Possibility Of Another Sorority On Campus Is Being Considered

As a result of a record number of girls not pledging any sorority at UK this fall, the prospect of another sorority establishing a chapter on the campus is being considered.

The increase in the number of girls going out for rush has not been determined as a definite trend. Should the number of rushees continue to increase in the next few years, more than likely, another sorority will be established, to the advantage of both the rushees and present sororities.

The Gallery Student Sees 'Cinerama' Show; Decides It Could Be Harnessed

By LESLIE MORRIS
After several days of besieging the Cinerama box-office with threats and finally with supplications, we are ultimately allowed to plunk down two bucks and four bits for a seat which is by oath a center row prize, but which, naturally, is a stall on the side aisle.

greater aspects of this vivid, real-dimensional medium. At Cypress Gardens we are splashed by the truly awe-inspiring pageant entitled "America The Beautiful," filmed from the stant plane of speed flyer, Paul Mantz. Until you see America from the Cinerama-eye, you haven't seen it at all.

Our Readers Speak . . .

Harvard Answers

To the editor of the Kernel:
I should like to call to your attention that in your issue of September 13 your editorial page reports that the Harvard University student newspaper, the Crimson, was ordered by the school's administration to cease writing editorials.

Punishment Needed?

Dear Editor,
Last week there was an article in the Kernel in regards to the fraternities "dirty rushing." The sororities were the first to start formal rush (from which the IFC got their ideas) and should uphold their policies.

Condoned Sororities

Dear Editor:
After rush had ended and pledge day was over there were many broken hearts and disappointments. All of us, who either dropped out of rush or did not get bids, experienced some type of hurt.

Dean Haselden

Dear Haselden, the Panhellenic advisor, should see that the rules be enforced. The penalty should have been six weeks deferred pledging. There has been plenty of time for action because the sorority was charged of breaking Panhellenic rules before formal bid day Sept. 27.

The Toolbox Columnist Tries Hand Producing Science-Fiction

Last night the Martians told me the world would come to an end today if we didn't surrender, but I didn't believe them.

"You must . . . tell . . . the . . . people . . . of . . . your . . . planet . . . to . . . surrender . . . at once . . . or . . . we . . . will . . . destroy . . . you."

"That . . . is . . . all."

When a man is fighting for his life, he'll do anything. I tried to bluff them into telling me what kind of weapon they had.

Selective Service Tests To Be Given On Campus

Selective Service College Qualification Tests will be given at UK. Nov. 19 and April 22. It was announced recently by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service.

To be eligible to apply for the Selective Service tests a student must intend to request deferment as a student, be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and must not previously have taken the qualification test.

Students whose academic year will end in January 1954, and who have not taken the test, have been urged to take the November test. It will provide the local boards with test scores before the end of their academic year, at which time the boards will reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score, 70, on the qualification test or specified rank among the male members of the class.

Women, generally speaking, are generally speaking.

Information Given On Ways To Get Grad Scholarships

Seniors and graduate students desiring to apply for scholarships for next year should do so right away. Dr. Herman Spivey, dean of the Graduate School, has announced. The deadline for applications of nearly every sponsor ranges from November to March. Very few applications are accepted after March.

The first step is usually a letter for scholarship applications and information addressed to the graduate school where one wants to study. Sometimes special test scores are required and the applicant needs to meet an early fixed examination date.

The National Science Foundation awards scholarships ranging in stipend from $1,000 to $2,000 plus all fees. Anyone wishing to apply for one of these national scholarships should write The Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. The deadline for completed applications is Jan. 5, and the information required has to be gathered well in advance of this deadline.

For the last two years a Kentucky graduate student has been awarded a National Science Fellowship—Herbert Hall last year and Edward Hill this year.

The UK graduate office keeps a file of information about graduate fellowships. Students may examine this file at any time. Additional information can be received from the graduate catalogue or in catalogues in the periodicals room of the library.

If a student begins early enough he may obtain a personal copy of the catalogue and appropriate blanks from the school in which he is interested.

The UK graduate office also awards fellowships and scholarships. Anyone interested may apply for one before March 1.

Math Department Plans To Sponsor 'Problem a Month'

The mathematics department of the University of Kentucky will again this year hold the Problem-of-the-Month contest for graduate and interested under-graduate students in mathematics.

Each month a problem will appear on the bulletin boards in the mathematics office and in the mathematics library. Students are invited to submit their solutions to the mathematics department. The solutions will be recorded and points given for the solutions.

At the end of the year, the student with the highest number of points will be awarded a suitable mathematics book as a prize.

Dr. Vincent Cowley, associate professor of mathematics, will direct the contest.

Winners of the contest last year were Richard Sprague and Caelvius Masallia. As a result of the tie each man was given a book.

The first problem for this year has not been posted yet but is expected soon.

UK ROTC Cadets Observe Founding

UK Army ROTC cadets and the Department of Military Science staff observed the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United States Second Army Saturday.

In a statement issued last week-end by Col. Rogers, he reminded his staff and students that the Second Army came into being on Oct. 10, 1918, during World War I. The ROTC program at UK is carried on under direction of the Second Army.

Col. Rogers' statement included the following:
"... In the French fortified cathedral city of Toul, known to ancient Roman annals as the bastion Tulum Leucorum, the Second Army came into being. A few miles eastward were growing manacled German forces, whose fathers 48 years had taken Toul during the Franco-Prussian War."

Fort George G. Meade, Md., is now the site of headquarters for the Second Army.

Stopping at the first house on his famous ride, Paul Reverse cried, "Is your husband home?"

"Yes," came back the answer. "Tell him to dress and come fight the British."

He repeated the conversation at the next dozen or so houses. At last in answer to his first question, the woman answered, "No."
"Whoo."

Marching 100 To Present 'Movie Time 1953' Show

"Movie Time 1953" will be the theme of the half-time show to be presented by the Marching 100 for movie night at the Mississippi State game.

The band will come onto the field with "Fanfare 1953" and will follow with "Lights Out March." The stadium lights will be turned out at this point while the band forms the Eiffel Tower. The form will light up as Don and Donna Wilson will ascend the tower with fire balloons. The musical background for this will be "Here is Your Heart," the theme from Moulin Rouge.

The next formation will be a stick soldier done to the "Stars and Stripes Forever" with the figure marking time to the music.

The main feature of the show will be a formation of a steamship on a wave and an iceberg. The band will play a concert arrangement of "Never My God to Thee" featuring Ray Rector of Lexington on a cornet solo. The action of this sequence will simulate the "Titanic" sailing along, coming into contact with the iceberg, and finally sinking below the waves as the music reaches a climax.

The stadium lights will be turned on after the performance.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched To Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"So bury your head in the sand," shrieked Sheedy's chick. You'll never put a wig on my finger until you start using Wildroot Cream-Oil on that messy hair. It's America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed without any trace of greasiness. Removes goose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test." Paul looked so good the very fuzz time he used Wildroot Cream-Oil, his pigeon egged him on until he proposed. So why don't you buy a bottle or tube today at any toilet goods counter. And necks time you have a haircut, ask for Wildroot Cream-Oil on your hair. There no gall will ever give you the bird.

Law Students Serve As Legal Apprentices

By BILL BILLETTER

WANTED: Law apprentices. Must be able to handle files, legwork, research, and minor cases. Uncertain hours. No pay.

Doesn't sound too attractive, does it? Strange as it may seem, however, eight UK law students worked as apprentices during the summer months this year—and liked it!

The students took the jobs without pay, gaining only the valuable practical experience that their summer "employers" could offer them.

Most of the apprentice positions were secured through the University's College of Law. All of the law students worked for a lawyer or a firm in their home areas.

Several of the law apprentices performed similar tasks during the summer; some had special duties. All agreed that their apprenticeships were worthwhile.

Ray J. Moreland of Lexington worked for the firm of Skell-Keeon-Park in Lexington. During his eight weeks of apprenticeship he did four memorandums (legal problem studies), filed petitions in both federal and circuit courts, and did legal work. His opinion of being an apprentice: "It's a good idea. It combines practical experience with theory."

Jim Lyons was an apprentice under former governor E. S. Willis in Ashland. Besides gaining new knowledge of law, Jim said that meeting and associating with different lawyers was well worth a summer of work.

A University of Michigan graduate studying law at UK, Dick Doyle of Drayton Plains, worked in his home state as an apprentice. Dick handled small claims or "victors' suits"—often as many as four or five a day. Dick is firmly convinced that the apprenticeship idea is sound. "The men (lawyers) you associate with are good," he says, "and the contacts go on."

A corporation lawyer was Henry Pennington's "employer" in Danville during the summer. Praising the merits of being a lawyer's understudy, Henry says that in planning for the future it should be required that every prospective lawyer have six weeks of apprenticeship before taking up practice.

John W. Murphy, Jr. of Liberty said that his apprentice work in his home town was "one of the most useful things" he had done as a law student. John summed up the four big advantages: "You meet the lawyers; you meet the judges; you know better what to expect; and finally, you learn how to handle people—after all, they're the most unusual!"

Prof. "What do you find the hardest thing to deal with?" Student: "An old pack of cards."

Move over, Famous Towers

But in America, the tower-come-lately (extreme right) may rapidly become as familiar as the old landmarks of Europe. It is one of the Bell System's radio-relay stations which speed telephone calls and television programs coast to coast.

In May, 1948, these towers connected only five Eastern cities. Five years later the TV network included 95 towns and more are being added all the time.

Being the first network of its kind in the world, the planning, research, engineering and construction requirements are providing real opportunities for the kind of people who like to pioneer.

If working on new developments appeals to you, check with your Placement Officer for the details on employment with the Bell System. There are positions open for electrical, mechanical and civil engineers, as well as business administration and arts and science graduates.

UK Officials Tour Kentucky Schools

A recent swing through Western Kentucky was termed "highly successful" today by two University Extension Department officials.

The pair, Louis Clifton, director of the department, and K. D. Johnston, assistant department director, made the tour to determine the amount of interest shown in high school speech and music activities, many of which are sponsored by the UK Extension Services.

The three-day tour took them to most Western Kentucky cities and to visits with school principals, speech teachers and music instructors.

Subsequent talks and suggestions should lead to "eventually more service to the people from the extension department," they said.

Construction Work Begins On Long-Delayed Sidewalks

Construction began last week on a Maintenance and Operations Department project which will lead eventually to the laying of a sidewalk on the north side of the Journalism Building, thus eliminating the controversial wire fence of last months.

Present plans as outlined by Chief Engineer E. B. Farris call for the removal of the fence, spanning the lawn from the Journalism Building to the Mining Laboratory, and the addition of a sidewalk in this area.

The chief bottleneck, it seems, centered on the procurement of certain electrical wiring needed to replace connections from the Library to the Mining Laboratory. Workmen started last week on the required ditch digging, preparatory to the installation of electrical wire.

Under this new set-up, Chief Engineer Farris plans to remove the square brick sub-station, located just behind the Mining Laboratory. Then it will be possible to build the long-delayed sidewalk.

Maintenance and Operations Department representatives point out that the location of the electrical sub-station prevented the original laying of the sidewalk. Completion of the building project is expected within a few weeks.

We have never believed a one of those absent-minded prof stiffs, but recently a few have cropped up from various sources that are hard to deny. For instance:

Doctor: "What's your profession, AMP?" His is?

Next morning the evidence was in. Telegrams - hundreds of 'em - on the Professor's desk, from practically everybody on the Campus. All bearing the same message: "Printwhistle need not flunk. Old Elk keep needs him. Printwhistle," he said, "I am no proud who believes that the sole purpose of education is to cram the mind with facts. Rather it is its aim to broaden the mind and make it more productive. It was an honor to me within 24 hours with one - just one - original and worthwhile idea. I shall not flunk you."

The dejected Printwhistle explained his dilemma to his roommate, "Relax," said the latter. "Simplest thing in the world" - and he expounded a Stratagem.

Cats Tie LSU; Face Mississippi State Here Tomorrow Night

Parker's Passing May Present Stiff Test For Stingy Wildcats

By JOHN K. BYRANS

The Mississippi State Maroons, led by All-American Jackie Parker, will be the next on the list for Kentucky's rejuvenated Wildcats this Saturday night at Stoll Field...

However, the Wildcats faced the same tough task last week against 12th ranked LSU and didn't seem to let that bother them one bit as they tied the Bayou Tigers 6-6.

The Maroons, pre-season choice for the second-division in the SEC, are now rated as a definite threat to the league title. Last week the Maroons ran up against upset-minded Auburn and managed to come away with only a 21-21 tie.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK STEVE MEILINGER

Big Steve, the human horse, led the cats to a 6-6 tie with a highly favored LSU eleven, as he snagged six aeriels for 80 yards and stole one enemy toss.

By DICK PURKINS Kentucky's fast-improving Wildcats made believers out of many doubters Saturday night by playing the giant, highly favored Bayou Tigers of LSU to a 6-6 tie.

The Cats, rated the underdog by anywhere from two to four touchdowns, actually outplayed the powerful LSU eleven—a team that had trounced Texas' highly-rated Longhorns 20-7, and played the Alabama Red Elephants to a 7-7 tie, besides crushing a relatively weak Boston College squad, 42-6.

But the boys from the Blue Grass, or on their pre-season team simply because they said they didn't know where to put him. The solution to that would have been to pick any position and put him there and then build the rest of the squad around him.

Big Steve Named SEC Star For such an outstanding game, Steve has been named Player of the Week, an honor he won thrice last year. Incidentally, "Big Steve" was also honored by being named Co-Player of the Week in the SEC along with End Jim Fyburn of Auburn; and Coach Bear Bryant had the honor of Coach of the Week in the SEC bestowed upon him.

Although the running attack did not grind out yardage against the Tigers, the passing attack continued to look very dangerous. Hardy and Hunt completed eight out of 16 passes for a total of 135 yards.

UK's Offense Falters Seven Times In Try At Elusive Win Points

By HANK "PAPA" MAYO

A heavily favored LSU eleven had to make a heart-stopping goal-line stand in the last minutes of play to enable them to gain a 6-6 tie with Kentucky's Wildcats before 38,000 breathless fans in Tiger Stadium at Baton Rouge, Louisiana last Saturday.

The Tigers, undefeated and one of the top teams in the nation, set the game off with a bang as they scored their first and only touchdown of the game the first time they got their hands on the ball.

Cats Spod LSU Early TD After spotting the Tigers a first quarter touchdown, the Cats rallied in the waning minutes of the second period and Ralph Paolone dashed 16 yards to pay dirt for the Bryantmen's only touchdown.

The Wildcats, although threatening several times in the second and third quarters, could not break the Bengal's defense past the 20-yard line until the last three minutes of play when Quarterback Bob Hardy threw to Halfback Joe Platt who scooted down the side line to the five-yard line where he was forced out of bounds by Bengal halfback, Russ Gautreaux.

With the crowd cheering wildly, Paolone plunged to the three on the first play and on the next two plays Quarterback Herbie Hunt sneaked to the one. On the fourth down Meilinger shifted to quarterback and was stopped on the attempted sneak by the Tiger's big forward wall. The Wildcats were offside on the play, but LSU refused the penalty and ran the clock out by running two plays in the remaining minute and 15 seconds.

LSU's touchdown drive in the opening minutes of play tipped the Wildcats' tie for 61 yards in eight plays.

while the Bryantmen netted only 87 giving the Tigers a total net yardage of 191 to 216 for the Cats. Kentucky fumbled a total of four times but were able to recover all plus three of the four which were fumbled by LSU.

Wildcats Outpace Tigers The kicking department has greatly improved and for the first time this season outdistanced their opponents. The Wildcats punted eight times, most of them by Meilinger, for an average of 39 yards. LSU punted seven times for an average of 28 yards per try.

UK Scores Late In Half Kentucky's touchdown came in the waning minutes of the second quarter as Tackles Duke Currite and Bill Wheeler teamed up to intercept a pass on the Tiger 30. Quarterback Herbie Hunt could make only three yards on the first three plays and the Cats appeared to be stalled, but on the fourth down Hunt threw to Meilinger on the 16 and on the next play Fullback Paolone raced 16 yards for the score. Adkins' kick for the extra point was low and wide. This was the end for the scoring but the action throughout the second half kept the crowd on the edge of their seats.

The serial attack by Quarterbacks Hunt and Hardy placed the Cats ahead in the statistics department as the two completed eight of 17 passes for a total of 129 yards, while the Cats' pass defense held the Tigers to one completion which netted them one minus yard for passing yardage.

On the ground the Tigers ripped the Cats' line for 192 yards, most of which were in the first quarter. Hunt and Hardy placed the Cats ahead in the statistics department as the two completed eight of 17 passes for a total of 129 yards, while the Cats' pass defense held the Tigers to one completion which netted them one minus yard for passing yardage.

a total of 49 yards. One of Platt's catches was late in the fourth quarter when Hardy tossed to him and he ran to the LSU five-yard line. There were no serious injuries reported from the game although several of the Cats were shaken up a bit from the hard fought battle.

Trophy Tells Of Past Football Battles With Centre's Colonels

By BILL BURNESON

To look at me now you would never think that I was one of the men who fought after things on the campus. I was really sharp. I know that I am rusting now and all of my silver-ware is coming off but I was really keen when The Kentucky Theater donated me to the winner of the best two out of three games back in 1927. Of course the game was with Centre!

BEMOANING TROPHY

Often people have come by to look at me but it is not as often as in former years. At first I seemed like a good idea. We were on the upgrade and Centre was on the downgrade and Kentucky had such much better teams and on so few trophies it was thought that this would help the trophy case. Now this wasn't mentioned publicly but that is the impression that I got. And who should know better than I for I was the trophy.

Game At Danville
In the first game it was cold and the field was muddy. Lexington really poured into Danville that day. Very few people gave Centre any hope but they remembered the 7 to 0 upset the year before. But the followers of the Big Blue had nothing to worry about. It wasn't a football game. It was a track meet. Kentucky scored eight touchdowns, three extra points, and a safety. Gayle Mahony, Paul Jenkins, and Al Portland were the heroes that day, and it prevented a disastrous season. If you want to look you can see the score on my side, 53 to 0.

You want to know where the other scores are. Well that is the other inscription that was put on my side. The next year the Centre Gold and White came in "Soil" field. The Wildcats were favored by four touchdowns and there was some talk on some sides that the Big Blue would score 100 points.

Rain Hit Field
The big day dawned with it cold and rainy and the field was rather muddy to put it lightly. I held the crowd down to only six thousand. Well the game progressed and the track meet did not commence. In fact that day contained a two man duel between Will Ed Covington of Kentucky and Danville's Ches Shearer. Shearer's brilliant punting and all-round play kept the ball from the Centre goal while Covington's runs kept getting it closer. Covington crossed the goal-line once during the first half, a blocked punt in the last quarter gave them a safety and that is how the game ended, 6 to 0. It was a moral victory for Centre. They made four brilliant goal-line defenses. That is why the score does not lay on my bosom. No one was proud of the victory and wanted it to be soon forgotten. That made me an oddity. Now I have to look at a smirking freshman only half dressed and no one cares. I cannot imagine how once I was beloved of the campus. I guess I am doomed to obscurity.

Sig Ep: Are you going to math class today?
Sigma Chi: Yes, I suppose so. I held the sleep.

Dairy Team Wins First In National

The University of Kentucky dairy judging team was first place in judging Jerseys at the National Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Wis.

Coeched by Dr. D. M. Seath, head of the University's Dairy Section, members of the team are Vic Covington, Maysville; Cecil McFie, Taylorville; Pay Tucker, Shelbyville; and William Wash, Lawrenceburg.

The University judging team was not only tops in Jersey judging, but it also led all southern teams at the National Dairy Congress.

The team was second in Brown Swags, fifth in Guernseys, eighth in Ayrshires and sixth in all breeds, in competition with teams from 22 states.

Ray Tucker and Cecil McGee tied for fourth in Jerseys, while Tucker also placed sixth in Ayrshires and fifth in all breeds. William Nash was seventh in Jerseys, third in Brown Swags and tenth in Ayrshires.

Moller To Speak At Student Union

Werner Moller, a World University Service delegate to the United States this fall, will speak to the University Service Committee at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 128 of the Student Union.

Moller, a graduate of the University of Frankfurt, Germany, has studied in England and has traveled with student groups throughout Europe. For two years, he served with the Education and Group Work Branch of the U. S. High Command in Germany.

Members of the WUS committee announced the Tuesday meeting is open to all students interested in international affairs. The meeting is being jointly sponsored by the WUS and the Y World Affairs committee.

Educators Favor New Committee

The faculty of the College of Education approved the formation of a Student Education Policies Committee at a recent meeting. The committee will be composed of three undergraduates and three graduates in the College of Education.

The members will serve as a unifying committee between the students and faculty of the Education College," said Dr. Frank G. Dickey, dean of the college.

Undergraduates will be chosen by members of PTA and graduates by the Graduate Education Club. They will hold regular meetings and will meet with the faculty.

Germans Responsible For Club Program

German members of the Cosmopolitan Club will present the program for the next meeting of the group at 7 p.m. next Friday. They will include songs, banquets, and movies of their native Germany. Elmar Roth is in charge of the program.

SGA Will Meet In Student Union

The Student Government Association will hold its regular meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in Room 128 of the Student Union. President Carter Glass announced this week.

Extension's Clinic Slated Oct. 30-31

The Department of University Extension has selected Oct. 30-31 as the date for its Audio-Visual Clinic. These dates were chosen to coincide with the meeting of the UK Educational Conference.

Tentative plans, as listed in a bulletin being distributed, would have the clinic divided into three units. The audio-visual directors will meet for a discussion of their work's problems while students meet with University projectors and service companies visiting the campus for the clinic.

The third feature of the clinic will be concerned with audio-visual teaching in the field of music.

A registration fee of $2 per school will cover representatives to all groups.

Students Being Excluded In Hitch-Hiking Arrests

Hitch-hiking students need not fear being arrested by the Fayette County Police.

During the past months it has been the policy of the police to arrest hitch-hikers, but according to the Fayette County Patrol headquarters there is no need for student hitch-hikers to worry.

Patrol headquarters said that they were only arresting suspicious-looking persons in order to catch some one that might be involved in a minor criminal offense. It is also being done to catch persons that have escaped from reform school.

The Fayette County Patrol said that it is possible that some of the students who are hitch-hiking would be questioned. They will be released if they can give a good excuse for being on the highway.
