

Bond Committee Is Planning For All-Student Convocation To Support War Loan Drive

Assembly Set For 3 p. m. Feb. 16 In Memorial Hall

Plans for an all-student convocation to launch the student war bond drive are being completed by a special committee, working under the Student Government association's Victory committee, which was announced yesterday by Chairman Eleanor Bach who revealed that the faculty drive has netted approximately $65,000 up to the present.

The convocation will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday, February 16, in Memorial Hall, according to Miss Bach, who also heads the convocation committee. Classes will not be dismissed. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean and registrar of the University, said.

Victory Center
On the same day, the victory center, a specially designed booth for the sale of bonds and stamps, will open in the Union building and stamps and bonds will go on sale in the women's residence units and security houses.

Convoy Groups
The committee planning the convocation is composed of Betty McCrean, June Baker, Mary Seay, Virginia Spagnuolo, Marion Vance, and Miss Alice Jacobson. The victory center, which will be kept open on certain hours each day, is being planned by a special sub-committee headed by Miss McClellan.

March Success
Stating that the faculty solicitation had met "with much success," Miss Bach explained that the money collected thus far is enough to purchase one medium tank, which costs $90,000, or 77 jeeps, which cost approximately $1,200 each. The drive is continuing until February 15, the date on which the Fourth War Loan ends, she said. "And much more money should be raised."

South American Pianist Will Give First Musicales

Marisa Regules To Appear At 4 p. m. Sunday

Marisa Regules, one of South America's outstanding pianists, will present the first Sunday afternoon musicale of the winter quarter at 4 p. m. Sunday in Memorial Hall. Miss Regules is the first Argentine artist to be engaged for a concert tour of the United States under the cultural exchange policy initiated by Columbia Records, Inc. with Latin American countries.

Began At Five
Marisa Regules began her career when she appeared in recital in Buenos Aires at the age of five. She made her debut as a mature artist in Madrid several years ago with a great success that she repeated in arts, Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Santiago de Chile, Lima, and many other South American cities. It was she who had the honor of giving the first performance of the Ravel Concerto for Piano and Orchestra at the Colon theatre under the direction of Albert Wolf.

MARIA REGULES . . . pianist will play at the regular musicale at 4 p. m. Sunday in Memorial Hall.

Pre-Med Men Join ASTP Group Previously In North Carolina

Enrollment in the ASTP unit on the campus will increase with the classification of pre-professional medical students within the next week. These men, previously enrolled at North Carolina State College, will be trained on the campus for a period of three to six months. The definite number to be enrolled has not been determined as yet, according to the military department.

Her program will be: Two Chorale Preludes, In G minor, and Beethoven, Beloved Christians, Bach. Thirty-two Variations in C minor, Beethoven; Barcarolle; Chopin; Polonaise in F sharp minor, Opus 44, Chopin; Sonata de los Animales, in G major, Liszt; "Dance of the animals" from Nuala's Ark, Garcia Morillo; Campesino Lopez Eucharado, Dana, from "La Vida Breve," Manuel de Falla; La Mala y el Ruiseñor, Granada; Triste, Albentz.

Directors Ready
The Student Directory for the pre-med association will be distributed between 1 and 4 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, in room 127, Union building. It was announced that all students may obtain copies at that time.

University Accepts Gift Of $5,530.35 From Keeneland

A gift of $5,530.35 from the Keeneland association to the University has been accepted by the Board of Trustees. Previous gifts from the association have been used in animal husbandry research, especially in the study of animal disease, and it is believed that this gift will be used for similar work.

Members of the Board also approved the retirement of a $3,000 note on Alumni gymnasium. The signing of a contract for rental of the Sigma Nu fraternity house at 173 Euclid avenue now being used as a women's residence hall was also approved.

Appointments were made including that of Mrs. Ade Gensemer Daily as director of the University women's residence halls. The wife of Dr. J. S. Daily, she will replace Miss Margaret Lester who resigned to take a position in industrial personnel work with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Freshman Club Will Hold Party

The Freshman club of the YM-YWCA will entertain with a bowling party at 2:45 p. m. Saturday, February 12 at the Colonial bowling lanes, in honor of the freshman students. ASTP and ASTRP members are planning to attend and are asked to sign up with Miss Rosalie Oakes in the Y office by 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Former Envoy Will Address Convo Today

Civilian Classes For Fourth Hour To Be Dismissed

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, first woman to represent the "old South" in Congress, Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary to Denmark before the war, will be the first convocation speaker of the winter quarter at the University at 11 a. m. today in Memorial Hall. Her topic will be "There'll Always be a Denmark at Convocation at 11 a. m. today in Memorial Hall."

Public Service
Mrs. Rohde has had much experience in international affairs, first as congresswoman from Florida, and later as our first woman envoy to a foreign country. She has outlined her plan for a union of nations in book form, "Look Forward, Warrior."

Field House Dream Is Not On Shelf

Coach Adolph Rupp, gazing speculatively out the window of his office into the Wednesday afternoon sky, commented that he hoped for cold weather, which is far more conducive to good scrimmages than the sultry spring-like variety. Practice every day this week will be culminated in tonight's De Pauw game, which Rupp says will also be a formal practice.

Question: Which branch of the service do you prefer?

Marjorie Palmer, A.S. junior: I like the Army Air Corps because I've always wanted to fly myself.

Alice J. Murphy, A.S. senior: The Marines, because I like the rugged men and the dress uniforms.

Sarah McCammon, A.S. sophomore: They're all pretty good but I like the Army Air Corps the best.

Chloe Donovan, A.S. junior: We couldn't do without any of them but I prefer the Army.

Jeanne Elliott, A.S. sophomore: The ASTP because there are more of them around.

Ella Brown, A.S. senior: The Marines, because I know someone in the Marines.

Jane Hubbard, Education Junior: I can't see that it makes much difference so it is the plain old Army for me.

Jane Allen Wolf, A.S. sophomore: The Army Air Corps because I've always wanted to fly myself.

Barbara Winters, A.S. junior: The Salvation Army—I like their musical appeal.

Lois Mitts, A.S. sophomore: Marines; they just appeal to me.

Laura Lora, A.S. freshman: The Army Air Corps, because my boyfriend is in it.

"For the last time, Jones, there's no limit on bagging Japs—you may get more than six a day!"

ODE TO MAYHEM

By Donald Lail

After a brief illness and much to the horror of all this column is again using up the type and as someone said to the editor the other day, "you are a better-man than I am."

The new queen of the dip is Tillie Talbert, who was demonstrating her "Oaks Caldwell" one of the ex-habitants of the Phi Psi of two seasons ago, returned from foreign duty in Texas in the Air Corps. These uniforms thrill and chill the female populace. His pines, Marg Elford, was in town from Danville, home of the Centre Kernel.

Personality of the Week
This week we make our award to Vincent Spagnuolo, the esteemed president of the student body who is the bustling beehive of activity. He keeps the wheels of organization turning, with the popular respect, "you'll never let the SGA lag with Hurt and Spag." To Spag we award a can of political oil to keep the "Independent" machine going. This product has been used with complete satisfaction by many.

Things to Wonder About
Elmer Zeigler and Lib James, after a terrific two-hour battle, killed a rat (a four-footed one) and wrapped him or her, as the case may be, and sent it to their dates. If they meant anything by the animal we haven't been able to find out.

Finch of the Week
Bobbie Jean Omer, a transfer from eight miles from Jack No. 12 on Herrington Lake, is now an inmate of Jewell Hall. Saturday night she was being convoyed by Billy Mackey, new president of the Centre Phi Dels. The Jewell Hall number is still 1314 (rad's).

Lloyd Elkin—chess player extraordinary—is the current topic of conversation among the Card Room Kids who lounge in the Union every afternoon and play plus bridge. Elkin, they tell us, can defeat anyone. His speciality is playing with eyes blindfolded. Well, Paven my word!

Wotzis we hear about the weekly prayer meeting in Jewell hall lounge? Someone informed us that at 11 Wednesday night she walked down the stairs and came upon a group of three singing "Bringing in the Sheaves" by candlelight.

It can't last, kiddies. This weather, we mean. Don't start exuberating about turning some young man's fancy, girlic, 'cause it isn't Spring yet. And don't start across the campus without galoshes and mufflers because they may find your frozen body huddled under ten feet of snow when they run the plow thru. No kidding—this is just an unidentified rumor. It's still WINTER.

We've had to do many foolish things in our long and eventful life, but the one that makes us feel most ridiculous is this: Holding the globe of the earth in our arms and revolving in an elliptical orbit around Mrs. Fisher, who makes like the Sun. Besides the humiliation of it all, we feel that we're rather young and inexperienced to carry ry the world and its weight. Ignominious people sometimes surprise us. For example the quiet, unassuming little chemistry major, who when discussing coal, came forth with this masterpiece: "When Anthracite of you my heart begins to pound and pound."

To err is human. So we know several people who are not human—they're too good. We'd like nothing better, for example, than to see Helen Harrison throw a vase (or even better, a K Book) on the floor of the Y lounge, and yell "DAMN!"

Addendum to Things & People We Like which was begun last week in a Blaze of Glory: Lolli-pops. Prof. Sutherland and his background of Presbyterian ministers and horse thieves. Edith Conant's sweaters. Shelly's smooth crisp shots in WVA basketball.

Perfect suitability of Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain as Dean of the University. Lolo Robinson's boundless energy. Ping pong in the Jewell hall Ping Pong room. The amazing assortment of decorations and individuals in room 314, Jewell hall.

We do not hesitate at this time to relate the incident since rumors have it that the dog has deserted the campus to accompany a soldier home on furlough. Now that the soldiers are home on furlough we dare to mention our latest escapade. Last week we bit the ear of Company A's little mascot!

Field House No Dead Issue

The field house is definitely not a dead issue, despite the absence from the proposed State budget of an appropriation for its erection.

With the site for the building already purchased it seems quite possible that the field house dream will one day come true. Expressing himself as extremely optimistic on the matter, President Donovan has said, "If the war had been over I believe that the Legislature would have provided for the field house at this session, and I believe that as soon as the war is over it will do so."

Although Governor Willis did not recommend an appropriation for the structure to the Legislature, it is generally believed that he shows a definite interest in the project and will support it when the war is over.

A fact little known by students is that even though the Legislature did approve the necessary funds originally asked for under capital outlay by the University for the purpose of building the field house, there would be little possibility of our benefiting by it.

Such funds would be available for use only during a two-year period, and it is extremely doubtful that any work could be done on the structure by then because of labor and material shortages, and priorities. At the end of two years the money would revert back to the general fund, if not used.

An increase in funds for maintenance and operation at the University of $132,000 more than provided in the last budget is expected. The University will actually be getting more money in spite of any cut in capital outlay. It is probably well not to ask for more at this time.

"The auditorium and field house will come after the war as surely as night follows day," he expressed belief of President Donovan. We hope the day of action will be soon.

Mustering Out Pay Will Not Be Enough

With the passage of legislation to ensure mustering out pay of from $100 to $300 for our men and women in service, Congress has shown itself sensitive to the problems which will confront those making the change from military to civilian life.

It is to be hoped that Congress will act favorably on President Roosevelt's recommendation that servicemen and women be allowed to return to college after the war at government expense.

The few hundred dollars of mustering out pay may be sufficient to tide over those who were already established in civilian life, but the former college student, who would normally have been graduated and paying his own way, must have more help if it is to return and complete his studies.

President Roosevelt has pointed out the necessity of replenishing our supply of persons qualified to accept the heavy responsibilities of the postwar world. This supply may be diminished to the danger point if positive action is not taken to establish financial aid for returning students.

Developed by a committee of educators appointed by the President, the proposed bill would provide for one year's free tuition and fees plus living expenses. Control of the program would be centered in the states.

If such a bill were passed by Congress it would be a highly desirable display of good faith which would be met with applause by at least a million who would return for further education. It would also be cheap insurance for the sound future of postwar America.

Coed Corner...

By Mary Jane Gallaher

Sad without your man, angelpuss? Might as well get used to it. Seems to be the fate of our generation. With the Army it's strictly a come and go proposition, with emphasis on the go, with you getting left behind on the mailing list. Now maybe you can settle down and get some studying done. Noble and unnecessary thought, wasn't it? Anywho you will stop gaining so much weight from downing bottles of brew if he isn't here to buy it for you. There is good in all things. Matilda. But just because you're a lone wolf now, please don't attempt to further women's rights by planting your size nines on a brass rail anywhere. They still won't serve you.

Goos Visiting Unexpectedly I went to visit several of the rooms in Jewell hall last week and I also drooled into several of the women's residence halls on an informal tour of inspection. And you all should be ashamed? I have but one opinion or conclusion to voice, this being that something has got to be done about the state of those cells you femmes ankle in and out of all day.

You know as well as I do that at home, and particularly now since you can't get help, that you'd have to keep your room clean and straight. Admittedly four people living in one two-by-four is not conducive to orderly living but it can and must be done. The Army works it out and if you don't learn now what are you going to do when that sergeant you got hitched to comes home with a mania for running his hand under the radiator to see if there's any dust? The main thing that hits you in the face when you stroll into one of the pill boxes is that it looks as if it were to move somewhere and under its own power. There's so much junk all over everything.

Goodbye, Now So sorry to say good-bye to so many of the ASTP boys who are leaving. We do hope they'll come back sometime to visit again. Maybe the battle of Lexington will have been won by then, the arms will no longer be holloppos, our khaki-kid friends will be less dissatisfied and not so anxious to get back to town. Hope you fellows have all possible good luck and please don't forget when searching for beautiful women and fast horses, that the heart of the Bluegrass has a corner on the market.

Alpha Gamma Delta Honors Couple A dinner and shower, honoring Pic and Mrs. Walter Cox (Mary Lee Engle) was given by members of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority Tuesday night at the chapter house.

Betty Anne Ames, Helen Arnold, Jean Wireman and Anna Ray Vick were in charge of the arrangements.

By Lambda Alpha of Chi Omega, Clara Lane, Dayton, Ohio; Jean Sullivan, Frankfort, Ann Barron, Agnes Penimore, and Sue Penimore, Lexington.

A Star Spangled Heart? Ask Any House Hostess!

By Adele Denman

Are you in essential industry? Could it be that you are slacking on the job? In times like these it is important that you render an important service to your old Alma Mater. So, with blue and white shining out of each eye and the last bar of On, On U. of K. on your lips, you jump with all the agility of an intercepting mattress to serve time at that position which your roommate assures you, couldn't get you less than the DSC - that of being house hostess.

With a copy of Emily Post in one hand, and the house rules in the other, you set out to be the charming, yet correct mistress of cordiality and an essential bone in the long arm of the law. Time passes - with all the speed of a small derby and - the telephone rings! "Hello, is Myrtle there?" "No, she's out." "Could you tell me where she is?" "Well - (you mind races along for you know darn well she is out with his best friend). To squeal or not to squeal, ye maiden? Then with your loyalty making your voice choke with emotion, you take that final plunger - "She is visiting her old granny, (it says here) 'you mutter, and with a bit of jiggling on the receiver that would make the sound effects man on Inner Sanctum, green with envy you pretend to be cut off.

Eager to once again assume your importance, you dash out just in time to detain three girls who are campused for the night from going out with revised editions of Clark Gable, Tyrone Power, and Superman. First, they plead with you, and then when you acquire a Gibraltar-like stand and Sphinx-like who live to get.

Game With De Pauw Tonight Forecasts Probable Lineup

Tilt Slated For 8 p. m. In Alumni Gym

Forecasting the probable outcome of the Kentucky-Illinois tilt scheduled for Monday night will be the performance of the Wildcats against Indiana's De Pauw university at 8 p. m. tonight in Alumni gymnasium.

De Pauw, rated as strong opposition, has played a full schedule this year, and thus has an advantage of the Blue and White team which, because of cancellation of many of its games by Southeastern Conference rivals, has had very few hard-wood sessions.

Winning nine and losing three games, De Pauw has defeated Central Indiana Normal college, University of Indiana, Earlham college, Wabash university, Ft. Knox, Franklin college, and has fallen to De Pauw Pre-Flight school, Purdue university, and Great Lakes Naval Training station.

The De Pauw team is composed of 12 Naval trainees, three of whom are league-leading scorers. The starting lineup will probably include Ingram and Mashburn as forwards; Radcliffe and Van Hoorevegh as guards; Paul Radcliffe as center.

Ingram has scored 110 points in 12 games while Van Hoorevegh has chalked up 112. Radcliffe, a fresh starter on Indiana's civilian team last year, has sunk 103 points in 11 games.

Captain Adolph Rupp plans to use his regular starters in the game tonight in preparation for the Illinois fray.

Still attempting to schedule games for this month, Rupp has promised at least two more. Plans for the Southeastern Conference tournament are taking shape in the member's mind as more teams are announced.

'Cats Whip Ft. Knox Quintet And Add Another Feather

76-48 Victory Is Tenth Win Out Of Eleven

Another feather was added to the well-stocked cap of the Wildcats on Monday night, when they literally overwhelmed the Fort Knox quintet with a score of 76-48. This game was the tenth out of a total of 11 in which the 'Cats have been victorious this season.

At the end of the first half, the scoreboard read 34-28 with Kentucky only six points ahead of her opponent; but as the contest progressed, both teams matched wits and displayed some real ball playing to the joy of enthusiastic fans who cheered from the sidelines.

First Point
The first basket was netted by Tom Moseley, after he dribbled half the length of the hardwood. He was followed by Tingle and Johnson who each added two-pointers before the soldiers scored.

After intermission, the Cats returned with more fight, and in the course of the first minute, they whizzed by the opposing team, scoring an additional six points. Tingle added four field goals and a pair of free throws to this total as the score jumped to 48-30, but it was Johnson, Schu, Brannum, and Parkinson who shoved the count to 57-37 for a 20-point lead with 11 minutes to go. Brannum then slipped two more shots into the net bringing the score up to 61-37.

Tingle High
Twenty-two points were scored by Jack Tingle, who carried the attack to the visitors before he was replaced by Whitehead in the last eight minutes of the game. Brannum followed with a record of 16 scored points, and the additional total was made by Schu, Johnson, Moseley, Whitehead, Vulich, and Yesin.

Those who occupied the remaining minutes of the game until the final whistle blew were Schu, Parkinson, Yesin, Whitehead, and Vulich.

Alpha Xis Entertain
Mrs. Harold Bates, Norwood, O., national vice president of Alpha Xi Delta society, arrived Tuesday morning to spend several days as the guest of Xi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta at the University.

Members of the chapter entertained with a party last night at the chapter house in Mrs. Bates' honor.

'Cats Rated For Meeting Invitational Meets Slated

The Kentucky Wildcats, one of the nation's leading basketball teams of the season, are being considered along with two other teams in the second district (Duke and North Carolina) for competition in the National Invitational tournament which will be held at Madison Square Gardens, New York, on March 18-20-22 and 25.

It has also been announced that they stand a good chance of being asked to participate in the National Collegiate athletic association tournament which will be held in Kansas City on March 24 and 25. The two sectional winners will clash in New York's big arena on March 28 and there is a strong possibility that the N.C.A.A. and Invitational champions will tangle for the second straight year in a benefit game.

The first national tournament will be the National Intercollegiate in Kansas City. Confined largely to smaller schools, it will be played the week of March 13.

BOB BRANNUM
... high-scoring Wildcat center, will probably lead the highly rated five in its attack on Illinois Tuesday night.

Bond Committee

in cooperation with Frank D. Peterson, comptroller of the University, and with the Lexington organization for the Fourth War Loan.

Letters have been written concerning the "Minute man" flag, which can be flown if 90 percent of the students buy at least one stamp a month. Miss Bach said, and it is hoped that the flag can be flown at the University during March.

The sailors may have a sweetheart in every port but the soldiers seem to have one on every davenport.

Homes that pull together will pull the nation through.

Margaret Hill and Betty Schierholz of MacAlester College, St. Paul, Minn., tote away another lead to the co-ed laundry, somebody's bright idea for raising $100 toward the college's World Service Fund. A 48-hour emergency diaper service plus such slogans as "Do your socks stand alone?" put the drive over the top.

Stick To Your Battle Stations And He Will WIN At His

The bonds we buy at home make it possible for him to carry on fighting for us. There is none among us who can say "I have bought enough," just as there is no man in uniform who can say "I have fought enough." To him the supreme sacrifice is reality; to us, too, sacrifice must be supremely worthwhile—in the name of victory. And it must be a sacrifice that counts, in dollars that will send our men supplies they need, thus bringing the war closer to its end.

The goal of the War Loan drive on the campus is "A Jeep A Week" and bonds and stamps are available in all women's residence houses and sorority houses, and from representatives on the campus. Don't delay—the sooner you buy that extra bond, the sooner all our fighting men will come home.
