TO THE PRESS AND RADIO:

Here is your copy of the Kentucky Wildcats football facts booklet for 1952 which we sincerely hope will aid you in covering U. of K. this season. If you desire additional information or art, please feel free to contact the Sports Publicity Office.

Applications for working press and radio tickets should be directed to the Sports Publicity Office as far in advance as possible. Tickets will be mailed or you will be notified to pick up at the Information Window in Memorial Coliseum, directly across the street from the stadium.

If you intend to file from the press box, please so advise when requesting passes in order that you may be assigned a seat adjacent to your Western Union operator. It is advisable also to make advance reservations with the Lexington office of Western Union.

Radio stations desiring to broadcast from Stoll Field must first secure a permit from the University Radio Director outlining sponsors, fees paid, and any network arrangement. Booth assignment and tickets will be issued by the Sports Publicity Office upon approval of application by the Radio Director. Spotters are available if requested in advance. Stations should order lines installed by contacting the Lexington Telephone Company.

Sideline or upper deck press box passes will be issued to accredited photographers.

Your press-radio-photo pass admits your car to the reserved parking space along the circular campus drive west of the stadium enclosure. The pass also entitles you to enter any stadium gate on your way to the press box. When leaving the box late after the game, you will find gate number one open. This gate, under Section A at the left end of the stands on the opposite side of the field from the press box, is an exit to Avenue of Champions in front of Memorial Coliseum. Admission to the press box is limited to male personnel.

CITY OF BOSTON

1790
1791
1792

The city of Boston, situated on a neck of land between the harbor and the bay, was first settled by the English in 1630. It was the first city in North America to be founded by a group of Puritan settlers who had fled from the religious persecution in England. The city grew rapidly and became the center of the New England trade. In 1703, the city was destroyed by a fire that burned for three days and nights. The city was rebuilt and became one of the most important cities in the colonies. In 1773, the city was the scene of the Boston Tea Party, a protest against British taxation. The city was then occupied by British troops during the American Revolution. After the war, the city became a center of industry and commerce. In 1822, the city was incorporated as a city. The city has since grown into one of the largest and most important cities in the United States.

U. OF K. RECRUITING POLICY

Within an hour after the Kentucky football squad returned to the campus from its New Year's Day 1952 triumph over Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Coach Paul Bryant startled the grid world with a challenging new recruiting policy.

The Wildcat mentor decreed a unique plan to "cease all recruiting of football players outside the state of Kentucky."

Bryant, who in six seasons at the Bluegrass school has produced four bowl teams and enjoyed triumphs in three of the post-season classics, invited other colleges and universities to adopt the plan as a step towards elimination of "all the evils attendant on recruiting." It is believed that the Bryant plan was the first such major corrective step, short of outright de-emphasis or abandonment, to be adopted by any major football power in the country.

While Kentucky will not conduct or condone recruiting outside the state's borders and immediate emphasis will be placed on encouraging the best Kentuckians to attend their state university, out-of-state students will be accepted under highly-selective limitations. Bryant directed a limit of "no more than five football scholarships in any one year to non-Kentuckians." In all instances, he pointed out, "out-of-state students must seek us out and apply for scholarships. We will make absolutely no effort to recruit them." The coach explained that the allowance of five non-Kentucky scholarships was designed in most part to accommodate sons and brothers of alumni and to keep the out-of-state ratio on the football team in line with the ratio of non-Kentuckians in the total student population.

Despite the fact that only 108 Kentucky high schools fielded grid squads last year, Bryant declared "We have confidence in the ability of Kentucky boys to stand toe-to-toe with those of neighboring states and hold their own in football."

While the full effect of this unique "stay in your own back yard" plan probably will not be evident until at least another year, the current roster (as of end of spring practice) shows an equal division of Kentuckians to out-of-state players. The contingent of 37 native Kentuckians is the largest in the school's football history.

The Shape of Things to Come

After Parilli, what?

That question appropriately poses a representation of the problems faced by Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant in his efforts to field a good football team in 1952.

The absence of the All-American quarterback, offensive sparkplug in the Wildcats' drive to national grid prominence during the past three years, points up the essential keynote of the 1952 season—general lack of experienced personnel.

After three successive trips to major bowls, the prospect for 1952 is one of the country's youngest major college teams, experience-wise.

Not a single player will be on hand this season who was either an offensive or defensive starter in the Sugar Bowl game of two seasons ago. Only six reserves return who even made the trip and none of these saw over three to four minutes of action. Of the 22 two-platoon starters in the Cotton Bowl contest last New Year's Day, only ten return—representing a loss at every position except end. From the entire travelling squad of 49 making the bowl trip, only 22 lettermen are currently available and generally show only one year of seasoning.

Taking up the Wildcat cause in 1952 will be one of the youngest and most inexperienced teams assembled by the U.K. coach, who emphasizes he is building for 1953. A breakdown of the current roster shows seven freshmen, 29 sophomores, 15 juniors, and only six seniors.

Bryant is neither optimistic nor pessimistic about his chances to field a team in '52 as successful as those of two other major re-building years (1946 and 1948) in his career at Kentucky. As he puts it, "Our team next season will not be as strong as those of the bowl era (1949-50-51) due to a lack of sufficient experience on the part of a majority of our best men and a lack of adequate depth at many key positions. We are looking at the coming year with the idea of training our personnel to function as a unit by 1953. If they learn their lessons fast and develop well during this 're-building' process, we should win some ball games next fall. However, we'll be a long ways from rating as a contender for the conference championship. That's not a pre-season prediction. It's just the plain truth as we see it now."

Encouraging to the Wildcat headmaster is the belief that he and his staff "know more about the personnel than we've ever known after a spring practice before." As he analyzes the team, the greatest lack of depth will be at ends and linebacker; and the biggest weakness will be the lack of an experienced quarterback and passer. On the credit side, he lists the strong points as a good running attack, general team speed, depth at guard and aggressiveness in the middle of the line.

As was the case in other re-building years, Bryant will be utilizing a slightly modified style of attack in an effort to make the best use of available personnel. The chances are that variations of "Split T" patterns will be introduced to supplement the basic "T" formation system used for the past five seasons. Behind this modification is the reason that the pass-flinging Parilli is gone, no outstanding passer-ball handler is available, and several good running backs appear in the fold. The two-platoon system will be used as much as possible, Bryant indicated. There will be a lot of strange faces in the lineup and probably some surprises as regulars of last season are shifted to other positions.

The important quarterback post may end up as a two platoon job from all indications gained in spring practice. A duo of converted halfbacks, neither of whom have quarterbacking experience, appear ready to stage a down-to-the-wire fight for the position. Harold (Bunky) Gruner, third-leading ground gainer on the team last year, will probably get the nod over threat Larry Jones on the basis of his greater smoothness in operating out of the slot and slightly superior passing ability.

The impressive titles of Sugar Bowl champions and Cotton Bowl champions, gained in the past two consecutive seasons, will mean little this year except encouragement to opponents and the agenda of tilts for '52 ranks as one of the toughest faced.

The Bryant Story

One of the nation's most outstanding football mentors by tests of both success and leadership in the collegiate field, Coach Paul (Bear)

Bryant has lifted Kentucky out of the football doldrums and firmly established them in national prominence.

The 38-year-old former Alabama end, who risked a promising future when he moved to Kentucky in 1946, is recognized and respected in the football world for his successful record with the Wildcats — winners of 48 games while losing only 17 and tying two in six seasons, including two consecutive major bowl championships and a conference title.

Bryant also is known as a pioneer, unafraid to take a chance on something that seems right, and his pioneering attitude is reflected in a recently-adopted unique plan to restrict recruiting of players for his teams to the state of Kentucky. He firmly believed wide-spread recruiting to be one of the game's evils and daringly took the active lead in doing what he thought right to correct the situation.

That the amazing Mr. Bryant has been right before pleases his followers and worries his opponents. In 1946, when he gave up the reins at Maryland after a successful first season and came to Kentucky, Bear asked for a five-year contract. He explained that it would take that amount of time to get the Wildcats established in winning ways. The final chapter of Bryant's "Five-Year Plan" was written after the 1950 season. As predicted, Kentucky hit a winning stride by capturing their first SEC championship and vaulted almost overnight into national prominence by defeating Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl.

A brilliant sequel to the "Five-Year Plan" story was written last season when Bryant's underestimated footballers snapped out of an early-season slump to capture a coveted bid to Dallas' Cotton Bowl. In completing their round of the major post-season grid classics (Orange Bowl, 1950; Sugar Bowl, 1951; and Cotton Bowl, 1952), the Bryantmen scored a stunning upset of Texas Christian, the Southwest Conference champions.

The upswing in Kentucky's grid fortunes also has resulted in personal security for Bryant. He is currently working under a 12-year pact awarded by grateful school authorities following the 1950 campaign.

A native of Fordyce, Ark., Bryant starred in football and basketball while attending high school there. Later, at the University of Alabama, he played right end on the Crimson Tide elevens of 1933-35, going to the Rose Bowl in his junior season.

His coaching career began as a 'Bama assistant for four years following graduation in 1936. From the Capstone, he moved to Vanderbilt to become line coach. After working with the Commodores two seasons, Bryant entered the Navy. Discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant commander, he soon signed with Maryland as head coach. With one successful season of head coaching behind him and a growing reputation, Bryant was sought out in 1946 by University of Kentucky and accepted the Southeastern Conference school's invitation to lead its teams out of the grid wilderness.

In his initial season, Bryant re-built shattered foundations to give the Wildcats seven victories against three defeats for their most successful season record since 1912. Getting used to the feeling, the 1947 club copped eight and again dropped only a trio of tilts. Recognition began to come as Kentucky accepted a bid to perform in the inaugural Great Lakes Bowl at Cleveland in December, 1947, and defeated Villanova. The game marked the Wildcats' first bowl appearance.

Hit hard by graduation, U. of K. still managed to stay on the winning side in 1948 with a mark of five wins, three setbacks and two ties. In 1949, playing what was considered the most ambitious schedule ever attempted by the school, Bryant's charges surprised the football world by winning nine important games and dropping only three. Included was a close (13-21) loss to Santa Clara in the Orange Bowl. The team also finished second in the conference race.

The 1950 campaign was one of the most brilliant in the Bryant career. No longer underestimated by opponents, the '50 Wildcats nevertheless surged to the conference championship on a 10-1 record and capped their success by knocking off national champion Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl for their first major bowl victory. The SEC title was the culmination of 84 conference games over a 17-year period.

In the 62nd year of the institution's football history, Kentucky became a "name" power and had achieved goals reached by no other UK grid squad.

The Coaching Staff

ERMAL ALLEN (Kentucky '42) . . . One of Kentucky's most famous athlete graduates, Allen at 32 has had a full career as a collegiate star, pro-football player and successful college grid coach. He starred at quarterback for the Wildcat forces from 1939 to 1941 and entered military service following graduation. Returning as a graduate student after his discharge, Allen became the center of one of the Southeastern Conference's most controversial cases when he attempted to play a fourth year of football in 1946 and was declared ineligible after two games. Allen joined the U.K. coaching staff for the remainder of the '46 season, spent the '47 campaign as a T-quarterback with the professional Cleveland Browns, then re-joined the Wildcat staff in 1948. He became head freshmen mentor in 1950 and was promoted at season's end to fill the backfield coach vacancy.

CLARENCE UNDERWOOD (Marshall '38) . . . Friends call Underwood by the somewhat un-respectful nickname of "Buckshot," but he has earned high respect from players and fellow coaches, alike, since he joined the Kentucky staff in 1948. Besides the usual duties on the football field, he has the sometimes difficult task of keeping gridders eligible by prodding them to tackle the daily classroom grind with the same forcefulness demanded of them on the greensward. He had a successful career as a high school coach at Beckley, W. Va., from 1938-43 and served three years in the Navy as a lieutenant during World War II.

PAUL DIETZEL (Miami, Ohio, U. '47) . . . An indefatigable football laborer, Dietzel has a background of fine play as a Little All-America center at Miami U. and as a college coach. After his graduation from Miami in 1947, he joined Sid Gillman's staff and served with the school until Gillman took him to West Point in 1948. At the Academy, he was Plebe football and basketball coach. When Gillman moved on to University of Cincinnati in 1949, he took Dietzel with him as an assistant. Kentucky called for Dietzel's services after the 1950 season and he joined the staff for 1951 spring practice. He was a B-29 pilot with the Army Air Force during World War II.

JIM OWENS (Oklahoma '50) . . . All-America end and co-captain of the Oklahoma Sugar Bowl team of 1949, Owens joined the Kentucky coaching staff shortly after the Wildcats humbled the Sooners in the '51 New Orleans classic. During his playing days under Coach Bud Wilkinson at O.U. from 1947-49. Owens performed in four bowl games (Gator, 1946; Sugar, 1949-50; Senior, 1950) and the All-Star Game at Chicago. In 1950, he played pro ball with the Baltimore Colts and served as end coach on the Johns Hopkins staff. During World War II, he was in the Naval Air Corps as an enlisted air crewman.

PHIL CUTCHIN (Kentucky '43) . . . One of three current full-time assistant coaches on the staff who have player experience under Bear Bryant's tutelage, Cutchin was appointed Aug. 1 of this year. He graduated from U. of K. in 1943 and spent nearly four years in the service before returning to pick up his final year of eligibility as a halfback on the Bryant-coached 1946 team. In 1947, he became assistant football coach at Ohio Wesleyan and remained until recalled to service in December, 1950. As an Army lieutenant, Cutchin served with the First Cavalry Division in Korea for a year during this duty tour.

JERRY CLAIBORNE (Kentucky '50) . . . An outstanding safetyman and end during four years' varsity experience under Coach Bryant, Claiborne is the newest addition to the staff, appointed in mid-August. As a collegian, he was regarded as one of the nation's top pass interception artists and his play helped pace U.K. to its first major bowl game, the Orange Bowl of 1950. He was selected as the team's most valuable player and, following graduation, became head football coach at Augusta (Va.) Military Academy.

PART-TIME ASSISTANTS

Also assisting with coaching duties in 1952 will be ex-players Doug Moseley, Jim Mackenzie, Emery Clark, Ed Hamilton, Cliff Lawson, and John Netoskie. All six are veterans of the Orange-Sugar-Cotton Bowl era who completed their varsity eligibility on New Year's Day, 1952.

COACHING STAFF CHANGES SINCE 1951

Five men who were assistant Kentucky coaches in 1951 have resigned since the season ended for varying reasons. Carney Laslie has become an assistant to Earl Blaik at the U.S. Military Academy; Charles McClendon will serve in an assistant's capacity at Vanderbilt; Bill McCubbin intends to devote his full time to the position of Director of Intramurals for U. of K.; J. D. Langley will be head coach at Madison High school in Richmond, Ky.; Vic Bradford is giving his complete time to private business in Winchester, Ky.; and Pat James will direct Danville (Ky.) High school grid activities.

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Carbusier, then head of the military department of old State University. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat is cared for by the group and is displayed in a cage on the sidelines at all home football games.

THE WILDCAT OFFENSE

SYSTEM — Kentucky will continue to employ the "T" formation as its basic offense. However, variations of the "Split T" will be used to the extent that most efficient use is made of available personnel. Two-platoon substitution will be employed as much as possible consistent with the principle of keeping the best players in the game at all times needed.

PASSING — Parilli is gone and Kentucky's aerial attack is certain to suffer accordingly. However, the passing game will not be neglected altogether and the outlook is for an average number of passes being thrown by more people (all backs may pass instead of just the quarterback).

RUNNING — While the ground attack of the '52 Wildcats will be far short of sensational, it is believed that more potentially good backs are in the fold this season and this should make for a slightly better running game.

DEFENSE — Only pride in Kentucky's reputation as one of the nation's prime defensive units of the past few years can improve or bring up to the hoped-for level a potentially good defensive play. If the youthful, inexperienced squad catches the "bug" of liking defense, they could give a big boost to Kentucky's chances. The 1949 team initiated the idea that defense could play a great part in winning and wound up leading the nation in total defense. Since then, the Wildcats have finished second (1950) and fifth (1951) nationally in this department.

KICKING GAME — Parilli handled most of the punting chores last season, thus leaving a question mark as to who will do the booting this year. Most likely prospects appear to be Miles Willard, a junior who had 34.7 average on four punts last season; and Steve Meilinger, offensive end with no collegiate kicking experience. Kickoffs probably will be done by Don Jirschele, who ably conducted the duty last season. Kicking the points-after-touchdown will be Harry Jones, who was successful on 29 of 40 attempts last year, unless a better prospect is developed.

LETTERMEN LOST

(Total of 16)

ENDS — George Claiborne, a veteran reserve who lettered last season.

TACKLES — Chet Lukawski, senior starter ruled ineligible for one season by SEC Commissioner; Jim Mackenzie and John Netoskie, three-letter and three-bowl veterans who held down starting defensive and offensive slots, respectively.

GUARDS — Gene Donaldson, senior All-Conference star and veteran of Sugar-Cotton bowl action declared ineligible for one season by SEC Commissioner; John Ignarski, regular on three bowl teams as an offensive standout; and Bill Conde, dependable contributor for four seasons.

CENTERS — All-America Doug Moseley, co-captain of last season's Cotton Bowl champions.

QUARTERBACKS — Vito (Babe) Parilli, "Mr. Wildcat" of the '52 Kentucky squad . . . Two-time consensus All-America choice . . . Twice named "Most Valuable Player" of talent-laden Southeastern Conference . . . Champion passer of the SEC for three straight seasons and holder of four new all-time national collegiate passing marks set last year. Bill Farley, number one relief man for the "Babe" in Kentucky's drives to Sugar and Cotton Bowl championships in 1950 and 1951, lost to the Air Force. Paul Jones, veteran of valuable utility-man service on four Wildcat grid teams.

HALFBACKS — Ed Hamilton, Emery Clark and Cliff Lawson, a trio whose loss will be felt greatly . . . Hamilton was ace defensive left half and probably one of "most underrated" players ever to perform at Kentucky . . . Clark's absence leaves a big void at safety and in the punt return department . . . Lawson, despite a disappointing '51 campaign, will be sorely missed at fullback and halfback.

FULLBACKS — Bill Leskovar, number one fullback on Sugar and Cotton Bowl champion teams of '51 and '52 . . . Averaged 5.1 yards per carry last year.

SAFETYMEN — Max Mason, probable regular safetyman who failed to return due to ineligibility.

LETTERMEN RETURNING

(Total of 21 — listed by probable 1952 positions)

ENDS — Steve Meilinger, Jim Proffitt, Pete Kirk, and Al Zampino.

TACKLES — Bob Fry, Frank Fuller, Calvin Smith, and John Baldwin.

GUARDS — Ray Correll and Ted Kirn.

CENTERS — John Griggs.

LINEBACKERS — Tommy Adkins.

QUARTERBACKS — Harold Gruner, Larry Jones, and Herb Hunt.

HALFBACKS — Harry Jones, Tom Fillion, and Don Jirschele.

FULLBACKS — Allen Felch.

SAFETYMEN — Larry Hennessey, and Miles Willard.

SUMMARY BY POSITIONS

ENDS — Strong, but shallow in depth . . . Meilinger, All-SEC as soph last year, is vital cog despite de-emphasis of passing game . . . Proffitt is likely double-duty performer with Alternate Captain Fry, a tackle, bolstering defense . . . Others lack experience.

TACKLES — Thin back of one top-flight man on both offense and defense . . . Fry is ace offensive standout while Fuller regarded as great defensive lineman . . . Other two starting berths and reserves sure to be weak.

GUARDS — Good despite losses and deepest position . . . Ineligibility of All-America candidate Donaldson will be felt but slack should be taken up adequately despite inexperience . . . Standout—Correll on defense.

CENTERS — Rather weak due to general lack of seasoned veterans . . . Capt. John Griggs probably will see two-platoon duty . . . Top reserves are sophomore Simpkins and freshman Strange with former center Fuller, now a tackle, ready to fill in if needed.

QUARTERBACKS — Weakest position on squad and biggest question mark in team's 1952 chances . . . Parilli has departed and no one has appeared on scene who looks like a top-flight replacement . . . Best bets appear to be duo of converted halfbacks—Gruner and Larry Jones . . . Liberal use of Split T patterns may increase effectiveness of both candidates . . . Defensively, the safetyman picture also is clouded with indecision . . . Top prospects: Meilinger and Willard.

HALFBACKS — Should be better than '51 . . . Running was not a strong point last season and backs did not show well until late season . . . Offensive ground game will be stressed in '52 and pressure may show backs in different light . . . Best of the lot: Harry Jones, Dick Mitchell, and Tom Fillion . . . Defensively, no help is on hand who has ever seen varsity action and problem could be acute one.

FULLBACKS — An unknown quality for third straight season . . . Available candidates to replace graduated Bill Leskovar appear to lack vital explosive getaway speed . . . The top prospects: Paolone, Felch and possibly halfback Fillion . . . On defense, only linebacker Adkins sports any experience.

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll Blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now the practice field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K.-Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948 and 1949 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of better than 36,000—more than double the number of seats available when Coach Bryant assumed the head coaching duties in 1946.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum and McLean Stadium. The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecedented success of 1950 in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

First Game — September 20 VILLANOVA at Lexington

Site — Stoll Field (36,000)

Kickoff — 8 p.m. (CST)

Facts About Villanova College

Location — Villanova, Pa.

Ath. Director — Arthur F. Raimo

Nickname—Wildcats or Main

Conference — Independent

Liners

Colors — Blue and White

Coach — Arthur F. Raimo
(Villanova '38)

Publicitor — Eugene Ruane

Enrollment — 2,000 men

Series History and Information

The two Wildcat teams will be continuing a rivalry that began with the Great Lakes Bowl game in Cleveland in 1947. Annual regular season games have been played since that time, with the exception of 1949—U.K. winning three and one tie resulting. Villanova this season apparently will face its biggest problem in lack of depth, according to the experts. However, with its first string backfield of last season (Capt. Bob Haner, the native Kentuckian, fullback; halfbacks Addiego and Bedesem; and quarterback Brannau) returning intact and a flashy newcomer in the person of Gene Filipski, the Pennsylvania-brand Wildcats are sure to be dangerous offensively. Filipski, stellar Army half-back ousted in the cribbing scandal, should command special attention. Villanova will be prepping hard for Kentucky and might go all the way in '52 if it can hurdle the Blue Grass eleven.

Series History and Information

A consistently-bothersome "thorn in the side" of Kentucky's Wildcats, the Rebels sprang a rude surprise last season by upending U.K. 21-17 at Oxford and evening the series (which began in 1944) at four victories apiece. This year's "rubber game" promises to highlight the early-season conference competition and draw national attention. Despite much-heralded graduation losses, Ole Miss figures right alongside Tennessee and Georgia Tech as an SEC title contender in '52. Much of the crunching and deceptive power in the backfield that gained the conference total offense leadership returns for another try. Pile driving halfbacks Allen Muirhead and Lea Paslay (both sophomores) plus senior quarterback Jimmy Lear and rookie fullback Jim Matthews should provide plenty of trouble as the league's finest running backfield, in the opinion of many forecasters.

Series History and Information

One of the most-recently-inaugurated series in the Southeastern, gridiron rivalry between Kentucky and LSU was begun in 1949 and only two games have been played. Significantly, the Wildcats own both victories and both were stunning shutouts. The prospects for keeping the goal line clear of Tiger tracks this season appear slim and bagging the Bayou Bengals, ambitiously tackling one of the nation's toughest schedules, will be a neat trick on any opponent's part. Coach Tinsley cautiously admits to having a squad "comparable" to the '51 aggregation that dropped only three starts and finished in a tie for third spot in the conference race. The Tigers probably will not be a team of stars, but appear dangerously certain to present a makeup of youthful, hustling bone-rattlers who will be well prepared for tough opposition.

Series History and Information

Gridiron relations with Mississippi State began before World War I, on Oct. 17, 1914, but only seven games have been played in the series which was interrupted after 1917 for a long period. With a new mentor tutored in the traditions of Tennessee's General Neyland and Army's Col. Red Blaik, important developments can be expected from the Maroon camp this season. The immediate outlook is for sparse material and general inexperience, but plenty of speed and determined hustle which could easily pull the club up by its bootstraps. With all-SEC linebacker Joe Fortunato slated for a try at offensive fullback, State might offer a much stronger offense than expected. Youthful replacements should be finding themselves and providing trouble by mid-season when Kentucky is the foe.

Series History and Information

Sometimes referred to as the "Mason-Dixon Line Commuter Series," the rivalry between Kentucky and its neighbor to the north started at the turn of the century with a contest in the Queen City. However, due to interruptions of relations, only 23 games have been played and the two teams last met in 1950. The calibre of play to be expected from the Bearcats this season is a strong, highly-regarded one. A ripping offensive line will be outshown only by a capable backfield starring Gene Rossi, the aerial wizard who completed 89 of 173 passes for 1,444 yards and 11 TD's in 1951. One of the nation's highest scoring elevens last fall (345 points), Cincy figures to do just as good offensively again which spells trouble for the invading Kentuckians.

Series History and Information

A return to the Orange Bowl stadium will bring mixed memories to Coach Paul Bryant as it was here that Kentucky gained its first national recognition on New Year's Day 1950. Although dropping its first major bowl engagement to Santa Clara 7-21, the Cats used their hard-earned lesson as a stepping stone to complete rounds of the major bowls. The next two New Year's Days Kentucky proved its right to national reputation by winning both the Sugar Bowl (1951) and Cotton Bowl (1952) championships. Not to be outdone, the Miamians themselves have gone a-bowling the past seasons—dropping a one-point decision to Clemson in the 1951 Orange Bowl and annexing the 1952 Gator Bowl championship by beating the same opponent 14-0. Modest Andy Gustafson reportedly will settle for a .500 campaign this season, but the experts figure the Hurricanes somewhat tougher. Miami will have speed, a big and aggressive line — anchored by 220-pound guard Nick Chickillo — and skillfull passing.

Series History and Information

The Kentucky-Tulane grid series dates back to a contest played in Lexington Oct. 29, 1910, which the Wildcats annexed by a 10 to 3 margin. No further games were carded in the rivalry until 1932 and then the Wave was an annual opponent until 1935, when the series was interrupted. Resumption of relations with the 1949 SEC champions came again in 1951 with Kentucky winning 37-0. With a new coach at the helm this year, prospects seem certain to take a turn for the better and might be dangerously "quite all right" by late season as experiments pay off. The Wave is well-manned at several spots and should boast a threatening backfield paced by sure-footed Max McGee.

Facts About Clemson College

Location — Clemson, S. C.	Conference — Southern
Nickname — Tigers	(Suspended for '52)
Coach — Frank Howard	Colors — Orange and Purple
(Alabama '31)	Publicitor — McNeil Howard
Ath. Director — Frank Howard	Enrollment — 2,900 men

Series History and Information

Only five previous meetings with Clemson College are on record, but it's likely the 1952 game will lead to lengthy grid relations. Tobacco-chewing Frank Howard, who has guided the Tigers to three bowls in the past four seasons, appears certain to produce another powerhouse this year. Clemson will be outlawed from play in the Southern Conference due to unauthorized play in the Gator Bowl last New Year's Day, but that means only new fields for the Tigers to conquer. And reports indicate Clemson will be bowl-worthy again with a powerful single wing offense built around all-conference tailback Billy Hair. Even cagey Coach Howard admits to the prospects of a "better offensive backfield" and a defensive unit rated "about the same" as last year.

Series History and Information

One of the oldest and most hotly-contested rivalries in the South, the Kentucky Tennessee grid history goes back to the 1893 season. The series got off to an auspicious start in those early days as old Kentucky University walloped the Vols 56 to 0—a margin of victory which has never been equalled in the 46 games played in the 59 years since that time. The Wildcats and Volunteers have been playing annually since 1906, except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943). Tennessee has the advantage in the series, having won 29 of the contests while U.K. has taken 11 and seven tie games have resulted. Although he has come dangerously close to swallowing his words at times, General Neyland boasts the distinction of never having been defeated by a Kentucky team.

Undefeated in regular season play and national champions by unanimous consent last year, Tennessee nevertheless was humbled by Maryland in the Sugar Bowl 28-13. Still smarting from that humiliation, the Vols figure to regroup during the coming season into another very formidable outfit. Despite the loss of eight offensive regulars, including the entire smashing backfield, the General has replacements of equal calibre to send into battle. Most gifted of the reserves and red-shirters emerging from the Knoxville deep freeze undoubtedly is tailback Pat Shires. Senior Andy Kozar remains to take up the slack at fullback with junior letterman Hal Hubbard inheriting the blocking back job and senior Ed Morgan providing excellent balance at wing back. The defensive setup will seem strange only because "bad boy" Doug Atkins, stellar end dismissed before the '51 campaign, has managed to reinstate himself and will be bidding for All-America honors at a new position—tackle. Truly, the Vols are loaded again.

Series History and Information

The Kentucky-Florida series is an old one, but comparatively few games have been played in the 35 years since the initial contest in 1917. Two gaps in the record of approximately 10 years each account for the fact that the rivalry stands at a total of only 11 games. Despite the absence of the throwing arm of Haywood Sullivan, who turned to professional baseball, the Gators have a field full of experienced performers who might make it hot for the opposition this fall. Florida has been building and on the verge of great happenings for some time. Thirty lettermen and a bevy of classy sophs spell light losses and general trouble to come. Last season's Floridians handed Kentucky their worst scare of any club which went down to eventual defeat and a weaker brand of Cats this year could find it difficult to keep from becoming "Gator bait."

LATE SEASON GAMES — DEC. 5: MIAMI PLAYS GEORGIA AT MIAMI
DEC. 6: FLORIDA PLAYS KENTUCKY AT GAINESVILLE

Thumbnail Sketches

ADKINS, Tommy — Junior — Linebacker — Corbin, Ky.

Came through as one of the team's top sophomores last season . . . Played regularly on defense throughout season as linebacker and expected to take charge at same position in '52 . . . He's 20 years old, stands six feet and weighs 189.

BAILEY, John — Sophomore — Guard — Dorchester, N. J.

Smallest lineman on the squad at 5 feet 8 inches, he's a promising newcomer slated for first string play — probably taking over offensive left guard spot vacated by ineligible Gene Donaldson . . . All-South Jersey guard in high school at Millville . . . Twenty years old and tips scales at 190.

BALDWIN, John — Senior — Tackle — Madisonville, Ky.

One of six current squadmen who made Sugar Bowl trip two seasons ago . . . Failed to see action in bowl, but earned letter in '50 as relief man and lettered again last season . . . Generally inexperienced but expected to plug weak spots in top reserve role at guard or tackle . . . All-Western Kentucky Conference tackle in '47 at high school.

BEATTY, Jerry — Freshman — end — Paintsville, Ky.

A mid-term freshman enrollee, Beatty is considered good prospect with chance to see some action this season in reserve role . . . Team captain and All-State while at Paintsville High . . . Attended Augusta Military Academy last year . . . Height 6 feet, weight 170, age 18.

BURRUS, Jim — Sophomore — Tackle — Lebanon, Ohio

A reserve last year as a freshman, Burrus is being counted on to provide much needed help on defense during the coming campaign . . . Lack of sufficient experience should be only thing holding this 6 foot 1 inch, 212-pound prospect back . . . Eighteen years old, he's studying Agriculture.

CARLIG, Clyde — Sophomore — End — Chicago, Ill.

A rangy flankman classed as a good receiver, Carligh saw reserve duty as a yearling in '51 . . . He's fast and should fit into the picture this year with increasing prominence as he picks up experience . . . Only Illinois boy on squad, Clyde is 18, stands 6 feet 1 inch and weighs 178 . . . He was All-City fullback at Fenger High in Chicago.

CARTER, Earl — Sophomore — Halfback — Louisville, Ky.

A holdout in '51, Carter could be the key to much needed help in the defensive secondary if he has recovered from a knee injury . . . Considered a good athlete . . . Captained the grid squad at St. Xavier High in Louisville . . . He's 19, 5 feet 10 inches, and weighs 170.

CHICCINO, Tony — Sophomore — Fullback — Bridgeport, Pa.

A good, deceptive runner who could help the Wildcat cause if he completely "finds himself" . . . Held out of varsity competition last season . . . With spirited debate likely over the fullback berth, Chiccino likely will see reserve action this year . . . He sizes up at six feet, 170 pounds, and is 20 years old.

COPELAND, Bob — Sophomore — Center — Fulton, Ky.

Unless the unexpected develops, an abundance of center material will probably cause Copeland to be held out this year . . . Experience should get him ready for '53 . . . Had high school training at end and tackle . . . The statistics: 20-6 feet 2 inches-180.

CORRELL, Ray — Junior — Guard — Somerset, Ky.

Earned a letter last season as a sophomore defensive specialist . . . Named to the All-Time Cotton Bowl team for his stellar defensive play last New Year's Day against Texas Christian—a highly unique honor for a sophomore . . . He came through in the clutches on two occasions to throw TCU backs for 15-yard losses. Kentucky was ahead only 13-7 at these times and Correll's strong breakthroughs erased threats that could have beaten U.K. . . . Probable starter at defensive right guard World War II vet . . . 6 feet 1 inch-205-21.

DYER, Don — Junior — Guard — Morristown, Tenn.

One of the big "Ifs" on the squad, Dyer could provide sorely needed help at guard if he measures up to potentialities . . . Has good competitive spirit and is one of fastest big men on team . . . All-East Tennessee in high school . . . Played end and center as U.K. freshman . . . "D. D." stands six feet one inch and weighs 192 . . . Age 22.

ESTERLEY, Harry — Sophomore — Halfback — Cumbola, Pa.

Coach Bryant is counting on some help from Esterley this season in a defensive secondary role . . . The 19-year-old Chemistry major looked good up to the time he was hurt in Spring practice . . . Captained his high school team on which he played end and backfield . . . He's 6 feet and 175.

EVANS, Bill — Sophomore — Quarterback — Louisville, Ky.

Believed not quite ready for regular duty, he's one of candidates for quarterback post vacated by All-America Babe Parilli . . . Should be prepared with another season's experience . . . Played quarterback, halfback and safety at Eastern High school in Middletown, Louisville suburb . . . Evans is 19, six foot and 175 pounds.

FELCH, Allen — Sophomore — Fullback — Marinette, Wis.

A sophomore power plant appropriately nicknamed "The Bull" by teammates . . . He was talk of training camp last Fall, but inexperience under fire handicapped him during regular campaign . . . Saw considerable action in reserve roles and marked up respectable 4.5 yards per try average to earn varsity letter as frosh . . . Short and stocky (5 feet 10 inches and 195), the 20-year-old Felch hits line harder than any other Cat back and may be starter this season.

FILLION, Tom — Junior — Halfback — Owensboro, Ky.

Leading ground gainer on the team as a sophomore last season with an average gain of 5.7 yards (117 rushes netted 671 yards) . . . Fifth in rushing among conference backs . . . Used almost exclusively in relief fullback-halfback roles in '51, he started only one game (Tennessee) . . . He's a hard, speedy but reckless runner . . . If faults can be corrected, he could be starting right half this season . . . The personal info: One letter, 22 years old, 5 feet 11 inches, 176 pounds, All-State, All-Southern in high school, plans to be a geological engineer after graduation.

FRY, Bob — Senior — Tackle — Cincinnati, Ohio

Alternate captain of '52 squad . . . Rated by Coach Bryant as Kentucky's best offensive football player and one of the nation's top tackles . . . Exceptionally good blocker and fine leader . . . He'll probably see action also at defensive end, a position he looked good at last season . . . Leading candidate for All-Conference and All-America honors, Fry played halfback four years at Elder High in Cincinnati . . . He was an end as a U.K. freshman . . . Lettered as a sophomore on basis of extensive reserve service on both offense and defense . . . He shapes up at 6 feet 4 inches and 211, one of the biggest on the squad, and is 21 years old.

FULLER, Frank — Senior — Tackle — DuBois, Pa.

Undoubtedly the top defensive player on '52 roster, according to Coach Bryant . . . Considered one of the most underrated performers in SEC . . . Alternated between tackle and offensive center during career at U.K. to fill in as a "shock trooper" where most needed . . . He's the team's only experienced defensive performer at tackle . . . Showed up very well in Cotton Bowl game last New Year's Day . . . Selected in pro football draft by Los Angeles Rams, but may turn to coaching wrestling . . . He was junior AAU champ as schoolboy in 1948 . . . Fuller is a rangy 6 foot 4 inch, 212-pounder and 23 years old.

GRIGGS, John — Senior — Center — Morganfield, Ky.

Captain of the '52 Wildcats . . . Ranked by Coach Bryant as team's top combination (offense-defense) performer . . . Switched from end to center last year and started on offense . . . May wind up at defensive end or linebacker, as well as tending to offensive center chores, this season . . . A good leader and consistent player, Griggs never fails to be impressive in practice or games . . . Proved his versatility in last season's Tennessee game by performing at no less than five different positions—both ends on defense, defensive fullback, and offensive and defensive center—during the skirmish when injuries forced Kentucky to improvise . . . At 6 feet 2 inches and 200 pounds, the 21-year-old Griggs has the stamina—as well as heart—to be a somewhat rare 60-minute man . . . A year behind his class, due to a year on the "B" team, he has already been picked in the pro grid draft by the Los Angeles Rams.

GRUNER, Harold — Junior — Quarterback — Louisville, Ky.

A reserve offensive halfback last season as a sophomore, "Bunky" was shifted in Spring practice to quarterback in an attempt to find a successor to All-America Babe Parilli . . . This first taste of quarterbacking seemed to set well and Gruner now rates as the leading candidate for the job . . . He was third leading ground gainer on team in '51 with a four-yards-per-try average and seems ideally suited to Coach Bryant's plans for a dash of the Split T in Kentucky's offense this season . . . Classed as a smart and shifty runner, average passer, but is definitely inexperienced as a field general . . . Earned reputation as one of the state's greatest backs as a high school star at Louisville's DuPont Manual High . . . Captain of All-State teams of 1948-49 . . . Outstanding Player in Kentucky and All-Southern same years . . . Had only mediocre campaign as U.K. freshman, but showed fine natural ability last season . . . He's 22, 5 feet nine inches, and 172 pounds.

HALL, Bill — Sophomore — Linebacker — Paris, Ky.

Played guard as U.K. freshman, but tried at linebacker in Spring practice this year . . . Hall has determination to play and should see action in relief roles while gaining experience . . . Considered a coming defensive man . . . He's 6 feet, 20 years old and weighs 185.

HANLEY, Jack — Sophomore — Halfback — Hartford, Conn.

Small in stature (5 feet 10 inches—170 pounds), but large in determination and will to win . . . Should help this year at defensive halfback or linebacker . . . All-State fullback at Hartford Public High in 1948-49 and was captain of the school team same years.

HARDY, Bob — Sophomore — Quarterback — Paducah, Ky.

Handicapped by inexperience and talented competition last year, Hardy can be expected to show considerable improvement in '52 . . . A good competitor and smart field general, he still needs seasoning to arrive at full potential . . . All-State in '49 and '50 at Paducah Tilghman . . . Hardy is a pre-law student . . . He is 20 years old, 5 feet 10 inches in height and scales 180.

HARPER, Tom — Junior — Tackle — Madisonville, Ky.

A good bet to see considerable action as a relief man . . . Harper has the natural attributes of size (6 feet 2 inches—215) and will to win, but has yet to hit his best stride . . . Honorable mention three consecutive years on All-State selection while at Madisonville High.

HEAD, Paul — Sophomore — Tackle — Rockmart, Ga.

Inexperience will be a distinct handicap and Head may be held out this year to give him added seasoning . . . Has desire and ability to play and should be heard from before leaving Kentucky . . . All-State in Georgia, he is 6 feet and 195 now and still growing at 20.

HARRINGTON, Roger — Sophomore — Halfback — Louisville, Ky.

A potentially good back who may be able to see limited reserve action this year . . . Needs to gain considerable experience to develop . . . Played fullback at DuPont Manual high . . . He is 5 feet 9 inches and weighs 160.

HARRISON, George — Freshman — Fullback — Rockmart, Ga.

Lack of experience will handicap immediate development of indicated talent . . . If he can show promise while gaining a year's seasoning, he could help Wildcat cause . . . Studying to be an engineer . . . He's 20 — 5 feet 10 inches — 174 pounds.

HENNESSEY, Larry — Sophomore — Safetyman — Paris, Ky.

The "holler boy" of the ball club in both practice scrimmages and games, "Dude" is a pint-sized bundle of spirit and determination . . . In addition to asset of enthusiastic love of the game when going is toughest, he is ready to give his best at any defensive position except tackle or guard . . . Captained Paris High team and named honorable mention All-State . . . He's the big little man at 5 feet 9 inches, 165.

HOOPER, Hayden — Sophomore — Halfback — Rockmart, Ga.

Lacks only experience to become collegiate-calibre back . . . Should prove helpful with another year's seasoning as a reserve . . . In '11 carries last season, he averaged 3.5 yards . . . Seems to have potential to play . . . Twenty years old, 5 feet 9 inches and 165.

HUDSON, Bob — Freshman — Tackle — Paintsville, Ky.

A hulking 6 foot 4 inch and 190 pounds at 19, Hudson promises to be a big factor in future Kentucky forward walls . . . Inexperience may keep him sidelined this year, but he's expected to see relief duty on defense . . . Looked promising in Spring practice.

HUNT, Herb — Junior — Quarterback — Mayfield, Ky.

Only experienced quarterback letterman on '52 squad . . . He saw limited reserve action last year behind Parilli . . . Considered an exceptionally smart tactician . . . Has football savvy and know-how that could catapult him into uncertain quarterback picture in prominent role . . . Teammates tabbed him with nickname "The Finger" last year because of his sure-fingered actions in holding the ball for point after touchdown tries . . . He's 6 feet 1 inch and 161 pounds . . . Twenty-one years old and enrolled in College of Commerce.

JIRSCHELE, Don — Sophomore — Halfback — Clintonville, Wis.

Highly capable runner who should get into a lot of action this season . . . Used primarily as kickoff specialist last season and will have this duty assignment again in '52 . . . In carrying the ball on limited appearances a year ago, he averaged 3.2 yards per try . . . All-State in high school and lettered as U.K. freshman . . . Don is 19, 6 feet 1 inch, 194.

JONES, Harry — Senior — Halfback — Louisville, Ky.

1A of the famed Jones twin combination that has confused opponents and fans alike for past two seasons . . . Harry is identical twin brother of quarterback candidate Larry, who wears 1B on his game jersey . . . One of few sets of twins in college football, both played halfback last year . . . When dressed alike, even closest friends, teammates and coaches get them confused and address them both as "Bub" to be safe . . . Harry, named on most all opponent teams last season and considered leading candidate for "all-team" honors in '52, led the SEC last year in kickoff returns and made the longest run from scrimmage of any conference back (91 yards vs. George Washington) . . . An excellent student, as is brother Larry, Harry is a fast thinker and an almost-equally-as-fast runner . . . Best offensive back on roster, he's slated for duty at halfback . . . Twenty-one years old, 5 feet 10 inches, 158 pounds.

JONES, Larry — Senior — Quarterback — Louisville, Ky.

Mr. "B-Bub," Larry is the 1B part of Kentucky's famous Jones twins who carry unique numbers on their game jerseys identical to the numbering of entries in a horse race when an owner runs more than one thoroughbred in the same race . . . Converted from halfback to quarterback this Spring, Larry attempts to fill the shoes of graduated All-America Babe Parilli better than other aspirants . . . Agile and quick in thinking and action, Larry should see a lot of action at the new position . . . Led Wildcat hitters in baseball last season with hefty .379 average . . . He's 21, 5 feet 10 inches, and 158.

KARIBO, Lou — Sophomore — Halfback — Louisville, Ky.

Should provide competition in reserve role at offensive left half . . . He has quick burst of speed making for good runner . . . Gifted with lot of desire, but lacking in game experience . . . Held out last year . . . In off season, he keeps in shape with the swimming team and rates as one of best divers in conference . . . Smallest man on team at 5 feet 6 inches and 145 pounds.

KASSON, Jack — Sophomore — End — Clintonville, Wis.

Saw limited reserve action as a freshman and tabbed for increasing amount of duty as defensive flankman this year . . . Lacks experience, but has courage to make good . . . All-State two years . . . He's 6 feet, 180 and 19 years old.

KIRK, Harry — Sophomore — End — Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Big and aggressive with necessary qualities to develop into fine offensive end . . . Pete played regularly last season as a relief man and was one of six '51 frosh to letter . . . May not break into starting lineup this year, but certain to be valuable reserve . . . Biggest flankman on squad at 6 feet 4 inches and 200 pounds . . . Nineteen years of age.

KOCH, Joe — Sophomore — Guard — Louisville, Ky.

Tough little guy who has grown up "under fire" . . . Mighty mite of defensive line at 5 feet 10 inches, 180 pounds . . . He has terrific desire and hustle that captured attention of Coach Bryant and led to a prediction of eventual fine play despite size handicap . . . Could be pushing some regulars on either offense or defense and certain to see extensive reserve duty . . . He's 20.

LOWRY, Neil — Sophomore — Guard — Youngstown, Ohio

Rated one of the most promising newcomers on the squad by Coach Bryant, the six-foot, 185-pound Lowry was held out last year to gain size and seasoning . . . Considered average in natural ability, but has paid the price to be good enough to deserve the nod for a starting berth . . . Appears top candidate for defensive left guard spot . . . An All-City tackle at Youngstown Ursuline, he's majoring in English at U.K.

MEILINGER, Steve — Junior — End — Bethlehem, Pa.

All-Conference flankman as a sophomore . . . Touted as prospective All-American in pre-season forecasts by national magazines . . . Started every game last season and looked particularly good in Cotton Bowl, making three key catches for 61 vital yards . . . Ranked 12th among nation's pass receivers at season's end and was third in Southeastern Conference aerial yardage statistics . . . Caught more TD passes than any other player in SEC . . . Meilinger has an unusual attribute of waiting until the last second before throwing up his hands to catch a pass, thus gaining deception . . . In addition to big hands and near-perfect timing, Steve is an exceptionally hard man to bring down after he has the ball due to his size (6 feet 2 inches—212) and surprising speed . . . The big wingman has distinction of making All-State in two different states in consecutive years . . . Captained 1948 All-Pennsylvania eleven and in 1949 made the All-Virginia team after transferring from Bethlehem (Pa.) High to Forks Union (Va.) Military Academy . . . Disappointing in Spring practice this season, but expected to have a great year.

MINGIS, Jerry — Freshman — Guard — Portsmouth, Va.

Outstanding high school player of Virginia in '51, Mingis enrolled at mid-term and went through Spring practice with Kentucky . . . Classed as potentially good collegiate prospect who should see some varsity action this Fall . . . Mingis is big at 6 feet and 205, has good attitude and willingness to improve natural ability by hard work on the field . . . All-State, All-Southern and All-American selection at Woodrow Wilson High in Portsmouth last season.

MITCHELL, Dick — Sophomore — Halfback — Somerset, Ky.

Another fine home-state prospect, Mitchell was held out of varsity competition last year and should be ready this season to see action . . . Small in stature at 5 feet 7 inches and 152, he is a fast and deceptive runner . . . Could provide reserve strength . . . All-State two years at Somerset High.

PAOLONE, Ralph — Junior — Fullback — New Castle, Pa.

A hard and reckless runner who could be team's starting fullback if he continues pace shown in Spring practice . . . Averaged 5.5 yards per try on 19 trips with the ball during Blue-White intra-squad game . . . At 6 feet and 204, he's big and powerful . . . Shows good attitude in practice and is being counted on for help this season . . . Held out last year after transferring from Notre Dame . . . All-State in Pennsylvania 1948.

PHILPOT, O. E. — Freshman — Center — Lebanon, Tenn.

Mid-term enrollee considered good prospect for limited duty at defensive center backing up the line . . . An 18-year-old, he is large at 6 feet and 180 pounds . . . Should develop into mature competitor with experience . . . All-Mid-South selection in '51 as high school center, guard, linebacker.

PLATT, Joe — Junior — Halfback — Kokomo, Ind.

Smooth working ball carrier and good defensive man . . . May play some offense, but likely will be used in defensive secondary . . . Tabbed as top candidate for starting spot at left halfback on defense . . . Good at diagnosing opposition plays . . . The personal statistics: 21-5 feet 10 inches-175.

PROFFITT, Jim — Junior — End — Louisville, Ky.

Regular offensive right end as a sophomore last season . . . Expected to see double duty to some extent in '52 as defensive wingman also . . . Big (6 feet 2 inches-200) and fast with determination and fight, Proffit has necessary qualities to become a star . . . Graduate of DuPont Manual High in Louisville.

RATCLIFFE, Clark — Sophomore — Guard — Pikeville, Ky.

Inexperienced and a likely holdout this season while gaining seasoning . . . Has lots of competitive spirit and the necessary desire that should help him make good next year . . . All-Conference three years as guard and linebacker in high school, Ratcliffe is 20-5 feet 9 inches-180.

RUDD, O. T. — Junior — Linebacker — Madisonville, Ky.

Should be ready this year to materially aid Wildcat cause . . . Expected to be used exclusively on defense . . . Saw reserve duty at defensive center in '51 after being tried as an end . . . Made second team All-Navy at Marine Base, N. C., while in service with Marines three years . . . He is 22, 6 feet 1 inch and 180.

RUSHING, Dick — Sophomore — Halfback — Camden, Ark.

Probable number one boy at defensive right halfback . . . Saw limited reserve duty at this spot last year . . . Showed up well in Spring practice . . . He's agile and quick to size up opponents' play situations . . . All-State and honorable mention All-America at Camden High where he saw action at quarterback, halfback and fullback . . . Dick is 19, 6 feet, and 178.

SCHENK, Jim — Junior — Guard — Newark, N. J.

Six-foot-one-inch, 212-pound newcomer rated by Coach Bryant as prime prospect to play regularly at the offensive right guard post vacated by graduated Jim Mackenzie . . . Came to Kentucky last year after Georgetown University (Washington, D. C.) abandoned football but did not play due to transfer rule . . . He's regarded as a fine competitor and has the size (6 feet 1 inch—212) to be a good lineman . . . Pre-law student.

SHIRLEY, Millard — Sophomore — Fullback — Springfield, Ky.

Regarded as good prospect despite his 5 foot 7 inch, 160-pound size . . . Shows fine speed, excellent reactions necessary to backfield duty . . . Sure to see reserve action as relief at the not-too-deep fullback spot and should improve with experience.

SIMPKINS, Bill — Sophomore — Center — Griffin, Ga.

Surprise of Spring practice, Simpkins is now rated as one of the team's most promising newcomers . . . Hard worker, good blocker and very determined to give his best at all times . . . Played on "B" squad last year as a freshman . . . Expected to take over offensive center duties as a starter this season . . . He is 6 feet, 180, and 19 years old.

SMITH, Calvin — Junior — Tackle — Barbourville, Ky.

Aggressive stalwart up from the reserves to make a strong bid for a starting role in '52 . . . Tagged as most likely candidate for defensive left tackle berth . . . Big and hard-charging, he should develop into a top-notch tackle before season is over . . . Lettered on basis of valuable relief duty last year . . . He's 6 feet 1 inch, 227 and 22.

STRANGE, Leo — Freshman — Center — Louisville, Ky.

A hard worker whose only handicap to extensive varsity duty will be inexperience . . . He is considered a very good prospect and should show improvement as the season progresses . . . Expected to be tried on both offense and defense . . . Graduate of DuPont Manual High in Louisville . . . He's 6 feet, 200, 18.

WILLARD, Miles — Junior — Safetyman — Vandergrift, Pa.

Lettered last season as a fullback linebacker on basis of valuable reserve service . . . May play defensive halfback or safety this year and expected to do most of team's punting . . . Coach Bryant rates him as best punter on the squad . . . Willard averaged 34.7 yards on his limited kicks in '51 . . . All-around athlete in high school . . . Regular third baseman with U.K. nine in off season . . . Twenty-one, 5 feet 11 inches, 160.

WILLIAMS, Bob — Freshman — End — Paintsville, Ky.

Alert and aggressive prospect who needs only seasoning under collegiate coaching to develop . . . May be held out this year to gain experience . . . Played at end and quarterback in high school at Paintsville . . . He stands six feet, weighs 180 and is 18 years old.

ZAMPINO, Al — Sophomore — End — Philadelphia, Pa.

Earned varsity letter as a freshman last season while seeing extensive reserve action . . . Started two early-season games at defensive end and probably will play same position this year . . . Possibly slated for some offensive action . . . If he comes through as hoped, a lot of problems will be solved . . . He's 19, 6 feet 1 inch, 189.

BLACK, Tom — Sophomore — Tackle — Texarkana, Ark.

Gives every indication of becoming fine tackle with experience under belt . . . May be held out to save year of eligibility while gaining this training . . . He has size, at 6 feet 3 inches and 210, to function effectively . . . All-State at Texarkana in 1950.

The University of Kentucky

Located in Lexington, an urban community of 100,000 population, UK is a state supported institution which operates under the direction of the Board of Trustees. Membership of this Board includes the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the Commissioner of Agriculture, ex officio, and twelve members appointed by the Governor, three of whom are alumni of the University and three members of the State Board of Agriculture. It is one of a number of institutions known as land-grant colleges, which were established by the Morrill Act of 1862, and which will continue to receive federal assistance under the provisions.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities, and is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is accredited in its respective colleges or departments by the Association of American Law Schools, the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, the American Library Association, the National Association of Schools of Music, and the Engineers' Council for Professional Development.

The major function of the University is that of instruction. For the performance of this function it is organized into the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, the College of Engineering, the College of Law, the College of Education, the College of Commerce, the Graduate School, a College of Pharmacy, located at Louisville, and a Northern Kentucky Extension Center at Covington.

In addition to giving instruction to its student body, the University contributes to the welfare of the state through research, experimentation, and public service. While all departments make important contributions along these lines, certain divisions and bureaus have been established specifically for these purposes.

The University began as a part of Kentucky University under a cooperative plan authorized by the legislature in 1865. The purpose of this plan was to unite sectarian and public education under one organization. This experiment was tried for a number of years. In the meantime, the Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts in Kentucky University. In 1878, when the people of Kentucky decided to establish a state institution of higher learning, the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts was separated from Kentucky University and reestablished on land given by the City of Lexington and the County of Fayette. Thirty years later the legislature changed the name of the institution to the State University of Kentucky, and gave it additional financial support. In 1916 the name was again changed, this time to the present title, and additional maintenance was arranged by legislative act.

Footnote A — Although numerical scoring had not yet been introduced in Rugby football, either here or in Great Britain, when Kentucky and Transylvania (then known as Kentucky University) played their series in 1881, persons in charge of the games obviously had arrived at some sort of agreement assigning numerical values to the various scoring plays. Records never existed and men who played in the games are scattered or dead. All we can do is accept the scores printed in the newspapers — and surmise that a touchdown perhaps counted  $\frac{1}{4}$  point and that a goal or an end-kick (a punt into the modern end zone) counted 1. That seems logical, since in the ratio scoring of that day, a touchdown was worth one-quarter of a goal. The end-kick, a British heritage, undoubtedly was introduced because all realized that green players would score few goals, if any.

Footnote B — The football rules took no official position on the score of a forfeited game until 1908 when it was pegged at 1-0 to make it different from any other score possible in the game. By common consent, forfeited games prior to that were entered into the records as victories by 6-0 for the offended team — everywhere, that is, except in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, predecessor of the Southern Conference and the Southeastern Conference. In the S. I. A. A. the 6-0 practice was followed unless the offended team had a greater number of points. In that case, the offended team won by the greater score to nothing. Thus, Kentucky's forfeiture to Central University in 1900 is 6-0, since Kentucky led by 11-0 at the time. Kentucky led Cumberland by 12-11 in 1905 when the Tennesseans forfeited. The Blue and White, under S. I. A. A. rules, gets credit for a 12-0 victory.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

CHAPTER I
THE DISCOVERY OF AMERICA
The first discovery of America was made by Christopher Columbus in 1492. He sailed from Spain in search of a westward route to the Indies. On October 12, 1492, he landed on the island of San Salvador in the West Indies. This event marked the beginning of European exploration and settlement in the Americas.

CHAPTER II
THE EARLY YEARS
The early years of the United States were marked by the struggle for independence from Great Britain. The American Revolution began in 1775 and ended in 1783 with the signing of the Treaty of Paris. The new nation was founded on the principles of liberty and democracy.

CHAPTER III
THE GROWTH OF THE NATION
The growth of the United States was rapid in the early years. The territory of the new nation expanded westward, and the population increased. The United States emerged as a major power in the world.

CHAPTER IV
THE CIVIL WAR
The Civil War was a major event in the history of the United States. It was fought between the Union and the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. The war resulted in the preservation of the Union and the abolition of slavery.

CHAPTER V
THE RECONSTRUCTION PERIOD
The Reconstruction Period was a time of great change and struggle. It was a period of rebuilding the South and integrating African Americans into the nation. The Reconstruction Period ended in 1877.

CHAPTER VI
THE Gilded Age
The Gilded Age was a period of rapid economic growth and industrialization. It was a time of great wealth and power for a few, but also of poverty and social inequality for many. The Gilded Age ended in 1900.

CHAPTER VII
THE PROGRESSIVE ERA
The Progressive Era was a period of reform and social change. It was a time when many of the problems of the Gilded Age were addressed. The Progressive Era ended in 1914.

CHAPTER VIII
THE WORLD WAR PERIOD
The World War Period was a time of global conflict and upheaval. The United States entered World War I in 1917 and World War II in 1941. The war resulted in the defeat of the Axis powers and the emergence of the United States as a superpower.

CHAPTER IX
THE COLD WAR
The Cold War was a period of tension and rivalry between the United States and the Soviet Union. It was a time of nuclear arms race and proxy wars. The Cold War ended in 1991.

CHAPTER X
THE PRESENT
The present is a time of great change and challenge. The United States continues to grow and evolve, facing new opportunities and challenges. The future of the United States is bright and full of promise.
