

A table with multiple columns and rows of text, likely a data table or index. The text is too small to read, but it appears to be organized into columns and rows. It is located below the main world map.