PLENTY OF KICKS—
but NO COMPLAINTS

Plenty of long kicks, too! For every record kick ever recorded in football was made with a Spalding Official Ball.

In fact, the whole history of the Spalding J5-V Official Intercollegiate Football is liberally sprinkled with record-breaking performances.

Again this year, when America's outstanding elevens go into action you'll see the J5-V boring through the air on hundreds of gridirons—gaining maximum yardage on passes, punts and place-kicks.

Sounds like an ideal coat to wear to football games. It is! On cool days without the lining, you have a comfortable topcoat. On cold days, you zip the lining in . . . and you're warm no matter how the wind sweeps through the stadium. The DOUBLE FEATURE is an idea that will click with you as soon as you see the line-up of these coats at Graves-Cox. Why not try some on after the game?

Welcome, Commodores

Down through the ages from the distant past have come hordes of Commodores from the fertile plains of Tennessee at scattered intervals to make disastrous raids into the bluegrass meadows of central Kentucky. And occasionally, in retaliation, Kentucky Wildcats have gone over the border to wreak vengeance on those ruthless Commodores but every Wildcat invasion has resulted in failure.

Natural rivals in athletics because of geographical location, Vanderbilt and Kentucky have met sixteen times on the gridiron since the season of 1896 when the Wildcats braved the Commodores in their own drydock at Nashville. The Kentuckians limped back to Lexington under a 6 to 0 defeat.

In all this long series, which has reached traditional proportions, Kentucky never has been able to hang a defeat on Vanderbilt, although in 1919 the Wildcats and the Commodores battled to a scoreless tie on Stoll Field.

Andy Gill, now coaching the high school team at Rockford, Ill., was the Kentucky coach that year. One of the star Vanderbilt players that season was a huge tackle, Josh Cody, now the head football coach at the University of Florida.

Both coaches of the teams meeting here today are alumni of the universities their teams represent. For Kentucky, the coach is Ab Kirwan, captain and halfback of the Wildcat team of 1925. For Vanderbilt, the coach is Ray Morrison, captain and quarterback of the team of 1910.

S. A. "Daddy" Boles, Kentucky's graduate manager of athletics, attended Vanderbilt with Morrison in 1910 and the two were close friends. Five years later, Morrison was the football coach at Southern Methodist University while Boles was coach at Trinity College, in Texas. Their teams met in 1915 and the Boles-coached Trinity team defeated the Morrison-coached Southern Methodists. His success, however, in later seasons at S. M. U. was so great that when "Uncle Dan" McGuggin retired as head coach of the Commodores, Morrison was recalled to his alma mater.

In the stadium here today are many alumni of Vanderbilt. Many of them make their home in Lexington. Others live in different sections of the State. Quite a few came up from Tennessee.

We are glad to welcome these Vanderbilt alumni to the game today. We are happy to welcome the Vanderbilt team and all its supporters as well as the faithful followers of our own Wildcats. May the game result in a real battle with the best team winning and may the series between Kentucky and Vanderbilt continue into infinity.

From early season games, the two elevens may be closely matched. The Commodores have defeated Washington University and Western Kentucky Teachers by close scores, while Kentucky has defeated Maryville and Oglethorpe by topheavy margins. However, Kentucky's oppositions in those first two games was not nearly so powerful as that faced by the Commodores.

Both Kentucky and Vanderbilt are members of the Southeastern Conference. This is the first conference game for each team and naturally each team today is striving for its initial conference victory of the season.

The Commodores defeated the Wildcats 12 to 0 last September in a rainstorm at Nashville.

FRANK LEROND McVEY
President, University of Kentucky

We welcome the football team from Vanderbilt University. We have waited a good while for your coming and now that you are here, we extend our hands in hospitality. The teams of Vanderbilt University are great teams, they fight hard and perform well. Today there will be a great game, and while wishing Vanderbilt University a fine day, I am trusting that the score will be a Kentucky one. You have had the high side of the score for many years. The University of Kentucky needs the victory and proposes to take it today.

There will be high enthusiasm on this occasion, and we look forward to an afternoon of great sport. Again greetings to the boys from Nashville.

Sincerely yours,

Ab says . . .

There are sixteen reasons why we respect the Commodores—sixteen times the Wildcats have failed to win from them. But it's a long lane that—

AB KIRWAN
Head Football Coach

In 1925 the Wildcat football captain was Albert Dennis Kirwan, although everyone called him "Ab." He was a great halfback and end and was an outstanding student. Following his graduation here in 1926, he studied law at Louisville and also coached high school football there. His record as coach of duPont Manual Training High School, Louisville, was so fine that his alma mater called him back to lead the Wildcats to their proper level in the football world.

Coach
Ray Morrison
Vanderbilt

Ray Morrison, all-time Vanderbilt quarterback who returned to his alma mater in 1935 after making football history as the ringmaster of the Southern Methodist University Aerial Circus, is beginning his twentieth year as a college football coach and his fourth year at Vanderbilt.

For the team he produced at Vanderbilt last year Ray Morrison was selected by the Southern sports writers and Southeastern Conference coaches as the coach "who did the best coaching job of the year in the Southeastern Conference."

Coach Morrison has the distinction of having served two colleges as head football coach at two different times each. He was at S. M. U. in 1915 and 1916 and went back in 1922 to stay until 1935. He acted as head coach at Vanderbilt in 1918 when Coach Dan McGugin was absent and returned in 1935 under a five-year contract.

Coach Morrison was captain and quarterback of the Commodores in 1911. Thus both Vanderbilt and Kentucky are coached by their own alumni, as Ab Kirwan, the Wildcat coach, was captain and halfback of the Kentuckians in 1925.
