UK Student Wages To Be Investigated By SGA Committee

Election Candidates Must Apply Tuesday

Student wages will be investigated by a special committee appointed Monday night by George Lawson, president of the Student Government Association.

The committee will make a study of student employment on the campus to see how many students are employed and what wages they receive. The committee will make recommendations to the Assembly and the Assembly will take these recommendations to the Comptroller, Lawson said.

"I'm sure the Administration is aware of the low wages on the campus," Lawson said, "but I should like to know we are aware of it also."

Jack Early was elected chairman of the student wages committee. Other members appointed to the committee are Wayne Carroll, Jim McCurry, and James Kostas. Lawson explained that membership on the committee will be increased after the SGA fall election to be held Dec. 17.

Students Must Apply By Tuesday

Fred Williams, chairman of the election committee, said that students planning to be candidates in the fall elections must submit an application before 5 p.m. next Tuesday in the Registrar's Office in the Administration Building.

Ten representatives will be chosen in the elections Dec. 17. They include two lower classmen, one lower classman, one upper classman, and one upper classwoman from the Arts and Sciences College; one lower classman from the Commerce College; one upper classman from the Engineering College; one man and one woman from the Graduate School; and one man and one woman from the Education College.

President Lawson suggested that

Judging Team Places Third In International Competition

The UK livestock judging team won third place in the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago last weekend. The team consisted of E. G. Adams, Jack Millikan, Thurman H. Hopkins, Thomas H. Streeter, Joe T. Turpin, and Jack D. Butler. The team is coached by Robert Long.

ArenaPlay Is Planned By Guignol

Moliere Comedy Set Dec. 8-13

"The Doctor In Spite of Himself," a satirical French comedy by Moliere, will be presented by the Guignol Theatre, next Monday through Saturday at 8:30 each evening in the Music Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

The play will be enacted in an arena theatre setting. This is a style relatively new to University productions. The audience is seated around the acting area, no scenery is used, and properties are held to a minimum. Candelliers will be used for lighting used for the production.

Full costume consisting of various colors and numerous fabrics will be employed throughout the action of the play.

"The Doctor In Spite of Himself" is a satire on the medical profession. John Renfro will play the leading role as Dr. Robert. The supporting players include Walter Lazany as Geronte, Don Clayton as Leandre, Fred Williams as Robert, Jim Holloway as Lucien, John Richardson as Valerie, Gay Hamilton as Lucinda, Doreen Banninger as Martine, and Claire Wood as Jacqueline. Jo Ann Anderson will act as narrator.

Prof. Wallace N. Briggs is director of the play.

Students connected with the Guignol Theatre are in charge of all arrangements, including publicity and ticket sales. Tickets will be on sale at the box office one week in advance.

Traditional UK Yule Program Set Wednesday

'Hanging Of Greens' Will Be Presented At Student Union

The Hanging of the Greens, a Christmas program sponsored annually by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Association and the Student Union Board, will take place at 5 p.m. next Wednesday in the Great Hall of the Student Union.

John Profit, president of the YMCA, will give the invocation, and Stanley Dickson, president of the Student Union Board, will give the benediction.

The Bethlehem Story will be read by Kim Sanford, president of the YMCA. The Rev. Yandell Page, student minister of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church, will speak on "The Christmas Story." The Baptist Student Choir, under the direction of Jim Woodward, will present a program of Christmas music. The program will include "The Carol of the Bells," "O Holy Night," and "Gloria." They will be accompanied by Benjie Dickens, Eloise Roberts, soloist with the choir, will sing "The Love that Came Down at Christmas."

Miss Jean Marie McConnell, of the Extension Department, will lead the audience in Christmas carols, which time members of the YMCA, YMCA, and the Student Union Board will sing Christmas carols in the windows of the Great Hall.

The room will be decorated with a Christmas tree, which will be furnished by the Board.

Barbara Hall, YMCA director, said that the Hanging of the Greens is an ancient traditional Christmas program, but that many students do not realize that this program actually opens the Christmas season on the campus.

About 600 persons attended the program last year, Miss Hall said.

The Hanging of the Greens was begun approximately 20 years ago by Barbara N. Peck, general secretary of the YMCA, said the idea for the Christmas program originated from an ancient European tradition, it has now developed into an all-campus affair, he said.

UK Rifle Team Defeats Purdue At Lafayette, Ind.

UK's varsity rifle team defeated Purdue Rifle Team by a score of 139-109, Nov. 22, at Lafayette, Ind.

UK's Billy R. Enge scored the highest points with 27 out of 300.

A portion of a letter sent to Maj. Samuel W. Howell from the executive officer of the Purdue ROTC Rifle Team states:

"I think that you owe you and your team some praise. This is my third season with the rifle team here at Purdue, and during this period I have fired in quite a number of shoulder-to-shoulder matches. I sincerely believe that your team was the best I have ever seen. The Purdue has fired against in the past three seasons. Our entire team shares in this belief."

In a postal match fired with the University of Denver, the UK rifle team was the victor again by a score of 1889-1524.

Virginia Lutz To Perform At Musicale

Miss Virginia Lutz will perform the soloist in one of the series of Sunday Afternoon Musicales to be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall.

Miss Lutz joined UK's music faculty last year and is currently a teacher of voice and director of the University Women's Glee Club.

Miss Lutz received a diploma in voice from the New York Institute of Musical Art and a graduate degree from the Juillard School of Music, New York. She has studied with Elsa Serofini, Belle Soudant, and Conrad Bass.

Miss Lutz is a native of Pennsylvania where she concertized extensively. She came to UK from Greensboro, Carolina where she was instructor in voice.

Trumpet Obligo To Be Feature

An unusual feature of Miss Lutz's program will be a trumpet obligato of one of Handel's songs to be played by William Geuser, a junior music student.

The program will include "Musical Whirl" by Puccini-Britten; four selections by Handel, "Let Me Wander Not Unseen" and "Of Let the Merry Bells Ring Round" from "L'Allegro"; "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" from "Semele"; and "Let the Bright Seraphim," from "Samson."

The second part of the program will be composed of five songs by Brahms, "Der Salamander," "Trennen," "Sonntag," "Auf dem Kirchhof," and "Meine Liebe ist grün." Also included on the recital will be "La Bonne Cuisine," by Bernstein.

Debut Songs Included

Concluding the program, Miss Lutz will sing "Villanelle des Petit Canards," by Chabrier; "A des Oiseaux," by Ives, and three selections by Debussy, "Beau Soir," "C'est l'extase," and "Aire de Lia" from "L'Enfant Prodigue."

Miss Virginia Stallings will be the accompanist for the recital. Miss Stallings is also a member of the University music faculty and has a graduate degree in piano from Louisiana State University.

Members of the University Women's Glee Club will serve as ushers for the musicale.

UK To Sign Grams For Freedom Crusade

Freedom-Grains will be distributed on the campus next week by members of Seaboard and Blade military honorary organizations. The program is sponsored by the Crusade for Freedom, which also sponsors Radio Free Europe and Radio Free Asia.

Students have been requested to sign the Freedom-Grains, which will be dropped in Iron Curtain countries by means of balloons.

Contributions up to 50 cents will be accepted to be used to develop Radio Free Europe, although this is not necessary to sign the grams.

The grams may be obtained from Seaboard and Blade members, who may be recognized by a red and blue cord worn on their right shoulders.

Crusade Launched In 1950

The Crusade for Freedom is an outgrowth of the National Committee for a Free Europe and was launched in 1950 to raise funds to support Radio Free Europe. Gen. Lucius D. Clay of Berlin Airlift fame, served as chairman during the first two years. Henry Ford III has assumed chairmanship of the Crusade and Charles E. Wilson is its national campaign chairman.

Radio Free Europe first began broadcasting July, 1950, from a short-wave transmitter in the Frankfurt area of Western Germany.

Radio Free Asia broadcasts to Far East in Mandarin, Cantonese, Hakka, and English.

Delegate To Speak On Work Offered In Foreign Service

Alfred L. Atherton Jr. of the Department of State will be on the campus next Friday afternoon to consult with students interested in work with the Foreign Service.

The Department has announced that the requirements for this work will be more liberal than before, particularly in lowering the age limit and reducing the foreign language requirement.

Several other changes have made the requirements less difficult so as to interest many who might not have been able to qualify before.

Examinations are open to anyone of either sex, regardless of race, creed, or color. They must be an American citizen of at least 10 years standing and be between the ages of 20 and 30. Entrance salaries start at $4,000 to $5,000 plus living expenses.

Applications must be filed by July 1, 1953 for the examination which will be given on Sept. 14-17, 1953.

Further information can be obtained from Dr. Amry Vandenhoeft of the Political Science Department.

Voting Conditions Are Compared In Political Science Club Meeting

Puerto Rico's voting system needs important changes, Dr. Gladys Kammerer, associate professor of political science, told the Political Science Club Wednesday in making a comparison of voting conditions there with those in Kentucky.

A complicated voter registration system employing as many as 500 people and offering a chance for spoils was given as the chief weakness of the island's voting system.

Dr. Kammerer worked in Puerto Rico during the past summer with the Public Administration Service, making recommendations to improve voting conditions.

Weaknesses in the island's system include the four-party system, lack of primaries, no limit on campaign expenditures, and detailed voting registration lists, she said.

The Political Science Club will meet again Dec. 17 when Dr. Herbert Demmon will discuss foreign policy and analyze Dean Acheson's record as Secretary of State.

Initiation ceremonies for the seven new members of Lamp and Cross, senior men's honorary, will be held at 5 p.m. next Wednesday in Room 306 of the Student Union.

English Club To Hear Records The English Club will meet at 4 p.m. next Thursday in the music room of the Student Union to hear records on the poetry of Edith Sitwell.

A discussion will be held about the campus creative writing magazine, "Vague." Students who are interested in working on the editorial part of the magazine are urged to attend this meeting to get further information on the new policy of the magazine.

Article Discloses What UK Women Expect Of Mate

"What Does a Woman Expect of the Man She Marries?" is the title of an article by Dr. James Gladden, of the Social Science Department, in the November issue of "Motive."

Most older students felt that both mates should participate in managing the budget, but the younger students were more undecided on this point.

Eighty-six per cent of the campus girls expected their future husbands to accompany them to church regularly and over half expected weekend entertainment.

Dances Set Tonight By DZs, PR, Sig Eps

By ANN O'ROARK

Now that the turkeys have been properly disposed of, all thoughts have turned to Christmas shopping and celebrating the biggest holiday season of the year.

Bring out your best formal clothes and get ready—the parties are just beginning! To start the round of holiday celebrations, the Delta Zeta's are having a formal dance at 9 p.m. tonight at the Lexington Country Club. The Pershing Rifles' dance will be held in the Student Union with the announcement of their new honorary captain highlighting the evening.

The Sig Eps formal dance will be tonight at 8:30. The big event of this dance will be the selection of their 1952-53 Dream Girl. Two girls from each sorority have been selected by the members of the fraternity as candidates.

The Kappa Alpha's are planning a skating party at Scott's this evening and the Farm House is having a square dance in the Women's Gym.

Saturday night the Zeta Beta Tau's are having a house dance and the Alpha Sigma are having an Apache Party at their house.

The Alpha Delta Pi's honored their new housewife, Mrs. Fred Haegason, with a dessert-bridge

Thursday afternoon, The ADPi's will have a buffet supper at 5:30 p.m. Saturday evening. Their first serenade will be from 10-12 p.m. Dec. 10. At 9 p.m. Sunday the Kappa Kappa Gamma's are having a parent-faculty tea. Phi Sigma Kappa will also have a tea at 3 p.m. at their house.

Tuesday night the Tri Delta's had a dessert for the Lambda Chi's. The KD's had their serenades on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Thursday night the TKE's are having their Christmas party for children. The Chi Omega's are having their annual bazaar this week. It began Thursday and will end tomorrow.

ADPi, Lambda Chi Win ODK Contest

Alpha Delta Pi and Lambda Chi Alpha won first place trophies in the OKD tag sale contest. Don Richardson, head of the tag sale committee of Omicron Delta Kappa, announced this week.

Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Gamma Rho were second place winners in their respective divisions of the contest, sponsored by ODK, senior men's scholarship and leadership honorary.

"The trophies will be presented at a later date," Richardson said, "as we would like to make some sort of a ceremony for the presentation."

"This year's sale, amounting to $638, was very successful, although this is about $100 less than last year's total sales," he said.

Representatives of the winners of first and second places in both divisions will assist on a panel to decide how the money should be used. In past years, money made from these sales has helped to obtain the television set in the Student Union, lights on the intra-mural field, and is used for scholarships.

COLONEL Of The Week

The Stirrup Cup is proud to present Ruth Ann Maggard as Colonel of the Week. You've heard that old adage, "If you have a job you want done quickly and well, give it to the busiest person you know." Well, this tall Lexingtonian with the infectious smile fit that description pretty well. For one thing, she's a senior in elementary education and this semester is doing her student teaching, working with "30 darling little children" in the third grade at Pleasantome school.

On campus, Ruth Ann is president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary; president of Wesley Foundation, Methodist student group; a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, and Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary; and co-chairman of this year's Religious Emphasis Week.

Ruth Ann is a member of Kappa Delta social sorority, and has been their scholarship chairman. She was president of the campus YWCA last year, and is now in the Y cabinet. She has been a member of Pitkin Club, Dutch Lunch Club, and the F. T. A.

For all these achievements, in addition to maintaining a standing of 23, the Stirrup Cup invites Ruth Ann and Bud to enjoy any two of their many delicious meals.

Name Bands Have Money Trouble, Too

By PAUL COWLEY

How many times have you heard somebody say, "Gosh, those big name band leaders must really make the jack." My friends, "ain't" true. To be sure, they're not starving, the big ones that is, but chances are they did at one time or another. Let's take a typical band and see what kind of loot it takes to keep it going.

Here's the Stan Kenton aggregation which needs close to $10,000 per week just to stay on the road. The Kenton road entourage, which includes 10 sidemen, Kenton, and a girl singer, cost $3,750 weekly. In addition, Kenton forks over 5 per cent of the gross salaries to the state of California as employer's tax. That amounts to another $187.50 a week. The Kenton home office crew back in Hollywood costs $200 per week, including office rent and a secretary's salary. Stan pays an accountant $150 a week to make out a monthly statement, the salary checks, Social Security and withholding returns, and other duties. Kenton's arranging staff, which traveled on the road with him for seven months, includes Bob Grattinger, Johnny Richards and Gene Rowland. The three set the orb back $500 a week in straight salaries. He pays about $35 an arrangement for three scoring weekly, which adds another $100 weekly to the nut.

Kenton uses charter bus service and figures he travels 800 to 1,200 miles a week when he's in the haberdash territories, and from 1,500 to 2,500 miles when he winds his way from Omaha to Los Angeles. They tip the bus driver $70 per week, and the average seven day cost of the bus runs from $800 to $900. In addition, Kenton has his own private car, in which he travels, and a small bus to carry additional band equipment. He figures average cost of operating these two vehicles is between $250 and $300.

Stan figures that business entertainment, office equipment, stationery, music slugs, and miscellaneous items run $10,000 yearly for an average of $200 per week.

The Hollywood office phone bill is $75 a week, while Kenton's personal bill is $60 a week. The band pays for two uniforms suits per year, which the sidemen wear then they switch to another band. Last year they bought 45 sets of uniforms at $60 each, hats, pictures and press manuals and a clipping service run about $60 per week.

UK Sends Soil Samples To Lederle Laboratories

UK students, in co-operation with Lederle Laboratories' world-wide search for soil samples, are sending samples of grasslands soil to the company's laboratories in Pearl River, N. Y. Scientists will assay it for possible antibiotic content.

A sample of Missouri soil, one of tens of thousands of soil samples tested by Lederle yielded the mold from which aureomycin is obtained. Aureomycin is the most versatile of the antibiotics developed since the discovery of penicillin. A full report on the Kentucky soil will be sent to the University.

The search that resulted in the development of aureomycin was led by Dr. Benjamin M. Dugger, former professor of botany, who retired from teaching in 1943 at the age of 71 to join the Lederle Laboratories staff.

Penicillin was first produced by a large mold, and Dr. Dugger believed that the fungus molds from soil samples might produce an even better antibiotic. For three years Dr. Dugger and his staff cultured soil samples in his laboratory with disappointing results, until a particular sample of Missouri soil produced a golden-colored mold. Test tube experiments were begun and the results were favorable.

Not only did this new mold combat the growth of streptococci and streptococci, but it also controlled the growth of a variety of rod-shaped germs called bacilli, indicating that it might have a wider range of action against infectious diseases than any drug hitherto developed.

Next step was to see if this new antibiotic could be isolated in a relatively pure, active, and inexpensive form. This step was accomplished after another period of experimentation. Later experiments showed the antibiotic to be effective against a greater variety of bacteria and larger viruses than had been originally indicated.

World-wide clinical tests followed, with the result that aureomycin is now regularly prescribed for more than a dozen different kinds of infectious diseases.

Because soil testing is a long and costly process, the sampling is now highly organized with colleges and universities and other representative organizations around the globe sending in samples typical of the soil in their areas.

'All Right... I'll Tell You WHY I AM A CATHOLIC'

You may have heard that your neighbor is a Catholic because his father was. Perhaps you believe that ignorance, superstition and fear keep him loyal to his Faith. But your common sense should tell you that these are NOT the reasons - that there MUST be something deep and vital and certain about a Faith which can hold the devoted loyalty of nearly 400 millions of people of every race, color and tongue on earth.

Not every Catholic can explain the reasons for his deep conviction in a way that you would understand. For the grace of God that touches a man's soul... and the willingness to believe that moves his heart... are elements of Faith which cannot be readily reduced to logic and reason, nor easily explained.

But there are practical and common-sense reasons why so many millions of people are Catholics. And they are such convincing reasons that a young Catholic lawyer, with all the analytical exactness of his profession, has been moved to publish them in a booklet explaining "Why I Am A Catholic."

The Catholic system of thought, he says, provides him with reasonable and consistent answers to the basic questions which trouble mankind. He finds it reasonable to believe, as the Church teaches, that man has a physical body and a rational soul... that man and his world were created by God... and that man lives primarily "to return to God by saving his soul through love of God and his neighbor."

With these principles to guide him, the Catholic finds it both logical and necessary to fulfill his obligations to other men... to obey the civil laws... and to labor for the improvement of society as well as personal gain. For him, the basic principles of democratic freedom are not merely a political code of ethics but a fundamental part of his religion. Human rights, the right of private property, and government with the consent of the people, are essentials of Catholic philosophy of life.

Communism, the lawyer says, is a deadly menace to the world because the solutions it offers to men's problems, though definite, are false and often hideous. Catholicism alone, he adds, offers answers equally as definite and forceful, and backed up by an equal unity and zeal.

"Catholicism," he continues, "gives me confidence and courage to face the present and the future... the confidence of one who has a map upon which the path to a sound, secure and peaceful future is well outlined; the courage of one who knows that the guide has behind him the experience of 2,000 years, the viewpoint of the world itself, and the devotion of countless millions. I am a Catholic because it would be foolish not to be."

Cross-Country Team Places Second In Conference Meet

The Tennessee jinx has moved over into the cross country field as of points. Kentucky hauled down the Wildcat banners fell before the Tennessee squad twice in two weeks.

On Monday last week, Coach Seaton took a five man squad to Atlanta, Georgia, and entered them in their first Southeastern Conference Cross Country meet. The Tennessee squad, led by the running of Frank Albertson won the team trophy with the Kentucky squad finishing second.

The fight for first place, individual, was a replica of the one ran here in Lexington a few weeks back as a dual meet between the two schools. In that meet Albertson beat Kentucky's Al Wiley out of first place but the Kentucky team won the meet.

The time posted by Albertson was a creditable 22:35. He ran in the tradition set by the winner of last year's meet, another Tennessee, Al Holmberg.

The Volunteers scored 50 points to take first with the lowest number of points. Kentucky hauled down second, five points behind. The finishers in order were: Florida, 69; Georgia Tech, 73; Auburn, 100; Alabama, 101.

Last Friday, the Wildcats entered the Annual Shamrock Run in Louisville only to find themselves face to face with the same Tennessee squad. It was the same old story. Albertson finished first, leading the team to first place. Behind him, Wiley finished second.

These three men remained bunched for most of the 5000 meters but it was the spirit of the two Tennessee hurriers that told in the end. Albertson thus remained unbeaten in cross country competition this year, having won every one that he has entered in.

His time of 16:38 was only ten seconds off the course record set by another Tennessee, Al Holmberg.

The finishers in order were: 1. Albertson (T), 2. Kuykendall (T), 3. Wiley (K), 4. Price (K), 5. Hill (T), 6. Wallace (K), 7. Waites (T), 8. Scott (K), 9. Gamble (T), 10. Wade (K), 11. Wells (K).

The Kentucky squad thus winds up its second season in cross country competition with two wins, one in dual competition and one in a triangular meet, and three seconds in triangular meets overall.

The first finisher in the high school division was Dave Collett of Flaset High in Louisville who won the Spike Shaves meet here. The first team was Louisville Male, who copped the team trophy.

Another Tennessee, Al Holmberg, a couple of weeks back. Kentucky's Dwight Price, Jay Wallace, Frank Scott and Charlie Wells finished in fourth, sixth, eighth and eleventh places respectively.

A Berea man, Ralph Wade, who spoiled Kentucky's bid for a clean sweep of the first five places a few weeks ago in a dual meet with Morehead and Berea, again spoiled a sweep as he was the only other team representative to finish in the first ten.

The finishers in order were: 1. Albertson (T), 2. Kuykendall (T), 3. Wiley (K), 4. Price (K), 5. Hill (T), 6. Wallace (K), 7. Waites (T), 8. Scott (K), 9. Gamble (T), 10. Wade (K), 11. Wells (K).

The Kentucky squad thus winds up its second season in cross country competition with two wins, one in dual competition and one in a triangular meet, and three seconds in triangular meets overall.

Wildcats Break Neyland Jinx In 14-14 Tie With Tennessee

Thirty-five thousand fans rubbed the snow out of their eyes in disbelief as they watched the Kentucky Wildcats score one of the biggest upsets of the year in trying the Tennessee Volunteers 14-14 at Knoxville two weeks ago.

Mainly through the never say die attitude of Coach Bryant's "Comeback Kids" was this feat accomplished. Herbie Hunt took over the quarterback slot early in the second half when the injured Steve Mellinger was switched back to his old end position.

With less than three minutes and behind 14-0, Hunt tossed a 16 yard pass to Mellinger to start the ball rolling. Intermittently with the running of fullback Al Fehel and Dick Mitchell, the Cats moved the ball down to the one yard line. From there it was Hunt carrying over on a sneak.

Penalty Sets Up Score

On the touchdown play, Tennessee was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness and the Wildcats were given the kick from the Tennessee 45. In one of the most beautifully executed on-sides kick, Bob Bassitt, freshman kicker, followed the ball and recovered it on the UT 33.

Fehel rumbled his way to the 17 in four plays and on fourth and seven, faked back and looped a long pass to end Jim Proffitt in the endzone. The excitement and fury raised by the UK routers on this play was nothing compared to that which was set forth when Bassitt calmly put his toe to the ball, knotting the score at 14-14 to go. Tennessee then took the kick and punted after three desperate attempts to reach pay dirt.

Tennessee Scores First

The tie made Kentucky fans nearly forget the two Vol scores in the first half. On the Tennessee first play from scrimmage, Vol fullback Ray Byrd, replacing injured Andy Kosar, set the water pipes in the dorms under the stadium to shaking as he cut off tackle, never more to be seen as he raced 65 yards to score. Kolenik converted and it seemed to third in total scoring with 15 conversions and two field goals for a total of 21 points. His field goal against Texas A&M was the margin of victory as the Cats won 10-7.

Bassitt had five more seasons of play with the Wildcats.

Wildcat fans that the orange jersey in the Cat tying TD.

Fans Stranded by Snow

Four thousand fans who started for Knoxville to see the game were stopped dead en route by the 18-inch snow that hit the Knoxville area the night before, but the 4000 or more who dug their way into the Tennessee town any time from Friday afternoon to just before game time Saturday made themselves heard that afternoon.

Practically all wires and telephone lines were down, leaving Knoxville nearly cut off from the rest of the world. The game was carried on just one wire, with Tennessee networks and Kentucky stations pooling the use of the lines.

Good Old Siiwash is hogwash now

FOR A LONG TIME we've suspected that today's college man would no longer "gladly die for dear old Siiwash." Neither does he play ukuleles and sing "Alma Mater" at the drop of a bean.

We believe, too, that when it comes to sportshirts the college man is no different from his older brother in town. He doesn't go for fads and screwball styles. But he does go for smartness, good workmanship . . . and above all, value.

That is why we believe you'll like the new selection of sportshirts by Manhattan. For they have all these qualities, plus a distinctive air that sets them above the ordinary shirt.

So ask for Manhattan . . . the college man's sportshirt.

Griggs To Play In NS Game

John Griggs, Wildcat football captain who chose out his gridiron services for UK tomorrow against Florida, still has a lot of football to play within the next month. And then comes a pro next fall.

The stellar Morganfield handyman has intended to join the South squad in the annual Blue-Gray game Dec. 27 in Montgomery, Ala., and then less than a week later on Jan. 2 he is slated to appear in the Senior Bowl classic in Mobile.

Griggs has proved his versatility on the Wildcat squad for the past two years by performing at five different positions as the needs arose. He has played offensive and defensive center, both ends on defense, and defensive fullback.

The Los Angeles Rams have already picked the 6-2, 200-pound Griggs in the pro grid draft.

Three Players Figure In Kentucky Scoring

By STAN FORTMANN

The "Indian sign" is off for good. Following Kentucky's first four-quarter comeback to tie the Tennessee Vols 14-14 two Saturdays ago, Coach Bear Bryant expressed his belief that the age-old Tennessee jinx was gone forever. The able Kentucky coach had finally combined a team of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, backed up with only five active seniors, to break the jinx; something he was unable to do with his great teams of '49 and '50.

This week we offer a combination ticket for the Week honors. Two are juniors, quarterback Herb Hunt and end Jim Proffitt, and one a freshman, end Bob Bassitt.

Herbie "the Clutch Man" Hunt had a hand in all 14 points the Wildcats gathered against the Volunteers. He led the Cats 62 yards downfield in the fourth quarter and climaxed the drive with a one-yard sneak for the touchdown, the first scored on Tennessee since 1947.

Then after Kentucky recovered their inside kickoff, he took the ball on a fourth and seven situation, faked on a play called for a pass to Mellinger, spotted Proffitt in the end zone and let fly for the tying TD.

He had a hand, or should we say finger, in the other two points when he held the ball for the all-important extra point placements.

Hunt has thrown three touchdown passes this season and two of them have been clutch plays which enabled Kentucky to tie the two bowl-bound teams. The first was a 60-yard heave to Steve Mellinger which gave the Cats a 13-12 tie with the Sugar Bowl candidates, the Missis-

Cage Team Will Hold Scrimmage

Coach Adolph Rupp announced this week that the first of a possible five or six UK intra-squad exhibition basketball games will be played Saturday, Dec. 13, in Memorial Coliseum. This will be the first chance for Wildcat cage fans to get a look at this year's squad, which will not play a regular basketball schedule because of their recent suspension by the NCAA.

This exhibition game shapes up as a thriller, since any combination of two teams put on the floor by the Wildcats could give any team in the country quite a battle. It will give the public and UK students a chance to see such outstanding ballplayers as Cliff Hagan, Frank Campbell, Bill Evans, Jerry Bird, and many other Wildcat performers in action. It will also give them an opportunity to get an idea of just how powerful the 1953-54 edition of the Wildcats will be.

The game will be open to the public, as well as the students. There will be no admission charged and no seats reserved for the contest. Coach Rupp said that he was inviting the high school coaches throughout the state to attend any of the UK practice sessions, which are now being held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week. Rupp said that he and Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster would be available during these sessions to answer any questions that might arise.

Coach Rupp plans to set aside one afternoon a week to give help to teams participating in the UK intramural basketball program.

The UK squad will not be cut according to Coach Rupp and any student, whether on scholarship or not, is welcome to take part in the practice sessions.

"Now, Gertrude," began the teacher, "when the Pilgrims had been here a year and had gathered in their good crops, what did they do?" "Bought 'ar," replied Gertrude.

Sports Sidelights

By TOM EASTERLING

Buster Brown, UK equipment manager, will begin storing the football gear Sunday and the "long winter" will begin for UK athletic followers and students. If we as students must pay the penalty for the wrong doings of others, let us do it in a way that will be a credit to the University, that is if the penalty is to serve a purpose. If not, let us make a vigorous protest of the suspension.

More and more the suspension of UK appears to be nothing more than the NCAA finally finding a school which gives them a chance to show certain critics that they do have some power over their members. They were going to prove to these critics that they were a powerful organization even if they had to find loopholes in their weak by-laws, which they did. In the end it looks like the critics will have the last laugh. Dr. Hanna, president of Michigan State, and a member of the executive council finds himself in the embarrassing position of having to explain the action of his own athletic department of committing the same things that were used to suspend Kentucky.

Bernie Moore, SEC commissioner, finds himself in the same position as Dr. Hanna after giving the green light to a Tennessee player to play his fifth year of football.

One Tennessee writer declared "It was obvious that the Vols were the better team by two touchdowns." His game story contained the following in the way of firsts by a Kentucky team against Tennessee: two touchdowns, Bassitt's two extra points, first time a Wildcat team has doubled the number of first downs against the Vols, and the first time the Cats have held Tennessee the entire second half without a first down. What the writer didn't add is that if you subtract the yardage picked up by the Vols on their two touchdown drives their total gain for the game was a minus 11 yards.

Two of the top high school basketball teams in the Bluegrass will meet Friday night in Memorial Coliseum when the Clark County Cardinals play the Lafayette Generals in the first of a series of high school games that will be played on the Coliseum's hardwood.

If Allen "Bull" Feich fails to score in the Florida game he should set some sort of record. Bull, the leading ground gainer for the Cats, has amassed a total of 592 yards without scoring a touchdown. Many times he has carried the ball to the goal line and some other back has carried it across for the score. Bull's only comment to this is "I have two more years to play at UK and all I want is to win. I am glad to be able to add my small part to the victories." Just wait until he admits that he has played a major role in the wins—the statistics should really sky-rocket.

The football team will leave Gainesville Sunday morning at eight o'clock (Lexington time) and will arrive at Bluegrass Field at eleven. Six of these boys will have finished their collegiate careers but the majority of the players will be around for the next two years. Let's give these boys a real welcome home.

It looks as if the intramural basketball teams are in for a treat this year. While plans are not complete, there is a strong possibility that each team will be able to obtain the aid of basketball Coaches Rupp and Lancaster. As it now stands, the varsity squad will be used one afternoon a week in a clinic for all students wishing to attend.

Because of the situation here at UK this year, it would be nice if the authorities in charge of intramural basketball would waive the rule that no student on a athletic scholarship be allowed to participate in the program. If nothing can be done about this, let the boys form a league of their own. Some of these boys are outstanding basketball players and would put on a good show for those students who attend the intramural games.

Jim Bradbury Wins Turkey

Jim Bradbury of Sigma Nu outdistanced 39 other entries last Tuesday to win the annual cross-country Turkey Run. Bradbury covered the mile-and-a-half in 9:06. Charlie Mullinger of SAE finished second.

Bradbury's effort was not enough to carry his team to victory in team competition, however. AGR won the 1st team prize as Gamma Iota Phi, Gerald Mayer, and Jack Wise finished third, fourth and fifth respectively. AGR had a point total of 44, Sigma Nu was second with 66 points while DTD and SAE tied for third with 67 points.

Other individual leaders were Glenn Derroh (SAE) sixth, Tommy Haag (DTD) seventh, Hunt Perkins (SAE) eighth, Hilton Minton (DTD) ninth, and Bob Jones (AGR) tenth. AGR collected five points toward the year's participation trophy for its first place finish. Sigma Nu picked up three points. Bradbury received five points toward the year's individual participation trophy and Mullinger picked up three points.

The dubious honor of finishing last was won by Bill Smith of PKA. Smith received a goose egg for his efforts.

CONFERENCE IN THE CLOUDS

Among the undergraduates on any college campus, you'll find the talk reaching up to the clouds. And once in a while—in a classroom, around a study table, or even in a hall session—a really big idea is born.

Big ideas come, too, from the men and women in laboratories, business offices, shops. But often these professionals are exploring a path first glimpsed in college.

How do we know? Because of the many college people who have come into the Bell System, where big ideas and a lot of dreams have taken their place in progress. The human voice, carried along a wire, first across a town, then a state, a nation, and now the world. Music and pictures and things happening delivered into cities and hamlets all across the land by radio and television networks.

We're always looking for the men and women who get big ideas—whether they're about people, or machines, or ways of doing things. Your Placement Officer can give you details about opportunities for employment in the Bell System.

Deadline Is Set For Entries In I-M Swimming Competition

By DICK PURKINS

The Division of Intramurals and Department of Athletics of UK has announced that an intramural swim meet will be held the 16th and 18th of Dec. at the university pool beginning both nights at 7:30.

Eight events will make up the card for the meet. They are: the 50 yard free style, the 100 yard free style, the 200 yard free style, the 100 yard back stroke, the 100 yard breast stroke, the 150 yard medley relay, the 200 yard free style relay, and diving.

In the 150 yard medley relay, which will be made up of three men on each team, each man will swim 50 yards, one using the back stroke, one the breast stroke, and one free style.

winner of last year, and men who are on probation. Also, no person will be eligible to participate in the meet unless they have passed a physical examination and have a written statement to that effect.

The deadline for entering this meet is today, Dec. 5. All persons who enter must work out at least twice before the meet, unless they are in a swimming class. It is very important that every entry check in with Mr. Reese or the life guard in order to receive credit for the two workouts.

Workout periods are as follows: Friday, Dec. 5—7:00-9:00 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 6—12:00-5:00 p.m. Monday, Dec. 8—3:00-4:00 p.m. and 5:00-7:00 p.m.

Wednesday, Dec. 10—3:00-4:00 p.m. and 5:00-7:00 p.m. Friday, Dec. 12—3:00-4:00 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 13—12:00-5:00 p.m. Monday, Dec. 15—7:00-9:00 p.m.

As it now stands, qualifying will take place Tuesday, Dec. 16 and the final will be Thursday, Dec. 18. Six men will qualify in each swimming event and also six in the diving.

No fee will be charged for entering the meet.

OPPORTUNITIES IN OPTOMETRY

Optometry is a profession offering special advantages to ambitious young men and women. It is a profession that is constantly expanding. Eighty per cent of the Nation's million-dollar budget is spent on the services of optometrists in many States. The Doctor of Optometry possesses the degree of being a professional man. He renders an essential service to the health and well-being of his community. Substantial financial rewards are obtainable almost from the beginning of his professional career. U. S. Department of Defense Selective Service Grant Optometry students the three consecutive academic medical students.

The Doctor of Optometry degree can be earned in three college years by a student having one or more semester hours of general Arts credits. Such students will be admitted as endowee by Chicago College of Optometry.

The Chicago College of Optometry is centrally located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the health arts. It is nationally accredited and is splendidly equipped. Clinical facilities are second to none.

CAPT. JOHN GRIGGS BOB FRY FRANK FULLER LARRY JONES HARRY JONES JOHN BALDWIN

Five Seniors To Play Final Game

Six Kentucky seniors will end their collegiate football careers Saturday when the Wildcats close their 1952 grid campaign with the Florida Gators in Gainesville. Kickoff time for the SEC clash is 1 p.m. (CST).

The half-dozen men are end John Orpik, end-tackle Bob Fry, tackles John Baldwin and Frank Fuller, and twin halfbacks Larry and Harry Jones. Actually Harry played his last game for the Gats against LSU, when he suffered injuries which forced him out for the remainder of the season.

Coach Bear Bryant, who gave his charges a week's vacation following the stirring 14-14 upset tie with Tennessee two weeks ago, frankly admits he is worried about the Florida game. The Wildcats left this morning by chartered plane with only four practice sessions to prepare them for a scrap with one of the SEC's most offensive-minded football teams.

Gators Unleash At Home

The Gators, who haven't lost at home since Kentucky slipped by them 14-6 last year, have been led by fullback Ric Casares to a 6-2 record this fall.

The touchdown-crazed Gators have romped over Clemson (33-6), The Citadel (33-0), Clemson (34-13), Georgia (20-0), Auburn (31-21), and Miami (43-6). Florida has lost to a pair of top-notch teams, Georgia Tech (14-17), and Tennessee (12-26), and was upset by Vanderbilt (13-20).

While Coach Bob Woodruff was priming his Gators on a muddy field in expectation of wet conditions Saturday, Coach Bear Bryant was resorting to fundamentals to try and sharpen a Wildcat attack that has gained ties with two bowl-bound teams.

In addition to the ties with Sugar Bowl-bound Ole Miss (13-13) and Tennessee, who meets Texas in the Cotton Bowl, the Gats hold victories over Texas A&M, Cincinnati, Miami, Tulane and Clemson. Three early-season defeats came at the hands of Villanova, LSU, and Mississippi State.

Cats Are "Bowl Spoilers"

The surging Wildcats could earn a reputation as "bowl spoilers" by knocking off Florida, who will meet Tulsa in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day.

Kentucky may lose the services of halfbacks Dick Shatto and Tom Fillion for the game tomorrow, after Shatto was running a fever early in the week and was confined to the infirmary. Fillion was favoring a leg injured in mid-season. Outside of these injuries the Cats should be in top physical condition for the tilt.

The Wildcats hold a 9-2 advantage in the 11-game series with Florida which first began in 1917 with UK winning 32-0. After a gap of several years the rivalry was resumed in 1948 and the Cats have shown their superiority by winning four straight by scores of 24-15, 35-0, 40-6, and 14-6.

Football Banquet Will Be Dec. 18

The annual football banquet will be held Dec. 18. Miss Helen King, executive secretary of the UK Alumni Association, announced this week. Honoring the coaching staff and football squad, the dinner will be in the Student Union ballroom.

William H. Townsend, Lexington attorney and president of the Alumni Association, will be the principal speaker. The Samuel L. Huey Jr. Scholarship Trophy will be awarded to the team member having the highest cumulative standing.

Six seniors on the football squad will be presented watches by alumni and friends of UK. They are Capt. John Griggs, Alternate Capt. Bob Fry, Larry and Harry Jones, John Baldwin, and Frank Fuller. UK athletic director Bernie Shively will present the awards.

Alumni, fans and the general public are invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased at the alumni office for $2.50 each.

THE DU PONT DIGEST

Plant and Equipment Design and the Engineer

At Du Pont, men with many types of training translate laboratory developments into full-scale production

Among the most interesting fields for engineers at Du Pont is the design of plants and equipment. It takes ingenuity of a high order to translate a small-scale laboratory operation into all-out commercial production. Design engineers cannot always use purchasable equipment to scale up research findings, even with considerable adaptation. About half of the time at Du Pont, entirely new equipment must be designed because of the novelty of the process developed by research.

For example, a number of unusual problems were involved in designing the equipment and plant for a process in which hexamethylenediamine, one of the intermediates for nylon, is made from furfural, derived from such agricultural by-products as corncobs and hulls of cottonseed, oats and rice.

In this conversion, these steps are involved:

C_6H_5CHO (furfural) $\xrightarrow[\text{catalyst}]{\text{Heat}}$ C_6H_4O (furan)

$2H_2$ \rightarrow C_6H_8O (tetrahydrofuran)

$2HCl$ \rightarrow $Cl(CH_2)_4 Cl$ (dichlorobutane)

$2NaCN$ \rightarrow $N(CH_2)_4 CN$ (adiponitrile)

$4H_2$ \rightarrow $H_2N(CH_2)_6NH_2$ (hexamethylenediamine)

Here are some of the special problems that were encountered:

- Design of equipment with close temperature control for converting furfural to furan. The design finally settled on employs a large number of tubes containing a catalyst, with a coolant circulated around them. Special sequence timers were devised for operation of the valves controlling production and regeneration cycles.

Scale model of a part of the plant where adiponitrile is made from furfural.

- Design of high-pressure agitated autoclaves for the hydrogenation of furan to tetrahydrofuran.
- Selection of corrosion-resistant equipment for the hydrochlorination of tetrahydrofuran to dichlorobutane at high temperatures.
- Design of a unique five-step distillation train to obtain high-grade adiponitrile without trace impurities.

Although most of these problems involve a great deal of chemical engineering, also needed on the designing team were mechanical, electrical, civil, metallurgical and industrial engineers. These design work at Du Pont is open to men with many types of training, and there is abundant opportunity for all.

E. W. Griffin, B.S. in M.E., Duke; M.S. in Ind. Eng., Georgia Tech '32 (right), instructor operator in handling of vapor-light horizontal vacuum still used in separating adiponitrile from sodium chloride.

NEW BOOK: Send for "Chemical Engineers at Du Pont," just off the press. Explains opportunities in research, development, production, sales, administration and management. Address: 2524 Nemours Bldg., Wilmington, Del.
