

all of it.

I believe there is nothing ^{more} ~~more~~ of importance to communicate by letter ~~now~~ at present, except that I expect to attend mass at the Cathedral, to-morrow, Pentecost, also to call to see Archbishop Purcell & Father Hill, & that I am fasting on one full meal this (Vigil) having taken a cup of coffee & pain bread at 5 o'c a.m., having risen at 3.40.

May Heaven bless you and all the dear ones at home and the Blessed Virgin for all the saints pray for us.

Your devoted husband
John M. Clay

Dudley wants you to tell Meg he is going to stay a few days or a week under the Doctor in Cincinnati commencing Monday or Tuesday - He is well except the eyes & hopes Meg is eyes & all -

J. M. C.

Buckeye Course

30th May 1868.

10.11 A.M.

My Dear Wife,

I am writing to you from my stable, and the principal inducement to write is that you mentioned in your last kind favor that my letters in my absence from home, were like yours to me, very welcome & consoling.

This is the finest day we have seen here this week, the track will be very good and safe, and poor Peter will run his 3^d race about 4.30 p.m. He looks weak feeble, emaciated & debilitated (Patterson) but if as well to day as yesterday when he ran in the $\frac{3}{4}$ dash only a throat latch behind Saratoga, equal weights, he will run tolerably good - I timed him & made the run 1.20 $\frac{1}{2}$ & the track 2 sec off - Victory is fine as silk - I have priced