BUFFALO ALUMNI CLUB MAKE ELABORATE PLANS FOR SENIOR ENGINEERS

Aim to Make Inspection Trip
More Enjoyable and Instructive Than Before

ALL ALUMNI INVITED

Banquet on Night of April 10th
To Be Grand Finale of Visit

(Special to Kernel)

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21—The Buffalo Alumni Club is planning to make this year's Senior inspection trip even more enjoyable and instructive than last year's. Sunday will be given over to sight-seeing, while the other four days will be taken up with the inspection of plants in and around Buffalo. The grand finale will be a banquet on Thursday evening in honor of the Seniors.

The boys will arrive here early Sunday morning, April sixth, but will remain only long enough to get breakfast, for they continue on the same train as far as Niagara Falls, where they day will be spent in sight-seeing. Special cars will take the group thru the famous Gorge Route. Monday will be given over to inspection of plants around Niagara Falls. This will be of particular interest to the electrical students, for the largest hydro-electrical developments in the world are there. Only recently the world's largest single hydro-electric generator has been put into operation at one of the Niagara power plants.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the Seniors will visit the following industrial plants: The Larkin Company, the Lackawanna plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company, The Hew-

REPRESENTATIVE ORATOR TO BE CHOSEN IN TRY-OUT

The representative of the University of Kentucky in the southern oratorical contest to be held at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., on April 19, will be selected at a try-out to be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Little Theatre. Any student of the University is eligible to participate in this preliminary contest. It is expected that Kentucky will take an unusual interest in the contest this year as James Darnell, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, is president of the Southern Oratorical Association under the auspices of which it is usually held.

WAS FRESHMAN CAPTAIN

Played on the Champion High School Team of the United States

The letter men of the 1924 basketball team of the University Tuesday elected James R. McFarland as their captain for the 1925 season. A. T. "Chuck" Rice, 1924 leader, was chosen alternate captain by the squad.

McFarland is a member of the sophomore class in the Engineering College and Sigma Chi fraternity. He was president of the Freshman class last year and has been very popular on the campus. McFarland is a Lexingtonian, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McFarland, of 518 East Main St.

Before entering the University, "Jimmie" was a member of the Lexington High School "Blue Devils" when they won the national championship and was picked as an all-American forward. Last year he was captain and forward of the freshman team which won the freshman championship of the south.

The past season was McFarland's first on the varsity team but he played a stellar game all season and was unanimously selected by all the sport writers for a berth on the mythical all-Kentucky team.

GRADUATE ENGINEER HERE IN INTEREST OF ELECTRIC CO.

J. L. Shouse, a graduate of the class of 1923, is spending this week at the College of Engineering for the purpose of presenting the claims of the General Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y., to the 1924 graduate of the College of Engineering.

Mr. Shouse has been employed by the General Electric Company since his graduation and this is a fine implied tribute to him to be selected by this company to secure additional technical graduates for its organization at so short a time after his leaving the University himself. In all probability at least five members of the class of 1924 will go with the General Electric Company.

BASEBALL SQUAD GETS FIRST OUTDOOR WORK

First Game of the Season Will Be Played in Early
April

With the sun shining once more, and the snow gradually melting away, Coach Barger has taken his men to the diamond and is giving them a few of the fundamentals in order to get the kinks out of their arms so he can start real practice in the next few days. Action must begin at once, as the baseball fans will have the opportunity of seeing their first game of the season sometime during the early part of April.

The battery men have been taking light workouts in the gym for the last two weeks and now that they have gotten rid of some of the soreness, that

Misses

Displaying a fighting spirit that could not be curbed, the Blue Devils of Lexington Senior High School, won the 6th annual interscholastic basketball tournament held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. The Devils defeated some of the best teams in order to get into the finals Saturday night and then outought the Highland five of Ft. Thomas, winning the final game 15-10. The Kittens of Ashland duplicated their triumph of last year by winning the girls' tourney Saturday afternoon, winning from the Misses of Georgetown 13-11.

While the Lexington five was not seriously considered as a strong contender for the title, the Blue Devil teams have the reputation of putting up a big fight and the success of the local five should not have been such a surprise. Coach "Dutch" Herber, former Wildcat athlete, has a very likely looking squad of basketeers, who although only youngsters, played as heady a game as any of the other contenders. Paducah, Hazard, Manual, and Fort Thomas all failed to stop the Devils and it was over mighty tough proposition that the Lexington aggregation won its goal.

In the girls' tourney, things were just as close as in the boys' division, and the Kittens of Ashland won the ti-

BUFFALO CLUB MEETS TO PLAN TO ENTERTAIN SENIORS

On Saturday, March 8 at 1:15 o'clock the Buffalo Alumni Club held its regular monthly luncheon and business meeting in the private dining room of the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce. About twenty members were present.

The entire business session was given over to a discussion of plans for the Senior inspection trip. The committee in charge has completed all arrangements relative to the industries to be visited, and we feel that the boys' time here will be very profitable to them.

A special luncheon and meeting will be held on March 29, to take care of changes that may be necessary in our plans concerning the class' stay with us.

W. G. Miller, class of '22 left Buffalo March 9 for a several weeks business trip to South Bend, Ind.

COMMITTEE IS PLANNING BANQUET FOR K. E. A.

Plans for the alumni banquet to be held at the Seelbach Hotel, in Louisville, Friday night, April 24, during the K. E. A. convention, are being made by a committee headed in Louisville by Leo J. Sandman, and in Lexington by Prof. Wellington Patrick, head of the Extension Department; Dean Cooper, of the Agricultural College; Dean Boyd of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dean Freeman, assistant dean of the College of Engineering; and Dean Taylor, of the College of Education.

About 300 alumni from all over Kentucky are expected to be present at the banquet. The University Glee Club will help with the entertainment at the banquet. Dr. McVey and Governor William J. Fields will be on the program for addresses.

A little later the Alumni page will have a blank which may be filled out and sent in to reserve a place at the banquet. The committee and the Louisville Alumni Club hope to be able to make this the big affair of the convention this year, especially enjoyable for the graduates and former students of the University.

GEORGE B. CAREY

Here is the Old State Boy who was chairman of the Basketball building committee. George B. Carey, contractor and consulting engineer, of the Carey-Reed Company, is an ex-member of the class of '93. In 1914 the College of Engineering gave Mr. Carey the honorary degree of M. E. in recognition of his success as an engineer and

Where The Tournament Was Held

This will introduce you to the new basketball building which you last saw when only the foundation was completed. Today you see it with four walls, a floor and a roof. Of course they are going to level up the battlement around the top which you now see in a jagged condition.

Last week 18 boys' teams from the high schools of the state struggled here for the state high school championship. Many of the teams were coached by old State men. A. E. Bell, class of '21 was coach of the La Grange team; Ralph H. Woods, class of '23 brought the La Center five; A. B. Chandler, member of the class of '24 was the coach of the Versailles team; Lewis A. Piper, ex-class of '21, was the trainer of the Danville five; and John G. Herber, former captain of the Wildcat football team, produced the winning team in the form of the Lexington Blue Devils.

The girls' games were all played in the old gymnasium. The tournament was not so crowded as usual this time because of the extra space furnished in the new building. Last year the girls' games had to be played in the armory, which is a pretty poor sort of gym. The old basketball floor is all right but only a few hundred people can see a game.

On the last night of the tournament more than 2,400 people saw the game in the new building and it could have held a thousand more fairly comfortably. The proceeds from the gate receipts will be paid to the contractors to complete the structure.

his work in behalf of the University.

Mr. Carey is treasurer of the Greater Kentucky Campaign fund, as most of the alumni will know from cards they have received in regard to the different payments due on the subscriptions.

It was largely due to the earnest and persistent efforts of this Old State man that the basketball building was completed in time for the high school basketball tournament. In the face of a shortage of funds and weather not fit for working Mr. Carey arranged for the work to be carried on and although many said the building would never be ready for the tournament this spring he had men working day and night the last week before the tournament and on the morning of its opening invited 18 high school teams to play in the largest and best basketball building in the south.

THE PROPOSED NEW CHURCH

Nineteen centuries ago a Man chose twelve disciples of varying creeds and beliefs and through them built a church upon a rock against which the gates of Hell have not prevailed. It is a strange fact that such types of men as the doubting Thomas, the mystic John, the wavering Peter and the steadfast Matthew should have fulfilled the unity of purposes which produced christianity. The death of their Leader, the prosecution of the Christian martyrs, the superstition of the Dark Ages, the internal strife between sect and sect—these have only strengthened the foundation of the church.

Today there has arisen a new controversy which has its roots in the ancient discoveries of science. A new school of theology which really is as old as man has set forth its tenets. This school is divided into parties of the Modernists and the Fundamentalists. The warfare between these two factors bids fair, some say, to wreck the church. A certain number of the later party has risen who state in clear and concise terms that there is no hope for religion unless the Fundamentalists—those who take all by faith—establish a new church.

The first natural thought which arises is that the Modernists have the same right to make a similar claim. However, to a person who can see both sides, this is a clear case of the pot calling the kettle black and vice versa. Opinions which can further no end are futile.

The greatness of the Protestant Church is founded on its acceptance of the fact that every individual has a right to believe as his conscience directs. Yet there are people on both sides of the present question who are trying to impose hyebound interpretations of life and religion on their fellowmen. The truth that personality is sacred cannot be violated; every man must search his own soul and find there what is religion for him.

Any scheme for establishing a new church is not feasible. To attempt it would be to bring about a hopeless upheaval. Every individual must know God in his own way whether he beholds Him in the passing of the tempest or in the solution of work-a-day problems. The numerous creeds of humanity are as leaves in the relation of man to the Unseen Forces.

There is but one church universal, and that church is founded upon the words of Him who said:

"I am come that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly."

Mohammedan mosque, Buddhist pagoda and heathen shrine alike must pass under the shadow of the simple cross—the symbol of service to mankind. Men will wrangle over dogmas and doctrines in the future as they have in the past, but the spirit of Jesus Christ will reign supreme above their petty quarrels. The church upon which religion depends is not one composed of men who hold certain prescribed beliefs; the religion to which the world is looking is that one which upholds an equal opportunity for all men, a spirit of universal service, and a sense of world brotherhood.

Note—The foregoing editorial was written by Miss Katherine Elliott as a class paper in Senior Journalism.

RE-ENTER ROMANCE

The appeal of the drama and the naturalistic element is passing. The pendulum has swung too far. The charm of silken stockings and swash-buckling cavaliers has returned in the new stage version of "Cyrano de Bergerac" to enchant us as it once did our fathers in days gone by.

The eternal triangle has yielded to romance—pure sheer romance created because of the joy of creation and because the thrill in the author's heart would not be stilled. And we the theatre-goers are welcoming it because we are sick of the accustomed mud and filth which has defiled our stage in the last few years.

A few weeks ago the Lexington Opera House had the opportunity to bill "Blossom Time." It was called a musical comedy, but it was in reality an exquisite lyric of love and laughter interwoven with silver, shimmering threads of life. We who saw it came away with tears in our eyes and a smile on our lips. We were glad because that dainty maid, that charming maid, that lovely creature, Romance, had passed by.

In the New York theatres such revivals as "Cazanova" and "The Swan" are running. Doubtless others will follow these forerunners, and a new era will begin for the stage.

TRACK SQUAD PREPARES FOR LOUISVILLE MEET

Cat Team To Enter in Falls City Event to Be Held on March 29

The University of Kentucky track squad which for the past two weeks has been forced to workout inside the armory, was permitted out on Stoll Field last Tuesday. Bad weather has been the cause of the Cat's indoor practice and has been a factor in slowing the development of the speedsters.

The Wildcats are now training for the Louisville Federation meet which is to be held in the Jefferson County Armory March 29. Many of the best track artists of the country will be present at the meet and the Wildcats will have to show great class to win places there.

Trials for the Louisville match will be held the latter part of this week. Although the Kentucky runners are not in as good condition as they would have been had the weather permitted them to work out doors, they will mee tat Louisville a run for their money.

Hall, who placed third in the two mile run at the Cincinnati indoor meet is counted on to score for Kentucky at Louisville. Brady, who took first in the pole vault at the Windy City, has a good chance to capture the same honor at Louisville. "Unc" Miller, Captain Dave Nantz and many others are hard at work preparing for the try-outs.

ALUMNI CLUBS WILL HELP ENTERTAIN SR. ENGINEERS

Two very enthusiastic gatherings are scheduled during the annual senior inspection trip. One will be in Pittsburgh on the night of April 4 and the other in Buffalo the night of April 10. These alumni gatherings with the members of the present senior class do much to stimulate and keep alive not only the spirit of the former graduate but to put into the heart of the man about to leave college a real pride in his Alma Mater.

always shows up among the pitchers during the first stages of practice, the entire squad has been called out on the field and real work has started.

Coach Barger is well pleased with the large number that have already shown up for practice and expects a great many new men by the first of the week. At present there are about 30 men out. This includes four catchers, seven pitchers, ten infielders and nine outfielders.

The team loses a number of letter men from last year, but the numeral men of '23 will easily take care of this loss. There will be a vacancy at first, second, third, one outfield position, and one catcher. This shows that there are plenty of openings for good men and any one interested in baseball should report at once and try for some of these positions.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC NEW IN HYGIENE DEPARTMENT

Dr. W. N. Brown Gives Treatment for Bone Disorders

Three weeks ago one solitary patient waited in the office of the hygiene department for the new orthopedic clinic to open. Last Thursday fourteen patients were given diagnosis and treatment for a variety of disorders.

When Mrs. Miner announced this new clinic in the hygiene classes the question arose "What is an orthopedic clinic?" True that "orthopedic" is a term that doesn't convey much to the layman and is perhaps hard to define. Technically it is derived from a Greek root, meaning "crippled children," but in the commonly accepted meaning of the work, it is used to cover treatment of any structural deformity of bones and joints.

The cases treated so far in the Hygiene Department have been flat feet, or a spinal curve developed from too close application to study—have been defects "among those present."

Dr. W. N. Brown, a graduate of the University of Virginia Medical School, is in charge of the clinic.

Dr. Lipscomb states Dr. Brown is doing a fine thing for the students of the University in giving his time every Thursday afternoon, a service that is much appreciated by the Department.

The clinic is held every Thursday at 3 p. m., and students who are interested are cordially invited to report to the Hygiene office at that time.

REHEARSALS FOR SEVENTEEN INDICATE SUCCESS FOR PLAY

Initial Performance to Be in Cynthiana April 21

Work on the Stroller play, "Seventeen" is progressing rapidly. Rehearsals are being held every night and all the members of the cast are coming up to the best expectations of the director. The production bids fair to surpass all past Stroller performances.

A slight change in the cast has been made. The part of Mary Brooks, originally assigned to Lillian Rasch has been given to Jeanette Metraif. Miss Rasch is to play the role of Lola Pratt.

According to the present plans of the Stroller management the first production of the play will be in Cynthiana on April 21, followed by two performances in Lexington the same week.

"A-B-C-stuff"

In college a fellow is handed a mass of facts—some of them simple and fundamental, others complex, intricate and hard to remember. Get your fundamentals fixed and it won't often be serious later if you have to seek a reference book for the complexities.

For instance, it is easy to grasp once and for all time the fundamental of good paving—THE "ABC" PAVEMENT—

Asphalt for Filler
Brick for Surface
Brushed rock, gravel, Crushed slag or concrete for Base

Why the "ABC" pavement is right for city streets, country highways, railroad yards and factory floors and drives is told briefly and pointedly in the side panel.

ASPHALT for Filler because it makes the traffic-bearing surface a water-proof, flexible armor not subject to the cracks which follow rigid slab construction, and because repair costs are insignificant where each brick is an easily removable unit.

BRICK for Surface because it furnishes the best surface for traffic; hard, but not brittle—tough, but not rough—dense, and non-absorbent—smooth, but not "slick;" because its fire-hardened toughness resists wear and tear so sturdily that upkeep expense is squeezed to a minimum and because any margin of higher first-cost is speedily offset by low maintenance, long life and uninterrupted service.

CONCRETE, CRUSHED ROCK, CRUSHED SLAG OR GRAVEL for Base because some one of these bases meets any conceivable sub-soil condition, and with a bedding course of sand or screenings makes the best sub-structure yet developed for modern street or highway traffic.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

SCRAPS

For the fourth time in the six years that a basketball tournament has been held, the Lexington High Blue Devils copped first money.

Local net fives took the first two meets in 1919 and 1920, then Manual High, of Louisville, slipped into first place in 1921. The world's champion Blue Devils, all of whom are now in the University, easily won the 1922 meet and Manual repeated its 1921 victory last year.

The Crimson of Dupont came here this year, big favorites, but went the way of all other favorites in the 1924 tourney and lost to the Blue Devils in the semi-finals Friday night. Paducah, Hazard, who had beaten Frankfort, and Ft. Thomas, runners-up, fell before the Devils' onslaught.

Surprises in both divisions of the tournament predominated and followers of form met a sad fate. In the boy's tourney the first round managed to slip by without any serious upsets. Then in the second round things started going. Hazard lost to the smaller Blue Devils and Owensboro met a tartar in Ashland and terminated its stay in the Blue Grass. Then came the climax. Manual, completely outplayed by the Devils, was eliminated by Coach Hober's crew 21-16, and Ft. Thomas came through on the top end of a 37-11 count with Ashland.

In the girls' section, things started popping early. West Louisville, with practically the same team with which it won the tourney last year, lost to tie only after one of the closest scraps of the tourney. Both tourneys were huge successes. The attendance at all sessions was large and for the first time it looks like the University is not going to lose on the event.

Winchester, and Louisville Girls High, strong favorites, dropped its meet to LaGrange. Shepherdsville took La Grange into camp the next day and went into the semi-finals. In the final game Ashland won a hotly contested scrap from Georgetown 13-11.

Trophies Presented

Immediately after the final games, gold basketballs were given to the winners and silver ones to the runners-up in each tourney. A large silver basketball trophy was presented to the Lexington and Ashland fives by the University and silver trophies donated by the Phoenix Hotel Company, were awarded to the runners-up. A basketball charm, emblematic of the best sportsmanship, was presented to Van Buren Ropke, Manual center, and a silver trophy, also for sportsmanship was given to the Highland team.

SENIORS TO VISIT ART MUSEUM IN PITTSBURGH

Professor Sax to Accompany Engineers on Inspection Trip

An interesting innovation has been introduced into the annual engineering inspection trip this year. Prof. Sax, head of the Art Department of the University, who for some time has been carrying on a course of study with the senior engineers in the subject of art structure, will accompany the class to Pittsburgh and on Saturday afternoon, April 5, will have charge of the senior inspection trip in studying art masterpieces in Carnegie Museum which has one of the finest collections of pictures in America.

Mr. Homer Sain Gaudens, Jr., who is director of the Carnegie Museum, has made arrangements to give Professor Sax every possible opportunity, through proper lighting of pictures and the presentation of history of great art productions on exhibit, to see the Pittsburgh collection at its best.

The purpose of this course in art structure for seniors is to teach them something of those qualities that enter into the makeup of a masterpiece. The engineer who succeeds to the highest degree is the one who has imagination and keen appreciation of the beautiful in art.

Hats off to the Alma Mater. Coach John Heber of the Blue Devils, is a former Wildcat athlete.

A perusal of the individual scores of the tourney finds Miss Sabel, Georgetown forward, leading the feminine basketballers with 34 points. Paul Jenkins, Manual captain, and Alphin, Ft. Thomas flash, put up a hot race for scoring honors in the boys' division and the Crimson leader had but a one point advantage when the tourney closed. Jenkins scored 45 points in four games while Alphin made 44 markers in as many contests. Jimmie Sharpe, Lexington forward, was third with 29.

The Great Engineering Achievement of 1899

What Engineering Owes to Initiative

Daddy of All Large Commercial Turbines Began Operation at Wilmerding

PRIOR to 1899 the works of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company was operated by reciprocating engines distributed in various parts of the plant. While this source of power was inefficient in many respects, it was the best known commercial motive force of the day.

By 1899, however, remarkable developments had been made in the design and construction of steam turbines and electric generating equipment. Called to the attention of the Airbrake officials, it was decided to give the new machines a chance, and three Westinghouse Steam Turbines were installed without delay. This was the first large installation of its kind, anywhere.

It required initiative to take this step—someone had to be first. And, as in all important pioneering achievements, there was much skepticism as to results.

However, the new units quickly proved their practicability. Although of only 400 K. W. capacity they proved much more efficient and economical than the old reciprocating engines. Their economy was particularly conspicuous because by careful test they showed a fuel saving of approximately 36 per cent.

Steam turbine development thus received its first real impetus in 1899, the Wilmerding, Pa., performance definitely establishing this electrical unit as a better method of turning the wheels of industry.

All Alumni Invited
 The banquet will be held on Thursday evening, April 10, and it is the earnest desire of the Buffalo Alumni that any and all Kentucky Alumni and former students, who can possibly arrange it, to come to this banquet. We feel that there are Kentuckians in neighboring cities who could with very little trouble or expense manage to be here for the gathering on Thursday night, and it is to these men that we extend a special invitation to join us.

If the Engineers bring a quartette along it is planned to have them broadcasted, so all the radio bugs might do well to tune in on Station WGR of Hotel Statler, at Buffalo, on the possibility of hearing the Kentucky boys.

GRADUATE JOURNALIST PAYS VISIT TO KERNEL OFFICE

Joe T. Lovett, '21, called at the Kernel office Wednesday. Mr. Lovett is owner and publisher of the Tribune-Democrat, of Benton, Ky. He showed a copy of his publication, which, if indications point rightly, will make a strong bid for first prize of the Kentucky Press Association given each year.

Mr. Lovett graduated in January, 1921, majoring in journalism and economics. He is a member of a county tax commission which went to Frankfort to wait upon the Tax Commission in behalf of tax reduction.

Mr. Lovett is a brilliant young publisher and puts out a progressive, up-to-date weekly newspaper.
