

Kentucky Kernel

Vol. XCIII, No. 111

Established 1894

University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky

Independent since 1971

Wednesday, February 14, 1990

EB
14
90

Fewer young Americans abuse drugs, survey shows

By DEBORAH MESCE
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Use of illegal drugs by high school seniors, college students and other young adults declined in 1989, continuing a decade-long trend, according to an annual survey released yesterday.

The survey, funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse, said illegal drug use dropped last year among all three categories of young people surveyed, and that casual use among high school seniors and college students is about half what it was a decade ago.

"This reduced demand is attributable largely to the important changes occurring in the attitudes, beliefs and social norms among our young people," said Lloyd Johnston, a University of Michigan social scientist who helped conduct the survey, which was funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

He said the decline has come about because anti-drug messages have made illegal drug use "unfashionable." And he noted that the decline has been occurring despite students' belief that marijuana and cocaine are easy to get.

Survey officials, however, said they continue to be concerned about use of crack, the highly addictive, smokable form of cocaine. Its use among "mainstream" young adults is declining, the survey found, but not as much as use of powdered cocaine.

Among seniors, 1.4 percent said they had used crack within the previous 30 days, down from 1.6 percent in 1988.

The also expressed concern about use of "ice," or crystal methamphetamine, which was included in the survey for the first time last year.

About 1.2 percent of the seniors

See DRUGS, Page 9

LOOK OUT ABOVE: Architecture students Frank Lietz (second from left) and Mike Boyd (right) reach for a frisbee as Tracy Ray Liff watches in front of Pence Hall yesterday afternoon.

Carroll Fisher has returned to UK as a Donovan Scholar after graduating from college 47 years ago.

Donovan Scholar back after a 47-year layoff

By TONJA WILT
Campus Editor

He grew up in another world.

He experienced the Great Depression, watched Adolph Rupp's Fabulous Five win the 1958 NCAA Championship and went to high school on UK's campus.

Carroll Fisher Jr., 76, a Lexington native, first visited the Lexington Campus in search of a high school education in 1929 and has returned 47 years later to continue his education at UK through the Donovan scholars program.

Returning to UK and to the classroom has shown Fisher the differences and similarities between college life in the 1930s and the 1990s.

In 1929 Fisher entered Model High School, which is now Fraze Hall, as a freshman.

Model High School, which charged $35 a semester for tuition, was a small school with less than 15 students in a classroom.

"It was very nice because it was not like other public schools. Kids that went there were a little more studious," Fisher said. "Fraze Hall is pretty much remodeled now. Since there weren't that many students, 10 to 15 students were in a class. I think it gave us an opportunity to learn more."

Fisher said that students have not changed much in the past 60 years. Both periods have some students who truly concentrate on school work and others who don't.

In 1931 the Taylor Educational building was built, and it served as the site of University High School and a teaching laboratory for UK education majors.

See FISHER, Page 2

SGA to vote on ticket amendment

By GREGORY A. HALL
Staff Writer

The Student Government Association Senate will consider an amendment at tonight's meeting that would allow students to vote for the president and vice president as a ticket.

The president and vice president currently are elected in separate races.

The amendment originates from the Operations and Evaluations Committee, which is chaired by College of Law Senator Jim Musser.

Musser said that problems have developed when a president and vice president were elected from two different tickets.

The amendment would eliminate "unnecessary office politics," Musser said.

"If the student government officers are pulling the same line, a lot more gets accomplished," Musser said.

For an amendment to be passed it must be approved twice by two-thirds of the Senate. If passed, the amendment would affect this year's election.

Similar amendments have been proposed, but have never mustered enough votes.

No presidential candidates have officially announced for this spring's race, but SGA President Sean Lohman will announce his reelection bid later this month and former UK cheerleader Dale Baldwin is mulling over a possible campaign.

Lohman, who has favored similar amendments in the past, said that he and Vice President Paige Foster are not actively lobbying for the bill and are "trying to stay out of it."

"Paige and I have been in favor of that idea since we were freshmen," Lohman said.

Musser said his proposed amendment is part of an examination his committee is conducting of SGA's by-laws and constitution.

"The Operations and Evaluations Committee is doing an overview of all the by-laws, and that is the first of several by-law amendments that will be coming out," Musser said.

Musser said that in the past amendments have been made on a "spot-change basis."

"The Senate also will consider two constitutional amendments making freshman senators full members of the Freshman Representative Council.

Currently freshmen must be selected to the council, and then run for Senate.

Bunning is optimistic about the Republican Party's future

Rep. Jim Bunning speaks to the UK College GOP yesterday.

By BRIAN JENT
Managing Editor

Kentucky Congressman Jim Bunning told UK students yesterday that the future is bright for the Republican Party in the 1990s.

Speaking before about 35 students in 206 Student Center, Bunning said that the Republican Party stands to "make major gains nationally and in Kentucky" if younger members come together and show their support.

"It is so important (to get involved)," the GOP Representative from the Fourth Congressional District said. "The momentum is in our favor. We have a popular president, voting trends, youth, restructuring (of the voting districts), the Democrats adversary at a national level are all working in our favor ... we can make this a Republican decade. ... The possibility is there. We just have to get out there and work."

The speech was sponsored by UK's chapter of the College Republicans.

"The purpose of the visit is to speak to the College Republicans," said John Middleton, a political science and history major who is the group's vice chairman.

Although the GOP has lost offices at several levels of government, Bunning said he sees the Republican Party's control of the White House during the 1980s as a big asset.

The Republican Party also has won four out of the last five races for the White House.

Bunning said that Ronald Reagan's 85 months of continuous economic growth, the longest in peace-time history, and current President George Bush's popularity as examples of the GOP's strength.

"We have the on-going legend of Ronald Reagan, and whether you like it or not, there is a very good perception all over this country about Reagan. ... Ronald Reagan proved to the American people that you can handle the office of the presidency with dignity," he said.

Another reason that the Republican's are on the rise is that conflicts are occurring within the National Democratic Party, Bunning said.

"A 165 (officials) switched from Democrat to Republican last year," Bunning said. "They have a terrible time finding what they believe in."

Bunning said that voting redistricting also would benefit the GOP. According to Bunning's research, he said that Kentucky's voting districts will not change after the 1990 census.

"There are 17 or 18 Congressional (districts) that are going to switch primarily from the Northeast, where the Democrats are the strongest, to the South, Southwest and West where the Republicans are making great strides.

"Even those states where you don't lose or gain seats, the lines will have to be redrawn and chances are you are going to have to get a challenger in those new redefined districts."

Despite the factors working for the Republicans, Bunning said the party must act on them to make the '90s successful.

"There are a good many forces working for us, which, if we take advantage of, will open the door to a majority long-lasting voter realignment here in this Commonwealth and the United States," he said.

Viewpoint

Furs OK to wear.
Column, Page 8.

Diversions

Shophar wins 'Exposure' round.
Story, Page 7.

Weather

Today: 40% rain
High 60°

Tomorrow: 70% rain
High 57°

Fisher

Continued from page 1

Fisher transferred to University High, where he spent his junior and senior years, in 1931.

"With this particular school you had access to help from students in the College of Education," he said. "They would help out the home-room or 'critic teacher.' The student-teachers would come before the class and instruct for several weeks."

"I liked it. I thought it was a very good idea. It gave students a chance to get additional help. Of course that was part of the (instructors) education, to get practice."

University High School no longer exists, but students in the College of Education still are required to student teach for one semester.

"All students in the program still student-teach for one semester. We no longer have the University school," said Sharon Brennan, director of field experiences and certification in the College of Education. "Now we use the schools in Fayette County."

Fisher graduated from University High in 1932 and moved with his family to Winchester, Ky., where he attended Kentucky Wesleyan College.

The stock market crashed and the Fisher family, along with other Americans, felt the affects.

"It affected all walks of life. People just didn't have any money. People would work for a dollar a day," he said. "My father left this section for Chicago to try to find a job. My mother and I left Lexington for Winchester because we lost our home."

Because few jobs were available in the 1930s, many high school students could not afford to attend college, Fisher said.

But through a working scholarship, Fisher was able to attend Kentucky Wesleyan College.

"It meant that I painted houses and cut grass (for the college) to pay the tuition and books," he said.

In the 1990s, however, the number of job openings gives students a reason to continue their education.

"Today there is far more job openings. Kids today, well if they can't find (a job) in Lexington, they can go somewhere else," Fisher said. "In my day you just couldn't."

There are just more reasons for more people to go to college today. Things are just so much better today."

After graduating from Kentucky Wesleyan College, Fisher was given a job by his brother, a business and advertising manager for the Winchester Sun.

"My brother was the business manager and advertising manager and gave me my opportunity to help him. When he left, I took his place," Fisher said. "My father, first of all, handled advertising for a bunch of Lexington stores. My brother handled advertising for a bunch of movie places. That kind of made me fall into it."

In 1941 Fisher joined the retail advertising staff of the Lexington Herald-Leader where he worked for 35 years, the last 13 years as manager of the National Advertising Department.

Fisher retired in 1976 from the Herald-Leader, where he first learned about the Donovan Scholars program.

The Donovan Scholars program, which began in the fall 1962, allows students 65 years and older to enroll in regular university classes for free.

When the program started, 26 Donovans were enrolled at UK to take academic courses. This semester 130 students 65 years or older are enrolled in UK courses.

"When it first started it wasn't that much known about it. Today there is a lot done to encourage people to join the Donovans," Fisher said. "In the '30s a lot of people didn't graduate because they couldn't afford to go to college. A lot of people wanted to resume their education. It takes a little while for people to come into the program. It's just natural that there would be more today than then."

The opportunity to take college classes to advance his education at no cost attracted Fisher to the Donovan program.

"When (former UK President) Dr. Donovan got ready to retire he (formed a program) to let people over 65 take those courses," he said. "I just took advantage of the free courses."

"It's a way to improve your mind. At my particular age I have no reason to work for a degree. All said and done, I get as much out of just attending lecture courses," he said. "I have no purpose to ever go back to work, so I have no reason to get a degree. I'm not doing it for that purpose. If I got a degree every year it would not make a bit of difference in my life."

Beginning his education in 1929 and continuing his education in 1990, Fisher considers himself to have completed a circle.

"I look forward to it and enjoy it, so making a full circle is what I did," he said. "I think it's great that the University makes it possible that we can take this program to keep on learning."

We Know What You Like...

130 W. Euclid Ave
(behind Kennedy S)

99¢ Regular Rax

Limit 2 offers per coupon. One coupon per customer per visit. Valid with any other offer or discount. Coupon expires 2/28/90.

FREE

Regular fry with purchase of our new grilled chicken sandwich

Limit 2 offers per coupon. One coupon per customer per visit. Valid with any other offer or discount. Coupon expires 2/28/90.

Green Earth FLORIST

French Quarter Square
Richmond Rd.
266-5555

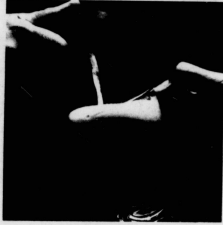

FREE

Latex Balloon with Floral Purchase (by request)

We Wire Flowers

Deliveries Available

MasterCard VISA

90% of campus rapes start here

Sex without the other person's consent is considered rape. A felony, punishable by prison. And drinking is no excuse.

You see, a little sobering thought now can save you from a big problem later.

Sponsored by Dean of Students Office.
Call 257-6600 for more information.

DISTINCT IMPRESSIONS Ltd

"...Distinctly Different..."

- Formal/semi-formal gowns
- Tuxedo Rentals
- Jewelry, shoes and accessories
- Unique bridal gown selection, too!

273-6022

4053 Tates Creek Rd. • Tates Creek Ctr.

You are invited to

ENCOUNTER

every Wednesday evening at 7:00
Student Center Room #309

Encounter is a weekly happening that will provide you the opportunity to interact with folks who possess a living faith in Jesus Christ and who desire to learn more about Him.

Sponsored by the Southside church of Christ
Campus Ministry

Who Else But Zenith Could Fit 386 Desktop PC Performance Into Your PC Budget?

NEW! ZENITH INNOVATES AGAIN!

Z-386 SX

From the world's number one family of PC compatibles comes Zenith's new Z-386 SX - for faster, more affordable 386 power!

If you're ready for 386 desktop performance, but your budget isn't, then Zenith Data Systems has just the answer - the new Z-386SX.

With the number-crunching power of the Intel 386SX™ microprocessor, the Z-386 SX offers special cache memory to give you processing speeds faster than many conventional 386 desktop PCs.

Model 1 - $1750.00
Model 40 - $2396.00
VGA Monochrome Monitor - $155.00
VGA Flat Technology Color monitor - $412.00

Zenith's Z-386 SX also lets you take advantage of thousands of industry standard peripherals... as well as such advanced operating environments as MS OS/2®, it even comes standard with MS-DOS 3.3 Plus® and VGA video card. And all hard drive models include Microsoft Windows/386.

For 386 Desktop Performance On A 286 Desktop Budget, Get Zenith's New Z-386 SX Today At:

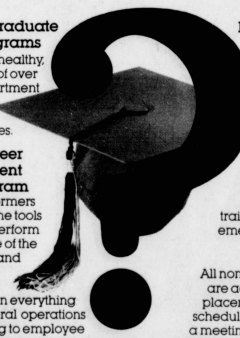

Copy Cat PC Sales

257-6320
107 Old Student Center

ZENITH data systems AUTHORIZED DEALER

Graphics simulate Microsoft® Windows, a product and trademark of Microsoft Corporation. MS-DOS 3.3 Plus and MS OS/2 are registered trademarks of Microsoft Corporation. © 1989 Zenith Data Systems

NOW... What About The Rest Of Your Life?

Enroll in Hills Graduate Training Programs

Come join a healthy, growing chain of over 200 discount department stores spanning 14 central and eastern states.

Career Advancement Program

We look for performers and we give you the tools you'll need to perform well... like one of the most respected and successful training programs in the industry. You'll learn everything from a store's general operations and merchandising to employee relations and management development.

Loss Prevention Management

If you have an interest in law enforcement, consider a career in Loss Prevention. Hills provides thorough shoplifter apprehension, employee training, internal auditing, front line register supervision and training in safety and emergency procedures.

All non-technical degrees are accepted. Contact your placement office for interview scheduling, and we'll arrange a meeting with one of our Personnel Representatives.

We'll be on your campus March 8-9

Or send your resume to:
Executive Recruiting Dept. NP
Hills Department Stores
3010 Green Garden Road
Aliquippa, PA 15001

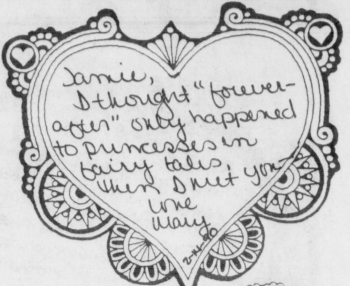

Training • Promoting • Growing
An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

Allen B. and Lori B. - 18 months till 4-ever!
Big NARD and DEANO: the best brothers! Hope we can continue parting together! Little NARD.
C.B.: I adore you. (Not to mention your mom's two-seat sofa). Thanks for coming, Me.
CAROL: - The last six months have been great. Happy Valentine's Day and I love you - Jeff.
Cutie, I love you! Bhorndu.
DAD, Nothing's gonna change my love for you. From, MY.
Dear Bunny Cakes: May I have this dance? Here's to many more! Love you, Boo-boo.
Dear Putty, One crazy engineer loves you very much. Love, Lilly.
Dew! You're the best thing that's ever happened to me! Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Booger.
DZ Lisa W. and Heather K.: Happy Valentine's Day. You're the best! Little NARD, YBS.
EPAR: "Sweet spring is your time is my time is our time for springtime is love time." Always, Red Dress.
Excelsior! Tickets on sale at the Student Center ticket office. Favors too. Tickets going fast!
Excelsior! Treat your sweetie to a night on the town and dance the night away!!
Fiance Dale - Five years! Let's celebrate! I will always love you! Your missionary lover, Kristina Louise.
For Alicia C.: Dreaming of you hoping you'll be my dearest Valentine always! Your secret admirer.
For Grace - without whom nothing I do would be possible! D.J.
FORGIVE ME VICKI!
GG, TR, JC, DW, MD: happy Valentine's Day! You guys are the biggest sweethearts and the greatest roommates! Love, SW.
Happy Valentine's Day David G.: I love and miss you a lot. Heartfully yours, Kory.
Happy Valentine's Day, Marcy - We're thinking of you - Much love, Jack and Francis.
I wish to wish the Valentine of my HEART a Happy Valentine's. I love you! Betty S.
I.S.: 4 years, our love is still new, let's keep it up cause I love you!
Jack M.: Our relationship may not last forever but my love for you will. Happy Valentine's Day! Jill P.

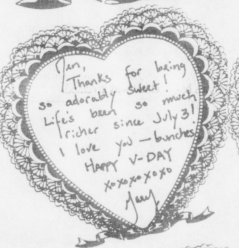

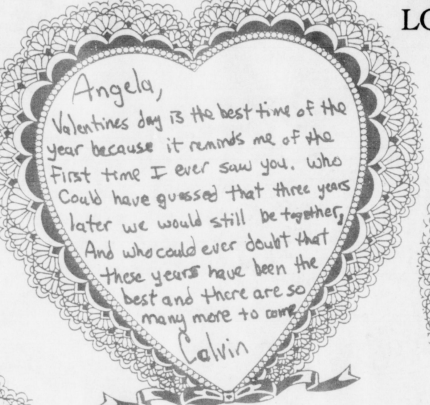

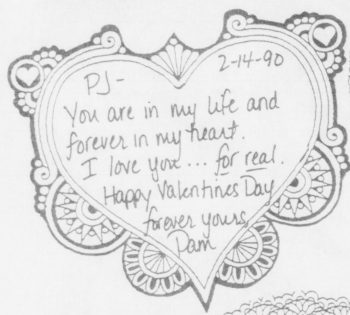

P
E
R
S
O
N
A
L
S

Jennifer Tress - Thinking of you Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Brian.
Jim: HAVE I TOLD YOU LATELY HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU? I ALWAYS WILL. KEL.
Julie: - To the moment of a woman. Gimme Gimme Gimme a hug. Love, Joey C.
Karen Elizabeth - Happy Valentine's Day! Love, P.K.
KAT - Without your love I would ponder in the darkness. Love, JAT.
Kate: You're my bestest friend and roomie; Happy V-Day! Love, Saucy.
Katie: Happy Valentine's Day. All of my love, D.J.
KE Chad - Sorry I haven't seen you since we first met. Hope my luck changes. D.R.
KELLIE - YOU ARE THE BEST WIFE IN THE WORLD! LOVE, DEXTER.
Kenni, you know my thoughts without explanations in fancy terms. I love you. Your fav girlfriend, Amy.
LADEN - Forever isn't long enough to be with you. Happy Valentine's Day! Girly.
Lawschool women: Let's get together and go through my briefs! Love, David K.
Lisa, thanks for what's been. Looking forward to what's coming. Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Bryan.
Lori, everyday I love you more and more. Thanks for all you do. Rick.
MACY - You bring endless happiness to my days, when times are tough you're the one I think of John.
Mark - You and me together will be forever and ever eternally I love you, Rachel.
Mary Betts W.: Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Your architecture student P.B.
Ms. Turin, Ms. Monstar, et al. WE love you all! Mr. Spider and the guys.
My golfer R.D., I'm thinking I like you! Your W.K.U. babe, L.H.
"My heart is like a singing bird, my love is come to me." Belle Bella.
Nancy, will you be my valentine? I love you with all my heart. Richard.
Phil Sig Sweetie - Cherry? Licorice? I'll take you with me! Blink! Blink!
PHIL: HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY AND GOOD LUCK IN OKLAHOMA. MISS YOU. LOVE, EVELYN.
PI Phil Misy: To the worst "Valentines" Day ever! Who could I be? -TAD.
PT - ... might I see you tonight in there? S.
Roni, I love you so much. Will you be my valentine? Love, your sweetestess.
S: Happy Valentine's Day - I love you. A.
SAE David G.: I saw you in class. I'd like to meet you. happy Valentine's.
SCOTTY, Thanks for a great month. Hope there's more to come. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Carol.
Spunky you can wiggle that scruggle bunny nose my way anytime you want. Love, Snuggly TBL: After the rain, small hands hold fast. Hold tight and take good care. D.
Teve - I love you so and I can't wait to be your wife! Fanangek.
Tim P.: Happy Valentine's Day Sweetheart! I love you very very much and always will! XXXXXXMarlene R.
TIM, You're the GREATEST! I love you with all my heart. Your future wife, Tracey.
To J.A.P. From D.S.: Happy Valentine's Day, pretty lady! With love, T.S.T.
To Kelly I love ya babe. Here's to 7 months hopefully many more. Mary mel
TOM: I love you! Happy 14th, 22nd and 23rd!! You're the best! Your baby doll, Kathy.
Torvald: Darling, I'm not a doll, but I'll play house forever. Your twittering lark, Nora.
Wanda G: Happy Valentine's Day! See ya tonight.
Would the LI girl like a very special valentine? I try me! The LI boy!

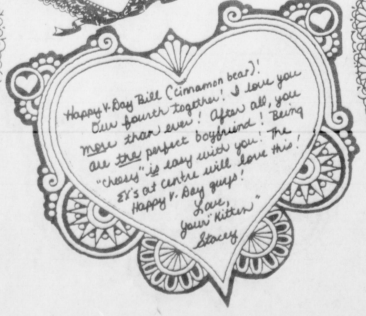

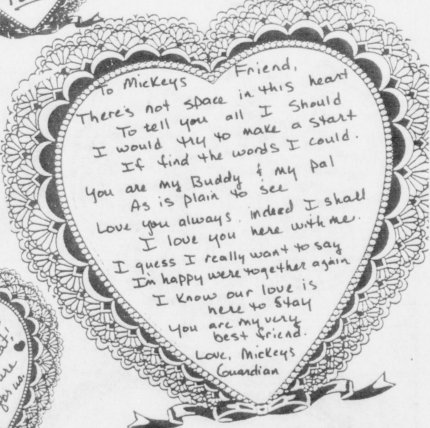

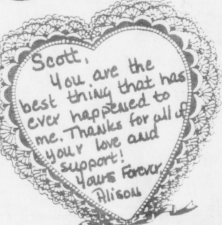

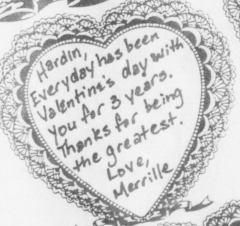

LOVE NOTES Are

LOVE NOTES Are Here

LOVE NOTES

DIVERSIONS

Hunter Hayes
Arts Editor

Round II of 'Decent Exposure' features diverse bands

MICHAEL MUI/Kentel Staff

The 1990 WKQQ "Decent Exposure" contest featured some of its tightest competition Monday night. The third round of the competition will be held at Breeding's on Monday, February 19.

By REBECCA MULLINS
Contributing Writer

Jesus, fiddles and flutes: Those words do not describe the typical Lexington nightclub music.

But the four bands that were chosen to play in the second round of WKQQ-FM's "Decent Exposure 1990" at Breeding's Monday night were far from typical. The heavy turnout increased throughout the night as people entered the Main Street bar to watch local bands Shophar, Baby Blue, Groovy Kool and the Atom's Family perform under blue, violet and yellow lights.

The bands were competing for a contract to play at the annual Red Mile Memorial Stakes' Day. The winner was Shophar, a soul-searching religious band that displayed brotherly camaraderie throughout its set. Before lead vocalist Mike Marcum sang hard-rock influenced "When the Water was

MICHAEL MUI/Kentel Staff

Paul Robertson of Baby Blue (left). The winners of the second round of "Decent Exposure 1990" were the Christian rock band Shophar (above) who will advance to the finals against the winners of rounds 1 and 3.

High," he and guitarist Jeff Calhoun gave a short testimony of religious faith to the crowd. But drummer Tim Higbee also had something to say. "We're not here to win," Higbee said. "It has been a blessing for us just to come to one of the biggest nightclubs in Lexington and play."

Howls echoed from the audience for Shophar's dueling guitar acts and feet stomped to the country-rock sound of rival band Baby Blue. The "Decent Exposure 1990" contest has three rounds. The first round, which was won by Edison's Revenge, was held last week at Breeding's.

Shophar will now compete against Edison's Revenge and next week's winner in the finals at Breeding's on Feb. 26. The winner of the finals will get a show at Capital Plaza EXPO in Frankfort next summer and a contract to play at the Red Mile Memorial Stake's Day.

Kravitz album lets '60s rule

By MICHAEL L. JONES
Editorial Editor

Let Love Rule
Lenny Kravitz
Virgin Records

Fear not those fans of forgotten psychedelica, Lenny Kravitz has arrived. Kravitz' first album, Let Love Rule, sounds Beatlesque with a lot of Jimi Hendrix and a pinch of Sly Stone and Lou Reed thrown in for good measure.

Kravitz produced and played the most of the instruments on his debut. He writes thought-provoking and catchy songs.

The first single is the title track, and it's a flower-power anthem if there ever was one.

"Can't you see this won't go wrong/But we got to be strong/We can't do it alone/We got to let love rule," Kravitz sings.

Love and religion are recurring themes throughout the lyrics. "Empty Hands" is about the second coming of Christ. Only this time Christ is a black man who goes down South and is lynched.

"They said, 'Hey, boy what you looking at/As they eyed his dreaded mane/He said, 'My father has sent me/I've come to reclaim/The children whose hearts were so whole and pure/Now it's you who will die in pain/So they lynched the man/Who fooled the word/And all the children gathered in his empty hands.'"

"Fear" and "Mr. Cab Driver" also deal with racism. "Mr. Cab Driver" is Kravitz' "Funny Vibes," which was Living Colour's protest against stereotypes.

"Mr. Cab driver don't like the way I look/He don't like dreads he thinks we're all crooks/Mr. Cab Driver reads too many story books/Mr. Cab Driver pass me up with eyes of fire ... Mr. Cab Driver fuck you I'm a survivor."

Kravitz is a reminder to everyone that whether it's Bon Jovi or Living Colour, George Michael or Michael Jackson, all rock 'n' roll came from the same place.

He fuses a number of influences and creates something fresh and original that is a welcome addition to any record collection.

Hopper and Sutherland save 'Flash'

By KIP BOWMAR
Senior Staff Critic

Some movies give you a yes-the-commercial-is-going-to-be-funnier-than-this-entire-movie feeling in the beginning but manage to salvage some measure of credibility.

There are few of these movies because when one starts so poorly, it's usually a slow and steady descent into the depths of film hell — a place graced by most Brooke Shields movies.

While Franco Amurri's "Flashback" gives that initial feeling, there is a measure of redemption because of the intriguing performances by Keifer Sutherland, Dennis Hopper and several other characters.

The movie starts with young FBI agent John Buckner (Keifer Sutherland) escorting 1960s radical Huey Walker (Dennis Hopper) to jail for a 20-year-old criminal mischief charge.

In the scene where Buckner and Walker meet, Buckner plays the heavy and sets the rules down. It's a scene that has been done countless times before, and most of the time better. The scene seem to be lifted from the Eddie Murphy-Nick Nolte scene in "48 Hours."

Fog prevents the two from flying from San Francisco to Spokane, Wash., and the they have to take the train — an idea first employed in film when the fog machine was invented.

The movie's characters are original, even if many of its scenes are not. Hopper is convincing in his role as an old radical, harkening back to the type of character he played in "Easy Rider."

Hopper convinces Sutherland that he slipped him some acid and manages to switch places with him. Hopper's walk and gestures are well-suited to the quirky character he portrays.

Hopper then runs into yippied-turned-yuppies (Richard Massur and Tom O'Brien) in a bar. The script pokes fun at yuppies who are a part of the system but still pretend to be rebels. Those characters' pretensions are amusing and add to the movie.

In jail Sutherland runs into a crooked sheriff (Cliff De Young), and through a twist of events Sutherland and Hopper try to escape the murderous sheriff.

The scenes in the woods between Sutherland and Hopper are extremely funny as they take advantage of each other.

Sutherland gets back to his roots, and the audience discovers his background is different from what it appears to be.

Smart people. Intelligent graphics.

INTERGRAPH CORPORATION, a Fortune 500 company, is a leading developer and supplier of CAD/CAM/CAE systems and GIS/Mapping systems to a variety of industrial and governmental users.

We need individuals with new ideas who share our dedication to innovative thinking and motivated action for the following positions. Candidates should be pursuing degrees in Computer Science, Computer Engineering, Electrical Engineering or related fields, and should possess a strong software background.

- SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT
Computer graphics applications in C/UNIX
- SYSTEMS ENGINEERING
Applications platforms, databases, microcode, networks
- APPLICATIONS ENGINEERING
Software support, training and benchmarks

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS
Tuesday, February 20
Career Planning and Placement Center
An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/H/V

INTERGRAPH

These People aren't worrying about that DROPPED COURSE ... Because they know about Independent Study.

You can begin a course now and finish it this semester. Visit the ISP office, Room 1 Frazee Hall, or call 257-3466 today for details.

ISP

FREE PIZZA!

University of Kentucky
276-4437 269-3030
1641 Nicholasville Road 801-805 Euclid Ave.

Buy one 10" original cheese pizza for $4.99, and get another pizza of equal value FREE!

Not valid with any other coupon or offer. Valid at participating locations only. Coupon required. Not valid on Domino's Pan Pizza. Sales tax additional where applicable. Offer expires February 28, 1990.

One large. Small charge!
Buy one large one topping pizza for the price of a small $5.95

Not valid with any other coupon or offer. Valid at participating locations only. Coupon required. Not valid on Domino's Pan Pizza. Sales tax additional where applicable. Offer expires February 28, 1990.

NOW HIRING!

© 1990 Domino's Pizza, Inc. Our drivers carry less than $20.00. Delivery area limited to ensure safe driving. Valid at participating locations only. Sales tax additional where applicable. PART-TIME AND CAREER OPPORTUNITIES NOW AVAILABLE!
Discounts on party orders!

VIEWPOINT

Michael L. Jones
Editorial Editor

C.A. Duane Bonifer
Editor in Chief

Brian Jent
Managing Editor

Jerry Voigt
Editorial Cartoonist

Tom Spalding
Executive Editor

Tonja Wilt
Campus Editor

Julie Esselman
Special Projects Writer

SGA election bill an efficient move for the Senate

Two years ago, the Student Government Association's executive branch was essentially divided. SGA President Cyndi Weaver and Executive Vice President Brad Dixon did not get along, and as a result the executive branch's overall efficiency suffered. Dixon and Weaver were elected from opposing tickets, and did not see eye to eye on many student issues.

Tonight the SGA Senate will consider an amendment to its constitution that calls for the president and vice president to be elected on the same ticket. This page has been a strong proponent of electing SGA's executive branch officials on the same ticket, but the idea has never had the two-thirds vote in the Senate needed to pass.

Electing the president and vice president on the same tickets creates a more efficient government. Under President Sean Lohman and Vice President Paige Foster this year, the executive branch has run rather smoothly. Lohman and Foster ran on the same ticket and shared similar ideas of what SGA's role ought to be, and have worked together quite well.

But if candidates from an opposing ticket had been elected to SGA last spring, student government's effectiveness might have been severely limited.

When the Board of Trustees ignored student needs last semester during the Roselle-Wilkinson-Wethington-Ockerman episode, Lohman was the spokesman for student concerns. Had he been elected to serve with someone who opposed him in the spring election, Lohman could have been undercut by his own executive branch.

Having an SGA president and vice president who get along is most important to ensure that SGA's everyday operations are attended to and students' needs are met.

The president and vice president have a vital role in setting a tone for SGA in which students are encouraged to become active in their student government. It therefore is important for the two officials to have a healthy and professional working relationship.

In defense of electing the president and vice president separately, one could argue that it forces leaders to place student interests above private political concerns. Opposing candidates also produce a sort of check between the two offices.

But the problem with that argument is that it fails to recognize that while two students may have the student body's interest at heart, their visions of serving students may be radically different. And rather than working together, the executive branch officials may wind up working against each other.

Therefore, we encourage the Senate to vote for the amendment allowing students to vote for the ticket of president and vice president.

Fur-haters can't afford to own one

A little over a week ago, a crowd, protesting the "slaughter" of animals for coats, gathered in front of a downtown Lexington fur boutique.

This is but one incident of many that have occurred throughout the Western world that condemn furs.

In Blazer Hall there is a flyer advertising Australian wear, which happens to include kangaroo hide accessories. No protests, to my knowledge.

Further, when was the last time blood or red paint simulating blood was thrown on leather gear, in protest to the slaughter of cattle for such things?

Animals raised for their pelts, in most cases, are raised on ranches. Are not domestic animals, too?

"Wearing fur is a socially irresponsible luxury," some will claim. But, are there not alternatives to leather goods?

Catherine
MONZINGO

Some argue that cattle have many purposes, such as food, to name the obvious, and therefore using the hides is economical. But does that justify the slaughter of the creatures?

There are meat substitutes, so the entire issue falls to another level — that of preference.

Substitutes do not have the same flavor as meat, do they?

The alternatives to leather are not as durable, as comfortable, or as attractive, right? That is a question of taste, yes?

I use the same argument: Are the qualities of fake fur on as high a level as real fur?

Yes, that is selfishness at its height. But, I ask, are you willing to forgo beef and leather shoes? It is easy "to give up" a thing that one does not have already. In this case, for most people, it is fur.

Not everyone can spend a few thousand dollars on a coat; if most people could afford them, furs, I believe, would be accepted without question.

Animals were created for the pleasure of people. The Christian religion which dominates our culture acknowledges that.

Who denies this role of animals who we own as pet?

Viewing animals as creatures with qualities similar to humans, owning a pet would be slavery. We do not say that is, though. We do not acknowledge the self-indulgence in possessing an animal. Is that far removed from the selfishness of owning a fur?

Who condemns the fur industry and believes that pet stores are proper businesses?

Are ranches on which animals are raised for pelts really worse than the stores that sell animals for companions? Who protests against them?

Briefly, on a more practical level, should animal research, which has led to discoveries in medicine and protects the human consumer, be discontinued because of the types of experiments involved?

No reasonable person wants to cause pain for others or even for animals. However, in the latter instance, that is the price of this culture — its pleasure and its welfare.

Catherine Monzingo is a history sophomore and a Kernel columnist.

Smart dating means protecting yourself from possible rape

Mary really liked Jim and wanted him to know it. She was hoping he would want to kiss her and at the same time was a little nervous about how she would handle it if he wanted to go too far.

Jim really liked Mary and wanted her to know it. He hoped they would have time to spend alone together so they could get to know each other better. Jim was feeling a little nervous about where they would go from here.

Did Mary expect him to put the moves on her? Will she think there's something wrong with him if he doesn't, will she get angry if he does?

If Jim and Mary decide to take the risk and talk about their feelings, their expectations and their fears, the scenario could have a happy ending.

If Jim, instead, assumes Mary "wants it," does not take her protests seriously and chooses to take what he wants instead of respecting Mary's feelings, the possible happy ending may instead turn into an acquaintance rape situation.

According to Medea and Thompson, rape is any sexual intimacy forced on one person by another.

Some of the myths surrounding rape are indicative of the misconceptions that can lead to the belief that there is nothing wrong with it, when in fact it is coercive and/or forceful.

Here are some examples:

For the HEALTH OF IT

Myth: Rapists only go after women they don't know.

Truth: According to the most recent statistic available from the rape crisis center, 80 percent of women who are raped know the assailant.

Myth: Rape is an aggressive form of sex.

Truth: Rape is a sexual form of aggression. In the case of date rape, the rapist seeks to dominate and control the woman.

Myth: Rape only happens to women who ask for it.

Truth: No one asks for or deserves to be raped.

Steps can be taken by men and women to prevent a rape. The most important are self-education and communication.

Many studies show that one in six college women will be raped this year. Most of them will be date rapes, which are particularly common in a campus setting. The same studies show that alcohol is a factor in about 90 percent of date rapes.

Communication can be an extremely important preventive measure. Do not assume that you and your date have the same sexual expectations.

Here are some of the things people can do to build a healthy atmosphere.

Men:

• Understand that it is okay NOT to have sex. If a woman turns you down when you want to have sex, don't take it personally, respect her feelings.

• Believe it: No means no. A woman who dresses in a "sexy" way is not "asking for it." Spending a lot of time and money on a date is your choice — doesn't mean she "owes" you anything.

• Even if you have had sex with the person before, it doesn't mean you have the right to have sex with her when you feel like it. A woman has a right to say no at any time, for any reason. Under Kentucky's "shield law," the defense attorney for an accused rapist is not permitted to introduce the woman's sexual history as part of the case.

• If you've been drinking, you're not in a position to make judgment calls. Being drunk is no excuse for aggressive behavior.

Women:

• Plan ahead. Provide your own transportation when you go out with someone new. If that's not possible, take money and the number of a local cab company. Consider paying your own way — that may give you more power in the decisions that are made.

• Continue to pay attention to your feelings about what's going on — date rapes often happen on the second or third date, when tensions are lower.

• Let a friend know where you're going, who you're going with and about what time you plan to be back. Operate on a buddy system.

Both:

• Decide ahead of time what you are and are not comfortable with.

• Express in a clear and direct manner what your expectations and wants are.

• Give the other person room to remove him/herself from the situation if it becomes uncomfortable or unsatisfying.

• When an acquaintance rape happens be aware of one final myth: The women could have done something to prevent it. That is potentially the most dangerous myth.

That myth is especially destructive because it is part of a tendency people have to blame the victim, according to Officer Mitchell Smith of the Community Service Department of the Lexington Division of Police.

"Women react to rapists in ways that are consistent with their capabilities and beliefs. No woman should be criticized for defending herself the only way she knows how," Smith said. "For example, a petite woman may be at considerable risk if she resists. And asking a woman with a firm conviction to towards nonviolent behavior to fight is tantamount to asking a small woman to grow."

That is why the term "rape survivor" may be preferable to "rape victim." It is a more accurate reflection of the fact that women react to attacks in ways that they believe will enable them to survive, and they are not simply passive victims.

How well is UK dealing with rape?

Smith praised the efforts by UK Police to address rape on campus. He cautions, however, that "the application of the law is attuned to social acceptance. It is the responsibility of the student to insist that law enforcement agencies provide services and protection."

When an acquaintance rape happens be aware of one final myth: The women could have done something to prevent it.

In addition, a Sexual Assault Task Force — consisting of UK faculty, students and staff — is addressing the relevant issues and preparing recommendations for campus response, prevention and education efforts.

This semester a group of specially trained students out of the Health Education Office is presenting prevention and awareness programs. (Call 257-6600 to request a program.)

When prevention fails, the trauma facing the survivor can be overwhelming.

The Rape Crisis Center offers the most comprehensive support system in Lexington. It offers a 24-hour crisis line, counseling for the survivor, her family and friends, and advocates who will accompany the survivor to the hospital, the police station and to court if prosecution is pursued.

The center also has support groups for survivors of rape and sexual abuse.

Individual counseling may serve as a complement or as an alternative to a support group.

Check your insurance. Some major medical insurance policies provide at least partial coverage for psychological counseling.

Pastoral counseling also may be a valuable resource — regaining trust and peace of body and mind are important issues in recovery.

Here is a list of agencies and programs that address rape:

• Rape Crisis Center, comprehensive survivor support services. Crisis line: 253-2511.

• UK's Counseling and Testing Center, free individual counseling to UK students, 301 Frazier Hall, 257-8701.

• UK's Health Education Office, rape prevention programs for campus groups, 516 Patterson Office Tower, 257-6600.

• The CRASH Council, a student organization aimed at rape awareness and student involvement. 106 Student Center, No. 30. Kathleen Willis, president.

• Community Services and Development Office, Lexington Division of Police, self-protection presentation, 134 East Main St., 258-3600.

• Commonwealth Attorney's Victims' Advocacy Program, support for survivors going through the legal system, 257 West Main St., suite 300, 252-3571.

Vish Bhatt, Amy Hirshoren and Karen Franzese are student interns in UK's Health Education Office.

Letters Policy

Writers should address their comments to: Editorial Editor, Kentucky Kernel, 035 Journalism Building, Lexington, Ky. 40506-0042.

Letters should be 350 words or less, while guest opinions should be 850 words or less.

Writers must include their name, address, telephone number and major classification or connection with UK on all submitted material.

We reserve the right to edit all material.

AC
1
6
10
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
22
24
26
27
31
32
33
35
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
46
47
51
52
54
56
58
61
62
63
64
65
2-14-90

Drugs

Continued from page 1

surveyed they had used it at least once in the past year. Usage was highest in the West, where 3 percent of the seniors had used it.

stays," also was included for the first time, and was shown to have been tried by 3.8 percent of the college students and 3.3 percent of the high school graduates not in college.

The survey also asked high school seniors about anabolic steroids, which are a controlled substance used to build muscles. About 3 percent said they have used these Drugs. Illegal drug use among high school seniors peaked in 1981, when the survey found that 65.6 percent said they used marijuana, cocaine, or some other illicit drug at least once during their lives. That figure dropped during the decade to 50.9 percent in 1989.

The survey of college students showed 36.7 percent using an illicit drug at least once during the previous year, compared with 56.2 percent in 1980, when the survey began.

Among young adults ages 18-28, use of an illegal drug within the previous year has dropped to 32.8 percent, from 41.9 percent in 1986.

In 1979, almost 39 percent of high school seniors said they had used an illegal drug during the previous 30 days. By 1989 that figure had dropped by nearly half to 19.7 percent, according to the survey.

College students saw a similar decline — from 38.4 percent in 1979 down to 28.1 percent last year.

Johnston said that although the survey misses high school dropouts, the data suggest the decline in drug use may also extend to this group as well.

He said the survey shows that the decline in use is at least as great among high school seniors who were frequently absent from school and who had poor grades as among those who are seldom truant and who have good grades.

The survey of high school seniors, which began in 1975, polled about 17,000 students.

KERNEL CLASSIFIEDS

Call 257-2871 Deadline: 3 p.m. the day before publication

for sale

WILLIAMS' FACE VALUE $25-241. Computer with built-in monitor, 2 1/4 disk drives, 300K memory, word processor. Original box with manuals. Original cost $4000. Will take $2500. 252-5221 (M).

for rent

2 BR. INDEPENDENT 4 BR. brick. Kitchen completely furnished. Private patio. Convenient to UK downtown. Quiet professional tenants. No pets. $410/mo. Heat & water included. 254-2653 or 258-2813.

WOODLAWN STUDIO APARTMENTS

Walk to UK. Excellent in one apartment. Equipped kitchen, min. kitchen, central air. 279-2304, or 223-9537.

ATTENTION - HIRING! GOVERNMENT JOBS

3 BR. house in all conditions. Fully carpeted. Kitchen, living room, dining room, 2 1/2 baths. $1400 cash. 258-1908.

ATTENTION: BLOOD DONORS

The parking and transportation department will waive the fine for one parking ticket issued prior to Feb. 7 for anyone donating blood at Bank Blood Drive. Donors should provide proof of donation to the Dept. by Feb. 12.

HELP WANTED

ATTENTION: EARN MONEY READING BOOKS! $25,000/year potential. Demand. (602) 838-8888 Ext. 89-698.

WANTED

ZETA TAU ALPHA COMEDY NIGHT PARTICIPANTS: The letters of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to see you participating in Comedy Night. We hope to see you in person. For more information, contact the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha.

DO NOT READ THIS

(Unless you're interested in a job that boosts your resume, this is not for you.) You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman. You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Editor in Chief: C.A. Duane Bonifer. Executive Editor: Tom Spalding. Managing Editor: Brian Jenet. Campus Editor: Tonia Wit. Editorial Director: Michael L. Jones. Sports Editor: Barry Reeves. Arts Editor: Hunter Hayes. Photography Editor: Steve Sanders. Special Projects Writer: Julie Esselman. Adviser: Mike Agin. Advertising Director: Jeff Kuerzi. Assistant Advertising Director: Judy Furst. Production Manager: Evelyn Quillian.

The Kentucky Kernel is published on class days during the academic year and weekly during the eight-week summer session. Third-class postage paid at Lexington, KY 40511. Mailed subscription rates are $30 per year.

TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS: 1 Jack... 6 Armadillo... 10 Strokes... 14 Unwetting... 15 Fixed route... 16 To --- right... 17 Furry animal... 18 Covers... 19 Ashy... 20 Puffed... 22 Spilled out... 24 Stated... 26 Jockeys' gear... 27 Fixed (a law)... 31 Thing; law... 32 Range parts... 33 Jib supports... 35 Defraud... 38 Disappears... 39 Archrivals... 40 Grid great... 41 Moose's kin... 42 Carpenter... 43 Joints... 44 Vesel... 45 -- Abner... 46 Canada, once... 47 Herculean... 51 Drunkard... 52 Attitude... 53 Attitude... 54 Intense... 56 Gentle.

PREVIOUS PUZZLE SOLVED: 59 Edinthe... 61 Made muddy... 62 Sweetpot... 63 Designate... 64 Hindu soul... 65 In case that... 66 Math subj... 67 Antelope... DOWN: 1 Crabnut... 2 Vatican... 3 Soft drink... 4 Thesaur... 5 Make's kids... 6 Fine cords... 7 -- for... 8 Change... 9 Ruler... 10 Sole... 11 Housemother... 12 Foil... 13 Tens... 14 Erogen... 37 Storehouse... 39 Aggressive... 40 Less than... 41 Wood... 42 Ore yelder... 43 Footballer... 44 Weakest... 45 Halfway... 46 Thoroughgoing... 48 Furious... 49 Thick books... 50 Branches... 51 -- La Douce... 52 Meal... 53 Author... 54 Great: prof.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

WOODLAWN STUDIO APARTMENTS

Walk to UK. Excellent in one apartment. Equipped kitchen, min. kitchen, central air. 279-2304, or 223-9537.

ATTENTION: BLOOD DONORS

The parking and transportation department will waive the fine for one parking ticket issued prior to Feb. 7 for anyone donating blood at Bank Blood Drive. Donors should provide proof of donation to the Dept. by Feb. 12.

HELP WANTED

ATTENTION: EARN MONEY READING BOOKS! $25,000/year potential. Demand. (602) 838-8888 Ext. 89-698.

WANTED

ZETA TAU ALPHA COMEDY NIGHT PARTICIPANTS: The letters of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to see you participating in Comedy Night. We hope to see you in person. For more information, contact the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha.

DO NOT READ THIS

(Unless you're interested in a job that boosts your resume, this is not for you.) You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman. You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Editor in Chief: C.A. Duane Bonifer. Executive Editor: Tom Spalding. Managing Editor: Brian Jenet. Campus Editor: Tonia Wit. Editorial Director: Michael L. Jones. Sports Editor: Barry Reeves. Arts Editor: Hunter Hayes. Photography Editor: Steve Sanders. Special Projects Writer: Julie Esselman. Adviser: Mike Agin. Advertising Director: Jeff Kuerzi. Assistant Advertising Director: Judy Furst. Production Manager: Evelyn Quillian.

DO NOT READ THIS

(Unless you're interested in a job that boosts your resume, this is not for you.) You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman. You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Editor in Chief: C.A. Duane Bonifer. Executive Editor: Tom Spalding. Managing Editor: Brian Jenet. Campus Editor: Tonia Wit. Editorial Director: Michael L. Jones. Sports Editor: Barry Reeves. Arts Editor: Hunter Hayes. Photography Editor: Steve Sanders. Special Projects Writer: Julie Esselman. Adviser: Mike Agin. Advertising Director: Jeff Kuerzi. Assistant Advertising Director: Judy Furst. Production Manager: Evelyn Quillian.

DO NOT READ THIS

(Unless you're interested in a job that boosts your resume, this is not for you.) You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman. You are a professional. You are a graduate. You are a student. You are a young man. You are a young woman.

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

PERSONALS

AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT DART TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. AAAA UNIVERSITY CLUB TUESDAY NIGHT POOL TOURNAMENT WINNER TAKES ALL. VALENTINE SPECIAL! Get it while it's hot. LOU'S ANTIQUE & JEWELRY CHEVY CHASE PLAZA 269-6823.

ENTREPRENEURIAL MAIN STREET PROJECT MANAGER

Revitalization Committee, Paris, KY (population 7,900) is accepting applications for a main Street Project Manager. The Manager will be responsible for coordinating downtown revitalization activities through the Main Street program. Applicants should have education and/or professional experience in one or more of the following areas: planning, economic development, retailing, marketing, design, and small business development.

ENTREPRENEURIAL MAIN STREET PROJECT MANAGER

Revitalization Committee, Paris, KY (population 7,900) is accepting applications for a main Street Project Manager. The Manager will be responsible for coordinating downtown revitalization activities through the Main Street program. Applicants should have education and/or professional experience in one or more of the following areas: planning, economic development, retailing, marketing, design, and small business development.

ENTREPRENEURIAL MAIN STREET PROJECT MANAGER

Revitalization Committee, Paris, KY (population 7,900) is accepting applications for a main Street Project Manager. The Manager will be responsible for coordinating downtown revitalization activities through the Main Street program. Applicants should have education and/or professional experience in one or more of the following areas: planning, economic development, retailing, marketing, design, and small business development.

SPORTS

Holyfield will step aside in favor of Tyson-Douglas II

By JOHN NELSON
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Now, the boxing world agrees: Buster Douglas is heavyweight champion.

And there apparently is agreement on another front: His first challenger will be Mike Tyson.

Douglas-Tyson II came close to clearing the final hurdle yesterday when Evander Holyfield's manager, Ken Sanders, said in Atlanta that his boxer probably would step aside to allow the rematch.

Billionaire developer Donald

Trump says Douglas-Tyson II will be June 18 in Atlantic City, although Douglas has not signed a contract.

In fact, Douglas only learned hours earlier that he was undisputed champion when the World Boxing Association became the last of the sport's three major governing bodies to recognize his 10th-round knockout of Tyson on Sunday in Tokyo.

"We don't have a rematch now," Don King, Tyson's promoter and adviser, said yesterday at a news conference. "We're trying to get one. The first thing we have to do is get a rematch. As you know, the catching comes before the hanging."

King said he was negotiating with representatives of Douglas and Holyfield to work out an agreement.

Tyson, who appeared with King at the news conference, said his loss was "a temporary, minor setback. I don't take it to heart. I'll be the champion again. I'm still one of the best fighters in the world and when the rematch comes, I'll prove it."

Holyfield, as the No. 1-ranked contender, was the mandatory challenger to Douglas' first defense. But he has decided to wait for Tyson-Douglas II.

"We've been approached to make a deal, by Don King, to step aside and make way for the rematch," Sanders said. "We're waiting for the contract from him. If it's what they said it would be, we probably would do it."

Sanders said Holyfield would fight a tune-up on the undercard, then fight the Tyson-Douglas winner in September or October.

"They're just asking us to move it three or four months," Sanders said. "It's a very good deal for us."

In his hometown of Columbus, Ohio, Douglas said the main thing for him "is that I am now looked upon as the heavyweight champion of the world. It was a lifelong dream come true, and I thank God for that."

The International Boxing Federation recognized Douglas as champion immediately, and the World Boxing Council extended recognition Monday night after King, who promotes Tyson, dropped a protest of the result.

"I never asked anybody to change the decision," King said. "We just want a first shot at a rematch."

Tuesday's editions of the New York Times quoted Trump as saying: "We made a deal a little while ago" to host the Tyson-Douglas rematch. The fight could be held at Trump's Taj Mahal, scheduled for completion this spring.

Holyfield had a contract with Trump, Dan Duva and King to fight Tyson for the heavyweight championship in Atlantic City on the same date, but Tyson no longer has the belts. So, Holyfield no longer has a contract. He does, however, have the right as the No. 1 contender to the next title shot, which he apparently will waive.

Trump vice president Gary Selesner said Holyfield would fight for $3 million. He would have gotten $12 million for a Tyson fight.

The Tyson-Douglas fight will be rerun Friday night at 9:30, HBO executives said yesterday.

Future Cat, Jones, named Mr. Football

Associated Press

UK recruit Robert "Pookie" Jones, Calloway County High School's multi-talented quarterback, was named the fourth recipient of Kentucky's "Mr. Football" award yesterday.

Jones was selected in balloting of the state's sports writers and sportscasters. He will wear No. 1 on his uniform in the annual game between the Kentucky All-Stars and Tennessee All-Stars this summer. "I feel real good about it," Jones said in a telephone interview from his high school in Murray. "I didn't know for sure if I would win. I knew it would be real close."

Other finalists chosen by the Kentucky Associated Press Sports Editors organization were quarterback Donnie Redd of Danville, lineman Mark Askin of Louisville St. Xavier, running back Zane Bechin of Owensboro Apollo and Tony Edelen of Louisville Fairdale. "His performance this year spoke for itself," Calloway County coach Tony Franklin said of Jones.

Jones, 6-2 and 190 pounds, passed for 1,898 yards and 12 touchdowns and completed 150 of 258 attempts for 58 percent. He rushed for 1,005 yards, averaging 7.2 yards a carry, and 11 touchdowns. His team had a 4-6 overall record.

As a place-kicker, he made 19 of 21 extra-point tries, three-of-three field goal attempts and sent 60 percent of his kickoffs into the end zone.

Jones, who has verbally committed to UK, tallied more than 6,000 total yards in three years as a starter.

"He's the type of kid you dream about having," Franklin said. "He doesn't have an ego. He's team-oriented. And he's one of the nicest and most impressionable young men you'll meet. He's a better kid than football player, and he's an awfully good player."

Jones also plays center field for Calloway County's baseball team and has drawn the attention of major-league scouts.

One reason he said he picked UK was the chance to play football and baseball.

He started playing football in the Murray youth league, but he wasn't a quarterback until his junior season in high school.

"I always wanted to play quarterback," Jones said. "It was hard that first year because we had a quarterback in front of me and I had to beat him out for the position."

There will be a video about the BAHAT FAITH in Rm. 119 of the Old Student Center on Thursday, Feb. 15 at 7:30.

ALL ARE WELCOME!

Faculty, Staff, & Students are invited to attend the Miss Kentucky Valentine Reception on Wednesday, Feb. 14th @ 6 p.m. in the small Ballroom of the Student Center. The 10 semifinalist will be announced.

Introducing Lexington's Newest Hair Care Professionals

Picture Perfect

1410 Village Drive
$5.00 off any service every Monday!
Open MWF 9-9, Sat 8:30-4:30

You'll fall in Love with our Valentine Gifts And Cards!!

the FRONT PORCH

CHEVY CHASE 266-6212 TATES CR CENTRE 271-9326 FESTIVAL MKT 259-3253

Flamingo Bay Tanning and Toning

Wolff Tanning System

1 Visit $3.00
3 Visits $8.00
5 Visits $10.00
10 Visits $17.95 with coupon

269-9377
French Quarter Square (Richmond Rd.)

WORSHAM THEATRE

When Harry Met Sally

Tonight-Sunday 7:30 & 10 p.m.

Admission $1.95 for more info call 257-1287

FELLOWSHIPS

Otis A. Singletary and W.L. Mathews, Jr.

UK Seniors who expect to enroll in one of the University of Kentucky's graduate or professional programs for 1990-91 are eligible to apply for the Otis A. Singletary and W.L. Mathews, Jr. Fellowships.

Application forms and a statement of criteria for eligibility are available in the Graduate School, 305 Patterson Office Tower.

Stipend: $10,000
Application Deadline: March 9, 1990

Spring Break

Earn money for your Spring Break by donating plasma. Earn $15.00 for 1st donation.

plasma alliance
2043 Oxford Circle
254-8047

Mon-Thu 7am-8pm • Fri 7am-8pm • Sat & Sun 8:30am-2pm

Valentine Sale

Aim Toward Great Savings with

THE LOCKER ROOM sporting goods

Buy that special someone a sorority or fraternity sweatshirt. Available in all sizes and colors so stop in today and take advantage of our savings.

TWO LOCATIONS
Campus Store 304 S. Lime 252-8312
Main Store 739 Lane Allen 276-1101

Give from the HEART

GIVE BLOOD

HOLMES HALL REC. RM. WEDNESDAY-FEB 14 2:30 ~ 9:30 pm.

Sponsor: Residence Hall Assoc.

Free t-shirt & cholesterol test!

CENTRAL KENTUCKY BLOOD CENTER

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT SCUBA DIVING THIS SPRING BREAK BUT DON'T KNOW HOW?

New Horizons DIVING CENTER CAN HELP

CLASSES ARE NOW OPEN
REG $135 NOW $95

For further information call 277-1234
NEW HORIZONS • 2573 REGENCY RD. DIVING CENTER 277-1234

•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•

MCAT WORKSHOP

Saturday, March 3, 8:00 to 12:30
College of Nursing
HSLC Rm. 201

$5 registration fee-deadline Feb. 28

Name _____
Permanent Address _____
Phone _____

Enclose this with $5 registration fee. Checks payable to UK Health Career Office.

Mail to:
Office of Health Careers Programs
909 Rose St.
University of Kentucky
Lexington, KY 40536-0081

•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•MCAT•

JOE BOLOGNA'S RESTAURANT

ITALIAN FOOD & PIZZA • EAT IN OR CARRY OUT

New Location
120 W. Maxwell St.
252-4933

1/2 Price
On Any Pizza

Wednesday Only

Please Present Ad • Offer Expires 2/14/90

Thank You Students!

20% Off School Supplies

Bring this coupon into a participating Kinko's Copy Center and receive 20% off our regularly priced school supplies. $5.00 minimum purchase required. Not valid with any other offer. One coupon per customer. Offer good through 2-28-90.

Open 24 Hours 253-1360
401 S. Limestone

Open 7 Days 276-4673
2524 Nicholasville Rd.

kinko's
the copy center