

The Kentucky Alumnus

Vol. X

JULY, 1919

No. 4

Published by
The Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky

The Library of
The University of Chicago

10

10

The University of Chicago
Library

The Kentucky Alumnus

CONTENTS

	Page
Editorial Comment—	3
General—	6
Kentucky Memorial Building	6
Memory Service for Heroes	9
Method of Selecting Rhodes Scholars	10
University's Roll of Honor	11
Alumni and Thrift Campaign	11
University Section—	13
New Dean of Women	15
Summer Session	17
Extension Courses	18
Commencement	19
College of Engineering	19
Student Life—	23
Athletics	23
Moving Day	25
College Night	25
Y. M. C. A.	27
Y. W. C. A.	28
Fraternities and Sororities	31-34
Societies and Clubs	35-37
Alumni—	38
Alumni Business Meeting	38
University Union	41
Alumni Clubs	42
Classes	47
Some Alumni	48-51
Weddings	51
Births and Deaths	52

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION

Alumni Representatives on Board of Trustees

PHILIP P. JOHNSTON, JR., Lexington, Ky.
J. I. LYLE, New York City.
W. H. GRADY, Louisville, Ky.

GENERAL ASSOCIATION

MRS. CHAS. J. SMITH, President, Lexington, Ky.
HERBERT GRAHAM, Vice-President, Frankfort, Ky.
J. D. TURNER, Secretary-Treasurer, Lexington, Ky.
MARGUERITE McLAUGHLIN, Editor, The Alumnus, Lexington, Ky.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

W. E. FREEMAN, Chairman, Lexington, Ky.
FRANK BATTLE, Lexington, Ky.
E. B. WEBB, Lexington, Ky.
LULA LOGAN, Lexington, Ky.
T. T. JONES, Lexington, Ky.
GEORGE BROCK, London, Ky.

CLASS SECRETARIES.

1919—C. E. PLANCK, Lexington Herald, Lexington, Ky.
1918—
1917—
1916—ELSIE HELLER, Y. M. C. A., Richmond, Va., and L. H. NELSON, Dept., of Agri., Raleigh, N. C.
1915—CLYDE TAYLOR.
1914—R. C. DABNEY, Miller Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio.
1913—MABEL POLLITT, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.
1912—J. R. DUNCAN, H. W. Johns-Manville Company, New York City.
1911—OLLINE CRUICKSHANK, Lexington, Ky.
1910—D. V. TERRELL, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.
1909—P. L. BLUMENTHAL, Babcock-Blumenthal Laboratories, Lack-awana, N. Y.
1908—FRANK BATTLE, Lexington, Ky.
1907—L. E. HILLENMEYER, Lexington, Ky.
1906—ANNA WALLIS, 326 Aylesford Place, Lexington, Ky.
1905—HARRY EDWARDS, R. F. D., Lexington, Ky.
1904—W. E. FREEMAN, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.
1903—MARGUERITE McLAUGHLIN, 226 E. Maxwell St., Lexington, Ky.
1902—T. J. BARR, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.
1901—G. H. HAILEY, Cleary-White Construction Co., Chicago, Ill.
1900—L. K. FRANKEL, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.
1899—GEORGE ROBERTS, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.
1898—CHAS. L. STRAUS, Lexington, Ky.
1897—MARY E. CLARKE, Lexington, Ky.
1896—J. I. LYLE, 39 Cortlandt St., New York City.
1895—MARY L. DIDLAKE, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.
1894—MRS. P. F. KESHEIMER, Madison Place, Lexington, Ky.
1893—D. S. ROBERTS, West Point, Ky.
1892 and 1891 (To be selected.)
1890—CHAS. R. BROCK, Denver, Colorado.
1889 to 1869—A. M. PETER, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS

IS PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY—SEPTEMBER, NOVEMBER, JANUARY, MARCH, MAY AND JULY OF EACH YEAR—BY THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, AT LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

Entered as second-class matter September 28, 1916, at the post-office at Lexington, Kentucky, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE FOR THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS IS $1.00 PER YEAR, TO ALUMNI, INCLUDING DUES TO THE ASSOCIATION, $2.00 PER YEAR.

The Kentucky Alumnus is the official publication of the Alumni Association. It is issued bi-monthly by the Association under the direction of the Executive Committee in the interest of the Association and of the University. It therefore represents the sentiment and policy of the Alumni organization.

The Editor-in-Chief is appointed by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association and the Associate Editors are the Class Secretaries of the various classes and the Presidents of the Alumni Clubs.

Editorial Comment

ARE YOU IN?

The Alumnus has been sent regularly as we were able to issue it to every alumnus for the past year. We trust it has interested you in some way. We have faith it has. We desire to improve it and make it better, more creditable and interesting. We want to make it equal to other alumni publications. In fact, we want to beat them a little. This should tickle your pride—maybe. We cannot do this without your assistance. If our efforts appeal to you and you have any interest in the welfare of our work and any loyalty for Alma Mater as college people ought to have, a little expression of this sort will work wonderfully:

Enclosed please find $2.00 in payment for The Alumnus and dues to the Association.

Anything else you want to say, say it good and strong, but the above will be most pleasing.

THE MEMORIAL BUILDING

In other columns of this issue of the Alumnus, is outlined briefly a project undertaken by loyal citizens of the State to erect on the campus of the University of Kentucky, as a memorial to all Kentuckians who gave their lives to the cause of democracy in the European war, a memorial building to be used by the University to house adequately and comfortably student activities on the grounds.

So heartily and so instantly have both the press and the public of the Commonwealth responded to the lofty sentiment involved in the movement, and so uniform has been its acceptance in all parts of Kentucky, that its promoters are encouraged in the belief that the funds necessary to erect the building will be procured in time to begin active building operations early in 1920 and that the building will be completed within two years and be ready for occupancy.

The active co-operation of the Alumni Association up to this time has been marked indeed, and The Alumnus feels that it can rely upon the members of the Association, now scattered throughout the world, to respond readily and liberally to the call for funds. Steps to interest the alumni and to organize them for active work on the project, are being taken with the confident belief that when the magnificent building shall have been completed, and started upon its great mission of service, the young men and women who are students at this time, and shall be students of Kentucky in the years to come, will gain new inspiration and added courage in the battle of life and in the noble struggle to raise Kentucky to higher ideals of educational activity, to a broader plane of civic usefulness and to loftier and more far-reaching achievements in the field of popular education.

THE VICTORY CLASS

The class of 1919, 100 strong, was graduated June 18 from the University of Kentucky. It was known and will be remembered as the Victory Class. The title was well deserved not only because of the fact that the class concluded its work in 1919 but because four of its members gave their lives for the cause of right and because the class as a whole and through the excellence of many of its members was far and away above the average group of seniors.

One thing the seniors this year did, which the Alumni will appreciate, was to elect an Alumni Secretary who will keep his former classmates in touch with the University and the University and Alumni in touch with his classmates. A fund was set aside to finance the secretarial work and nothing has been neglected in preparing to keep the records of the Victory Class complete.

The Senior Pilgrimage, inaugurated this year, was rich with sentiment and beautifully carried out. The class day exercises were well and carefully planned and presented, and in short the class came up to every requirement excellently, and overcame obstacles by the score.

The Alumni day registration showed that about twenty of the class became members of the Association and fully fifty per cent. attended the Alumni luncheon. The Victory Class bids fare to become a strong organ in the Alumni Association and here's hoping it will strive long, hard, and often to identify itself with the interests of its Alma Mater.

THE ALUMNUS AND THE KERNEL

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association it was suggested that the Kentucky Kernel, the weekly student publication of the University, be put in the hands of every member of the Alumni Association and that the Kernel contain each week an Alumni column in order to acquaint the Alumni with the progress of the University and make it possible for the Alumni to return to the commencement each year with an idea of what has been going on. In the discussion which followed the advisability of every alumnus joining the Association and getting regularly copies of The Alumnus had strong support. There is food for thought in both the suggestions and discussion.

The Alumni could not help being interested in the weekly paper. It is much larger than any other educational institution organ that comes in exchange. It is well prepared and contains good news and all of it. It is carefully edited and in every way worthy of the patronage of the Alumni, even if it had no special column for Alumni news. Circulation of the Kentucky Kernel among Alumni would also eliminate the necessity of reproducing in such great amounts the student activities in The Alumnus and that publication could in a much greater way be devoted to Alumni news and to the progress of the University.

Subscription to the Kernel and membership in the Alumni Association which entitles the member to every copy of The Alumnus would only cost $3.00. Think it over Alumni and subscribe for both before the University opens again next fall.

General

THE KENTUCKY MEMORIAL BUILDING

In the great struggle in Europe for human liberty and the regnancy of democracy throughout the world, now happily brought to a successful end, Kentucky gave 2,758 of her sons and daughters that autocracy might not again menace the race.

The record of Kentucky's part in that sublime struggle adds a luminous page to the history of the Commonwealth, and establishes a lasting new covenant of pride in the immortal dead of all nations, that participated in it. At the same time, it redeems the promise, so solemnly made by the free peoples of the allied cause, that henceforth the world should be a better place in which to live.

When the call to arms came, no university in the country responded more readily than did the University of Kentucky, and of all her sons and daughters, none served more loyally than did her alumni. When, therefore, in the early spring of 1919, leading citizens of her State inaugurated a movement to erect a memorial to Kentuckians, both men and women, who lost their lives in the European war, and decided that that memorial should be a building upon the campus of the University of Kentucky to be used for the housing and promotion of student activities on its grounds, the alumni of the institution were among the first to approve the movement and pledge support in its successful promotion.

In its annual meeting June 17, 1919, after a thorough discussion of the plan to raise funds by popular subscription to erect the proposed building, the alumni adopted the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth, have inaugurated a movement to procure by popular subscription, $300,000 with which to erect a memorial building in honor of Kentuckians who lost their lives in the service of the country in the European war, and

"WHEREAS, we see in such a movement opportunity to assist materially, not only in doing merited homage to the State's heroic dead, but at the same time to establish on the grounds of the State's chief institution of learning, a building that may be used for the betterment of physical and educational conditions surrounding young men and women of Kentucky who shall henceforth seek education there; now, therefore

"BE IT RESOLVED, that the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky does hereby heartily approve the project and pledge its members to assist, to the limit of their ability, the noble plan here outlined."

Altho when the project was started, the session of 1918-1919 was within two weeks of its close, alumni of former classes and prospective alumni of the class of 1919, set vigorously to work and raised among their number and among the faculty and students of the University, upwards of $9,000 as a nucleus of the fund and as an evidence of hearty co-operation.

That campaign as yet is incomplete, but alumni and other promoters are confident of increasing upon the campus of the University alone, the fund to such proportions as will give the institution impressive representation in the great enterprise.

Plans of the proposed building are as yet incomplete, but briefly speaking, it is to be modern in every respect, ample to meet the demands for which it is being designed; is to contain in its rotunda, tablets bearing the names of every Kentuckian who lost his or her life in the allied cause and is to be erected on grounds donated for its site by the trustees of the institution.

To carry forward the work of procuring funds for the erection of the memorial, a committee of fifty leading citizens of Kentucky, chosen from every section of the State, an executive committee of eleven citizens of Lexington, and a general manager, have been appointed and have already entered upon the work in hand.

It is the purpose of the organization to make a popular subscription drive during the week of September 15 to 20, and raise the fund quickly by intensive work.

The personnel of the Memorial Organization follows:

General Committee

Edward W. Hines, Chairman	Louisville
Mrs. H. W. Blanc	Louisville
W. W. Ball, Jr.	Maysville
Mrs. Morris B. Belknap	Louisville
Richard M. Bean	Louisville
Miss Alexina Booth	Louisville
Dr. E. J. Brown	Stanford
P. H. Callahan	Louisville
Lillard H. Carter	Louisville
Johnson N. Camden	Versailles
Thos. A. Combs	Lexington
J. S. Crenshaw	Cadiz
Miss Emma Dolfinger	Louisville
John C. Doolan	Louisville
S. J. Douthitt	New Castle
John R. Downing	Lexington
G. L. Drury	Morganfield
E. B. Ellis	Lexington
Richard P. Ernst	Covington
L. B. Finn	Franklin

Hon. V. O. Gilbert	Frankfort
George H. Goodman	Paducah
Robert G. Gordon	Louisville
Henry S. Gray	Louisville
John G. B. Hall	Madisonville
Mrs. S. H. Halley	Lexington
Major E. S. Helburn	Middlesboro
C. D. Harris	Louisville
Mrs. Samuel C. Henning	Louisville
J. B. Hoge	Hazard
M. O. Hughes	Bowling Green
James Keeley	Owensboro
Victor Kelley	Bardstown
Mrs. Walter Kohn	Anchorage
Judge J. R. Layman	Elizabethtown
Fred Levy	Louisville
Kendrick R. Lewis	Louisville
A. B. Massey	Danville
Dr. M. Pennington	Mt. Vernon
E. A. Pollard	London
Judge S. J. Pugh	Vanceburg
Prof. O. L. Reid	Louisville
Mrs. Lafon Riker	Harrodsburg
T. P. Rogers	Frankfort
H. T. Smith	Fulton
John L. Smith	Smithland
R. C. Ballard Thruston	Louisville
Judge I. H. Thurman	Springfield
Benjamin S. Washer	Louisville
Hon. Rodman Wiley	Frankfort
James C. Willson	Louisville
Gen. E. H. Woods	Pageville
Walter N. Young	Louisville
Wright Youtsey	Newport

Executive Committee.

Charles N. Manning, Chairman

Pres. Frank L. McVey	Frank B. Jones
Richard D. Norwood	Simon Wolf
Richard J. Colbert	R. C. Stoll
Harry Giovannoli	George K. Graves
Charles I. Stewart	John R. Downing

Committee on District and County Organizations

R. C. Stoll, Chairman

John R. Downing

Frank B. Jones

Harry Giovannoli

Charles I. Stewart

W. E. Freeman, General Manager of Campaign

Enoch Grehan, Chairman Publicity Committee

J. R. Downing, Treasurer

Other states engaged in a similar project on the grounds of their various universities, so far, are:

Minnesota	$2,000,000
Iowa	1,000,000
West Virginia	500,000
Wisconsin	500,000
New Jersey	200,000
Mississippi	150,000
Washington	(Not determined)
Indiana	(Not determined)
Utah	(Not determined)
South Carolina	300,000
North Carolina	150,000
Colorado	(Not determined)

ATTENTION WILDCATS!

An effort is being made by the Athletic Committee of the University to procure records of former games and players and in order that the records may be complete all men who have made their letters in track, baseball, football, or basket ball, in former seasons, are requested to send their names and seasons they played to S. A. Boles, Director of Physical Education, University of Kentucky.

SERVICES HELD IN MEMORY OF HEROES

Colonel Roosevelt and fifty-five Lexington men, who gave their lives for their country, were honored on April 6, 1919, the second anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the World War, by the planting of fifty-six trees on the University campus.

After a musical program in chapel the University band led the march to the newly planted grove where Commissioner Wood G. Dunlap, chairman of the committee on arrangements, introduced the speaker, Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill. General Roger Williams planted the oak in commemoration of Colonel Roosevelt. The other trees, gifts of H. F. Hillenmeyer, had already been planted in the grove about the stream which crosses the campus near Stoll Field. Commissioner Dunlap read the roll of honor for those who had fallen. Captain J. W. Throckmorton, a personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt, made a short talk paying tribute to him both as a soldier and man. Then followed taps for the dead and the crowd dispersed.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The largest meeting ever held by the Lexington section of the American Chemical Society, was addressed by Dr. E. M. Chamot, on "The Use of the Microscope in Analytical Chemistry," illustrated by lantern slides, in the Physic building of the University, May 21.

Dr. Chamot is professor of Chemical Microscopy, Toxicology and Sanitary Chemistry at Cornell University.

Wednesday night at the Phoenix hotel the members of the Lexington section and the members of Sigma Xi, scientific fraternity at the University, entertained the visitor with a banquet at which forty-six were present. Prof. P. P. Boyd, dean of the College of Arts and Science of the University, was toastmaster and introduced Philip Blumenthal, who spoke representing Alpha Chi Sigma. Dr. Frank L. McVey replied to a toast, and spoke on the University. Dean Thomas P. Cooper, of the College of Agriculture, spoke as representative of Sigma Xi, and Dr. Townes R. Leigh represented the American Chemical Society. Dr. Chamot answered these toasts.

METHOD OF SELECTING RHODES SCHOLARS CHANGED

President M. B. Adams, of Georgetown College, Chairman of the Kentucky Committee on Rhodes Scholarships, has been notified by the Rhodes Trust of London, England, that certain changes have been made in the methods of selection.

Those candidates who are otherwise eligible and desire the Rhodes scholarships will no longer be required to pass a qualifying examination, "but the selection shall be made with due reference to the suggestions of Mr. Rhodes, on the basis of their university or college standing, subject to any further test which the committee of selection may in their discretion impose."

This change was made as the result of an investigation in 1917 and 1918 when Dr. G. R. Parkin, C. M. G., organizing secretary of the trust, visited many of the university and college authorities in the United States and Canada and studied the operation of the system pursued in the selection of scholars in these countries since the foundation of the trust.

ALUMNI SHOULD AID THRIFT CAMPAIGN

The Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department requests that we aid in the National Thrift Campaign by issuing a call to Kentucky alumni through The Alumnus, urging them to co-operate actively with the local Savings Director in their respective communities.

As conducted this year, the government's campaign is primarily an educational campaign to make thrift a regular and permanent habit of all the people. Probably thirty million Americans bought government securities in 1918 and if the larger part of them can be persuaded to continue the practice of saving regularly and seeking some form of wise investment, it will be a most valuable by-product of the war. The benefits will accrue first of all to the individuals and families who save, but quite as obviously to the whole progress of American business and trade, and to every undertaking which depends upon the steady accumulation of savings and the growth of capital for its success.

The campaign will go on continuously and aims to induce individuals and families to set aside regularly some share of their earnings, a dollar a week or more, and invest it in the government's baby bond—the War Savings Stamp. The local savings directors aim to organize War Savings Societies in every occupational group, in factories, stores and offices, and to introduce thrift instruction and the practice of saving into every school room. College graduates who are employers can help particularly by welcoming thrift organizations and the sale of War Savings Stamps in their establishments.

UNIVERSITY'S ROLL OF HONOR

Of the State's quota of men who served in the European war, alumni and former students of the University of Kentucky so rendering service, numbered 1,069, of whom twenty died in the service. This number, however, was exclusive of the University's 652 men in the Students' Army Training Corps and 1,244 men who received vocational training at the University. Following are the twenty students and one member of the faculty of the University of Kentucky who died in the service. This list contains the names of all the men regarding whom information has been received. If there are others, Mr. E. L. Gillis, the Registrar of the University; would deem it a great favor if as full details as possible are sent him:

Frank Matthew Coffee, Lieutenant of Infantry, Australian Imperial Forces. Killed in action by the Turks at Lone Pine, November 19, 1915.

Stanley Hartwell Smith, 2nd class Yeoman, U. S. Navy. Drowned in foreign waters, September 13, 1917.

Lewis Washington Herndon, Private 6th Infantry, A. E. F. Killed in action, Battle of Picardy, March 30, 1918.

Merritt Harter Powell, Private of Infantry, Canadian Expeditionary Forces. Gassed at Lens, January, 1917; died of its effects, August 20, 1918.

Howard Kinne, Lieutenant of Aviation, A. E. F. Killed in action in France, September 29, 1918.

Bertie Wilson David, Sergeant Ambulance Corps. Killed in dressing station at Argonne Forest, September 29, 1918.

Clarence R. Gaugh, Sergeant of Infantry. Died of pneumonia at Fort Benjamin Harrison, October 11, 1918.

Robert Emmet Cullen, Sergeant Coast Artillery, A. E. F. Died of pneumonia in France, October 15, 1918.

Aubra H. Townsend, Private in Signal Corps, A. E. F. Died in England, of pneumonia, October 18, 1918.

Henry Clay Thompson, Jr., Lieutenant in Aviation. Killed in accident in England, October 29, 1918.

Ernest Raymond Pursley, Private in Marines, A. E. F. Killed in action, Argonne Forest, November 2, 1918.

Raymond Schoberth, Lieutenant in Infantry, A. E. F. Killed in action, battle of Argonne, November 3, 1918. Posthumously awarded Distinguished Service Cross.

Reuben Brent Hutchcraft, Jr., Law faculty member, Captain Infantry, Rainbow Division, A. E. F. Killed in action, battle of Argonne, November 7, 1918.

Chester Bryan Helm, Coast Artillery. Died of pneumonia, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, November 4, 1918.

George Clark Rogers, Captain Field Artillery, A. E. F. Died of pneumonia in England, November 13, 1918.

Charles Elmo Blevins, Lieutenant Aviation, A. E. F. Killed in airplane accident in England, November 14, 1918.

Joseph Car Reynolds, Salvage Department, A. E. F. Killed in accident in France, December 15, 1918.

Dexter Whittinghill Ramsey, Acting Lieutenant of Engineers. Died of pneumonia in Sebree, Kentucky, December 25, 1918.

Harold Pulliam, Ensign Aviation. Killed in accident Hampton Roads, April 4, 1919.

Walter Nagle. Killed in train wreck at Gare, France.

Leonard Cabell Bridges. Died in France, April 5, 1919.

University Section

"LEAGUE OF NATIONS" PAGEANT

One of the most elaborate affairs ever undertaken by the students of the University, was the "League of Nations" pageant, which was given under the auspices of the English Club, May 29, on the campus.

The artistic stage was set in the beautiful spot near the Agricultural building, which has a natural background of trees and shrubbery. The long procession marched across the stage in distinct groups, thus giving the large audience an opportunity to view each section before it came on for action.

Miss Bertha Smith, as the World Spirit, opened the action with a beautiful interpretative dance followed by a number of girls costumed in pale green, whose dance typified the happiness before the War. Then appeared the dancers of sorrow, who gowned in soft lavender gray, interpreted the sadness of the world during the war. The joyous after-the-war spirit was then shown by a graceful group of girls in a rose dance.

The next section depicted the Spirit of the Age which introduced Justice, Liberty, Democracy and America and then showed to them the signing of the Magna Carta, the spirit of Joan of Arc, the Italian repulse of the Austrians, and the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Section three told the story of stricken Belgium and bloodthirsty Autocracy. As the War Fiends were having their dance of triumph, the allied nations, with Justice, Liberty and Democracy, rushed in and completely routed Autocracy and his ruffians. Then was Democracy led to the throne by the Spirit of the Age and the dance of Victory was given before the assembled Nations.

The main characters were portrayed by Emery Frazier, Spirit of the Age; Margaret Ford, Justice; Ada Hardesty, Democracy; Lilly Cromwell, Liberty; Nancy Buckner, America; Bernard Moosnick, Autocracy; Charles Planck, War; William Soward, Death; Christine Hopkins, Joan of Arc; James Dixon, England; Martha Pollit, Belgium; Frederick Jackson, Italy.

THE LITTLE THEATER.

A little theater, which will be called "The Stroller Theater," is to be placed in what was formerly the old dormitory. It will be experimental in every sense and will unite the work of every department in the University. The students of electrical engineering, english, art and design and dramatics will be most especially interested.

It is planned that at least five plays will be produced during each school year. These plays will be chosen for their artistic opportunities and literary value. The Strollers, assisted by various departments, will have charge of these productions.

The equipment which will be placed in the hands of the students will be the most complete and up-to-date obtainable. There will be comfortable opera seats for about 125 persons and the dimensions of the stage are to be approximately twenty-seven by fourteen feet.

The students and professors who are especially interested in the Stroller Theater look forward hopefully to great things in the future. Nothing too ambitious will be tried at first, but once a broad foundation of interest is laid, new classes and courses will be offered until there is a complete department of Dramatic Art. Next year it is planned to offer courses in Dramatic Productions, Elements of Dramatic Interpretation and Interpretative Reading. Every phase of the actual production of plays, pageants and other entertainments will be studied by actually producing them.

A library of dramatic literature will be collected in connection with the Stroller Theater. It will be composed of works on costumes, dramatic productions and writing, pageantry and community drama, and the best of the modern and classical dramas in print. This, with the wardrobe and properties with which the theater will be gradually equipped, will make the Stroller Theater not only a laboratory theater for students but also a center of instructive, pleasing and inspiring productions, the influence of which will be felt throughout the State and beyond, in the direction of better drama for the people of Kentucky.

PLANS FOR ORATORY AND DEBATE

The Committee on Oratory and Debate, composed of Professors Mabie, Dantzler and Noe, has made extensive plans for the development of the work of the University literary societies next year.

Two large rooms in the Gymnasium will be refinished during the summer. One will be finished as a small auditorium with seats for forty or fifty. This will be assigned to the use of the men's literary societies, Patterson and Union. The other room will be finished as a club room and will be used jointly by the Philosophian and Horace Mann societies. It is planned to make these rooms as attractive as possible and thereby encourage more students to take active part in literary society work.

The University will be the host to two big oratorical contests during the next college year. In April, 1920, it will entertain the newly organized Southern Oratorical League, which is composed of the state universities of Alabama, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky and the Johns Hopkins University and Vanderbilt University. Competition for the honor of representing Kentucky in this contest will be open to all students in the University.

Earlier in the year, perhaps in January or February, the University will be the host to the Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, composed of Berea, Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania, Centre, Georgetown and the University of Kentucky.

Upon the request of Professor Mabie the Interstate Oratorical Association, which was composed of the state associations in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio and Indiana, will include Kentucky in its membership next year. The winner of the Kentucky state contest will represent the state in the contest of the eastern section. He will compete against winners of the state contests of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and Indiana. If he wins one of the first three places in the contest of the eastern section he will have opportunity to compete in a final contest against the best three men from the western section for the highest honor in the middle states.

DRILL PRIZES AWARDED

With the band playing and colors flying, drill for the session 1918-19 was concluded Thursday, May 22, by a battalion parade.

This year $65 was given by the University to the best-drilled company. It was decided by Col. H. H. Pfeil, recruiting officer, and Major David O. Byars, that Company A, commanded by Captain "Fritz" de Mey, should receive the prize. Individual prizes of $5 were awarded to Auryne Bell, Sophomore, and Gerald Griffin, Freshman, as the best-drilled men of their respective classes.

With the $65 won in competitive drill, Company A will erect a bronze tablet in the Armory containing the names of all members of the company.

AFTERNOON TEAS FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Beginning March 12, and continuing until May 7, afternoon teas were held regularly every Wednesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary Committee. The members of this committee were assisted by the University girls and wives of the faculty men. During the afternoons there were musical programs, recitations, and four minute speeches. Tea and cakes were served.

The atmosphere of friendliness and sociability, the buzz of conversation over the teacups, wafted away the barrier of reserve so often existing between faculty and students. People dropping in after class, found the big room a cheery place to be on a bleak afternoon. From every point of view, the teas were a success.

The members of the Auxiliary Committee are: Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Mrs. Chalkley and Mrs. Maxon.

NEW DEAN OF WOMEN

Miss Josephine Simrall, of Sweetbriar College, Va., has accepted the position of dean of women at the University, to take effect in the fall of 1919.

Miss Simrall was head of the Department of Psychology and dean of women at Sweetbriar. She is a graduate of Wellesly and has taken graduate work at the University of Cincinnati and at Johns Hopkins. She is a Kentucky woman and has many friends and relatives in Lexington.

President Emilie McVea, of Sweetbriar College, spoke particularly of Miss Simrall's excellent executive ability and her "social accustomness." Chancellor Frank W. Chandler, of the University of Cincinnati, writes that she is possessed of marked literary talent, that she was active in women's organizations and has a charming, sympathetic manner.

CAPTAIN ROYDEN SUCCEEDED BY MAJOR BYARS

After nearly two years of service at the University of Kentucky as head of the Department of Military Science and Tactics, Captain H. N. Royden retired from active duty April 30th. He will return to his home in California. He was taken from the retired list in October, 1917, and stationed at the University of Kentucky as head of the Department of Military Science and in command of the battalion of cadets. The policy of the War Department now is to return to the retired list all officers who were necessarily called into active duty in the recent crisis, and it is under this rule that Captain Royden was retired from his successful work here. He was succeeded by Major David O. Byars who arrived on March 7th from Washington, where he was an Inspector General in a staff department. The major is a Kentuckian by birth and attended the University of Kentucky in 1905, before he received his appointment to West Point. After graduating from West Point in 1910, he was assigned to various regiments in this country, and in 1914 was in action at Vera Cruz, for which he wears the Mexican Campaign badge.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

The Mathematics Club of the University of Kentucky was founded in the autumn of 1908 for the purpose of creating and fostering a sympathetic and harmonious relationship among those working in the field of mathematics, to review and present papers of the leading mathematicians, and to stimulate the mathematical interests of its members. Four years later, the club was named, the White Mathematics Club in honor of Prof. James G. White, dean of men and for many years head of the mathematics department of the University. The members of the club are the faculty of the mathematics department, the graduate students, and the mathematics majors.

The club is divided into two sections, the junior club, of which all of the majors and members of the faculty are members, and the senior club of which only the faculty and graduate students are members. Meetings of the clubs are held in the mathematics department in the Physics Building, alternately, on Monday afternoons at 2:30. Dr. Boyd is president of the club this year and Prof. Downing is secretary and treasurer.

PRESIDENT PATTERSON ENTERTAINS SOCIETY.

The Patterson Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting, May 16th, at the home of President Emeritus Patterson. The devotional exercises were conducted by B. L. Hargrove, Dr. Patterson leading in prayer. J. W. Kallbrier declaimed the famous "Regulus to the Carthaginians." Mr. John Reilly, formerly of Fond du Lac, Wis., spoke on "Kentucky and Wisconsin." Emory L. Frazier, who was an officer in a training camp in Texas, gave a narrative poem, "Ceta," the story of a soldier and his Mexican sweetheart "down in Texas on the Rio Grande."

After the program a delightful supper was served by Miss Mabel Politt.

BOOK OF LAMENTATIONS DRAMATIZED BY PROF. FARQUHAR AND PRESENTED BY CLASS IN BIBLE.

The dramatization of the Book of Lamentations was given in chapel by Professor Farquhar's Class in Bible, Tuesday, April 29th. It was the most interesting and best attended chapel program that has been given at the University this year.

Professor Farquhar prepared the drama directly from the Book of Lamentations, and coached the play. The City of Jerusalem, which was destroyed by the Babylonians in 586 B. C., was personified by Miss Elizabeth Marshall. The part of the only remaining prophet was taken by Bernard Moosnick. Lee McClain, although not a member of the class, took the part of the Babylonian soldier who was driving the people from the city. Frederick Jackson and Charles Planck took the parts of two elders of Jerusalem. The chorus which interpreted the drama was composed of Misses Elizabeth McGowan, Eleanor Faber, Ruth Thomas, Vivian deLaine, Dorothy Walker, Alma Bolser, Lucy Dean, Netty Pushin, Thompson Van Deren, Katherine McGibbon and Floris Whittinghill.

The presentation of the drama was made more impressive by the costumes and the sacred music played on the violin by Professor Lampert.

SUMMER SESSION

The summer session of the University of Kentucky is especially interesting this year. The American Red Cross has established an institute at the University for the purpose of providing instruction for students who wish to enter into permanent service of the American Red Cross or who desire a larger knowledge of the work which this institution is doing for rural and small communities. The work is being done under the most careful supervision. The content of the course is designed to acquaint the student with the necessary information, principles and methods for handling the social service in the rural and small communities of Kentucky, especially those of central and western Kentucky.

Besides this interesting feature the University is offering for the six weeks of the summer session, work designed for teachers, students, and persons seeking information and training. A number of special features are being given with the instruction. The entire plant of the University is available for use, including laboratories, libraries, and buildings. The faculty for the summer session has been greatly enlarged and the work offered should satisfy the demands of everyone. A number of popular and scientific lectures are being given free of charge during the summer session.

HIGHWAY ENGINEERING

More than 200 County Engineers, County Judges, Magistrates, Road Inspectors and interested citizens of the state attended the fifth Annual Short Course in Highway Engineering held at the University, the last week in February, under the auspices of the College of Engineering and the State Department of Public Roads, for the purpose of advancing the cause of good roads throughout the State of Kentucky. The meetings were held in the lecture rooms of the Civil Engineering Building.

Professor D. V. Terrell, head of the Department of Civil Engineering, under whose direction the work was done, opened the session by introducing President Frank L. McVey, who delivered the address of welcome to the assemblage. Lectures, round table discussions, and practical experiments in the University laboratories were held during the morning and afternoon sessions each day of the course.

EXTENSION COURSES

Correspondence courses in twenty-three subjects will be started for the people of the state in the fall by the Department of University Extension of the University of Kentucky, with the whole of the resources of the University behind the movement.

The object of this department is to provide, at the smallest possible expense and in the most practical manner, the highest type of education possible to the citizens of the Commonwealth who are unable to attend educational institutions. It is believed that the University of Kentucky should be in close relationship with the homes of the state to the end that any citizen might feel free to call upon the university for any assistance which the institution can render.

There are many persons in every community who have been deprived of the advantages of a higher education by various causes, and there are many who are ambitious to obtain such education in the hours they have at their disposal. The University, feeling it a duty to extend such opportunity as it is able to extend every man and woman in the state who desires it, has decided to supplement the regular class work with the correspondence courses. It is the plan to present a course of value to every class and members of every industry and profession throughout the state.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Fifty-second Annual Commencement began with the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 15, and concluded with the commencement exercises on Wednesday, June 18. The attendance was not as large as usual, due to the fact that many alumni have just returned from the service and are occupied in adjusting their business affairs. Notwithstanding this, there was a goodly number in attendance at all alumni and University functions.

A noted departure from recent former commencements, was that the exercises were held in the chapel with the exception of the Class Day program and this event was held beneath the trees on the campus between the old Chemistry and the Administration buildings.

The baccalaureate address was made by Dr. James Hayden Tufts, of the University of Chicago. The procession of faculty and seniors in academic dress marched from President McVey's home to the Chapel. The Class Day exercises were well received and were concluded by a pilgrimage, lead by the University band, to favorite haunts upon the campus, pausing long enough here and there, maybe a building or some loving spot, for some member to tell his own little story just why the visit and say goodbye.

A part of the Class Day program was a reception given by President and Mrs. McVey at their home, to the Faculty and Senior Class.

Tuesday was Alumni Day. The regular business session of the association was held in chapel at 10 o'clock and adjourned for luncheon on the lawn of Patterson Hall where tables had been set for over two hundred alumni and friends. It was a splendid gathering, a beautiful sight and an enjoyable occasion. Short and snappy toasts were responded to by President McVey, Dr. H. W. Wiley, Dr. Jas. K. Patterson, Ensign Lynn Evans, Mr. W. H. Sherffius and Mrs. Chas. J. Smith. Following the luncheon, the alumni parade through the city took place and ended at the athletic field where a varsity-alumni game of baseball was staged, resulting in a walloping of the varsity by the alumni nine.

Wednesday concluded the program with Commencement exercises, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley delivering the address to the graduates, taking for his subject: "An American in the Making."

After the conferring of degrees on the graduates by President McVey, the pledge of loyalty by the class was given.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

The graduates of the 1919 class of the College of Engineering are employed with the following firms:

F. Paul Anderson, Jr., Carrier Engineering Corporation, New York.

Robert Samuel Arnold and James Stuart Wallingford, Four Wheel Drive Auto Company, Clintonville, Wisconsin.

Louis Henry Bauer, Walter Scott Baugh, Trice Morton Bell, William Russell David, Charles Frederic de May, and John Felix Shouse, General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Ruby Karl Diamond, H. L. Stevens Company, Chicago, Illinois.

David Russell Dudley, General Heating Supply Company, Kansas City, Missouri.

Joseph Michael Eyl, Cecil Norman Batsel, Eugene Allen Lillard, and Carl Albert Timmer, Empire Gas and Fuel Company, Doherty Training School, Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Gilbert Frankel, Buffalo Forge Company, Buffalo, New York.

Alexander D. Hall, Plant Engineering Department, Ford Motor Company, Detroit, Michigan.

James Ellyson McClellan, American Blower Company, Detroit, Michigan.

Raymond Wesley Hanson, The Alvey-Ferguson Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Charles Franklin Johnson, Big Four Railroad, Dayton, Ohio.

John Julian Leman, Warren-Webster Company, Louisville, Kentucky.

Harry Edward Maddox, Charles Hartmann Company, Brooklyn, New York.

Homer G. Proctor, American Creosoting Company, Louisville, Kentucky.

Mose Smith, Department of Public Roads, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Eugene Allen Edmonds, Plant Engineering Department, Ford Motor Company, Detroit, Michigan.

Alvin Kohn, The National Tube Company, Lorain, Ohio.

Hugh Meglone Milton, Jr., Kentucky Actuarial Bureau, Louisville, Kentucky.

Charles Landen Templin, Hersh and Brother, Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Reconstruction of Wood Shop

The wood shop in Mechanical Hall will be modernized. The present equipment has been in use twenty-eight years. The new equipment includes standard benches such as used in technical schools, equipped with cases for taking care of the sets of tools separately. A gluing and finishing room will be built between the old wood shop and boiler room. One-third of the new shop built during the S. A. T. C. period will be turned into a storage and finishing room in connection with the wood shop.

Automobile Engineering

For over a year the College of Engineering has been carrying on instruction in automobile engineering. Next year comprehensive plans will be carried out for giving high class instruction in the design and maintenance of power plants of motor driven vehicles. Two-thirds of the new shop building built to accommodate the auto mechanics during war times will be used for automobile engineering. One-third of the space will be used for lecture room and demonstration shop, and the other two-thirds will be equipped for giving training in motor vehicle maintenance. In addition to automobile motors considerable time will be spent on the testing of motors used in aeroplane practice. The students in thermodynamics will find this additional instruction valuable in rounding out the undergraduate training of the mechanical engineer.

Memorial Tablets

On Monday of commencement week bronze tablets bearing the names and the dates and causes of death of engineering graduates and students who lost their lives during the European War were unveiled in the engineering buildings. The impressive though simple ceremony was performed by President McVey and Reverend Benjamin J. Bush, together with the senior engineers and members of the faculty.

In the Mining Engineering Building, the tablet is in memory of George Clark Rogers, '15; in the Civil Engineering Building, in memory of Howard Kinne, '18, and Clarence R. Gaugh, '17, and in Mechanical Hall, in memory of Lewis Washington Herndon, '19, Ernest Raymond Pursley, '16, and Leonard Cabell Bridges, '10.

Details regarding each of these men may be found elsewhere in this issue of the Alumnus.

There are possibly some other engineering graduates or students who lost their lives, but regarding whom information has not been received. Dean Anderson would esteem it a favor if any information in this regard is sent him so that the tablets may be made complete.

Class Pictures

Since the organization of the Department of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, each class has left a framed picture containing a likeness of each member of the class. These have been hung in Mechanical Hall. This year the classes in civil engineering and mining engineering started the same custom. These framed photographs of classes are of great interest to the graduates when they return to the University. Frequently a son or a daughter visits the buildings and points out with justifiable pride the photograph of "father."

Each class also leaves a framed presentation of prominent events during the senior year. The Chicago trip is usually made the basis of the "memory chart." This year's presentation contains a snapshot of each member of the class, the chirography of each individual, a telautograph record containing the words "Welcome, University of Kentucky," which was written at the Blackstone Hotel, theatre programs, menus, a picture of the class in the form of a nineteen, and in the most conspicuous place on the record, a picture of Columbia handing to soldier the slogan "Now for Reconstruction."

Demand for Engineers

The demand for engineers this year has been unprecedented. Many more requests were received for men than could be supplied, and not only the graduates were taken care of but every undergradute who wanted to be employed during the summer was found remunerative and profitable employment.

Student Life

ATHLETICS

A very ambitious football schedule has been arranged for next fall. Mr. S. A. Boles and Coach Andrew Gill, however, are expecting a group of capable athletes at the University next year and are confident that the meeting of the big college teams will simply serve as an opportunity for Kentucky to take her rightful place in the athletic world. G. C. Bucheit will be added to the staff of the Department of Physical Education. He will assist in coaching the football and basketball teams and will coach the track team. He has just graduated from Illinois and is reputed to be one of the best all round athletes that has ever attended this University, and a high type man in every respect.

The football schedule is as follows:

Oct. 4—Georgetown College at Lexington.

Oct. 11—Indiana University at Lexington.

Oct. 18—Ohio State University at Columbus, Ohio.

Oct. 25—University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn.

Nov. 1—Vanderbilt University at Lexington.

(Home-coming game.)

Nov. 8—University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Nov. 15—Centre College at Danville, Ky.

Nov. 27—Thanksgiving—University of Tennessee at Lexington.

Dec. 2—Football Banquet.

During the basketball season the Wildcats played fourteen games. They won from Kentucky Wesleyan 2, Chattanooga, Cincinnati, Tennessee and Cumberland College, and lost to Georgetown 2, Centre 2, Cincinnati, Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Miami.

The girls' basket ball team was more successful, winning all the games played. Two games were won from Kentucky Wesleyan College, and four from the Lexington High School. Miss Nancy Innis, a former basket ball star of the University, was coach.

Track meets were held with Miami at Oxford, Ohio, with Georgetown College at Georgetown and with Centre College at Lexington. The scores were as follows:

Miami	84	Kentucky	31
Georgetown	65	Kentucky	48
Centre	51	Kentucky	61

In the Miami meet, Arthur Grabfelder won the broad jump with 21 feet 3 inches, making the University record set by Smith Alford in 1901. Grabfelder in the meet with Centre, also lowered the State and tied the S. I. A. A. record of 9 4/5 seconds for the 100-yard dash, and lowered the S. I. A. A. record for the 220-yard dash to 21 2/5 seconds.

In the Centre meet, Clare equalled the S. I. A. A. record of 26 seconds for the 220-yard low hurdle. Grabfelder and Clare are both freshmen. With another year of practice and with a coach who can give his entire attention to track work the track team should defeat all comers in 1920.

The baseball team made the best record of any athletic team representing the University during the past season. Ten victories and three defeats (two of them by one run) is a very good record for any team. The schedule and scores follow:

Georgetown College	3—Kentucky 8 at Lexington
Univ. of Tennessee	3—Kentucky 10 at Lexington
Univ. of Tennessee	0—Kentucky 11 at Lexington
Miami University	4—Kentucky 0 at Lexington
Cincinnati Univ.	8—Kentucky 11 at Cincinnati
Miami Univ.	5—Kentucky 7 at Oxford
Cincinnati Univ.	4—Kentucky 7 at Lexington
Georgetown College	6—Kentucky 12 at Georgetown
Univ. of Tennessee	3—Kentucky 11 at Knoxville
Univ. of Tennessee	10—Kentucky 13 at Knoxville
Vanderbilt	1—Kentucky 0 at Nashville
Centre College	3—Kentucky 6 at Lexington
Centre College	4—Kentucky 3 at Danville

Those making letters in baseball were Brown, first base; Propps, second base; Zerfoss, short stop; Burnham, third base; Kohn, left field; Muth, centre field; Sauer, right field; Thomas, catcher; Lasley, pitcher, and Slomer, pitcher. With the exception of Kohn, who graduated in June, all these men are expected to return next year.

TAPP EDITOR OF 1920 KENTUCKIAN

Jesse Tapp, a senior in the College of Agriculture, and for two years assistant editor of the Rural Kentuckian, will be editor-in-chief of the 1920 Kentuckian, with Miss Ruth Thomas as associate editor and J. Ed Parker as business manager. Other members of the staff are: Miss Margaret McClure, assistant editor; Miss Kathleen Brand, second assistant editor; Tod H. Green, snapshot editor; Henry Grehan, athletic editor; William Wallace, art editor; Everett Elsey, assistant art editor; and H. H. Bennett, assistant business manager.

The editor-in-chief and the business manager were elected at a recent meeting of the present Junior class and the other members of the staff were appointed by the editor. Tapp has shown his ability to fill the position in his work with the Rural Kentuckian and in his general work in the University. He is from Corydon, Kentucky, and is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity, and Lamp and Cross, honorary senior men's society.

According to the plans made by the staff, the 1920 Kentuckian will be the "biggest and best" ever published. The editor-in-chief recently made a trip to Nashville, Tennessee, in the interest of the Kentuckian. As a result, contracts for printing and engraving have been made with the Benson Printing Company, of Nashville, which prints more college annuals than any company in the South. White, of New York City, who also makes a specialty of college annuals, is to do the photographic work. It is planned to revert to the old custom of putting the year book out before the first of May.

"MOVING DAY"

Moving day, an annual event in the University of Kentucky, when professors and members of the faculty are given the opportunity of seeing themselves as students see them, was held Tuesday, June 3, in chapel.

Moving day is one of the main events in chapel each year and every student looks forward to the affair with much pleasure. Prominent members of the faculty are mimicked by the seniors who take their seats on the stage, the juniors move into "senior corner" and the sophomore and freshman classes move up accordingly.

Headly Shouse, president of the class of 1919, presided at the meeting, impersonating President McVey. He read the "Morning Lesson" in a manner characteristic of Dr. McVey and announced that the exercises of the morning would consist of a "Between us day," a recent innovation inaugurated by Dr. McVey. He also announced that members of the faculty would be called upon to express their opinions of "some recent events in the University." He introduced the members of the faculty as follows:

Dean F. Paul Anderson, of the Colleges of Engineering, F. Paul Anderson, Jr.; Professor Edward F. Farquhar, Charles E. Planck, Lexington, Ky.; Dr. Glanville Terrell, Richard Duncan, Lagrange, Ky.; Professor Enoch Grehan, Lee McLain, Bardstown, Ky.; Miss Margaret Coffin, Lois Brown, Providence, Kentucky; and Professor R. N. Maxson, Lofton V. Burge, Mayfield, Kentucky.

A COLLEGE NIGHT

Virtually the entire male student body celebrated with an old fashioned "college night" May 15. During the course of the night a bonfire was built on the campus, the steel cable stretched about the Administration Building, the whistle tied down, a parade given through town and the skeleton of a horse raised on the flag-pole near the Administration Building.

As the parade, which went through town, passed the corner of Third and Broadway, the most impressive episode in the entire evening occurred. It was at this corner, four years before in a similar celebration, that one of the students, Eldridge Griffith, was killed. In memory of the event and out of respect for their dead schoolmate, the 334 men in line formed in single file and, with heads bared and without a sound, reverently walked past the spot.

KENTUCKY KERNEL

Volume IX of the Kentucky Kernel has been unusually successful. Despite interruptions, a changing staff, confusion caused by the S. A. T. C. and the flu (two evils always grouped together), the Kernel continued its issues. Thornton Connell, '19, of Paris, selected Editor-in-Chief, has dignified the paper with timely, forceful editorials. The associate editors, all of whom graduated this year, Charles Planck, Lee McLain, Frederick Jackson, Eliza Piggott and Eliza Spurrier, who have had practical experience in newspaper work, have made the Kernel one of the best sheets among the Southern colleges. The valuable services of Enoch Grehan, head of the Journalism Department, are gratefully acknowledged.

The editorial staff for 1919-20 has been partly selected. Alexander Norment, 21, of the Department of Journalism, will be editor, Louise Will, managing editor, J. P. Barnes, Business Manager, and Robert Raible, Assistant Editor.

ARBOR AND TAP DAY EXERCISES

Arbor Day exercises were held on the University campus on the morning of April 25. Headley Shouse, president of the senior class, dedicated the tree to those members of the class of 1919 who had met death in the country's service: Lewis Herndon, Ambre Townsend Stanley Smith and Chester Helm; and to Eldridge Griffith, who was killed in his freshman year in the celebration of the victory of his class following a "tug-of-war."

At the close of his talk, Mr. Shouse introduced Lee McClain, the class orator, who paid glowing tribute to the men who answered the first call to arms and paid the supreme sacrifice. He recounted the circumstances of the death of each one of the men mentioned before.

Mr. McClain, in closing his talk, presented the spade to Edward Dabney, representative of the junior class.

At the close of Arbor Day exercises, the battalion marched on to the parade grounds, and stood at attention while "Tap" ceremonies of the Lamp and Cross and Staff and Crown societies were in progress. The members of the men's senior honorary society, Richard Duncan, Headley Shouse, W. F. Johnson, Alex Hall and Lee McClain, followed the custom of the organization and "tapped" the following members of the class of 1920; Ed. Dabney, Smith Park, Ed. Parker, Emery Frazier, Charles Gordon, Thompson Guthrie, Jesse Tapp, John Davis, Neal Knight, and Leo Steinhouser.

Staff and Crown, the women's honorary society, of which the following are active members: Mildred Graham, Austin Lily, Ruth Duckwall, Eliza Piggott, Marie Collins, Elizabeth McGowan, and Mary Beall, selected from the class of 1920, Virginia Helm Milner, Mary Turner, Elizabeth Davis, Louise Will and Marguerite Woll.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A., unlike other organizations on the campus, took on renewed interest and additional work during the martial regime that enveloped the campus the first five months of the year. Reading rooms, free stationery, music and two secretaries were continually at the service of the 1,100 men in the S. A. T. C.

When the second term started, Ralph W. Owens was elected as Y. M. C. A. secretary for the University, and in the short time he has been on the campus, has made himself probably the best liked "Y" man Kentucky has ever had. To him, almost entirely, credit should be given for the very successful term thru which the Y. M. C. A. has just passed.

Mr. Owens, President McVey, Dean Boyd, Judge Chalkley and Robert Raible attended the meeting of the State Board of Managers in Louisville.

In March the University of Kentucky was host to the college students of the State for a three-day meeting of the Annual State Students' Conference. About 150 students from Kentucky college attended, and were entertained while here by the faculty and townspeople of Lexington. In May the cabinet officers for next year attended a meeting held at the city Y. M. C. A. called by Karl Zerfoss, State Student Secretary for the officers of the Y. M. C. A.'s in all Kentucky colleges for next year. Later in the month, an all day meeting was held by the cabinet-elect at Bluegrass Park.

During the year several joint Y. W.-Y. M. C. A. meetings have been held at Patterson Hall. The final one was held on the Patterson Hall lawn. A minstrel show was given, fortunes told, and marshmallows toasted over the bonfires.

The following delegates attended the Annual College Men's Conference at Blue Ridge, North Carolina: John Davis, Jesse Tapp, Edward Parker, George Gregory, J. P. Barnes, Robert Raible and J. B. Prewitt. The purpose of this conference is to train students as leaders in their local organizations. Delegates from all prominent Southern colleges attended.

Three students are remaining at the University throughout the summer to assist Mr. Owens in working up a plan which will supply students with suitable employment next fall.

The officers of the cabinet elected for next year are: President, Jesse Tapp; Vice President, J. P. Barnes; Recorder, George Gregory, and Student Treasurer, Robert Raible.

In November, more than $5,000 was subscribed for the United War Work and in the spring more than $1,000 was subscribed to the Student Fellowship Fund with the slogan, "The Students of America for the Students of the World."

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association has been an important factor in the life of every University girl this year. Beginning with many definite plans which were inspired at Blue Ridge and worked out during the summer by means of round robin letters circulated among the cabinet members and the Blue Ridge delegates, much was accomplished. Cabinet members met the trains, matriculated freshmen, and acted as guardian angels to them in general.

The first real thing that the cabinet did was to present student government to the Patterson and Maxwell Hall girls, and to persuade them to give it a three months' trial.

The social service committee did excellent work. To raise money for carrying on this work, sandwiches were sold twice a week by the committee members. Missionary or world fellowship classes were conducted for five weeks at Patterson Hall.

Another feature, morning watch, later changing into evening watch, was held. Shortly after 10 p. m. girls, wearing kimono, gathered in the recreation hall and sang hymns and read portions of Donald Hanke's "Carry on," "The Girls' Year Book," etc.

The Social Committee planned several parties. The first was a picnic given as a welcome to the new girls. Joint cabinet meetings of the Y. M. and Y. W. were held once a month, and on one of these occasions the cabinets hiked out the Georgetown pike, roasted weinerwursts and marshmallows, and returned home about dusk.

Then came the Y. W. secretaries. As none had visited the University for several years, they followed one another in quick succession coming every week or so.

A new committee, the Employment Committee, working under Mrs. P. P. Boyd, was added to the Social Service Committee. This committee finds work in the afternoons for University girls desiring it. The final joint party of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. was held on the lawn of Patterson Hall on Saturday, May 17.

Last, but not least, came the time when the girls who had worked most zealously in the Y. W. were elected by all members of the Association to attend the conference at Blue Ridge, N. C. After a close election the following girls were elected: Lora Robertson, Adele Slade, Amelia Voiers, Martha Pollitt, Frances Kimbrough, Lilly Cromwell and Lula Blakey. They left the University June 3, and remained at Blue Ridge ten days.

STROLLERS PRESENT "UNDER COVER."

The Strollers, the dramatic organization of the University, played to one of the largest audiences that ever attended an amateur play in Lexington when they presented Roi Cooper Megrue's "Under Cover" in the Lexington Opera House, Saturday evening, May 3. The audience did not entirely consist of University students and faculty members, but the townspeople of Lexington and persons thruout central Kentucky showed their interest by their presence.

The leading parts were played by Lucy Young, '19, Gus Gay, '20, and Emery Frazier, '20. Others in the cast were Lee McClain, '19, Eliza Spurrier, '19, Margaret Smith, '22, Mary Elizabeth James, '22, Carlisle Chenault, '22, William Baker, '22, Duane K. Rogers, '22, E. T. Tapscott, '19, Fred Augsburg, '21, and A. E. Bell, '21.

This play was under the direction of Carrol M. Sax of Baltimore, with Grover Creech of this city as stage manager, and Fred M. Jackson acting in the capacity of press agent for the play. Much credit has been extended to Mr. Sax and Mr. Creech upon the success of this production.

STROLLERS' BANQUET

The Strollers entertained with their annual banquet at the Phoenix Hotel Thursday evening, May 22. The guests included the cast of "Under Cover," the tenth annual production, and the officers of the organization, also members of the faculty who were old Strollers.

The table was gorgeously decorated with flowers. The favors for the girls were pretty vanity boxes, while the boys received gold collar pins.

Toasts were made by Misses Marguerite McLaughlin and Christine Hopkins, and Professors Enoch Grehan and Edward Mabie. Prof. Mabie outlined the little theater movement.

PHILOSOPHIAN PLAY

"The Two Virtues," an English play given by the Girls' Philosopherian Literary Society at the Lexington Opera House, Saturday evening, May 31, was well attended by students of the University, who know the high standards of this organization. As an all-feminine characterization, the male parts were taken by girls.

The play is built about an old theme uniquely presented. In the leading feminine role, Miss Virginia Helm Milner gave an interesting impersonation of Mrs. Freda Guilford, the supposed adventuress who really proved to be a splendid, if impulsive woman. Miss Milner won recognition of her dramatic talent when she played the leading part in "You Never Can Tell" last spring.

As Alice Exern, companion to Freda, Miss Anna Nelson did a good bit of acting. Her emotional scenes especially gave evidence of former training in expression.

Lady Milligan, sister of the jilted Englishman, was admirably portrayed by Miss Elizabeth Marshall, who gave the part all the hauteur, ease and condescension needed to "put it over" successfully.

As Isabel Jervoise, Miss Louanna Duckwall made a lifelike characterization of the vain and gushing young wife of the poet. Altho a freshman, Miss Duckwall showed unusual talent and is a find for future productions.

The masculine parts were presented by Miss Alma Bolser, by Miss Elizabeth McGowan and Miss Claribel Kaye.

As the unfortunate English lover, Miss Bolser impersonated J. Jeffrey Panton with a trueness hard to equal. She possesses more than ordinary talent in dramatics and has had some work in stock companies. On the stage Miss Bolser always appears at ease and at her very best.

Miss McGowan, by her enthusiastic acting, gave "pep" to the play. As Claud Jervoise, the ambitious poet with a temper as well as a temperament, she added laurels to those won last year in a male part of totally different character.

Bayliss, the butler, gave the comedy touch to the performance and the audience was only sorry that Miss Kaye, who had the part, could not appear oftener.

Miss Kathleen Brand made a most efficient maid in her few appearances in public.

Cast of Characters

Freda Guilford	Virginia Helm Milner
Alice Exern	Anna Nelson
Lady Milligan	Elizabeth Marshall
Isabel Jervoise	Louanna Duckwall
Jeffery Panton	Alma Bolser
Claude Jervoise	Elizabeth McGowan
Bayliss, the butler	Claribel Kaye
Mary, the maid	Kathleen Brand

PHILOSOPHIAN ENTERTAINMENT

The Philosphian Literary Society of the University of Kentucky, entertained the other literary societies on the campus with a party Tuesday evening, May 27, at Patterson Hall. The features of the evening were a short musical program and a guessing contest followed by refreshments and informal dancing.

One of the main features of the program was a talk by Mrs. Charles J. Smith, '95, describing the Philosphian Society and other activities of the campus as they were during her life as a student in the University.

JUNIOR PROM

Despite the predictions of young and tender under-classmen to the contrary, the Junior Prom, Friday evening, May 11, at the Phoenix, was a decided success.

As in the "Good Old Days," the Prom was formal this year. Pretty girls in light evening dresses, wearing corsages to harmonize, and the men in full dress, made quite a pleasing picture. The ballroom was decorated with ferns and purple fleur-de-lis, and the illuminated class numeral, a huge '20, shed its soft brilliancy upon the scene.

The grand march was led by Miss Betty Davis and Mr. Ed. Parker, president of the junior class.

Scovell Chapter of Alpha Zeta

Alpha Zeta is a national honorary agricultural fraternity. This year, by reason of the war, only two men returned, but during the year the return of the soldier boys and the election of new members built up the ranks and a splendid year's work has been done. Scovell Chapter enjoys the distinction of having provided not only the first, but also the second student loan fund which are now under the direction of the alumni association.

Tau Beta Pi

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, has done an excellent year's work. Neal Knight, of Louisville, was chosen as honor man at the beginning of his junior year. The membership has been built up to about its pre-war standard.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Sigma Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi established at the University of Kentucky in 1917 returned eleven men this year. Like all other organizations, it had trouble in regaining its strength as it did its share toward furnishing men to the army and navy.

Delta Chi

Delta Chi returned only four men this year, but soon initiated six new men and pledged another. The chapter has enjoyed a prosperous year. It is rather proud of the number of men which it sent into the war, as well as the record which these men made.

Sigma Alpha Mu

Sigma Alpha Mu opened the collegiate year with eight men and increased to thirteen members during the year. The chapter has enjoyed several social occasions during the year. A rather unusual number of men were graduated in June, seven in number.

Alpha Tau Omega

Kentucky Mu Iota of Alpha Tau Omega has been in good strong condition all during the year, especially since a considerable number of her men returned from the war. Despite the interruptions, the chapter has enjoyed a splendid year's work. It is one of the two local chapters that occupy fraternity houses and was the first to petition for a lot for building purposes under the new plan of the University for a College Fraternity Row.

Kappa Alpha

Theta Chapter of Kappa Alpha has had many ups and downs during the past year, but on the whole has had a very successful year. Her members have been very prominent in general university activities. Theta chapter was rather unfortunate in the fact that out of the seven men initiated early in the school year only one man returned for the second semester.

Kappa Sigma

Beta Nu Chapter of Kappa Sigma returned ten men, although it had furnished its quota of men to the army and navy from the large chapter from the year previous. Three of these soldiers lost their lives in the war, Lewis Herndon, Raymon A. Shobeth and Henry Clay Thompson.

Sigma Chi

Sigma Chi recruited her strength after the signing of the armistice and the dissolution of the S. A. T. C. The chapter has done good work in spite of the irreparable loss sustained in the shocking accident which cost the lives of Virgil Mansfield, Robert Hardesty and George Gayle, and the serious injury of Harold Winn. The automobile in which these men were riding was struck by a northbound Q. & C. train at a crossing between Lexington and Cincinnati.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu has been fortunate in having a house throughout the entire year. This was of great convenience during S. A. T. C. days and when that organization was dissolved the chapter learned that they had been very fortunate because the house could not have been gotten if they had put it off until that time. The chapter has been saddened during the year by the death of three of her brothers, Harold A. Pulliam, Lloyd Haydon, and Hamilton Payne, who was at the University from 1905 until 1909.

Alpha Chi Sigma

Alpha Chi Sigma was forced to become inactive on account of the war but was revived early in 1919. Four seniors, two juniors and four sophomore were admitted to this professional chemical fraternity early in 1919.

Phi Delta Theta

Kentucky Epsilon of Phi Delta Theta has maintained its usual standard and has had a good membership, despite the inroads of the very unusual war conditions. As a means of keeping together its membership, the chapter served a weekly luncheon for its members and alumni during the S. A. T. C. days.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha has not been an exception to the general hard luck under which all fraternities had to labor. The gains and losses of the chapter have been heavy. Next fall, there will probably be six men returned. The past year has been successful, and the chapter is optimistic concerning next year.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta returned eleven girls the first semester and pledged two, Hallie K. Frye of Waddy and Russell Shipp of Lexington.

They won the Pan Hellenic Cup this year, which is given annually to the chapter making the highest grades during the previous year.

Among the most interesting events during the year were: the return of Mrs. Pirkey (Kate Pence) from war work abroad, a tea given the chapter by Mrs. Alfred Zemrbrod, Founder's Day banquet at the Phoenix Hotel, and a party for the patronesses.

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta initiated at the end of the first semester the following girls: Mary Archer Bell, Lucille Blatz, Sue Boardman, Lula Blakey, Helen Beasley and Lorraine West, which increased our membership to sixteen.

With the exception of the dance at Buell Armory and several small teas and dances, they had few social functions, but have been actively engaged in raising funds for the Y. W. C. A. war work, foreign relief, and the Pine Mountain Settlement School in the Kentucky mountains. They also adopted a French war orphan.

Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Lilly, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Lampert, patronesses, each gave a party during the year.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega had added twelve members to their "mystic circle" during the year: Margaret Harbison, Carlisle Chenault, Margaret Smith, Frances Marsh, Katie Henry, Marion McArthur, Katherine Herring, Ruth Thomas, and Ruth Thomas again, Kathleen Renick, Elizabeth Jackson and Martha McClure.

They entertained with a large dance, and with a Founder's Day banquet at the Phoenix Hotel, at which they had more than sixty guests.

Eliza Piggott was editor of the 1919 Kentuckian, one of the most flattering positions ever held by a woman at the University, and Lucy Young was leading lady in the college play, "Under Cover."

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Kappa Kappa Gamma had thirteen girls to answer the roll call on September twentieth and they later pledged Frances and Elizabeth Kimbrough, Thompson Van Deren, Ella Brown, Jo Carter, Jennie Simmons, Josephine Evans, Anna Nelson, Henrietta Bedford and Helene Cregor.

Among "Kappas known to fame," Beta Chi has made a most wonderful contribution in Mary E. Sweeney who has been cited for her work in the canteens, under fire, in France.

During February they were visited by two of the grand officers, Mrs. Kolbe and Mrs. Leaphart. They spent a week, and the chapter not only "pleasurized" to its heart's content, but profited greatly by their visit.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta introduces the following new members: Thelma Wright, Aleene Fratman, Nancy Smock, Catherine Denton, Mary Elizabeth James, Belle Sale, Anne Owen.

On May 2, Epsilon Omega entertained with a dance and many of the alumnae returned at that time. They had an initiation banquet in March, and during the visit of their grand president, Miss Mullins, they had a round of parties.

Eliza Spurrier and Mary Elizabeth James both had parts in the college play "Under Cover."

The Mystic Thirteen

The Mystic Thirteen honorary society of the sophomore class, became active under a new constitution at the beginning of this year. The members of the active chapter returning to the University were: Headley Shouse, Richard Duncan, Grover Creech, O'Rear Fogg and Ben Marsh. On the 29th of March the Keys and Thirteens held their annual dance at Buell Armory, and during the thirteenth dance the following men were pledged: W. D. Thompson, M. G. Lasley, H. C. Thomas, N. D. Witt, J. P. Barnes, A. P. Shanklin, E. D. Wallace, Ben Orr, Dewey Downing, Vic Barlow, George Zerfoss, Aurynee Benn and Forest Weatherholt.

The Keys

The Keys, honorary freshman fraternity, at their annual dance pledged ten new members: Tom Young, Barron Faulkner, Joe Dodge, George Oldham, Owen Carroll, Donald Dinning, Herman Becker, Earl Williams, Sam Royster and Lawrence Burnham.

The Rafinesque Club

This club was organized this year by the Department of Botany, for the purpose of increasing interest in the study of plants. It has about thirty members. Miss Lora Robertson was elected president for next year.

The Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club held a number of meetings at which interesting lectures were given. Its annual program was closed by a delightful picnic at which funmaking and food prevailed. The officers are: Austin Lilly, President; Katherin Reddish, Vice President; Virginia Croft, Recording Secretary; Katherine Oglesby, Corresponding Secretary; Clementina Davied, Treasurer, and Jula Burbank, representative on the Rural Kentuckian.

The Library Club

The Library Club presented a number of interesting programs. The officers are: Margaret Tuttle, President; Ora Lee Jones, Vice President, and Eleanor Aker, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Romance Language Club

This club was organized this year with twelve charter members from advanced classes in the Department of Modern Languages. The officers are: Ola Figg, President; Margaret Tuttle, Vice President and Katherine Herring, Secretary-Treasurer. Many interesting meetings were held and a five-act play entitled "Felicite" was given.

The English Club

The English Club is a strong co-educational organization and has held many interesting and instructive meetings and entertainments. Among them was a delightful picnic on Boone's Creek, attended by about thirty persons. Their greatest undertaking this year was the presentation of an original pageant, "The League of Nations," which was a pronounced success. The officers for next year are: James Dixon, President, and Roberta Thornton, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Pre-Medical Society

The officers of the Pre-Medical Society for next year are: Richard Henry, President; Betty Davis, Vice President, and Virginia Helm Milner, Secretary.

The Philosophian Society

The Philosophian Society, the oldest girls' society on the campus, has a membership of about seventy-five, and was very active this year. The chief event was the presentation of a play, "The Two Virtues," which was a great success. The officers are: Elizabeth McGowan, President; Louisa

Will, Vice President; Margaret Woll, Secretary; Louisa Mayer, Treasurer; Eliza Clay Mason, Corresponding Secretary; Eliza Spurrier, Literary Critic, and Lucy Dean, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The Horace Mann Literary Society

The Horace Mann Literary Society of the Department of Education, had a prosperous year. The membership was about ninety men and women. Exceedingly interesting programs were rendered, including discussions of the world's artists and musicians and a debate with the Philosophian Society. Officers for next year are: W. O. Inman, President; Irma Wurtzel, Vice President; Adele Slade, Secretary, and Elizabeth Davidson, Treasurer.

The Patterson Literary Society

The Patterson Literary Society re-elected Harold B. McGregor, President for next year. Robert Warth is Vice President; W. H. Peal, Secretary; B. L. Hargrove, Treasurer, and D. C. Ross, Critic. The Crum medal was won by Emery L. Frazier, and Marcus C. Redwine won the oratorical contest.

The Union Literary Society

The Union Literary Society, the oldest student organization of the University, had a prosperous year and added many names to its roster. The society acquired permanent ownership of the Barker trophy this year, when its representatives, Messrs. J. P. Barnes and Goebel Porter won the annual debate with the Patterson Society, this being the third consecutive victory for old Union.

The Henry Clay Society

The attendance of the College of Law was greatly decreased on account of the war. Due to this fact, the college organizations were greatly handicapped in their work. Every effort was made to keep the organizations alive. After January 1, 1919, many of the old students returned to their school work and the Henry Clay was again brought to its old standard in membership and college activities. The Kentucky Law Journal, after a recess during the war period, made its appearance again and will be issued under a student editorial board selected on a merit basis.

Henry Clay closed the year as host to the students and faculty of the Law College, and for the entertainment of their guests presented a mock trial and later a delightful musical program.

Democratic Club

The Democratic Club elected the following officers for the coming year: M. C. Redwine, President; J. J. McBrayer, Vice President, and Miss Bessie Conkwright, Secretary. Several interesting meetings were held during the year and at its closing meeting for the year, Lieutenant Colonel Samuel Wilson delivered an address.

Republican Club

The Republican Club was inactive during the period of the war. After conditions at the University had settled down to normal, the usual activities were resumed. Many interesting meetings were held and the club had the honor of being addressed by Mr. Edwin P. Morrow, Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky. The officers are: E. E. Rice, President; Grover Creech, Vice President, and Miss Adele Slade, Secretary.

The Boys' Glee Club

The Glee Club closed a very successful year and made its last appearance of the season June 16, as one of the features of commencement week. The entertainment was held in chapel and many Kentucky and college songs were given and joined in by the alumni. A love for singing is being developed in the University and it is hoped that a number of good Alma Mater songs will be composed under this new effort of the Glee Club.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club was practically inactive during the first part of the school year due to the war and influenza conditions. Under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Kimbrough, Manager, and Miss Elizabeth Marshall, Secretary-Treasurer, the club presented a number of good programs during the latter part of the year. Several programs were rendered jointly with the Boys' Glee Club.

Professor Carl L. Lampert, Director of both the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, has been untiring in his efforts to stimulate interest and develop the talent of the students.

Alumni

ALUMNI BUSINESS MEETING

The Alumni Association met in regular annual business session at 10 o'clock in chapel. In the absence of both the President and Vice President of the Association, Prof. W. E. Freeman, Chairman of the Executive Committee, presided at the business meeting and luncheon, at which over two hundred attended, ranging from the early graduates of the University to the baby class of 1919.

Reports of the officers and committees of the Association were made and acted upon in regular manner. It was voted by the Association that a committee be appointed by the President to revise the constitution of the Association.

The various activities of the Association were discussed, particularly those relating to the Student Loan fund, the Patterson Memorial fund, the Portrait fund and the Memorial Building fund. In approving the Memorial Building plan, the following resolution was voted by the Association:

"Whereas, patriotic citizens of the Commonwealth have inaugurated a movement to procure by popular subscription, $300,000 with which to erect a memorial building in honor of Kentuckians who lost their lives in the service of their country in the European War; and,

"Whereas, we see in such movement opportunity to assist materially not only in doing merited homage to the State's heroic dead, but at the same time, to establish on the grounds of the State's chief institution of learning, a building that may be used for the betterment of physical and educational conditions surrounding young men and women of Kentucky who shall henceforth seek education there. Now, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky does hereby heartily approve the project and pledges its members to assist to the limit of their ability, the noble project here outlined."

The committee on opening and counting the ballots for election of officers, composed of Miss Anna Wallis, Wm. Rodes and Howel D. Spears, reported the election of officers of the Association for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Mrs. Charles J. Smith, Lexington, Kentucky, President; Herbert Graham, Frankfort, Kentucky, Vice President; J. D. Turner, Lexington, Kentucky, Secretary-Treasurer; Miss Lula Logan and E. B. Webb, members of the Executive Committee. It was truly a triumph for the suffragettes.

Those returning for Commencement festivities and "enlisted in the joyful occasion of the week" who appear on the registration books, are:

Alfred M. Peter, '80, Lexington, Ky.

H. E. Curtis, '88, Lexington, Ky.

Keene Richard Forston, '90, Washington, D. C.

- Lillie Kroesing Kesheimer, '94, Lexington, Ky.
Mrs. Pearl O. Wells, '94.
Elizabeth King Smith, '95, Lexington, Ky.
Mary L. Didlake, '95, Lexington, Ky.
H. C. Wilson, '98, Lexington and West Liberty, Ky.
Margaret I. King, '98, Lexington, Ky.
J. D. Turner, '98, Lexington, Ky.
W. H. Sherffius, '99, Pretoria, So. Africa.
L. B. Allen, '99, Huntington, W. Va.
Geo. Roberts, '99, Lexington, Ky.
S. D. Averitt, '00, Lexington, Ky.
Mary Logan Gordon, '01, Talladega, Ala.
Alleen Lary Webb, '01, Lexington, Ky.
T. J. Barr, '02, Lexington, Ky.
T. T. Jones, '02, Lexington, Ky.
Alice Pence Cannon (Mrs. A. E. C.), '03, Fargo, N. D.
John E. Brown, '03, Shelbyville, Ky.
Elenor H. Sprake, (Mrs. D. M. Plummer), '03, Paris, Ky.
Nell Whitfield Duerson, '03, Mt. Sterling, Ky.
Marguerite McLaughlin, '03, Lexington, Ky.
John Craig Shelby, '04, Lexington, Ky.
W. E. Freeman, '04, Lexington, Ky.
Wm. B. Crutchfield, '04, Science Hill, Ky.
C. W. Ham, '05, Rochester, N. Y.
W. H. Grady, '05, Louisville, Ky.
Anna Wallis, '06, Lexington, Ky.
James S. McHargue, '06, Lexington, Ky.
Robt. C. Terrell, '06, Norman, Okla.
Anne C. Phelps, (Mrs. D. B. P.), '07, Cloverport, Ky.
Elizabeth Wallis, '07, Lexington, Ky.
Wm. D. Nicholls, '07, Lexington, Ky.
Christina Pence Holland, (Mrs. R. M. H.) '08, Owensboro, Ky.
R. M. Holland, '08, Owensboro, Ky.
Sara M. Carter, '08, Lexington, Ky.
J. L. Horine, '09, Lexington, Ky.
Harry S. Cannon, '09, Nicholasville, Ky.
C. A. Johns, '09, Brookfield, Ill.
Edith Isaacs Weil, '09, Lexington, Ky.
Harry Stivers, '10, Chattanooga, Tenn.
Lida Jones, (Mrs. Robt. Atkins), '10, Exeter, Va.
Mattie O. Cary, '11, Versailles, Ky.
Virginia McClure, '12, Versailles, Ky.
Annette Martin, '16, Lexington, Ky.
Bertha Millers, '18, Lexington, Ky.

- Ella K. Porter (Mrs. Dwight P. Green), '13, Chicago, Ill.
Mabel H. Pollitt, '13, Vanceburg, Ky.
Mary E. Taylor (Mrs. A. F. Shouse), '13, Lexington, Ky.
Elizabeth A. Fried, '13, Lexington, Ky.
Sallie Pence, '14, Morganfield, Ky.
Leo J. Sandman, '14, Louisville, Ky.
Mary K. Venable, '14, Lexington, Ky.
Elizabeth Waddy, '14, Lexington, Ky.
H. R. Masters, '14, Chicago, Ill.
Stonewall Jackson, U. S. Army, '14, Fort Sam Houston.
Teresa Buchignani, '15, Lexington, Ky.
R. D. Puckett, '15, Hodgenville, Ky.
Marguerite Schweers, '15, Frankfort, Ky.
Wayland Rhoads, '15, Lexington, Ky.
Lynn B. Evans, '15, Lebanon, Ky.
E. Marguerite Brown, '15, Lexington, Ky.
Carolyn Lutkemeyer, '16, Frankfort, Ky.
Erle M. McGuffey, '16, Barthell, Ky.
Annette Martin, '16, Lexington, Ky.
Elizabeth R. Cary, '16, Versailles, Ky.
Lawrence J. Heyman, '16, Lexington, Ky.
G. P. Neagle, '16, Smith Grove, Ky.
Eugene Wilkerson, '16, Lexington, Ky.
Martine Ratican, '17, Owensboro, Ky.
Marie C. Becker, '17, Carrollton, Ky.
R. C. Scott, '17, Lexington, Ky.
Mary Stagg, '17, Lexington, Ky.
Mary K. Hamilton, '17, Cynthiana, Ky.
Marian Horine, '17, Nicholasville, Ky.
W. T. Lafferty, '17, Lexington, Ky.
Aileen Kavanaugh, '18, Lawrenceburg, Ky.
Lelah V. Gault, '18, Maysville, Ky.
R. B. Fenley, '18, Louisville, Ky.
Mary Elizabeth Walker, '18, Lexington, Ky.
R. Frederick Flege, '18, Williamstown, Ky.
Blain Flege, '18, Williamstown, Ky.
Sara Winn McConnell, '18, Arlington, Ky.
J. Wm. Lindsay, '18, Lexington, Ky.
S. S. Elam, '18, White Oak, Ky.
J. E. McClure, '18, Versailles, Ky.
Edna Martin, '18, Midway, Ky.
Harry L. Milward, '18, Lexington, Ky.
W. K. Adkins, '18, Akron, Ohio.
Eleanor Eaker, '19, Princeton, Ky.

Ida See, '19, Levee, Ky.
Floris Whittinghill, '19, Glen Dean, Ky.
Effie Gentry, '19, Prentiss, Ky.
Ola Logan Figg, '19, Shelbyville, Ky.
Chas. Evans Planck, '19, 147 Gratiotave, Detriot, Michigan.
Bernard Moosnick, '19, Nicholasville, Ky.
Wm. J. Kallbreier, '19, Anchorage, Ky.
Louis Reusch, Jr., '19, Bellevue, Ky.
Eliza M. Piggott, '19, Irvington, Ky.
Sarah Harbison, '19, Shelbyville, Ky.
Mildred Graham, '19, Louisville, Ky.
Margaret H. Tuttle, '19, Lexington, Ky.
Lois Beale Brown, '19, Providence, Ky.
Austin Lilly, '19, Lexington, Ky.
Frederick M. Jackson, '19, Versailles, Ky.
Rebekah M. Paritz, '19, Lexington, Ky.

UNIVERSITY UNION RECORDS

The American University Union announces the following registrants from the University of Kentucky at the London and Paris headquarters:

Robert Lord Cave, '91.
First Lieutenant James H. Coleman, '15.
First Lieutenant John P. Hill, '18.
First Lieutenant David E. Kahn.
Second Lieutenant Thomas H. Landsverg, '18.
First Lieutenant J. W. Miller, '14.
Second Lieutenant Chas. S. Rollings, '15.
Captain Walter F. Wright, '14.
Captain John R. Foster, '13.
First Lieutenant Peter Gadd, '14.
Captain Edgar B. Gaither, '03.
R. M. Greene, '17.
Kenneth R. Nisert, '18.
Captain James D. Sorry, Jr., '13.
Corporal L. P. Spears, '96.
Second Lieutneant James F. Sweat, '21.
First Lieutenant Claude E. Arnett, '16.
First Lieutenant John V. Callis, '16.
First Lieutenant Frank M. Crum, '17.
Captain C. C. Dawes, '15.
First Lieutenant Walter T. Hume, '13.

First Lieutenant A. K. Mathews, '12.
 Captain Hermon R. Moore, '15.
 First Lieutenant E. P. Nilderson.
 Private Walter L. Payne, '19.
 Corporal Dailey S. Stafford, '13.
 Chaplain Paul Morton Trout, '16.
 First Lieutenant Lawrence E. Brown, '10.
 F. Colbert Lewis.
 William Lester Coons.
 First Lieutenant James H. Coleman, '15.
 First Lieutenant Levi O. Coleman, '14.
 Private Harry R. Cottrell.
 Major Thos. H. Cutler, '03.
 Second Lieutenant H. J. Evans, '18.
 Private William G. Field.
 Sergeant George T. Graves.
 Second Lieutenant William C. Halbert
 Captain Otto Holstein, '98.
 Lieutenant Colonel Leonard C. Hughes, '94.
 Second Lieutenant James J. Hume, '17.
 First Lieutenant Courtenay J. Kamman, '16.
 M. E. Herbert A. Kohnhorst, '13.
 Private William M. Lane.
 Sergeant Owen S. Lee, '15.
 First Lieutenant G. A. Lurie, '04.
 W. H. Magee, '06.
 Ernest R. Mayo.
 Second Lieutenant H. E. Melton, '16.
 John G. Miles, '13.
 Second Lieutenant P. William Ringe, '18.
 Second Lieutenant Philip F. Shannon, '07.
 First Lieutenant James Simpson, '14.
 First Lieutenant Samuel A. Smith, '15.
 Second Lieutenant Rueben T. Taylor, '14.
 Hulet S. Terrill, '97.
 Corporal E. M. Walter, '15.
 Ensign J. F. White, '16.
 Second Lieutenant R. L. Willis, '13.

ALUMNI CLUBS

The war has had its effect upon all organizations and perhaps not the least upon College and University Clubs. One can readily see how heavily the trying and oppressive period of the war bore down upon such organizations, but the war is over and it would appear that Alumni Clubs would have a real place in the social life of every college man, especially at this time. Some of our Alumni Clubs—New York, Chicago, South Africa—find these get-together meetings helpful, enjoyable and inspiring. When we were at college we were students—most of us—only for four years; now we are alumni for life. Let us reorganize our Alumni Clubs and put them back on the "University of Kentucky Map." Let us make these clubs inspiring and helpful to each other and a source of admiration and pride and a token of loyalty to Alma Mater.

In order to get a line on the activities of the various Alumni Clubs, a communication was sent to each with a view of ascertaining the status of each club. The following responses have been received.

June 4th, 1919.

Alumnus Editor,

University of Kentucky.

In response to your communication, I am glad to give you such news as I know concerning the Chicago Club. The recent unpleasantness in Europe played havoc with the personnel of the Chicago Club. The Western Electric has been in a wholesale manner transferring Kentucky men to New York, which is quite a compliment to the Kentucky men. Only recently H. H. Lowry was transferred and given a very merited promotion. We miss Hiter a great deal.

As you probably know, we entertained the graduating class of the School of Engineering in April, and were honored by having President McVey with us also. Ever since these annual entertainments have been in vogue in Chicago the writer has religiously attended all of them, but in his estimation the last one was the most enjoyable one. It was well attended and appreciated especially by the Chicago boys.

A call for a meeting of the Chicago crowd was sent out for Washington's Birthday and they gathered in the writer's office. Every once in a while we get one of the old crowd to these meetings. At this particular one "Steer" Carnahan attended and was full of enthusiasm over the University of Kentucky, and you know how much enthusiasm one can get up on holidays, especially ones before July 1st.

Ed Wurtele, of Louisville, is now making his home in Chicago, and a few days ago Wurtele came into the office about as homesick as anyone could possibly be for old Kentucky. The writer tried to point out to him that Illinois was just as good a state, but you could not convince Ed to this effect.

Marks is President and C. A. Johns Secretary of the Chicago Club. We have some money on hand for that scholarship fund but we haven't been able to complete it.

With very best wishes, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,

W. L. BRONAUGH.

not the heavily organ-would at this

this better than the lady folk themselves except the men who know that their will must and will be done. With this will of theirs, they willed that the Alumnae Club raise a student loan fund and the fund was forthcoming. A delightful way of willing this fund was by a card party at the Phoenix, with Mrs. A. F. Shouse, President of the club, and Mrs. Morris Weil, Vice President, and Miss Ruth Mathews, Secretary-Treasurer, at the head of the party, assisted by the prize committee, Misses Marguerite McLaughlin, Nancy Innes, and Anna Wallis; the committee on arrangements, Misses Mary Clark, Minnie Cramer and Mrs. Charles J. Smith, and the committee on decorations, Mrs. P. F. Kesheimer, Miss Christine Hopkins and Miss Mary McCauliff.

Thirty-three prizes were offered (and it is stated on doubtful authority that no other wagers or bets were made). Several parties were formed for the occasion, among them being three tables of girls from Chi Omega, three from Kappa Kappa Gamma, two from Kappa Delta and two from Alpha Xi Delta Sororities. A full quota of patronesses were on hand to look after the bookmakers and see that all bets were fair.

The club entertained the girls of the senior class this year, June 12, at Mrs. Shouse's home on the Versailles road. Practically the entire senior class attended and enjoyed the hospitality of the club. This party concluded the club's activities for the year but there will be much more accomplished next year the members are assured.

CHICAGO CLUB ANNUAL DINNER

The dinner given by the Chicago Club on April 5, in honor of the senior class in engineering, was in every way up to the high standard which has been established for many years. About twenty-five Alumni, some of them with their wives and sweethearts, were present, together with twenty-six members of the senior class and seven of the University staff. The fraternity room of the Great Northern Hotel is very attractive and an especially suitable place for gatherings of this nature.

After an elegant menu had been served, the following speakers were introduced by L. T. Marks, '09, who acted as toastmaster:

Welcome	W. L. Bronaugh, '99
Response	F. Paul Anderson, Jr., '19
Kentucky	Dean F. Paul Anderson
The University	President Frank L. McVey

There were also impromptu talks by J. W. Carnahan, '96, Professor D. V. Terrell, '10, Professor W. E. Freeman, '04, L. B. Evans, '15, M. W. Powell, '05, E. T. Brown, '75, H. H. Lowry '09, and others. The seniors took the lead in giving several University yells and songs.

June 11th, 1919.

Alumnus Editor,

University of Kentucky.

Referring to your card relative to our Cincinnati Club, regret to advise that we do not have an organization at the present time.

Our club was disbanded during the war and has not been reorganized.

We hope however to get together again at an early date and regret very much that I am unable to tell you anything of interest at the present time.

Yours very truly,

JOHN J. THOMPSON.

June 7th, 1919.

Alumnus Editor,

University of Kentucky.

Your communication of recent date received. In reply beg to state that the Rochester Club consists of one member only, myself. It appears that no one wants to follow in the footsteps of the unholy and I am holding down the seat all by my lonesome. But there are other Alumni in the vicinity.

The Pittsburgh Club of the University of Kentucky has had no meeting for so long a time that I had nearly forgotten that there was one in existence. Some fifty or sixty Alumni are living in the Pittsburg area but during the war it has been the next thing to the impossible to get them together. I trust though that in the near future we can pull them into the fold again.

Mr. H. Lee Moore, '11, was the last secretary of the Pittsburgh Club, and you could get some statistics of their doings by writing him. His address is 917 Union Arcade, Pittsburgh, Penn.

Trusting you will have better luck with other University clubs in the matter of news, and wishing the Alumnus a prosperous year, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

H. SKILLMAN FRY.

LEXINGTON ALUMNAE CLUB

One of the worthy projects entered into by the Alumni of the University is the formation of student loan funds for the purpose of assisting deserving boys and girls in securing an education. This movement started several years ago and to date there are ten $100 funds being used for this splendid purpose.

The Lexington Alumnae Club is the second club to complete a fund of this sort, the South Africa Club being the first. "Wherever there is a will there is a way" is an alibi for the doing of many things and no one knows

To those who have had the privilege of attending the Chicago Club annual dinners, it is one of the events of each year to which we look forward with great pleasure, and with an anticipation of a most enjoyable renewal of old friendships.

BIRMINGHAM CLUB

By E. J. Kohn, '12.

From all sides comes the call for reconstruction and the Birmingham chapter has already started the good work and stands ready with renewed vigor to pull or push for any new project that will advance the interest of the old school, expand the scope of its activities or increase the advantages which it offers. Our numbers have been thinned but the remaining members challenge any locality to produce a bunch of alumni who are closer allied than the Birmingham crowd.

We welcome into our midst C. E. Schoene, M. E., '07, who liked the University environment so well that he remained two years longer as instructor in electricity and descriptive geometry. Schoene is a draftsman at the Tennessee Coal Iron & R. R. Co.'s By-Product Plant at Fairfield, Ala. He is married and the justly proud father of two sons. He can be reached at 334 38th St., Fairfield, Ala.

We occasionally see our old friend S. C. Ebbert, M. E., '11, who has offices in the Brown-Marx Bldg., Birmingham, Ala. He is the busiest representative the General Electric Company has in this district, but says he can always find time to chat with the Kentucky boys.

Murray Raney, M. E., '09, was a visitor to our city recently on business. He is connected with the Cotton Seed Oil Products Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn. He is as handsome as ever, single but offers no explanation to the latter.

We heard that Tyler Watts, M. E., '14, was in this locality a few days ago. Drop in to see the boys on your next trip, Tyler.

Congratulation to A. B. Haswell, M. E., '11—no, not on his wedding—on his rapid rise in the engineering field. He has for some time past graced the office of chief draftsman of the Tennessee Coal Iron & R. R. Co.'s Ensley Plant in a most fitting manner.

Robert Haswell, former student at the University, a brother of A. B. Haswell, was with us about six (6) months. He has since left this locality preparatory to re-entering college next year.

David E. Kahn, or rather Lieutenant Kahn, another former student at the University, was in Birmingham several days on government business. While here he spoke to the local "Kiwans Club" and was the recipient of congratulation from the organization on his splendid talk.

The Birmingham Club proposes to have a "real meeting" in the near future and wants all the Kentucky boys in the near district to take notice of the fact and send their names to our local President, Box 66, Ensley, Ala. Also visiting Alumni are invited to govern themselves accordingly.

At the last meeting officers were elected as follows:

President	J. M. Sprague, '07
Vice President	H. J. Wurtele, '04
Secretary and Treasurer	A. B. Haswell, '11
"Alumnus" Correspondent	E. J. Kohn, '12

CLASS '06

By Miss Anna Wallis

R. C. Terrell, who served as a Major during the war, has recently been discharged and was back for Commencement.

A. T. Lewis, who has been leading the strenuous life during the past four years, is spending the summer in Maine, recuperating. He has been manufacturing high explosives for Uncle Sam.

Lieutenant J. C. Nisbet, of the Engineers, has returned to his home in Western Kentucky, after service overseas. I hate to be personal, but really I would like to tell you just what a distinguished looking soldier "Noisy" made.

Rodman Wiley is with the Department of Public Roads in Kentucky and comes to Lexington quite often. He is always interested in the class of '06, and says he thinks we should all be proud of the success of A. T. Lewis.

George Montgomery says he is leading the quiet life in the little old town of Brunswick, Georgia, and will soon have George, Jr., ready for State.

Mrs. Robert Graham (Lucy Hutchcraft) has been in Lexington until recently, but Dr. Graham has been released from the service and they have returned to the University of Illinois. Lucy has more "pep" than any other member of the class, and is always ready to do or to give.

Henry Scott is still way down in Mississippi with the Illinois Central. He thinks we ought to "get together," but Henry is always just so busy he hasn't time.

J. S. McHargue, or "Mack," is surely making good in the chemical world and during the past year has done valuable research work for the Experiment Station, for which he has gotten very nice recognition.

CLASS '12

By R. L. Jones, 2169 Transportation Bldg, Chicago.

Herb Shoemaker has another job. This time it is with the General Motors Corporation and he is assistant engineer in charge of drafting and experimental work. If you ever go to Detroit call him up.

Alma Faulkner has been teaching at Hazard, Ky., this year but expects to return to Hyden next year from which place she has had a leave of absence of one year.

Tinsley writes from Waco, Texas, where he is in charge of an office as a special agent of the Department of Justice. He has been in this work since December, 1917. How many of you knew about it? In his letter he states that he has a brother in school this year and that he has two boys of his own that he expects to send a little later.

Fred Karn did not say very much but sent his card along instead of writing. He is now with the Dravo-Doyle Company of Pittsburgh. They seem to be Merchant Engineers, but that is all I can tell you about Freddie. He is married (perhaps) but he did not say a word about it. Does anyone know whether he is or not?

Does everyone know that Ray Duncan is no longer an Electrical Engineer? He is now with the H. W. Johns-Manville Co., and is living with Jimmie Lowe, in New York. Since you last heard about Ray he has been almost everywhere as a Lieutenant in the Navy, and yet he does not like it because all of us do not keep up with his address.

W. S. Taylor has seven states under his supervision as Federal Agent for Agricultural Education and is now located in San Francisco for the present, having been loaned to the Federal Board by Pennsylvania State College. He will return there in September to resume his duties as head of the Department of Rural Life.

Shirley Saunders, after moving around from place to place for the Western Electric Company, has finally settled down in New York where he is engaged in engineering power plant equipments for the new mechanical telephone systems, the first of which will be installed in Kansas City.

After two years in the service, Cap Hardesty has returned to his civilian duties with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y.

M. M. Harrison is with the Miller Rubber Co., at Akron, Ohio, as Chief Chemist. He, too, has seen a few months of the service, having been a Captain in Gas Division.

I know that each of you will be sorry to hear of the death of another of our classmates. J. D. McMurtrey died at his home in Downers Grove, Ill., October 21st, 1918, after an illness of one week.

Just a word about the Loan Fund. Have you received a copy of the letter that was sent to you about the first of June? If you did why haven't you sent your check for two dollars? If you did not receive your copy it was probably because you have failed to advise the Secretary of the Alumni Association of the change in your address. If you tossed it in the waste basket dig it out again, read it over and then send your share. At the present time only about eleven replies have been received and that is not near enough. Please do not make it necessary to send you another letter, but it will be done if you do not hurry that check along. And do not forget to write a letter with it so the rest of the class will know where you are and what you are doing.

William Henry Grady, '05

William Henry Grady, '05, General Superintendent of the American Creosoting Company, with headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky, was recently appointed alumni member of the Board of Trustees of the University. The appointment of Mr. Grady completes the alumni quota of representation on the Board as required by law, there being three members under the provision.

Mr. Grady has been engaged in engineering work since his graduation and has steadily climbed to his present position with the American Creosoting Company. When war was declared, he immediately offered himself for service and soon after his acceptance was taken sick and was confined to the hospital during the greater part of his enlistment.

Most of Mr. Grady's class mates and college friends remember him by his pet name, "Bill Henry," and this name with them is synonymous to "vim," "pep," "ginger," "energy" and "ability" and it is felt by those who know him that he will put that same sort of stuff in his work as member of the Board of Trustees as he did as a student and a member of the athletic teams, and as he is doing now in his business.

Philip L. Blumenthal, '09

Dr. Philip L. Blumenthal, Class '09, removed from Lexington early in June, to Lackawana, New York, where he goes into business on his own account as a partner in the firm of Babcock and Blumenthal, Consulting Chemists. He left a good position as Research Chemist in the Experiment Station because he could not resist the appeal of active business. Phil was a "live wire" in University matters generally and will be badly missed, but we hope his enthusiasm may continue active and that, as a result, we may soon hear of a very active Kentucky Alumni Club in Buffalo. We wish him success in his new field.

Leo Brewer, '08

Captain Leo Brewer, '08, after spending two years in the service, has returned to the practice of law at San Antonio, Texas. "Little Brewer" entered the first training camp, was commissioned First Lieutenant of Field Artillery and immediately ordered over seas. He served in France nineteen months, going through the Chateau-Thierry, Soissons, and Meuse-Argonne drives, during the course of which he was promoted to captaincy and received the French Croix de Guerre. Before entering into the service, 1917, he was married to Miss Dorothy Swearingen of San Antonio, Texas.

Charles E. Ruby, '16

Charles E. Ruby, '16, has returned from the service to his duties at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Massachusetts. Mr. Ruby makes some striking comparisons between the alumni of our Alma Mater and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It would put us all thinking if we could see the picture as he presented it.

Wayne Haffler

Lieut Wayne Haffler, former cheer leader and student in the Department of Civil Engineering visited the University en route to his home in La Grange from New York where he landed early in March. He was a member of the famous Rainbow Division and saw active service in France. He expects to return to the University next fall.

James E. Byers, '15

Lieutenant James E. Byers, better known as "Jakie" Byers, a Civil Engineer graduate in 1915, visited University friends, being the guest of Owen Reynolds, a classmate. Lieut. Byers served in the Engineer branch of the Second Division. He was severely wounded by machine gun bullets and his right foot was torn off by a piece of shrapnel which made it necessary to amputate his leg above the knee. He is now stationed at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where he is learning the art of wearing his new leg. His position at the Burns and McDonald Consulting Engineers Company in Kansas City is still open but he may go to Cornell University for a year's study in advanced engineering.

Jesse T. Miller, '12

Major Jessie Miller rose from a private to his present rank in eighteen months of service. Before entering the service, he was a member of the law firm of Miller & Miller, of Lexington. He went first to Camp Shelby, Mississippi, then to Washington, where he gained a first lieutenancy, after assisting in Major-General Crowder's office. General Crowder recommended him for a captaincy and when the selective draft service had been completed, his efficient assistance had gained him his present rank. He is twenty-seven years old.

Mary E. and Sunshine Sweeny

Miss Mary E. Sweeny, '06, who for years was head of the Home Economics Department of the University, has returned from France after a year's service in the Y. M. C. A. canteens. Her many friends have watched with much interest her splendid record in ministering to the boys in the trenches and are delighted to welcome her home. Her sister, Miss Sunshine Sweeny, '08, was with her in France and returned with her.

Herbert D. Graham, '16.

Captain Herbert Graham, graduate of the University in 1916, is now teaching Journalism in the A. E. University in Beanne, France. He expects to return shortly to the States.

McClarty Harbison, '17

Lieutenant McClarty Harbison, '17, has returned from France and is now at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Proctor

Mr. Edwin T. Proctor, '15, and Mrs. Proctor (Marie Louise Michot) '16, have moved from Louisville and are now living in Paducah, Ky.

Keene R. Forston, '90

Dr. Keene Richards Forston, 1890, of Washington, D. C., was a guest of the University in June. Dr. Forston edited the first University publication "The Bayonet," while a student.

R. T. Whittinghill, '03

R. T. Whittinghill, '03, superintendent of public schools in Morganfield, is matriculated in the Summer School for a course in vocational training in Agriculture.

Miss Annette Martin, '16

Miss Annette Martin '16, has returned from Columbia University, where, having studied since last October, she received in June a degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.

Leo J. Sandman, '16

Leo J. Sandman was elected president of the University of Kentucky Club of the Kentucky Educational Association at the annual business meeting held in Louisville Wednesday night, June 25. There were about twenty-five alumni present for the annual dinner.

WEDDINGS

Parker—Morris

The marriage of Miss Edna Blanche Parker to Lieutenant James Monroe Morris was celebrated in Louisville on Monday, March 10. The bride was formerly a student at the University, and for the past year has been doing government work in Washington. Lieutenant Morris graduated from the Law College in 1915. They expect to make their home in Louisville for a time, as Lieutenant Morris is still in the service there.

White—Baute

Miss Mary Ella White, of Lexington, graduate of Sayre College, was married to Mr. Edward Arthur Baute, Sophomore in the College of Arts and Science at the University, on Wednesday, March 19. The couple left shortly afterward for California, where they expect to make their home.

Swearingen—Brewer

Leo Brewer, '08, was married to Miss Dorothy Swearingen, of San Antonio, Texas, in 1917. Their home is at 529 E. Guenther Street, San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Brewer is engaged in the practice of law.

Martin—Cambron

Miss Minnie Waller Martin, of Greenville, and Mr. Joseph William Cambron, of Morganfield, both members of the Junior Class at the University, were married on Monday, March 10, at the home of the Reverend William T. Punch. They left immediately for the West and are at present making their home in Denver.

Borland—Tapscott

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Borland, of Lexington, and Mr. Terrell Tapscott, '19, of Owensboro, took place in Jeffersonville, Indiana, Friday afternoon, June 20. Mr. and Mrs. Tapscott are now at home in Owensboro.

Heckert—McAdams

Miss Helen Lucile Heckert, of Tiffin, Ohio, and Mr. William Henry McAdams, '13, were united in marriage Wednesday, June 4, at the home of the bride in Tiffin. Mr. McAdams is Assistant Professor in the Department of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass. Also, consulting engineer with the firm of Lewis, Green, McAdams & Knowland.

Downing—Pulliam

Keeling G. Pulliam was married to Miss Mary Downing, Tuesday evening at the home of the bridegroom, Dean Robert K. Massie officiating. Both Mr. Pulliam and Miss Downing were former students of the University.

Oden—Williams

The marriage of Miss Eliabeth Oden, former student of the University, and Mr. Paul Williams, took place at the home of the bride in Lexington, April 28, 1919.

BIRTHS

Mary Clark Carman, daughter of Armiel Carman, '16, and Mrs. Carman, was born June 17, 1919.

DEATHSHarold A. Pulliam

Ensign Harold A. Pulliam, former student of the University, died Friday, April 4, as a result of injuries received in a seaplane accident Thursday during a flight near Fort Monroe. An operation was performed but efforts to save his life were of no avail.

Ensign Pulliam entered aviation service at the beginning of the war and was considered one of the most expert flyers in the service. He had been selected as one of the pilots to make the trip overseas in the trans-Atlantic flight.

In the University he was an active member of Sigma Nu fraternity and was one of the most popular boys in the institution. He entered the service early and put the same vigor and interest in his application there as he had to his more youthful pursuits in the University. His selection as a member of the trans-Atlantic crew was an evidence of the success he had attained.

Marshall Wood Shankland, B. C. E., '09, has been summoned to appear before the Master Engineer of the Universe. Following an attack of influenza in November, he attempted to resume his work without being fully convalescent. As a result, he was obliged to return to his home after a few days, and complications arose which rendered him an invalid for nearly four months. He died at his home, 374 Rose Street, Lexington, Ky., about midnight, Friday, April 18th, 1919.

Since graduation, Marshall had been almost continuously in the employ of the L. & N. Railroad Construction Department; his duties kept him on the road and he was rarely to be found at headquarters in Louisville. He was a faithful and assiduous worker, and his efforts met the approval of his seniors, as evidenced by his steady advancement with the company. He was 32 years old and unmarried, and when in Lexington made his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Shankland. He was a member of the Masonic Fraternity.

"Little Shanks," as we affectionately called him during our college days, endeared himself to all by his modest, unassuming bearing, quiet industry and fidelity to duty, and by his staunch and unwavering loyalty to the class and college. We shall miss his quiet humor when we meet again. His kindly interest in the welfare of his old friends in the class, his universal cheerfulness, friendliness and keen enjoyment of the society of his college mates, made him a welcome figure at our reunions, and the members of the class of 1909 wish to extend their heartfelt sympathy and condolence to his bereaved family.

Colonel Samuel M. Sweigert, former commandant of the University, died Saturday, April 5, at his home at Walton, Kentucky. His death was due to a stroke of paralysis.

Colonel Sweigert was seventy-three years of age, and saw service in the Spanish-American war. He was buried with military honors at Frankfort, Kentucky.

J. D. McMurtry, '12, died October 21, 1918, of influenza. Mr. McMurtry graduated from the College of Civil Engineering.

C. M. Jett, '02, died May 20, 1919, at Duckers, Ky. Mr. Jett was a graduate of the College of Mechanical Engineering, took part in all student activities while in College and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

Miss Jessamine Cook, former student of the University, died at her home in Somerset, on Monday, March 31, 1919. Miss Cook was in the University in 1915, but was forced to leave on account of ill health. She was very much interested in war work.

University of Kentucky

Department of University Extension

FRANK L. McVEY, PH. D., LL. D., PRESIDENT

The University of Kentucky is now prepared for the first time, under the direction of the Department of University Extension, to offer Correspondence Courses in a variety of subjects. The courses offered will begin in September, 1919, and it will be possible even for persons seeking degrees to receive credit toward graduation for work done by correspondence.

PARTIAL LIST OF CORRESPONDENCE COURSES

Agriculture	French	Mining
Animal Feeding	German	Political Science
Art and Design	Greek	Psychology
Botany	History	Public Speaking
Economics	Latin	Road Building
Education	Marketing	Sociology
English	Mathematics	Spanish
Farm Management	Mech. Drawing

If there is a demand for courses not offered, arrangements may be made for them by the Director. Alumni are offered an opportunity to take subjects that they wanted to take while in College but missed for lack of time. Those interested in a plan for Group Study for University credit should write for information.

Educational service for all the State is the new slogan. For full information and bulletin, address

The Director of University Extension,
University of Kentucky,
Lexington, Kentucky

For Training City Managers and Municipal Executives

A course will be offered by THE TRAINING SCHOOL FOR PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE NEW YORK BUREAU OF MUNICIPAL RESEARCH during the year 1919-1920. This course will be limited to twenty men selected for exceptional qualifications.

The phenomenal spread of the manager plan of city administration has created a pressing emergency because of the shortage of men qualified to serve as city managers. To succeed in his task the city manager should be a trained executive, who has made a special study of the peculiar problems of city administration. He must to a degree combine the knowledge and training of the lawyer, the engineer, the accountant, the sanitarian, and the specialist in police and correctional problems.

Such training is difficult to obtain because the educational institutions of the country have not had time to develop staffs of specialists in municipal administration. The Training School for Public Service has been able to solve this problem by utilizing for instructional purposes the specialists of the staff of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, who have devoted years to the study of the problems of municipal administration.

The course will begin on October 1, 1919, and will continue until May 31, 1920. The work will consist of readings, conferences, lectures, visits to offices and institutions, and of a considerable amount of practical field research. A moderate tuition fee will be charged.

Apply to

CHESTER C. MAXEY, Supervisor

The Training School for Public Service,

261 Broadway, New York.

The Passing of Cinderella

THE quaint little childhood tale of the poor kitchen maid is not so far removed from recent reality.

For we all recall the staggering piles of dishes, the dust-strewn floor, the tubs of clothes, the treadmill task at the sewing machines! Yes, Cinderella-like was the housework of yesterday.

And now, the girl of 1920 looks to electricity—most tractable of handmaidens—as the fairy prince who makes life easier and fuller.

Just a push of the button—and tiny electric motors sweep, wash dishes or clothes; clean, scour and polish; make ice or ice cream, run the sewing machine and play the piano or phonograph.

While the motors do the work, other electric appliances are distributed about the house to make good living more convenient. Electric cooking utensils, hair driers, cigar lighters, burglar alarms, door bells, and furnace regulators, are now operated by the magic wand of electric power.

The development of the miniature motors for the kitchen and electrical devices was made possible by the rapid progress in experience gained by the General Electric Company's Engineers, whose efforts in the application of electricity for every sort of industrial endeavor during the past quarter century have brought freedom from the drudgery of other days.

General Electric
 General Office Company Schenectady, N.Y.

C. F. Brower & Co.

INCORPORATED

“A Store of Dependable Home-furnishings”

Wall Papers, Draperies
Phonographs, Art Goods

Furniture

Floor Coverings

Lexington, Ky.

“Still The Store For College Men”

And we are proud of Alumni friends throughout this entire county, and wish to extend a most cordial invitation to graduates of U. K. to visit our store when in Lexington

KAUFMAN CLOTHING CO.

Lexington's Better Store

UNIVERSITY BOOK STORE

233 W. Short St., Lexington, Ky.

12 Hand Colored Views, post card size, of the University of Kentucky, 25 cents.

Penants, 18x60, Kentucky, $4.00.

1 University of Kentucky Pillow, felt, size 24x24, $5.00.

1 View Book, containing 12 views of the University of Ky., size 9x12, ready for mailing, 75 cents.

Postage prepaid on all orders. All orders filled the day they are received.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Where could one find a more striking and impressive illustration of the value of life insurance than is contained in this advertisement taken from the classified "ad" page of the Milwaukee Free Press of May 16th?

BEFORE THE DEATH of my husband he purchased a home on easy terms; the price of the property was $7,500, on which payments had been made to the amount of about $2,000. As I am in no position to make the monthly payments I would like to get a cash offer for my equity or would consider a small property in exchange. Write F 350, Free Press.

The purchase of a home is the laudable ambition of millions of men throughout the land. It should be encouraged in every way as one of the greatest known developers of thrift, contentment and happiness.

The "easy payment" plan, so called, has done more to help men realize this ambition than any other single agency, but how weak a reed to lean on and how futile its advantages without the supporting staff of Life Insurance.

This advertisement leaves nothing more to say. It tells the whole sad story of one who did not feel the necessity of providing for the ever present "if" of human life. It is unanswerable.

W. LOGAN SHEARER

Agent Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co.,
604 Fayette National Bank Bldg.,
Lexington, Ky.

THE FOOD
FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT
THE FOOD FOR THOUGHT