APPRECIATION TO TAU SIGMA DELTA

The following letter was sent by Dan Hodge to the members of Tau Sigma Delta:

I want to thank you for your efforts in raising $200.00 to benefit the Architecture Library. It is very satisfying to feel that students in the College appreciate the value of the library and are willing to share in the concerted efforts to develop it as fully as possible.

It seems that Tau Sigma Delta's campaigns on behalf of the library are becoming an annual event and I want you to know how much I appreciate it. This kind of concern and support, among other qualities of the students here, truly makes this a place that both nurtures and is nurtured.

Thanks again for your part in the library's successes and potentials.

ABOVE AND BEYOND

Joanne Goode received the following message from Eric Sunday, CAD/CAM Analysis:

Just wanted to thank you again for the excellent service your team has been providing in the Library. I have requested a lot of information the past few months. Your group has always filled the orders and done so in a VERY expedient manner. Keep up the good work. This has been the best service I have ever gotten from the technical library.

Daniel E. Fulks and Ann R. Garrity, Honors Day '90 Co-Chairs, sent this letter to Paul Willis:

On behalf of President Wethington and the Honors Day Committee, we wish to express our appreciation for your contribution to University Honors Day on April 24. The exhibit is a wonderful complement to the convocation. This year it made such a nice presentation in the President's Room, demonstrating creative technology. Please express our appreciation to all your staff who contributed to a successful exhibit. We will thank Gail Kennedy personally for working so cooperatively as a member of the Honors Day Committee.

This letter to Paul Willis was sent by Judy Johnson, English Department, Lafayette Senior High School:

I wanted to tell you of the excellent services provided by your personnel. As an English teacher at Lafayette High School I find your facilities very useful for a class I teach in Research and Study Skills. Every semester I make arrangements to bring my class to UK for a whole day to learn and use the information systems available there. Our recent trip was the best ever.

Carla Cantagallo acted as our guide for the regular reference library. She was informative, cheerful, and very patient with my students. They enjoyed the time with her and were enthusiastic about exploring the library's possibilities, largely due to her ability to make them feel welcome and competent.

Even though there was a meeting in progress, Terry Warth opened Special Collections to us with the same graciousness. She was a wealth of information and her enthusiasm was contagious. I enjoyed watching her interactions with my charges.

All in all, we had a very special day and are grateful to the people responsible.

Paul received this letter from Ron Pen, UK School of Music:

Please allow me this opportunity to commend two members of your staff. I taught Appalachian Music last semester, and had occasion to use resources contained in the Appalachian Collection and the Audio/Visual Department. Ms. Kate Black and Mr. Tom House were most helpful. They supplied material, provided suggestions, were a repository of accurate information, and they were most cooperative in all dealings with myself and my students. Using the M. I. King Library has been a great pleasure and one of the most positive aspects of my tenure at the University of Kentucky.

I know that you are well aware of the fine calibre of your staff, but I do want you to know that they are also appreciated by faculty members outside the library as well. Kate and Tom are a positive asset to this university.
