Art 116b, Print-Making (4 cr.) Continuation of 116a. Eight studio hours and weekly problems. Open only to advanced students upon approval of instructor.

The Curriculum Committee recommends the approval of these changes in Art courses.

The College of Arts and Sciences also recommends the approval of:

1. Social Work 218, Treatment of the Individual Offender (3 cr.) Summer Session only. The application of case work principles in the treatment of the offender under the various settings of the correctional system.

The Committee finds no significant duplication and recommends the approval of Social Work 218 for as long as outside funds are available to pay the cost of teaching the course.

2. Social Work 240, Principles of Social Group Work (3 cr.) Summer Session only. A critical study of the theories and practices of social group work. Program building applications will be taken from the field of Kentucky folk music, games and dances.

The Committee finds no significant duplication and recommends the approval of the course with the following changes from the Arts and Sciences recommendation: (1) The number shall be 140 instead of 240. (2) The statement "open to graduate students or to persons with experience in that field, with consent of the instructor shall be added to the description." These changes are made with the consent of Dr. Palmer.

The College of Arts and Sciences recommends the approval of Social Work 130 An Introduction to the Principles of Social Case Work (3 cr.) An elementary course designed for persons in professions other than social work. Admission restricted to graduate students or experienced persons from allied professions.

The Committee finds no adequate demand for this course and therefore recommends that it be disapproved.

The College of Arts and Sciences recommends the approval of Music 51, Music in Community Living (2 cr.) This course is to deal primarily with an interpretation of the pursuit of music and of musical techniques and materials in the light of rural cultural and community organization and as a part of the characteristic attitude of rural people toward life in general and the arts in particular. The practical goal, as far as musical subject matter is concerned, includes the development of conceptions which will enable the student to have a better understanding of how to foster enjoyment of the musical arts in a rural community, and a study of the techniques of the setting up and teaching of musical activities which people will enjoy either as performers or listeners.

In so far as the Committee has been able to determine from the College of Agriculture, no adequate demand for this course for College of Agriculture students exists and the Committee therefore recommends that it be disapproved.

The College of Agriculture recommends the approval of Agronomy 121, Weeds (3 cr.) The importance, characteristics, identification, and control of weeds, with emphasis on identification and control of Kentucky weeds. Lectures and discussions, 3 hours. Prerequisites: Botany 1b, or equivalent and permission of instructor.

The Committee recommends the approval of this course."

Each recommendation of the Committee was approved as it appears in the above report.

The following recommendation from a special committee of the Student Legislature was read to the Senate:

"The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Student Legislature on February 8, 1940:

Whereas the Student Legislature is the duly-elected representative organization of the entire student body, therefore:

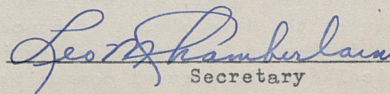

'Be it resolved that, any junior, senior, or graduate student who has made a standing of 2.2 or higher for a semester may be given the privilege of optional class attendance without penalty of any kind for the succeeding semester. A student desiring such privilege shall apply to the Registrar's Office and obtain from that office a certificate of eligibility for this privilege.'

In the light of overwhelming student sentiment in favor of this proposal, the Student Legislature humbly requests that the University Senate render this matter just consideration.

Signed - STUDENT LEGISLATURE
Mark Harris, Chairman of Committee"

The Senate voted to refer this petition to the Rules Committee for a future recommendation to the Senate.

On motion by Professor Morris Scherago, duly seconded, the Senate voted that its Chairman appoint a committee to study the schedule of classes, with a view to providing the fewest conflicts and the greatest amount of flexibility.
