DR. McVEY PUBLISHES REPORT TO TRUSTEES

Summary of Needs of University Sent To Governor and Legislature

STATE'S AID URGED

The biennial report of President McVey to the Board of Trustees, which was read to that body in its monthly meeting December 18 and in turn transmitted to the Governor of Kentucky for the consideration of the General Assembly in its present session has just been published. It is a concise, forcefully presented report, dealing frankly and fully with conditions as they obtain in the University at present and making recommendations to meet requirements for the forthcoming biennial period that the State of Kentucky is expected to impose upon its chief institution of learning.

The report explains under four heads what the University has accomplished, cost of operation, the needs of the University, and legislative requests. Commenting upon what the University has accomplished in the biennial period ending July 1, 1919, the reports sets out that this was a period of war. There was an embargo on materials and supplies with a rapid increase in price. Besides these adverse material conditions, the Government called on the universities and colleges of the country to assist in the training of men.

Many Trained Here.

The report sets out that in May, 1918, the War Department established a camp known as Camp Buell, for the vocational training of soldiers at the University. In the first installment 376 men were sent for eight weeks. This group was followed by two others of 429 and 419 men, respectively. In consequence the University trained 1,214 men up to the time of the Armistice in vocational subjects, such as automobile mechanics, engineering, signalling, carpentering and blacksmithing. In addition to the men trained in vocational subjects there were 855 men in the Student Army Training Corps. All these men were housed, fed, taught and drilled on the University campus.

Our Part in the War.

The Bulletin states that 1,068 University men served during the war in the military forces of the United States. This number does not include 1,344 regular soldiers given technical training by the University, nor 855 in the S. A. T. C. The classes of 1892, '93, '94, and the classes from 1896 to 1919 had representatives in the world war. The following army and navy commissions were granted: Two colonels, five Lieutenant colonels, eleven majors, fifty-nine captains, one hundred and sixteen first lieutenants, one hundred and eighty-two second

"CHINESE LANTERN" TO BE ANNUAL PLAY

Philosophians To Present Production in April; Try-outs Begin.

"The Chinese Lantern," a costume play of fifteen characters, by Laurence Hausman, has been chosen by the tenth annual dramatic production given by the Philosophian Literary Society. The play will be presented early in April, in the Little Theater of the University. Try-outs will begin next week, the exact date to be announced later.

"The Chinese Lantern" has the record of having been successfully produced by the Idler Club at Ratsliffe, by the Arts and Crafts Theater in Detroit, and by many other theatrical clubs.

PRELIMINARIES HELD FOR STROLLER PLAY

Cast of Beau Brummel To Be Selected Within Two Weeks

Preliminary try-outs for parts in Beau Brummel, the well-known Clyde Fitch comedy-drama of early Nineteenth Century English life, which will be presented by the Strollers this year, began Wednesday evening in the Little Theater. Rehearsals will continue each evening until the cast is selected, the final designation of parts being made sometime within the next two weeks.

Lively competition has been manifested in the preliminaries and it is already indicated that there will be a contest for every part. This year the entrants will be permitted to try for any part for which they deem themselves fitted for the first rehearsals after which they will be assigned to regular parts to study and make a fight for.

Beau Brummel calls into action a cast of seven women and twelve men with several supernumeraries. It is largely a character play and is one of the most difficult productions the Strollers have ever undertaken. The idea of the play was Richard Mansfield's and after its completion by Mr. Fitch it was presented by Mr. Mansfield in several hundred performances. It has been revived since its original presentation in the early '90's, but has not been seen in this locality. The parts for women are unusually difficult, but from the wealth of material at hand this year, it is believed that all places can be filled.

Present plans contemplate the presentation of Beau Brummel in this city early in March with subsequent performances in neighboring towns later in the month. Tentative out-of-town dates are being planned for some of the nearby cities, where Stroller plays have formerly been successfully presented.

MISS MARSH ATTENDS PUBLICITY CONFERENCE

University Press Association Only One of Kind In United States

The University Press Association was represented at the third annual meeting of the American Association of College Publicity Organizations held in Chicago, January 2 and 3, by its chairman, Frances Marsh.

The association is a pioneer in its field and was termed by the Chicago papers as one of the most interesting of the numerous "enfants de guerre."

About twelve universities were represented, including the state universities of Minnesota, Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky. Plans for larger publicity in various phases were discussed in an extensive program. It is noted here with pride that the University of Kentucky in its Press Association has an organization unlike any in the country. The working basis of the club, its foundation, and accomplishments aroused marked interest in Chicago.

The distinctive feature of this organization is the fact that the activities of the individual student are reported to his home paper, not written in a general way to other uninterested state papers. The fact that this task is the entire work of university students was also a matter of great interest.

A trip thru the Hearst newspaper plant from engraving room to the morgue was an interesting event of the program.

A report of this convention will be made at a meeting of the Press Association on Monday afternoon at 3:45.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS DISCUSSED IN CHAPEL

Dr. McVey Urges All Students To Vote.

Chapel hour was taken up Tuesday with a brief discussion by Dr. McVey of the League of Nations, and the six propositions to be voted on Tuesday by students and faculty members of the University.

The purpose of the discussion was to urge all not only to vote, but to become thoroughly acquainted with the questions involved. The reservations suggested for the sixth proposition were explained and commented upon.

SENIOR CO-ED TAKES POSITION AT SAYRE

Betty Davis, senior pre-med, and a prominent member of all college activities, has accepted a position at Sayre College for the rest of this year. Betty will have two classes in History, and will change her residence from Patterson Hall to Sayre College. She will continue her work in the University.

HOPELESS NUTS FORM "POOR FISH CLUB"

Red and Green Ribbons Mark Those Who Acknowledge Failings

Among the youthful organizations which have sprung up in our midst during the last few weeks, the Poor Fish Club demands publicity. It was organized by a number of students, and dignity of appearance would seem to be above the average nut who comes forward semi-occasionally with bursts of non-sensical enthusiasm which he has been unable to suppress.

Lo, among the ranks of those who have appeared with the tell-tale red and green ribbons adorning the lapels of their coats, are Grover Creech, Pat Campbell, Dick Hagan, Tom Gorman, Raymond Connell, J. M. McKenzie, and even Frizzy, who never condescends to ask us to print any of the work of his unequalled imagination but the most high-browed. Even Frizzy succumbs to the temptation to become famous by acknowledging that he is a Poor Fish.

The requirements of this most esteemed body of prominent students are 1, that each member be able to drink one quart of whiskey; 2, that he has been jilted at least once, and 3, that he be willing to promise that he will let women make a fool of him.

Shades of departed common sense, attend the meetings of the august gathering, and look to the interests of the weary ones who look on!

DELEGATES BACK FROM VOLUNTEER CONVENTION

Report of Programs To Be Given at Joint Meeting

The Eighth International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions which was held at Des Moines, Iowa, December 31-January 4, was attended by nine University students, who returned Tuesday night. They are, Margaret Woll, Adele Slade, Fannie Heller, Lillie Cromwell, George Zertoss, Jesse Tapp, J. P. Barnes, George Gregory, Flenor Heath, Secretaries R. W. Owens and Carl Zertoss.

A convention of this kind is held only once in a student generation and those who attended this one came back with glowing reports. There were 8,000 delegates from the various colleges and universities of the United States and hundreds of noted Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. leaders and returned missionaries.

At the joint meeting of the "Y" Association Sunday evening, January 18, a Des Moines program will be given and interesting and inspiring ideas that were gleaned at the convention will be presented to the students.

SIX PROPOSITIONS TO BE VOTED ON TUESDAY

Universities to Define Stand on League of Nations Compact

DISCUSSED THIS WEEK

Simultaneously, January 13, every college and university of the United States will take a vote for the purpose of ascertaining the stand of students and faculty members on the question of the League of Nations. That this vote may be an intelligent thoughtful one, the past week has been given over to discussion and explanation of the league in practically all University circles.

College authorities are agreed that the question of the league is one of paramount importance, deserving of all men's careful attention and interest.

It has not yet been decided how the vote will be taken, but it is possible that instructors will be instructed to take the ballot in their classrooms.

It is not deemed necessary at this time to republish the articles of the covenant in full, but for those students who may desire further information of the subject, the purpose of the league as contained in the preable, together with the last part of Article 1, 16, and 20 around which discussions center chiefly, are published as follows:

The purpose of the League is to promote international co-operation and to achieve international peace and security, by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of understandings of the international law as to the actual rule of conduct among nations and by the maintenance of justice and of a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another.

Last part of Article 1: Any member of the league may, after two years' notice of its intentions to do so, withdraw from the league, provided that all its international obligations have been met and that all its obligations under the covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of the withdrawal.

Article 16: Should any member of the League resort to war in disregard of the covenant it shall ipso facto be deemed to have committed an act of war against all the members of the League, which hereby undertake to subject it to severance of all trade and financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the covenant-breaking state and of any other

Lieutenant colonels, twenty-four lieutenants, grade not stated; 662 non-commissioned officers. The present roll of those who made the last great sacrifice includes twenty-one names.

In the year of 1918-19 there were 2,284 students in attendance at the University. 179 of these candidates for degrees, 1,156 were not candidates for degrees.

New Department Added.

The report calls attention to the fact that departments were added in art and design, music, sociology, botany, farm mechanics and dairying. The Home Economics Department was entirely re-organized, and suitable equipment provided.

Needs of the University.

"There is no use disguising the fact that the necessities of the University are great," says the report, "especially if it is to represent adequately the educational requirements of a spirited people like those that dwell in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. What seemed adequate two years ago for maintenance and construction of buildings for a five-year period is now sufficient only to keep the institution up to its present development without additional growth. The University is faced with the care and instruction of a rapidly-growing student body, the requirements of better salaries, new buildings and repairs."

No Building Fund Since 1904-08.

"The matter may be put simply. The University has had no general building appropriation since 1904-1908, when about $400,000 was appropriated in the four years. At that time, the student body consisted of 412 college students and 293 other students, a total of 705. In 1918-1919, the total student body reached 2,335, including the S. A. T. C. This year 1919-20, the college student body will be the largest in the history of the University. In seventeen years' time, 1900 to 1917, the college students have increased 377 per cent."

What Other States Are Doing.

In the report appears a table of what other states are doing. It sets out that among the southern states, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Mississippi, and Texas surpassed Kentucky in the per capita contributions of the University support. According to this table, the amount so contributed was 26 cents per capita, placing Kentucky in the forty-first place. It will also be observed that only three other southern states have a smaller investment in University plants than Kentucky. These are Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas. California's investments are largest, being $13,584,432. Kentucky invested $1,185,542.

Housing Problem Grave One.

For some time the University has been confronted with the problem of housing students. With the changing of old and new dormitories to recitation buildings, the men of the University were left without dormitory provisions. Girls' dormitories are also over-crowded.

"Another need of the University is new buildings for instruction purposes. The Chemistry Department is housed in two buildings, one of them very old, and the other inadequate. Larger facilities should be provided for instruction in mining engineering, so that Kentucky's young men may be trained at the University to take part in coal and oil industries. The volumes in the library are not sufficient for the needs of the University.

There is need also for a farm mechanics building; for a home economics building; for dormitories, common building, engineering shops, a women's gymnasium and a central heating plant.

The Board of Trustees are of the opinion that an annual appropriation to erect buildings and purchase equipment running for a period of years, is the only adequate way to meet the situation. A sum of $300,000 annually for five years would do much to bring the University to a modern basis.

The report closes with this significant remark: "The year 1920 marks the date whether the University of Kentucky goes forward or remains in the rear of the procession."

state whether a member of the league or not.

It shall be the duty of the League Council in such case to recommend to the several governments concerned what effective military or naval forces the members of the League shall severely contribute to the armaments of the forces to be used to protect the covenants of the League.

The members of the League agree, further, that they will mutually support one another in financial and economic measures which are taken under this article, in order to minimize the loss and inconvenience resulting from the above measures and that they will mutually support one another in resisting any special measures aimed at one of their number by the covenant-breaking state.

Article 21: Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for the securing and maintenance of peace.

The six propositions to be voted on January 13, are:

The propositions, for one of which each member of the student body and each member of the faculty will be requested to declare himself on Tuesday, January 13, are as follows:

Proposition 1.—I favor the ratification of the League and Treaty without amendments or reservations.

Proposition 2.—I am opposed to the ratification of the League and the Treaty in any form.

Proposition 3.—I am in favor of the ratification of the Treaty and the League, but only with the specific reservations as voted by the majority of the Senate.

Proposition 4.—I favor any compromise under reservations which will make possible the immediate ratification of the Treaty and the League.

Proposition 5.—I favor the Government proceeding to make peace with Germany at once and leaving the question of a League of Nations to be settled afterwards.

Proposition 6.—I favor a compromise of the reservations of such a character as will avoid the danger of defeating ratification while still making clear that America can only be involved in war by a declaration of Congress, that domestic questions and the Monroe Doctrine are entirely outside of the jurisdiction of the League, that plural votes of any member are all disqualified in the event of a dispute wherein we are disqualified from voting and that on deciding to withdraw we are to be the judge of whether our obligations have been met.

Interesting Letter to December 19th, Professor J. T. C. Noe delivered an address on James Lane Allen before the faculty and students of the Lexington High School. His address was published in the Lexington Herald and a copy of the address was sent to Mr. Allen by Superintendent M. A. Cassidy. Mr. Allen wrote Superintendent Cassidy that he regarded the address as a fine piece of literary criticism and had this to say: "I shall write also to Professor Noe on the subject of his remarkable paper as a piece of literary work, and shall try to tell him of the pleasure it gives to discover, before it is too late—that my books have been so studied and so enjoyed by him. To find after waiting so long, a new critic of such vigor, independence, breadth, height and sweep of things, right at home—refreshes and encourages me beyond words. I am instantly impressed with the quality, the stamp, the hall-mark of his thought. I expect to put his address in circulation among my critical friends up here."

In a letter to Professor Noe Mr. Allen says this: " * * * I am glad to discover—since my long absence from Kentucky makes it a discovery—that you are a Kentuckian and that you are putting out original work of your own. Cassidy was good enough to send me a copy of a recent issue of a magazine that contains a group of your poems. I should like to tell you how instantly and warmly I have enjoyed it—'A Barnyard Festival.' I have read it over and over. It is a fresh, genuine, gushing, original note—amazingly limpid, very sure of what it sings. * * *"

The members of the fraternity are: Auryne E. Bell, R. M. Guthrie, T. H. Green, M. T. Brooks, R. A. Bradley, Edgar Gregg, Raymond Kirk, William Williams, Neal Sullivan and R. H. Calg. Professor Carl Lampert is the faculty advisor and an honorary member of the fraternity.

VOTE ON TREATY QUESTION.

Intellect rules the world. This is the first and last word of the wisdom to be gathered from the annals of political history. Force may desolate a land and reduce a weak people to a race of slaves. But it is in the minds of trained men that the real wars are won; here and in the hearts of the peoples involved. It is seldom indeed that the two are joined.

The members of a university, students and faculty, are almost unique in their position in the social organization, for they combine the keen and trained intelligence of diplomat and statesman, and the unspoken convictions of the homefolk. An expression of opinion by such a body of citizens is important and it will not be overlooked by the legislators and executives of the country. It is undoubtedly the weightiest expression possible from any body of citizens of like number in the United States.

Next Tuesday, we, the student body, will have the privilege of expressing ourselves on the questions involved in the ratification of the League of Nations. It is a privilege, indeed, to be able possibly thus to sway the destiny of our country; and it is also our duty, as citizens, enlightened, trained, disinterested citizens, to accept in good part the request made by the Universities and Colleges of the country to record our opinions upon this vital question. This we can do by thoughtfully considering and voting on the propositions to be presented in chapel, turning out every man for himself, after having debated the situation in his own mind and reached his own decision.

CRUCIAL HOUR FOR EDUCATION.

The biennial report of President McVey to the Board of Trustees, which was in turn transferred to the Governor and the Legislature of Kentucky, as set forth in a bulletin issued by the University, is a digest of what the University has been able to do during the biennial period.

In clear, concise manner, the president has summarized what was accomplished by the University during the war, and set out what must still be accomplished in the future in the training of students, both for military and civil life. The fact is brought out that there are growing demands to be met; that students must be brought to an increasingly higher standard of citizenship, which can be accomplished only when the State co-operates to maintain the University in its present progressive status.

The report is an appeal to the State's representatives in the General Assembly for help to perform the duties which the Commonwealth has imposed upon the University. The Kernel urges that every student, every citizen of Kentucky, and especially every legislator become thoroughly acquainted with this report which deals with matters of vital importance to every Kentuckian.

This is undoubtedly a crucial hour in the history of the educational institutions of Kentucky. Within the memory of this writer, there has not been in this institution so marked interest in higher education among the students, nor so emphatically gratifying esprit de corps in its faculty and administrative branches as is now evident upon every bend. Any parsimonious handling of the problem at hand which will retard this spirit or extinguish this interest on the part of the youth of the State would be false economy and a step backward that would be disastrous.

The Kernel is able to record at the beginning of the new year profound confidence felt on all sides in the present administration of the University. It desires likewise to express its faith in the statesmanship of those men who have been elected as the State's representatives in the General Assembly. The Legislature has not yet reached the stage where this problem has been brought up, but when it does, the Kernel is looking toward these men to meet the issue frankly, fairly, broadly, free from parsimonious spirit.

Discussions have been heard on how best to procure funds to meet the demands of the State's industrial programs. The one that appeals to the Kernel as the best in vision and statesmanship is that of bonding the State for enough money to give all its institutions now the funds needed to meet the demands of the fateful hour.

"Reverie."

When the cloak of twilight flutters
In Eastern sky of sapphire blue,
And the birds have ceased their chanting,
Chanting songs for me and you;
When the Western sky is glowing
The dying day it would foretell,
And the chill of stealthy darkness
Seeks to mark the day's farewell.

Then we turn to glowing embers;
From a fireplace, beacon to us
Tiny flames of burning timber
Of a welcome, they assure us.
How they dance for our pleasure,
Hear them crackle, watch them spark.
Their comfort is beyond all measure,
Surcease, for a work-worn heart.

Now a golden leaf you crumble,
Fill your pipe-bowl, full and level,
Light your alter with an ember.
Dream in fragrance; in dreams
revel.

Watch the visions thru the drifting—
Smoke that mounts up from your pipe.
Memory reigns o'er spirits wearied,
As youthful scenes pass on in flight.

When the days lose all their pleasure,
And your night is drawing nigh,
Enjoy the twilight at your leisure,
And re-live youth 'ere you die.
Each good deed you will remember;
Smiles for milestones dot your path.
Songs will knock the grouch asunder;
Fear no harm from evils wrath.

When the days lose all their pleasure,

PROMINENT STUDENT OF UNIVERSITY DIES

The many friends of Urey Garman Ward, senior of the College of Law, were grieved to learn of his death at his home, Inez, Kentucky, just before the Christmas holidays, on December 15, 1919. Ward was compelled on account of illness to return to his home about a month ago. From that time he gradually grew worse, and the news of his death came as a great shock to his many friends on the campus and in Lexington.

Ward entered the University of Kentucky in September, 1916, and soon became prominent on the campus because of his interest in school activities. He was a member of the Delta Chi fraternity, and at the time of his death was the executive officer of that organization. In the spring of 1918, he answered the call of his country, and joined the United States Marine Corps, being sent to Paris Island for intensive training. He was honorably discharged at the end of the war, and returned at once to the University to complete his course.

Urey Garman Ward was a true friend and a good pal, and his untimely death has left a vacancy in the hearts of those who knew him best that will never be filled.

GIFT TO MISS WHITE FROM THE LAWYERS

Miss Clara White, charming librarian of the Law College, was delightfully surprised Friday morning before the adjournment of school when the law students presented her with a chest of stationery. The presentation speech on behalf of the lawyers was made by C. O. Burton.

Miss White has been in charge of the Law Library since the opening of the University, last September, and has accomplished great results in filing and cataloging the books. The unexpected expression of appreciation from the boys in the form of a beautiful Christmas gift, almost moved the recipient to tears of gratitude and joy and she said that the only thing that could make her quite as happy as the receiving of the gift was to thank each donor personally and to wish each one the merriest Christmas and the blessing of a glad and prosperous New Year.

PAN-HELLENIC DANCE A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

The men's Pan-Hellenic organization of the University held its annual dance Friday, December 19, in the ball room of the Phoenix Hotel. The hosts were the active members, pledges and alumni of the fraternities represented.

Palms and festoons were the decorations, and the shield of each fraternity were suspended from the walls of the ball room. The program consisted of twelve no-breaks, with one special number for each fraternity. During these "specials," the hall was darkened, except for the lights on the fraternity's shield.

At midnight, a delicious lunch was served in the main dining room of the hotel. Each fraternity had its own table, decorated with its colors and flowers.

The chaperones consisted of officials and professors of the University.

Girls Organize To Carry Out Leap Year
Plans

Arguments waxed mightily in a certain class Tuesday, when a Leap Year Club was organized for the promotion of woman's supremacy over the unsuspecting male. From the strong arguments presented one could readily see that much time and thought had been expended upon this subject by the feminine element of the class.

One of the staunch supporters of the Bachelor Club, a charter member of The Lodge of Jilted Brethren, struggled through a long speech replete with convincing argument that the presidential honors should be given to the young woman who could prove herself, by present speech and past accomplishments, to be the lover of ALL MEN and willing to accept anything that will even hint at marriage. After considering the aforesaid requirements and hearing of the great number of men that had cold-heartedly turned her down, Miss I-n- McN. was dubbed president.

For the next five minutes untold suffering reigned, while a certain Phil Delt freshman, one pre-destined to the joys of bachelorhood, was making a speech. Facts were brought to light to show that some shy creature, not intending to bring man unto thralldom of marriage, should be elected secretary and give her entire time to recording the number of refusals the club women realize this year. Several catty speeches were delivered, notably by certain girls whose initials are R. K. and V. G., each using as a keynote the thought that the treasurer should be a person of high pecuniary standing. The before-mentioned Jilted Brother was unanimously chosen to fill this office after the members had learned of the number of "notes" he receives each week from Dean Boyd. The well-known relative of John Barley—supported the nomination and spoke at random frequently.

Like all organizations formed other than by the hand of man something had to be omitted. The vice-president had been overlooked, but after long delivery of proof-bearing arguments L— C—ll persuaded all present that she was the best fitted member for that office and was accepted by acclamation.

El-n-r C-m-k was elected chairman of the constitutional committee with some of the other prominent members of the class as committeemen. Each member on the committee made a speech and though the market was almost cornered by women the male nominee had time to relate the hardships he had weathered, proving that his constitution was perfect; and with several other arguments persuaded the committee to accept his constitution without reservations.

On the last Friday night before examinations of the second semester, a banquet and prizes will be given to the girl having made the most proposals and the boy who spurned the most women with refusals and remains in the paths of success and happiness.

WILDCATS IN ACTION FIRST TIME SATURDAY

Will Tie Up With Strong
Lexington "Y" Team in Practice Game

FIGHT FOR PLACES

Saturday night in the University gymnasium, the Kentucky Wildcat basketball squad will have their first opportunity of matching strength with a rival team when they tackle a strong quintet from the Lexington Y. M. C. A.

Coach Buchheit may give his entire squad a chance to get into the game, as he is desirous of getting a line on the ability of his men before the Wildcats open the season with Cincinnati on the Cincinnati floor January 17.

The fight for regular positions on the Kentucky five is proving a hard one. Coach Buchheit has material for two teams each of nearly strength, and the mix-up Saturday night will be hard fought from the beginning, as each man is anxious to make a good showing, and the line-up which will face Cincinnati next Saturday will be largely determined from the results of this game.

The "Y" team which will play the Wildcats Saturday night is headed by Carl Zerfoss, old "K" man, and includes such old stars as Dud King, of Lexington High, Bill Sloane, Carter Haley, Willis Haley and Howard Turner, who will make up an aggregation which will be a hard nut for the Wildcats to crack.

Another practice game with the Y. M. C. A. team is scheduled for sometime next week, probably Monday night, and the same conditions will also prevail in this game.

Coach Buchheit has been putting his squad through a stiff practice since the end of the holidays, and when the season opens, every man should in first-class condition and ready to begin the scrap for the championship of Kentucky, which was won last year by the Centre Colonels.

Much confidence is expressed by Coach Buchheit and close followers of basketball in the State in regard to Kentucky's chances for a championship team. Probably the best material that has been available for a number of years is now in the University, and from present indications, the 'Cats are due to get away to a flying start when they stack up against Cincinnati in the first game.

FACULTY WOMEN HAVE A NEW ORGANIZATION

The faculty women of the University are organizing a lunch club to meet the first and third Fridays of each month in the freshman journalism room. The organization meeting will be held Friday, January 23 from 12:15 to 1:15 and all women of the faculty are invited to be present.

UNIVERSITY OF KY. ATHLETICS ON BOOM

Boxing and Wrestling Tournament and Intra-Scholastic Basketball on Card.

An extensive athletic program is being arranged by Athletic Director Boles for students of the University, and opportunity will be given nearly every one who so desires, a chance to take part in some branch of athletic activity.

The Intra-scholastic basketball tournament will begin in a short time, which embraces eight teams representing each class and college in the University. Even more interest is being manifested in this basketball tournament than was in interclass football in the fall, and a spirit of rivalry is running high among the various classes and colleges. Captains have been elected by nearly all the teams, and the others are urged to get together at once and organize.

Another feature of the athletic program which will prove of much interest to many students is the announcement of a boxing and wrestling tournament, which any student in the University is eligible to enter. Preliminaries will be held at appointed times with the losers being eliminated from each contest until finally the champion boxer and wrestler in each class will be selected.

Many embryo prizefighters and wrestlers are already working out on the University gym in preparation for participation in the tournament, and indications are that a large number will enter the contests.

THE BOY STOOD ON IT.

We were crowded by the questions,
Not a soul would dare to peep,
For a quiz was on the blackboard,
And the Prof was not asleep.

'Tis a fearful thing in college
To be tortured by a quiz,
And to hear some grim Professor
Thunder, "Take it as it is!"

So we suffered on in silence,
Each one with his own affairs,
'I have flunked!' the Senior muttered.

As he staggered down the stairs,
But the little Freshman whispered
As it took his inky paw,
'Isn't grit with nthe spirit
Just the same as in the crew?'

Then they guyed the little Freshman,
And they told it being game
Didn't work with the Professor—
And the Senior flunked the same.
—Simps.

RAFINESQUE CLUB TO MEET IN NEW ROOMS

The Rafinesque Botany Club will hold its regular meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Botany rooms in White Hall. Important business matters will be brought up. Among other things, the constitution will be discussed. It is imperative that every member of the club be present at this first meeting of the year.

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.

The selection of suitable drug store goods is better here than usual for the very simple reason that not only do we stock practically anything and everything that any drug store anywhere could offer you, but we arrange and display them in such a way as to make selection easy, rapid and satisfactory. The quality of everything we sell is high-grade. True, there are medium priced and low-priced goods, but value for value, price for price, there are better offerings here than elsewhere. ## NEW COURSES OFFERED IN SOCIAL SERVICE

Miss Wherry To Conduct Lecture Course and Field Work

A new semester course in social service training will be offered in the Department of Economics and Sociology during the second semester. This course should prove of extreme value to all students who are planning to enter professional careers or who take an interest in problems of a general social nature.

Most American communities are suffering today from the lack of trained leadership in social and civic activities. To meet this situation the American Red Cross is stimulating the training of social leaders by cooperating with the State Universities in developing courses in applied sociology and recruiting students for courses which are already offered. The University of Kentucky has been selected as one of the best training schools for this sort of work.

The courses which have been added to the curriculum are as follows:

Sociology 57. Social Service Training.—Two lectures, one conference per week. Prerequisite, one course in Sociology or same taken concurrently. Two credits. Second semester. Miss Wherry.

Sociology 58. Social Service Training.—Field Work.—Practical work in social service. Prepares for Red Cross secretaryships. Includes problems in family life, public health, first aid, child welfare, community organization and surveys. Must be taken with, or preceded by, course number

57. Nine hours field work per week. Three credits. Second semester. Miss Wherry.

These courses are open to all students of Junior and Senior standing. Students who are interested in this work are urged to confer with Miss Wherry, who is supervisor of field work, or with Dr. Cornell, who has general direction of the Red Cross Social Service Training.
