ALPHA XI DELTA GIRLS HELP AT DUNCAN PARK

Members of University Society Engaged in Social Service

Xi Chapter of Alpha Delta at the University has assumed charge of the girls work at the Duncan Park community center. At present this work is somewhat undeveloped but it offers a wonderful opportunity in the philanthropic field. The work of the members of this fraternity began Sunday afternoon with an hour of singing, playing of games and story telling. Beginning May 4, these girls will conduct a community service which will be held every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Because of the demand, this means of procuring interest has been chosen. Plans are being formed for a program of activities as will be presented by the needs of the girls in this community. At present the activities are largely recreational but as the work continues other fields of service will be developed.

VANDY DOWNS CATS BY SCORE OF 9 TO 4

Ridgeway Gets Homer; Last Home Game of the Season

With dope predicting a 20 to 1 score in favor of Vandy, the Wildcats went into the ball game last Wednesday and succeeded in holding down the team, which trounced Georgia, to a 9 to 4 score. Three hits and a home run by Ridgeway in the first gave our Cats the tally. The Blue and White threatened to score again in the fifth and seventh, and in the eighth a score was inevitable, but a pop out at first and an out when trying to steal home put an end to the hopes.

The Tennesseans had a great team. Embry pitcher, was the best seen on the local field this year and the whole team was up to his high standard. Neill, Vanderbilt's Babe Ruth, played true to form, coming up to bat four times, fanning, walking, slamming out a three bagger, and the longest hit of the season which would have been a home run had it not been for the quickness of Beam who succeeded in pegging him out near the coveted platter.

Cooper allowed nine hits and Embry six. The squad played the best ball they have this season.

This was the last of the games to be played on Stoll field this year. The bunch goes on the Southern trip May 13, and will be gone until May 17.

"THE LAUGHING CURE" IS ADMIRABLY DONE

Patterson Society Convulses Auditors With Its Version of Painton Play.

By Adaline Mann
Edith Painton's play "The Laughing Cure," presented by the men of the Patterson Literary Society aided by some of the well-known young women of the University, was altogether one of the most charming and amusing plays given on the Campus this year. It really lived up to its title and proved to be an effective cure for trouble. The plot of the play is woven about Mrs. Laura Hanson, who is chronically nervous and blue. She is despondent of ever being cured of

ONE THOUSAND COPIES OF 1921 "KENTUCKIANS" HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

Are Awaiting Distribution Because Several Organizations Have Not Paid.

CONTAINS 330 PAGES

Popularity Section Beautifully Finished In Colors.

Nothing better, in "Kentuckians," has ever been published than the 1921 "Kentuckian"—in fact, the few who have been permitted to scan its pages pronounce it "the best ever."

The 1921 "Kentuckian" is bound in a navy-blue leather-finished cover. On the cover is the State of Kentucky embossed in white, on which appears the word "Kentuckian" in raised blue letters. Beneath the map of Kentucky is 1921 in raised figures. The 1921 "Kentuckian" contains 330 pages exclusive of the advertisements. The book is worked out on the plan of a pageant, with twelve spirits, such as the Spirit of the University, the Spirit of the Classes, the Spirit of Fraternities, the Spirit of Athletics, etc., introducing their respective sections.

The Annual contains an interesting illustrated account of the work of the Little Theatre, including Professor E. F. Farquhar's article "The Little Theatre" which appeared in the Theatre Magazine. The Feature Section contains a miniature Kernel, interesting advertisements, and many other amusing features which will delight the readers of the "Kentuckian."

But, perhaps, the most outstanding section of the 1921 "Kentuckian" is the Popularity Section, which is beautifully finished in colors. All of the pictures in this section are tinted.

On each page of the "Kentuckian" there is a blue border. In the upper left hand corner of each page is a "21," and in the lower right hand corner appears the stack of the power plant.

One thousand copies of the 1921 "Kentuckian" have been received and if the few remaining organizations which have not paid for their space will do so this week, the "Kentuckians" will be given out from the Stroller room in the basement of the Natural Science Building, Monday, May 9.

ELEVEN GIRL SPONSORS INITIATED TO R. O. T. C.

Brave Cold Rain To Be Given Insignia of Rank

The eleven girls chosen by the R. O. T. C. of the University were initiated into military life Wednesday morning when they braved a cold rain to be pinned as Sponsors.

While the University band played "My Old Kentucky Home," the three companies stood at attention facing the line of girls who stood in front of the flag pole. Mary Elizabeth Downing was the first girl to be led forward and given her insignia as head of the Battalion. Miss Downing also received a lovely bouquet as did the other ten girls. Major Evans then led Miss Downing and Margaret Smith, who was chosen Captain of the Band, to that section of the field where Miss Smith was pinned by Colonel Freeman and introduced to every member of the Band. In the meantime the other girls were taken to their respective companies and platoons and pinned and introduced to their men. Cheers were given by the men for their sponsors and they passed in review be-

MAY 26 ENGINEERS' DAY AT UNIVERSITY

Everybody Interested Asked To Visit Department—Reception and Ball

May 26 is to be observed as Engineers' Day at the University when all classes are dismissed at noon in order that students as well as townspeople and interested persons from various parts of the State may have opportunity of visiting the College of Engineering.

The inspection trip will include visits to the foundry, blacksmith, machine and wood shops, electrical and steam laboratories, the laboratories for the testing of automobiles and road materials, the mining laboratories and designing rooms.

The object is to give students in other colleges of the University and the public in general a chance to see the new equipment that is in operation, and the place that is famous for the training of engineers.

At 3:45 o'clock a man of national fame will address a gathering on the campus from a platform that is to be erected on the slope of the hill in front of Mechanical Hall. His name will be announced later.

The Kentucky Chapter of the American Association of Engineers will give their first annual dance that evening in Dicker Hall. The hours will be from 8 until 11:45 o'clock. All students of the College of Engineering will be invited.

MISS SIMRALL RESIGNS POSITION AS KY. DEAN

To Be Succeeded By Miss Frances Jewell of English Department.

The resignation of Josephine Simrall as Dean of Women in the University of Kentucky was accepted at the meeting of the executive board called at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Miss Simrall will become Dean of Women at the University of Cincinnati. She will be succeeded by Frances Jewell as Dean of Women at the University of Kentucky.

The resignation of George Baker, professor in the department of Education was also accepted. Mr. Baker will become County Superintendent of Schools of Fayette County.

FIRST STEPS TAKEN TO ESTABLISH STUDENT GOVERNMENT SYSTEM

Committee of Eleven Men Is Named To Draw Up Constitution.

MELCHER APPROVES

Eblen Tells of Plan and Its Workings.

At the meeting held in chapel, fifth period, Tuesday, when plans were discussed for the formation of the Students' Self Government system at the University, a committee of eleven men were elected to draw up a constitution for later discussion and adoption by the student body and faculty of the University. Those appointed were: M. K. Eblen, J. H. Taylor, Fred Houston-Shaw, Herndon Evans, Donald Dinning, Berl Boyd, J. W. Crenshaw, E. A. Swisshelm, R. L. Ringo, W. S. Anderson and Douglas Vest.

M. K. Eblen, president of the Senior Class, who has recently returned from attending a conference of university students of the Middle West, at the University of Missouri, told of the conference in which all of the colleges represented had the Student Self Government system installed except Kentucky and one other university, and the representatives from those two universities were there to gather information concerning the system.

"The Student Government System" he said "is distinct from the honor system although the honor system may later develop from it. There is to be a Student Council, composed of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer elected from the student body, and the Seniors are to have four representatives, the Juniors, three, the Sophomores, two and the Freshmen, one. After the committee meets and draws up the constitution, we will know what powers this Council is to have. It will probably have complete charge of almost all affairs concerning the student body, including matters of discipline, social activities, and supervising of class elections. Through the Council, campaigns for raising funds would also be handled and matters of common interest could be handled more effectively by the Student Council. There is a citizenship in the University life just as real and vital as any citizenship in the state."

Dean Melcher who has recently attended a conference of university deans of the Middle West, spoke of the splendid results of the student self government systems in those universities and where that subject was of first importance. The next meeting of the deans of men will be held here April 2, 1922 and it is also proposed that the conference of student representatives of self government organizations meet at the same time here not as a joint meeting, but with joint sessions.

Dean Melcher said: "The term, student self government, is usually misunderstood. It is not really a self government, but a co-operative government in which both students and faculty take part. The chief function of the student self government system is to co-ordinate the efforts of the various college councils and to serve as a medium for expressing and influencing student opinion. There is the better faculty-student co-operation under this system. There is little friction and the results are gratifying."

DO WE WANT OUR KENTUCKIANS?

In other columns of this issue of the Kernel appears a story stating that 1,000 Kentuckians have arrived but cannot be distributed until eight or ten clubs on the Campus have paid for their space, which was contracted for some months ago.

It is known to The Kernel that several of these clubs are flourishing organizations and can well afford the fee placed on a page in the Year Book. Why should they hold back when the entire Campus is clamoring for a glance at the best Annual that Kentucky has been fortunate enough to have in recent years? All credit is due the Kentuckian Staff, which has worked diligently on the publication since last October, and The Kernel does not believe it is fair to them to withhold payment and incidentally delay the issuing of the book.

It has been indirectly learned that the Kentuckians will be distributed Monday if these delinquent organizations meet their obligations. Open up and let the student body get their Kentuckians.

O-K-O

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

It was plainly evident at the Student Government discussion in chapel Tuesday that Kentucky, like the other large universities, has come to recognize the fact that the only power which can satisfactorily discipline students is the student body itself.

A co-operative plan, such as the one proposed in chapel, is very similar to the system at Princeton where the undergraduates handle the entire problem of campus discipline and morals. The power at Princeton is vested in a Student Council which recommends punishment for acts tending to injure the good name and moral tone of the institution.

The Council there meets each Monday evening to consider "affairs of the University." When serious charges are brought the Council sits as a jury in secret session. The accused is brought in, seated at the head of the table, and frankly told of the charge. He may state his own case, may call witnesses in his defense and may call on anyone he desires to defend him, but in no case is testimony of a member of the faculty admitted against him. Witnesses against the accused are questioned and they have never been known to refuse to state clearly the facts to a council of students, where as they usually refuse before members of the faculty.

Tradition there is that the mere word of the defendant carries more weight than circumstantial evidence. No legal technicalities are allowed to enter; a decision in equity alone is sought. A three-fourths vote of those councilmen present is required for conviction and a similar majority is necessary in fixing the penalty.

After the penalty is decided, the president of the Council reports to the faculty that his colleagues have so decided. In every case the faculty adopts the decision of the Student Council.

This, in the opinion of the Kernel, is a high, straight-forward and honorable method of co-operation between students and faculty, and, as was pointed out in chapel Tuesday, co-operation should be the essential element in whatever plan is adopted.

We are fortunate in that we have several plans at our command, plans that have been tried in other institutions and found efficient. The Princeton plan as outlined above is merely one of many systems in vogue in the institutions of the country. It is now the duty of the Committee appointed by President McVey Tuesday to submit to the student body the plan it thinks most applicable to the situation at Kentucky.

STUDENT FORUM

A matter was brought, very forcibly to the attention of the writer only a few months ago and because of the impression it made and the lesson it taught, it seemed that calling attention of other students would not only help the University and different publication on the Campus but would show the merchants of Lexington that students really appreciate their efforts to help.

While the Annual was being made up, the writer was engaged in soliciting advertising and upon entering one of the leading shoe stores, addressing the gentleman in charge and having explained his mission, received a courteous but final "No."

The gentleman, whom I know very well, said to me, "So far, as we know, there has never been a University of Kentucky student made a purchase in our store. At least they have never said they were."

He went on to explain that if just one student would come in that store to buy a pair of shoes and tell them that he saw their ad in the paper, they would remember that for ten years. He said they used to advertise but did not think they would any more.

There are probably scores of students who enter stores but never thing to mention the fact that he or she saw that particular merchant's ad in the Kernel, but this incident should remind us that merchants like to hear from their ads and that it is the only way they have of really knowing whether or not their co-operation is appreciated.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS HEAR DR. FORTUNE

Dr. A. W. Fortune of Transylvania College gave an inspiring talk at the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at Patterson Hall last Sunday evening. His subject was "The Contagion of Goodness."

Doctor Fortune said: "There has been much talk of the prevalence of evil. But goodness is even more prevalent. Only the exceptional is news and goodness is so common that it is not even news. God's plan is uplifting the world was through the touch of goodness and the method of Jesus was through the touch of goodness. And that also is the real purpose of the Y. W. C. A. college."

A feature of this meeting was a solo by Lucy Smith, Nellie Stone was the student leader for the evening.

this malady. But along comes young Doctor Carey, a firm believer in psychology, who, after a "tip" from Brother Jimmy, prescribes the Laughing Cure. The progress of this unusual treatment which quickly results in the permanent cure of Mrs. Hanson forms the plot of the play.

An outstanding character of the play was that of Jimmy Mason, younger brother of Mrs. Hanson, which was played by J. L. Hayes. The burden of most of the comedy rested on Jimmy but he handled it in an exceedingly creditable manner.

However, Jimmy shared honors in the comedy part with Sue Chenault, who as Mrs. M. E. Perry, a sour gossipy old woman, preserved her straight face up to the very last when she too yielded to the contagion of the laughing cure.

Mary Elizabeth Lyons as Mrs. Laura Hanson was the central figure in the play for whom the cure was prescribed. She enacted her somewhat difficult role with grace and ease.

L. C. Fielder as Doctor Carey, proved to be a practical and wise young man when he prescribed his unusual cure, and played his part exceedingly well as the originator of the laughing cure.

The minor parts of the play were ably taken care of by W. K. Berryman as Mr. Hanson, husband of Laura; Henrietta Rogers as Kitty Clyde, sweetheart of Jimmy; Mary Peterson as Gay Hanson, sister of Laura's husband; H. C. Neal as Doctor Whitcomb; Dorothea Murphy as Norah the Irish maid.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

GEORGE R. SMITH

For the first time in the history of the University of Kentucky one of her graduates seeks the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for Fayette County.

The University has not grown, in the past, with the strides which have marked the progress of many of her sister institutions. One reason for this has been due to the failure of our university to exhibit a genuine interest and concern in the welfare of her graduates—an interest so strikingly noticeable in the policies of other institutions in the state, whose graduates, in turn, have striven for the upbuilding of their alma maters, but whose regard for the University of Kentucky is secondary.

I assure you that I have the interest of the University at heart, and I request, and will greatly appreciate, the consideration and loyal support of university men and women, and of the alumni. The results of my candidacy, as I sincerely believe and intend, will accrue to the mutual advantage of us all.

Military News

By George Taylor

The University R. O. T. C. unit was inspected Monday by Colonel L. T. Richardson, of the General Staff, Washington. The inspection began at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued throughout the day. Colonel Richardson stated that he was well pleased with the unit, and especially with the support given it by the faculty and authorities.

The first part of the inspection was devoted to the equipment and the records of the unit. This part of the inspection was completed by the fifth hour. During this hour inspection of the Sophomore topograph class and the pitching of tents by Company A was made.

In the afternoon Colonel Richardson made a general inspection of the battallon in the Armory, the weather conditions being such that outside work was almost impossible. A brief review of the year's instruction was given by the various units of the battalion, including the execution of the manual of arms by two platoons, close order drill by one platoon, extended order by one squad, preliminary target practice by one squad, and exercises in message writing by the sophomores.

The inspection was not ended until several of the crack marksmen from the battalion team had given Colonel Richardson a demonstration of their ability with the rifle, showing the same form that enabled them to defeat Emory University in the meet held last week.

AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Preparation for the Greatest Amount of Good, Theme of Address.

L. F. Zerfoss, better known as "Dad" spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday evening at 6:30. Mr. Zerfoss is on the staff of the State Y. M. C. A. and there is a larger program being put on in his district than any other district in the State. He is "Dad" to every boy in this district.

The leading thought of the address was to prepare yourself for the greatest amount of good. Mr. Zerfoss said "It is your duty to make money and also to see that you spend it properly. Money rightly earned represents a part of the person that earns it because he has given up something for the money." He also said, "You talk to a boy about religion and he will not have any thing to do with it. But talk with him about the principles of Jesus and he will agree every time. The only thing that will hold a fellow straight is the principle of Jesus Christ."

Next Sunday evening, Mr. Ralph W. Owens will speak in the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 6:30 and Sunday the 15th, Mr. B. S. Ding, a Chinese student of Georgetown College, will speak at Patterson Hall.

Staff Members Asked To Attend Contests

The Kernel takes pleasure in publishing the following which explains itself:

"To Members of the University Staff:

"On Friday evening, May 6, at 7:30 p. m., there will be held in the University Chapel the final debates of the Interscholastic Tournament. There will be no admission charge to the final debates and the members of the University Staff are invited to be present on that occasion. We trust that the members of the faculty will take a lively interest in the work among the high schools in debate and favor us with their presence on that occasion. There will be music by the University Orchestra.

"On Saturday afternoon, May 7, on Stoll Field, the finals in the Interscholastic Track Tournament will be held. The members of the Staff are also asked to be present at that time.

"Very truly yours,
W. H. Mikesell,
S. A. Boles,
Wellington Patrick,
Committee.

SQUIRREL FOOD
By Arthur Cameron

There is a bull club being organized on the campus—even so.

E. L. Prewitt, of the College of Agriculture, who has charge of bull association work in Kentucky, will address the men at the next meeting. That's not bull!

"He who bets is a gambler.
"He who doesn't bet is no better.

He bought his smoking jacket at a fire sale.

A little boy had quite a cold
The weather it was hot.
I said, "Is that sweat upon your lip?"
He replied, "No sir it's not!"

"Mary had a swarm of bees
She loved their buzzing lives,
And they loved their Mary too
For their Mary had the hives."
