COUNTRY FAIR TO BE HELD IN THE ARMORY

Red Lemonade and Popcorn Will Add Realistic Touch

SAT., MAY 12, IS DATE

An old-fashioned country fair with pink lemonade, popcorn, confetti, dancing and fun galore will be given by the Woman's Pan-Hellenic of the University in the gymnasium and armory Saturday, May 12, for the purpose of establishing a scholarship for girls. The formal opening of the fair will be at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and festivities will continue late into the night.

In the spring of 1914 the Woman's Pan-Hellenic gave a vaudeville program, and raised enough money to send a girl to the University one year. The present plan is to outdo the success of 1914 by far and establish a permanent Scholarship Fund, which will aid girls, who have not the means to attend the University, to procure an education.

Come and enjoy a picnic on the campus, eat and drink as many concoctions as your digestion will stand, and dance away the merry hours to your heart's content.

The gymnasium and armory will both be called into requisition. While dancing is being indulged in in the gymnasium, "a bewildering variety of elegant one-act specialties" await you in the armory. All along the sides of the armory there will be little booths turned respectively into a gypsy tent, a witch's den, the grotesque abode of an Egyptian sorceress, and the business-like offices of a dapper little French medium, just over from Paris.

You may have your fortune told in whichever corner you prefer, or in all four if your money lasts. Then you may sandwich between your dances visits to the circus, the menagerie, the vaudeville, and the multitude of side shows.

The menagerie is not to be compared for a single instant with the animals of the biggest show on earth. Come! Watch the baby elephant walk forth in its lair, the snake-charmer exhibit her pets; the lion roar and paw, and finally assure the timid young folk that she is not a lion at all, but only that far more awful creature, a dignified Senior.

Mlle. Zita, beautiful in pink tarlatan, will balance herself on a chair, and appear in a side-splitting farce which "will appeal to all intelligent and literary persons and make them laugh and cry, with mirth."

There will be Susa, the fat lady, weighing more than four hundred pounds; the Hawaiians with their Ukeleles, the tiniest lady of the land; Minnie, the midget, who is only 36 inches tall; and the Mysterious Lady from the Nile, who will tell you when and where—but why go on? There will be so many different things to attract that even the most pessimistic will leave grinning.

COLLEGE REGISTRARS TO MEET AT UNIV.

The eighth annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars will be held here April 25 to 27.

Registrars from all the large universities will be present. Ezra L. Gillis is secretary-treasurer of the association. Mr. Gillis announces that the office will be closed during the meetings, and requests that students arrange their work accordingly.

M'BRAYER TO GO ON SPEECH-MAKING TOUR

J. J. McBrayer, a Junior in the College of Law, will address the Inter-collegiate Prohibition Association of Georgetown College on the evening of April 23, on the subject, "The International Prohibition Oratorical Contest, Its Purpose, Conduct and Possibilities."

On May 13, Mr. McBrayer will deliver the commencement address to the students of Burgin High School. His subject has not yet been announced.

During his college career, Mr. McBrayer has achieved a remarkable reputation as an orator, having won a number of oratorical contests. That his ability is being recognized is evidenced by the fact that he has received the above invitations to speak.

LACK OF TERRITORY IS NEW WAR THEORY

Dantzler Speaks To English Club on European Conflict

"WAR OF AUTOCRACY"

"Never before in the history of the world has there been such a need for colonies and no colonies," said Professor L. L. Dantzler Monday afternoon in his talk before the English Club upon the subject, "War."

"I think that that is the real cause of the present world war," said the speaker, "England is a great colonial power, and Germany is a great power but it is not colonial. As Germany, tho not the size of the State of Texas, is becoming over-peopled the necessity of finding room to house this surplus was an important question.

Countries had hitherto always fought for the possession of territory so Germany has known for some time that this war was necessary. This war has been planned for many years and is really the postponement of the war that was about to arise between England, Germany and France over the Morocco controversy in 1908."

He said that the violation of Belgium was not the real cause of the war but the political aspirations of the various countries. Germany's aspiration is the giving of "culture" to all the world. If they will not take it peaceably, then force will be used, for this culture is right for the world, tho it may not see it. If the might is powerful enough to win, then that proves that this power is right. Thus Germany believes that "might makes right."

"And so," concluded Professor Dantzler, "this is a war of power and autocracy on one hand, and justice and democracy on the other, and we must consider what that German 'Culture' would mean to this country. If the war should be won by that nation."

WOMEN NOT NEEDED AT FRONT, MRS. HUNT SAYS

Can Serve Country Better By Remaining at Home

GIRLS ARE PATRIOTIC

"No one after the war will question whether woman is the equal of man," said Mrs. George R. Hunt, Lexington representative of the National League for Woman's Service, when she addressed the women of the University in chapel, Friday.

Mrs. Hunt emphasized the point that women are not needed at the front. "We have no front," she said, "and if we had, untrained women would only be in the way there. A woman can serve her country better now by raising potatoes and cabbage than by studying first-aid and planning to be a heroine. It takes three years to make a nurse, working night and day. In thirty lessons only a start is made. The call for women now is at home."

"Efficient workers is the demand of the National League for Woman's Service. Women are volunteering their services for gardening, day nurseries, industrial work, motor driving, stenography and all sorts of clerical work, as well as for first-aid and nursing. No incompetent worker is wanted. Each woman is to do whatever she is best fitted for, no matter how small her service may seem."

Mrs. Hunt said that the college women were particularly fitted for service as they are trained in so many different branches. Dean Anna J. Hamilton reported that already the women of the University had volunteered for thirty different vocations. This includes the Red Cross and military first-aid classes, as well as interpreting, clerical work, farming, sewing, and numerous other occupations.

The National League for Woman's Service was organized after a careful study of similar organizations in England. Its object is the enrollment of every woman in the United States for patriotic service. Mrs. Hunt concluded her talk with an appeal to the women of America to show to the world by their co-operation and efficiency that they are superior to other women.

After the chapel hour Mrs. Hunt met some of the University women and discussed more fully the work they could do. She urged that girls organize Service Leagues in their own communities during the summer, and enroll in the national organization. She said that the children should also be organized. They could make comfort kits for soldiers at the front, and could do efficient work in gardening.

SENIOR MECHS RETURN FROM INSPECTION TOUR

Farquhar's Play Presented at Chicago Alumni Banquet

ANDERSON IN CHARGE

The Seniors of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering returned Monday night from their annual trip to Chicago, where they have been for the past week. For the past seventeen years a part of the Senior Mechanical's curriculum has consisted of this annual tour of inspection of the large commercial plants of Chicago.

The trip this year was a record-breaking occasion. The students were "thirsty" to imbibe knowledge and Dean F. Paul Anderson, "Joe and Jack" Dicker, who went along to keep things evenly balanced, were equally as thirsty to explain the "why's and wherefore's."

The feature of the trip was the banquet given by the Chicago Alumni of the University on Saturday night at the Auditorium Hotel. "My Old Kentucky Home," sung by the ninety guests present opened the banquet. The toastmaster was H. E. Townsend, member of the '09 class. The program was:

Welcome—Hal. E. Townsend, '09.
Response—M. M. Montgomery, '17.
"Early Days of the University," E. T. Brown, '75.

"The University Today," F. Paul Anderson.

"Athletics," M. J. Crutcher, '17.
"A Comic Rendezvous" (two-act comedy), the class.

Professor E. F. Farquhar, author and director of the play, addressed the assembly on "English for Engineers," and explained the underlying principles of his work. "Dutch" Schrader, star of the play, was hero, heroine and villain combined.

Among the places of interest visited by the class last week were: Chicago University; Commonwealth Edison. (Continued on Page 2)

DATE OF BATTALION INSPECTION CHANGED

Inspection of the battalion will be Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, instead of April 25 and 26 as previously announced. A United States army officer from Washington will conduct the inspection.

Upon recommendation of the commandant it was decided that from Monday, April 2, drill should take place at the usual time daily except Saturdays and Sunday. Since that date the cadets have been at work, and have the tactics of the parade ground well in hand.

The great wave of nation-wide enthusiasm caused by the existing state of war, and the fact that the cadets may soon be called into active service has made the campus assume a military atmosphere.

Number of Students and Professors Expected To Attend

DINNER ONE FEATURE

The annual meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association will be held at Louisville, April 25 to 28. This meeting is one of the most important events of the school year, as it provides place and time for a meeting with the progressive and thoughtful teachers of the State, to discuss plans for the advancement of the work of education in Kentucky. This year a larger attendance than has ever been known is expected. A number of professors of the University will take part in the program. The official headquarters will be at the Hotel Henry Watterson.

A feature of special interest to University of Kentucky representatives will be the alumni dinner given at the Henry Watterson, Thursday, April 26. Last year this dinner was attended by nearly 100 alumni, teachers and friends of the University. This year a larger number is expected, and two or three of the trustees are to be present and participate in the program.

Wednesday evening will be "Authors' Evening." Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, Mrs. George Madden Martin, Mrs. Annie Fellows Johnson and Mrs. Frances Caldwell Macauley will appear on the program. Other speakers of note on the general program are: Dr. G. M. Whipple, professor of education, University of Illinois; Dr. David Snedden, Teacher's College, Columbia University; Dr. W. A. Jessup, president of the State University of Iowa; Dr. Charles H. Judd, University of Chicago; Dr. K. C. Davis, Peabody College.

Another feature is the round table discussions held at the departmental meetings, and it is in these meetings that the University will be particularly represented. In the department of Science, Professors A. H. Gilbert and McHenry Rhoads will take part. In the department of Language, Professor T. T. Jones; Department of City Superintendents, Professor George Baker; Department of Mathematics, Professor J. M. Davis; Department of History and Civics, Dr. Edward Tuthill; Department of Agriculture and Horticulture, Professors George Roberts and Dean Mary E. Sweeney.

The Kentucky Music Teachers' Association which was organized last spring at a joint meeting of the Kentucky Conference of Music Supervisors and the Louisville Music Teachers' Association will hold its first annual meeting on Friday. There will be two sessions, one at 9 o'clock in the morning and the other at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. At the morning session, Professor J. T. C. Noy and Lawrence A. Cover will be prominent speakers.

No action has been taken by the faculty concerning the excusing of students who wish to go to the association meeting, but it is expected that those who wish to go will be allowed to do so. A number of Seniors and others especially interested are planning to attend.

REV. BUSH ADDRESSES MISSION STUDY CLASS

Talk on "India" Is Fourth of Series To Be Given

DISCUSSES RELIGION

"India is a land of religions," said Dr. Benjamin J. Bush, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, in his talk before the Mission Study Class at Patterson Hall Friday night on the subject of "India."

"America has given the world two religions," said Dr. Bush. "They are Christian Science and Mormonism and the fact that Utah elected a man directly opposed to the Mormon belief shows that even now that religion is on the downward path. India, on the other hand, has given the world three religions, Buddhism, Brahminism, and a mixture of the two, Hindooism.

In this country, we have the bad as well as the good, but the bad is always in opposition to what our religion teaches as good. On the other hand, in India, the evil is considered as much a part of the religion as the good."

When asked what religion the great poet of that country, Tagore, taught, Dr. Bush said that Tagore knew a great deal of our Christianity, for he knew our language and had spent some time in this country. In his writings he speaks of God in a rather Christian light as "Father." He thinks of him as a person and his poems show a mixture of the religions of his country.

"In India they are saying now," said the speakers, "that we have made them dissatisfied with their religion and that now we owe them another and it is our duty now to teach them something better."

The talk Friday night formed the fourth of a series of eight to be given to the Junior and Senior classes of Mission Study this spring. The Freshman class is taught by Miss Marie Collins and the Sophomores study under Miss Mildred Collins. More than 90 per cent of the girls attend these classes and the idea has proved a marked success. The entire work is in charge of the Missionary Committee, of which Miss Mildred Graham is chairman.

BISCHOFF WINNER OF PEACE CONTEST

L. F. Bischoff, a Freshman in the College of Civil Engineering, won the local peace oratorical contest held in chapel Friday evening under the auspices of the National Oratorical Peace Association to decide the representative of the University in the State contest to be held here tomorrow night. Mr. Bischoff spoke on "War and Peace." The other contestants and their subjects were J. W. Milan, "Internationalism," and T. L. Creekmore, "Peace and Democracy."

The winner of the contest tomorrow will represent the State in the group contest, which includes the Southern States. The representative of the group will compete in the national contest, to be held in Mohonk, New York, in June.

Last year J. J. McBrayer, of the Law Department, won the local, State and group contests, and was awarded a prize in the national contest in June. He is not eligible this year, because of his former participation.

Should Student Study Current History?

History is being made more rapidly today than ever before in the history of the world.

The student of today is the citizen of tomorrow.

Therefore it seems that there is but one reasonable side to this question of whether a student should study current events and it is reasonable to expect that all broad-minded people are coming to the conclusion that such a course should be established in the leading colleges and universities of our country.

Our student is asked to go upon the battlefield and if need be give his life for his country and why then, prohibit this student from studying the conditions, that in the future he may not be needed to give his life for his fatherland but will be able to live for humanity.

For example, take this gigantic world war. How many of our students know where to go for the most unbiased news? How many of our students know exactly what is happening and how it could have been avoided? How many know just what part the United States is playing in this world contention (except in a very general way)? Not many? How, in the coming years, are we to forbid such another calamity that makes every nation of the earth wear mourning? Only by knowing the conditions today that have made and are carrying on this war. Are we to wait for fifty years to find the real facts in the matter, until our grandchildren study them in the histories to be taught them?

We think not. The Outlook Weekly Magazine is giving, in connection with its editorials, a series of questions and topics of discussion to be studied by the thinking folk of today and while the whole planet is engaged in its death struggle it is very little to do to acquaint ourselves with the topics of the day.

True education consists in being able to "move" in an emergency, to be able to know where to go for facts and how to form an opinion from the reading of such facts.

Let us all be educated!!! M. H. G.

Women and War.

It is a new and wise government which puts the stamp of "true patriotism" on the effort to increase the food supply of the nation. Commendation of such efforts has been wanting in the past. Never before, however, has there been so widespread a movement, backed by government forces and co-operated in by great woman's organizations, to conserve and increase the nation's food supply and eliminate waste. This campaign against waste is long overdue. No nation is so prodigal of its resources as our own, whether it be of life, labor or land.

Such a campaign finds a ready response in the womanhood of the country. The women of Europe are serving in every line of endeavor, that men may be freed for active service on the battle front. So nobly have they responded to their country's call, that the ultra-conservative former Premier Asquith declares they have fairly won political rights. In our own land when the call came for a mobilization of the nation's forces the women were ready. Under the National League for Woman's Service they volunteered by thousands to serve as agriculturists, industrial workers, stenographers, aviators, nurses, wireless operators, in any capacity in which they might be of service. Though she is ready to serve when the call comes the normal woman shrinks from giving consent to any activity that destroys.

Woman is the normal conservator of the human race. Both her nature and her training lead her to undertake constructive work for mankind. Her patriotism manifests itself in tasks which build up rather than tear down. The woman who could not vote "yes" for a war measure which means destruction of life and property was true to her instincts and her training. The quality of her patriotism cannot justly be questioned. The criticism which Jeannette Rankin evoked by her action was a gentle zephyr compared with the storm of criticism which would have descended upon her head had she voted a calm, unemotional, masculine "yes" for a war measure. Men should regard her action as an indication that participation in public affairs does not make her less womanly.

When war can no longer be avoided, however, and our nation is engaged in what we believe to be a struggle for world democracy, the womanhood of the country is ready to make the utmost sacrifice for this cause of the people. We, as college women, are called on to do our part. This does not mean a rush "to the front." There are few Molly Pitchers in modern warfare. By offering our services for whatever line of work we are best prepared, by practicing the utmost personal economy and thrift, we can enlist in that great "Service Army," under the flag which stands for human liberty and justice.

Lykelle Pome No. 28.
It was a lovely April day,
The grass was very green,
A sweet co-ed came driving by
She really was a queen.
She stopped beside young Johnny
As to class he quickly sped,
And asked if he would ride with her.
This is what he said:
"I cannot cut my Latin,
My average I must fatten."

John Marsh: "That co-ed draws well, doesn't she?"
Bill Shinnick: "I should say so. Ten men smashed in on my date last night."

Hard on the Sigs.
Last Sunday's issue of the Lexington Herald carried an article telling the history of the house now occupied by the Sigma Chis. In it was this sentence:
"It is a sad sight to see this historic old dwelling given over to bats, owls, and squirrels."

A co-ed, out without permission, was returning Hallward slowly. In succession she passed Homer Combest, John Gibson, Doc Rodes and Howard Kinne. Grabbing her companion, she said: "Come on! Run! It must be awful late."

But an antidote has been found to ward away the strife,
Our heroes bold, 'tis sadly told, just take themselves a wife.

Y. M. C. A. MEETS.
The Y. M. C. A. held its weekly meeting Sunday night in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on the campus with Harry Milward as leader. Virgil Chapman read a very interesting paper and one enjoyed by all of the boys present. Mr. Smith favored with two violin solos accompanied by Mr. Milward.

MAKERS OF HISTORY

BILL SHINNICK.

"Some men are born great; some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." It is hard to decide in which category Bill Shinnick really belongs, but we rather suspect, after a hasty review of his University career, that we should follow his own lead and place him in all three. Certain it is that the president of the class of '17 has been identified with almost every school activity, and has won every available honor during his four years here.

Bill was a celebrity in his own home town, before his arrival at "State." As president of the class of 1912 of the Shelbyville High School, as editor-in-chief of the annual of that year, and as star performer in various theatrical productions of the institution he established an enviable reputation. Surely this is proof that he was born great. More than that—on good authority we have it that the editor of the "Kentuckian" after a search of all available resources could find nothing "on" Bill. This is indeed a unique honor and further proof of his natural greatness.

The list of Bill's achievements will occupy his full quota of space in the Annual. Three years he has taken prominent parts in Stroller plays. Last year he was stage manager of that organization, and now its president. He is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity; Canterbury Club, honorary literary organization, Lamp and Cross, honorary Senior fraternity and Kappa Sigma. He was Junior Class Orator. This year finds him editor-in-chief of the Kernel and president of the Senior class, two of the biggest offices the University has to offer. This needs no comment. Truly he has "achieved greatness."

Bill is not of athletic build, but he will not leave without his "K." No one who remembers his gyrations as he led the "Locomotive" or "Sky-rocket" on the football field doubt that he has earned it. It is in the role of yell-leader that Bill joins the class of those who have had "greatness thrust upon them."

These honors are but superficial if they are not based on real character and ability. In these Bill Shinnick is not found wanting. At the risk of giving the impression of an eulogy rather than a eulogy, it might be truthfully added that the University will feel a distinct loss when Bill Shinnick leaves.

PROBE COMMITTEE ADJOURNS UNTIL MAY

The Investigation Committee of the Board of Trustees has adjourned until May 30, at which time further reports of investigation will be made. Professor McCoun and Dr. Cain were employed as experts to investigate the standing of the various departments and the administration in general. They reported some of their investigation and further reports will be heard at the continuation of the board in May.

One of the questions before the board is that of consolidating the College of Mechanical and Electrical and the College of Civil Engineering. Students, faculty members and alumni were called for hearing regarding the affairs of the University.

READING BY MISS
DULEY IS FEATURE OF HORACE MANN

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting last Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in Professor Noe's room in the Education Building. Professor Noe gave an interesting discussion of music and great composers with illustrative records on his Edison machine.

Miss Vennie Duley gave a reading of Eleanor Abbott's "Molly Make-Believe." A discussion of the Co-ed Oratorical Contest for the $20.00 Barker Prize, which will be held on May 3, concluded the meeting.

The program for next week will be the biography, readings, and criticisms of Sidney Lanier. Visitors are cordially invited to attend.

PROF. JONES SPEAKER AT MOUNTAIN CLUB

The Mountain Club entertained with a delightful party Thursday evening, April 12, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. A large number of "mountaineers" were present and many friends from other parts of the State. The president of the club, Mr. Fishback, and the vice-president, Miss Blair, were in charge of the entertainment.

After a short social meeting Professor T. T. Jones gave an interesting and inspiring talk on the mountain people. He told of many quaint characters he had known in the old days before the coming of the railroad had brought a superficial culture which destroyed the local color of the mountains. He described "Bacco Juice" and "Coonskin" and "Sooter Ike," a "man of honor," who had sent many men to their accounting before their time, and who feared that the railroads would bring in a "mighty tough class of people." There are now better roads and better schools but the day of the unlocked smoke-house is gone forever.

WHEELER TO DELIVER GRADUATION ADDRESS

Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, has accepted the invitation of President Barker to deliver the commencement address to the graduating class June 7. Dr. Wheeler is considered one of the leading educators of the West and an able speaker.

NEW OFFICERS IN-STALLED BY Y. W. C. A.

Installation of new officers and of the new cabinet was held at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at Patterson Hall, Sunday evening. Miss Linda Purnell, ex-president of the association, led the meeting and introduced the new president, Miss Lelah Gault. Miss Gault in turn introduced her new cabinet and each one upon being presented told of her line of work and what she hoped would be accomplished during the remainder of this year and on into next year, if the girls stood loyally by the association and worked for it, for the University and their fellow students.

The meeting was very impressive, as there was no illumination during the service except the long candles held by the girls and which they had lighted from that of the ex-president.

TO GIVE DANCE.

The Owensboro Club, composed of students from Owensboro and Daviess County, will give its annual dance in Buell Armory, Saturday afternoon, April 21, from 3 to 5:30 o'clock. The various committees are hard at work making arrangements for this affair which promises to be one of the best dances of the year. Officers of the club are: Floyd Potts, president; Elizabeth McCarty, vice president, and I. C. Graddy, secretary-treasurer.

WRIGHT VISITS ALMA MATER.

Capt. W. F. Wright, Company L, Second Regiment, who was graduated from the University in 1914, has arrived in Lexington to meet this company which is being mobilized here. He visited the campus Tuesday morning, renewing old friendships. Last summer Captain Wright was lieutenant of a machine gun company on the border. He was prominent in his work in the University, and is best remembered as editor-in-chief of the 1914 "Kentuckian."

VOLUNTEER BAND TO MEET.

All students interested in missionary work are urged to attend the meeting of the Student Volunteer Band at Patterson Hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. John J. Tigert will address the band on "The Place of the Bible in Student Volunteer Work."

CHANDLER SPEAKS ON SINGLE TAX SYSTEM

Consumer Really Bears
Burden of Tax—Reform Is Necessary

FAULTS ARE SHOWN

"Congested housing, high rent, and bad conditions existing in our rural districts are traceable to our present tax system," said Alfred N. Chandler, of the Single Tax Service League of New York City in his talk upon the subject of the Single Tax, before the student body in chapel, Tuesday morning.

"The Single Tax is a scientific system of taxation which is successful in foreign countries," said the speaker, "and why cannot we have such a system here? In this country we tax everything in sight and things out of sight, and why? We say we need the money. Industry is thus penalized as if it were an epidemic. It is against all dictates of justice to tax one man because he is putting his property to a useful purpose by building upon it and not to tax another man because he does not build upon his land."

Mr. Chandler continued by giving examples of the countries in which this system has been adopted. He pointed out that all of the cities in the western part of Canada have been under this law for some time and that likewise, Australia and New Zealand use this system of taxation.

"All things that are now taxed are the products of toil," said Mr. Chandler, "and labor should never be taxed. The present taxes upon our buildings and department stores are made up in the higher prices and the consumer really bears the tax. This is not as it should be."

The speaker argued that the buildings of the city would be more uniform under the single tax. A skyscraper would not be built next to a small shop and vice-versa.

MARRIAGES

LYLE—GORDON.

Miss Judith Lyle and Angus N. Gordon, of Lexington, both former students of the University, were married Friday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. G. Lyle, 306 East Maxwell Street. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. Edwin Muller. The young couple left immediately after the wedding on a bridal trip. They will live here, Mr. Gordon being an official at the Experiment Station.

STRODE—DIXON.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Gay Strode announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Evans, to Mr. Paul Everett Dixon, of Bowling Green. The wedding will be a beautiful event of May. Miss Strode is the only daughter of the home. She is charming and attractive and a favorite with all who know her. Mr. Dixon is attractive and popular. He is a prominent young attorney of Bowling Green, having graduated two years ago from the Law College of the University. He is a member of the Delta Chi fraternity.

The marriage is the culmination of a happy romance since college days and is of much interest to the host of young friends of the popular couple.

MYSTIC THIRTEEN AND KEYS HOLD PLEDGING EXERCISES.

One of the most brilliant and interesting events of the season was given at the Phoenix Hotel Friday evening, in the form of the annual dance and pledge ceremonies of the Mystic Thirteen and Keys, the honorary societies of the Junior and Sophomore classes. Miss Margaret Acosta sang "The Little Grey Home in the West," "Poor Butterfly," "When the Lights Go Out," and "A Perfect Day." During the singing of "Poor Butterfly" the ball room was darkened and only a large moon was to be seen thru the branches of a tree in one corner. Mrs. Stafford, a toe-dancer at the Ada Meade last week, danced as poor butterfly in and out among the palms under a drop light of green.

As the name implies the Thirteen Society each year, selects thirteen men from the Sophomore class and the Keys choose ten men from the Freshman ranks. The honor guests were:

PHILOSOPHIANS RENDER INTERESTING PROGRAM

Misses Dean, Reed and Eaker Appeal to Girls' Patriotism

PLAN NEW FEATURES

One of the most interesting and up-to-date programs of the year was given by the Philosophian Literary Society at the regular meeting last Wednesday night. The numbers were all suggested by woman's part in the present war.

First on the program was an interesting paper by Miss Lucille Dean on the life and work of Florence Nightingale. Miss Dean drew an analogy between the need of woman's skill and patience at the time of the Crimean War and at the present time, and showed how the modern woman should respond to the call of duty and patriotism.

Her paper was followed by a sketch of Clara Barton, by Miss Martha Frances Reed, who also made an appeal to the patriotism of the modern woman, and stirred in the hearts of those present a desire to serve the race. The last number of the literary program was a history of the Red Cross by Miss Eleanor Eaker, who has made a close study of the subject, and presented many interesting and unusual facts.

At the business meeting which followed, the society decided to set aside the regular literary programs and instead to have programs dealing with the news of the present day. Each meeting is to be in charge of four girls who are to search the papers for news of war, Red Cross, educational and social interest and to report on these. In this way those who have not the time to keep up with the news of the day may get the gist of current happenings at the Philosophian meetings.

NOTICE, JUNIORS!
