The Patterson Literary Society held its opening meeting of the year in room 204 of the Student Union Building at 7:00 p.m. on Oct. 16 1951.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Bos Todd in the absence of President Stanly Portmann. The first order of business was the election of officers for the year. The results were as follows: Mr. Bos Todd and Mr. Paul Holleman nominated for President, Mr. Holleman was elected. Vice-President - Mr. Bill Douglass and Mr. Ed Rue nominated, Mr. Douglass elected. Secretary - Mr. Ed Rue and Mr. Paul Knapp nominated, Mr. Rue elected. Treasurer - Mr. Paul Knapp elected by acclamation.

At this point, discussion of the possibility of another officer to handle public relations was conducted. It was decided by the Society that the Secretary could handle these duties without the necessity of another officer.

Two candidates for membership were next on the program, Mr. ~~John~~ McGeehan and Mr. James Harris. Mr. McGeehan spoke on "Radio and the World Today" and Mr. Harris' talk was on "Speech Defectives". Both men gave excellent talks and were accepted into the Society.

There was no old business, so Dr. Sterrett opened the new business by suggesting possible meeting dates for the next few months. These dates were decided upon by the Society for the next three months: Nov. 13, Dec. 11, and Jan. 8.

Dr. Sterrett suggested the postponement of committee selections until next meeting. However, the Program Committee was appointed by Dr. Sterrett in accordance with the constitution and consists of Mr. Todd, Mr. Knapp, and Mr. Redman.

✓ A discussion was then held on the possibilities of using the Crump estate as cash awards for an oratorical contest to be held within the Society, making $40 available in a series of three prizes annually. Dr. Sterrett remarked that this would only be feasible if as many as three men were interested in preparing a speech. Enough interest was evidenced by the members to schedule the contest. Mr. Holleman suggested appointing a person to confer with Dr. Sterrett on a possible date for the contest. However, the Society, after discussing several dates, agreed to adopt Jan. 15 as the date for the contest on a motion by Mr. Douglass.

The meetin was ajourned at this point by mutual consent of all members.

The first part of the meeting consisted of the program which was divided into two parts. First, four candidates for admission presented their talks. These candidates were: George Schraeder who spoke of "Irian Oil Disputes", John Bullock, whose topic was "High Pressure Lobbying", Dick Allen, who called his talk "Our Hands Aren't So White", and Jack McGee, who spoke on "Our College Pastime". All four men were voted into the Society. The second part of the program was the reading of the three top orations of last year's Inter-State Oratorical Contest. These orations were read out of their winning order by Redden, Knapp, and Rice. The Society then took a straw vote to see if the winning order could be guessed. These orations were preceded by a brief talk by Douglass on "The Technical Aspects of Oratory".

There was no old business, so to open new business Pres. Holleman asked for an assesment from the members to cover the the cost of our annual Kentuckian picture. This was put into a motion by Dier, duly seconded, and passed. Holleman then reminded the new members to see the Treasurer at their earliest convenience to settle their intiation fees. Dr. Sterrett suggested that the Crump contest be an extemporaneous contest with a 12 minute time limit. He also asked that outlines of the entered talks must be in to him for approval not later than Jan. 5. After a reminder that the program for the next meeting would consist of a panalldiscussion by Holliman, Todd, and Harris on the evaluation of campus activities, the meeting was ajourned by mutual consent.

The Patterson Literary Society held its monthly meeting in room 204 of the SUB on the 8th of Jan. The meeting was called to order by President Holleman and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

✓ Dr. Sterrett explained the delay of the Crump contest due to the fact that it seemed possible to get more publicity and have a better contest if postponed to a later date. He suggested that we make the contest possibly the last meeting of the year, have four regular business sessions, and then an extemporaneous contest as the program. It was also suggested that important members of the faculty be invited as an idea to spread our fame. It was further suggested that we attempt to secure the Fine Arts lounge for the occasion and possibly serve refreshments of some type. Some agreeable date in early May was offered for the contest and a committee consisting of Redman, Knapp, and Schrader was appointed to arrange all final details.

A new Program Committee for the year was appointed by President Holleman and is to consist of McGeehan, Allen, and Bullock.

Because of lack of members present due to the negligence of the secretary in notifying them, the planned program was postponed to the next meeting which was to be held on the 19th of Feb.

The first order of business was the report of the Administration Committee, given by Mr. Knapp, concerning candidates for the Patterson Scholarship. Mr. Holleman and Mr. McGeehan had been nominated for this award by the committee. Clauses of the constitution affecting the granting of this award were read and it was discovered that Mr. McGeehan was restricted by Clause 11 of the constitution from receiving the award. The following resolution was passed by the Society to explain their necessary action :

"The members of Patterson Literary Society express their regret that Jack McGeehan can not be considered for the Patterson Scholarship because of the specific clause 11 in the constitution that states the recipient must be in the communion of some Evangelical church."
