SUMMER SCHOOL WEEKLY

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

CONGRATULATIONS TO GRADUATES FROM THE KERNEL

VOI YYVI

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1936

NEW SERIES NO 10

GRADUATION TO BE ON FRIDAY

Fall Registration Is Explained Approximately 200 Are

New Registration System, Expected To Abolish Delay, Will Go Into Effect In Fall

ceording to an alphabetical pro-edure.

In a letter to students expected or return to the University this all, Dr. Frank L. McVey explained on the process of the process

Students Will Enter According To Alphabetical Classification; Frosh To Register First IS PIRLISH IS PUBLISHED

Professor Potter Gives Out-line Of Curriculum In Re-quired Physical Education In Book Seeded In To

Norwegian Singer Heard at Assembly

McLean Stadium Is Really Stoll Stadium, Says Writer

Graduate Banquet Tickets Available

Last of Summer

LEAVES FOR CONVENTION

Minnesota humor publication, Mah.
"My," said Alice, as she stopped "My," said Alice, at she just like falling suddently, "I feel just like the suddently after a healthy

SPEAKER

Bob Davis Father Of Quintuplets

Bob Davis, star half back on the University football team, be-came the father of quintuplets early yesterday afternoon. The Kernel was notified immediately of the event and is proud that it has scooped the world on the found."

Upon investigation of his remarks, the staff of the paper rushed to the scene to discovered a nest of a litter of baby rabbits, and the concentration of the concentration of the concentration of the parents, but one awail. Finally Mr. Davis agreed to adopt them—and look after them faithfully. Yes, dear readers, Bob Davis Yes, dear readers, Bob Davis

Alice In Blunderland

Expected To Get Degrees At Graduation Exercises

Commencement Schedule

Wednesday
6 o'clock, Phoenix hotel, banquet for seniors. Keen Johnson, lieutentant-Governor of Kentucky, principal speaker.

4 p. m.—Graduating class will receive instructions in matters pertaining to the final exercises in Room 111, McVey hall.

4:30 p. m.—Reception for members of the graduating class in the Faculty club rooms on the third floor of McVey hall. The deans of the colleges and their wives will form the receiving line and members of the faculty and wives will be hosts and hostesses. All seniors and their friends are invited.

n.—Commencement exercises will be held in Memorial hall. The principal speaker will be Dr. John Hugh Reynolds, president of Hendrix College. Conferring of advanced and bachelor degrees will take place after his address.

McVey Says Manning To Return This Year

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of DIES IN CAPITAL

Hargis Hughes, Jr., S cumbs In Washington Where He Accepted Position

Reception For Graduates Is Planned; Doctor Reyn-olds Chief Speaker

Grad's Wife Is Author Of Best-Selling Novel Of Year

Best Co

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Entered at the Post Office at Lexington, Kentu-ad class matter under the Act of March 3, 1879.

COMPLETE CAMPUS COVERAGE

GEORGE M. SPENCER......Editor-in-Chief Ross J. Chepeleff....
James A. Hagler.... Managing Edito ... Business Manager

HERE SHALL THE KERNEL ALI STUDENT RIGHTS MAINTAIN

American young folks are alarmingly trivial. They don't even read the newspapers, excepting two or three sport stories a day, the movie ads, and the funnies. They couldn't name three modern, reputable authors if their futures depended upon it. Their political ideas are of the "canned" variety dished out with textbook sauce and garnished with prejudices picked up around the dinner tables. .. While the bright young folk of other nations are out starting revolutions, shooting crown princes, fomenting strikes and generally getting things done, our youngsters snuggle, knock-knock, titter, wiscerack, beauty sleep, haunt beaches and race automobiles, drifting into a period so difficult that in desperation they may have to turn it over to some fascist dicmay have to turn it over to some fascist dic-tator.—Olin E. Hinkle in The Lexington Herald.

Unfortunately, what is said above is all too Unfortunately, what is said above is all too rue. The average college student of 1936 is too engrossed with other things to take an interest in his government. First he must worry about his grades (he cares not for actual learning to be obtained from a course; a grade is his only worry), then his dates, his fraternity, and all the actic collection trivia.

all the other collegiate trivia.

Prejudices? Yes, he has plenty of them and they are about as groundless as year after next's what chain or cycle of events caused him to reach the point in this evolution—or is it an evolution—where now he is? What evolved the wer that he will give to this editorial: "So Fanaticism sometimes is not a pretty thi but we could wish for more of it from our friend in question. If he could only anchor his opinions to something more staple than talk "picked up around the dinner tables" he might become ore profound in whatever analyses he ma undertake. The upshot of it all is that his opinions change with the wind. Yesterday he was the reddest radical this side of Moscow.

was the reddest radical this side of Moscow. Today he is the most rock-ribbed conservatist of them all.

As we said before, his answer to this article will probably be: "So what?" Such smug indifference as is contained in this come-back is the most unfortunate part of it all.

LITTLE "RED" RIDER

A "rider" was inserted in an appropriations bill last year when few congressmen were aware of its presence. The vote was taken, making the bill with its attendant clause a law. Then legislators and citizens of Washing

"That hereafter no part of any appropria-tion for the public schools (in the District of Columbia) shall be available for the payment of the salary of any person teaching or advocating communism."

After a great deal of agitation when the real nature of the act was discovered, congress is being asked to repeal the act before adjourning. Developing from a mere gesture of Americanism, the "unknown law" has become a point of contention among school teachers and educational associations all over the nation.

Both houses accepted the provision with unconcern characteristic in District of Columbia affairs. Until the fall school semester opened, Washington citizens dight realize that its au-

Washington citizens didn't realize that its au-thor intended to enforce it rigidly.

Besides holding the school officials to a strict

Besides holding the school omeias to a strict and literal interpretation of the act, all em-ployees have been required to swear that they had not "taught or advocated communism" be-fore collecting their salaries. Even janitors and charwomen are included in the ruling. As a result of the restriction, teachers are not only compelled to avoid any mention of communism but they are obliged to skin whole mmunism, but they are obliged to skip whole opters of modern history and economics that all with Soviet life.

According to Frank W. Ballou, superintend-

According to Frank W. Bailou, superintend-ent of Washington schools:

"It (the rider) prevents our teaching Eu-ropean history and the facts of European his-tory, which is an elective course in the high schools, because in my humble professional opinion they cannot adequately teach European history since 1800 without referring to the philosophy which is back of the various forms of government which are found today in European Activities leading up to the passage of the act and subsequent developments have made the federal legislator look ridiculous. They have an opportunity to rectify their error, at least in part, by repealing the law immediately.

—The Syracuse Daily Orange.

PROUD OF HIS MUSCLES!

PROUD OF HIS MUSCLES!

Proud of his muscles and careless with his magazines is Bernarr McFadden, publisher of thirteen magazines of which True Story, Dream World, and Movie Mirror are samples. The god of Physical Culture and the god of Public. god of Physical Culture and the god of Publicity was left a rather feeble child after the death of his father from over-drinking and of his mother from consumption. He built himself up through exercises and immediately started capitalizing on his own experience. He instituted several physical culture schools where he specialized in removing bay windows from flabby business men. For his work in teaching thousands good care for the human body, he perhaps deserves some credit.

But Barrar McFadden was not satisfied with perhaps deserves some credit.

But Barnarr McFadden was not satisfied with creditable work. A man of his energy and aggressiveness was bound for gigantic accomplishments, Mr. McFadden thought. He soon disments, Mr. Mcradden thought. The soon dis-covered immense fortunes in giving the man in the street just what he wanted in a magazine. He started with the gospel of physical culture on the printed page and developed from there to the role of national political soothsayer which he assumes frequently in the pages of his Lib-

Mr. McFadden now openly advocates diet, exercise, and sweating as cures for syphilis, asthma, pneumonia, or scarlet fever. Doctors scoff at him all the while admitting that he has more followers than Johns Hopkins. In a late issue of the Liberty magazine, he presents an editorial demanding adequate protection on the West Coast against a Japanese invasion.
"Adequate protection" to Mr. McFadden means a standing army of half a million men in California, and a fleet in the Pacific large enough fornia, and a fleet in the Pacific large enough to wallop the whole Japanese navy. And to Mr. McFadden the Japanese are an ambitious thwarted people who "possible would like an opportunity to prove that instead of being our inferiors they are our superiors."

Few university students would take a prescription of exercise for scarlet fever. And we believe that few university students would join with Bearnarr McFadden in condemning the "blam-jam fools who have been curtailing the activities of our munitions plants." We are activities of our munitions plants." We are not to forget, however, that the 68-year-old pub-lisher has mastered not only the fine art of phy-sique building, but also that of catering to the lowest common mental denominator through the press. His magazines rank fourth in cir-culation among those of American publishing houses, and many who read them get no other viewpoints than those he offers them. So if he wants to play alarmist just to boost Bernarr McFadden, he has a ready-made large and im-McFadden, he has a ready-made large and im-pressionable audience. But we refuse to be a part of it, and we refuse to remain mute while that individual goes on haranguing. Mr. Mc-Fadden is hereby placed on the public enemy list-without the dignity of a number.—The Daily

WHAT! NO MILITARISTS

There are no militarists! Startling as this statement may seem, if we but analyze the arguments of both the so-called "pācifists" and "militarists" we will find this statement true. "militarists" we will find this statement true. Their difference is not one of categorical alignment, but rather factional dissension on how universally-desired world peace is to be obtained. The "militarists" would secure world peace by building huge armaments and great armies; the "pacifists," by abolishing all armies, navies and armaments. The ultimate aim, of course, is the abolition of war as the institution for settling integrational distrutes.

r settling international disputes.

How, then, are we to decide on which side to adhere? The decision must of necessity rest with the dictates of conscience, reason, and ex-pediency. By conscience we refer to an inher-ent aversion to murder whether individual or organized. By reason we mean the questioning of whether a foreign war is ever justified. By expediency we inquire whether war is suitable and adapted to the furtherance of our purpose, would peace. In short, will we accept war as the foundation upon which will be built the structure of international good-will and understanding?

standing?

If our consciences allows us to commit murder, either retail or wholesale murder, then we must support the institution, war. If our reason says war has been proved justified by the results it has achieved, then we must support that institution. If we believe that the purpose of world peace can be furthered by mass murder, then we must support war. But on the other hand, if we agree that the institution of war remains in our society merely because it is the remains in our society merely because it is the oldest institution of man, and for no other reason, then we must and will condemn war of any kind.—Iowa State Student.

that this world campus

It grieves up deeply to inform you that with this issue you subscripon to this newspaper par excellence...alias the Kentucky Kernel, has spired. We trust that during the course of the ten, of the weeks, as the see might be, you have obtained even a little news and some entertainent, as well as a little education...so thank you for your patronage...

But before we leave you, we want to apologize for that fact that dejite our attempts to guard against it, the same several names have apared in this column consistently...at the same time, you know, we inted you all to contribute, but only several accepted our invitation, or sallense.

...who writes as follows:
Dear Sir:
"Just a little help in your Walter Winchelling...
"Twas observed that wherever red-haired John Spragens goes, ameron Parks plays a guitar on Maxwelton Court these lay evenings. And how, we ... (Ed. Note: We give up...

summer school. Will git The second matter which I wish with m to refer to concerns one of the students here from a neighboring will addents here from a neighboring will about $30 through no fault of his, will hand in a manner that reflects upon son or our University. Now I don't know losses, this financial conditions, but with at the most school tachers that amount!

Rhythm • Ramblings

We Thank You!

STUDENT

OPINION

Our advertisers are making these summer editions of The Kernel possible. For this, they deserve every

When downtown, drop in and see our advertisers. They will be glad to see you.

The firms advertising in The Kernel constitute the more respectable and substantial businesses in Lexington. You will feel secure in buying from them.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Emotional Problems of Students

For Commencement

Beautiful Coiffures

Virginia Van Arsdale

RHYTHM • RAMBLINGS

SOCIETY

From Athens To Berlin

State Crops Show Deterioration From Production In 1935

ALICE IN BLUNDERLAND

Co-Eds Antics In Five and Ten Cent Described by Co-Ed

"MAN O' WAR" BERT JOHNSON

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By JOE QUINN Kernel Sports Edite

Co-Ed Reporter

Origin of McLean

U. K. Law College

"TWENTY GRAND"

Can You Prove That You Exist, Asks The Prof

Rates High Among Nation's Schools

COACH

GROWTH OF ENGINEERING COLLEGE AT U. K. IS REVIEWED BY REPORTER

Approximately 200 To Graduate Friday

U. K. Football Statistics

Chewing Gum

Mr. and Miss Student

Every merchant in Lexington has quality merchandise that will make your wardrobe complete. There is no need to go home for your spring outfit. Watch the Kernel advertisements for styles, quality, and values.

Patronize Kernel Advertisers!

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL