MAY FESTIVAL PROVES WONDERFUL SUCCESS; IS INTERESTING AFFAIR

Several Hundred Students Participate in Annual Event

HONOR FRATS PLEDGE 31

Alpha Xi Gets Trophy for Prettiest Float in Street Parade

Hundreds of students participated in the May Day Festival Friday which is an annual event but has never before been such an elaborate feature. Each year Arbor Day exercises are held, a popularity contest, and a May Day program, but never have they been fused into one glorious, happy holiday celebration. The success can be attributed to the co-operation of the various organizations, chiefly the Su-Ky Circle, Women's Administrative Council and the various classes.

The festivities began at 10:30 o'clock with Arbor Day exercises. Sidney Neal, Senior Class president, presided making a speech very appropriate to planting the dogwood tree, and each Senior threw in a spadeful of soil. C. M. C. Porter, Senior Class orator, presented the spade to the Junior Class, James Darnell, Junior Class orator, accepting.

Honor Frats Pledge

The honorary fraternities then held their pledge services. The Lamp and Cross men pledged ten Juniors and the Mortar Board, Senior woman's honorary fraternity, pledged twenty Junior women and Miss Maybelle

Many Events Have Been Planned by Various Student Organizations

Beginning at 1:30 o'clock Friday the Ag Society of the College of Agriculture will hold its annual Ag Day celebration, with J. T. Graham, president of the Ag Society, in charge. All student organizations of the college, including the Department of Home Economics, are co-operating to make the day a success.

Among the most important events will be an illustrated talk "Are Modern Clothes So Bad?" given by Miss Cornel. This talk will be illustrated by the work of the members of the Freshmen Home Economics Classes. A tea will be given by the members of the Home Ec Department in the Agriculture Building from 4:00 until 5:00 p. m., to which all students are invited.

At four-thirty various students of the Ag College under the direction of Mary Peterson and Burton Prewitt, will present a pageant, "The Progress of Agriculture."

A sheep shearing contest, greased pig contest, demonstration of driving a six-mule team will be among other events of the afternoon. Students in animal husbandry and farm engineering will demonstrate various work of their departments. Throughout the afternoon exhibits will be held displaying the work of the different departments of the college.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB GUESTS OF MT. STERLING HI

The University Glee Club, accompanied by their director, Prof. Carl Lampert, left Lexington immediately after May Day exercises Friday afternoon, enroute to Mt. Sterling where they performed that evening in the high school auditorium. The performance was splendid and the Glee Club was invited to return in the near future.

The people of Mt. Sterling showed their appreciation of the Glee Club's offering by being hosts to a dinner in the Home Economics Department at 5:30. A dance was given in the gymnasium, with music furnished by the high school orchestra.

ROMANY WILL PRESENT PLAY WEEK OF MAY 12

"The Merry Game" Has Well Balanced Cast Under Good Direction

The Romany Theatre will present "The Merry Game," an adaptation of Arthur Schnitzler's "Lilbelei," as its fourth production of the year during the week of May 12. Eight persons are included in the cast, most of whom have appeared in former productions of the theatre.

Professor Carol Sax is directing the play, assisted by Miss Mary Lyons of the class of 1923, who has recently returned from New York where, for several months, she has been with the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. The cast is as follows: Hans Vyring, a violinist at the city theatre, Marion Miller; Christine, his daughter, Margorie Warden; Tom, a milliner, Ida Kenney Risque; Catherine Binder, wife of a stocking maker, Lucille Stillwell; Fritz, Dan Morse; Theodore, James Davidson. Mr. Augustus Gay, who appeared in "Intimate Strangers," the last offering of the theatre, will probably interpret the part of "A Gentleman."

"The Merry Game" deals with the complicated love affairs of two University students and two town girls in the city of Vienna. Fritz, one of these students, is greatly sought after by the sophisticated wife of a very jealous husband. The boy is innocent, but his actions arouse the suspicions of the husband. In order to assist him, his best friend, Theodore, introduces him to Christine, a charming young girl

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY GIVES CONCERT SUNDAY

Program Especially Prepared For National Music Week

One of the most enjoyable concerts in the series being given by the Philharmonic Society of the University of Kentucky was presented in the Romany Theatre Sunday afternoon.

The program was especially prepared to usher in National Music Week, which is May 5 to 12. Professor Lampert made a short talk concerning this week, the object of which is to impress on every man, woman and child in the country the true meaning and value of good music in daily life. Music is no longer an art for a talented few, he said. There is no one who cannot become acquainted with the best music of the ages through the victrola, radio, and other modern agencies. Professor Lampert expressed the hope that the Philharmonic Society through its concerts might be a factor in bringing about a greater appreciation of good music in Lexington.

The program for the afternoon was as follows:

- Selection from "Carmen".....Bizet
 - Andante from "Surprise Symphony".....Hayden
 - Ballet.....Loecke
 - "Calm As the Night".....
 - "Songs My Mother Taught Me".....
 - Vocal Solos by Mr. Sam Adams
 - Valse Suite.....Brahms
 - "The Beautiful Galatea".....Von Suppe
- The vocal solos by Mr. Adams were a feature of the program and were greatly enjoyed.

FRESHMAN TRACK SQUAD ENTERED IN TOURNEY AT GEORGETOWN SATURDAY

First Year Men Have Excellent Chance to Win Victory

DAVIS TO START SPRINTS

Centre Expected to Capture Relay; Georgetown May Take Dashes

The University of Kentucky freshman track team goes to Georgetown Saturday afternoon for the second annual track meet between the freshmen aggregations of the University of Kentucky, Centre and Georgetown College.

Last year Kentucky's yearling squad brought back victory with them. This season, while they do not seem as strong as last year, they are expected to win first place in sufficient events to assure them of victory.

The relay is conceded to the Centre freshman team, for they took third place in the Georgia Tech games recently and are said to have four men on the team that make the quarter mile in better than 53 seconds. Georgetown is said to have a yearling sprinter of no mean ability who may take some of the sprint events.

Davis, formerly of the Louisville Male team which won the State championship, at the tenth annual interscholastic meet here last year, is one of the strongest men in the sprints that has been in the University for several years. He, together with Uncas Miller, has been working the 100 yards in trials this week in 9 and 7-10 seconds, which should be fast enough to take first place for the Kittens. Davis is

Alumni Notes

Editor—Alumni Secretary

CONTRACT FOR STADIUM IS GIVEN

On Saturday, May 1, the executive committee met and selected the bid of Louis des Cognets and Company for the construction of part of the stadium this year. The bid of the des Cognets Company was approved and recommended by the Alumni Stadium Committee of Engineers after a tabulation of all bids received on April 30.

Two of the bids received for the erection of eight sections were almost the same. The Clarke, Stewart and Wood Company submitted a bid of $149,650 for the construction of eight sections and Louis des Cognets and Company's bid for the same number of sections was $148,920, making des Cognets the low bidder in this case by $730. A third bid from the Turner Construction Company was for $204,384.

The funds in the hands of the building committee now are not sufficient to build the eight sections this year and bids were also submitted for the erection of five sections with the option of another if arranged before a certain date.

For the erection of five sections Louis des Cognets and Company offered to do the work for $100,000 and to build the sixth section if desired for $16,520. The company offered to assist in financing this section by carrying suitable collateral paper for a period of one, two and three years, and to contribute $1,000 towards the financing of this section. The offer includes cast iron seat supports for the section named and gives the Executive Committee until August 1 to decide whether the last section will be built this year.

Clarke, Stewart and Wood agreed to build the same five sections for $98,410 and to add the sixth section on the north side for the additional sum of $17,240 with collateral paper for one, two and three years.

After tabulating the two bids which were lowest the Stadium Committee recommended that the Executive Committee accept the bid of Louis des Cognets and Company for the construction of five sections with the cast iron seat supports, the work to be completed by October 1 and with the option of contracting for the last section by August 1.

J. I. Lyle, chairman of the building committee, agreed over long distance telephone to the recommendation of the rest of the committee and added that des Cognets be requested to put Maury Crutcher in charge of the work, which will be done.

Crutcher is a graduate of the class of '17 and a former captain of the Wildcats. It will please the Alumni to know that an old Wildcat star who is also an efficient engineer, will be in charge of the work.

The Stadium Building Committee will place a man on the grounds for inspection of the work, for the University authorities are determined that the stadium on Stoll Field shall be the best in the South and will take every precaution to see that it is what it should be.

Work on staking out the ground began last Tuesday and before long the dream of those who first saw the possibility of a stadium there will be on the way to realization, made possible by the loyalty of alumni in almost every state and in several countries.

One thing which has pleased the Executive Committee is the fact that no complaint of any member of the Association has reached them on the choice of the company to do the work.

HOME COMING PREPARATIONS

A number of letters have reached the office from members of the classes which hold reunions this year announcing that they will be here for the reunion. Assistant Dean W. E. Freeman, of the class of '04, recently sent the office a copy of a letter which he has mailed to every member of his class. He wrote:

"This is the year for the reunion of the 'Naughty Four' class. Let's make it a real 'humdinger.' The commencement exercises this year will be held as follows. Take a week-end off from business and join the bunch."

Charles E. Plank, permanent secretary of the class of '19, wrote that he had also mailed a letter to each member of the class of '19, urging them to get back for their first real reunion.

The classes which hold reunions this year are 1869, 1889, 1894, 1899, 1904, 1909, 1914, 1919 and 1921.

BALLOTS SENT OUT

Nominating Committee Prepares Slate of Officers for Next Year

The members of the Alumni Association before now have probably received the ballot for the annual election of the officers of the association. Four hundred and thirty-three ballots were mailed individually to members of the Association. The remainder will be furnished members through the officers of the local alumni clubs.

The ballot is prepared in the form of a slate, prepared by a nominating committee, in accordance with the custom of the Association and other organizations of this nature. In the event that there is another choice for any of the offices to which only one person is nominated a blank is left in which the name of the choice may be placed.

The ballot contains a small account of each nominee at the bottom of the page. All of the alumni nominated for office of the association this year have been intimately connected with the work of the Greater Kentucky Campaign this year and the nominating committee deemed it wise to maintain their services until they have completed the work they have started out to accomplish.

The Alumni Office hopes to receive the vote of every member by the first return mail after the ballot is received.

THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Last week the campus was the scene of the annual debating and track tournaments of the high schools of the state. The students of the University are to be commended for the interest they took in entertaining the visitors from the different high schools.

The high school students also deserve praise for the excellence of the work they did here and the gentlemanly conduct they maintained while in the city.

Many of the teams were trained by members of the Alumni Association who personally took charge of bringing their teams to Lexington. It was with genuine sorrow that the news of the death of Miles Austin Quirey, of Sturgis, was received. Two years he had attended the track meets of the high schools here and the nature of his work and the charm of his character had given the University officials with whom he came in contact the hope that by next year he would be listed among the students.

His death resulted from an automobile accident near Mitchell, Ind., while he was on his way home after the track meet last week.

To the other members of the high school debating and track teams the association extends appreciation of the good work they did while here and hopes to see as many of them as possible back next fall or the year after as students.

DATE FOR GRIDIRON SET

At a meeting last week of the active chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity, the date of the third annual gridiron dinner was set for Monday, June 9. In former years the dinner has always been held on the night of the first week of commencement. This year due to the fact that commencement and examinations are altogether it will not be possible to follow the former plan.

A letter received from Senator A. O. Stanley announced that the Kentucky Senator would be glad to attend the gridiron dinner if the date could be set June 9 or 10. Partly on this account and also because of the change of plans in commencement the fraternity named June 9 as the date.

The committees named to prepare the work this year includes both members of the active chapter and alumni members who are doing journalistic work on the Lexington papers. A list will be prepared by the committee in charge of invitations, but as the affair is primarily a University of Kentucky affair any alumnus or former student of the University who desires to attend the dinner is cordially invited to drop a card to the chapter or to any individual member of the fraternity and ask for a reservation. The fact that any man has attended the University makes him eligible for the affair.

FARQUHAR LECTURES ON PLAY, THE MERRY GAME

Explains Plot of German Comedy to Audience in Romany Theatre

Professor E. F. Farquhar lectured at the Romany Theatre Wednesday afternoon on the literary values and philosophy of Arthur Schnitzler as revealed in "The Mery Game," an adaptation of "Liebele," which will be presented at the Romany Theatre the week of May 12. The address was open to the public.

Professor Farquhar set forth the necessity of knowing a play before seeing it. He expressed the belief that every man sees himself in the place of every other man in the world. The chief business of life is self-realization, which can be attained only thru the mind. To really appreciate a play, one must know a little about it and thus relieve the mind of trivialities. The opportunity to do this is afforded by the little theatre.

Schnitzler wrote this play thirty years ago. It shows the advancement of European drama over America in delicacy. Professor Farquhar stated: "This play is not a drama; it is a poem." He explained that dramatic art is so developed that an author does not seek literary finish but leaves that problem to the actor. Schnitzler has exercised wonderful restraint and ability in what he has left out.

The speaker presented a brief outline of the play and detailed the principles it sets forth. All the characters except one are living on the principle of incongruities. To those who think life is a comedy; to those who feel, life is a tragedy. Christine, the character of chief interest in the play, feels deeply. The others do not feel; feeling has been ruled out of society, but in so doing, people have erred contrary to nature and are, therefore, incongruous.

All the characters center about Christine, who represents the principle of sincerity. The play ends in an exquisite way. It sets forth a bitter sweetness, which is always the highest beauty. "The bitterness will make the audience ache and the play will have a power which will flash back a principle which is needed in American life—the principle of sincerity."

BRINGING UP BABY

Six-year-old Walter's patience was at an end. "Mother," he demanded, "don't you want baby sister to be a good wife when she grows up?"

"Of course I do, dear."
"Well, then, why don't you start her right? You keep giving her my playthings just because she's a girl an' littler'n me, but you're a lot littler'n daddy, and yet every night when he comes home you jump out of the armchair and bring his slippers an' his magazine an' everything."

Before his surprised mother could frame a reply Walter swooped down and tore his favorite toy from the hands of the screaming baby.

"She'll be a terrible wife if we don't begin to train her," was his parting shot as he strode from the room, his treasure under his arm.—Boston Transcript.

NO SHOW FOR BAD NERVES

The road being narrow and dangerous, the guest was overjoyed to find his host a careful driver. As they gingerly climbed a treacherous incline another car shot by. The guest shivered.

"How foolish that man was to pass us on this precipice."

"Wasn't he?"
"Why did he want to risk his life like that?"

"Just wanted to show us he had a fast car," responded the careful driver. "But I'll show him."

And he proceeded to step on it.—Pittsburgh Sun.

EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT

Bumping into a pedestrian, a tourist slightly dented a fender.

Instantly stopping the car, the occupant climbed out and proceeded to examine the machine with great concern. He then turned to the pedestrian and asked: "Are you insured?"
"Yes."
"Good. So is the car."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AN UNSELFISH IDEA

A motorist speeding through a country neighborhood killed a hen. He stopped and prest a two-dollar bill into the hand of little Edna, who was on her way to neighbor Reed's. Edna ran and told her mother of her good fortune.

"Well," said the thrifty mother, "put the money in your bank and I will cut the hen's head off so we can eat her."
"Perhaps, mamma," said Edna thoughtfully, "as long as we have the money we had better let Reed's eat the hen. It was their hen."—Boston Transcript.

NATURALLY

The inquisitive old lady was bending over the bed of a wounded soldier whose head was swathed with cotton and linen.

"Were you wounded in the head, my boy?" she asked.

"No'm," replied a faint voice. "I was shot in the foot and the bandage has split up."—American Legion Weekly.

FAIR WARNING

She was a dainty young thing, dressed in the latest fashion, and as she tripped up the stairs the office boy gasped, then grinned, as she came to a standstill before him.

"Yes, miss?" he asked, rather impertinently.

"Could you tell me if Mr. Jenks is in?" she asked.

The boy nodded and pointed vaguely over his shoulder at the open door. The girl hesitated for a moment.

"Do you know if he is engaged?" she inquired.

The boy looked astonished.

"Engaged?" he almost shouted.

"Engaged! Why, he's married and got two kids!"—Pittsburgh Post.

SIGNS OF OLD TIMES

"Do you believe in evolution?"
"Well, I'm open to conviction, but whenever I travel on the subway I'm convinced that it hasn't started yet."—Life.

COMMENCEMENT

The new arrangement whereby Commencement exercises and ceremonies are to be held during examination week, affords an opportunity for all to attend the event. Heretofore the fact that Commencement was held a week after the close of the school session precluded attendance by a majority of the students.

The new plan is better in many ways. Some students have attended school three years and have never witnessed Commencement exercises. They will have this opportunity and undoubtedly will be impressed with the beauty and solemnity of the event. The baccalaureate sermon should be attended by all, faculty and students alike. The message to be delivered will be directed not only to the graduating class but to the other students as well.

A great many alumni and friends of the institution will return for Commencement. This will afford an opportunity to form new acquaintances and to renew old ones. After all, it is friendships formed while in college which mean most to one in his life's work. It is contact with the many and varied personalities that gives one a broader education and a better understanding of human nature. Commencement signifies the sealing of these bonds of friendship.

HIGH SCHOOL WEEK

Each year the reports of the annual High School Week show that it grows "better and better." This condition is not due to the efforts or doctrines of Coue, but to those of the Extension Department, under the direction of Wellington Patrick.

More students have participated in the debates and oratorical contests than ever before. The debating team from Hopkinsville captured the cup trophy, while the Louisville Girls' High School and the Highlands High School (boys) took the prizes in public discussion. The track meet was won by the Louisville Male High School, seconded by DuPont Manual of Louisville.

The High School Week does more than offer an opportunity for the high school students of the State to meet in competition; the event does more constructive advertising for the University than almost all other forces combined. The students who participate in the meets go back to their homes and in many cases come to the University to procure their college education. They tell others of the University, and in this manner are "living advertisements" for the institution.

THE MAY DAY FESTIVAL

The May Day Festival held last Friday was a complete success in every way. The Festival is to become a part of the life of the Institution, if present arrangements can be put into force. The event acted as a get-together influence, by which the students were thrown into contact with one another as had never been done before. The parade preceding the moving day exercises and the crowning of the May Queen brought to light much creative ability in the art of decoration.

The May Day Festival has served to bring the University into prominence wherever festivals are observed by schools, and at the same time it has offered a slight respite from school duties prior to the grind of examinations.

also entered in the 220 yard dash, the 440 yard run, the mile relay and the broad jump.

Little is entered in the 120 yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles, broad jump and mile relay. Braeme will run the mile and half mile and is entered in the two mile run, provided the event is on the card.

Akin is entered in the 440 yard run and is a member of the relay team. Souseley will enter the half mile, the 440 yard run, the pole vault and the relay team. Charlie Bob Morrow, of the freshman team from Centre, is expected to take first place in the pole vault, though Souseley has been going well and may surprise.

Walte is expected to show up well in the 880 yard run and may win it over his opponents from Centre and Georgetown. Wookey, one of the best all-round athletes that has entered the University for a number of years will probably win the shot put. A bad knee prevents him from taking part in football and other branches of athletics, at which he was very adept in high and prep school.

Taylor is the Green and White entry in the discus throw and javelin throw. Bowden will run the mile and half mile while Dunlap will be entered in the hurdles.

Cornell as an honorary faculty member.

The May Day parade in which forty-two gaily decorated floats participated was held at 1:30 o'clock. Forming on the campus the parade continued through the down town streets and back to the campus. The University Band in blue and white uniforms accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Marcia Lampert, led the parade. The May Queen, Miss Anne Shropshire, with her attendants, rode at the head of the line of march.

Alpha Xi Gets Trophy

The prize for the most beautifully decorated float was awarded to the Alpha Xi Delta fraternity. The float was very attractive representing a lavender and white basket and the girls who occupied the car were dressed in costumes representing various flowers. John Otley and Roscoe Cross were awarded the prize for the most comical characters. Otley was mounted on a huge mule representing "Hoot Mon" of Barney Google fame and Mr. Cross accompanied him in a Scottish kilt costume. Judges of the floats were Elbert Jones, John Cramer, Professor Carol Sax and Miss Anne Callihan.

Moving Day

Upon the return to the campus moving day exercises were held, opening with community singing by the audience. The ceremony of each class was preceded with the singing of its class song. W. C. Wilson, Alumni Secretary, welcomed the Seniors who are soon to become alumni. C. M. C. Porter made the speech for the Seniors welcoming the Juniors to the ranks of Seniors. Kenneth Tuggle made the speech for the Juniors, James McFarland for the Sophomores and Charles Walte for the Freshmen.

The most important event of the moving day exercises was the permission granted to the Freshmen to discard their brand of class rank. Blue caps have now disappeared not to return until next September.

A short recess followed during which time the students patronized the stands for the sale of sandwiches, ice cream and lemonade, which had been set up by the various classes.

May Queen Crowned

At 4:30 o'clock the May Queen was crowned. Sixty girls of the physical education classes took part in the program. Miss Shropshire's attendants were: Miss Virginia Seay, maid of honor, who took the place of Miss Grace Davis who could not attend, having sprained her ankle the morning of the event; Miss Ava Caywood, Mary Whitfield, Louise McCormick and Louise Atkins.

Girls taking part in the dances were: Genevieve Kelley, Jane Erle Middleton, Edna Lewis Wells, Mary Louise Norman, Mary Sullivan, Mary Williams, Elizabeth Hefferman Margaret Arnold, Lucile Coleman, Lurlence Bronaugh, Marie Beckner, Emily Holloway, Mabel Hill, Virginia Boyd, Pearl McCormick, Ruth Kehoe, Nellie Clay Corbin, Luanna Ramsey, Laura Harp, Jeanette Lalley, Anna Dell Schoonmaker, Elizabeth Miller and LaVerne Lester.

The program was concluded with a "gingham dance" held in the new basketball building from 9 to 12 p. m. This was an attractive affair and a fitting conclusion to the festivities of the day. The Blue and White orchestra and the Kappa Sigma fraternity orchestra furnished the music.

The students will be at their places in the shops and will be glad to show the visitors around. They invite all to come and look 'em over.

Poet's Rendezvous

Each week a prize of $2.00 will be given to the author of the poem that appears as the winner in this corner. All students are eligible and all poems must be in by Thursday in order to be judged for the issue of the succeeding week. Prize is donated by Professor Enoch Grehan.

LIFE

(Second Choice)

There is no death!
One day I shall walk through the

And at the end of winding gleaming

streets,
I'll find a little cottage unfamiliar,
new,
Yet with the sweetness of remembered things about it.
And you will meet me on the threshold, tender, loving, dear
As ever yet in earth days ages past;
And entering, you will rest awhile
In the sweet silence of fulfilled dreams.

All this will be dear heart.
Mayhap above the still, eternal stars
We shall live and love and laugh again.

—KATHERINE ELLIOTT

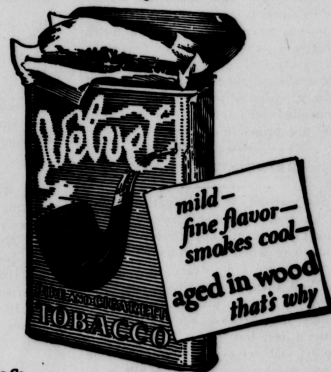

The poems this week were judged by Professor Farquhar.

We have done our level best to make a tobacco that tastes just right.

We bought, for making Velvet, the best leaf tobacco that grows in the famous blue-grass section of Kentucky, and then slowly and thoroughly aged it in wood.

Ageing in wood takes more time and costs us lots more money, but it makes Velvet mild and mellow and gives it fine flavor.

Remember—Velvet, aged in wood.

KENTUCKY HALLS ECHO WITH DECLAMATIONS OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Three Hundred Boys and Girls Visit University for Contests

TROPHIES GIVEN VICTORS

Louisville, Highlands, Dry Ridge, Danville and Hopkinsville Are Winners

The University of Kentucky was host to over three hundred high school boys and girls from the largest high schools of Kentucky last week in the eleventh annual interscholastic forensic and track tournament, under the direction of the Department of University Extension, which has fostered the tournament from its first year of existence.

The annual "high school week" at the University was instituted in order to give Kentucky high school boys and girls a broader view of education. The University is fostering these contests not only for this reason but for the purpose of raising the standard of public speaking in the State.

Louisville Girl Wins

Wednesday, April 30, marked the first day of the tournament. The Public Discussion contests were booked for this day and in the girls' finals held Wednesday night in the University chapel, Miss Lael Tucker, of the Louisville Girls' High School, with her subject of "Movie Censorship," won over four opponents, who survived the preliminaries earlier in the morning. Miss Mary Allen Steers, of Williams-town, won second place with the subject, "Education in Kentucky."

Highlands Scores

Mr. Wayne Listerman, of the Highlands High School, Ft. Thomas, won first place in the boys' finals with James L. Nolan, of St. Xavier High School, Louisville, second. Mr. Listerman chose for his subject, "The Defects of the World Court," while his opponent spoke on "The Proposed Bond Issue and What It Means for Kentucky." Reese Weber, of Hopkinsville, whose subject, "A Public Office Is a Public Trust," and Wilson Burkes, of Horse Cave, who spoke on "Restriction of Immigration," were also contestants in the finals.

Dry Ridge Orator Wins

On Thursday, Charles Blaine, of Dry Ridge, won first place in the Kentucky high school oratorical contest, taking as his subject, "Patrick Henry's Oration Before the Virginia Assembly." Arthur Cox, of the Lexington Senior High School, won second place with his oration on "Public Men and Morals." Robert J. Breckinridge, of the Lexington Herald, presented the W. C. F. Breckinridge silver loving cup for oratory to Mr. Blaine as a token of his victory.

Loving Cup to Danville

Miss Kathleen Montgomery, representative of the Danville High School, was the victor over her opponents in declamation on the same day. Her subject was "Bobby Shaftoe." Miss Montgomery is the daughter of Dr. R. Ames Montgomery, president of Centre College. Miss Eleanor Huber, of the Louisville Girls' High School, was awarded second choice by the judges. Her subject was, "The Man Who Opens Eyes." Miss Montgomery was presented with a silver loving cup, emblematic of her victory.

Preliminaries in debate were also held on Thursday in the different rooms and halls of the University and eight teams were eliminated. Sixteen were entered.

Louisville Wins Debate

On Friday, the second preliminaries in debate were held in the morning and the finals were held in the University Chapel on Friday night. The Hopkinsville team was returned the winner over the team from Somerset in the contest on the question of, "Resolved, That the system of direct primary nomination is preferable to that of nomination by caucus and convention." Members of the winning team were: Edwin Willis, Leonard Pollard and Sheldon Y. Trimble, Jr. The team upheld the negative side of the question.

At the conclusion of the debate, Wellington Patriek, director of extension at the University, presented the Lexington Leader cup to the winning team. This cup has been won by the Lexington High School, the Madisonville High School and the Dry Ridge High School in previous years.

The forensic meet this year was declared to be the best by far of any tournament held at the University and was characterized by good sportsmanship. High class speaking was manifested throughout, indicating that expert coaches are getting behind the speakers.

Contestants returned to their homes at the close of the debate and interest was centered on the field and track meet, the results of which are in the sports column, which was concluded Saturday.

HENRY CAVENDISH

1731-1810

English chemist and physicist, of whom Biot said, "He was the richest of the learned and the most learned of the rich. His last great achievement was his famous experiment to determine the density of the earth."

He first made water from gases

Henry Cavendish, an eccentric millionaire recluse, who devoted his life to research, was the discoverer of the H and the O in H₂O. In fact he first told the Royal Society of the existence of hydrogen.

He found what water was by making it himself, and so became one of the first of the synthetic chemists.

Cavendish concluded that the atmosphere contained elements then unknown. His conclusion has been verified by the discovery of argon and other gases.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have found a use for argon in developing lamps hundreds of times brighter than the guttering candles which lighted Cavendish's laboratory.

In this age of electricity the General Electric Company has blazed the trail of electrical progress. You will find its monogram on the giant generators used by lighting companies; and even on the lamps and little motors that mean so much in the home. It is a symbol of useful service.

Play Richmond, Harlan and Pineville on Annual Excursion

The Strollers of the University of Kentucky left Wednesday afternoon for Richmond, where they will play Wednesday night. After the performance they will leave for Harlan, where they will give a performance of "Seventeen" Thursday night. While in Harlan a dance will be given for the members of the cast, at the opening of the new hotel in that city.

Friday night the organization plays at Pineville, where the citizens and alumni of the University will entertain with a dance in their honor. They expect to return to Lexington Saturday and because of time limit were forced to abandon their plans to play Middlesboro.

This is the fourth annual trip of the Strollers into the mountains, where they are always given a hearty welcome, especially by the alumni of the University, who always make plans for their amusement and comfort. Miss Margie McLaughlin will accompany the Strollers as chaperone.

That's how you spell "electrical industry"

The electrical industry must have trained engineers, but its needs have broadened out beyond one group. Today this industry offers opportunity to men of virtually all professions.

Whatever the course you are now pursuing, whatever the degree you take and whether you go on to graduate study, you will find a market for your training in this field with its vast manufacturing and commercial activities.

But what will impress you even more than this diversity of opportunity is the golden promise for the future of electricity. Great now, it will be greater tomorrow—as great as you men choose to make it.

Think of this as still an industry for young men, with much of its potential development uncharted. If you like to build, electricity is your field. From now till graduation we suggest it will be worth your while to investigate its possibilities.
