PAN-HELLENIC TEA TO OPEN WEEK OFFICIALLY

Two Days of Silence Will Be Followed By Six Days of Concentrated Rushing

New rules which will change materially the rushing procedure of the 10 Greek letter sororities on the campus were adopted at a meeting of the Women's Pan-Hellenic council yesterday afternoon in Patterson Hall.

The most important change in the plan is that beginning with the fall rushing period in September, more than two weeks will elapse between the opening of school and bid day.

The six days of concentrated rushing will be divided into alternate "rush" and "quiet" days.

Monday, September 12—School opens. Wednesday, September 14—Pan-Hellenic tea.

SOCIAL CALENDAR MAY OPEN OCT. 1

Men's Student Council Passes Resolutions, Requesting That Social Season Begin Earlier

Criticizing the crowded conditions of the social calendar during the spring semester and the lack of any events in the early part of the fall term, the men's student council at its monthly meeting, at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Administration building passed a resolution requesting that the opening date on the social calendar be advanced.

On the day set aside to be sacred to the memory of the plucky little Irish saint, he belongs, not merely to the race to whom he went as a missionary, but to all the world, and in union all nationalities become "weavers o' th' green."

The eds and co-eds of the university were not slow yesterday to pay tribute to the humble shamrock, its verdant color decorated each loyal Irish heart, and dotted bravely through the rain.

The latest legendary personage to whom all this celebration is dedicated is said to have been born in Scotland, in 372, but England, France, and Wales also lay claim to the honor of birthplace.

Observatory To Be Open Monday Nights

Students and General Public May View the Planets Through Telescope

Due to the large number of requests received from both students of the university and the general public, to be allowed to visit the astronomical observatory, Dr. H. H. Downing of the astronomy department has announced that the observatory will be open from 7 until 9 o'clock every night, at which time all who wish to visit the building and look through the telescope are invited.

Among the objects which are being viewed at the present time are the moon, the planets Venus and Jupiter, Jupiter's satellites, and the Orion nebula.

The observatory is one of the newer buildings on the campus, and when all of the equipment that has been planned for is installed, it will be one of the most modern of the small observatories in this country.

Annual To Contain Individual Index

Inaugurating a new custom, the 1932 Kentuckian will contain an individual index as well as an index of organizations.

The men who during the season have constituted the varsity and R. O. T. C. teams are Allen, Brennan, Carter, Chapman, Chinn, Coffman, Eades, I. C. Evans, Ewing, Florence, Ford, Knox, Farris, Perry, Rogers, W. C. Wallace, and Williams.

The sea, the sunset, and the dark-

Within their shelter is no space for

Only the wonder that such things

Space and wide freedom, and old
The shelter of a lone immensity
Sealed by the sunset and the even-

Shively Predicts Good Track Season for Blue

Thirteen Lettermen Return and Many Stars Come Up from Frosh

By DELMAR ADAMS

In a statement made to the Kernel yesterday coach Bernie Shively predicted that this season's track team should be the greatest team that has ever represented the Blue and White in the ancient sport of the cinder path.

With 13 lettermen back and a galaxy of brilliant performers from the freshman team of last year and several men who were ineligible last year Shively has a great chance to give the school its greatest track team and to place the record of the Blue and White on a par of that of the other two major sports at the university.

Only five dual meets have been scheduled for this year, two at home and three on the road. The dual meets, which will be held on foreign fields with Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech and Wake Forest respectively.

To top the two interesting meets to be held in Lexington, with such strong foes as Georgetown and the University of Louisville as opponents the Blue and White will be the Kentucky Scholastic track and field meet. Coach Shively is sponsoring the meet and will be assisted by the extension department of the university. Daddy Boles, athletic director, and members of the track team, who will help make the visiting boys feel at home. This meet has always been a good drawing as entries last year 25 teams from all parts of the state.

The Madison Memorial trophies are as handsome as Olympic awards and are something for the high school track men to strive for. The Louisville Manual was the victor last year but was crowded closely by the Blue and White also from the Falls City.

For almost a month now some fifty aspirant young men have been competing in the crisp track events of Stoll field. Many of the men were almost ready to participate in a meet when the cold snap of the last ten days caused a delay in their training activities. And at present three weeks will be necessary to get them back into shape.

As was the case last season, the Blue and White will be in the field events, but still needs men in the field events.

The best fortified event on the program is the course sprints. With John S. "Shipwreck" Kelly, the "brilliant phantom," champion 100-yard dash man of the Southern Conference, back in the field and such veterans as "Cue" Foster and John Heiber to flound him the Cats should have very little difficulty in sharing the top two places in every dual meet of the year. Kelly's time of nine and nine-tenths seconds for the 100 yard dash in the meet with Cincinnati last May is the fastest time ever recorded on the Stoll field oval. John Heiber, is only a shade behind the peerless Kelly in the strength of his record. Finishing second to Kelly in every meet last season except the Louisville, which he won because Kelly was not entered, Kelly ran the distance in 10 flat this blond Newport boy gives the Blue and White a lively battle down the stretch this spring. Ball, a flashy sophomore man causing the Blue and Harveys are also out for this event.

The quarter-mile run brings a trio of veterans and three youngsters together in Mahan, Milliken, and Parent, all time tried runners and Carter, Lowenthal and Martin. Mahan seems to be in the best form of any of the six, having been clocked over the 440-yard course in 54 seconds for any time of year. Carter and Milliken also have been doing well and lack only a second of tying Mahan's record.

Captain "Jake" O'Bryant, Mahan, and Martin will compose the half-milers and of these Mahan and O'Bryant give impression of being pretty potent half-milers, having run it in 2:08.

Captain O'Bryant, Baker and Heiber will be seen from whom Shively will pick his milers for the year and Baker seems to have the jump on the others having done his four laps in 4:48 for the best time turned in for this event this year. But O'Bryant is rounding into form and it is likely will do much better than 4:48. Any of these men should easily take the first two places in

Keys Will Pledge Saturday, April 2
Pledging to Keys, honorary freshmen for outstanding freshmen, will be held Saturday, April 2, at the canteen. It was announced yesterday by Gordon Burns, president of the organization. The pledging was postponed from March 21 to this date due to the use of the Alumni gymnasium, where the dances are held.
Keys, according to the announcement released, will pledge 10 men, who have been selected on the bases of scholarship excellence and extracurricular activities. The fraternity was founded at the university in 1906, its purpose being to foster good will among fraternities, men and to further university activities. Regular meetings are held and trained social activities are promoted.

Collegians Still Eat Ice Cream Cones
Seniors are set grown-up and dignified, but the 1000 ice cream cones bought each week at the cafeteria at Trans State College for women indicates that there is a hang-over from childhood days when nickels and cream cones were synonymous. Every week 1000 cones are purchased by the cafeteria, totaling in one month 4000 and in one year 48,000.
Year in and year out they are eaten, and most of them do double service. "A double vanilla, please"—or chocolate as the case might be—is heard quite as often as "I want a single."
