SGA Student Loan Bill, Two Amendments Passed By Legislature

The long-dated Student Loan bill, amended to comply with Acting President Cooper's suggestions, passed the Student Legislature last night almost unanimously.

Also passed by the SGA body was an amendment to the constitution replacing the SGA's appointive power of the University senate, which will be abolished July 1.

If it is signed by the University president, the loan bill will go into effect immediately.

Changes in the bill made at President Cooper's recommendation and submitted to the legislature by Richard P. Adams, graduate school representative, are as follows:

1) The loan fund will be started with the sum to come from SGA surplus. The loan bill administrative committee may petition the Legislature for additional funds.

2) The committee will be composed of two members appointed by the president of the University with the approval of the Student Legislature and two members elected by the Legislature. The chairman shall be chosen from the two members appointed by the University president.

3) The committee shall meet regularly each month, with provision for called meetings.

4) No student shall be denied the right to petition for a loan.

5) The committee shall not grant loans to any student who is likely to default repayment because of inability or unwillingness to pay as indicated in his past record.

6) Clerical facilities of the Dean of Men's University building agency shall be utilized by the committee.

AMENDMENT PASSED
The Student Legislature last night, provided that:

The six faculty members of the Student Welfare committee and the three faculty members of the Liaison committee formerly elected by the University senate shall be elected by the Student Government Association from faculty members of the rank of associate professor or above, and the two faculty members of the Student Standards committee shall be appointed by the president of the University, subject to the approval of the Student Government Association legislature.

SPARE CHOSEN PR CAPTAIN AT DINNER, BALL

Albert J. Spar, Covington, was elected cadet captain of Company C of the Pershing Rifles last night at the annual captain's dinner ball at the Lexington County club.

Robert Plaga, Newport, was elected cadet first lieutenant; C. P. Taylor, Beaver Dam, and William Maxedon, Lexington were elected cadet second lieutenants.

Retiring officers of the Pershing Rifles unit are Robert Cloud, captain; Oscar Sellers, first lieutenant; and C. C. Brown and Roy Mullis, second lieutenants. Cloud was given a sash and Sellers was given a military traveling bag at the ball.

CLARKE ELECTED
ODK PRESIDENT
Johnson, Long,
Also Chosen

John Clarke, Mayville, was elected president of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership fraternity at a meeting Thursday. He succeeds James Wine, Prestonsburg.

Jim Johnson, Clinton, was elected vice-president and John Long, Earlington, secretary.

Gayle Starkey of the extension department, was named faculty secretary-treasurer of the honorary society of $3994.95 for the present school year compared to $2392.82 for last year, according to a report released by Jim Johnson, treasurer, yesterday.

Although the SGA income was reduced from $589.89 to $516.62, cutting expenditures practically in half accounts for the increased surplus.

Abandoning of the Women's World conference and the deduction of the costs of the Senior ball contributing most to the reduction of expenses, $251 is available for the Senior ball in comparison to the $500 spent last year. Since no representative was sent to the National Student Federation of America convention this year the SGA saved $100.

The student loan fund will be taken from the SGA balance if the bill is approved.

The complete report is printed elsewhere in the paper.

A bill requiring the dean of a college to submit a list of students equally divided among all SGA-recognized political parties in each vacancy election in the legislature was passed by the body last night.

Physicist J. H. Hand in office room yesterday said that the legislature was passed by the body last night.

The legislature will not elect the representative to the vacancy until the next meeting after the list has been submitted, to give the legislature opportunity to investigate the proposed candidates.

Applications for Army air corps training will be received daily until June 7 from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. by Lt. Stanley I. Hand in office room 107, Barker hall. It was announced by the military department yesterday.

A new system of training is now being used whereby flying cadets of 20 men each will be trained together and remain together after graduation.

Physical tests and completion of two years of college or passage of a mental examination are the entrance requirements.

The Summer session Kernel will appear once each week with the industry editor sitting on the wheel and we'll be back with you next fall.

It probably will be in the Army next year anyhow.

Troubled By 'Education' And 'Ideas' We Enter A Summer Of Confusion

And so the United States drifts off into summer, and collegians start for their homes, puzzling.

For us it looks like another three months of squirming in our seats at movies we can't enjoy, taking books out of the library and trying to read them, and spending a lot of time just sitting.

It looks like another summer of confusion.

The three months between terms are infinitely worse for college students than the nine in school. The weather gets sultry and we get sultry, and we begin to wonder if education really amounts to anything after all. At the university we live in our own world, a world of theories and ideals. We read Shelley and Tolstoy and talk about art and life and death. We write essays on "Matthew Arnold and Culture" and do term papers on requirements of an ideal government. Then we get home and find that in the "outside world" people just don't think much about such things.

Our school theories about friendship and "world brotherhood" sound out of place in a world beating the war drums and spouting the usual platitudes. We feel funny about mentioning the future because people laugh and say "we can worry about that when we have won the war."

And all around we hear the hymns of hate and statements like "The only way to keep peace in the world is to beat the German people down, because they have the idea that they are the race destined to rule." Then we know that no matter who wins the war there is going to be another vindictive peace treaty, and the hopes and ideals we soaked up in college are not going to be carried out.

That is why we put down the newspaper half-read, feeling so strongly that this war is sopping up lives and resources that should have been used bettering mankind, and yet knowing that there is nothing we can do to stop it. All around us we see people unturbed with "ideas" satisfied with entering the war just to win it and beat the Germans. They cannot see—and don't want to see—any farther than the end of the war. And we, who were taught literature and philosophy—did political theory find that we can do nothing against it.

We look askance at newspaper stories about the war, because we have been taught most of them are censored and are not to be believed blindly. We are dubious about swallowing what we read in magazines and books about it because they too could be prejudiced. For every allegedly "informed" commentator we can find three or four to say he's misleading. Yet, all around us we see the people not bothered by "education" content with what they read in Litrary and hear from Walter Winchell and satisfied that this is a great holy war of the Good People against the Bad People. We feel the terrible truth that America is being led into a war with no knowledge of what she is going to fight for.

The idea of people making deliberate falsification of scientific results or of statistical findings—something we always considered to be the one solid thing to cling to—leaves us feeling that there is nothing whatever left to be trusted. And that probably is the truth.

And so that's how we are standing now, going away from our University-world of ideals and philosophy into a hard-boiled and often blind world where people think nothing of what we have been learning. And the people unturbed with "education," content to believe everything they see and hear, go on, convinced that they are right, while we go on, convinced of nothing, wondering what it is all about.

Grads—The World Is Yours

'41 Outlook Is Brighter As Jobs Stalk Graduates

By FRED HILL

Of all the weird situations which have developed out of the National Defense Act and the resultant economic and social unrest, one of the strangest is the twists taken in relations between college graduates on the job-hunt and prospective employers.

Even as late as last spring the job-seeking collegians were on the offensive—the pursuers—and the employers on the defensive—the pursued. But suddenly the picture has been reversed.

Reports from what are probably the four major placement centers in the University—the Engineering college, the Journalism department of the Arts and Sciences college, the Education college, and the Commerce college—all indicate that this year the employers will be the pursuers.

JOBS ARE FREE

For every one of these centers reports that applications for qualified men in their various fields already far exceed the number of graduates on hand.

The reason for this is obvious. The draft and defense work are taking men out of private enterprise much faster than they can be replaced. The result is a plying of every possible source for new workers by the employers and a wider choice of positions by the job-graspers.

Most in demand from the University campus are probably the engineers. According to Professor Freeman of the college every one of the 55 graduates there will step immediately into positions "much better than ever offered before this early after their graduation."

APPLICATIONS MANY

Professor Freeman pointed out that there had been at least 5% more applications for graduates than there were graduates. "Most of these men," he said, "will not be drafted because of their vital positions in the current defense work."

Although less likely to be affected, since its personnel consists largely of women, the College of Education is also noting a change in the status of their prospective employers. A source there said that "there have been an unusually large number of early placements this year whereas very few teachers are ordinarily placed before late July."

And the Commerce College has experienced the same thing. Their graduating ranks will be hit heavily by the draft, but deferred students have found practically no difficulty in finding jobs.

Outlook At The End Of An Age

BEHIND IVIED WALLS BY ALLENBY E. WINTER

There is not a person living in the United States who can say he is more patriotic than I am. I want my country to thrive and progress. I want it to keep its place in the sun. If my country is in danger, I am ready to come to its defense. But before I defend anything, I believe it is my right to know what, exactly, I am defending.

ENEMY?

And the enemy? Who are they? Why are they? I remember two years ago when England went to war against the Germans, the battle cry was "Right fascism" and fight "naazism." Ah, they were sweet battle words. And positions? Nazism? Fascism? I believe that they have already won their battle. The fight now is not over them. The fight now is over empire. Who will rule the world? The Germans? The British? That, I know, is the question!

AFTER THE WAR?

And when this war is over, say in about five years—what then? I fear win or lose, what we have been calling democracy here is doomed. What has been existing in the minds of men for almost two centuries in this country will die. We, I fear, will become the stronghold of reaction. We may stay that way, I hope not.

I believe this war is going to build down to one final issue. I do not think it impossible that within the ensuing years Britain and Germany will become allies. Yes, I repeat, allies. For to the East... the Soviet Union stands, mysterious, powerful, threatening. The battle then will assume world-shaking significance.

I know where I stand now. I stand at the end of an age.

Speaking as one to whom the state of national and world affairs is of vital concern because of the immensity of my participation in it, I wish to analyze for myself, even if not for others, the world scene as I see it. I wish to understand exactly what part I am going to play in the world order for the duration of my life.

In a short while I shall join millions of other young American men from all walks of life, in the American army. I shall be trained to be a soldier. This means, to me, that I shall be taught how to shoot to kill, how to destroy the lives of fellows on the other side. To me that is all a soldier is meant to do. The ordinary soldier will tell you, if you ask him why he would kill an opponent, "If I don't kill him, he'll kill me."

KILL OR BE KILLED

And to a great majority of men under arms, being a soldier means simply killing the other fellow before you get killed yourself. But... where is the great cause for which the soldier is supposed to be fighting? I contend that a soldier doesn't know what he is fighting for outside of the false belief instilled in him by propagandists that he is fighting to save "Utopia" or something equally far-fetched.

Frankly, I don't know what democracy is. In the grade schools, and in high school, and for that matter in college, I have listened to lectures on democracy, and on

T. Dorsey Still Tops The List Of Leading American Bands

By BILL PENICK

90 percent of the musicians in the game today. Ziggy is one of the most sought-after sidemen in the land and the others are tops in their respective fields.

Appropriately enough the band's latest recording gets our nod as the best record of the past year. Sides are a full twelve inches of Deep River and Without A Song. River is arranged in a jump tempo by Cy Oliver and spots successive solos by Dorsey, Buskin, Mince, Ledt and Elman. Elman steals the show. His driving open horn style is terrific.

Flashing top notch soloists in every department, the group has everything. Some of these soloists are Joe Buskin on piano, Buddy Rich on drums, Don Lodice on tenor sax, Johnny Mince on clarinet, Shory Cheroak and Ziggy Elman on trumpets and Tommy on trombone. Dorsey is considered the greatest trombonist who ever lived by

They Say...

By CELIA BEDEMAN

Question: "What is your formula for studying for exams?"

Charles Kiser, Engineering junior—"I go out and see a weird picture show the night before."

Simon Levy, Commerce senior—"I study 24 hours the day before, then pray."

Marta Wood, A & S junior—"Two boxes of caffeine tablets and my fingers crossed."

Bob Christand, A & S freshman—"I don't study."

Louis Rekon, Engineering senior—"What the hell, I'll be in the army soon anyway."

Frances Poe, Agriculture sophomore—"I review all my notes and go over as many assignments as I can."

Frances Jenkins, A & S freshman—"I let my conscience be my guide."

Joe Adams, Engineering junior—"Go out on a date the night before."

Marjorie Britton, Education senior—"I just cram."

Gene Houston seems to have changed her male inspirations. Jodie Wade of the SAE clan is being replaced by some of the Cynthiana local talent for the summer we guess.

Kappa Alpha gave their yearly ball this weekend and a good time was reported to have been had by all and especially by Jimmy Harris who again was seen squaring a belle from Anchorage.

Ruth Harris may have been at one time a good camp-fire girl but when she gets the hot foot by walking in a fire we begin to wonder. Just another thing to be careful of on a picnic, one of the many.

Polly McDonald and Glenn Millon seem to have at last settled all differences and are now going steady.

Why Martha Hixon looks so down hearted these last few days. How long this Marion Berry and Mary Hume affair will last.

When the Grant Lewis and Joyce Thomas affair started. Just how Lillian Mitchell enjoys her orchids from California.

Just what Bob Courtney's intentions are with Dee Dee Preston. Are Everrett and Betty Rees working up an affair?

Why Sonny Hagenback has limited herself to one Phil Tau, Gus Green.

How Tommy Arkie looked over the U. K. queens and found them wanting, so he is still going steady with Dottie McGuire, a Henry Clay cutie.

How Flo Brown and Terry Thealing have been enjoying the very frequent visits from two Cincinnati boys.

How Betty Warner and Helen Maffett have changed from the U.K. glamor boys to Cynthiana G. B.'s.

Mary Lewis Boaz has been quite emphatic upon the subject of being late at the Alpha Gam house; but the other night, the tables were turned when she got in after one and had to campus herself.

Louise Shepherd and "Pete" Kurack of the Delta Chi club will take that long climax around the 7th of June.

The Sporting Way

BY JOHNNY CARRICO

This is my farewell strip (for this year). Probably I should become maudlinly sentimental and gush over the good time I've had in preparing this corner twice a week. Probably convention and newspaper ethics require that I tell you how enjoyable it has been to be of service to you. I should thank you for being so patient with my faulty copy and for overlooking my shortcomings.

Yes, I suppose I should. But damn it, I don't! It's been a lousy job to sling two columns of bull every week. I've worn out three pairs of scissors and used four pots of paste in stealing stuff for you to read. I've even laid myself open to the copyright laws so that you would have something interesting to read on Tuesdays and Fridays. So don't expect any thanks from me for reading this corner. In short, to you, gentle reader, POGGY!

Now to come to the thank-you department. I want to thank here the members of the sports staff—Harold Winn, June Davis, and Bill Hammack. Thank you for the good time you did in spite of my frequent ungracious remarks. Put it down to "more bark than bite."

I'd like to thank also the coaching staff for their co-operation, particularly Adolph Rupp. The man in the brown suit always took time to stop and talk to us, no matter how urgent the circumstances or how dumb the interviewees.
Lastly, thanks to Hack over in the Intramural department for his help. It is my humble opinion (and I know it is shared by others) that Hackensmith is one of the best-liked men in the University.
Well, that just about winds up my obituary for this year. But before we go, we'd like to wish success to following men who are graduating: Lee Huber, Hook Combs, Steamboat Reid, Sully Jacobs, Keith Parsley, Jim Hardin, Dave Zoeller, Joe Bailey, Bob Palmer, Ike Wilmouche, Dutch Wilhelm, Phil Scott, John Montgomery, and John Dunn.

GOLF TEAM WINS FROM MIAMI U

13-5 Victory Clozes Perfect Season

The Wildcats golf team closed the season with a smashing 13-5 victory over Miami University at Ashland Golf club Wednesday.
Coached by S. A. Dadey, Boles, the Cat golfers have progressed through a stiff, nine-game schedule without a single loss.
Diminutive Ernie Allen was low-scorer, carding a 73 to defeat Miller, Miami, 3-1. Lloyd Ramsey's 74, although bettered by his opponent, Brown who shot 73, was nevertheless good enough to win 2-1. Ramsey and Allen, incidentally, have been around par all season.
Meade Parris fired 77 to win 2-1 over Webb, Miami, and Granville Clark, scored 78 to beat Warren, 25-15.

CATS' CONQUEST OF CLARKSVILLE CLOSES SEASON

7-2 Victory Is Ninth Win, With Five Losses

Kentucky Wildcats tennis team slammed shut the record book for its 1941 season last Saturday with a 7-2 win over the Clarksville independents, closing a season in which it won nine of the fourteen matches.
The Clarksville team boasted two members of a former UK team, but Lee Huber beat Russell Cooley, No. 6 man on the 1938 team, and Dave Ragland took the measure of Herbert Holman, No. 5 on the '38 varsity.

Earlier in the week, the Wildcats had accounted for their eighth victory of the year when they allowed Berea only one match 8-1.
The Cats got off to a slow start this year, losing their opening match to DePauw, but once they gained their form, won from Tennessee twice, Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Western Kentucky, Cincinnati university, Berea, Wayne university and Clarksville. Besides the DePauw match, they lost to Notre Dame, Spring Hill and Michigan State.

Coches Downing recently appointed to the umpire's association of the United States Lawn Tennis association for this region, said the '41 team had played a hard schedule, and called it the most successful season since 1936. Last year's Wildcats won six and lost six.
Members of the team will be guests of Dr. Downing at a luncheon today in the Student Union building, and will meet their 1942 captain at that time. The Clarksville match marked the end of college competition for Lee Huber, Dave Ragland, and Wilmore Garrett.

Summary of the Clarksville match:
Huber (UK) defeated Cooley, 6-4, 6-2.
Ragland (UK) defeated Holman, 6-2, 6-2.
Miller (UK) defeated B. Lewis, 7-5, 6-3.
Haller (UK) defeated Ross, 6-3, 6-4.

By HAROLD WINN

When there "ain't no" sports to write, here about as welcome around The Kernel office as a couple of skunks at a Sunday school picnic, so with Kentucky's athletes hanging up their spikes, tennis rackets, etc., we decided we must make this our farewell effort, this being the final edition of The Kernel anyway.

Maybe we should go into a lot of predictions for this summer and next fall, but the only thing we're sure of is that Whirlaway won the Derby and the Preakness and should win the Belmont, if we don't bet on him.
We do have a few regrets that they don't have a Rosebowl of some sort for golfers, so we could send out the Kentucky bunch that just finished an unbeaten season, but we know that the Athletic department frowns on post-season matches, so maybe it's just as well.

But as the boys say down at the poolroom, "We ain't complaining." Kentucky won some football games, came close to being tops in basketball, red hot in tennis, and Cleveland's leading in the American league—we didn't bet on them.
So if Editor Uncle Sam doesn't call us in to work in his sports department, we'll be back next year and then if you're still interested, we'll finish our prediction on Whirlaway.

Hodges (UK) defeated H. Lewis, 6-2, 6-1.
Garrett (UK) defeated Porter, 7-5, 6-4.
Buss and Holman defeated Garrett and Swoback (UK), 6-3, 6-3.
Huber and Ragland (UK) defeated Cooley and H. Lewis, 6-4, 6-2.
Porter and B. Lewis defeated O. Lewis and Harris (UK), 6-4, 6-4.

An Open Letter from a Student To an Alumnus...

Dear Charlie,
It is certainly difficult to realize that it is almost the first of June and graduation only a week ahead. What with all the boys drilling and getting ready for R.O.T.C. inspection, this place is as militaristic as your own air corps. xxx
I hope you get your furlough and will be able to come to graduation exercises the night of June 8 and the Senior Ball -- June 4. I suppose you'll be staying at the Phoenix Hotel while here. Their comfortable rooms and efficient service always make it headquarters for University grads when they are in town.
Here's hoping you don't get stuck on a cloud-- or struck on a crowd-- of army hostesses! As ever,
Your friend,
Roger
