Rampaging UK Wildcats To Seek Ninth Victory In Clash With Wright Field Saturday

Rupp Will Use Same Lineup In Kittyhawk Game

By Betty Tevis

Kentucky's high-ranking Wildcats will be trying to chalk up a 9-out-of-10-games record when they meet the Wright Field Kittyhawks on 8 tomorrow night in Alumni gym. The University basketballers have lost one game, to the powerful Illinois five, and have won eight, including last Saturday's thriller against Notre Dame which was a 54-54 score.

Same Lineup
Coach Adolph Rupp will send his same lineup into the Kittyhawk game, although he stated that he was not pleased with the team's showing against Notre Dame. Schum and Tugde will go in as forwards; Moseley and Johnson will start forward; and Brannan will hold down the center post. Wright Field's starters are not known but the Dayton post will probably play boys from every section of the country, as most service teams which the Wildcats have already met have done.

After light shooting practice on Monday, defense on Tuesday, and scrimmage on Wednesday, Coach Rupp announced that he would make his usual not-too-encouraging comments on the game's probable outcome.

Game Cancelled
Athletic Director Bernie Shively announced Wednesday that the game with Vanderbilt, a Southeastern conference quintet, has been cancelled for Saturday. Kentucky's highly rated team will probably have an opportunity to play a single Southeastern conference basketball team this year because of travel conditions, Shively revealed.

Georgia Tech's naval trainees, on 48-hour leave, would be unable to travel to Kentucky, and Rupp is attempting to schedule a single away-from-home game with the Southern States. Other schools which the University customarily plays are Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, and Vanderbilt. The University has no hardwood quintet this year and the other schools cannot arrange transportation, although University basketball powers are still trying to negotiate games for later in the season.

Officials in Saturday night's struggle with Wright Field will be John Showalter and John Wiethe. The Kittyhawks' record, which shows only one loss for this season, is as follows:
Wright Field 48, Bowman Field 22
Wright Field 20, Miami 27
Wright Field 34, Walker 24
Wright Field 60, Kenyon 31

Sherwood Eddy Opens UK Citizenship Forums

Civic Groups Sponsor Talks On Popular Topics

The University Citizenship forums began Tuesday evening when Sherwood Eddy, noted lecturer, spoke to a full house at the meeting held in the Central Christian church.

These forums, sponsored by the University in cooperation with civic organizations of Georgetown, Lexington, and Paris, have been arranged, says Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean and registrar of the University and member of the board of directors of the Lexington forum, because there are probably a great many adults who might like to discuss topics and matters of interest to it wholly apart from any organized class.

Topics Given
The forum topics will be: How will the Cost of the War Affect Us? as presented by the University Citizenship forums.

The Allied Nations Conferences, by Dr. Henry M. Sherwood, acting head of the political science department; Russia and World Peace, by Dr. J. Huntley Dupre, professor of history; Some Proposed Plans for an Enduring Peace, by Dr. Dupre; British-American Relationships in the Post-War World, by Dr. Sherwood; and What Should Be Done With Germany, by Dr. Dupre.

The University has chosen these topics because they are in the forefront of public thought today, and these men have been selected because they were thought to be especially fitted by training, experience, and ability to do a fine job of presenting such topics on the University platform. Each lecture will be followed by a period of discussion led by Dr. Chamberlain in which audience participation is desired.

Begins Jan. 11
The lecture series will be presented in Lexington at the Central Christian church at 8 p.m. on Tuesdays beginning January 11; in Paris at 7:30 p.m. on Mondays beginning January 17; and in Georgetown at 8 p.m. on Thursdays at Garth High school. The registration fee for the entire series is $1.50, and only $1.00 in advance of the first meeting. Registrations in Lexington may be made at the Extension department in Frazer hall, the Union building, and the dean of women's office, and downtown at the Lafayette Hotel.

If the series shows similar success in the Paris and Georgetown groups the University may offer series in other areas on any subject desired by the participants.

Fire Destroys Old Model Barn On Tuesday Night

A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Old Model beef cattle barn and silo on the University Extension farm Tuesday night about 10 p.m.

Farm Superintendent J. F. Freeman estimated the damage at several thousand dollars. He said the building had been used as a feed barn and contained only loose hay.

According to Freeman, the night watchman had found nothing out of order when he made his rounds at 5 p.m. The blaze was first reported about four hours later. Within three or four minutes the fire broke out and the barn was consumed.

There were no other buildings close enough to be seriously endangered.

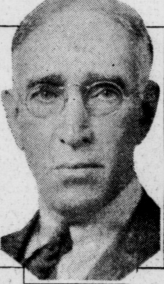

Sweater Swing

The Kampus Kats will furnish the music for the second Sweater swing of the winter quarter which will be held at 6 p.m. today in the bluegrass room of the Union building.

SGA Discusses List Of Plans For Quarter Faculty Members Attend Meeting Of Group Tuesday

Plans for the winter quarter student directory, a war bond drive, proposed panel discussions, and a University clean-up program was discussed Tuesday by the Student Government, association planning board which was presided over by Vincent Spagnuolo, president of the SGA.

Attending the meeting were: Dr. Adolph Bigge, SGA faculty advisor; Dr. Margaret Ratliff and Dr. C. O. Ross, SGA faculty members; Dr. M. M. White, assistant dean of arts and sciences college; Alice Jacobson, Danforth graduate; Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women; Professor John Kulper, head of the department of philosophy; Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean and registrar of the University; Celia Bearden, editor of The Kernel, and SGA members, Scott Reed, Jimmy Hurt, Bill Barton, and Ray Garrison.

Discusses Forums
The possibility of holding forums or debates on local, national, and international issues was discussed. It was decided to schedule speeches on subjects such as labor, post-war problems, repeal of State income tax, and post-war alliances.

The probability of success of a campaign for keeping the University clean and for the protection of the buildings and campus grounds was discussed. It was stated that the students should know of the large expenditures made toward beautifying the school.

It was decided to contact a group of transfer students and soldiers who represent all sections of the country to express their views upon the University of the future.

Band Drive
The SGA will cooperate with the War Reliefs drive which will begin January 18. Last fall the SGA sponsored one of the most successful band drives ever held on the campus and plans for a similar campaign will be made by the War Bond committee.

Report of the discussions of the planning board will be made by Spagnuolo at the next meeting of the SGA at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday for approval by the Assembly.

Miss Rosalie Oakes, secretary of the YWCA, will speak at the Dutch Lunch Club at the Dutch Lunch Club which will hold its first meeting of the winter quarter at noon today in the Colonial Bowling lanes.

Lexington women, commuters, and those women living in Lexington are invited to sign for lunch before 5 p.m. each Thursday in Miss Oakes' office, room 122, of the Union building.

UK Graduate Shows English

Stars and Stripes, daily newspaper of the Armed forces overseas, cited in its November 20 issue an example proving how far ahead some University graduates are.

"First Lieutenant Hansford T. Shuckette, of Waverly, Ky., has shown aptitude for public speaking near a station hospital that sweet corn can be grown in their neighborhood," it says.

"When he planted the crop in the hospital's victory garden the English natives told the lieutenant that sweet corn had never been grown in that section and would not mature. The lieutenant, cultivating his crop during off-duty hours, harvested 169 ears of corn and four bushels of tomatoes."

"What the natives didn't know was that Lieut. Shuckette qualifies as an expert sweet corn grower. He acquired a B.S. degree in horticulture and an M.S. degree in botany in his pre-army days at the University of Kentucky."

Movie Will Be Shown To Club

An educational movie, An Argentine Primer, dealing with the people of Argentina and their customs will be shown at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Y lounge of the Union building.

A round-table discussion of the picture by members of the Kofee Club will follow.

All students and soldiers are invited to attend, it was announced.

Registration Stands At 1,318

Registration figures stood at 1,318 Tuesday, with two more days left during which students might enroll, according to the registrar's office. This is 163 less than the 1,481 who registered last quarter, and 1,109 less than the total enrollment for the winter quarter of 1942-43.

Since classes were not closed until January 14, the total enrollment and enrollment as to men and women, classes, and colleges, is not yet available.

W. T. Rowland To Give Talk

Address To Be Second In Series

Dr. W. T. Rowland, superintendent of Lexington Public Schools, will review Mark Van Doren's literary education, a book which was written at the request of the Association of American colleges, in the second in a series of lectures to be given at 3 p.m. Thursday, in the Browning room of the Union Building.

Releasing The Kernel a brief summary of what he will present at the review, Dr. Rowland said:

"That a person known best as a poet should be commissioned by the college association to write such a book intrigues one's interest at the outset. Perhaps it is well that this book has been brought out just at this time by a person other than one who has spent years in administering education in a college. One who has made educational theory a life's work, Mr. Van Doren, with his wide knowledge of the world's great literature, the soul of a poet and faculty as a literary critic, is in position to present an objective view on his thesis."

Field House Hopes Grow Dim As Appropriations Bill Omits Fund Requested For Building

'44 Kyian Showing Changes In Campus Activities Slated To Be Distributed March 15

Delay Is Due To Difficulties Of Wartime Problems

Eubanks Trial Wilson Says Delay Necessary

The Kentucky will not be distributed until March 15, due to technical reasons and wartime difficulties, Virginia Long, editor, announced today.

Following the theme of a "Woman's World," the annual will show the changes in the campus activities and how the majority of them are now carried on by co-ed membership. A pattern to correspond with the theme will be sketched on the campus in blue, resting on a white background.

There will be four divisions consisting of administration and classes, activities, sports, and fraternities, and features. A separate index page will appear for the convenience of the readers.

Besides these, a fraternity section with about six groups will be included. There will also be a definite informal section made up of random shots of both students and soldiers. The page size, being registration, will be the same as it was last year.

Six hundred copies were sold during the advance sales, and nine hundred will be ordered. They will be on sale for $4.50 a copy not only to the regular University students, but to the soldiers that are stationed here and wish them also.

The complete material will reach the engravers at the end of this week, and printing will begin immediately afterwards, Miss Long stated.

Russia Topic Of Dr. Eddy Latin America Is Discussed

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, author and lecturer, spoke to students at 11 p.m. Wednesday in Frazer hall in an informal discussion of cooperatives and the Russian form of government. Dr. Thomas Clark introduced the speaker.

Discussing the federal government's cooperative plan in Mississippi, Dr. Eddy pointed out the success of a plan in which Whites and Negroes worked together. He stressed the fact that consumers' cooperatives have been successful but producers co-ops have not met with success in this country.

His analysis of the Russian form of government, as contrasted to that of the United States resolved into a statement that Russia's strong points, justice and brotherhood of man, were our weak points; and Russia's weak points, lack of liberty and religion on the part of the ruling class, were our strong points.

This Wednesday morning talk was the second in a series of discussions which will be held in the Union building.

The lost and found department of the Union building has several articles which the owner may have in room 121 of the Union building. The articles will be disposed of if not claimed within the next ten days, it was announced.

Women To Form Billiard Team

Women who are interested in forming a coed billiard team are asked to report to room 121, Union building, according to John R. Rhans, social director of the Union.

The team will participate in a tournament in the near future, she said.

Suky troutys must be at Alumni gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, it was announced by Bill Nickell, president.

Mention Not Made In Budget Given To Legislature

Kentucky's hopes for an auditorium-field house virtually vanished when the appropriations bill, introduced in the Legislature to carry out Gov. Simon S. Willis' recommendations, omitted the requested fund for the building.

The budget proposed by the legislative committee was virtually in line with requests submitted by Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, with the exception of $500,000 for capital outlay. That capital outlay included money for an extensive building program, which had as its primary project the auditorium-field house.

"Disappointed"

"Naturally we are disappointed because we didn't get the field house," Dr. Donovan stated, after the bill was passed. "The appropriations bill includes the recommendations of the Board of Trustees except for the field house fund."

When asked if he thought there was a possibility that the fund might be put back into the bill before its final passage by the Legislature, the president declared that he could make no statement.

Peterson Explains

Frank D. Peterson, controller of the University, explained that the appropriations committee approved an operations and maintenance budget which is approximately $130,000 more than last year's allotment. However, he stated, this fund cannot be used for building purposes.

Expressing his regret over the elimination of the field house appropriation, Peterson said, "We are very much disappointed and would like to see an appropriation made for the field house that would be immediately available for use during the second year of the biennium."

Herold Comments

The Lexington Herald is commenting in its editorial columns upon the omission of the appropriation, said.

A field house for the University of Kentucky is not in any way a luxury for either the state or the University. It is a necessary element to modern education. A university without an adequate program for use as a gymnasium and auditorium is sadly handicapped. Army training camps throughout the country all have massive auditoriums converted to use as gymnasiums.

"SO THEY SAY!"

By Shirley Meister

Question: How does Kentucky weather appear to you?

Pvt. Bob Greenwood, Kinkaid Hall: It seems to me that Kentucky weather has been exceedingly unfair propaganda when boasting about their weather. Thanks to the weather, it has been enlightened in this respect as well as in a great many other things.

Louise Schuler, A.S.S. junior: Compared to Ohio, it's pretty good.

Pvt. Tom Snyder, Kinkaid Hall: It's not too cold and it's not too hot.

Pvt. Jim Smith, Bradley Hall: All the California boys should feel right at home in this lovely rain.

Gene Swartz, ASTP: From where I'm standing it looks pretty good every day.

Susan Fisher, A.S.S. junior: It's all right, but Pennsylvania's more consistent. It doesn't waver around. When it's cold, it's cold.

Ann Hayhurst, A.S.S. sophomore: It's just fine, because it's different from home (Pennsylvania).

Pvt. Stan Prosen, Kinkaid Hall: It's not cold enough - I'm from Minnesota.

Pvt. Richard Liberty, Patterson Hall: It's too cold when it snows and too warm when it's warm.

Pvt. Ray Stockstill, Kinkaid Hall: It gets more like Wyoming every day.

Ann Gars, A.S.S. sophomore: It doesn't, because I miss those good old Virginia sunshiny Sundays.

Pvt. James Wilson, Bradley Hall: It's a mixture of California and New York sunshine.

Gene Carl, A.S.S. freshman: It rains too much and I want some snow.

Pvt. David Boehman, Kinkaid Hall: It's wonderful, warmer and wetter than Chicago.

Wildcats Upset Irish 55-54 In 'Thriller' Of The Season

Notre Dame Falls Before Ruppmen For Second Time

Proving that they can "do it again," the University Wildcats upset the Notre Dame Irish 55-54, for the second consecutive year at Louisville Saturday night. One of the most thrilling games of the year, it was described as sending 7,500 spectators reeling out of the Jefferson County armory with their fingers glued to the rub.

The death blow in this, the most important triumph of the teenage Kentuckians, was dealt Notre Dame in the final 37 seconds of play. Brannum, the high-scoring center from Kansas, dropped in a crisp that tied the score at 54-54, and then made a free throw that gave the Wildcats the advantage.

To score the first of two winning shots, Brannum stole the ball from Notre Dame's Todovich and raced under the basket for a crisp. Todovich fouled him on the shot, setting up the deciding free throw.

With both teams playing fast-paced ball, the lead changed six times before the final whistle blew. For Kentucky fans the game was an exhilarating victory, since the 'Cats were behind by four points with less than three minutes to play but managed to fight their way to the top in a spectacular comeback.

Although Brannum came through with the winning markers, little Walter Johnson, of Mt. Sterling, fired the Wildcats from the very start and set a scorching pace that burned through every Irish obstacle. Dumping in 15 points, he tied Notre Dame's Todovich for high-point laurels. Brannum ran a close second with 14 and Jack Tingle, Kentucky forward, tallied 12.

At the start of the contest Todovich got the tip-off for Notre Dame but Tingle grabbed the ball and in less than 10 seconds, Johnson made a scorching shot. Tingle made a long shot and Kentucky was leading by 4-0 before the Irish and the spectators realized that the game had begun. The boys from Indiana came right back, however, and soon had the game tied. Kentucky went ahead by 6-4, but the Irish were more successful at shooting and managed to get a 14-9 lead. Plunging relentlessly and taking their rebounds skillfully, the Wildcats showed ahead once more and led 28-23 at the half.

In the free-shooting game, the Irish seemed particularly well equipped for slight-of-hand shots. Leo Keller, their captain and forward, Australia's population of 7,000,000 is only 2 per square mile of the continent.

Ready for a CAREER in 28 WEEKS?

Yes, that is what has already happened and is happening to the students in our new accelerated course at the Retail Bureau.

If, in January, you are completing your junior year in acceptable standing in liberal arts, business administration, or education, you can transfer to the Retail Bureau for your senior year and still receive a Bachelor's degree. You start on February 2, 1944, and 28 weeks later—in September—you are trained and ready for a job in the retail field. If you are a senior and are being graduated in January, you may take the 28-week course and be eligible for a Master in Letters degree in September. If you are an upper-classman and have successfully completed two years of college, you may take the 28-week course without receiving a degree.

You will be earning while you are learning, because you will have a steady income for the supervised work you do in the Pittsburgh stores as a part of your Bureau training. And your career will be well under way before you finish the course—a career with an unlimited future.

Other new semesters will start in June and in September under this same accelerated course. See for yourself at the Retail Bureau.

The building, long desired by University officials and students, was to have been erected on property already obtained by the University on the north side of Euclid avenue facing Stoll field. During the fall, 78 small rent houses which stood on this property were razed.

Prospects Up For Football

Prospects for a football team next season at the University, along with other schools in the Southeastern Conference, rose this week with Athletic Director Bernie Shively announced that UK has decided to sponsor a squad if enough boys are available.

Steps Taken
Preliminary steps for arranging a schedule have been taken, he said. "It is our intention to have a football team," Shively explained, "and we are going to have one if enough boys are on hand to make up a squad. They would practically all be 17-year-olds, but most of the other schools who sponsor football would be in the same situation.

Although the sport was dropped this fall by a majority of the Southeastern schools because of the shortage of players, Shively stated that he believed that several other Conference schools will try to sponsor teams next year.

If the University is represented on the gridiron next fall, both Shively, who served as line coach, and Ab Kirwan, who was head coach, will be available for coaching duties as they are members of the University faculty.

Last fall was the first time in 53 years of football at the institution that the Wildcats did not participate in the sport.

Auburn, considered previously as one of the more doubtful schools, announced officially its hopes to have a team which indicated wholesale resumption of formal football this fall by Southeastern Conference members.

Two Exceptions
All conference members with the exception of Mississippi State and the University of Mississippi indicated that they would field some sort of a team.

"We are giving serious, diligent, and careful consideration to the possibility of renewing football," said President L. N. Duncan of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, in an address at Birmingham.

"Auburn wants to resume football. It is the desire of the athletic committee, as it is my desire, to have a team even if we do not have an outstanding team. We believe in intercollegiate sports and recognize their value to the boys who participate in them."

Head Coach Jack McGeaher is now a lieutenant commander in the Navy, and practically all of Auburn's assistant coaches are in the armed forces, which highly complicates Alabama Poly's problem.

Four Played
Regular schedules were played last fall by four conference teams, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State University, and Tulane. Alabama and Vanderbilt had informal leagues.

Coch Frank Thomas of Alabama said today: "We are going to make every effort to play formal football." John Barnhill, Tennessee's head coach, declared that prospects are good for resumption of play by the Volunteer school.

Night Courses To Be Given

The courses, offered tuition free under the Engineering, Science, Management, War Training program, carry no college credit. A special certificate is granted to those who maintain good attendance and complete the required work satisfactorily.

Judge Opposes
"I'm opposed to college football while there's a war on," said Judge J. F. Barber, chairman of the Mississippi state board of trustees which voted to discontinue football at the schools. He added:

The board of trustees has taken no steps to resume the sport during the war. A recent board investigation reveals there are not enough football eligible men at either Ole Miss or Mississippi State to organize teams on a par with high school elevens."

New Horizons

for a Greater Industrial South

WHILE destructive battles rage in large areas of the world, a different story is being written in our Southland . . . a story of new industrial achievement, of things yet to come in the stirring world of tomorrow.

The South stands hopefully on the threshold of a new era . . . dreaming of vast industrial and agricultural expansion. From its fabulous raw resources the laboratories of private industry have in late years wrought miracles of production. Agricultural products have blossomed into new kinds of fabrics, building materials and amazingly useful plastics. New markets and new wealth have been created for southern farmers, commerce and labor. Even now the South boasts many of the largest plants in their respective fields in the world!

Already a major factor in America's arsenal of war production, the South looks forward to a better tomorrow . . . a tomorrow filled with peace, security and happiness . . . a tomorrow when the American Spirit of Free Enterprise will build a Greater Industrial South for the betterment of all mankind.
