Letters To The Editor

Dear Miss Editor: I am a Home Economics student and I wish to register a complaint for myself and other Home Ec. girls, buried in the Home Ec. Building and too seldom heard from.

Don't Bother To Call The Guard

"We all got A's, all seven of us," chortled a friend the other day. "For once we all took the right crib notes!"

A nearby student, pale and haggard, smiled tensely. "Congratulations," he murmured manfully, "but I wasn't so lucky—I took the wrong ones again!"

While shedding a tear for the unfortunate one, we were forced to reflect that that's how things go these uncertain times. After all, cheating is the best insurance a student can have on a final, and what can a person believe in if even his crib notes are wrong?

Of course, cheating's a lot safer than not cheating, but there are hazards involved in sure things nowadays. So it's easy to see that those who cheat aren't the academic thugs they've been thought to be.

That's no isolated case. It's just an example of the way to classify a very great many UK students, as either 1) those who cheat successfully, or 2) those who don't cheat—successfully.

So It Was Groundhog's Day

An unstriking coincidence was the simultaneous arrival of Groundhog's Day and the first day of registration.

UK Kittens Hit New High; Beat CJC Here 111-57

The Wildcats' freshmen basketball team, unbeaten against outside opponents, set a new scoring record Jan. 27 in Alumni gym when they laced Campbellville Junior College, 111-57.

The Wildcats outscored the previously once-defeated visitors in field goals 42 to 19. The little lincers, led by Bobby Watson, held a 48-24 advantage at halftime. Watson was high with 19.

DisKintucky Sports Review

By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor

Intramural basketball teams are reminded again to send in to the Kernel sports department information about their players. Since there are so many teams entered in competition, time does not permit us to contact each team for sports data. Therefore bring in or mail to the Kernel any and all news of the team as soon as possible.

On Tuesday night, Paul Walther, one of Tennessee's all-time great basketball players, will make his final appearance in Alumni gym when the Vols meet our Wildcats.

Walther might well be called the "Barney Poole" of SEC basketball. For this is the fifth season for the slender southpaw in conference competition.

The current campaign is Walther's fourth with Tennessee. In addition, the six-foot two-inch forward from Covington, Ky., played one season during the war with Auburn as a 14-15 student.

Lefty Walther has had a tough time scoring very many points against the Cats. Last season in three games with UK, Walther scored the following number of points each game: nine, seven and six. The latter was for the SEC tourney tilt at Louisville.

Last month the Lexington Lynxes held him to eight. For the 1948-49 season, the Tennessee star has over a 16-point-per-game average. Against Kentucky, for the last four games, he has a 7.5 average.

Walther's high for the present season is 21 points, that coming against Wake Forest. Earlier in the season, on a tour of the East, Walther paced the Volunteers with 19 calls against St. John's and two nights later hit for 17 in the St. Joe's tilt at Philadelphia.

Adolph Rupp has been selected to coach the East All-Star collegiate basketball team in the New York Herald-Tribune's annual fresh air fund show at Madison Square Garden.

This East-West game will be played on April 2 (Saturday). Reports say that Ralph Beard, Alex Groza, Wah Jones and Cliff Barker will all be invited to play for the East team, which has a 2-1 victory margin over the westerners in the series.

If the four players mentioned do accept, it will be the first time ever that more than one player has been chosen from an school.

Uih's game coach, Vadal Peterson, will head the West unit.

The UK athletic officials are to be commended for adding Southern Methodist University to the 1949 football schedule of the Wildcats.

The move proves that Coach Paul Bryant is dodging no powerhouses in the football world and is not juggling his schedule with a bunch of soft touches.

Kentucky will now face five very potent aggregations this fall. Besides SMU, they will meet Louisiana State, Ole Miss, Georgia and Tennessee. Only The Citadel is expected to be a brother.

We hope that the Wildcats will continue to play at least one team from the Southwestern Conference and one from the Southern Conference each year for a Big Blue basketball team.

It is unfortunate that Southern Methodist could not be signed to play here in Lexington in 1950. Until the capacity of Stoll Field is enlarged to about 45,000, the Cats will be meeting most of the big-name eleven on foreign soil.

To say Kentucky's freshman cages were sensational last week against Campbellville Junior College would be an understatement.

Some 2,000 people watched the UK Kittens hit 45 percent of their field goal attempts to annihilate the visitors, 111-57, and set a new all-time scoring record for a Big Blue basketball team.

Every player of Coach Harry Lancaster's aggregation played well. Especially outstanding were Guard Bobby Watson, who tossed in 19 points (16 in the first eight minutes of play); Forward Dick Swan, who turns in a fine all-around game; and Guard Guy Stron.

With eight minutes to go, the baby Cats led, 87-42. It was 80-42 (with 41; 102-49 (3); and 109-57 (with 50 seconds remaining).

And going into that scrap, Campbellville had a record of 16 wins in 17 games.

Kentucky now has a Sugar Bowl record of three wins, and three losses.

ALEX GROZA, the Wildcats' All-American center, is shown above receiving his Top Performer award trophy from O. J. Elder, publisher of SPORT Magazine at a banquet last Jan. 15 in New York City's Hotel Astor. Groza was named as the nation's best basketball player for 1948 by Grandland Rice and 19 other leading press and radio men.

SMU, Mississippi Southern Added To UK Grid Card

Southern Methodist University's football team, winners of the Southwest Conference for the past two years and the 1948 Cotton Bowl classic, has been added to the University of Kentucky football card for the coming season.

The contest will be played in Dallas on Oct. 22 and will mark the first appearance of a UK grid team in the Lone Star State as a result of a one-year contract with SMU.

Back for his final season will be SMU's great back, Dock Walker, recently named as the collegiate football player of the 1948 season.

Assisting him will be speedy Kyle Rote, a junior halfback, said to be potentially as great as Walker.

Last season, SMU lost only to Mississippi in a major upset. The Mustangs defeated Pitt, Texas Tech, Rice, Santa Clara, Texas, Texas A & M, Arkansas, Baylor and tied TCU in the final tilt of the regular season.

In the Cotton Bowl, at Dallas, last New Year's Day the Texans whipped Oregon.

On Sept. 17, the Wildcats will meet

Wildcats Lick Vandy, Alabama On Trip South

The Champion Kentucky Wildcats Basketball team won six ball games and the AP poll's title of No. 1 team in the nation during the semester break.

The sportswriters preference for the Cats over the St. Louis Billies—seven after witnessing Kentucky's one defeat in New Orleans—were largely due to St. Louis's defeat at the hands of twice beaten Oklahoma A & M, and the 24-point whipping of Notre Dame.

Captain Alex Groza jammed 31 points through the net. Sophomore Walt Hirsch replaced Wah Jones in the starting lineup as the Cats licked a surprisingly tough Vanderbilt team, 72-56 last Monday night in Nashville.

1907 J. W. Thorpe, '07, of Midland, Texas, writes that he is planning to return this June for his class reunion.

He has completely recovered from the effects of a 7,000 volt shock, received while inspecting a meter in violation which proved to be defective. In describing the experience, Mr. Thorpe said: "After all, a little thing like a 7,000 volt shock wouldn't stop a member of the class of 1907. We were tough babes, as the classes of 1906 and 1908 found out to their sorrow, during their undergraduate days."

Another letter, from A. M. Kirby, also of the class of 1907, has come to the office to be forwarded to the members of that class, urging them to return for June reunions. Mr. Kirby is secretary of the class, and lives at 771 Lytton Avenue, Palo Alto, Calif.

1929 J. S. Mirach, '29, formerly of Cincinnati, is now president of the Pittsburgh Electric Supply Company, with offices at 6375-79 Pen Avenue, Pittsburgh 6, Pa.

Luckies' fine tobacco picks you up when you're low... calms you down when you're tense!

Luckies' fine tobacco puts you on the right level—the Lucky level—to feel your level best, do your level best.

That's why it's important to remember that LUCKY STRIKE MEANS FINE TOBACCO—mild, ripe, light tobacco that makes a thoroughly enjoyable smoke. No wonder more independent tobacco experts—auctioneers, buyers and warehousemen—smoke Lucky Strike regularly than smoke the next two leading brands combined.

Cincinnati Gardens, started on November 27, 1947, is due to be completed in about two weeks. The Kentucky Wildcats are scheduled to meet Xavier University here on Feb. 24 pending completion on time of the $2,750,000 structure. The seating capacity of the Gardens will be approximately 12,000 for basketball and 15,000 for boxing and wrestling shows, when seats can be placed on the playing floor. This building will also have facilities for ice hockey.

UK Fieldhouse Completion Expected By November, 1950

By Tom Dikkin
Kernel Sports Editor
During the past several months we have heard many conflicting reports on the capacity and the expected completion date of the University's fieldhouse, which is now being constructed on Euclid Avenue. Last week we decided to speak with the men connected with the project and get the facts. Here is what we found out.
The general consensus of opinion with the contractors and engineers working on the structure is that the fieldhouse will be finished late in 1950. Most of them believed it would be around November, in time for the 1950-51 basketball season.

The exact seating capacity of the new auditorium-fieldhouse cannot be determined as yet since the contracts for the seats and their specifications have not yet been let.
R. L. Zeller Jr., construction engineer, stated that it will be approximately 12,000. Another engineer, W. C. Purson, said that it will range between 12,000 and 15,000.
One school official believes that no one knows exactly the capacity right now but it will probably be "slightly less than 12,000."

From what we could gather it all depends on the size of the individual seats, the spacing allowed between each and the space between the front-row seats and the playing floor.
Approximately 94 percent of the seats will be individual on the west side of the fieldhouse, while the remaining 6 percent will be bleachers.

The total cost of the structure will be approximately $4,000,000. The cost so far has been divided as follows: $1,853,500 for general construction; $153,740 for plumbing; $12,460 for electrical contracts; $368,667 for heating and ventilation; $274,391 for foundation; and $729,000 for steel.

The foundation was started in March, 1947. The expected date of completion is November, 1950. We inquired as to why it seems to be taking so long.
The rainy season in 1947-48 caused the biggest delay and as a result the foundation job finished a little behind schedule. At present the construction crew is said to be slightly ahead of their schedule.

Another factor is the shortage of labor here in Lexington. In addition, the unions permit only a five-day work week unless a good reason is provided for working six days. Since the start, most of the work done on the fieldhouse has been on a five-day work basis.

Bricklayers are scarce here also and the unions are reluctant to allow any to be brought in from other cities.
We asked the question as to the possibility of enlarging the fieldhouse in the future. "It will be very difficult and impractical for that to be done," said one engineer. Most of the others that were consulted expressed approximately the same idea.

The Cincinnati Gardens
We are told that one of the reasons the Cincinnati Gardens will be completed in 15 months in comparison to 40 months here for UK's fieldhouse is that the former is being built on a cost-plus basis, which is naturally more expensive. Another is that the local structure will have a 75 x 42 foot swimming pool, and offices for the UK athletic department.
Cincinnati Gardens has installed 12 miles of piping in the floor for freezing and defogging the arena when it is used for ice hockey.
The expected opening for this sportscenter is slated for Feb. 22, when an exhibition ice hockey game will be staged between Montreal, of the National Hockey League, and the Cleveland Barons, the 1948 champions of the American League.

Two nights later, Kentucky will play in the initial basketball contest played in the arena, opposing Xavier University.
Ticket No. 22 of the student activity books will be honored at the Kentucky-Tennessee clash next Tuesday night at Alumni gym.
For the Xavier contest, a week from Saturday, No. 21 will be required for admission to the gym.

Tennessee's top high school stars in the 1946-47 season, scoring over 30 points several times and eventually made All-State there.
Another comes is Bert Keenan, a six-foot, one-inch forward from Port Wayne, Indiana. He is a sophomore, fast and scored seven points in the initial game this season with the UK Owlets.
Six-foot five-inch Art Burris will probably open at center for the visit. He is a junior from Nashville, and scored 169 points last season. Burris was able to collect only four markers in the Jan. 15 meeting with Groza and Company.

Memorial Recreation Center, Owensboro, Kentucky

The Kentucky Wildcats will help dedicate the new Owensboro Memorial Sports Center when they meet Bradley University of Peoria, Ill., tomorrow night before a capacity crowd of 7,100. This will be the first event held in the $200,000 structure, which was started only last March 15th. An outdoor swimming pool is being constructed beside the Sports Center.

Rudolph Benson, publicity director, informs that a winter schedule for various sports events has been worked out for the Gardens.
Sunday nights will be for hockey games; Monday nights-public ice skating; Tuesday-boxing; Wednesday-basketball; Thursday-wrestling; Friday-ice hockey; Saturday-basketball.

Today is the deadline for entering teams in the intramural basketball competition. Director Bill McCubbin announced yesterday. Pairings for future games will be made late this afternoon.

Cats Meet Bradley Tomorrow; Then Face Vols Here Tuesday

By Bill Hanna
The Wildcat basketball team returns to Kentucky from their southern jaunt tomorrow night to face one of the most formidable foes on their schedule—Bradley University.
The tilt is slated in the new Memorial Recreation Center in Owensboro. The Cats and the Braves have the honor of playing the first college basketball game in the new gym. A crowd of 7,100 resting capacity for the Recreation Center is expected to be on hand to see the boys from Peoria, Illinois try to stop the national champions.

The Bradley fray will be the last regularly-scheduled game which the Ruggens play away from Lexington. After tomorrow night's tilt the Cats return to Alumni Gym to finish out their schedule with seven games, all of which are against Southeastern Conference foes except the Xavier affair.

The meeting tomorrow night will be the first between Kentucky and Bradley. The Cats have played 15 games at this writing and have been defeated only once. The Braves have played 22 games and have lost three of these, one to St. Louis University, the team which defeated the Big Blue in the Sugar Bowl Tourney.

Kentucky goes into tomorrow night's contest with two disadvantages. The Wildcats have been on the road since January 21 and this will be their third game within the last four days, so there is little doubt that the boys will be somewhat weary. Then there is the ankle injury which kept Wah Wah Jones out of the Vanderbilt game. If the big boy from Hartsville is unable to play, the Cats will be in a tight spot.
