Extravagant Claims Are Made For Largest Issue Of Wildcat --To Go On Sale Thursday

'Man of the Month' Will Be Cited In Humor Book

Highlighted by a pictorial review of the track to the Georgia Tech game in Louisville, "with no holds barred," the Wildcat, campus humor magazine, will be on sale Thursday. Editor John Ed Pearce announced last night.

Another feature of the campus chuckle publication is a double spread of "campus types," which, according to the editor, "is a howl." Eight professors are scrutinized through a student viewpoint by the popular "Your Grades, Professor" cartoon.

Also within the 40 pages are funny cartoons, campus snapshots, humorous features and short stories, a section on fraternity ratings, the gossip strip, a review of the latest popular records, and pictorial illustrations of house parties and life in the women's dormitories.

There are more jokes than have ever gone into any campus publication, bar none," the editor stated, "even the ads are pretty."

JUDGING TEAM LEAVES FOR MEET At Stock Exposition

Five regular members and two alternates of the University livestock judging team left yesterday to compete in the International Livestock exposition, Saturday, at Chicago.

The team will go to the University of Illinois for three days and will reach Chicago Friday. Final selection of team members and alternates will depend on these last judging tests.

Prof. L. J. Herberich, assistant dean of the agriculture college, will speak on "Problems of Production of Thoroughbred Horses" before the American Society of Animal Production meeting held at the exposition.

Robert Faulkner, agriculture freshman from Letchfield, is the only University student on the non-collegiate livestock judging contest.

Twenty-seven sheep and four steers have been sent from the Experiment Station farm to compete in the various rings of the exposition.

Art Department Will Rent Copies Of Masterpieces

Precastible color reproductions of certain American paintings will be available after December 2 for rent to students in the dormitories or residence halls. Prof. E. W. Rannels, head of the art department, announced today. The paintings may be rented for two months at 10 cents a month, with the privilege of renewal.

Consisting of 16 water color and 16 oil reproductions, the pictures are now on exhibit in the gallery of the art department in the Biological Sciences building where they will remain until December 2. After that time they may be rented out. Students interested in the offer are urged to see the display and to make arrangements with students in the art library.

Due to the intervention of the Christmas holidays, the period from December 2 to January 31 will be counted as one rental month, Professor Rannels said.

PEACHER NAMED TO BOOK POST Handbook Editors Selected By Cabinet

Isabelle Peacher, arts and sciences senior from Benton, and Jeannette Graves, arts and sciences sophomore from Lexington, have been chosen co-editor and co-business manager, respectively, of the 1941 "K" book by the YW cabinet.

Miss Peacher, who succeeds Susan Jackson, is a member of the YW cabinet. Miss Graves, succeeding LeBarthelme since 1938, have been discussing the choice of a college for Carolina.

As an alumna of the University (she graduated in 1933), Dr. Hernandez advocates her studying in Lexington, while Mrs. Hernandez would like to see her daughter at her alma mater, Woman's College of South Carolina, at Rock Hill. Does mother know best for Carolina?

Carolina—pronounce it Carolina; she's named for her paternal grandmother who still lives in Cuba weighed seven pounds, five ounces at birth. This made Dr. Hernandez very happy. He hopes she will be small, and not "one of the big women who look like a man." She is the first child in the family, and they wanted a girl. Dr. Hernandez's mother even wanted a girl, to go with her two sons.

Gals Will Do The Chasin'-- But They're Scared After Dark

'Leap Week' Rules Say 'No Ladies Out Alone After Dark'

"When it's dark and gloomy, the powers rule that the boys are still the ones to see the girls home. No ladies out alone after dark!" This adroit regulation prescribes the rules for the University "Leap Week" which will begin Sunday, December 1, and continue through Saturday, December 7.

The Danvers' Decree as set up by the YWCA, "Leap Week" sponsor, states that "this is leap year; so young men ain't enjoying the social life they ought; some young ladies ditto; and male pocketbooks need a rest. Be it resolved and proclaimed:

"1. It's the ladies who pay and pay. Joe College shall be the one to set by the telephone waiting for Betty Coed to call for a date. Girls must do the asking and treating to shows, cokes, walks, etc."

"2. Girls open the doors; boys go out 'em first."

"3. Boys when escorted by girls must keep to the inside of the sidewalk, so runways horses and burkers don't endanger them."

During the week, the Sweater Season will be conducted leap year style, with the girls breaking a "Dames Dance" under the sponsorship of Keys, will conclude the week's activities on Saturday night, December 7. There will be only a Christmas Eve, a piano accompanist and a director may be used.

Any student group desiring to enter the Sing should contact either Mildred Murray or Arthur Rose, co-chairmen.

NO ARRANGEMENTS FOR PERMANENT MANAGEMENT MADE

Under the management of the Student Union building, the College Catering company staff will continue to operate the Union cafeteria and until the beginning of Christmas vacation, December 29. Acting President Thomas P. Cooper informed The Kernel late last night.

The arrangement was made yesterday, following action taken by the executive committee of the board of trustees Friday, when they approved a recommendation that an agreement be reached with the catering company whereby it would continue to operate the grill and cafeteria until the University would assume direct management.

Will Seek Manager James S. Shropshire, director of the Union building, said that the group agreed to leave one of its managers, Ben Koppel or Aaron Slavovick, here in an advisory capacity. However, he said that he would attempt to find a manager for the cafeteria and grill after the Christmas vacation.

The catering company, a subsidiary of the Turf Catering company of Chicago, notified the board of trustees on August 31 that its contract would be relinquished after a 90-day period, or on November 30.

A proposal that the University "set up under the Student Union building" management a cafeteria and grill room to be operated through competent management, responsible to the business agent or to such individuals as may designate to carry on the responsibility" has received favorable support on the campus.

The executive committee also acted on the application submitted by Acting President Thomas P. Cooper to the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington for a flight training course here. The board will meet December 19 to draft final approval of the petition.

Although Dr. Cooper yesterday confirmed the application for the flight course, he refused to give details of the petition. Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus, declined to apply for the training last year on the grounds that the school would be taking a great responsibility, but the executive committee reconsidered last October and authorized President Cooper to investigate the possibility of a flight course. No application was submitted for the training at the beginning of the current school year.

SOUR MASH HEADS AWARDED $200 IN WILDCAT SUIT

Circuit Court Rules Shropshire, Costel 'Pirated' Material

Settlement of $200 in the Sour Mash-Wildcat suit was made by James S. Shropshire, director of student publications, and Bill Costel, former editor and business manager of the Wildcat, student humor magazine, it was decided in the Fayette Circuit court last Tuesday.

Al Vogel, business manager of the Sour Mash prior to the appearance of the Wildcat and plaintiff in the case, sued for $4,000 damages. He charged that Shropshire and Costel, in the first issue of the Wildcat in September, 1938, "pirated and appropriated for their own use" advertising material and editorial copy belonging to him.

This action, the petition further averred, deceived and deprived the Sour Mash Magazine company of its right, title, and good will, and damaged Vogel in the sum of $4,000. Started By Honorary Under sponsorship of Delta Sigma Chi, men's honorary journalism fraternity, the Sour Mash made its debut as a humor publication, and with a varying degree of success, went on the rocks financially late in 1937. Vogel took over for the remainder of the year, brought the magazine out of debt, and continued to publish it during the school year of 1938-9.

Don Irvine edited the Sour Mash until December 1938, and then resigned, being succeeded by Costel, who switched to the Wildcat staff with the beginning of the following school year.

Costel quit school in October last year, and John Ed Pearce took charge of the editorial duties.

Griffith, president, announced yesterday.

SGA Loan Fund Bill Was Defeated By Independents' Own Party 'Whip'

CAMPUS POLITICS By JIM CALDWELL

Irony of the Student legislature's recent defeat of the bill to create a loan fund was that the deciding vote was cast by Doniphon Burrus, the Independent association's own party 'whip'.

Despite the fact it was sloppily drawn up and decidedly hazy in spots, the annual Student Government association budget, calling for a total appropriation of more than $4,000, passed the Student Legislature Thursday week without a murmur of protest being raised.

Table listing budget items and amounts: Social Committee $1500.00, Alumni 500.00, Kentucky 717.50, Y.M.C.A. 100.00, Furniture and Typewriter 150.00, Class Reunion 75.00, Vocational Conference 450.00, Miscellaneous Expenses 200.00, Discretionary 50.00, Committee Expenses 75.00, Printing 200.00, Salary, President 100.00. Total $4117.50.

Revelation At Princeton

(Note: Occasionally those who scan the editorial pages of the collegiate press happen upon a piece that is just a little out of the stereotyped ordinary, a piece which leads them to grope for the scissors instead of the wastebasket. And then it is they feel that perhaps their long and painful waiting through galleries of home-coming welcomes and school spirit pep-talks may not have been so fruitless after all.)

Slowly But Surely The Jitterbugs Are Learning To Take The Classics

Before the Union building provided such a spacious home for the Carnegie music collection, a two-by-four compartment in the upper halls of the library had served as its headquarters. In those days fine music was a bit of a rarity around here (not that it flows in over abundance today) and it often happened to catch the names of Beethoven, Mozart or Brahms in any student conversation he could be pretty certain that the fellows talking were either music majors or part of a small tribe of classical music lovers.
