Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the report of the Comptroller was authorized received and made a part of the minutes.

C. College of Veterinary Science.

President Donovan read a prepared statement concerning the establishment of a College of Veterinary Science at the University.

There has been much interest on the part of many farmers and livestock breeders of the state in the establishment of a school of veterinary science at the University of Kentucky. At each meeting of the General Assembly for the past eight years I have been petitioned by Representatives and Senators to initiate a movement that would lead to the establishment of a college of veterinary science. The demand for such an institution has increased greatly since the war when Kentuckians were shut out of such schools in other states because of the large enrollment of native sons only.

Mr. Hal Price Headley, acting on behalf of the Keeneland Association, agreed last winter to give the University $500,000 if this sum could be matched by the state. I submitted the proposal to Governor Clements and he has manifested an interest in it. I also talked to Dr. Coffee, who is President of the American Veterinary Medical Association, about the proposal because he is probably as well informed on what a school of veterinary science will cost as any man in the United States. When he informally reported to me what was involved if such a school was recognized by the American Veterinary Medical Association, I became very much discouraged over the possibility of our establishing such an institution because of the very great expenditures necessary.

While in attendance at the meeting of the National Association of State Universities the first week in May, I discussed this question with several university presidents who had recently established schools of veterinary science and in each case the president discouraged our undertaking such a proposal unless we had large sums of money available for its establishment and maintenance. After returning from this meeting, I wrote Governor Clements a letter on the subject, a copy of which I sent to each trustee, for his consideration. I believe we should know what such an undertaking will cost before becoming involved in the establishment of a new college at the University. I am thoroughly convinced the general public has no concept of what a school of veterinary science costs today. Members of the General Assembly when talking to me usually suggest that we can get an appropriation of from $50,000 to $100,000 for its maintenance once established. The data which I have assembled show that this would not suffice to operate such a school.

The demand for admission to schools of veterinary science today is not as great as it has been for the past five years. A young man with a good scholarship record can secure admission to one of the nineteen schools of veterinary science now established in this country. Recently I had communications from both Oklahoma and Texas asking if there were students at the University desiring to take veterinary science who would like to attend their institutions. We can usually get two or three of our boys in at Ohio State University and I do not believe it will be difficult in the future to get about the same number admitted to a number of colleges of veterinary science. Now that we are a member of the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education, Kentuckians desiring to study veterinary science may be admitted to some of the southern schools if the state will pay $1,000 per year per student for the support of this program. This would be a much more economical proposition than for us to establish a school of veterinary science in Kentucky.

If we had a school of veterinary science at the University, the enrollment would probably be limited to about thirty-five or forty entering students per year. This would mean that not more than a hundred to a hundred and five students would ever be enrolled at any one time. Assuming that a hundred students would be the average enrollment in the school of veterinary science, we can buy the service elsewhere for $100,000 per year, whereas if the University maintains an institution to offer this service, the cost would certainly be not less than $250,000 per year, and it might run higher. This does not take into consideration the capital investment that would be involved.

The University of Kentucky has at present a Department of Animal Pathology which specializes in the study of animal diseases. It is largely a research department and its standing is recognized throughout the United States. Indeed it is regarded as one of the best departments of this kind in existence. A number of people with whom I have talked about this subject have suggested that it would be much more valuable for us to enlarge this department and strengthen it rather than to establish a school of veterinary science.

Educators everywhere are coming to the conclusion that every university cannot provide every type of service needed by a state but that in certain fields where only a limited number of people are involved in a vocation or profession regional institutions should be established and an exchange of services provided. In such fields as forestry, mining, pharmacy, veterinary science, medical technology, et cetera, a few strong centers are much more economical than for each state to provide this training and none of the states to have outstanding programs because of the high cost involved.

In view of the very generous offer made by the Keeneland Association through Mr. Hal Price Headley, it appears to me that this question should be settled by the Board of Trustees as Mr. Headley is entitled to some answer from us. Personally, I may say that I had hoped that we could have a school of veterinary science at the University of Kentucky for it has always seemed to me that this is the logical place for such a school because of the great interest in livestock in this region. However, since learning of the huge sum involved in establishing such a school, my enthusiasm has waned because I do not believe our state will adequately support a school of veterinary science if it is once established. This conclusion is based on the fact that we already have in the University of Kentucky some departments that were established as a result of public demand that have never been adequately financed and can never be considered great departments until they have better financial support.

About a week ago Mr. Hal Price Headley called to see me for further discussion of the proposal he had made on behalf of the Keeneland Association. I reviewed for him, much as I have for you today, the information I had received from other sources relative to the cost of establishing and maintaining a school of veterinary science. He was greatly disappointed to receive this information and stated that he still hoped that we might be able to persuade the state to go ahead and properly finance this project. Mr. Headley expressed a great personal interest in seeing that a school of veterinary science was established at the University of Kentucky and stated that he felt that the Keeneland Association would look with favor upon making grants for its support from time to time in the event we went ahead and did this. He also felt that the interest of a number of horsemen might be enlisted if an effort was made to do so.

I have presented to you such information as I have been able to collect on this subject. I feel that I would be derelict in my duty if I did not make the members of the Board of Trustees conscious of the very high cost of the establishment of this college, but I think that after I have presented these data, the decision on so important a matter should rest with a board of fifteen citizens representing every section of Kentucky as to whether or not we should establish a school of veterinary science.

It probably is desirable for the Board to invite a committee of from three to five well qualified persons to make a very thorough investigation of this problem. Such a committee should visit other institutions that have schools of veterinary science and find out something about their operation and the cost of maintaining them, also explore the possibilities of getting some of our neighboring states to agree to help in the support of this new college. Mr. John E. Ivey, Jr., Director of the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education, has indicated that there may be a possibility of getting some support from Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, and Maryland.

Since dictating the above, I called President John Hannah of the Michigan State College and asked him if he could furnish me with the cost data on the college of veterinary science at his institution.

President Hannah reported that they had two old buildings devoted entirely to veterinary medicine; one of these, the Animal Pathology Building, cost $200,000 about twenty years ago, and the Veterinary Clinic cost $250,000 when it was constructed about twenty-five years ago. The last session of the Legislature of Michigan gave the institution a new veterinary science building which has been contracted for at a cost of $2,490,600.

President Hannah reported that the operation and maintenance of the veterinary science college cost for the school year 1949-50, $383,107; the sum of $284,942 was spent for salaries, $51,900 for operation, and $12,865 for new equipment.

The Michigan president stated that it cost as much or more per student to operate a veterinary science college than it does to operate a medical school. The average cost is about $1,500 per student per year in state appropriations. The Dean receives $11,000 per year and professors' salaries are from $7,700 to $9,000.

The school of veterinary science at Michigan State admits about sixty-four freshmen per year and an average from fifty-eight to sixty graduate each year. President Hannah thinks that in two or three years we will have more schools of veterinary science in this country than we need. When I asked him if Michigan State could take any Kentucky boys he told me that they could take three or four at the present time and more later.

The statement of the President was discussed by members of the Board. Doctor Coffee discussed the problem from the standpoint of the State and the Nation. It was brought out that Kentucky is a key state in the live-stock industry, and that there are areas in Kentucky where there are not enough veterinarians to protect the live stock, and other areas where there is not enough live stock to support a veterinarian.

The required floor space necessary for a College of Veterinary Science was estimated by Doctor Coffee as approximating 180,000 square feet, which might cost something like $20.00 per square foot to construct. It was estimated that the equipment required to establish a College of Veterinary Science, to meet the requirements of the accrediting authorities, would approximate $250,000.00, and that it would possibly take an operating budget of about $250,000.00 annually to run the College. The faculty would consist of 25 to 30 professors.

Doctor Coffee further brought out the fact that we have had a great shortage of veterinarians to take care of live stock and public health problems, and said that seven new colleges of veterinary science have been established in the United States since World War II. He estimated that it took about 250 doctors of veterinary science to care for the needs of the various counties in the State.

Governor Clements expressed the thought that perhaps the problem should be given further study.

A motion was made, seconded and carried that the Chairman appoint a committee of five members to survey the problem and report back to the Board. Governor Clements asked that the members of the Board offer suggestions for membership of the committee, and after adjournment of the Board appointed the following people as a committee to make the survey: Hal Price Headley, J. E. Stanford, Dr. W. M. Coffee, J. Lindsay Nunn, and W. P. Garrigus.

D. Housing.

President Donovan read the following statement concerning the needs of housing at the University:

Recently the United States Congress passed the Housing Act in which $300,000,000 was earmarked for student and faculty housing at colleges and universities. I have heard unofficially that Kentucky's allotment may be approximately $7,000,000. Those institutions that get their applications in early will stand a far better chance of having their applications accepted than institutions applying later. The University of Kentucky's housing situation is certainly the most critical of that of any of the colleges in the state. I wish to ask the Board to request the approval of the Building Commission for the following housing projects and recommend that the applications for these be filed immediately, also to request authority to employ Brock & Johnson, architects, to prepare preliminary plans for projects 1 and 2.

1. A Faculty and Graduate Student Apartment Building.

At present we have 53 faculty members living in Shawneetown. Some of them have been in these apartments for as long as four years. As you are well aware, these buildings were former Army barracks and were regarded as temporary living quarters during the period of the emergency. They are far from satisfactory homes for faculty members. As time passes the question of maintenance of these sub-standard dwellings will be exceedingly high.

Many institutions began building homes for faculty members as early as 1945 and at many universities very substantial apartment houses and single dwelling units for housing faculty members have been erected. Universities have found that it is much easier to secure outstanding staff members when the institution can guarantee them homes at reasonable rents. This is also a big factor in maintaining good morale of the staff. Families happily situated in a home contribute more to an institution than those that are disgruntled because of poor living quarters.

I recommend that we apply for a sum of money sufficient to build an apartment house of from fifty to sixty apartments, and that the apartments vary from one room and a kitchenette to approximately four or six rooms. In view of the fact that the money can be obtained for this purpose from the Federal Government at an interest rate of approximately 2.6 percent to be repaid over a period of forty years, the construction of such a project by the University is feasible and desirable. It appears now that it may be years before Lexington catches up on its building requirements and that many young couples coming to the University as instructors and as graduate students cannot afford to rent apartments or houses in town, even if they can find them. The rent on such apartments as we propose will amortize this project.

2. Bachelor Quarters Connected with the Faculty Club.

The faculty is extremely anxious that we build an apartment for unmarried staff members of the University and that in this apartment building rooms be provided for the Faculty Club. All members of the faculty of the University are interested in this project and a large number of unmarried staff members are particularly interested in having quarters on the campus where they can live and be convenient to the University. Dues for membership in the Faculty Club and the rents will be ample to amortize this project.

3. If the Building Commission approves our request for half of the cost of a girls' dormitory and a men's dormitory, I recommend that application be made for the other half of these projects. Student rents can amortize half of the cost of these buildings and the government interest rate of 2.6 percent is considerably better than what we can secure through a bond issue at the present time. Indications are that interest on a bond issue would be approximately 3 percent.

President Donovan distributed to members of the Board copies of a report of the Housing Committee of the University of Kentucky chapter of the A. A. U. P., which is copied herein:

May 24, 1950

President H. L. Donovan
University of Kentucky

Dear President Donovan:

At the request of the University of Kentucky Chapter of the A. A. U. P. and on behalf of its Housing Committee I am submitting a report which summarizes the results of a study of Faculty housing at the University.

The findings reported upon here indicate that a serious housing problem exists at the University. It is of such magnitude as to increasingly affect the morale of the faculty.

The following points appear to be most significant:

1. Many unmarried Faculty members, especially women, are in need of small apartments. Such apartments are very scarce in Lexington. Faculty members cannot be contented permanently with single rooms without such facilities as kitchenettes, private baths, etc.

2. Many Faculty families are unable to rent suitable living accommodations. A pitiful picture of exorbitant costs and unsuitable accommodations is revealed by this study. The situation will probably be worse when rent controls are removed. Shawneetown and Cooperstown have helped tremendously but they represent only a partial and temporary solution of the problem.

3. Before 1940 many Faculty members were able to purchase satisfactory homes and pay for them from their salaries. This has now become very difficult and the Faculty is obviously dropping to a lower economic status in the community.

The A. A. U. P. is certain that the University Administration is already cognizant of the problems touched upon by this study but hopes that this formulation of them may be of value. The A. A. U. P. wishes to express its desire to cooperate in any possible way to aid in the solution of these problems.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) R. H. Weaver, Chairman
Housing Committee.

REPORT OF HOUSING COMMITTEE of the
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY CHAPTER OF THE A. A. U. P.

The Housing Committee of the University of Kentucky Chapter of the AAUP circulated a questionnaire to the members of the Faculty of the University of Kentucky. A copy of the questionnaire is attached to this report. The Committee intended to include in the study the members of the Faculty who would meet the requirements for membership in the AAUP. Due to difficulties in obtaining a proper mailing list, it appears that the group included was slightly more extensive. The Committee wishes to thank the Faculty for the excellent response of 362 completed questionnaires. The response appears to be an indication of interest in the housing situation. Several of the questionnaires were accompanied by notes commending the AAUP on the undertaking of the study. The following report of the Committee represents an analysis of the completed questionnaires.

Replies were received from 63 unmarried Faculty members without dependents. Of these, 34 were women, 20 were men, and 9 failed to designate their sex. Of the 20 men, 15 said that they were satisfied with their housing accommodations. The other five complained of high costs, poor accommodations or inconvenient location. Of the 34 women, 21 were satisfied with their accommodations. Thirteen were dissatisfied because of high costs, lack of furnace heat, lack of private bathroom, and inconvenient location, requiring bus transfers. From a study of all of these questionnaires it appears that if the individual is satisfied to live in a single room, reasonably satisfactory accommodations may be obtained. On the other hand, a large percentage of the women and some of the men would like to have small apartments. Many expressed a willingness to pay from $30.00 to $65.00 for small apartments. Apparently comparatively few have been able to find such apartments.

Replies were received from 117 individuals with dependents, who rent apartments or houses.

Of these, 39 live in Shawneetown or Cooperstown. Twelve of these expressed themselves as being thoroughly satisfied with their accommodations. Seven of the 12 have no children, two have one child and three have two children. Of the remaining 27, most complained of the small size of the apartments. Several with two children are living in single bedroom apartments. Some mention five hazards, poor heating, lack of bathing facilities, barracks-like appearance of the buildings and crowded conditions.

Appreciation should be expressed to the University Administration for making facilities at Shawneetown and Cooperstown available to the faculty. It is apparent that Shawneetown and Cooperstown have met, are meeting and will continue to meet a very great need. Reports of unsuccessful attempts over a long period of time to either rent or buy within the limitations of the income of the individual are quite numerous. If these housing projects were to be closed, the situation would be tragic for some of the families involved. On the other hand, these housing projects should not be looked upon as anything but a temporary solution of some of the housing problems. Two representative criticisms of those who have lived in one of these projects follow:

"It is below the minimum standards being set up for the Administration of the rural aspects of the housing act."

"I lived in Shawneetown for --- years and enjoyed the associations while there. However, I sincerely feel that it is a disgrace for the University to expect their faculty members to live in such low-class housing. There is not another professional group in the city that would live in such housing. And it isn't temporary housing for a lot of faculty members. Those that haven't got the down payment for a house are surely stuck there as long as there is a Shawneetown."

Of the 108 renters who do not live in one of the housing projects, 30 are fortunate enough to have what they consider to be satisfactory accommodations. Several of these, as might be expected, are families without children. Rents paid vary from $37.50 to $86.25 per month, representing from 10 to 30 per cent of the salaries of the individuals. Forty-seven consider their accommodations unsatisfactory. Several are paying very high rents. Seven are paying between $100.00 and $150.00 per month. All of these are individuals who have come to the University since 1948. Ten are paying between $80.00 and $100.00 per month. The highest figure stated is 42 percent. The individual who is paying $150.00 did not express it in terms of percentage. Many feel that their rents are exorbitant for the accommodations that they have. The majority feel that their accommodations are too small for their families. Several with children have only a single bedroom. Some are being forced to live in unsatisfactory neighborhoods. Some live far from the campus, in North Lexington, in rural areas or even in Georgetown. As one puts it, "We would prefer to be living in a neighborhood closer to the University and in which there were more persons nearer to our socio-economic class. Most of our friends live several miles away."

Twenty-two list their accommodations as temporary. Temporary is here used to mean that they may be forced to move at any time. Incidentally three individuals, not otherwise covered in this report, have reported to the Committee that they have been unable to find any accommodations for their families which they can afford to rent or buy.

The majority of the renters would prefer to be buying their own homes, although some, because they are temporary employees of the University, or for other reasons, prefer to rent. Of the 39 who live in Shawneetown or Coopers-town, 29 prefer to buy, 6 prefer to rent, and 4 do not state preference. Of the 30 listed as having satisfactory housing, 13 prefer to rent, 13 would rather buy and 4 do not state preference. Of the 47 with unsatisfactory housing, 28 would like to buy, 12 prefer to rent and 7 do not state preference. Summarizing, of all the renters, 70 would like to buy or build, 31 would prefer to rent, and 15 do not state preference.

Replies were received from 175 who "own" their homes. Of these, 54 bought or built their homes before 1940. An average of the figures stated indicates that they paid an average of 250 percent of their salary in terms of salary at time of purchase. All figures for payments for houses are obviously too low because many of those with incomes in addition to their salaries who paid larger sums for their homes failed to state amounts paid. Thirty-two have found it possible to pay for their homes from their salary. Sixteen have not. Six make no statement. All but 5 are satisfied with their homes.

Thirty-two bought or built between 1940 and 1944. The average price was 285 percent of salary in terms of salary at time of purchase. Sixteen have found it possible to pay for their homes from their salary; 14 have not. All but 4 are satisfied with their homes.

Eighty-nine bought or built after 1944. The average price was 290 percent of salary in terms of salary at time of purchase. While the average price stated is not much higher in terms of salary than for the earlier periods, the number of individuals who were forced to pay from 400 to 600 percent of their annual salary increased. Of these 89, 42 state that they are finding it possible to pay for their homes from their salary, and 42 state that they are not able to do so. Of the 42 who state that they are able to pay for their homes from salary, many comment on the difficulties involved and some state that even the slightest cut in salary would force them to lose their homes. Twenty-six have homes which they consider to be unsatisfactory for their needs. Some are too small, some are in unsatisfactory neighborhoods, many are old houses without modern features. Many individuals have been forced to buy old houses and to spend large sums in improvements. In the majority of cases these costs are not included in the purchase costs stated.

In summary, it may be stated that a serious housing problem still exists at the University of Kentucky. This is affecting the maintenance of a high-class Faculty at the University. The low morale of those without satisfactory accommodations is not to the best interest of the University. Several have stated that they have accepted positions at the University with an increase in salary over previous positions only to find that their actual income is lower due to increased living costs.

Small apartments are needed for Faculty members without dependents. Reasonable priced accommodations for rent are scarce and will be almost non-existent when rent controls are removed. Property costs in Lexington are very high. Many have pointed out the high costs in Lexington as compared with places where they have lived formerly.

For the most part, those who were fortunate, or wise enough, to buy homes during the depression, and who have been able to pay for them with inflated money have been able to acquire satisfactory homes. While those who bought homes prior to 1940 paid an average of 250 percent of their salary in terms of salary at time of purchase, this amounts to an average of only 150 percent in terms of their present salary. It should be pointed out that some whose salaries were low at the beginning of the depression were unable to advance during the depression and were unable to take advantage of opportunities for purchase at low prices. Since then their salaries have advanced less rapidly than living costs, and, in fact, less rapidly than those of newer and younger members of the Faculty.

Since the early 1940s it has been difficult to buy or build a satisfactory home on the basis of a University salary. As one puts it, "Postwar University salaries simply do not permit acquisition of homes comparable to those acquired with prewar salaries." From the standpoint of housing it is evident that the University Faculty does not occupy as favorable a position in the community as it did some years ago. One who recently paid 480 percent of his salary, reports that his house is too small for his family. Many of those who have bought or built recently are in a precarious position. Many have homes that are going to prove to be increasingly too small for increasing family size. Many who are now finding it possible to pay for their homes may be unable to do so as their children grow older and they are faced with increased costs of education, etc.

On some of the questionnaires have been comments on experience elsewhere. As one puts it, "I have seen the faculty and University elsewhere combine to provide faculty housing, much to the mutual benefit of both parties. I believe it is needed here and can be done successfully."

The plans and specifications for the girls' dormitory and men's dormitory have already been prepared by Frankel and Curtis and John F. Wilson, respectively. The girls' dormitory is estimated to cost $2,150,000, will house 216 women, and will have kitchen and dining facilities adequate to feed 1250 persons. The men's dormitory is estimated to cost $2,400,000 and will house 365 men and provide kitchen and dining-room facilities for 1,000.

The recommendations of the President were discussed at some length, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the Comptroller was directed to request the approval of the State Property and Buildings Commission to file application to the Housing and Home

Finance Agency, Washington, D.C., for the following loans:

(1) A faculty and graduate student apartment building, to cost not more than $750,000.

(2) Bachelor quarters connected with the Faculty Club, to cost not more than $400,000.

(3) One-half of the cost of a girls' dormitory, kitchen and dining rooms -- $1,075,000.

(4) One-half of the cost of a men's dormitory -- $1,200,000.

Brock and Johnson, Architects, Lexington, Ky., were authorized employed to draw plans and specifications for (1) a faculty and graduate student apartment building, and (2) bachelor quarters connected with the Faculty Club, provided the requests are granted and the loans are approved.

The Comptroller was authorized to make application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Washington, D.C., as approved by the State Property and Buildings Commission.

E. Approval of Candidates for Degrees at Commencement of June 2, 1950.

President Donovan made the following statement:

"At its commencement on Friday night, the University will graduate the largest class in its history. The list includes a total of 1579 men and women. The Registrar, in cooperation with the college deans, has prepared the list of candidates for degrees and has submitted it for the consideration of the Board of Trustees. Customarily, the University Faculty approves the graduation list before it is submitted to the Board. This year, however, the meeting of the Board was scheduled earlier to make it easier for each of you to attend both the Board meeting and the Baccalaureate and dedicatory exercises of this morning. As a consequence, the list as presented to you, though in all probability complete and accurate in every respect, is subject to the final action of the University Faculty at its meeting tomorrow. I recommend, therefore, the approval of this list, together with any amendment that it may be necessary for the University Faculty to make."

G. Budget Changes.

President Donovan read the following letter and recommended approval of budget changes as reported therein:

May 29, 1950

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President
University of Kentucky

My dear Dr. Donovan:

The following budgets were increased after receipt of budget transfers, Form 26's, bearing your approval:

College of Education
Administration	$350.00
Distributive Occupations	125.00
Graduate School
Instruction	40.00
University Extension
Administration	150.00
Library
General Library	496.80
Maintenance and Operations
General Appropriations	1,633.98

Construction (plant fund)	3,900.00
Total	$8,045.78

No doubt you will desire to obtain Board ratification of the changes.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Frank D. Peterson, Comptroller.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the budget changes as listed above were authorized, and the Comptroller was authorized to make necessary budget adjustments.

H. Appropriation for Excavation for Kentucky Kernel-Journalism Building.

President Donovan stated that it had been found necessary to excavate at a greater depth than was originally planned in order to place the piers of the Kentucky Kernel-Journalism Building on solid rock. He stated that it was necessary to request an extra appropriation. He read the following letters from the Comptroller and the architect, explaining in more detail the necessity for the request:

May 3, 1950

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President
University of Kentucky

My dear President Donovan:

I attach hereto a letter from Mr. Wayne W. Haffler, Supervising Architect, for the construction of the Kentucky Kernel Journalism Building. Mr. Haffler reports that the contractor has determined foundation conditions to be not as anticipated from preliminary soundings taken prior to the execution of the plans and specifications. The soundings taken did not reveal the true conditions which required excavating more earth and rock in order to place the foundation piers of the building on solid rock.

I requested the Supervising Architect, and Mr. Rice and Mr. Farris, representing the University, to check on the earth and rock excavation differing from the quantities shown in the specifications. They have submitted their verification to this office, detailing calculations and quantities of extras and credits involved. Their report shows the earth and rock excavation provided in the original plans and specifications and the total rock and earth excavation actually made in order to place the piers of the building on solid rock. The extra earth and rock excavation required additional forms and concrete.

The additional cost for extras incident to the foundation of this building is $5,577.38. The contract provided for unit cost in the event of necessary extra work. I am of the opinion there was no way to avoid this additional cost except by core borings prior to advertising for the bids, which did not seem advisable. Had the core borings been made, the additional cost would have undoubtedly been reflected in the base bids. I recommend that this change order be submitted to the Board for approval, and that the cost be taken from funds now available for the construction of the building.

There remains a question concerning the footings for the front entrance. The present plans and specifications call for the entrance footings to rest on rock bearings. I am instructing the Architect to change the design to earth bearings for the entrance footings unless actual excavation reveals this to be a hazardous undertaking. If we are able to change the design of the entrance footings to earth bearings, there should not be any change in the cost.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Frank D. Peterson,
Comptroller.

March 16, 1950

Mr. Frank D. Peterson, Comptroller
University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky

Re: Journalism Building
University of Kentucky

Dear Sir:

Upon excavating for the above Job, we find that foundation conditions are not as were anticipated from the preliminary soundings taken by the University Engineers prior to execution of the Plans. This is not necessarily a fault of the preliminary soundings, as it was impractical at that time to use heavy enough equipment to determine solid ledge rock.

It will be necessary to go deeper than shown on Plans in order to set the piers on solid rock. I am instructing the General Contractor to excavate to rock in order that satisfactory bearings may be obtained.

Accurate levels will be kept and unit prices already set up in the Contract will be used to determine the amount of extra involved.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Wayne W. Haffler

The Comptroller had available for information of the Board tabulations showing extras necessary to take all footings to solid rock. The detailed information was ordered received and filed with the Secretary.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the sum of $5,577.38 was authorized appropriated for extras incident to the foundation of the Kentucky Kernel-Journalism building, funds to be taken from the Campus Book Store and Kentucky Kernel accounts.

I. Appropriation for Fine Arts Building.

President Donovan stated that there was a bill due Brock and Johnson, Architects, for services rendered in connection with the Fine Arts Building. He presented the following letter:

May 16, 1950

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President
University of Kentucky

My dear President Donovan:

Brock & Johnson, Architects, have submitted final invoice for their services in connection with the Fine Arts Building. There is a balance due the firm of $1,773.11.

The fee for their supervision of the construction was 5% of the cost of the building, which was originally estimated to be $1,600,000.00. On the basis of this estimate, $80,000.00 was encumbered for the architects' fee. When the construction contracts were let, the total estimated cost was in the neighborhood of $1,400,000.00. Accordingly, we released $10,000.00 of the $80,000.00 originally encumbered for the architects. The final construction invoices are now in the process of being paid, and the actual total cost of construction, $1,435,462.12, is final. The total fee due the architects is $71,773.11.

This is to recommend that $1,773.11 be appropriated from the unappropriated surplus for completion of payment to the architects for supervision of the construction of the Fine Arts Building.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Frank D. Peterson,
Comptroller.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the sum of $1,773.11 was authorized appropriated from the unappropriated surplus of the General University Budget.

J. Construction of a Small Tobacco Barn at Greenville Soil Field.

President Donovan reported a request from the Experiment Station to construct a small tobacco barn to be utilized for experimental purposes in the production of burley tobacco in the Greenville Soil Field. He stated that it is estimated that this tobacco barn would cost approximately $2,000.00. He recommended that the request be approved and the building authorized constructed.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the sum of $2,000.00 was authorized appropriated from funds available to the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the tobacco barn at Greenville Soil Field was authorized constructed.

K. Construction of Tobacco Barn at Western Kentucky Sub-Station.

President Donovan reported that Dean Cooper, Director of the Experiment Station, had requested approval of construction of a small experimental tobacco barn at Western Kentucky Sub-Station. He stated that the barn is to be used primarily for experiments in curing burley tobacco. It is estimated that the building will cost about $3,400.00. President Donovan recommended that construction of the barn be authorized.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the sum of $3,400.00 was authorized appropriated out of funds available to the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the experimental tobacco barn was authorized constructed.

L. Water System at Western Kentucky Sub-station Authorized Extended and Repaired.

President Donovan stated that the present water system at Western Kentucky Sub-station had not been extended to the outlying property. It is essential that water be made available on the farm tracts, and particularly so on the Jacobson tract, where the orchard and pasture trials and experiments are vital parts of the research program. He requested that the water system be extended to outlying property, the necessary trenches, pipes and connections provided, and the work done as economically as possible. He estimated that the work would cost between $3,000 and $4,000.

Some discussion followed, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the necessary funds were appropriated from Agricultural Experiment Station funds, and the repairs and extension of the present water system authorized.

M. Agricultural and Industrial Development Board Contract with the Kentucky Geological Survey Approved.

President Donovan stated that the Kentucky Geological Survey had requested from the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board an additional appropriation for the current fiscal year of $2,400.00. He stated that the A. & I. D. Board had agreed to grant the request and were preparing the necessary documents which would supplement the existing ones. He recommended approval of the supplement.

Governor Clements discussed briefly the work of the Kentucky Geological Survey in connection with the current contract.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the supplement to the existing contract was authorized approved, and the Comptroller was directed to execute the necessary documents.

N. Geological Survey Contract with A. & I. D. B., 1950-1951.

The President submitted extension of the present contract with the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board for geological survey of certain minerals and clays. He recommended that the contract be authorized executed and approved.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the contract was approved and the Comptroller was authorized to execute contract on behalf of the University.

O. Sale of Surplus Property.

The President read the following letter:

May 15, 1950

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President
University of Kentucky

My dear President Donovan:

The University has approximately 100 dozen war surplus huck towels. These towels have been on hand for approximately three years. Since they are too small to be of much use in the Physical Education Department and the various laboratories on the campus, I would like to have permission to sell these towels while we are able to get a good price for them.

I would also like to have permission to dispose of the following items that we have no further use for at the University:

- 1 Portable Grill Unit
- 50 Coal Space Heaters
- 1 Radar Trailer Unit on Wheels
- 1 Miscellaneous Lot of Electronic Equipment
- 1 Portable X-Ray Machine
- 1 25 K.W. Generator Set

If permission is granted, bids will be taken for the above items.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Frank D. Peterson,
Comptroller.

The President recommended that the request be granted, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the Comptroller was authorized to receive bids and dispose of the property.

P. Sale of Surplus Books.

President Donovan submitted a list of books surplus to the needs of the University libraries, and recommended that the books be offered for sale at established prices indicated.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the list of books and periodicals, as recommended by Doctor Thompson, Director of University Libraries, was authorized disposed of at prices indicated, and the list was ordered filed with the Secretary of the Board.

Q. Sale of Electronic Surplus Material.

President Donovan submitted a list of electronic surplus material--tubes, quartz crystals, condensers, and other electronic equipment classified as surplus to the needs of the College of Pharmacy, Louisville, Ky. He stated that the material is of no value to the College of Pharmacy and that bids had been received for the surplus material. He recommended that the high bid be accepted.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the bid submitted by Mr. Robert Berry, Archby Electronic Company, of Louisville, Ky., in the amount of $300.00, was ordered accepted, and the surplus material was directed to be moved as soon as possible. The list was authorized filed with the Secretary.

R. Rental Fees for Organ Practice Approved.

President Donovan read the following letter from the Comptroller:

March 31, 1950

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President
University of Kentucky

Dear President Donovan:

The Department of Music, through the office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, has submitted invoices, amounting to $48.00, from the Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church and the Central Christian Church for the use of church organs for practice.

It appears that someone connected with the Department of Music made arrangement for the use of the organ at the Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church for Julian Smitson for practice during the winter and spring quarters of 1947. Likewise, someone made arrangement with the Central Christian Church for Joseph D. Young to use the organ for the winter and spring semesters, 1946-47. These bills are submitted for $24.00 each.

The catalog provides for a practice fee of $12.00 per semester and, since each of the above named students is a veteran, the Comptroller's Office billed and collected from the Veterans Administration for the rental of practice organs. No one, however, reported to the Comptroller's Office that the organs of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church or the Central Christian Church were leased or used until recently.

The Department of Music takes the position that it did not have funds to pay for the rental of the practice organs in its 1946-1947 budget, nor does it have funds in its current budget for these obligations.

The Comptroller's Office is without authority to honor these obligations.

It is suggested that, since the organs were used for practice purposes by students attending the University and since the University has collected from the Veterans Administration the fee provided for in the catalog, these two invoices be authorized paid from the College Collection Fund.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Frank D. Peterson,
Comptroller.

The President recommended that the rental fees be authorized and the necessary funds appropriated from the unappropriated surplus of the University.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the sum of $48.00 was ordered appropriated and the rental charges submitted for 1946-47 were authorized paid from the College Collection Fund.

S. Rental Agreement for Horses Approved.

President Donovan submitted contracts between the University of Kentucky and Gene Scott, and the University of Kentucky and Mrs. K. O. Lange, for the use of such number of horses as may be required for class purposes in the course in Light Horse Husbandry for the period February 13 to March 19, and February 13 to June 1. He stated that these contracts had been signed and were in regular form and recommended approval.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the contracts between the University of Kentucky and Gene Scott, and the University of Kentucky and Mrs. K. O. Lange were authorized executed on behalf of the University.

T. Rental of Barn Room and Pastures.

President Donovan stated that he was in receipt of request from Dean Cooper to rent certain barn room and pastures. He read the following letters from Dean Cooper, Dr. D. M. Seath, and Dr. W. W. Dimock:

April 25, 1950

President H. L. Donovan
University of Kentucky

Dear President Donovan:

I am enclosing recommendation from Dr. Seath, relative to the rental from Dr. W. W. Dimock of certain barn room and pastures. Dr. Seath's letter states that the facilities will be needed by May 1, 1950. In arranging for the rental, it is provided that half the barn and two adjacent pasture lots be rented at the rate of $25.00 a month, effective May 1; that the agreement can be terminated at any time on thirty days' notice; that additional barn and pasture space may be obtained after May 1, and if we desire the entire acreage (eight acres) and all of the barn space, that will be available at the rate of $50.00 per month, which I assume also is cancelable on thirty days' notice. Dr. Seath is anxious to procure the use of this property, in order to take care of the work in artificial breeding. Members of the staff are desirous of knowing as soon as possible whether you approve this agreement, as they wish to get their work started. The expenses charged will be against the artificial insemination appropriation.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Thomas Cooper
Dean and Director.

April 24, 1950

Dr. Thomas P. Cooper
Dean and Director
Experiment Station

Dear Dean Cooper:

(Thru Dr. Garrigus)

Attached hereto please find a letter from Dr. W. W. Dimock offering to rent us facilities for carrying on research in connection with Project A.I.3, "Problems of Organization and of Fertility in Artificial Breeding."

We ask that permission be given us to proceed with rental of his barn and lots, as per conditions stipulated in his letter.

The facilities are needed by May 1, 1950. Otherwise we cannot train inseminators who will be taking a short course here shortly thereafter. I realize this time is short for securing approval, but we have been unable to locate available facilities until just now.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) D. M. Seath
Professor of Dairy Husbandry
In Charge, Dairy Section.

-- -- -- --

April 24, 1950

Dr. D. M. Seath
In Charge, Dairy Section
Dairy Building
University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky

My dear Dr. Seath:

You have visited my small farm on Swigert Avenue, Lexington, Kentucky, and after inspecting the facilities have asked if arrangements could be made for your department to rent space for keeping dairy cows used in sterility and artificial breeding experiments.

I have considered the matter and have decided that I can rent half of the barn and two adjacent pasture lots (not quite two acres) for $25.00 per month. Rent to begin May 1, 1950. There is ample room for storing from 20 to 30 tons of hay. Two stalls 18x18 and a shed 9x45 feet. Water and electric lights, which I am to furnish. You may have the privilege to terminate this $25.00 per month rental agreement at any time on 30 days notice.

As discussed, there will be more barn room and pasture available by May 1, 1951. If later you might care to rent all the barn and total acreage available for pasture (approximately eight acres) the rental fee would be $50.00 per month on a year-round basis.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) W. W. Dimock.

The Board discussed the request, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, authorized rental of barn and pasture space as outlined in Dr. W. W. Dimock's letter copied herein.

Bigge, Foreign Student Adviser, had gone into the matter in some detail with Mr. Bart Peak, Director of the University YMCA. He recommended that the University grant free tuition, for two semesters, for the year 1950-51 to two students carefully chosen and supported by funds sufficient to pay their board, room and living expenses. It was stated that such students would be admitted to the United States under the Displaced Persons law and that they would in every way be entitled legally to residence in the United States.

President Donovan recommended that a maximum of two free tuition scholarships, for two semesters, of the year 1950-51 be authorized, with the understanding that we will not continue these scholarships after the academic year 1950-51. W. Board Member on the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Research Foundation Appointed.

He requested the Board to nominate a member to take Mr. Everett's place as a member of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Research Foundation. He stated that it was permissible for the Board to re-nominate Mr. Everett. Mr. Everett suggested that it would be well to nominate some other member of the Board able to attend more of the meetings of the Kentucky Research Foundation.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, Mr. J. C. Everett was placed in nomination and elected to a three-year term of membership.

X. Gifts:

From International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, Chicago, Illinois -- $1,500.00.

President Donovan reported gift from the International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, Chicago, Illinois, of $1,500.00, representing the last of five contributions totaling $8,100.00 and extending through the period June, 1946, to the present year. He explained that this fund had been given to the University for the support of the Experiment Station's project on the composition and nutrition of burley tobacco, with special reference to the effects of nitrogen and potassium fertilizer salts, which will be completed by the close of this year, and stated that this support has been of much assistance in forwarding the work under the project.

President Donovan stated further that the Experiment Station and the University were greatly indebted to International Minerals and Chemical Corporation for its interest and generous contribution, and recommended that the check for $1,500 be accepted.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the gift of $1,500 from International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, Chicago, Illinois, was ordered accepted, and the President was requested to write a letter of appreciation to the donors.

From The Borden Company Foundation,
Inc., $1,500.00.

President Donovan reported receipt of check for $1,500.00 from The Borden Company Foundation, Inc., and stated that this is a continuation of the Borden scholarship award upon the expiration of the present grant. He said that this check will cover grants of $300.00 a year for five years, and will continue to be a stimulating influence among students in the College of Agriculture, who show an increasing interest and effort each year in achieving the scholarship. He recommended that the gift be accepted.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the gift of $1,500.00 from The Borden Company Foundation, Inc., was ordered accepted, and the President was requested to write a letter of appreciation to the donors.

Dear Dr. Donovan:

The final affairs of the Committee for Kentucky have now come to a close. The Auditors are making their final audit, a certified copy of which will go to each of the Directors.

It is with great pleasure that I inform you that there was left in the account--after all expenses, including the audit, were paid for--the sum of $893.91 for which our check in full is enclosed.

This check, together with the $500. previously given to the University, makes approximately $1,400. which The Committee was able to turn over to the University.

I know that the Community Service Department of the University will use it to good advantage.

He recommended that they be accepted and stated that it was through the interest of such friends as Mrs. Van Meter and Professor McIntyre that the Carnegie Record Library is becoming such a fine one.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the gift of phonograph records to the University by Professor R. D. McIntyre was ordered accepted, and the President was requested to express to Professor McIntyre the appreciation of the Board.

From Lexington Council for Jewish Women -- $800.00.

President Donovan presented to the Board check for $800.00 offered by the Lexington Council for Jewish Women, to be used by the Department of Psychology in its speech correction work. He stated that this is the third contribution in as many years that the Council has made to the Department, and said that without this substantial aid, it would be impossible for the University to continue this work. He recommended that the gift be accepted, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the check for $800.00 presented to the University of Kentucky by the Lexington Council for Jewish Women was ordered accepted, and the President was asked to thank the donors for their generosity.

Z. Interpretation of Length of Service of S. C. Jones.

President Donovan read letters from Dean Cooper and Mr. S. C. Jones questioning the interpretation made in arriving at the tenure of Mr. Jones, before his assignment to special work status. The information available was discussed at some length, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the action of the Board at its meeting on March 17, 1950, in the interpretation of the tenure of Mr. Jones was authorized sustained.

A-1. Doctor Webb Made Distinguished Professor.

President Donovan stated that, upon recommendation of Dean M. M. White, he was recommending the appointment of Dr. William S. Webb as Distinguished Professor of Physics, effective July 1, 1950. He stated that Doctor Webb had twice been elected by his colleagues to give the annual Arts and Sciences lecture. He is widely known as an author on Early American Indians, and has published numerous articles in the field of Archaeology. He has been connected with the University since 1901.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the recommendation of the President was concurred in.

B-1. Resignation of Dean Seay.

President Donovan stated that he was in receipt of the resignation of Professor Maurice F. Seay, Dean of the University. He stated that Dean Seay had accepted an exceptionally fine position as Professor of Educational Administration at the University of Chicago. He stated that Doctor Seay was receiving a salary very much larger than that received at the University, and while he was reluctant to accept Dean Seay's resignation, he was recommending that it be made effective June 30, 1950.

Upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the resignation of Dean Seay was accepted.

C-1. Discontinuance of Office of Dean of the University, and Establishment of Office of Dean of Students, with Dr. A. D. Kirwan as Head.

President Donovan made the following statement:

Dean Seay came to the University in 1937 as Director of the Bureau of School Service and Head of the Department of School Administration. Because of his distinguished service in the College of Education, I recommended his appointment as Dean of the University and Registrar in 1946. In 1949 a full-time Registrar was appointed and the duties and responsibilities of that office were placed in his hands. Dr. Seay's title as Registrar was dropped at that time.

In view of the fact that the University's income is diminishing rapidly as the result of the loss of G.I.'s for whom the Veterans Administration has been paying a large part of the cost of their education, it has been necessary for us to reduce the University's budget in the sum of $342,000. All departments have had to take some cuts in their budgets and I am recommending that the administration of the University likewise assume its share in the reduction of expenditures. Therefore, I am proposing that the office of Dean of the University be discontinued, thereby saving approximately $10,000 per year in the administration of the University. In this reorganization which I am proposing, I am recommending that Dr. A. D. Kirwan, Dean of Men, be given the title of Dean of Men and Dean of Students, and that those departments dealing with student welfare report directly to him. These departments are Dean of Men, Health Service, Personnel Office, and Y. M. C. A. I am recommending that all the other departments that have been under Dean Seay's administration report directly to the Vice President of the University.

It is with considerable regret that I recommend the acceptance of Dean Seay's resignation. In doing so I wish to report that he has been one of the ablest men connected with the University during my period of service here. I know as a matter of fact that many fine positions have been offered to him in various universities during the past nine years. At least eight or ten universities have tried to obtain his services. The position of Professor of Educational Administration which he has accepted at the University of Chicago pays him approximately fifty percent more in salary than he has been receiving at the University.

After some discussion, upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, the recommendation of the President was concurred in. The Office of the Dean of the University was discontinued. Dr. A. D. Kirwan was given the titles of Dean of Men and Dean of Students. The departments of Health Service, Personnel and Y. M. C. A. were transferred to the Office of Dean of Men and Dean of Students. All other departments that have been under Dean Seay's administration, not mentioned above, are to report directly to the Vice President of the University.

D-1. Doctor and Mrs. Donovan Extend Invitations to Board Members.

President Donovan extended invitations to Board members and their wives to attend a tea at Maxwell Place on Thursday from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m.; to attend the Commencement Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, to attend a buffet dinner at Maxwell Place Friday at 5:00 o'clock, and to attend the commencement exercises Friday night.

E-1. Appreciation Extended to Doctor Poling.

Members of the Board expressed their pleasure and delight in the dedicatory and baccalaureate exercises held on the morning of May 30, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, extended their appreciation to Dr. Daniel Poling for the magnificent address delivered on that occasion.

F-1. President's Office Air-Conditioned.

Members of the Board took note of the temperature of the Office of the President, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried, directed the Comptroller to cause the office to be air-conditioned.

G-1. Appointments and Other Staff Changes.

President Donovan submitted staff appointments, reappointments, salary adjustments, leaves of absence, resignations, promotions and other staff changes requested by deans and heads of departments.
