky gets past the Vols. Evans has led the Cats to a great season. He is an outstanding example of the idea that an athlete can excel in collegiate sports and still maintain high grades.

Evans' athletic prowess speaks for itself. He came to Kentucky in 1950 after having been chosen as honorable-mention on the all-State basketball squad. His fierce competitive spirit and constant hustle made him a good selection for captain of the frosh team. He was a leading reserve on the 1951 outfit, and held down a starting berth on last year's great team. But Evans' athletic ability isn't limited to the hardwood.

He twice won the high school tennis championship and has held the top position on the Kentucky team for two years, along with being the best badminton player in the University. Evans also played short-stop and first base for Harry Lancaster's baseball team. Evans' scholastic feats almost rival his athletic exploits. Despite all the praise and accomplishments, Billy has remained as modest and unassuming as the day he entered Kentucky. Here's hoping his last game will be his best.

Blanton Collier greeted 88 prospects at the opening of spring practice Wednesday. Thirty-seven men from last year's squad, including 23 lettermen were on hand for initial spring drill. The remaining candidates were members of last year's freshmen team.

It's taken Collier nearly three weeks to get spring practice underway due to bad weather. Under conference rules a team is allowed 20 days of practice within 36 days. With a decent break from the weather Collier should have a good idea of next season's outlook by the time of the Blue-White tilt.

Tuesday night's first-round NCAA games promise an interesting evening of basketball. Marquette, holder of the longest win string in the country, looms as one of the teams to beat for the NCAA title. The Hilltoppers meet Notre Dame Saturday night in their last season contest. They downed the Irish by 10 points at South Bend last week, which is a pretty fair trick.

Marquette meets Miami of Ohio and Memphis State plays Penn State. Tickets are still on sale at the Coliseum ticket office.

Evans, Brewer Lead UK Over Auburn

By BILL HENRY

Capt. Bill Evans and John Brewer set the pace as Kentucky clawed a hapless Auburn five 93-59 in rolling to their second highest offensive burst of the season.

The Wildcat victory was one of the easiest wins they have scored this season. This may be attributed to the fact that the Rupp-men hit 36 out of 79 shots for an eye opening 45.6 per cent of their attempts. The Plainsmen, having trouble with a harassing Cat defense, hit 14 of 69 shots for a mediocre 20.3 per cent.

Bill Evans was high scorer for the mighty Cats as he netted 22 points, mostly on crowd-pleasing driving lay-up shots.

Close behind Evans was John Brewer with 21 points. Brewer was making his second starting role since he replaced the injured Cookie Grawemeyer. Center Bob Burrow was next with 16 points to round out the big three scorers.

The Cats combined its domination of the defensive and offensive boards with hot shooting by Evans and Brewer to break into a 20 point lead 33-13 with 6:50 remaining in the first half.

Auburn canned eight fielders in the first half and only 14 for the entire ball game.

Mermen In SEC Meet

UK's swimmers will compete in the Southeastern Conference meet at Vanderbilt this week end.

"I think it will be a close race between Georgia and Florida, with UK and Georgia Tech challenging closely," UK swim coach, Algie Reece commented on the meet.

Coach Reece said he planned to take a nine-man team to Nashville. Team members making the trip will be Paul Bollinger, John Buys, Austin Farley, Ken Glass, Gene Lewis, Roger Messick, Stuart Meyer, Bob Moreland and Sherill Ward.

Wildcat swimmers set three records at the YMCA Pool in Louisville last Saturday but lost to the University of Louisville in their final season meet.

Messick broke the records for the 50-yard free style and the 100-yard free style. The UK relay team consisting of Bollinger, Glass, Moreland, and Messick established a new record for the 400-yard free style relay.

Results:

50-yard free style—Messick; Moreland; Phelps, UL.—23.8.

100-yard free style—Messick; Edwards, UL; Phelps, UL.—34.2.

150-yard individual medley—Bollinger; Craddock, UL; Glass;—1:39.8.

200-yard back stroke—Craddock, UL; Bollinger; Purcell, UL.—2:29.3.

200-yard breast stroke—Paul, UL; Meyer; Huson, UL.

300-yard medley relay—UL (Purcell, Paul, and Edwards)—3:26.5.

220-yard free style—Daniels, UL; Lewis;—2:33.

400-yard free style relay—UK (Bollinger, Glass, Moreland and Messick);—3:54.5.

440-yard free style—Lewis; Daniels, UL; Bartlow, UL.—5:42.7.

UK Debaters Will Enter 2 Tourneys

Debating teams of the University will enter two tournaments, the West Point regional and the Ohio Valley tournament, on March 11th and 12th.

UK is defending champion at the Ohio Valley contest to be held at Xavier University in Cincinnati on Saturday March 12th.

The West Point regional will be held at Emory College, Atlanta, Ga. The winner will proceed to West Point Military Academy for a debate which determines the national winner.

In order to compete in the West Point contest, a school must have won half of its season's debates.

Kentucky has lost two of its previous tournaments, the Azalea tourney in Alabama and one at Indiana University.

File Now For Degrees

All seniors who expect to complete their requirements for graduation at the close of the second semester or the summer term, are requested to make application for degrees today or tomorrow.

This applies also to Graduate Students who expect to complete their requirements for graduate degrees. All applications should be filed in Room 16 of the Administration Building.

As the commencement lists are made from these cards, it is very important to file an application at this time. Registrar Robert L. Mills stated.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree will be charged a graduation fee of $9.00. This will cover the rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, The Kentuckian, and other necessary expenses.

Candidates for advanced degrees, other than the doctorate, will be charged a fee of $20, which will cover the above with the exception of The Kentuckian and in addition the cost of the hood to be presented the candidate. The fee for the doctorate is $25.00.

Graduation fees are payable not later than the fourth day preceding the commencement.
