

Panhell, IFC Announce Rush Plans

Fraternity Rush To Be Informal; McCullough New Vice-President

Charles McCullough, DTD, has been elected to the vice-presidency of the Interfraternity Council to fill out the unexpired term of resigning Randy Duppes.

Duppes, who is also president of the Triangle fraternity and prominent in many campus activities, submitted his resignation to the Council at their last regular meeting. He said that due to the fact that he will not be in school next semester and is entering the army he must tender his resignation.

The Council also approved a two week informal rush program for the forthcoming semester. The rush period is scheduled to begin with an IFC party for all male independents at Donovan Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Dean Leslie L. Martin will speak to the independents during the informal party about UK fraternities. Refreshments and entertainment are also planned.

Council members explained that men who have signed up for either formal or informal rush during the first semester plus anyone who signs up during the informal rush period from February 7-21 are eligible for pledging. New men may sign up during registration at the IFC table or at tables located in Donovan Hall.

The rules governing this informal period stipulate that no fraternity may pledge more than 20 men. Also, no fraternity may pledge a man during the first week of the rush period.

The Council also went on record as supporting a motion that student entrance exam grades be made available to any fraternity that desires them in order to check on prospective pledges.

Sorority Rush Also Is Informal Affair

Panhellenic has announced that sorority rush this semester will be informal. Rush dates are Feb. 6 through Feb. 25, which is Bid Day. Silence will be observed during this period as in formal rush.

New rules for this rush period are: no oral bidding, rushing on the telephone counts as a contact, no girl can be invited to a second function until the first function is completed, no preference night, no slumber parties after and including Feb. 19, a maximum of five contacts with a girl by a sorority, and contacts on Friday, Feb. 24 must not exceed one and one-half hours.

If any group wants to have a party for the rushees, it must be scheduled through Miss Bruce Cruise at the Student Union Building. Five or more rushees at one time constitutes a party.

All sororities on campus have vacancies, but it is not known just how many will participate in informal rush. At present there are 47 girls signed up for rush and three or four more are expected to be added to the list.

There will be a meeting of rushees Feb. 7 at 4 p.m. in the Student Union Building.

Kentuckian Queen Candidates And Dance Date Announced

The Kentuckian Queen will be chosen at 8 p.m., Feb. 17, in Memorial Hall. Each year the Kentuckian Queen is chosen in an annual contest, which is designed to pick the prettiest girls on campus to represent the school in the yearbook.

The announcement of the queen will be made at the Kentuckian Dance to be held on Feb. 18 at the Student Union Ballroom.

This year, for the first time, the fraternities were asked to submit candidates. Of the 32 Greek organizations on campus, 27 candidates have been named for this year's contest.

The girls will be judged in formals by a panel of four judges at Memorial Hall. The judges will also talk with the girls as a group in order to rate personality.

The Kentuckian Queen contest and dance is one of the oldest affairs on the campus, having its beginning about 1919. The dance was first organized to help raise revenue for the yearbook. The queen contest was started to attract interest in the dance.

At first the finalists in the Kentuckian Queen contest were chosen by popular vote of all the students enrolled in school. For several years six girls were chosen but none of them was named queen.

1925 was the last year that the girls were chosen by popular vote and in 1926 a contest was held selecting six "beauties" and 21 "favorites". During these years pictures were taken of the candidates and these were sent to a judge for his choice. The 1931 contest was judged by the famous showman, Earl Carroll of New York's "Vanity" fame.

Some of the letters received from the judges indicate the way in which the girls were chosen. One person commented, after being shown the pictures, that he had selected a certain girl because she "shows the greatness of beauty from the standpoint of fine chiseled features and personality. Miss 3370 shows soul and depth of feeling. She has a wealth of beautiful hair and a pair of fine penetrating eyes."

Other judges concluded that the pictures which had been submitted to them proved that Kentucky led all states in the true meaning of the beauty of American womanhood.

There is no evidence until 1934 of a queen and court being chosen. Up to this time it was just a group of girls representing the campus. Then in 1936 the title of "Kentuckian Beauty Queen" was given to the winner. She was later known as "Queen of the Beauties" until 1941 when the title was shortened to the "Kentuckian Queen".

The judging and judges have varied widely on the contest with many fashion experts and show-

UK Frats Nations Best Scholastically

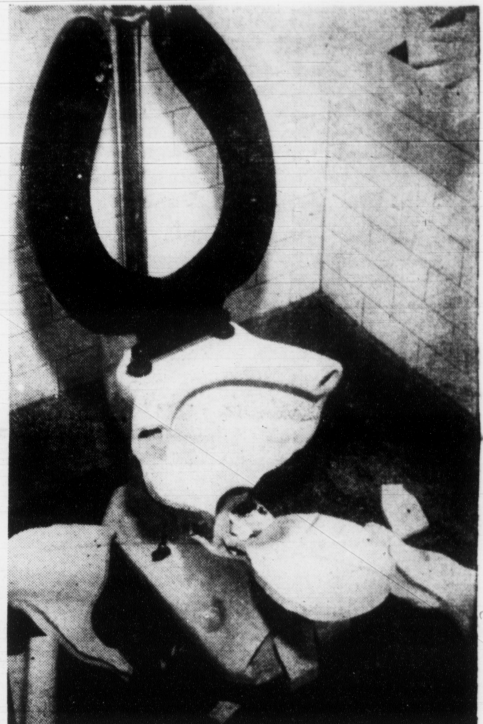

UK fraternities lead all other fraternity systems in scholarship among the nation's state universities reports the College Fraternity Scholarship Processing grading system.

Colonel Ralph W. Wilson, executive director of the CFSP, says the UK fraternity system holds the number one position for the school year 1954-55 based on a standard measurement of all state universities.

UK fraternities jumped from 25th among the state universities in 1952 to first this year. Col. Wilson says this improvement is phenomenal because most other university systems have improved also.

Parking Permits

All persons who now have parking permits or who desire parking permits must apply at the Dean of Men's Office from Monday, Jan. 23 through Friday, Jan. 27 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Vandalism!

Local officials are still searching for the vandals who placed a small explosive in one of the fixtures in Kinkead Hall Monday night. The delayed-fuse cracker completely shattered the fixture. Officials estimated the damage at more than $50.

Explosives Used In Dorm Vandalism

Two acts of vandalism have disrupted the men's residence halls during the past 10 days. Both involved the use of explosives.

A fixture was destroyed in Bradley Hall last week. Another was demolished on the second floor of Kinkead Hall Monday night.

As yet, University officials do not know who the vandals are or what type of explosive was used.

Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin termed the incident "premeditated vandalism." The Dean said this rowdiness marred a "nearly other-wise perfect" record of behavior in the men's dormitories this year.

Martin theorized that only a few men were involved in the incident, and that not over a dozen students had caused serious trouble in the residence halls this semester.

The Dean attributed the outbreaks to "a carry over from high school gangdom."

The Monday night blast occurred at 10:15. Students living near the bath said they heard several persons running down the hall shortly before the explosion.

One student said the explosion sounded like a dynamite cap going off. Another thought it was a bed being dropped from the floor above. Many students on adjoining floors were awakened by the blast.

Pieces of a match box were scattered across the floor amid the debris of the fixture.

Some observers concluded the explosive used to destroy the fixture was a large waterproof fire cracker. Others believed the explosive to be a homemade, powder-filled matchbox.

Dean Martin said the vandals will be immediately dismissed from the University when caught. The Dean also said the administration may call in city police since the incident involves a felony.

Howard Stephenson, dormitory director, when asked if he had any idea who the culprits are, said, "I have no idea—your guess is as good as mine."

Queen of Queens

All Campus Sing Dates Announced

All Campus Sing, sponsored by Phi Beta, Phi Mu Alpha, Mortar Board, and ODK, will be held March 22, 23, and 24 in Memorial Hall. A dance following the finals on March 24 will be held in the SUB. Details of the dance are still indefinite at the present time.

This year there will be two men's divisions; one for quartets and one for larger groups. Each men's group is urged to enter both a quartet and a chorus but the quartets are especially emphasized. There will be one women's division as usual.

Songs may be selected from nearly any category and may include folk songs, spirituals, fraternity songs, pop tunes, light opera, etc. The names of the selections must be turned in before Feb. 21. Letters and entry blanks will be sent out to the organizations next

Air Force Gives $22,297 To UK

The University of Kentucky's Aeronautical Research Laboratory is beginning a new series of oil tests for airplane engines. The project was made possible under a $22,297 research contract just received from the U. S. Air Force. Dr. Karl O. Lange, associate director of the UK Engineering Experiment Station, and Dr. Merl Baker, director of the Kentucky Research Foundation, announced the project Monday of this week. UK officials said the contract was awarded by the Power Plant Laboratory, Fuel & Oil Branch, Wright Air Development Center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

The UK laboratory got a contract three years ago to build an engine which could test only one cylinder of an aircraft engine. Robert E. Beavers, former supervisor of the laboratory, directed the installation and early experiments with the one-cylinder engine.

O. W. Stewart, research engineer at the laboratory, will be the project engineer under the new contract. Stewart had also assumed direction of the one-cylinder project when Beavers departed two years ago.

week. Independent groups are eligible to participate and are urged to enter an ensemble.

The men's preliminaries will be held on Thursday, March 22 at 7:30 p.m. The women's preliminaries are on Friday, March 23 at 7:30 p.m. and the finals are on Saturday, March 24 at 8 p.m. Six trophies will be presented.

VIVE LE POPCORN!

The other day as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil (Philip Morris, incidentally, has the best tinfoil, which is not surprising when you consider that they have the best cigarettes, which is not surprising when you consider that they buy the best tobaccos and the best paper and put them together with skill and loving care and rush them to your tobacco counter, fresh and firm and loaded with gentle smoking pleasure to lull the palate and beguile the senses and shoo the blues) the other day, I say, as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil (I have, incidentally, the second largest ball of tinfoil in our family. My brother Eleanor's is bigger—more than four miles in diameter—but, of course, he is taller than I.) the other day, as I was saying, while walking down the street picking up tinfoil, I passed a campus and right beside it, a movie theatre which specialized in showing foreign films. "Hmmm," I said to myself, "I wonder how come so many theatres which specialize in showing foreign films are located near campuses?"

And the answer came right back to me: "Because foreign films are full of culture, art, and esoterica, and where is culture more rife, art more rampant, and esoterica more endemic than on a campus? Nowhere, that's where!"

I hope that all of you have been taking advantage of the foreign film theatre near your campus. Here you will find no simple-minded Hollywood products—full of treacly sentiment and machine-made bravura. Here you will find life itself—life in all its grimness, its poverty, its naked, raw passion!

Have you, for instance, seen the recent French import, Le Jardin de Ma Tante ("The Kneecap"), a savage and uncompromising story of a man named Claude Parfum, whose consuming ambition is to get a job as a meter reader with the Paris water department? But he is unable, alas, to afford the flashlight one needs for this position. His wife, Bon-Bon, sells her hair to a wigmaker and buys him a flashlight. Then, alas, Claude discovers that one also requires a leatherette bow-tie. This time his two young daughters, Caramel and Nougat, sell their hair to the wigmaker. So Claude has his leatherette bow-tie, but now, alas, his flashlight battery is burned out and the whole family, alas, is bald.

Or have you seen the latest Italian masterpiece, La Donna E Mobile ("I Ache All Over"), a heart shattering tale of a boy and his dog? Malvolio, a Venetian lad of nine, loves his little dog with every fibre of his being. He has one great dream: to enter the dog in the annual dog show at the Doge's palace. But that, alas, requires an entrance fee, and Malvolio, alas, is penniless. However, he saves and scrimps and steals and finally gets enough together to enter the dog in the show. The dog, alas, comes in twenty-third. Malvolio sells him to a vivisectionist.

Or have you seen the new Japanese triumph, Kibutsi-San ("The Radish"), a pulse-stirring historical romance about Yamoto, a poor farmer, and his daughter Ethel who are accosted by a warlord on their way to market one morning? The warlord cuts Yamoto in half with his samurai sword and runs off with Ethel. When Yamoto recovers, he seeks out Ethel's fiancé, Chutzpah, and together they find the warlord and kill him. But, alas, the warlord was also a sorcerer and he has whimsically turned Ethel into a whooping crane. But loyal Chutzpah takes her home where he feeds her fish heads for twenty years and keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman. She never does. Alas.

The makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, hope that if there's smoking in the balcony of your campus theatre, it will be today's new, gentle Philip Morris you'll be smoking.

Mature Behavior

Earlier this year the Kernel wrote an editorial about student responsibility to the University, emphasizing the need for mature behavior among the men and women at UK.

Evidently the editorial didn't help much because there was an outbreak of destructive rowdiness in the men's dorms last week.

Two fixtures, one in a Bradley Hall bath and another in a Kinkead Hall bathroom, were blown up. Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin estimated the damage at a $100.

This alone makes the vandalism a penitentiary offense. It doesn't account for the possibility that someone might have been injured by the explosions. A boy could have easily stepped in the bathroom just as the power crackers exploded. The chances are he would have been hurt.

As pointed out in the first editorial, obnoxious conduct like this reflects on the University as much as on the individual.

But the attitude of the "innocent" students is even more serious than the behavior of the half dozen boys involved in the rowdiness.

The administration has not been able to stop the vandalism because the other students will not reveal who the offenders are. This is the same as condoning what has happened.

This is not a minor infraction. Property has been destroyed, and the reputation of the University has been smudged.

It's time to act like adults. The old high school code of loyalty to rule violators is childish and should be discarded. Let's be men and women.

Limited Leaders

Possibly the poorest suggestion brought before Student Government Association this year was the one to limit the number of offices or positions a student may hold.

The suggestion was brought to the assembly by Dean of Men L. L. Martin. Dean Martin said that it had been called to his attention that some students held a good deal of campus offices and were sacrificing their grades as a result. He said that many other schools had provisions limiting the number of offices a student could hold.

Undoubtedly presented to the assembly in good faith, Dean Martin's suggestion was not one that would benefit either the University or its student leaders. A few—a very few—will assume more duties than they are able to handle. However, real leaders know their capacity as both students and office-holders. They will not "bite off more than they can chew."

If it is true that one or two students have sacrificed their grades for offices, it is lamentable. In general, though, the University has been best served by the all-around leader—the person who is not afraid of added responsibility.

Barring some scattered exceptions, the old proverb "if you want something done, get a busy man to do it," still applies. A true leader and office-holder is the kind of person most people like to depend upon for more than one job.

Surely it would be ridiculous for SGA or any other group to limit the number of offices a person could hold. If the talent is unlimited, why limit the goals? Of course there may arise the problem of the overzealous student that tries to take on too many positions. This is bad—but it would be much worse to limit the potentiality of the real student leaders. It is a silly thing to cut off one's nose to spite the face.

SGA quickly disposed of the suggestion to limit the number of offices open to a student by simply bringing it up for discussion and then dropping it. It is good that SGA made no motion to carry out the limit on leadership. Just because there will be mistakes in leadership, no one expects limitation of the phases of it.

Force Eating

Compulsory eating in the Donovan Hall cafeteria has been one of the major topics of debate among freshman and sophomores this year.

The discussion participants are new, but the problem is not. When first the idea of compulsory breakfasts and suppers in Donovan Hall was made known, there was a flurry of protest. Many fraternities prophesied doom to their commissaries and kitchens. Other groups said it was wrong to tell a young man where to eat his meals.

Despite all the arguments, the compulsory meal program was inaugurated last September. All freshmen and the sophomores living in the dorms ate their morning and evening meals at Donovan. Naturally there was much disagreement between the students and the faculty. Being told where and when to eat day after day is certainly one of the greatest losses of freedom.

A recent student survey (conducted by the Parliamentary Procedure class at UK) revealed that many residents and meal-eaters at Donovan Hall are dissatisfied with the present set up.

The compulsory rule seldom works out in anything; perhaps SGA could set up a committee to investigate the problem and solve an unhealthy—and growing—situation at the University today.

IFC Party

The best way to sell a product is to present it to the public. The Interfraternity Council obviously had this fact in mind when it made plans to hold a party for independents February 7.

Greeks and independents are both factions that form the University. The IFC is not trying to condemn the philosophy of remaining independent with its forthcoming policy, it is merely trying to show that fraternities offer many advantages to all types of male students.

Planned as an informative party, the IFC event will be no "high pressure" gathering of fraternity men. In effect, the IFC believes its has a good product to sell—and it wants to show it to the students.

Kernel Condemned

Dear Sir,

The Kernel is the most spineless, gutless, and cowardly paper in the nation. It has consistently refused to take a firm stand on any issue this year. In fact it has violated all the rules of good journalism. To my knowledge it has covered up facts detrimental to the administration in at least six stories this fall. In fact it is worse than last year's Kernel, and that's pretty bad!

The Kernel has degenerated to nothing more than a cheap advertising sheet embroidered with a few dull stories.

And may I ask you one question: do you have to be a journalism major to be Colonel of the Week? Your biased attitude on this matter is sickening. Probably journalism students are the least qualified people on campus to be Colonel of the Week. This includes journalism professors.

Your Barf column and the sports section have one thing in common—they both stink. I might add that the Workshop is loose-mouthed drivel.

The editorials suggest that the writers are psychologically unbalanced. No one but a complete idiot would write trash like the Kernel editorials.

The only worthwhile thing to appear in the paper this year was the short paragraph about Stylus. This so-called literary magazine is the only publication in the state worse than the Kernel.

Revoltingly yours,

Law School Prestige Rises Under Stahr

By MOIRA QUINN
 "We're not ranked like football teams, but we're rated in the top fourth of law schools in the nation."
 The progress of the University of Kentucky Law School was described in these words by its amiable, well-groomed dean, Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., under whose direction the school's prestige has increased considerably.

Stahr, also Provost of the University, is especially proud of the record of the UK College in the six-year-old National Moot Court Competition. Up to this fall, only five other law schools in the entire nation had made a record as good as UK's in attaining the final rounds in New York three times in the first five years. "This record," said Stahr, "is equaled by only three other schools in the nation."

When questioned about any particular problems he encounters in the Law School, he said "We have no more here than in any other law school. We have a fine faculty, an excellent library, and publish a high-grade law journal."

Appointed dean of the school in 1948, Stahr modestly claims no credit for his advancement. He says "I claim no credit for these things because the ground work was laid over a period of many years."

"Everything that has been achieved," he continued, "has been through joint efforts of our faculty. We've always had good co-operation from the University and the students."

Dean Stahr's popularity is balanced by his numerous and outstanding achievements in the scholastic, military, and civic fields. A University student from 1932-1936, he maintained a scholastic standing of straight A's. But in spite of this brilliant record the Dean did not spend his entire college life behind a textbook.

Among many of his extra-curricular activities, he was president of Sigma Chi Fraternity, president of his senior class, and president of Phi Beta Kappa. He was co-captain of the varsity tennis and debate teams, cadet colonel of AFROTC, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Lances, Lamp and Cross, Pershing Rifles, and winner of the Sullivan Medallion and a Rhodes Scholarship.

Upon graduating, Stahr traveled to Oxford University where he studied law for three years and received three more degrees.

Returning to the states, he became engaged in a successful law practice in New York City, but was interrupted by the call to military service. In four years, spent mostly in the Far East, he was decorated five times and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the infantry.

Dean Stahr left New York in 1947 to join the faculty of the University Law College as an associate professor, leaving behind the presidency of the Greater New York Alumni Association of UK. The next year he was declared a full professor and put at the head of the Law School.

He was honored soon afterwards by being named one of the "Nation's Ten Outstanding Young Men" by a committee which included Dwight D. Eisenhower, then president of Columbia University.

The year 1949 saw Stahr appointed to the Constitution Review Commission by Governor Earle Clements and in 1952 he was reappointed by Governor Lawrence Wetherby.

In 1951 he was given a leave of absence by the University to serve as full-time special assistant to the Secretary of the Army. While holding this position he acted as liaison between the Army and special committees and organizations and represented the Army in the Congressional hearings on the Reserve Act.

Another honor, perhaps one of the most significant, was bestowed on him on July 1, 1954, when he was designated the first Provost of the University. As Provost, Stahr says his principal duty is "trying to interpret the University to the public."

Presently, he is heading the Committee for the University budget request for increase in operating appropriations. This request is three-fold in that it calls for increases in salaries, staff, and new equipment.

Not only has Dean Stahr helped his University, but he has been a tremendous asset to the community. His local activities have included the presidency of the Lexington Rotary Club, chairman of the Board of UK Library Associates, a member of the Greater Lexington Committee, chairman of the Governor's Committee on Rehabilitation of the Handicapped, and a member of the Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee for Kentucky.

Stahr expounded the achievements of the University not so long ago with a lengthy article in the December 18 issue of the Lexington Herald-Leader. The article was also used by him as the basis for a recent speech delivered in Louisville.

Splat! Right In The Kisser

Stone her! Stone her! The cry went up from the ranks. Sissy Wile, however, succeeded in evading the errant missiles of Moira Quenn, until clobbered by the one seen-in-flight. Said Miss Wile after the battle was over: "I don't see what she got so mad about. All I did was steal her bottle."

The Workshop

Old Proprietor Casts Predictions And Some Comments On Past Year

By RAY HORNBACK

Each year about this time, fearless prognosticators arrive upon the scene to predict the happenings of the new year. And in turn, mad recappers recall the happenings of the year just past.

The Workshop proprietor is going to steal the thunder from both groups this week by looking at the new year and occasionally taking a glance in retrospect at the year just past.

First of all, it is our sincere hope that we can grow large enough to respect and view with an open mind the ideas, opinions and beliefs held by others.

We turn next toward the Student Government Association. Judgment won't be passed at this point, but we do hope the student governing group of 30 or so representatives will record a more enviable list of accomplishments the second semester than were listed the first.

And while on SGA, it would be fine (and somewhat surprising) to see some of the promising planks on the party platforms during the last election carried out.

It's the same old gripe in this corner concerning campus honoraries, both male and female. We admit key collections are quite fabulous, but we would like to see several honoraries arise from their dead ends of last semester and prove their worth.

A prediction . . . After seeing Dayton, the University of Louisville, Utah, San Francisco and UCLA, we feel a physically sound Big Blue can walk away with all the round ball honors this year.

Looking back at the last six days of 1955, we commend John Ed Pearce on his series of revealing articles on the University which were seen in the Louisville Courier-Journal. While we don't hold forth with everything Pearce had to say, we do hope the state legislators were thoroughly impressed with the needs of the University as pointed out by the Courier editorial writer.

We also commend and envy the fellows who "borrowed" old "Smoky" from the University of Tennessee campus. It was good to see the Tennessee fans futilely itching to get their blue tick hound back in the Volunteer state. (We heard rumors that several of the dog's captors were in an "itchy" state for several days after the abduction.)

Another prediction . . . you fellows who blew up the commode in the men's dormitories Monday night—we hear through the grapevine that officials are about to flush you out.

And to University officials, we still feel you let the student body down when you turned thumbs down on the proposal to revamp the Little Commons into a "night-time grill." The proposal was one of the finest to come out of the Leadership Conference.

A final prediction . . . The fellow who stole my copy of Stylus several weeks ago will return the thing after reading several of the choice selections. (Note to the thief: Your thieving talents are being put to waste. Also, you may keep the thing.)

Barf!

Every time, year in and year out, it never fails. Stylus hits the "band," and the campus rages over the fight on whether or not the magazine is worth the paper it is printed on. The greatest beef, however, seems to come from the manufacturers of Great Northern Tissue. They claim Stylus is ruining their sales.

Barf's prediction for the coming year: due to the admission price to last week's Mardi Gras, the Newman Club will hold the next affair at the Cow Palace. For students who attended this year, barrels will be the dress of the day. To the older ruling staff of The Kentucky Engineer: congratulations on your choice of humor—it takes me back to the good old days of the humor magazine. And keep struggling—you're running Stylus a close second.

Want A Ride?

Laura Weinman, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma, won the sorority division prize in the Mardi Gras costume contest with "Carousel."

Come On In

Delta Tau Delta captured first place in the Mardi Gras costume contest with "Queen of the Mardi Gras." Hampton Barnett is the "queen."

THE PARTY LINE by Christie Vandergrift

Tips For The Coming Week On How To Scope Those Finals

Well, with those nasty ole finals just as real as the possibility of flunking them, it is high time to work out a foolproof system of beating the system. The best and most concrete way to pass any test is to obtain a copy of it beforehand. This may not prove as hard as you think. All you need is a good strong flashlight, a good strong constitution, and a good strong shot of top grain alcohol to bolster your courage as you surreptitiously prowls amongst the trash cans on the night before quizzes.

If this method fails, fear not, never give up hope for there are many more avenues open to the crafty. It is possible that the files at the chapter house may have your golden key to wisdom. It shouldn't take many hours of rooting through these yellow, dogeared, antiquated vestiges of forgotten knowledge in order to "spot" the instructor and come up with an insurance policy for a sure "A."

If the trash can fails and the files fail, you still have an alternative of sleeping on your textbooks in hope that osmosis will absolve you from doing any mental gymnastics. Most people get better results by first stripping off the book covers, the pillow cases and getting a haircut just before retiring. Such precautions make it easier for the learning to seep through.

So far, we have been discussing the various ways to get smart before exams. There is also much a student can do to help himself on the day of the quiz.

First, stay up late the night before exams and cram. This serves a twofold purpose: it makes you more familiar with the material on the quiz and second, it will make you enjoy a relaxing, sounder sleep.

Never report to the quiz on time. This not only disturbs the professor, who was not expecting it, but it also creates confusion among the students who are early. Play it safe and come in ten or fifteen minutes late.

Bring plenty of nourishment to your quizzes. After all, those nasty things are two hours long and you aren't expected to just sit there and starve. Never bring more than one pencil to a test. If you do, someone will always be trying to borrow your extra.

At the end of the exam, be sure and personally say goodbye to each and every member of the class and wish them better luck next semester. On leaving the exam, it is usually a prudent move to clue the instructor in on how he could improve his teaching. This shows him you are interested and he may invite you to take the course over the next semester just for kicks.

One closing remark, if all else fails, try studying.

German Books
Now On Display
In King Library

An exhibition of approximately 150 German books, representing the best typographic design in that country during the past decade, is on display at the UK Margaret I. King Library.

Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, director of libraries at UK, announced that the contemporary book design show will be of interest to local persons who viewed a modern German bookbinding exhibition at the library two years ago.

Like the other display, this exhibit will be shown widely throughout the nation. After a tour of the middle west and the west coast this year, the current display will be shown at the University of North Carolina Library and the University of Georgia Library early in 1957.

The show was brought together by the Borsenverein des Deutschen Buchhandels in Frankfurt, Germany, on the basis of the annual selections of the best German books. This competition is equivalent to the annual American Institute of Graphic Arts Show.

New Courses In Agriculture

A new course, "Agriculture Around the World", will be offered here next semester. The course will apply to students in agriculture, geography, economics, and history.

UK is the first college in the United States to offer this course although many colleges are considering it. The course is open to all students in the University without prerequisite.

The main purpose of the class is to discuss the different kinds of agriculture in the world. Special emphasis will be placed on the crops and livestock of the more important agricultural countries.

Prof. L. J. Horlacher of the College of Agriculture will instruct the class. He will discuss his travels through the Middle East, Europe, New Zealand, and Australia.

"Today we need to know about the rest of the world and how agricultural problems in other countries effects the agriculture of the United-States," said Prof. Horlacher.

TEAMWORK + NEW IDEAS = CRUSADER

THE development of a new airplane such as the Crusader, the World's Fastest Navy Fighter, cannot be credited to any one engineer. Each engineer, however, is invaluable because this truly new high-performance airplane is only the final result of the creative thought and teamwork of a large number of engineers.

The individual ideas of each engineer are most important. In aircraft design, the time lag between discovery and the utilization of knowledge is extremely short, shorter perhaps than in any other major industry. The solutions to the most stimulating problems which arise in the industry are frequently dependent upon the daily utilization of new ideas and new knowledge.

The graduating engineer considering his first career decision may choose whether he will enter this field of work — the design of airplanes and missiles — that progresses hand in hand with new discoveries in all facets of science and engineering, or choose a less aggressive industry. Of course, it follows logically that greater and more rapid advancement opportunities lie in a field that does not stagnate, in a field that is bounded by the creative imagination of man alone. At Chance Vought, aircraft design draws capable engineers to positions of greater responsibility in developing new ideas and supervising the additional technical manpower needed to "practicalize" the ideas. Starting salaries are commensurate with education and experience for particular specialization and are also competitive with other industries as well as other companies. Advancement, as one would expect, is based upon demonstrated performance, not seniority.

The future of the aircraft industry is equal to, if not brighter than, that of other industries. The complexity of modern aircraft and missiles, the investigation of new fields of knowledge as aircraft fly higher and faster, the possibilities of man's further use of science and engineering for conquest of the air in the second half of the 20th century, all emphasize the challenge and opportunity to the young graduate.

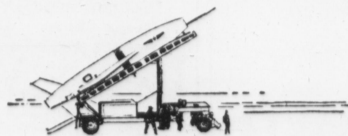

We urge the graduating engineer to investigate these opportunities at Chance Vought. He will find a stable, 38-year-old aircraft designer and builder with young ideas, a designer and builder noted for advancing the state-of-the-art of aircraft and guided missile design. He will discover that Chance Vought offers career opportunities, not merely impressive titles, and that he will join an engineering organization that thinks and operates as a team rather than as a random collection of individual engineers.

We have the usual fringe benefits including an excellent graduate study program, group insurance, retirement income plan, paid vacation, sick leave, moving allowance, and numerous paid holidays.

We invite you to discuss your opportunities at Chance Vought with

WUS Drive Is Announced

The 1956 World University Service drive will begin this year on Feb. 19, David Noyes, campus chairman of the drive, announced this week.

World University Service, an organization made possible by student contributions, carries out a program of mutual assistance between university communities in different countries to help meet their varying needs.

Problems such as lodging, health, educational equipment, and emergency aid at foreign universities are solved with the aid of WUS.

It is one of many American colleges and universities which conducts an annual drive for WUS.

Auditions To Be Held For Wilderness Road

Director Samuel Selden and Associate Director Fred Parrott have announced open auditions for all acting, singing, and dancing roles for the 1956 performance of "Wilderness Road," the drama which played to sixty thousand people last year.

The schedules in Kentucky are Wednesday, Feb. 15, Louisville; Thursday, Feb. 16, Lexington; Friday and Saturday, Feb. 17 and 18, Berea.

For the Louisville auditions the Louisville University Theater has been made available through the cooperation of Dr. John Caldwell, head of the Drama Department there. The Guignol Theater of the University of Kentucky in Lexington has been made available for the Thursday meetings through Wallace Briggs, head of the Drama Department. Berea auditions will be held in Phelps-Stokes Chapel of Berea College.

Educator's Salaries May Be Increased

Fayette County Representatives Foster Ockerman and John Breckinridge recently introduced a bill in the State Legislature aimed at increasing limits on the salaries of Kentucky educators.

The bill, if passed, would repeal the section of the Kentucky statutes which limits the salary of the presidents of the University of Kentucky and the five state colleges to $9,000 annually as well as the salaries of the professors. The fixing of salaries would then be left up to the boards of trustees of the institutions.

The bill was recommended to the Board of Trustees and in it, President H. L. Donovan said: "The Board of Trustees will in the foreseeable future be seeking the services of a new president and if the present statute is in force the Board may be embarrassed in attempting to find an able and competent president."

Dr. Donovan pointed out that after he had made a careful study of the salaries paid university presidents in the United States, he found the median to be $16,375. He said that the minimum salary was $10,000 and that the maximum was $30,000. Dr. Donovan himself receives $9,000 annually in salary from the state plus $3,000 from the Huggin Endowment Fund.

If the bill is passed, it would not have any effect on President Donovan's salary.

Panhell Rules On Serenades

Resolutions requesting changes in the present rules for serenades were passed this week by Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council.

The suggested new rule on serenades, if approved by the UK Social Committee, would limit them from 10 to 12 p.m., and would not have them count as social functions. They would not be required to be registered with the social director, although at least 24-hours notice would have to be given the group to be serenaded.

The resolutions were adopted after meetings of Pan-Hel, IFC, and House Presidents Council delegates with the Social Committee. The groups met to straighten out problems that they had encountered with the present serenade setup.

Under present rules all UK organizations may serenade before 10:30 p.m. without having it count as a social function, provided at least 24-hours notice is given.

IFC complained that the 10:30 ruling had led to at least one bad situation, and that the time was not the best for serenading, especially since many organizations enforce "quiet hours" before 10:30

FHA Grants Loan To UK

The FHA in Washington has approved a $2,800,000 loan to the University. The loan has been referred back to Atlanta for final action, Frank D. Peterson, business vice-president, has announced.

A new women's residence hall will be built with $1,900,000 and the remaining $1,800,000 will be used in the reconstruction of Shawneetown.

Holmes Hall, the new dormitory, will be built on the site of the women's barracks at the corner of Euclid and Limestone.

Approximately 180 apartments will be built in Shawneetown as soon as the Cooperstown project is completed.

YMCA Week Begins On Campus Sunday

The annual National YMCA Week will be observed on the UK campus from Jan. 22-29. In cooperation with the local churches, Jan. 22 will be stressed as "Go to Church Sunday." All students are urged to go to the church of their choice and offer prayers for the youth of the world.

The YMCA has been on the UK campus since 1890. It is the oldest organization which has been in continuous existence on campus. At first it was run by students alone. In 1912, the first YMCA executive secretary, E. L. Hall, was employed.

The early YMCA was a rotary association, where the students would get together and hold their meetings in the rooms of the different fellows.

About 1895 the University furnished one room in the old dorm, now White Hall, for YMCA headquarters. In 1901 they were moved to the second floor of Barker Hall and remained there until the SUB was built in 1939.

In 1912 the "Y" took a step forward and published the first student handbook. Then, in 1920, the present executive secretary, Mr. Bart Peak, came.

The YMCA has grown from a small prayer group to an organization which sponsors discussion groups in fraternities and Phalanx, a men's service group. Other groups which it cooperatively sponsors are a Freshman "Y", Cosmopolitan Club, Interfaith Council, and Pitkin Club.

This year's student officers are Don Clark, president; Keith Flowers, vice president; Olson Huff, secretary, and Sherlock Noel, treasurer.

Dr. Merl Baker, head of engineering research, is now chairman of the advisory board. Many faculty members have served on this board.

Some of the faculty who were active in the YMCA as students are Dean Elvis J. Stahr, provost of the University; Dr. Merl Baker; George Kavanach, comptroller; Dr. J. C. Eaves, Mathematics Department head; Dr. F. L. Yost, physics Department head; John Proffitt, Political Science Department; John Brannon, personnel; Prof. T. R. Bryant, Agriculture College, and Garnet McKinney, College.

The YMCA was founded in London in 1844. It was transplanted here in 1851. Boston was chosen or the site of the first American Association. The aim of the YMCA is to improve the minds, bodies, spirit, and social outlook of youth in all levels.

Davis Elected Lances Prexy

John Davis was elected president of Lances, junior men's honorary, at a meeting of the organization on Monday afternoon.

New initiates were presented at a banquet the previous Saturday evening at the Campbell House. They are Barkley Baird, James Roberts, Joseph Lanekin, Michael Hunt, Howard Dohrmann, Furman Wallace, Thomas Neal, and John Whitlow.

John Angellis, state senator from Fayette County, was the speaker. Other new officers include Charles McCullough, vice-president; James Roberts, secretary; and Thomas Neal, treasurer.

J. Paul Sheedy* Kept Getting The Bird Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Sheedy, you worm," chirped J. Paul's little chickadee, "your lack of confidence is driving me cuckoo. If you don't do something about that messy hair I'll never beak to you again!" So J. Paul hopped on down to his favorite toiletries counter and pecked up a bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he has confidence in any situation because Wildroot keeps his hair handsome and healthy looking the way Nature intended . . . neat but not greasy. Contains beart of Lanolin, nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. If you catch your roommate robin yours, tweet him to his own bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. I-M All-Star Squad Selected

By SCOOP WHITE
He Reads Ozark Ike

An intramural all-star basketball game between the fraternity and independent squads will take place at 6 p.m., Monday, Feb. 13, as a preliminary game to the Kentucky-Mississippi State battle.

In what hopes to be an annual event, the all-star game was selected to take the place of the University basketball championship between the fraternity and independent champions.

Twelve players were chosen to represent the two squads. Kappa Alpha, fraternity runner-up, and the Independent Cats, champions of the independent league, each had four players chosen on the all-star teams.

PKT, fraternity title-holders for the past three years, was represented by one man. To play in the game, an individual must be in school next semester. Thus, some players who would have easily made the all-star teams were ineligible.

On the fraternity all-star team, KA, is represented by Jimmy Flynn, Jim Farris, Short Sautley, and Dan Chandler. PKT has its outstanding rebounder, Joe Bon-durant.

SAE placed two on the squad. Don Crutcher, its top board man and scorer, and Don Frazier, a good long shot. Bill White, SX's fine all-around player, represents his team.

SN has its leading scorer, Ray Letts, on the team. Jack Burchett, ATO's high scorer, will be at guard. Max Judy, FH, represents his team as he was their main offensive weapon this past season. A scrappy and good scorer from PDT, Jack Marston, rounds out the fraternity all-star squad.

The Independent Cats, placed Gene Bonney and Tom Gray, their starting forwards; Dick Jordan, their high scorer; and Buddy Flynn, who teamed with Jordan at guard.

Civil Engineers, who lost in the finals to the Cats, were represented by two of its stars, Harold Mays and Dick DeLozier. Both were CE's leading point producers.

Newman Club and Electric Engineers also both placed two players on the squad. Representing Newman Club are its two leading scorers, Eddy Lassiter and Tom Milton.

Mary Pilkenton and Joe Lyon were chosen from the EE team and both are good offensive men. Mechanical Engineers have their excellent floor player in Jerry King.

Canterbury placed its smooth working center, Walt Smison.

Coaching the Fraternity All-Stars will be Bill Blount, PKT and Gus Goodman, KA. Jerr Rexroat and Bill Boone both of the Independent Cats, will pilot the Independent All-Stars.

Cats Terrorize Southeastern Conference Foes; Top Century Mark In Last Three Of Four Tilts

By SCOOP WHITE
 Bob Burrow's 50-point performance enable Kentucky to maintain their superiority over Louisiana State as the Cats buried the Tigers 107-65.

Burrow came within one point of tying Cliff Hagan's record of 51 points set in the 1953 season's opener against Temple. Missing a free throw with less than a minute remaining in the game, Burrow, with four men on him, could not hit that record breaking field goal.

In leading the Wildcats' victory over LSU, the Texan scored 19 field goals and 12 free throws. The win kept UK's jinx over LSU alive, that of never losing to them since their rivalry began in 1933.

Although Burrow stole the spotlight, the victory was clearly a team effort.

Burrow on a tip, jump shot, crimp, and two free tosses put Kentucky ahead 8-1. Continuing this pace the Cats were leading 28-14 midway in the first half. With 5:10 remaining they led 40-24. Ahead 43-32 with 39 seconds to go Kentucky froze for one last shot. The strategy paid off. Bird's jump was good as the horn sounded.

Showing no signs of letting up, the Cats roared back in the second half.

Burrow opened the scoring parade with a tip-in. Hatton stole a pass and scored. Then again came Burrow, who hit two foul shots, a tip, two jumps, and a hook and the Cats lead swelled to 59-35.

As Burrow's total mounted, so did the Kentucky margin. With 11:48 left in the game it was 76-46. Two free throws and two field goals each by Bird and Billy Ray Cassady hiked the margin to 88-52.

With each point scored, the crowd yelled louder for the Cats to hit the century mark.

Five minutes remained with the Ruppmen ahead 94-56. Burrow hit two quick baskets and then the crowd received its wish when John Brewer connected on a jump from the circle and the Cats had reached the 100 point mark for the third time in their last four starts.

Still they weren't through. Burrow cashed in on a free loss. Bill Smith tallied on a rebound. Burrow hit a jump and then ended scoring for the night with a left hand hook.

The victory gave Coach Adolph Rupp's team a season's mark of 9-2, and a SEC record of 3-0. The loss was LSU's first in conference play.

Working the fast break to perfection, Kentucky scored five times on crimps before the LSU defense could set up.

In shooting the Wildcats connected on 41 out of 81 shots for a percentage of 50.6. LSU hit 37.9 per cent.

Jerry Bird took second scoring honors for the Cats with 20. Vern Hatton tallied 12 and Phil Grawemeyer scored eight points.

LSU's high scorer was Roger Sigler with 25. Before the game Sigler led the SEC in scoring with 24.3 points per game so his total against the Cats kept his record intact.

Kentucky has played or will face four of the top eight teams in America, Vanderbilt, Duke, Dayton, and Temple.

By BILL HENRY
 UK renews its athletic feud with neighbor Tennessee tomorrow night when the two schools meet on the hardwood at Knoxville.

Led again this year by All-SEC player Carl Widsteth, the Volmen have racked up an unimpressive 7-7 season's mark but in all-important loop play the Volunteers have a health 3-1 record.

Widsteth is currently the number two scorer in the conference ranking behind Roger Sigler of LSU.

Like Kentucky, the Orangemen's most recent victory is over LSU. Playing the Bayou Bengals last Monday night in Knoxville the Tennesseans edged Sigler and company by nine points, 91-82.

Their other triumphs have been over Georgia on the latter's home court, Tulane at Knoxville, and then LSU last Monday night.

Their only loss in Southeastern Conference play has been to the sixth ranked national power, Vanderbilt.

Coach Emmett Lowery's team is built around three returnees from last year's squad which compiled a season's record of 15 wins and 7 losses.

Mainstay of the returning lettermen is the 6-4 Widsteth who hit the bucket for an 18 point average last year and is bettering that year.

Another front line returnee, who is capable of breaking up a ball game with his deadly site set shots, is Lewis Neyland.

The third member of this dangerous trio is Herman Thompson the Vol playmaker of last season.

Thompson pumped in 23 points in his last outing against LSU.

To these men Lowery has added Buddy Cruze, a starter in '53-'54 but held out last year, and Gene Simpson, a service returnee.

Both have proven to be capable performers this season and have been instrumental in the Volunteer offense.

Although the pointmakers favor the Wildcats to take the Vols, past records of the two teams will mean nothing when they take the floor.

Kittens Snap Two Game Losing Streak

Led by a record breaking performance by Johnny Cox, UK's yearlings snapped a two game losing streak when they defeated Campbellsville Junior College 103-69.

Cox, a sensational 6-4 forward, hit for 44 points and a new UK freshman individual scoring record. He attempted 28 field goals and hit on 17 of them and also connected on 10 of 12 free throws.

In hitting the 100-point mark for the first time this season, the Kittens had little trouble with the visitors. They led 27-19 midway of the first half and held on for a 46-36 halftime lead.

The second half was all Kentucky as the Kittens, on three goals and a free toss by Cox, crimp by Charles Webb, and a hook by Lewis McManus raised the margin to 57-46.

With 6:40 left in the game, the Kittens had a safe lead of 88-56.

Up to now the game was on the dull side, but then Cox hit a 20 foot hook and woke up the crowd. The increasing margin went to 98-63. Two goals by Cox and one by Bill Maupin made it 99-65.

Tommy Belt, 6-2 forward from Paris, connected for a tip-in and put the Kittens over the century mark 101-67. Again Belt hit a one hander as the horn went off to make the final score 103-69.

Cox's brilliant shooting raised his average from 30.5 to 32.2 points a game. Webb gave Cox good support in tallying 29 points, raising his 10 point average to 13.8.

Cats Improve Field Goal Percentage

Four of Kentucky's starting five are hitting 43 per cent or better in field goals.

Bob Burrow, the Cats leading scorer with 209 points is hitting field goals at a 43 per cent clip. An interesting sidelight is that Burrow needs only 95 seconds to score one point.

Jerry Bird is scoring at a 16.3 points average and is netting 46.3 per cent of his field shots. Geary Calvert is .1 of a point behind Vern Hatton in field goal percentage, 43.4 to 43.5. Calvert is averaging 13.3 points and Hatton 11.2.

Calvert has played 367:53 of a possible 440 minutes. Next to the redheaded guard is Bird, 360:20, then Hatton, 329:54, and Burrow, 326:56. Burrow though, has played only in 10 of the 11 games.

Burrow Is Silencing The Critics

By MARNEY BEARD-

With his tremendous 50-point outburst against LSU last Saturday night, Bob Burrow silenced the critics who said he was slipping this year.

Big Bob, a Wells, Texas product who stands 6-7 and weighs 215, was an all-SEC selection last year (his first at UK) and was selected by the Helms Foundation as a pre-season All-American this year. However, Burrow was hampered by sore ankles the first part of this year and didn't perform up to expectations. He averaged less than ten points the first few games.

But, with his ankles back in shape, Bob rebounded with a 40-point spree against St. Louis Dec. 29, hit 24 against Georgia Tech, dropped to 14 against Tulane, and then scorched the nets last Saturday with his 50 points against LSU.

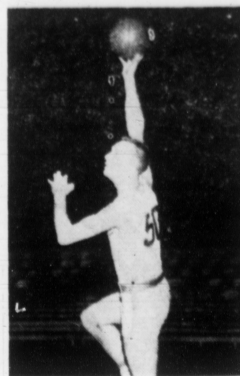

This surge has raised Burrow's season average to 20.9, based on 209 points scored in 10 games. This represents a slight increase over his last season's average of 19 points a game, as he poured through 495 points in 26 games.

The transplanted Texan came to Kentucky last year boasting one of the greatest junior college records ever compiled. While at Lon Morris Junior College in Jacksonville, Texas his first two years, Bob scored a total of 2191 points in 84 games for a 26-point average, was twice named to the junior college All-America and was named the Most Valuable Player in junior college play in his sophomore year. Burrow, who will graduate in June with a degree in Physical Education, has no definite future plans. He says he would like to try professional ball if the right opportunity presents itself; otherwise he will probably enter the field of coaching.

Bob rates last Saturday's game and the defeat of Georgia Tech on as par as his biggest thrills in basketball. Those 50 points, incidentally, represent his individual high for a single game. But the tilt against LSU was not the first time he had accomplished the feat, as he tied that total once while at Lon Morris.

Tom Gola receives Bob's vote as the best player he has ever faced. He calls this year's Dayton agree-gation the best team he has seen (this game Bob missed entirely because of his ankles), and calls Utah's quintet of last year the toughest opponent UK has faced in his tenure here.

THEY defeated Fresno State last week to tie the major college winning record of 39 straight. Yes sir, San Francisco is rolling.

The West Coast powerhouse has had to climb over such obstacles as Pepperdine College and Chico State but they've stayed on top. The Dons have even played teams in the top 20 of the AP press ratings, Holy Cross and UCLA. Of course San Fran hasn't met a team in the first 10 but why should they. Anyone knows that big Bill Russell can lead his club to victory against all opponents. So why schedule the best teams when you can be number one by playing Hombone High or a similar institution.

San Francisco may even be better than UK's Fabulous Five or the team of Hagan, Ramsey, and Tsioropoulos. Sure they may.

How far out on a limb can sportswriters go when they compare the Dons with two of Kentucky's greatest teams? These athletic experts certainly must have short memories or they have been so taken in by Francisco's press clippings that they don't even bother to review their schedule.

It's not the kick that UK isn't in a higher position than fourth in the press ratings. It's the fact that San Francisco doesn't have the strongest argument that they are the nation's number one ball club. Yes, they did win the NCAA last year. But have they played that caliber of ball or that type of opposition this season?

Having had the good fortune of seeing both the Dons and Dayton play, San Francisco on TV and the Flyers in Lexington, I would venture a guess that Dayton not only could defeat San Francisco but could whip them in any two out of three series at any given time.

San Fran's defense was impressive, but their offensive punch, ugh.

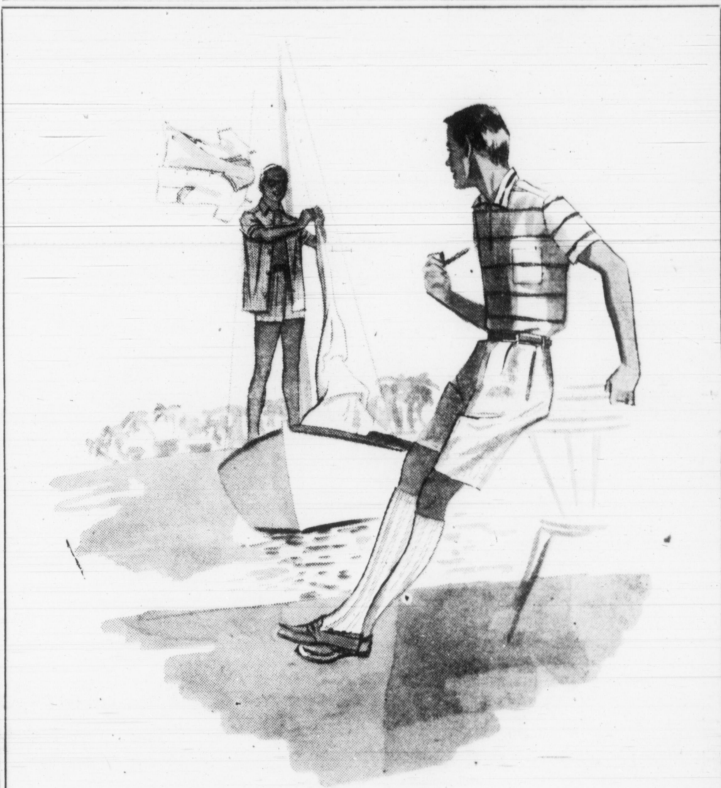

The Dons will have to show quite a bit more as the season progresses to convince this writer that they deserve number one rating. My prediction is that if they don't get bumped off in regular season play (by a team such as West Pueblo Tech) then when they DO meet competition in tournament play someone will make Russell and gong wish they had stayed at home.

JERRY Bird receives this column's praise for his impressive brand of teamwork displayed in the LSU game. Bob Burrow can give many thanks to Jerry for the unselfish manner in which he aided him in scoring 50 points. The same goes for the rest of UK's team but Bird stood way out in proving that teamwork wins ball games, not individuals. Incidentally, when Burrow was sent back into the game to try and break Cliff Hagan's record even he had a big laugh over LSU as the Tigers covered him with four defenders. In fact, once, when time was short, Bob thought the situation so funny that he stopped and laughed out loud at the crowd pleasing situation.

Jerry Bird

COMMENTS heard during the Wildcat slaughter of LSU were: "If Bob Breaks the record let's carry him off the floor, (one Cat reserve to another); "Hatton should be charged with a technical foul, he raised his hand and the call was on Grawemeyer!"; (a viewer from the press table); "Their fast break killed us, (a dejected Tiger player); (too much Burrow) another Tiger player.
