The Atlantic Monthly,

BOSTON.

Nov. 10, 1850.

Madam:

Both letters were duly received at Riverside Pass, and promptly re-posted to our agent, Mr. [?], when I received one of them
the same day. The other, containing Mr.
[?]'s letter, seems to have been misdirected to Belmont, Mass.,
and reached me 14 or 18 days later.

Miss Brayton

Yours truly
