Committee Approves New SC Constitution

By NORRIS JOHNSON

A new constitution for Student Congress was approved yesterday by the Faculty Committee on Student Organizations.

Dr. Stephen Diachun, committee chairman, said the constitution was approved "essentially as written." The only changes were in the

SENATOR COOPER

Sen. Cooper To Visit UK

Sen. John Sherman Cooper is coming to UK Monday to meet the students and faculty and to make a brief speech.

After a handshaking session Monday afternoon at the Administration Building, the senator will speak at 4 o'clock on the importance of education in today's world.

The UK Young Republican Club is arranging the senator's visit. President Ted Monroe said that after the speech, Mr. Cooper will lead a motorcade from the campus to the Republican Youth Center in Gardenside Shopping Center.

Students and faculty members may join the motorcade. It is expected to arrive at the center shortly before 5 p.m.

Skip Stigger, law student from Henderson, is chairman of the arrangements committee. Students interested in working on the committee can contact Stigger at University number 7913.

wording of some sections, he said. Bob Wainscott, SC president and member of the committee, said that the congress would begin operating under the revised constitution immediately.

An election board will be established at an SC meeting Monday night to make plans for the election of congress members, Wainscott said. The election should be held within two or three weeks.

Ratified by Student Congress during the spring semester, the proposed constitution had been in the hands of the Faculty committee since May.

The committee's major objections concerned the sections pertaining to student representation on faculty committees, Dr. Diachun said.

The committee was concerned with whether it had authority to approve a document which conflicts with a Board of Trustees ruling.

One student now sits on faculty committees. Although the approved constitution provides for three students on the committees, the Board of Trustees still must consent to the change.

After the constitution was studied by a subcommittee headed by Dr. Virgil Christian, some sections were reworded before its approval yesterday.

Copies of the approved constitution will be distributed to students as soon as possible, Wainscott said.

Representation in Student Congress will be the major change under the new constitution. Departmental representation will be set up with representation paralleling that of the University Faculty.

There are presently 78 Faculty members. The total number of votes under the old constitution was 32.

Another major change provides that the SC president and other officers will be elected by the congress rather than by the student body.

A provision for write-in candidates is also contained in the constitution as approved yesterday.

The committee also voted to recognize a local chapter of Psi Chi, national psychology honorary, and approved the dean of men's interpretation of the academic probation rule as applied to intramural athletics.

Under the interpretation, students on probation will not be permitted to participate in intramural sports.

Students Protest Football Seating

A petition protesting group seating at football games was received by Bob Wainscott, SC president, yesterday. The petition contained 73 signatures.

"We the undersigned request the Student Congress to reconsider their plan to make arrangements for Greek organizations to have reserved sections at the home football games," the petition read.

Brad Bloc, graduate student, circulated the petition. The 73 signatures were gotten in less than an hour, Bloc said.

In a letter accompanying the petition, Bloc stated the petitioners' arguments.

"Each student pays the same fee, so why should one student get a special seat just because he belongs to a group," Bloc wrote.

Wainscott said that no action would be taken unless a motion was made from the floor at the SC meeting Monday night.

"The students should see their representatives to the congress and have them raise the issue for discussion," Wainscott said.

No provisions for group seating have been made this year, he pointed out. Any provision would have to be discussed and voted on by Student Congress, he said.

Seats for the Auburn game were allotted on a first-come, first-served basis. The same arrangements will be in effect this Saturday, Wainscott said.

The argument raised by organizations which favor group seating is that it will increase team spirit and enthusiasm at the games, Wainscott said.

Dave McLellan, IFC president, refused to comment on the issue. He said he would present his views at a Student Congress meeting.

Athletic director Bernie Shively said that he would prefer to have seating on a first-come, first-served basis, but would go along with anything SC decides.

Leadership Conference

Final registration for the leadership conference will be held today at the SUB ticket booth. Students planning to attend the conference should register between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Expansion Program Begins In December

More than five million dollars has been appropriated for a University expansion program which will begin in December.

Frank D. Peterson, vice president for business administration, said the program includes two buildings and an addition to the Margaret I. King Library. A women's dormitory and twelve tennis courts will also be built.

The present University tennis courts mark the site of the proposed physical sciences building, scheduled for completion in September, 1962. Work on the two-million dollar structure, which will house the Chemistry and Physics Departments, will begin early in December.

Drop-Add Procedure

Today is the last day on which a course may be dropped without a grade. Students should bring all copies of their drop-add forms and permits to enroll to the registrar's station located on the west concourse of the Coliseum before 4:30 p.m.

The College of Commerce building, another two-million dollar structure, will be completely air-conditioned. It will also contain a small auditorium seating 250.

The two-million dollar library addition will provide a greater area for the book stacks. Study cubicles will be added, and the entire library will be air conditioned. Bids for the addition will be taken in December or January, and work will begin in February or March.

Bids for the 175-bed women's dormitory will be taken in November. The dormitory will also house a central kitchen and dining area for all women students living in dormitories. Thus, residents of Keeneland and Holmes Halls will no longer dine in the SUB cafeteria.

Twelve tennis courts, to be located southwest of the University Observatory, will replace the present courts next spring.

Two fraternity houses, now being built, will be completed before spring. They are the Sigma Chi house at the corner of Hilltop and

WORLD NEWS AT A GLANCE

Australia Denounces Khrush
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Australia denounced Soviet Premier Khrushchev today as a hypocritical latter-day Caesar trying to break up the U.N. and advance his influence by threats and violence.

The sizzling attack came as a tense struggle shaped up in the U.N. General Assembly over an apparently foredoomed neutralist attempt to bring President Eisenhower once again face to face with the Soviet leader.

Khrush Dislikes Philippine-U.S. Ties

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—The Philippines re-affirmed its alliance with the United States today and got table-thumping disapproval from Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

While Western delegations applauded, Khrushchev pounded his desk on three separate occasions as chief Philippine Delegate Francisco Delgado addressed the General Assembly in a major policy speech. Khrushchev was grinning.

Catholic Laymen Endorse Separation

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 5 (AP)—A group of more than 150 Roman Catholic laymen today expressed belief in separation of church and state, declaring it is the "best guarantee of religious freedom and civic peace."

The laymen's petition did not directly take note of the Catholic religion of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate for president although the statement was aimed at the campaign issue of religion.

Whites Vote On African Status

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Oct. 5 (AP)—A massive turnout of South Africa's white minority voted in balmey weather today on whether this country should abandon its status as a constitutional monarchy under the British crown to become a republic.

Approval of the plan, backed by the white supremacy government of Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, could lead to South Africa's ouster from the multi-racial commonwealth.

Nehru Says Meeting Advisable

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India declared today that failure of the United Nations to press for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting at this moment of East-West tension would be dangerous, harmful and totally unjustifiable.

Nehru asked the 98-nation General Assembly on behalf of five neutral nations for approval of a resolution expressing hope that Eisenhower and Khrushchev will renew their personal contacts.

Kennedy Speaks At Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 5 (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy tonight jabbed at "position papers" put out by Vice President Richard M. Nixon on education and housing, at a fund-raising dinner here.

The senator flew here for his first Kentucky appearance of the campaign after a day of touring Central and Southern Indiana.

Prof. Portmann's Relative Students Run Cider Press
Hurt In Plant Explosion

Sanford Neely, son-in-law of Victor Portmann, UK journalism professor, was injured Tuesday in the explosion at the Eastman Chemical Corp. plant in Kingsport, Tenn.

Prof. Portmann said Mr. Neely, a research chemist, suffered three broken ribs and "cuts from head to foot caused by flying glass."

Officials at Kingsport counted 11 dead yesterday, two missing and presumed dead, and at least 60 injured by the explosion which ripped through the sprawling chemical plant.

A Tennessee Eastman Corp. spokesman said it was the worst disaster the firm had suffered in 40 years of operation. Company officials were unable to immediately determine the cause of the blast.

Nearly 50 bushels of apples were converted into cider Tuesday afternoon on the Agriculture Experimental Farm by members of the Horticulture Club.

Each bushel of apples was transformed into about three gallons of sweet cider by a hydraulic press. The cider will be sold by the club.

One group of members operated the press while another group gathered apples from the orchard nearby. The faculty advisors, Dr. Donald J. Cotter and Dudley C. Martin of the horticulture department, supervised the operation.

Dr. Martin explained that the apples were undersized or had fallen to the ground and were unsalable as fresh fruit. Each year the Horticulture Club is given the apples to make into cider to raise money for its treasury.

About 250 gallons were sold last year, Ray Adams, club president, said. He said they would press about the same amount this year.

A mixture of sweet and sour apples produces the best cider, Dr.

Cotter explained, and several types were used.

Money raised through the sale of cider is used by the club to send members to various meetings and conferences during the year, Adams said.

TIPS ON TOGS

By "LINK"

THE POPULARITY of corduroy is growing by leaps and bounds—the vested corduroy suit is a terrific hit for fall campus wear. The vests are reversible—corduroy on one side and the other matches the coat lining (usually plaid or some print design)—nothing but swiny!

EXPERIMENT—Try a pair of handsome, soft plaid slax, with a solid color Blazer Coat. Don't scoff at the combination until you have viewed same — (people laughed when I predicted cuffless trousers—now look!).

HOP SACKING—(Sounds almost like sock hopping). Weave for suits, sport coats, trousers, and topcoats is a big important favorite on all campuses. I can understand why—The weave makes the material very rugged and rich looking—adding a casual yet dressy appearance.

TIP—The recent trend for thinner cuffs, makes good sense to me and they are much neater. Tell your fitter to give you a 1 1/4 inch cuff, I think you'll like.

ANOTHER TIP—On your next shirt (dress or sport) buying expedition, ask to see the "Form Fitting" or Tapered models — no bulk at your waist line, thus giving one more comfort and a trimmer figure.

NEXT WEEK—I will describe a very sharp outfit of threads, I spotted being worn by a student of your university—who?—who?—who? (I sound like an owl) and now 'tis time to put down my pen and go earn a living.

So long for now

Let's Be Fair

The Seating Plan

Student Congress President Bob Wainscott's recent announcement that the congress is planning to make arrangements to allow Greeks groups and their dates to sit together has aroused considerable indignation among independent students.

A petition calling upon SC to reconsider the decision to request special sections for Greeks has been circulated and been signed by approximately 70 students. The petition, although it does not represent a large group, was in circulation for only an hour and many more students than are listed share its views.

The complaint of these students is justified. If there are to be reserved sections for some students, why not reserved sections for all students? We do feel, however, that there should be some clarification of SC's proposed request.

Last year's reserved seating arrangement placed all the Greek groups that wanted to sit together in Section B-west, a block of seats running from the 10-yard line to the 25-yard line. Seats between the 25-yard line and midfield were available to all students on a first-come-first-serve basis. Any overflow from the reserved section was directed to the less favorable Section A.

In spite of repeated attempts by Student Congress, the Interfraternity Council, and the University ticket office to get the reserved seating plan functioning properly, it never did operate as had been planned. Bad weather, a losing season, and the lure of better seats in the other sections caused the reserved section to remain unfilled.

We recall several other complications of last year's ill-fated arrangement, including a demand from the Law College that they be permitted to sit in the reserved section (granted), one from Engineering students for the same privilege (partially complied with), and an alleged boycott of the Louisiana State game by independents. What started out as an earnest attempt by Student Congress to accommodate Greek groups without inconveniencing others eventually turned into full-fledged confusion.

While the situation is not as great an infringement of the rights of non-Greek students as it would appear at first glance, it is nonetheless unfair. It is unfair to those who would like to be able to sit anywhere they please in the student section; it is unfair to Student Congress, which has innocently tripped into an unexpected hotbed of student reaction; and it is unfair to the Greek system which must combat the ill will generated by the actions of the small minority of its members who, acting for it, requested special seating privileges.

We strongly urge Mr. Wainscott and the congress to reconsider their action, weighing carefully the fairness of their decision. The congress should remember that it represents all students, not just the Greeks who dominate it.

Reserved Seating

To The Editor:

Once again the foibles of Student Congress are brought to light in the (congress') recent decision to grant the Greeks reserved seats for home football games. Accordingly, Greeks who arrive at Stoll Field immediately before the game will be assured of a fine perspective of the game from the 40-yard line, whereas independents arriving at the time will be relegated to the 10- and 20-yard lines.

The entire student body pays the same amount for the privilege of attending home games. Wherein are the Greeks entitled to the choice seats?

 RICHARD WAITMAN
 JACKIE GORDON

(A clarification of some misunderstandings concerning the reserved seating plan appears elsewhere on this page. Under the reserved seating plan of last year, all unoccupied seats in the Greek section were thrown open to all comers 15 minutes before game time.—THE EDITOR).

Words Of Praise

To The Editor:

I have read the entire editorial page in today's (Tuesday) Kernel. Kindly permit me to say that it ranks TOPS of any that I have ever read. Wouldn't it be wonderful if every student, and particularly the freshmen, would read it; keep it and bring it out and read it again and again?

For 32 years I have been working with college students in various capacities. During these years I have tried to get across to them many of the ideas and thoughts you have so well expressed today.

Hearty congratulations!

Registration Revisted

Those students who failed to pre-classify last spring have no justifiable complaint concerning the waiting and confusion of registration. For it is they who must shoulder the blame for the chaos in the Coliseum last week.

A report from the office of Registrar Charles F. Elton shows that approximately 1,580 students who returned to the campus for the fall term did not preregister last spring. This is almost one-third of the returning students who were enrolled at the University last spring.

Investigation will substantiate the fact that the majority who followed the directives of the registrar had no trouble paying their tuition and completing registration.

With that uncooperative one-third of the returning student body lies the cause of the registration problems of the first week of school.

Much criticism has been levied at Dean Elton, but it is not entirely justified, nor can lack of communications bear the burden.

It is the indignant and uncooperative spirit of an everpresent minority that created the registration problem and it is that minority which should be the object of their own rantings. They have been punished by standing in lines, waiting in packed corridors, and running back and forth from professor to professor, from dean's office to dean's office.

But there is still no acceptable excuse for such neglect on the part of students. Dean Elton feels there should be no exceptions to the fee levied against late registrants. The present penalty is $3; it should be increased to a sum substantial enough to deter students who plan to wait until everyone has registered to pay their fees.

Even more stringent is a recommendation that late registration be discontinued entirely. The present registration periods would be adequate if students would follow instructions.

It is impossible to evaluate a new program such as preclassification without the cooperation of everyone involved. Without evaluation, the program cannot be improved.

Are We Ready ?

From the editorial columns of the Furman Hornet came the following:

"A Furman student experiencing her first year in an American educational institution remarked the other day as she was preparing for her first quiz, 'Over here it is different. You do not cheat. In my country, everyone cheats. It is a game among the students to outwit the professors.'

"She went on to say that there was no student pressure against cheating or any feeling that it was wrong. True, the professors disapproved, but what could they do? Open books, cheat sheets, anything was considered fair play, and it was every man for himself.

"It sounds appalling. Or does it? We may not be so open in our admissions that cheating does occur, but we must admit it become something as dishonest as a 'cheat'—a liar."

This editorial raised a question in our mind. Are we liars. Do we shut our eyes to cheating? Is cheating a game here, too, as it is in that foreign country?

We would like to say, "No, our students are mature enough to realize that if they cheat, they are robbing themselves—of an education."

We are not sure, though. We have seen students berating us for revealing that a football player was caught attempting to steal an examination paper from a professor's office. We have heard students comment that Charles van Doren was not being justly treated when he testified before a Senate committee last year.

The young lady from a foreign country where cheating was merely winked at has accepted the honor system at Furman. Honor systems are coming into existence at many colleges and universities. We wonder if UK students are ready for the mutual trust and moral courage required under such a system.

We certainly hope so.

Ballot Applications Must Be Notarized

Students applying for absentee ballots must have their applications signed by a notary public, said Mrs. Harry T. McChesney, of the Dean of Men's Office, yesterday.

She said the dean's office has hired Dale Bryant, a law student and notary public, to notarize applications.

Bryant will be at the SUB ticket booth from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 2 to 5 p.m. Wednesdays until Oct. 20.

Mrs. McChesney said absentee ballot applications must be in the student's home county clerk's office by Oct. 24.

Wilson Fellowship Competition Opens

Competition for fellowships available to first-year graduate students for the academic year 1961-62 was announced today by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation representative Prof. Robert O. Evans.

A total of 1,000 fellowships are granted annually by the foundation. Fifteen fellowships have been used at UK since the program was inaugurated, Dr. Evans said.

"The purpose of the foundation is to help alleviate one of America's most pressing problems, that of encouraging outstanding young men and women to consider college teaching as a career," Prof. Evans explained.

Fellowships include a stipend of $1,500, plus full tuition and fees, as well as a dependency allowance for married students, Prof. Evans said. Eligible applicants include men and women preparing for their first complete year of graduate work. Candidates may use the fellowships at any university in the United States or Canada.

Nomination for the fellowships can be made by any member of the faculty but no later than Oct. 31. Students should be from the humanities and social sciences, but those in the natural sciences are also considered. Professional fields such as law, medicine, engineering, education, home economics, and business administration are outside the program's scope, Prof. Evans explained.

Further information can be obtained from Prof. Evans, department of English, in Room 223 of McVey Hall.

Graduate Exams

Graduate record exams will be given Friday and Saturday.

They will be given in Room MN, Buell Armory, and Rooms 463 and 536 in the Medical Sciences Building.

Area tests begin at 7:15 a.m. Friday. Aptitude tests start Friday at 1:15 p.m. The advanced tests are scheduled for 8:15 a.m. Saturday.

THE PLEDGE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed at those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a mad success as a sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemothers. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Sigafos" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady!"

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unsightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook goes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soup bone!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority to lounge around campus in your old middy blouse and gym bloomers, but now you must take great pains to dress in a manner which excites admiring comments from all who observe you. A few years ago, for example, there was a Chi Omega named Camille Ataturk at the University of Iowa who brought gods of glory to all her sorors. Camille hit on the ingenious notion of sultry her garb to the class she was attending. For instance, to English Lit she wore a buskin and jerkin. To German she wore lederhosen and carried a stein of pilsener. To Eon she wore 120 yards of ticker tape. Her shiningest hour came one day when she dressed as a white mouse for Psych Lab. Not only her Chi Omega sisters, but the entire student body went into deep mourning when she was killed by the janitor's cat.

Finally, let us take up the most important topic of all. I refer, of course, to dating.

As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the men you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't beat about the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yeah, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukelele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboro's?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know he has taste and discernment, wit and wisdom, character and sapience, decency and warmth, presence and poise, talent and grit, filter and flavor, soft pack and flip-top box. You will be proud of him, your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

The makers of Marlboro, having paid for this column, would like to mention another of their fine cigarettes—mild, unaltered Philip Morris—available in regular size or the sensational new King-size Commander. Have a Commander—welcome aboard.

Delts, KA, Kappa Sigs Win Intramural Openers

The Delts rallied in the second half Tuesday night to defeat upset-minded SAE, 14-6.

In other games, KA trounced PKT, 18-7; KS edged KA, 6-2; and ZBT won over Farm House by picking up more first downs. This game had ended in a 12-12 tie.

The KS-PKA game was played under protest. PKA protested because the game was stopped because of darkness with five minutes left.

SAE held a 6-0 lead over the Delts until midway through the third quarter when Jerry McAtee led a drive that tied the score.

McAtee intercepted a pass on the Delt 40 and a roughing penalty moved the winners to the SAE 45. After Dick Lowe had lost five yards on an end run, Willie Hylton ran the ball to the three-yard line.

Here, McAtee rammed through the middle to tie the game. The run for the extra point failed.

The Delts won the game in the last two minutes on the beautiful faking of Quarterback Jack Crutcher and the running of Hylton.

Crutcher's leadership moved the ball to the three-yard line where Hylton ran it across on fourth down. Dick Lowe ran for the two point conversion.

SAE scored the first time it handled the ball. Its touchdown came on a freak play. Quarterback Norman Remmele caught a pass which had been batted in the air by McAtee.

This score came after the Delts had seemingly stopped an SAE threat with a great goal line stand.

After the Delts had gone ahead, 14-6, SAE threatened in the closing seconds, but were stifled by inaccurate passes and the pass defense antics of McAtee.

Kenny Baker starred on defense for the Delts as did Bob and Buddy Broadbent for SAE.

Kappa Sigma marched to an early touchdown against PKA and then had to fight off a last half surge to take its win.

Quarterback Bill Carder hit Jay Rhoads with a 10-yard pass for the lone KS score. PKA's safety came when the entire team trapped Carder in the end zone.

Jim Channon took charge as the KA's wrecked Phi Tau, 18-7. The fleet Channon scored the first two Kappa Alpha touchdowns and sparkled on defense for the defending fraternity champions.

Phi Tau opened the scoring on a pass from Tom Scott to Charlie Fiske. Another Scott to Fiske pass added the extra point.

Channon then took the kickoff and picked his way past the Phi

Tau defenders for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed.

With 90 seconds remaining in the first half, John Biefus intercepted a pass. Three plays later, Quarterback Bill Tway flipped a pass to Channon for the second Phi Tau score.

Tway scored the last touchdown for Phi Tau on an end sweep.

Fitz's Facts

By John Fitzwater

The king of the "hardnose"—Lloyd Hodge.

Before the season opened UK co-captains Hodge and Jerry Eisaman appeared on a local TV show with Athletic Director Bernie Shively and Coach Blanton Collier. Shively asked Hodge to define "hardnose football player" and the UK guard replied that he couldn't.

This surprised most viewers because Hodge has been called a "hardnose" for three seasons.

The Whitesburg senior lives, eats, and breathes football. He has as much desire to play as any man in the country.

Hodge picked up the nickname "Henry Cabot" during the Republican convention and it fits. He is a rough delegate to have on any Saturday conflict.

Collier has defined "hardnose" as a man with a football heart, inner toughness, and a desire to win. This is Hodge.

An All-State fullback in high school and a reserve back as a freshman and sophomore, Hodge was shifted to linebacker last year and has been tagged one of the country's toughest men at this position.

Hampered this season with minor injuries, Hodge has still proven to be "a bad go getter" when game time rolls around.

The University and the Athletic Department have gone all out to provide intramural participants with a topnotch area for their sports.

However, there is one problem with the three flag football fields. This problem is rocks. The ground is covered with sharp stones the size of baseballs.

University groups organize teams to play and enjoy football—not to be beaten to death.

If something isn't done soon, there is going to be a serious injury and a lot of trouble.

When the Cats meet Marshall Saturday night, it will mark the return of a former UK player.

Cullen Wilson, co-captain of last year's squad, is now serving as an assistant coach at Marshall and has been doing the scouting for the club.

Wilson attended summer school at UK and joined Head Coach Charlie Snyder on September 1. Snyder is a former Wildcat grid assistant.

WBKY To Broadcast Marshall Game Live

WBKY, the University's radio station, will broadcast the Kentucky-Marshall game live Saturday night.

It will be the first live broadcast of a football game since 1957. For the last two years, the games have been taped and played back at a later time.

Don Estep, station sports director, will call the action and Pete Myers will do the color.

Pirates Smack Yanks, 6-4

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates scored three runs on three hits in the first inning, added two more on Bill Mazerowski's homer in the fourth, and whipped the New York Yankees, 6-4, in the opening game of the World Series.

Spectacular relief pitching by Elroy Face in the eighth inning and three double plays saved the victory for Vernon Law and the Pirates.

The Yanks rallied for two runs in the ninth on Gil McDougald's single and pinch-hitter Elston Howard's homer, but a double play started by Mazerowski ended the game. Mazerowski, a stickout at bat and in the field, figured in all three double plays.

Although he was belted for the two final runs, Face hurt the Yanks with his iron-nerved pitching against the heart of their attack in the eighth.

Trailing 6-2, the Yanks threatened in the eighth when Hector Lopez and Roger Maris, who got three hits including a first inning homer, singled to lead off the inning.

Law, the Pirates' 20-game winner, then was replaced by the rubberarmed Face. The veteran quickly chilled the Yanks. He got American League home run king

Mickey Mantle on a called strike, Yogi Berra on a fly to short right, and fanned Bill Skowron on a fast ball.

The Pirates, appearing in their first World Series since they were trounced four straight by the Yankees in 1927, cheered the 36,679 fans in Forbes Field with their three run spree in the first inning.

They unsettled the Yanks, who had finished the American League race with 15 consecutive victories, with their base running and alertness.

A walk, two stolen bases and Berra's throwing error, plus Dick Groat's double and singles by Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente accounted for the three runs that drove starter-loser Art Ditmar out of the game.

A walk to Don Hoak and Mazerowski's blast over the scoreboard in left field, well past the 365-foot marker, gave the Pirates two runs off Jim Coates and a 5-2 lead in the fourth. Coates, a right-hander like Ditmar, had relieved in the first inning.

The Pirates scored their sixth run in the sixth inning off Duke Maas on Mazerowski's single, Law's sacrifice and Bill Virdon's double off the right field screen.

The Yanks got their first two on Maris' 350-homer to right in the first inning, and a single by Maris, a walk to Mantle and Skowron's single in the fourth.

Graphic Art Show To Open Saturday

Andre Racz, renowned painter, printmaker, poet and professor of art at Columbia University, will open a one-man graphic art show at 3 p.m. Saturday in the University Art Gallery.

A reception will be given in his honor during the opening, marking the beginning of the 1960-61 art season.

For his Lexington debut, the artist has donated a print for the benefit of the Chilian Relief Fund. It is a print of a poem by Thomas Merton and an etching-engraving which Racz has done of the Crucifixion.

This etching-poem was included in a volume published in New York which included the works of outstanding painters and printmakers. The print is valuable because it is the last one of a series and signifies an important phase of the artist's work.

Born in Rumania in 1916, Racz has shown his work in the leading galleries of New York and other world centers of art. His work is included in the top collections and has been awarded many prizes including a Guggenheim Fellowship for Printmaking in 1956 and a Fulbright research scholarship to the University of Chile in 1957. The artist's family is still in Chile, hit recently by destructive earthquakes.

Last summer, Racz was a visiting professor at UK during High School Studio Week sponsored by the Lexington Junior League. He was honored with a purchase prize in "Graphic 59."
