FRAT AND CLASS TRACK STARS TO CLASH MONDAY

Vanderbilt to Come on April 25 for Only Meet Here

TO MEET INDIANA

State Meet Will be Held in Louisville This Year

On Monday afternoon an inter-class, an inter-fraternity and an inter-college track meet will be held in Stoll Stadium for the purpose of encouraging school spirit among the classes and also to unearth some unknown track luminary that needs this meet to find out about himself. An individual who wins first place in the hundred yard dash or in any other event will secure five points for his class, his college, and his fraternity, if he is a member.

This meet will be a forerunner of that one which is to be held here on April 25 with Vanderbilt. In the past, Vanderbilt has put out some good teams, and this year should be no exception. This will be the only collegiate meet that will be held on Stoll Field this season. For this reason much interest is being manifested by the student body at this early date.

On May 2 Sewanee will furnish opposition at Sewanee. Very little is known of the ability of this team, but sometimes an unknown product causes the greatest havoc. Indiana University will be the next dish on the menu, on May 9. This will be an important meet from a precedent as well as an athletic standpoint, as this will mark the first time that a Wildcat track team has crossed the Ohio River to engage a northern rival. On the succeeding Saturday conference meet at Sewanee.

The state meet will be held in Louisville on May 25. Until three weeks ago this meet was scheduled to be held in Stoll Stadium, but the clamors of Louisville could not be denied, thus changing the meet to the Kentucky metropolis. Last year Kentucky won this meet in a handy fashion, and from all indications they should repeat this year.

Under the leadership of Coach Applegrain and Captain George Woolf, the track candidates have been shown a decided improvement in the last two weeks. The men are taking advantage of the excellent track that encircles the football field in the stadium. The most promising prospects out are: Brady, Woolf, Davis, Dewhurst, Dowden, Anglin, Lindlie, Milton, Woodward and Creech.

All men who wish to represent their fraternity, college or class must see Coach Applegrain at once and register their names and the events they wish to enter.

The schedule:
April 25—Vanderbilt at Lexington.
May 2—Sewanee at Sewanee.
May 9—Indiana at Bloomington.
May 16—Southern Conference Meet at Sewanee.
May 25—State Meet at Louisville.

SINGERS TO HAVE FULL REHEARSAL

Professor Lampert Will Meet With Georgetown Group

Singers who are going to take part in "The Messiah," which is to be presented in the basketball building of the university on the night of April 30, under the auspices of Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternity, rehearsed at the basketball building last Monday night for the first time. Approximately one hundred and sixty members of the chorus were present. Some of the important choruses of the oratorio were rehearsed then to round them in shape for the complete Alpha, which will be presented to take part. A number of singers were absent due to the Easter holidays. However, several out-of-town people were present, who will participate in the presentation.

WIEMAN SELECTED FOR DRUM MAJOR

Five Candidates Try Out For Position

A. H. Wieman was the successful candidate for the position of drum major of the university band in the tryouts held on the campus in front of the administration building on the afternoon of April 3. The positions were judged by Captain Taylor and the final selection made by Captain Taylor and Colonel Hobbs. Five candidates tried out for the position. They were: Ted Creech, Charles S. Milliken, R. S. Sauer, Frank Brown, and Wieman. After some deliberation by the judges, Wieman was selected and will enter on his new duties immediately.

SO. ORATORICAL CONTEST WILL BE HELD AT U. OF K.

Rodes K. Myers Will Represent the University

HERE ON MAY 16TH

Debating Teams Still Face a Hard Schedule

Rodes K. Myers has been selected to represent the University of Kentucky in the Southern Oratorical Contest and in the national oratorical contest sponsored by the California Federation of Better Citizenship. The Southern Oratorical contest will be held in Lexington on May 16 while the regional district will be held in Nashville, Tenn., on May 22.

Johns Hopkins University, Vanderbilt University, and the University of the South (Sewanee), Alabama, North Carolina, Mississippi and Kentucky will be represented in the Southern Oratorical League match. On this occasion Mr. Myers' subject will be, "The Final Consensus of the American People." A gold medal and a prize of $50.00 will be awarded to the winner. At Nashville Mr. Myers' topic will be, "John Marshall and the Constitution." The winner at Nashville will be sent to California to compete for the national championship and prizes totaling $5,000.

The debating teams, both men's and women's of the university, face a strenuous two weeks. As a member of the Pentagonal League, the men's team will meet the University of Mississippi at Lexington and the University of the South at Sewanee on Saturday night, April 25. The proposition of both debates is "Resolved, that..."

JUNIOR ENGINEERS TO INSPECT PLANTS

Thirty-Three to Leave Monday on Annual Tour

Thirty-three members of the junior class in the college of Engineering will leave Monday morning on the thirteenth annual inspection trip of plants in Ohio for a period of five days. This trip is to be conducted by Professors E. D. Hawkins, E. A. Bureau, J. R. Johnson and Mr. Gordon Thurman.

The leading manufacturing plants including the Le Blond Machine Tool Company, the United States Playing Card Company; Baldwin Piano Company, American Rolling Mills Company, National Cash Register Company, McCook Field and the General Motors Research Corporation, are to be inspected.

SENIOR WEEK WILL BEGIN APRIL 27TH

Upper Classmen to Wear Distinctive Apparel

Plans have been completed for Senior Week on the university campus to be observed during the week beginning April 27. At this time special deference will be shown to the seniors, both in the residence halls and sorority houses and on the campus.

The seniors, so as to be recognized, are to wear certain distinctive costumes, the girls will wear Kentucky blue arm bands with the numeral 25 on them, and the boys are to wear corduroy trousers. The committee making the plans for the week consists of Clyde Gray, Joe K. Hays, Frances Smith, Lucille Bush, and Rodes Myers. The week will end on May Day when the different classes will be promoted and the seniors will officially become U. K. alumni.

JOURNALISTS TO PUBLISH HERALD

Lexington Paper Offers One Edition to Department

By courtesy of the management of the Lexington Herald, the students of the department of Journalism of the university are to have one night of practical experience in the field of journalism when they will take over complete supervision of the Herald.

A picked number of students, selected by Professor Grehan, will man the desks of the regular employees for this night. These students will write, read, and headline copy, and will have complete charge of all of the departments of the publication except the mechanical department.

This opportunity comes to the department because of the interest that Desha Breckenridge, editor of the Herald, has in this department of the college, and he is planning to enlarge the daily circulation by 300 copies so as to put the work of the men and women in the department of Journalism before the people of the state.

Editors appointed to take charge of the work are as follows: J. A. "Simp" Estes, managing editor; Dwight L. Bicknell, lay-out and make-up editor; Frances Kane, state editor; F. K. Hoover, Eugene B. Moore and Travis Oliver, sports editors; Arthur Morris, telegraph editor; Ted McDowell, Elizabeth Lilliston and Amanda Gordon, city editors; Virginia Kelley and Edith Minnehan, society editors; Helen King, Frances Green, Edna Lewis Wells, and Mary F. Campbell, proof readers. The reporters have not yet been appointed.

NOTICE, KERNEL STAFF! There will be a meeting of the Kernel staff at the 6th hour tomorrow in Professor Grehan's room. Everyone on the staff please be present.

NEW STAFF BEGINS WORK ON KERNEL

J. A. Estes is New Editor-in-Chief

With this issue of the Kernel, the new staff assumes its duties. At a meeting of the staff before the Easter holidays, Arthur Morris, the newly elected managing editor appointed members of the news and reportorial staff.

J. A. Estes is editor-in-chief, succeeding Dwight L. Bicknell. Arthur Morris succeeds J. Sterling Towles as managing editor. Joseph K. Hays assumes his position as business manager, taking the place of Kyle Whitehead. Virginia Kelley takes the position of Frances Kane as news editor.

During the year 1924-25, the Kernel was a great success and was classed with the best college papers in the south. With the cooperation of the new staff during the following year the paper should be of the best.

FIVE ENGINEERS RETURN FROM INSPECTION TRIP IN HOCK SHOP FORD

Despite the many rumors concerning city "slickers," five of the senior engineers succeeded in getting home in the second hand Ford which they bought in Buffalo, New York.

According to the story of Robert Giovannioli, one of the five daredevils, the others being Ralph Boren, Fred Chappel, "Buck" Hedden and J. F. Stevens, they had intended "motoring" in the day time and stopping at night, but after they got the Ford started they were afraid to stop. The entire trip was made in two days, three inner tubes and nine dollars.

Their itinerary was Buffalo, Erie, Pa., Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Lexington. Mr. Giovannioli said the trip was devoid of excitement with the exception of heavy fogs encountered in southern Ohio. He neglected to state whether the fogs were general or not.

In the party was one of the monkeys from the engineering college, which was christened William Jennings Bryan at one of the parties encountered on the trip. Mr. Bryan was noncommittal.

The car is a rakish eastern model and has attracted much attention at the university, where it is on exhibition. Experts who are familiar with automobiles of this type have pronounced it the most daring departure from conventional lines they have ever seen. But despite its unusual lines it is said to have a motor developing up to 23 horsepower. It will probably be displayed at the Paris Salon this May.

MAY QUEEN WILL BE ELECTED MON.

Freshman Girls Will Not be Eligible for Honor

The May Queen election will be held next Monday, April 20, and the queen will be chosen from the sophomore, junior or senior classes. Freshman girls are not eligible. Only the men students of the university will be allowed to vote, including the freshmen, and they are requested to vote for six girls. The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be crowned the queen, the girl receiving the second highest number of votes will be the Maid of Honor and the remaining four of the six highest contestants will be the attendants to the queen.

Ballot boxes will be placed in front of the Administration building and in Dicker Hall and for men students may vote any time Monday. No ballots which are not signed will be counted.

UNIVERSITY MEN ON PROGRAM AT K. E. A. MEETING

Doctor McVey and Others Are on the Program

DINNER AT BROWN

University Will Have An Interesting Exhibit

At the meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association to be held in Louisville April 23, 24 and 25, the university will be ably represented by President Frank L. McVey, who will speak on "Turning the Corner in Kentucky"; C. C. Anderson, "The Community Testing Card"; L. L. Dantaler, "Sectioning English Students into Ability Groups"; M. E. Ligon, "History and Progress of the Junior High School"; and Wm. S. Taylor, "Making a Curriculum to Fit the Child," and "The Junior Curriculum." Lexington officers of the K. E. A. are William S. Taylor, president of the department of Normal Schools and Teachers' Training Institutions, and chairman of the Research Committee; Russell Hunt, secretary of the department of Agriculture; and Anita Burnam, secretary of the department of Home Economics.

The university headquarters are to be at the Brown Hotel. There a placement service for teachers is to be maintained in charge of Professor M. E. Ligon. This year a unique feature will be the University Exhibit, which is to consist of a series of attractive posters representing the various colleges and departments of the university.

Thursday at noon Mr. Patrick will hold a luncheon for the extension workers and Thursday evening at six o'clock the university banquet will be given at the Brown Hotel. Those who have been asked to speak at the banquet are: Governor Fields, Dr. Frank L. McVey, and Mrs. Lelia Calhoun Leidinger, sister of Captain C. C. Calhoun, who is an alumnus of the university and a member of the State Board of Education.

FRATS CLASSIFIED BY KY. COMMITTEE

Four Different Classes on University Campus

The committee on classification of fraternities, composed of Dean C. R. Melcher, chairman, Dean Blanding, Professor J. C. Jones, Professor E. F. Fauschauer, and Charles T. Hughes recommends that these organizations be classified in accordance with the classification of Banta's Greek Exchange.

This classification is tacitly recognized by the Interfraternity Conference and it is:

1. Collegiate Fraternities are the fraternities which maintain a house at which we have been designing as social fraternities.

GREAT GAINS IN UNIVERSITY IN PAST FEW YEARS

Doctor McVey Makes Favorable Report to Trustees

EXPECTS INCREASE

Art Department Will Have a New Studio

Evidence that the University of Kentucky is rapidly approaching a place of distinction in the educational world were indicated by Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the university, in his report before the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees in the office of the president on April 7.

The head of the institution first pointed out the rapid increase of the student body by calling attention to the fact that in 1918 there were 719 students registered in the university as candidates for degrees, while today there are 2,100. He also anticipates an increase of 300 students at the opening of the 1925-1926 session next September.

Doctor McVey took the improvements at the university in the last six years as an example of its growth by stating that in that time one college has been added, that of Education, and the departments of Art, Bacteriology, Economics, Psychology, Music, and Hygiene, created in the college of Arts and Science, and the department of University Extension. The Library has grown from 22,006 volumes to 62,000 volumes. Doctor McVey stressed the improvements and expansion necessary to keep up with the increase in the student body from year to year.

One of the important things accomplished at the meeting was the decision to establish a School of Commerce, which will be organized from the present department of which Dr. Edward Wiest is head. President McVey was authorized to proceed with organization of the new school.

An appropriation of $6,000 was made for the erection of a frame studio building for the department of Art. This building will face Winslow street and will be constructed west of the Roman theatre. The department of Art, which now occupies the third floor of White Hall, will be removed in its entirety to the new building, so as to make space for the expected increase in students next September.

The yearly budget for the university, consisting of salaries of professors, heads of departments, etc., was read by the president.

CANDIDATES FOR 'MISS LEXINGTON' Seven University Girls Are Entered in the Contest

The names of the 15 girls, nine of whom are students at the university, who are candidates for "Miss Lexington," were announced this week. The contest, promoted by the American Legion, began April 6 and will close April 25.

Along with the popularity contest, the Legion has entered to raise funds for the purpose of equipping some permanent institution for the Boy Scout troops of Lexington. The Post will bring Nat Reiss' shows here for the week of April 20.

The winner of the title "Miss Lexington" will be crowned at the regular coronation exercises and a costly diamond ring will be awarded her.

Editor—Alumni Secretary

KENTUCKY'S R. O. T. C.

In the placing of the name of Kentucky first on the new Georgia Stadium the R. O. T. C. of the University of Kentucky has brought honor to Kentucky, to the University and to the Military department. Every Kentuckian who sees this, and they will be many, will experience a thought of pride at "Kentucky"—First. Our R. O. T. C. was the first unit in the United States to report on its quota, and Unit, the alumni of "Kentucky" congratulate you.

OUR FORMER SECRETARY

The last issue of the Kernel announces the appointment of Herbert Graham as editor of the South Shore Press and the Baldwin Record, suburban publication of New York City. The South Shore Press was purchased by Colonel Lloyd C. Griscom, former diplomatic representative to England, who proposes to make this the dominant newspaper of Long Island. Probably in no other alumnus of the University of Kentucky do the alumni generally feel more interest than in Herbert Graham. As their first and only full-time secretary he united them permanently in the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky. He organized more than thirty alumni clubs, and it was largely because these organizations, that the campaign, in which he had so prominent a part, for the Greater Kentucky fund was successful. During his administration the membership grew from less than a hundred to approximately 1,200 and the plan of sending a combined student and alumni publication was decided upon—and the number and satisfaction of alumni members has proved the wisdom of this arrangement. A system of records was built up from almost nothing to a most complete and comprehensive point.

Therefore, with our congratulations go also our hope and confidence of success.

LOOKING BACKWARD AND FORWARD

"Much remains to be done," Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University, asserts in his quarterly report to the Board of Trustees just made public, "but real foundations have been laid."

Part of the report follows: "May I begin with the growth in the student body? In 1918 there were 719 students registered in the university, as candidates for degrees. There were in addition 572 in various other courses, and the summer session—a total of 1,272. Today there are 2,100 students registered as candidates for degrees and 1,500 more in other courses and the summer session, a total of 3,600. Of this number 75 are graduate students.

"During the same period the instructional staff has grown from 109 to 168. One college has been added, that of education, and departments of art, bacteriology, economics, psychology, music, hygiene, created in the College of Arts and Sciences and the department of university extension. The library has grown from 25,000 volumes to 62,000.

"In the period from 1917 to 1925 the legislature made one appropriation of $150,000 for the erection of a dormitory for men. Nevertheless, out of the income of the university and with the help of alumni and friends in the case of the men's gymnasium, five more buildings have been erected. These are the president's house, stock judging pavilion, engineering shop, the new chemistry building, and the new gymnasium. Through the help of the Greater Kentucky fund a new stadium was built on the athletic field at a cost of $120,000. The buildings in 1917 were in bad repair, since pipes and wiring needed complete restoration. Since then, Neville Hall and White Hall have been overhauled and rearranged, new boilers have been placed in four buildings and the heating system repaired. Much remains to be done, but real foundations have been laid.

THE UNIVERSITY'S PROGRESS

The quarterly report of Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky shows that the income of the university has in the past eight years failed very decidedly to keep pace with the increase in the number of students. It may be added that the income eight years ago for the number of students then served by the university was nothing to brag about. Nevertheless, it may be said with little fear of contradiction that despite the extremely embarrassing handicap of limited funds the university in other ways has progressed in keeping with the growth in the number of its students.

"Dr. McVey has promised in his next quarterly report to be submitted in June to the Board of Trustees to outline the achievements of the university. A splendid chronicle of accomplishment may be awaited with pleasure by the citizens of the state, for while the allowance given to the university may be small, The Herald has no doubts as to the interest and sympathy of the commonwealth in its chief institution of learning.

"The figures given by Dr. McVey merely substantiate statistically what already is common knowledge in Kentucky concerning the state's failure to provide adequately for the university. Since 1918, when there were 719 students, the institution has grown until there are now 2,100 students registered as candidates for degrees. Approximately 1,500 more are enrolled in the various special courses. The student body has increased 193 percent while the income has increased only 82 percent. There is also a great need for a building program, which cannot be carried out without funds. The recent additions to the university's plants have been made largely through public contributions or large donations. The memorial, stadium and basketball auditorium funds are among these. Gifts include the Robinson and Princeton tracts and the Miller lots.

"If the University had relied upon state funds, it would have been in a much worse position, but individuals are more keenly responsible to the university's needs than are general assemblies. When legislative lethargy ends, a wonderful era will begin."

CHICAGO PLANS DINNER --- DANCE

Grand "Get-Together" At Terrace Gardens April 25

Announcements of the annual dinner-dance of the Chicago alumni club were mailed to all alumni and former students in Chicago, March 31, and a number of reservations have been received by the Secretary, N. E. Philpot, Room 818, 116 South Dearborn street. If you have neglected sending in your reservation—send it at once, as it is necessary to make arrangements with the hotel management in advance, and although "every one is expected—we must know just how many are coming." This informal dinner-dance to be held at 7:00 p. m. sharp, April 25 at the Terrace Gardens, Morrison Hotel, Madison and Clark streets, is expected to equal in enjoyment those recently held in Buffalo and New York. It is the big event of the year for the Chicago club. The announcement speaks of it as follows: "This promises to be the best party we have had for a long time and it is hoped you will be able to attend. The price is right, the time is convenient, the place is ideal, there will be good food, splendid dance orchestra and everything to make it a worth while GET-TOGETHER if YOU are there."

If there is any further information you desire, call Mr. Philpot—but be sure and make your reservation NOW.

PLANS FOR K. E. A. BEING PERFECTED

University Male Quartet to Broadcast on Thurs. Night

Finishing touches are now being put to the plans for the K. E. A. next week and the University's part in it. Several members of the faculty are on the program, committee chairman, and general boosters. There will be a representative from the Alumni Office and of course the Secretary will be there. Many of the students expect to attend, and plans are being perfected for the band to appear on one of the programs.

Tickets are being sold for the U. of K. banquet to be held at the Brown hotel at 6 o'clock on the evening of March 23. A short but interesting program has been arranged, which is to include the male quartet of the University. It is composed of H. Story Turner, of Scottville, Ky., Coleman Covington of Richmond, Ky., Karl E. Cutlip of Detroit, Mich., and Paul W. Mathews of Lexington.

They will broadcast from WHAS at 8:40, so many others than Louisville alumni will have the opportunity of hearing directly from the University. The quartet has already, with the Glee Club made two extensive tours—going to Ashland, Catlettsburg and vicinity, the latter to Owensboro, Morganfield and Henderson.

The Strollers will present "Fifty-Fifty" in Louisville Friday night. Their success in putting on this play in Pineville, Harlan and Lynch the 11th, 13th, and 14th assures the Louisville alumni of the treat in store for them.

The Louisville club is certainly doing wonderful work in reorganizing their club and making preparations for the K. E. A. and the banquet. It has put forth every effort to make the stay of the alumni while in Louisville enjoyable. All that is needed is visiting alumni to enter into this in an enthusiastic and cooperative spirit, and Louisville, we are sure we can furnish that.

The University of Kentucky Alumni of Louisville held their monthly luncheon at the Brown Hotel Saturday, April 4th. The luncheon was well attended there being forty members present.

The coming visit of the "Strollers" was discussed and much interest in their coming was displayed. The Alumni of Louisville expect to give the dramatic group a royal reception on their arrival.

NEW LAND ACQUIRED

"New land has been acquired now and then an opportunity offered. Lots on Winslow street have been purchased and 131 acres added to the Experiment Station farm. Professor Miller's gift of 2,000 square feet opposite the campus on South Limestone is a valuable addition to the university's property. Two sub-experiment stations have been authorized by legislature. One of these, the gift of E. O. Robinson, gives great scope for the university, not only in crops of all kinds, but particularly in forestry on the 15,000 tract. The other station at Princeton is well started on a farm of 400 acres, the gift of the citizens in and around Princeton, Ky.

Robinson tract, 15,000 acres	$150,000
Princeton tract, 400 acres	20,000
Memorial fund	85,000
Miller lots	15,000
Greater Kentucky funds paid and available to university	50,000
Total of gifts	$347,000

"The Greater Kentucky fund is not complete and it has been necessary to advance funds to finish the gymnasium and the stadium to the amount of $122,500. These sums will undoubtedly be paid. It is hoped that the Memorial building may be erected in the next year or two from the proceeds of the Memorial fund.

"It should be noted that while the income of the university for general purposes has increased 82 per cent, the number of students has increased 193 per cent. The use of general funds for construction can no longer be continued in view of the needs of instruction, yet building space is more in demand than ever."

Friday, April 17—Miss Sarah Blanding entertaining the Woman's Club of the university.
Saturday, April 18—The Phi Kappa Tau fraternity entertaining with the formal dance in the new gymnasium.
Saturday, April 18—Kappa Delta sorority entertaining with a tea dance in the afternoon in the new gymnasium from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Keys and Thirteen Entertain
The new gymnasium was the scene of a delightful dance Wednesday evening, given by the Keys and Mystic Thirteen, honorary fraternities of the university.
During the fifth no-break, the members of the Keys with their partners marched around the hall and assembled beneath the illuminated shield of the fraternity. Each member tapped with a large key his successor. The ten outstanding students chosen were Messrs. Loyal Van Arsdall, Gayle Mohney, Van Buren Ropke, Paul W. Jenkins, Oscar Stoessed, Harry McChesney, Arch Bennet, O. L. Steele, Frank Phipps, and Raymond Ellis. The young women placed the emblem of the fraternity, a band of purple with a gold skull and cross bones, upon their arms. Following the pledging was a no-break dance for the members of the fraternity and their pledges only.

At the end of the seventh no-break dance, the members of the Mystic Thirteen assembled beneath their shield and tapped their pledges with a scabbard. The following men were pledged: Messrs. Frank Smith, Adolph Edwards, Hunter Green, James Augustus, Hubert White, John Evans, Guthrie Yeager, Buddy Smith, Guthrie Bright, Carter Farrington, Downer Brame, Olva Linkle, and Henry Cogswell. The pledges were given arm bands of the figure 13 and a scabbard.

The active chapter of the Mystic Thirteen were hosts for the dance. About 300 guests enjoyed the dance.

Engagement Announced
News of the engagement of Miss Katherine Lee Goodright to Mr. Daniel Stuart Morse of Chester, Pa., is received with much interest by their many friends at the university. The marriage will be solemnized in June.

Both of these young people were popular students of the university. Miss Goodright, the daughter of Mrs. Augustus C. Goodright, is a prominent member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and Mr. Morse, who was recently graduated with an enviable record from the university, has taken a position with one of the leading corporations of Pennsylvania. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse of Cincinnati, formerly of Lexington. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Registrar Ezra L. Gillis left Friday at the close of the third annual institute for registrars, at Boulder, Col., to attend the convention of the National Association of Registrars.

Professor and Mrs. Zembrod will have as their guest Professor Joaquin Ortega, during his stay in Lexington. Professor Ortega is a native of the city of Ronda, province of Andalusia, and is professor of Spanish in the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Christine Hopkins, Louisville, spent the week-end at the Kappa Delta house while attending the Kentucky Association of English Teachers. Miss Hopkins is a teacher of English at the Louisville high school.

Professor L. L. Dantzler spoke on "Classifications of English Students According to Ability," at the final session of the Kentucky Association of English Teachers annual convention.

Ladyship

I love to stand on Easter
Beside life's bounding sea,
And watch the comely vessels
Go scampering by me.

On Easter every schooner
That ever braved a gale
Has polished every railing
And hoisted every sail.

And every ancient trirreme,
And ultra-modern yacht,
And every stately dreadnought
That ever steamed a knot.

The modest little rowboat,
The wily submarine,
Have raised their thousand standards
Blue, yellow, red and green.

If every day were Easter
No other thing I'd try
Than to stand besides life's ocean
And watch the ships go by.

He will be transferred to Fort Sam Houston for duty with an infantry regiment there.

7 FROSH GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Will Meet Tiger Cubs, Morehead, Manual, Others

The Green and White baseball squad of Kentucky has been diligently practicing for the past month in preparation for their oncoming games. Under the watchful eye of Coach Ray Eklund the freshmen practice every afternoon at Woodland Park, due to the congested condition of Stoll field.

While a definite schedule for the yearling nine is still in the process of formation, the following games have been scheduled: Two games with the Georgetown Cubs, one game with Morehead State Normal, and one game with Louisville Manual, to be played here. The Georgetown High baseball team will also furnish opposition for the yearlings in two games. The Woodland Athletic Club will oppose the Frosh in a game and the Paris High School will also be a likely opponent of the Frosh.

Coach Eklund has been dickering with the Centre Lieutenants for a game, but the Centre freshmen will have a team this year, according to present information.

Thus far Coach Eklund has done nothing but give the squad instructions in the fundamentals of the game and is carrying a large squad at present so as not to miss a likely candidate. The frosh mentor plans to issue uniforms and cut the squad to a workable size and prepare for the coming games.

Kentucky Gets Flying Start on 1925 Season, Besting Georgetown and Beating Louisville; Michigan is Unmerciful to Wildcat Pitchers

'CATS SLAUGHTER TIGER'S PITCHER

Derrick Pulls Prize Play of Game in Making Catch

In the opening game of the season Kentucky's heavy artillery hammered out eight hits for a total of eleven runs off Pinson, Georgetown College pitcher, at Georgetown last Thursday afternoon, but Jupiter Pluvius put a hand in the fire in the last of the fourth inning, forcing Umpire Anderson to call the game with the score 11 to 1 in favor of the Wildcats.

Probably had the game started on time, instead of being called 20 minutes late the Blue and White would have been able to have earned a victory. Pinson was found for everything he had to offer and the 'Cats were hitting the ball all over the lot. During the early part of the game a storm came up and the mass of dust on the field made fielding a thing out of the question.

In the first inning Pinson started off with fine style, whiffing Miller and Riffe in the first inning, but his streak of work was short lived, for the Blue and White force pounded the sphere here and there in the second frame for three runs and repeated in the third with five more. Arnold, Kentucky's center gardner, connected with one of Pinson's offerings in the third for one of the longest hits ever made on Hinton field, scoring Riffe and Croft ahead of him.

Georgetown's only marker came in the third inning and was the result of a clean double down the right field foul line by Daniel and a single to center by Harrod. The entire Blue and White team took a stand at the plate in their half of the third, counting five runs on three hits, a walk and two errors.

Georgetown is handicapped in this particular sport by the lack of material, with only one letter man on the team, this being the first year of baseball for a number of their players. Had the fray gone the full nine innings, there is no doubt but what it would have been an easy victory for the Wildcats.

Pete Derrick pulled off the prize play of the afternoon's program when he went to the rear of the grandstand and caught Forwood's pop foul.

The University of Kentucky baseball nine romped to an easy victory over the University of Louisville in a game played Monday afternoon on St. Xavier field at Louisville. The final score was 8 to 2. Jess Riffe hurled for Murphy's crew and tossed ninth innings, when the Cardinals garnered two runs. Bailey, the former Georgetown College moundsman, pitched good ball, but was given ragged support by his teammates.

Kentucky scored the first run of the game in the fifth, when Croft crossed the plate on Captain Miller's hit over third base. Kentucky scored again in the seventh and in the eighth drove in two runs. The ninth inning looked more like a track meet than a baseball game with Kentucky bringing home four men in front in the relay.

Frank Smith, second sacker for the Wildcats, was the only consistent batter on either team, getting three hits in five trips to the plate, one of these being good for two bases.

John Riffe played his usual consistent game and gathered two hits, one being a two-bagger.

Koster and Bailey were best for Louisville.

SQUIRREL FOOD

K. E. Lewis
I was sitting in the reading room, deeply intrigued by some problem of educational research (instructors will please notice), when the chief goof, whoever that may be, came bursting in.

"How would you like," said he, "to be Jester-in-ordinary to Sir University?"

"Buffoon to the bourgeoisie? Conceit that delectable manna called squirrel food on which Wildcats and divan-hounds are alike supposed to thrive?"

"Truly, Sir Ahasuerus, you tempt me. Might one occasionally translate into the printable some bit of Labelaisian humor that now escapes (?) the eyes and ears of the co-eds?"

"The chief was all agog. 'Vendor, spread your illicit wares.' 'Comes walking down the street a co-ed. Rusty flivver wheezes to a halt beside her. Seedy youth clad in baggy trousers, soiled cravat, unpretentious footwear, coat and other fixtures to match, falls out and accosts her: 'Shall we go riding?' Icy stare on face of maiden. 'I take no chances with strangers,' she refrig-erates. Sneezes hits youth two centimeters above left ventricle. Withdrawing his handkerchief he clumsily permits two twenties to flutter to the ground. Temperature of maiden's smile warms two hundred degrees Fahrenheit. 'Lochinvar,' she dulcets, 'you've got an honest face. I'll trust you this time.'

"Might ever the Jester play the lute? Would the king permit? For I would sing of girls who burst toy balloons with glowing cigarettes, of pagan days when Pan was young, of queer exotic monsters—the 'ES' that lurk in the Journalism department and pounce on unsuspecting wayfarers, of cool grottos where spring is ever hiding. I would sing of flowers and tiny streams, of girls with angel faces, of Israel's dreams. Oh, I would sing of laughter, of woman, wine, and song, of Coca Cola revels and why co-eds do wrong."

"Blended," sobbed the leader, "smite your lyre."

Chanson Avril
Some celestial bootlegger
Has overturned
A truck-load of Burgundy in the west;
Sunset is purple.
In the east
Blue clouds are coppers
Who run
Flat-footed 'cross the sky.
A dusky audience is coming from the south—
South-east.
Raindrops begin to whisper,
"Tell it to the Judge."

The chief was groggy but game. He came back with this stanza, which he said was the first of a zoological series on campus insects. I know a few that answer to this description. But to quote the chief:

The College Moth
He sees afar the beacon light
Of education through the night,
And hitherward he turns his course
And wings his way with all his force.
He flies around the light—and then
Plunges into the dark again.

The chief thought it was pretty good, so I figured that if I was going to keep my job, I'd better make out like it was just as good as mine.

As he concluded, a stranger came over and told the one about the absent-minded professor who took a bath on Wednesday night and got up next morning looking for the funny paper.

We really had decided to disperse. Of course, the librarian might have hastened the plans a little. Meeting called next week at Snowball's. (Advertising—Please credit one dollar, $1, on account.)

Before we left the chief asked me to announce that a prize would be awarded to anyone contributing a quip, triquet, villanelle or even a stick of shaving cream to this department. Prize would be complete absolution from attending tea dances the remainder of the semester.

Pax vobiscum cum granis salis.

VALEDICTORY

The horizon of our college journalistic career has passed. Already we gaze back down the lane we have traveled and note that our shadows no longer point westward, but have begun to lengthen toward the east. We shall soon leave our university and become figures in a world of practical men.

We have given willingly and gladly of our time and ability to make this a better university and a core cultured environment into which mothers could send their daughters and sons. We have failed in many aspects and we frankly admit it, but no man can point a finger of reproach at us and say, "You did not try!" We tried.

Beginning with this issue a new staff will direct the energies of your publication. Our chairs will be taken by other and more capable journalists; our favorite haunts will become foreign to us and our little staff will no longer exist as such. But we can retire with a clear conscience; we have not intentionally hurt anyone nor have we advocated any cause which we did not think was the best thing for the University of Kentucky.

We began the year with a big task before us. We submit our bound files as a criterion by which you may judge whether we failed or succeeded. We have had perfect cooperation from the faculty and administration and we desire to take this opportunity to thank them for it. The students have been sympathetic and willing to ignore many shortcomings on our part. The staff has been as a unit working together for one common cause, the betterment of our paper so as to serve more effectively its public. It has been willing to sacrifice many things to help in emergencies. We thank the staff.

To the new staff we may say that if it gets as much pleasure and practical experience from the publication of the Kernel as we have gotten, it will be more than amply repaid for the time spent on the paper. We hand it only our encouragement and congratulations and retain for ourselves myriads of fond memories of our "editor days."

SALUTATORY

Today a new management takes charge of the Kernel, as is customary at this time of the year. A new editor-in-chief, a new managing editor, a reorganized staff will have supervision over the paper for the remainder of the semester and throughout the following school session until this time next year.

Responsibilities have been placed on new shoulders; the talent has been entrusted to the care of a new servant.

Such is the ostensible and formal change which has taken place. But the change is nominal and insignificant at most. There is a change of servants, but none of masters. The same hand that directed the newspaper before the advent of the present staff shall continue to guide it. The same impetus that brought the Kernel through the past shall propel it through the future. The same voice that urged it on to greater efforts shall continue to be heard and heeded.

That part of the Kernel which does not change, in whom the dictatorship is permanently vested, is the desire to advance the welfare of that community of persons to whose service it is devoted. There is no master so relentless in his call for labor and there is no despot whose requirements are more exacting.

Whatever is good for the student body of the university; whatsoever is good for the alumni of the institution; whatsoever is good for the faculty; in short, whatever is good for the University of Kentucky—for those things we gird on our armor and go forth to battle, if the reader will pardon us for being a little dramatic about it.

One will arise and say at this point, that there are no battles to fight, because everybody is on our side. It is not so. There needs no skill of a conjurer to find enemies for us. They are on every side. They are on the farms of Kentucky, in the stores, in the churches, in the General Assembly, yea, verily, they are in the midst of us.

The Kernel has no policy. It reserves the right to stand on either side of the fence it chooses and to climb the fence whenever it pleases. It proposes to eulogize William Delbert Funkhouser one week and William Jennings Bryan the next, if it wants to change its mind as much as that. Its one principle is to support those things which are good for its master and friend, the university, and if the application of that principle differs one week from the previous week, it is because we have learned a new fact or have found a new point of view.

The Kernel is openminded. When it makes mistakes it will gladly correct them so far as they may be corrected. The Kernel will welcome any suggestions as to how its service may be improved. It will appreciate any effort to increase the scope of its usefulness.

Say, old dear, didja ever dream of bustin' the 1st Natl. Bank of Monte Carlo? Well, that's what your Uncle Felix just came near to doing. The trouble was that he didn't stop and played on in good old poker style to give the poor bank a chance, which was lucky for them. Why, at one time I held first and second mortgages on the Casino.
It was like being allowed to hold a gold brick for a second, though, and then have to give it back. Anyway, money is the root of all evil and I didn't want to be a source of crime.
I was thinking of having the Casino fixed over for my Riviera residence and buying a couple of those slick yachts lying down in the bay in the moonlight, but gave up the idea to continue with the Purwems tomorrow to Switzerland.

STROLLERS HAVE GREAT SUCCESS ON EASTERN TRIP

Play Before Full Houses at Every Engagement

BEST AT HARLAN

Leave on Western Kentucky Trip on April 21st

The Strollers, dramatic organization of the university, returned to Lexington Wednesday night from the most successful trip through the eastern part of Kentucky that that organization has ever taken.

Leaving Lexington Friday night, April 10, the Strollers went to Pineville, where they staged their first performance of the season which was a great success. Here they played before an audience of about six hundred persons in the Pineville high school auditorium. The play was a laugh from beginning to end, the first act requiring fifteen minutes longer to be presented than had ever been required during any of the rehearsals, due to stops until the audience quieted their laughter. The Kiwanis Club and Herndon Evans, an old Stroller, entertained the cast Sunday with a motor trip to Cumberland Gap and to the Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee.

Mrs. Ramsey, aunt of James Darnell, president of the Strollers, entertained for the cast with a tea Saturday afternoon.

Leaving Pineville Monday morning, they played before a packed house in the new Harlan Theatre at Harlan. Citizens of Harlan said that this was the best play that the Strollers have ever presented in that town. The local alumni of Harlan provided automobile rides for the cast Monday afternoon and a dance after the play that night.

The Strollers played the last engagement of their eastern trip before a full house in the auditorium of the Lynch high school at Lynch, on Tuesday night. They were given a warm reception by the citizens of Lynch on their arrival there, being met at the station in automobiles and motored to the hotel. Monday afternoon the cast was entertained with a motor trip through the mountains and were taken sight-seeing through the town. The Strollers left Lynch Wednesday morning at 7:30 and arrived here at 8:30 p. m.

The Strollers will leave on their western trip next Monday morning at 4:35 and will play in Owensboro that night, Henderson the night of April 22, Bowling Green the night of April 23, and Louisville the night of April 24. This is the first time that they have ever made a trip through western Kentucky.

25 LAW STUDENTS TAKE BAR EXAM

Four Women Students From U. of K. Are Candidates

Approximately 25 law students of the university were among the number of about 75 candidates who took the state bar examination, held in the House of Representatives, Frankfort, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The results of the examination, which was a written review of practically everything the university students have had, are not known as yet.

Among the university students who took the examination were: T. A. Ballantine, Louise Carson, M. B. Daniel, Lucy Edens, J. Y. Brown, M. J. Fisher, Basil Frost, J. W. Gillon, Joe Hobson, Robert Honaker, H. C. Johnson, W. O. Keller, C. P. King, L. H. Liles, C. M. C. Porter, E. S. Melton, Minnie B. Peterson, Maurine Sharp, Taylor G. Smith, and A. W. Thompson. This year four women students of the university took the examination, a larger number than ever before took the examination.

The examination was held on the following subjects: Pleading and Practice, Evidence, Real Property, Contracts, Negotiable Contracts, Principals and Agents, Bailments, Sales, Criminal Law, Torts, Wills and Administration, Equity, Corporations, Domestic Relations, Constitutional Law, and Legal Ethics.

A candidate must make a grade of 75 percent or better before he may be admitted to practice law in the state of Kentucky.

CRANETILT THREE-VALVE, LIFTING-TYPE STEAM TRAP

WHAT IS A STEAM TRAP?

A successful steam trap should be a passageway for water and a barrier to steam. It prevents the loss of any steam while it disposes of the accumulated condensation from pipe-lines and headers. Or drains receivers, drip pockets or steam using appliances. It is automatic, performing its important function without attention.

Steam traps of the right type, properly arranged, will return hot condensation directly to the boilers as pure feed water. Conserving the "heat of the liquid" of this condensate, they effect large fuel economies. They are the most economical devices on the market for boiler feeding. Steam traps can also be used to draw condensation from low pressures or vacuums, discharging directly into a higher pressure, and metering the discharge if desired.

Cranelit traps perform these and similar functions in many important power plants, in chemical plants, paper mills and oil refineries. Their operation is fully described in a Crane publication entitled "Condensation." We will be glad to send a copy to any engineering student who writes for it.

ENGLISH MEETING WELL ATTENDED

One Hundred Teachers at Convention Held Here

Approximately one hundred English teachers from over the state attended the third annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of English Teachers, held in the Little Theatre of the university on Friday and Saturday of last week. Poems, speeches, and musical numbers were the features of the convention.

The meeting was presided over by Mark Godman, State Inspector of High Schools, and the welcoming address was given by Dr. Frank L. McVey. Other speakers on the beginning day were Professor W. B. Jones, of Georgetown College, who made a response to the address of welcome; Mrs. Hawkins, of Millersburg Female College, who lectured on "Our English Problems;" Dr. J. C. T. Noe, of the university, on "Teaching American Ideals Through Literature;" Mark Godman, on "Kentucky English Teachers;" Supt. J. W. Ireland, Frankfort, on "The Teaching of Grammar in the High Schools;" Dr. E. B. Fowler, University of Louisville, on "The Relation of College and High School English;" Prof. E. F. Farquhar of the university, on "The Teaching of Poetry;" Dr. Hewlett, Centre College, on "The Survey of English Tests;" and a round table discussion was held by the English department of the university.

An abbreviated program was given on Friday, the last day of the meeting, when Miss Neely, Eastern State Normal teacher, spoke on "Correcting Themes;" and Professor L. L. Dantzier, head of the English department of the university, told the meeting how to classify students according to their ability.

The officers of this year were re-elected for next year. They are Mark Godman, president, and Miss Zerelda Nolan, secretary, of Paris. A very enthusiastic program was given and the Little Theatre was taxed to capacity with visitors.

the Child Labor Amendment Should be Adopted." J. Y. Brown and W. D. Scott will uphold the affirmative side of the question at Lexington, while J. B. Johnson and G. H. Milam will defend the negative side of the question for the university at Sewanee.

North Carolina will debate the university team composed of J. Y. Brown and W. O. Keller on Saturday, May 8, at Lexington. In this debate Kentucky will take the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That Congress should be empowered to override by a two-thirds majority vote, decisions of the Supreme Court declaring congressional action unconstitutional." In a debate held with North Carolina on this same subject at Chapel Hill, the Kentucky team was defeated by North Carolina and the Wildcats are out for revenge. They expect to give the visitors a good and sufficient clawing.

This year is the first year that the university has had a women's debating team and two dual debates are on the schedule. On Friday night, April 24, Misses Pearl Rush and Prewitt Evans will represent Kentucky at Lexington, taking the affirmative side of the proposition, "Resolved, that the Japanese Exclusion Act of 1924 be repealed," against the University of Tennessee. At the same time Misses Dorothy Smith and Martha Reed will take the negative side of the same question against Tennessee at Knoxville.

On May 5 the second women's debate will be held, Louisiana State University opposing Kentucky at Lexington on this occasion. Kentucky will uphold the affirmative side of the question: "Resolved: That the Child Labor amendment should be adopted."

"THE PLAYS THE THING"

JOHN BARRYMORE himself would "get the hook" if he did not know his cues, or read his lines as called for by the action of the play.

Engineers get cues, too—from the industrial drama of which they are a part. Like actors, their performance must fit the action of an economic play.

Thus the reason that the journals, the societies, the schools, colleges, teachers, and well-known public men are urging engineers to study economics—to learn the nature and effect of economic laws.

To build the largest generator or the smallest meter, for example, is not always in itself a great engineering feat. The feat consists in having it ready at a time, a price, and with such features as the prevailing economic situation calls for.

In this sense engineers—and particularly Westinghouse engineers—must be "practicing economists". They must follow closely the "action of the play"—analyzing fundamental conditions in every field, and calculating their causes and probable effects.

All this, so that when a cue is spoken in factory or home, on farm or railroad, on the sea or in the air, they may be ready.

This advertisement is eighth in a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

ENGINEERS BACK FROM TRIP EAST

Many Plants Are Visited by Anderson's Party

The senior engineers of the university have returned from their annual eastern trip of inspection, having spent the week of April 2 to 9 on this tour. They visited the principal manufacturing plants in Buffalo and Pittsburgh and went for a sight-seeing expedition to Niagara Falls.

While in Pittsburgh, they visited the Carnegie Art Museum, the Bureau of Mines, H. J. Heinz Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing plant, at the latter a complimentary lunch was served by the company. The university alumni gave them a banquet on April 3.

Sunday afternoon and Monday were spent at the Falls and early on Tuesday morning the streets of Buffalo resounded with the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home," sung as only Kentuckians can sing it. The engineers were on their way in a special car to the site of the Larkin Company, where they spent the morning inspecting the plant and watching the manufacture of soap, tooth paste and other toilet articles.

Following the inspection trip thru this plant, the party was the guest of the National Lamp Works of the General Electric Company, where they witnessed the manufacture of automobile and decoration light bulbs.

That night the engineers were entertained by a lecture given by W. K. Bradbury, on the present and future utilization of Niagara Falls as a generator of power. Mr. Bradbury announced that he planned to visit Lexington in the near future for the purpose of delivering the same lecture on Niagara Falls.

The party visited the American Brass Company, inspected the Pierce-Arrow Motor Company and were entertained by the Research Laboratory department of the American Radiator Company, where they spent Wednesday night were the guests of the Alumni Club at a banquet.

MOTHERS HERE MAY 9 AND 10

Purpose is to Acquaint Them With School Life

May 9 and 10 will be observed as Mothers' Day at the university and invitations have been mailed to the mothers of women students to spend these days as guests of the university. This is the first time the university has observed Mothers' Day, the purpose of which is to acquaint mothers with the school life of their daughters.

Many things have been planned for Saturday and Sunday, including a drive over the campus visiting the various buildings. A tea at Doctor and Mrs. McVey's home, and a reception at which the faculty and faculty members have an opportunity to meet will conclude Saturday's program. On Sunday afternoon there will be a musical vesper service.

The committee for Mothers' Day follows: Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Mrs. Edna Giles, Mrs. C. J. Norwood, Mrs. Charles J. Smith, Mrs. P. P. Boyd, Mrs. W. E. Davis, Mrs. W. L. Heizer, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, Miss Dilleke, Miss Virginia Kelley, Miss Norma Carter, and Miss Jimmie Collins.

JAMES STEPHENS GIVES READINGS

Irish Poet Charms a Large Audience at Patt Hall

Tuesday afternoon at Patterson Hall, James Stephens, famous Irish poet and novelist, recited a number of selections from his poetry in his own individual fashion. Mr. Stephens is well known not only for his poetry but also for his prose works, the most famous of which are: "The Crook of Gold," "Deirdre," and "The Land of Youth."

In his introduction of the poet, Dr. McVey made the statement that he didn't know that there were so many "grown-ups" who still believed in the fairies. That they do still believe in fairies was shown by the appreciative audience which filled to capacity even the standing room of the recreation hall.

The scaffolding upon which Mr. Stephens developed his reading was the portrayal of speed. By the rhythm and quality of words he gave this effect. The first poem he read was "Irish Mountain." The growth of a mountain was shown to be quite slow, but its development was genius.

Deviating from his plan of speed, he read other poems "Colleen," "Peggy Mitchell," "Loneliness," "To a Cloud," "As Sways the Rose." They all hold one by their charmingly expressed emotions.

Mr. Stephens came to the university under the auspices of the J. B. Sax Memorial Fund, which Professor Carol M. Sax has established in memory of his father. This is the second of the lecturers to be brought here by those in charge of the memorial fund.
