Central Kentucky Jewish Community Prepares for High Holy Days

CKJA PRESIDENT GLORIA KATZ SENDS GREETINGS

Summer is almost over, the pace of life quickens and a new year is about to begin in the Jewish calendar.

Rosh Hashonah is both a time for reflection and a time for new beginnings. It was a few days before Erev Rosh Hashonah in September of 1976 that the directors of the Jewish Community Association joined the leadership of the Central Kentucky United Jewish Appeal to approve the Constitution and By-Laws of the newly created CENTRAL KENTUCKY JEWISH ASSOCIATION.

These fourteen dedicated members of our Jewish community became the nucleus of CKJA's first board of directors. They pledged -- that Rosh Hashonah season -- to devote their time and efforts to establishing an organization that would foster unity and cohesion in our Jewish community by improving the quality of Jewish life through recreational, social and cultural activities and community services.

Most of these people are still actively involved in CKJA today. They have been joined by dozens of you, who over the past nine years, have freely given of your time and talents help make this organization grow and succeed.

And it is to you, the members of CKJA, that I extend our grateful appreciation and this special wish for the new year:

May you have a year blessed with prosperity and health...rich in love and warmth of family and close friends... and may the peace and understanding of this sacred season continue to fill your hearts throughout the year ahead.

L'Shana Tovah,

ONE PEOPLE, ONE DESTINY:

1986 CAMPAIGN LEADERSHIP ANNOUNCED

Gloria Katz, CKJA President, recently announced the appointment of Gail Cohen as General Campaign Chair of the 1986 CKJA/UJA Campaign.

Mrs. Cohen, a member of the CKJA Board and a past chair of the Women's Division Campaign in 1982 and 1983, has been active in the local community for many years. She has served as president of the Jewish Community Association (which preceded CKJA) and is currently co-chairing the CKJA Community Relations Committee subcommittee on Distressed Jewry.

Gail is past president of the Lexington Chapter of Hadassah and the Central States Region of Hadassah. She currently chairs the Central States Hadassah Zionist Youth Commission and is a member of the National Board of Hadassah.

May the New Year bring you health, happiness and peace.

David C. Borzoin
President, Temple Adath Israel

To the Central Kentucky Jewish Community -- best wishes for the New Year from the Ohavay Zion family.

Steven T. DeKosty
President, Ohavay Zion Synagogue

Lexington Lodge 289 of B'nai B'rith extends greetings and best wishes to the entire Jewish community for the coming year. Each new year is a renewal and provides hope and opportunity for the future. Our thoughts are for peace, health, and prosperity for each of us, Israel, our country, and the world.

R. Cupta
President, B'nai B'rith

The U.K. Faculty Association on Jewish Affairs extends its warmest welcome to all new members of the Central Kentucky Jewish Community and best wishes for the New Year to the entire Jewish community for the coming year.

Ker...
President, U.K.F.A.J.A.

On behalf of the entire Lexington Havurah, I want to wish the Central Kentucky Jewish community a very healthy, happy, peaceful New Year.

Charlette Bau
President, Lexington Havurah

Best wishes to the Central Kentucky Jewish community for a happy and productive New Year.

Steven Bram
Administrator, Temple Adath Israel

The members of the Mitzvah Corps are wishing the entire Jewish community a happy and healthy New Year.

Lore Gulmann Pappas
President, TAI Sisterhood Mitzvah Corps

Each Rosh Hashonah we face the new year with hope that it will be a better one than the one just finishing. This year is no exception.

What will 5746 hold for us? We can only live through it to know. Yet we come to the Holidays with the age old Jewish hope that the new year will bring blessings upon us and all humanity - blessings of peace, of love, of friendship, of justice. We yearn for harmony among people, for repentance and forgiveness, for God's mercy and His goodness.

Let each of us pray that these blessings may start with me, that each of us is the catalyst for them to come to pass, for if each of us strives to bring these blessings to the world, 5746 can truly be a better year.

Hanna and I are new here to Lexington. We thank all those who welcomed us so kindly and made us feel that we belong here to the Jewish community. We wish the Jewish community here in Central Kentucky and throughout the world, a Shanah tovah u-m'vorekhet, sh'nat shalom v'-hatzlahah, a good and blessed year, a year of peace and success.

H.D. Uriel Smith
Rabbi H.D. Uriel Smith

On behalf of my family and myself I would like to wish you all a Happy and Healthy New Year. May it be a year of peace and prosperity for our community and for Israel. May there be peace and freedom for Jews throughout the world.

Linda Ravid
President, Lex. Chapt. of Hadassah

May the coming year be one of good health and joyous occasions.

Luth Baker
President, TAI Sisterhood

The Sisterhood of Ohavay Zion Synagogue wishes everyone in the Central Kentucky Community a very happy, healthy and peaceful New Year. L'Shanah Tovah

Karen Diamond
President, OZS Sisterhood

My best wishes to the entire Jewish community for a healthy and productive year. May we, as a community, continue to grow in our ability to enhance the quality of Jewish life in Central Kentucky, in Israel, and throughout the world. L'Shanah Tovah Tikatevu

REFLECTIONS FOR THE NEW YEAR

From the Editor:

Last Sunday, we went to Louisville for a funeral. My good friend Margaret's mother died. Why did the tears flow when we saw each other? Margaret and I are each 55; our birthdays are three weeks apart. Our friendship goes back to 1937 when we were 7 years old. We played dolls together, visited one another, went to Religious School together -- we both were at Adath Israel -- I in Lexington, Margaret in Louisville.

We were confirmed on the same day in 1944 (or was it '45?). Through our tears we laughed about receiving identical watches on that happy occasion. We hated our little brothers and loved them together. We double-dated often and only shared our diaries with each other. We "got engaged" on the same day and "stood under the Chuppah" only a week apart. We had "brisses" the same year and raised our families by the same book (Dr. Spock, who else?).

When I was president of Council of Jewish Women in Lexington, she was only a "Veep" in Louisville (it's so much bigger and more political).

Our friendship has endured time and separation. We have looked at slides of family trips to Israel -- she and her brood, me and mine. We "marched a little" in the 60's; clutched each other in the 70's for fear of having to send our sons to Vietnam, only to have Margaret give up one of her twins to a congenital heart defect at age 23. I was awed and inspired by her courage as she recited Kaddish for Stephen.

Of course, she was here for the naming of my first grandchild, celebrated in my Adath Israel. Only last October, I watched her walk her daughter down the aisle in her Adath Israel.

Last Sunday we were both grown up. We weren't seven anymore. We grew up to be Jewish wives and Jewish mothers. With our husbands and families we have come to Rosh Hashonah 5746 as Jewish matriarchs, enriched by heritage, prepared by experience, and dedicated through love of home and Zion.

WOMEN'S DIVISION CAMPAIGN

Chairing Women's Division for the 1986 CKJA/UJA Campaign is SIMONE SALOMON and her Co-Chair NANCY HOFFMAN. They are further assisted by ELLIE GOLDMAN, Women's Division Vice Chair. All three are members of the CKJA Board.

Women's Division is already hard at work. Simone and Nancy recently returned from a Women's Division Region I seminar in Chicago full of enthusiasm for the coming year.

Simone, Nancy and Ellie announced their Board of Directors for the 1986 Campaign: Charlotte Baer, Judy Baumann, Janice Brock, Liz Broudy, Susan Caller, Arlene Cohen, Gail Cohen, Harriet Cooper, Sheila DeKosky, Vinnie Dubilier, Chris Eidelson, Sue Ezrine, Evelyn Geller, Alberta Gerson, Barbara Grossman, Evelyn Hymson, Renee Hymson, Gloria Katz, Judy Levine, Linda Levy, Sara Levy, Penny Miller, Marilyn Moosnick, Susie Rakes, Linda Ravvin, Cheri Rose, Ricki Rosenberg, Irma Rosenstein, Judy Saxe, Phyllis Scher, Susan Sussman, Carol Veal, Merle Wekstein and Carole Wilson.

The Women's Division Board of Directors met for the 1986 Kick-off meeting on Monday, August 26 at the home of Phyllis Scher. The meeting was co-hosted by Nancy and Libby Scher.

1985 Women's Division Chair JUDY LEVINE was presented an engraved silver serving tray in appreciation for her outstanding leadership for the most successful 1985 Women's Campaign. Judy announced that the 1985 Women's Campaign stands at $62,000 at this time.

Simone presented roses of appreciation to past chairs of Women's Division and announced that they would be serving on an Advisory Committee to Women's Division for the coming year.

Ellie Goldman and Evelyn Geller updated the board on progress made in the Lexington/Louisville Project Renewal neighborhood in Israel. Ellie stressed the importance of personal contact between our community and Netanya Selah.

Guest speaker for the evening was MS. DEBBIE MILLER from Greensboro, North Carolina, a member of the National UJA Women's Division Cabinet. Ms. Miller encouraged women to participate to their fullest potential through their actions and their gifts.

The board responded by pledging over $32,000 to the 1986 Campaign, a 16 percent increase over their pledges for 1985.

OPERATION MOSES FUND RAISING

TOPS $60 MILLION GOAL

As a result of extraordinary nationwide community efforts, the initial fund raising on behalf of new Ethiopian immigrants to Israel totals more than $62.5 million in pledges and community guarantees, with over $47 million already received in cash.

To maintain the momentum of achievement that UJA/Federation Campaigns have had a part in establishing, dramatically increased campaign funds are required to support vital programs in four areas:

HOME COMING and HOME MAKING

During the 1986 Campaign, Israel will enter the second phase of helping recently arrived Ethiopian Jews become part of Israeli society. They will be moving from the shelter of absorption centers to furnished apartments and making the transition from initial adjustment to the more difficult process of acculturation, job retraining and individual placement.

The process will take about 18 months, almost a year longer than the absorption of immigrants from other countries.

At present, absorption centers are full. Hotels, hostels and convalescent homes have been pressed into service, with rents far higher than costs at Jewish Agency-owned centers. Permanent housing is another problem. Because Ethiopian Jews need jobs and supportive services, they must live near established centers of population, precisely the areas where housing is in short supply. Ethiopian families are smaller than the Agency expected, and more individual apartments must be found for them.

In addition, many more Ethiopian children than anticipated have reached Israel without their parents. There are currently 1,500 Ethiopian children studying in 25 Youth Aliyah institutions. By the end of July, 1985, Youth Aliyah estimates that this number will have risen to 2,000.

The 1985/86 Jewish Agency budget calls for an extra $45 million to be spent on the absorption of Ethiopian Jews, another $15 million for their vocational training and $9 million more for their accommodation and education in Youth Aliyah villages.

This huge expenditure must be financed through increased income derived from fund raising and cash collection in Jewish communities abroad, and through a painful $8 million cut in other Jewish Agency programs.

The budget of the Immigration and Absorption Department - excluding resources allocated for Ethiopians - will drop from $53 million to $50 million for 1985/86. All programs have been trimmed by 10 to 20%, with social services and counseling being reduced at a time when new immigrants need more advice than ever on coping with Israel's economy.

THE NEEDS OF THE YOUNG

Youth Aliyah serves about 18,000 youngsters, almost all of them Israelis from disadvantaged backgrounds. The $2 million eliminated from Youth Aliyah's regular budget means that Youth Aliyah will admit some 1,600 fewer new students this year than it hoped to accommodate.

Most of Youth Aliyah's students need vocational education, but the program's training equipment is quickly becoming obsolete. New investments are required to give Youth Aliyah students access to high-tech careers, thus ensuring an economic future for them and for the nation.

SETTLING THE LAND

The budget for the Rural Settlement Department fell to $67 million from $70 million last year and $73 million two years ago. Development plans had called for establishing seven rural communities in 1985/86.

Settlements were planned for the Galilee to strengthen a regional network of small communities projected as the hub of Israeli high-tech production. And farming villages were mapped out in the Negev and Arava to continue the redemption of arid soil through agro-technology and drip irrigation.

Now, only four settlements can be started: two in the Galilee and two in the Arava, at a cost of $3 million. Other priorities include: working with 12 of the 50 economically distressed moshavim closest to bankruptcy, and bringing another 14 settlements to the point where they will need no further

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

TWO YOUNG WOMEN REPRESENT JEWISH COMMUNITY AT FIRST "ANYTOWN"

Tammy Fitzpatrick and Michelle Mayer were the recipients of leadership awards from CKJA which enabled them to attend "Anytown", a one-week camp retreat sponsored jointly by the Bluegrass and Louisville Chapters of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The purpose of the camp was to bring together high school students of all religious, ethnic and cultural backgrounds in an intimate setting to examine their similarities and differences.

Quoting from a letter Tammy wrote to the Herald-Leader, "Anytown is a human relations and leadership camp. For one week, people of different cultures all came together as one. We sang together, danced together, cried together, lived together, and shared together.

I went to Anytown as a delegate. I didn't expect much and I was uncertain of what the week would bring.

Anytown was one of the most incredible experiences of my life. I was able to share a part of myself, my culture, my heritage and my religion. Reflecting on the week, I realize how fortunate I am to have had the Anytown experience. Anytown is something I will cherish for the rest of my life."

Both Tammy, daughter of Ruth & Joe Fitzpatrick, and Michelle, daughter of Annette & Ken Mayer, expressed their appreciation for CKJA's support.

CKJA regularly contributes funds to the Bluegrass Chapter of NCCJ and is pleased to have played a part in supporting this new and exciting project.

help from the Jewish Agency. Attention must also be given to long-range planning for settlements where agriculture has reached its peak and where emphasis may be placed on regional industry and tourism.

HOPE THROUGH NEIGHBORHOOD RENEWAL

The fact that Project Renewal's budget remains at $48 million for 1985/86, while other departments have suffered cutbacks, testifies to the high priority Israel gives this partnership program to close its social gap. Each neighborhood has individual needs, for which its twinned community abroad is responsible. While most of the twinning relationships are active and on-schedule in their fund raising, in a few others there is a shortage of cash. Some neighborhoods are approaching the fourth or fifth year of their involvement in Project Renewal, yet still lack basic physical facilities to implement already planned social programs. We must find a way to strengthen the resources of individual and community development in every Project Renewal neighborhood.

FOR ISRAEL

At 37, with a population gathered from 120 nations, Israel is still a pioneering, developing country. Vision, energy, intelligence and substantial resources have revived a wasteland, created over 500 rural communities and resettled almost two million refugees. Yet the work is not complete.

Large stretches remain to be settled in the Galilee and the Negev/Arava. And vast opportunities exist to strengthen the fabric of Israel's society and promote its progress.

From the beginning, through funds transmitted to the United Israel Appeal/Jewish Agency for Israel, our UJA/Federation Campaign has been part of the pioneering process. Today, as Israel writes new chapters in social, economic and technological development, our responsibilities and challenges are greater than ever.

FOR 33 COUNTRIES AROUND THE WORLD

For more than 70 years, the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, a UJA/Federation Campaign beneficiary, has been taking care of Jews worldwide whenever they are in trouble and wherever they are in need.

Today, the JDC operates in 33 nations, with primary emphasis on Israel, which receives more than 30% of the budget, and in Eastern European and Moslem lands where large numbers of Jews live in poverty. These are often "remnant" communities -- with many elderly left behind by the more able and the more mobile. The human need in these areas is very great. In Romania, for example, where 10,000 Jews receive food, clothing and winter fuel packages, JDC assistance could mean the difference between life and death.

In Israel, JDC's involvement with the community center movement and community schools is a creative and effective response to the continuing economic and cultural gap. Through the community school program, school facilities are used to give residents a chance to enrich their lives with a variety of classes and social programs. JDC-sponsored programs also serve the elderly and play an important role in encouraging voluntarism in Israeli society.

JDC's budget for 1985 is $49.5 million.

A GROWING COMMUNITY IN CENTRAL KY

CKJA continues to coordinate the local fund raising campaign, and with a budget of $58,000 sponsors a broad spectrum of activities for the local Jewish community. This includes the Community Relations Committee which works with local schools, promotes the cause of oppressed Jews, and serves as a liaison with the general community.

Emergency loans, camp scholarships and grants for Israel programs are among the resources offered by the Social Services Committee.

The Community Activities Committee's emphasis is on social and cultural programs, such as Pre-school Holiday parties, Forum Series and Israel Independence Day Celebrations.

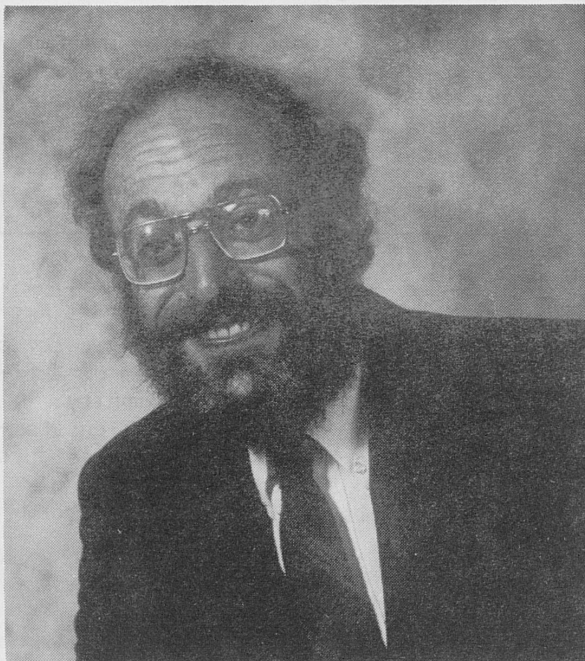

MEN'S DIVISION TO BE CHAIRED BY DR. ROBERT BAUMANN

Chairman of the 1986 Men's Division Campaign Robert Baumann emphasized two main goals for the 1986 Men's Campaign:

- a) to increase the amount of money raised in order to help in this time of severe financial crisis in Israel and elsewhere, and
- b) to more actively involve the entire Central Kentucky Jewish community in the CKJA/UJA annual campaign.

Dr. Baumann is Associate Professor of Neurology and the head of the Child Neurology Program at the University of Kentucky. He has held a number of positions in the Men's Campaign as well as having served in various capacities for the Lexington Havurah, Ohavay Zion Synagogue, CKJA, U.K. Faculty Association on Jewish Affairs, B'nai B'rith and is a Hadassah Associate.

Dr. Baumann is the B'nai B'rith representative to the CKJA Board.

CKJA BOARD NOTES

The CKJA Board recently accepted its first endowment gift - a fund established by Harry Rosenberg and his family in memory of Elizabeth Rosenberg. The income from the fund will be used to establish an annual memorial lecture, as part of the CKJA Forum Series.

Meetings and discussions with the Rosenberg family have resulted in an exciting first in the Central Kentucky Jewish community. The memorial lectures will deal with themes related to the Jewish family and Jewish women in particular.

Friends and family of Betty Rosenberg may make contributions to this fund separate and apart from regular pledges to the annual CKJA/UJA Campaign.

Gloria Katz, CKJA President, has appointed immediate past president Jack Miller as chairman of an ad hoc Endowment Committee. Serving with Miller on the committee are: Harold Baker, Erle Levy, Ken Mayer, Tomas Milch and Arthur Salomon.

This committee is charged with establishing initial guidelines for a CKJA endowment program.

At their first meeting the committee determined that there is a need for education of the entire Jewish community about the role of endowments and trusts in helping to assure the continuity of the Jewish community in the years to come. The committee plans to use expert consultants from nearby communities to assist in formulating an endowment program. They will also be planning specific events that would inform the whole Jewish community about the significance of including the Jewish organization(s) of their choice in estate planning.

CKJA BOARD TO PARTICIPATE IN WORKSHOP

Jan Rothschild, Council of Jewish Federations community consultant and former associate director of the Louisville Federation, will meet with the CKJA Board on Sunday, September 22, 1985.

There will be two main themes of the workshop: an orientation to the relationship between CJF and local Federations, and examination of other small Jewish communities in order to draw a comparison with Lexington.

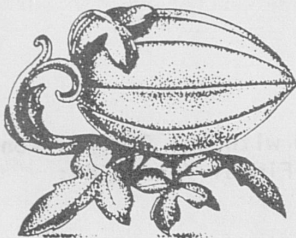

PLANS ARE SET FOR THIS YEAR'S SHALOM LEXINGTON
The second annual Jewish community welcome to newcomers will be held at the picnic shelter at Carnahan House on Sunday, September 8 from 3 until 5 p.m.

CKJA's Executive Committee is coordinating the event with the enthusiastic assistance of all area Jewish organizations including B'nai B'rith, Lexington Chapter of Hadassah, Lexington Havurah, Ohavay Zion Synagogue, Temple Adath Israel, and the University of Kentucky Faculty Association on Jewish Affairs. Each group will be represented by several families who will all assist in making our newcomers especially welcome to the Central Kentucky Jewish community.

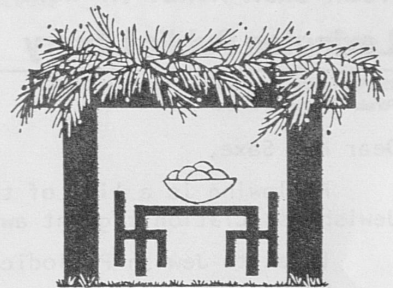

The invitation list comprises more than 60 names. Even at this late date, please encourage any newcomers you know to come, enjoy and get acquainted.

The outing will be held "rain or shine", short of adeluge.

Updated Shalom Lexington booklets, packed with useful information, will be available to newcomers at the picnic.

Welcome to RABBI H.D. URIEL SMITH and his wife Hanna. Rabbi Smith comes to Ohavay Zion Synagogue from around the globe. He was born in London, England, lived in Israel for seven years, returned to England to pursue his studies, and then came to the United States. He has served conservative congregations in Springfield, Missouri and Shreveport, Louisiana.

Welcome also to the new Temple Adath Israel Administrator STEVEN BRAM and his wife LAURA. Steve and Laura come from Cleveland. Steve's education and his work with Jewish youth will bring experience and resourcefulness to the newly created position which includes administration and program.

CKJA looks forward to knowing and working with these two families in the Central Kentucky Jewish community.

ISRAEL BOND GOAL: UNITY WITH ISRAEL

Israel Bond dollars mean jobs for Israel's young people and greater economic opportunity in development towns. They mean more research and development funds for its promising high technology industries.

The government and people of Israel are united in a struggle to solve Israel's economic crisis. Let us unite with them by lending our support through the purchase of Israel Bonds.

The celebration will feature activities appropriate to the Holiday. The Synagogue Sisterhood will provide refreshments. Adults and children of all ages are invited to attend.

CKJA SOCIAL SERVICES UPDATE SHARI ELDOT FUND

The past month has been especially difficult for Shari. She was hospitalized here in Lexington for about two weeks but is now back home and feeling a little better. Meanwhile, she is still waiting for the Medical Center at the University of Virginia to find the right match for a heart transplant.

As we extend greetings to our friends in the Jewish community, the wishes for a healthy year take on a special meaning for Shari and her family.

The total in the Shari Eldot Fund is growing slowly, now totalling about $8500. Wouldn't this be a good time to add your contribution to this total and help the fund grow?

SAVE...SAVE...SAVE...SAVE...SAVE

Save your old clothes and household items for Ohavay Zion's Garage Sale to be held, Sunday, October 27 at the Synagogue.

Items may be dropped off at the Synagogue on Sundays, during Sunday School hours.

Watch future bulletins for further information.

HELP US HELP YOU!

Inside this Bulletin you will find a one-page questionnaire from the Community Activities Committee. We urge you to fill it out immediately and return it to the CKJA office.

The form is designed as a self-mailer. Just fold the sheet in half, staple or tape shut, add a 22¢ stamp and send it back!

Thank you!

CKJA OFFICE RETURNS TO REGULAR SCHEDULE

During the summer, the CKJA Board instructed Office Manager Beth Altenkirch to decrease her hours in an effort to stay within budgetary limits.

With the onset of fall and a very full schedule of CKJA activities, the office returns to its regular hours: Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Please check the calendar in this bulletin for a listing of days the office will be closed for the High Holy Days.

NEWS BRIEF...LAW OF RETURN RESOLUTION

JERUSALEM (JTA) - The Jewish Agency Assembly overwhelmingly approved a resolution urging the government not to introduce amendments to the Law of Return in the Knesset.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 119-38 after a bitter exchange between the Orthodox delegates and the representatives of Conservative and Reform Judaism. The Orthodox have been pressing for years for an amendment that would invalidate conversions to Judaism not performed "according to Halacha". The effect would be to deny Jewish status to immigrants converted by non-Orthodox rabbis abroad.

Editor's Note: Evelyn Geller, member of the CKJA Board, attended this year's Assembly. Watch for her report in the next issue of this bulletin.
