

J. R. SNIVELY, Ag't.

OFFICE OF

ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY,

54 FIFTH AVENUE.

Long Branch ~~Dunstable~~, Pa.,

187

Long Branch New Jersey

35th May 1872

My Dear Wife,

We arrived safely here yesterday without serious accident or detention. The Horses all are looking better than Ginger - his leg is however improving slowly and if he is not hurried again in his training may win one race & be sold before he breaks down. I will write to you more in detail after we have all fully recovered from the effects of the journey.

I hope Mr Cromwell will give satisfaction and that he will not forget that Orlando and Ned & Ance are the best field hands that have been on the place since the War.

Address me at Etontown
Monmouth City
New Jersey

Your affectionate husband
John M. Clay