FORD FOUNDATION AWARDS CRL $1 MILLION GRANT

The Board of Directors of The Center for Research Libraries (CRL) announced on September 18, 1980, that the Ford Foundation has awarded CRL a grant of $1 million to augment its building program fund.

The grant will be added to a growing fund to be used by CRL to expand its current facilities located in the Hyde Park neighborhood of Chicago adjacent to the University of Chicago campus. The Center has been situated there since 1950. In recent years, CRL programs for new acquisitions of research materials and storage of infrequently used materials donated by its members have been limited due to crowded facilities. The expanded building program is designed to remove such limitations.

Dr. Beverly P. Lynch, Chairman of the CRL Board of Directors and University Librarian at the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle in announcing the award at the Board's September 18 meeting in Chicago, stated that the Center's membership had voted in April to establish a building program of at least $3 million to be funded from a variety of sources. This $3 million building program will enable the Center for Research Libraries nearly to double its present storage facilities. Financing of the project will be completed by the end of 1980, and construction is slated to begin in early 1981.

Donald B. Simpson, Director of CRL, commented that the receipt of the Ford Foundation grant is a significant part of a building program to expand CRL facilities. "This will greatly add to our ability to serve our members as a national resource," he added.

FIRE ALARM CHECK

Fire alarms will be checked in King North and South between 7:30 and 8:30am on November 3, 1980 and December 1, 1980. Please mark these dates on your calendar. You do not need to leave the building during these checks.

INSTITUTIONAL SELF-STUDY

At its May meeting, the University Board of Trustees authorized an Institutional Self-Study for the University System of the University of Kentucky. This kind of study, normally conducted every ten years, is a requirement for continued accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It is also an opportunity for the University to assess its current status, to ascertain the direction in which it is moving, to establish needs and priorities, and to plan for the future.

The following persons have been asked to serve on the Committee on the Library, one of fifteen special subcommittees involved in this self-study:

Dr. Lois Chan - Chair
Dr. Joseph Jones
Ms. Gail Kennedy
Dr. Paul Willis
Dr. William J. Chambliss
Mr. Thomas Coward
Mr. Alexander Gilchrist
Mr. Harry Gilbert
Mr. Omer Hamlin, Jr.
Dr. William James
Dr. Marcus T. McEllistrem
Dr. Thomas Waldhart

RETIRED SENIOR VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Dr. Howard Beers, through the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), has offered to assist students with basic writing skills problems. He is available in the Instructional Services Room, first floor, King Library South, on Tuesday afternoons and Thursday mornings. This assistance is especially valuable this semester since the writing skills tutoring, funded last year through Arts and Sciences, is no longer available in Instructional Services.

STATEWIDE EDUCATIONAL, OCCUPATIONAL INFORMATION SERVICE

Kentuckians can now dial a toll-free number to find out about postsecondary education opportunities throughout the state. The new service, called the Kentucky Educational/Career Information Hotline, provides information about career and employment opportunities in Kentucky.

According to Susan Griffin of Kentuckiana Metroversity in Louisville, who coordinates the service, the hotline number, 1-800-292-2253, can be dialed toll free from anywhere in the state.

Callers can get information about programs and courses offered by all two- and four-year colleges and universities, vocational-technical schools, proprietary schools, and professional schools in Kentucky. Information about financial aid, transferring, tutoring services, career opportunities, and sources of employment information is also available.

"But we're not an employment or job referral service," said Ms. Griffin. "We have general information about opportunities here in the state in different occupational fields and where people can learn about job opportunities in their local areas."

The hotline is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and an educational counselor takes calls from 10am to 8pm (eastern time) from Monday through Friday. The service is funded by the state Council on Higher Education.
