TRAINING AT UK

The winter catalog of training opportunities for UK employees is now available. Courses include time management; setting goals and objectives; interviewing, selecting and hiring new employees; conducting effective meetings; speed reading and comprehension; human relations in the workplace; and decision making and problem solving. Enrollment for each workshop is limited to 25 participants. Approval of, or nomination by the employee's department head is required prior to enrollment. All training programs sponsored by the University of Kentucky Personnel Division/Human Resource Development Department, are offered free of charge to University employees. These programs are designed to provide opportunities for employees to experience on-the-job growth and development, and to increase productivity and job satisfaction. The catalog should be available in each department. If additional copies are needed please call 7-1851.

FROM LSO

Pictures taken at the Christmas luncheon can be viewed at the desk of Barbara Galik, 1981 President of LSO, in the M.I. King Library Reference Department. Reprints may be ordered for 50 cents each. There are nearly fifty pictures of mostly smiling faces, suitable to present to the family. Orders must be submitted by February 5th.

THANK YOU LSO

Thank you for the groceries. The groceries helped through the holidays, I appreciate the food. Your visits are always welcomed.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ritchie

As Betty and Paul are both in wheel chairs and it will be so hard to go to the grocery this time of year, we will put a box in the Staff Lounge. If you would like to bring canned food we will see that it is delivered to them.

Dear Friends:

Again you have shown the real spirit of Christmas by generously contributing to the patients' Christmas with your gift. I find it difficult to put into words the appreciation which is felt by the patients, their families, and the staff.

Your gift was used for special gifts which the Auxiliary had not been able to buy. One of these was warm socks for the men - a simple item which has become so expensive that it is very special. It is also one which gives a great deal of security and satisfaction to the person receiving the gift.

The gifts you made possible were distributed to the floors for the nurses to give to the patients on Christmas morning by the Director of Nursing and one of the chaplains. I wish that each of you could have been there to share the spirit of the day and to experience the pleasure of giving.

Please express our gratitude to each member of your organization. We thank you!

Sincerely,

Mary J. Ireland, Volunteer Coordinator

Condolences to Karen Croneis on the recent death of her mother.
