FAREWELL RECEPTION

All library personnel are invited to a farewell reception for Joyce McKinley, head of the order processing unit, who will be moving to Ashland, Kentucky, at the end of July.

The reception will be held Thursday, July 28, from 2:00 - 3:00 p.m. in the Patterson Room of King Library North.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Special Libraries Association is offering a self-study course in time management in the small library. The course is available in both a manual and a computerized format and costs $100 for SLA members and $125 for non-members.

Both versions of the course cover time management basics, using time effectively, turning goals into reality, and turning theory into practice.

The computerized version of the course is available for either IBM and compatibles or Apple Macintosh.

Participants in the course can earn .3 Continuing Education Units upon completion.

A brochure describing the course further is available in the GB office; additional information is also available from the Professional Development Section, Special Libraries Association, 1700 Eighteenth Street, NW, Washington, DC 20009.

DESKTOP PUBLISHING WORKSHOPS

Beginning and intermediate workshops on desktop publishing will be offered through the Continuing Education Office of Purdue University. The beginning workshop is a one-day course on July 25. The intermediate workshop is scheduled for July 28-29.

Cost of the one-day workshop is $75; the intermediate workshop is $495 per person and includes ten hours of computer time.

STAFF ACTIVITIES

Terry Warth of Special Collections is the author of "Bibliography of Incunabula, Special Collections, Margaret I. King Libraries, University of Kentucky" which appears in Band 21 of Bibliothek und Wissenschaft. The late Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, former director of libraries, is listed as co-author of the article. Jim Birchfield, assistant director for collection development, wrote an introduction to the bibliography.

commended on being an exceptionally impressive and enjoyable group to work with.

Virginia is especially appreciative of the thorough knowledge your staff has of Datalinx and the patience and realistic outlook they have on claims.

I am pleased to have this opportunity to both thank you and congratulate you on such a well organized and efficient staff.

The staff of Central Serials Records received the following letter from Richard K. Rowe, president and CEO of F.W. Faxon Company:

Let me close by simply stating that we at Faxon are committed to continuing to provide you with the best service available, and look forward to our ongoing pleasant relationship.

In today's frantic pace and age of impersonalization I think it is important to take the time to tell a client how much they are appreciated. You Account Executive Virginia Sheehan has brought to my attention the fact that your staff should be

TOP 100 AUTHORS IN OCLC DATABASE

Who's the most published author of all time?

William Shakespeare, with more than 15,000 editions of his works, tops the list in a computer survey of authors in the OCLC database. Charles Dickens is second, with just under 8,000. The list was compiled by Mark Crook, Consulting Systems Analyst, and Nita Dean, Assistant Editor of the OCLC Newsletter.

Of the three living authors on the list, 1,861 editions are listed for George Simenon, Isaac Asimov has 1,470 and Graham Greene has 1,372.

To make the list, an author had to have at least 1,000 editions of his or her oeuvre listed in the OCLC database.

Collectively, the authors' lives span from the 8th century B.C. to the present. They represent a large number of countries, including Belgium, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Greece, India, Ireland, Italy, Norway, Poland, Russia, Samoa, Scotland, Spain and the United States.

Four of the authors -- Anatole France, Rudyard Kipling, George Bernard Shaw and John Steinbeck -- were awarded the Nobel Prize. Robert Frost, William Faulkner and John Steinbeck received the Pulitzer Prize.

Four women are among the top 100: Jane Austen, Agatha Christie, George Sand and Ellen G. White.

Music composers are listed separately, and only 25 are listed. Bach scored highest, with 17,640 published or recorded works. Mozart occupied second chair, with 17,150. Beethoven's third was heroic -- 13,622. Brahms was a distant fourth with 8,133. Sorry, there were no rock composers who even came close. -- Phil Schieber, editor, OCLC Newsletter.
