War's Week

By JIM WOOLDRIDGE

That Italy's Invasion... of Greece had bogged down and is nearing a road block. It is apparent this week as the defenders turned on Pasist troops in the treacherous mountains of the Grecoan frontier.

Crack Italian Centaur division of 15,000 men was trapped by the skirts of the Greeks in the mountains, reportedly annihilated by Reuters, British news agency. All along the front, similar Greek victories were in evidence.

'Free French' troops... in Africa, carrying on their battle against the axis, attacked Gibon in French Equatorial Africa with the help of British naval and air forces.

Reported in their move on Dakar in September, the loyal French troops are still trying to open a route to Britain's Egyptian Sudan in the Eastern portion of the dark continent.

Germany's Vital Krupp Works... were described "a mass of flames" after raids by British bombers. Unhindered by Nazi anti-aircraft fire or fighter planes, the R. A. F. raiders looted tons of bombs on Hitlerland's most important armament factory.

English aircraft had the upper hand in last week's raids despite Germany's dwindling numerical superiority in planes. British bombers were British and neutral ships instead of the usual island objectives.

According to British spokesmen, the German attacks on English cities have been wholly unsuccessful in recent weeks and London observers predicted that the danger of invasion would wait until spring.

Japanese Troops... were reported withdrawing from their front lines in China this week after three years' their war of attrition with the forces of Chang Kai Shek. Japanese explanation: the troops were moving back to shorten supply lines, possibly for a "new" mission.

At a recent meeting of the YM senior cabinet, Penick, a YM senior cabinet member, succeeds Jim Caldwell, who edited this year's freshman handbook. He is musical columnist for The Kernel and the Wildcat. Long, successor to Bill Karraker is also a member of the YM senior cabinet.

Students who have received some coop benefits are ineligible for refunds, in compliance with the SGA judicial committee's recommendations. Sublett said. Kendall is required under suffrage of expulsion to re-register by November 20, the sum registered to the standards committee for distribution to claimants.

DEFENSE COURSE PETITIONS FILED

UK Application Is First Placed

Applications for appropriations to provide for courses in the inspection of ordnance and airplane engines and for airplane engine training have been submitted by the University as an additional part of its national defense work. Dean J. H. Graham of the engineering college has announced.

Kentucky was the first national University to apply for such training. Dean Graham said. All applications must be registered by November 23 with the Commissioner of Education who will probably release his decision about December 3.

The courses will be offered to senior and graduate engineering students who are interested in advancing their airplane engine technical knowledge, and will be taught in the Wenner-Gren laboratory by engineering faculty members, the dean stated.

Discussion of decorations for the Fall Festival and plans for a club party will be conducted at a meeting of the University 4-H club at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, in the game room of the Agriculture building, according to Ernest Harris, president.

All former 4-H club members who are not yet affiliated with the local group, are invited to attend the meeting, Harris said.

Jitterbug Contest To Be Held Today

Arthur Morris' all-student orchestra will provide the music.

Non-Credit Band To Be Organized

The band is being organized for the benefit of student musicians who do not have much time to devote to practice, according to Mr. Maguire.

Director Will Speak Gayle Starnes, assistant director of University extension, will direct the Southern Audio-Visual aids conference Thursday and Friday in Atlanta, Ga.

Pass The Loan Fund Bill

We are informed by SGA officials that the bill to create a loan fund for financially pressed students will be brought up, perhaps for final vote, before the Legislature tonight.

The Kernel, having a more than passing interest in the possibilities of such an act, strongly urges that it be passed. As we have pointed out before, there is at present a $2,300 surplus in the student body treasury—an amount, which should be converted into a fund for loans or scholarships, could do infinite good for a number of worthy UK undergraduates. Lying idle this money can perform no possibly good function. Nor could it result in much permanent benefit should it be splurged on a "name" band for a gigantic hop—as we have heard suggested by some.

The loan fund idea is therefore the most practical, and by far the worst needed—as a few months service on the SGA student welfare committee will convince even the most calloused. It is for this reason that we hope the bill passes, and to its administration once passed, we pledge the support of this newspaper.

Ishmael's Dynamite Charges Derail Tech Ramblin' Wrecks As Wildcats Run Wild, 26-7

Big Blue Shows Convincing Form Before 15,000 Louisville Boosters

By ROY STEINPORT Kernel Sports Editor

Dave Zoeller wrote Kentucky's victory ticket and pounding Dutch Ishmael delivered it to Georgia Tech's Ramblin' Wrecks 26-7 Saturday in Louisville's old Pont Main stadium as 15,000 pop-eyed spectators witnessed the parade of play and the convincing performance of the season.

Flicking the brand of ball that rated them the "darkest team" of the south this season, Kentucky got off to a flying start when Dave Zoeller excoriated 65 yards on the first play from scrimmage to rocket the Kentuckians into a 7-0 lead before three minutes of play had elapsed.

Run Demoralizes Tech Zoeller's brilliant run seemed to have the same effect on the lads from Seattle's O'Hara's backyard as Jones' fumble did in the Alabama game the preceding week. The tide turned then and there in Kentucky's favor and never during the remaining 57 minutes did the Yellow Jackets display the spirit they showed in skins out at 13-4 victory over Kentucky in '39.

After Zoeller's early run, big Charles Ishmael, the flying Dutchman, led the flying Dutchman to the pigskin through the uprights to send Kentucky in the lead 7-0. Blues March Again The Big Blues' second touchdown march began after the kickoff and an exchange of punts. Jones took a punt from Tech on his own 15 and returned it to the mid-field stripe before he was stopped. And here's where Ishmael and company stepped in. The flying Dutchman added the second touchdown to the final barrage eleven plays later when he blasted his way through the Tech right guard position for a yard gain and a six-point play.

On this sustained drive down the field, the big fellow carried the ball eight times on long kicks, rattling off four first downs while en route to the coveted line. Jones' placement was wide.

Engineers Rally Tech rallied for a few moments to nab his lone touchdown, moving 67 yards in eight plays.

On Tech's third down, little Johnny Bosch faded back from his 35 and sailed a long heave into the waiting arms of George Webb. Tech's big long striding end, who tucked the ball under his arm at midfield and angled off to the right scampering down to the 19 where that man Ishmael caught a shoe-lace and pulled him down.

Two line plunges and a five yard penalty gave the southerners a first down on Kenton's seven. Johnny Zoeller took the ball from center Joe Bailey and tumbled fast for the

CAMPUS AFFAIRS PLAN OF ACTION ADOPTED BY ASU

Group Advocates Youth Act Passage, 'Bill Of Rights'

With a "fundamental policy to consider all needs of the youth and to appraise the facilities and resources for serving these needs," the Kentucky chapter of the American Student Union adopted a campus-national program of action at a meeting Friday night in the Union building.

The campus affairs section consists of three points: "1. The permanent establishment of an extended National Youth Administration through passage of the American Youth act. The present NYA is temporary, on a year to year basis, operating with inadequate funds. The passage of the American Youth act would provide increased vocational guidance, training, and educational opportunities for all university students. It would establish a permanent NYA and would increase the funds to a minimum, adequate appropriation.

"2. Opposition to attempts to restrict academic freedom. The ASU protests against any move to curtail the freedom of expression of University students, student press, student governments, and professors, who are in the vanguard of American democratic thought and practice. To safeguard these rights, we urge the passage of a Bill of Rights for the student constitution.

"3. Non-factionalism and competent representation in student government. For the better interests of the student body, we favor a more coordinated program of action of all campus factions of student government. We urge and support an investigation of the working conditions of the students and the setting up of suitable standards and the means of enforcing these standards.

The ASU officer explained that a student hospital fund and a student loan fund to aid needy students.

From a national viewpoint, the local chapter advocates the following: "1. Maintenance of the democratic process guaranteed in the Bill of Rights.

"2. Non-intervention in foreign wars. Recent world-wide developments indicate that America is facing a greater crisis than ever before. Therefore, we urge the Student Government association to keep in mind their anti-war commitments.

Groups Must Obtain Dance Permission All organizations planning to give dances, must obtain permission from either the dean of men's or dean of women's office at least 48 hours before the party, according to ruling made by the Social committee yesterday afternoon.

Chaperones must also be submitted. The committee decided, and petitions for second-semester dances must be turned in by December 1.

SGA To Consider Bills, Budget

Consideration of bills in the hands of the rules committee and work on the budget will highlight the meeting of the SGA at 8 p. m. today in Room 204 of the Union building, according to Robert Allen, student body president.

Appointment of new committees also may be made, Allen indicated. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

GUIGNOL SLATES SHAW SATIRE

'The Women' Sets Attendance Record

George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," a satire on war, will be the next major production of the Guignol theater, according to an announcement from the theater office. It will show the week of December 9.

Demands for Shaw dramas have been persistent for two years, Frank Fowler, Guignol director said, adding that Shaw appeal, with the timeliness of the war satire, will continue the record attendance which the Euclid avenue playhouse has seen so far.

Closing its second hold-over performance last Tuesday night, "The Women," Guignol's first production set an attendance record with eight sell-out houses. Requests were made for a road tour of Clare Booth Luce's comedy, but the Guignol front office refused because of the large cast and complicated properties in production.

Simpler to produce than "The Women," the Shaw comedy concerns the action of a soldier who carries chocolate drops instead of bullets. Only two scenes are necessary.

The play, a typical show production, disregards established canons of drama. It contains scenes where two characters do nothing but talk. Many speeches are long, character breaks. There are only seven characters in the three-acts.

Hey Freshman! Here's Your Chance To Meet The Gals

Freshman boys will have their chance tomorrow night—because there won't be any upperclassman sophisticates at the Y mixer from 7:30 to 10 p. m. in the woman's gymnasium. Just Freshman boys and girls.

Miss Dorothy Seward, YWCA secretary, explained that the new mixer will include the upperclassmen so that first year women can meet their classmates without being overwhelmed by the University's star athletes and BMOC's.

Tomorrow night's entertainment will begin with folk games directed by Lorraine Lewis, followed by circle dancing to the music of a nickered-down. Candy pulling will close the party.

In charge of the arrangement are Betty Longworth, Jeff Pruitt, Julie Waters, Maryann Rogh, and Helen Moffett.

500 Directories Still Available

More than 500 student directories are still available for distribution at the Alumni office, 124 Union building, until the supply is exhausted. Late registrants and changes will be reported to the registrar's office for publication or correction.

She Was Called 'Woman Capable Of Being President'

Nominated by Fortune magazine as "one woman who is capable of being President of the United States," Dr. Lillian Moller Gilbreth, author, homemaker, and consulting engineer of Montclair, N. J., will address the faculty and students at general convocation at 9 a. m. Thursday in Memorial Hall.

A Phi Beta Kappa, Doctor Gilbreth will discuss "Skills and Status Factors." She is nationally regarded as an authority on motive study and management, and has directed numerous courses on the "one best way to do work." She is a member of the President's emergency committee for employment and the President's organization on unemployment relief. Internationally, the speaker has served on the Institute of Scientific Management of Poland.

Author of Many Books From a literary viewpoint, Doctor Gilbreth has written numerous books on management, homemaking, and relations with children. In addition, she has contributed various articles to national magazines and periodicals.

The speaker holds eight degrees from five different universities. They include a bachelor's and master's degree of letters and a doctor of laws degree from the University of California; a doctor's degree in science and philosophy from Brown university; a mechanical engineering degree from the University of Michigan; a doctorship in mechanical engineering from Rutgers; and a doctor of science degree from Russell Sage college.

All second hour classes will be dismissed for the convocation.

The lessons, taught by John P. Miles, first year student, at 7:15 p. m. each Thursday, began last week, but are still open to those interested. The price for the entire course is 50 cents.

The Case For Cribbing: Some Conclusions Concerning It

Elsewhere on this page appears a column by John Ed Pearce, the iconoclast within our midst, which for the most part is a defense of the prevailing student philosophy on the subject of classroom cheating.

In brief, it goes something like this: it does not matter so much what you are or what you say or what you do, so long as you are consistent with the pattern which you have cut out for yourself.

These points, together with a few minor explanations, build up what appears on the surface to be a pretty sound defense for classroom cheating, and were the problem itself only a surface one, this newspaper would be perfectly content to accept Mr. Pearce's arguments as comprising a convincing case.

VICTORIOUS CATS GIVEN DAY OFF

Celebrating the Georgia Tech victory Saturday with a well-deserved off-day yesterday, Kentucky's high flying Wildcats this afternoon will turn their attentions toward preparing for the West Virginia game this coming Saturday in Morgantown, W. Va.

The Mountaineers, bally-hooded in the early stages of the season as a "darkhorse of the east," have bogged down with the procession of Saturday afternoons until last Saturday they had great difficulty in tying the University of Cincinnati, 7-7. Earlier in the season, Cincinnati barely defeated little University of Louisville 5-4.

George Washington defeated the Mountaineers 19-0 three weeks ago and Kentucky turned back the crew from the nation's capital 24-0 four Saturdays ago.

Coach Kieran Announced Yesterday That the Cats will Scrimmage Heavy Tuesday and Wednesday. They will train for Morgantown after a light workout Thursday afternoon. According to present plans they will stay in neighboring Fairmont Friday night, and ride a bus over to Morgantown Saturday morning.

"Providing we have no further injuries this week, we'll go into the West Virginia game in the best physical condition of the year," Coach Kieran said yesterday. Captain Ebbert, who has been sidelined for two weeks with a wrenched knee, will be ready for action, along with Eddie Fritz who broke his nose in scrimmage last Friday.

Possey To Enter Aviation Corps

Widely known as a member of the University and the Lexington Gold-Gloves boxing teams last year, Cabell Possey has been accepted as a flying cadet in the United States Aviation Corps.

One of the nine youths chosen from 27 taking aviation tests at Fairfield, Ohio, Possey was selected preliminary training at Love Field, Dallas, Texas.

Bosch sneaked into the Kentucky line, appeared to be buried under a mass of linemen, only to come flying out of a hole, stumbling to the two-yard stripe. And again it was a fullback, Ralph Flasters — who sneaked over the Cats guard with his team's lone touchdown.

Teams Settle Down

Both teams settled down in the second quarter to play ball between the forty-yard markers.

After Noah Mullins returned the second kickoff from the 25 to the 30 where he was downed, dynamiting Dutch Ismael took the stadium by storm. The original Celtics will meet a team of former University stars on January 6 in Alumni gymnasium, according to C. A. Webb of the Lexington Lions club, which is sponsoring the game.

Cats Are Hurt

Noting happiness to an already happy ending was the fact that not a single Cat received any serious injury in the battle. Captain John Ebner and guard Eddy Fritz on the bench matched the nervousness of Coach Kieran during the game. Fritz had suffered a broken nose in scrimmage Friday. Both will be ready and rarin' for the West Virginia tilt Saturday at Morgantown, Va.

Intramurals

With the halfway mark almost passed, the final outcome of volleyball tournament is beginning to take shape. In division 1 of the A league, the Delts have proved strongest, with most of the competition coming from the Phi Delts. The K-Club and Gamma Tau Alpha dominate the second division, the latter holding the edge with three victories. Division 3 is the toughest bracket, with AGR, the Kappa Sig, and SAE all battling for top honors.

In league B and AGR's and the Phi Delts have made division 1 a dogfight. In division 2 the Triangles with a trio of triumphs, have taken a commanding lead.

Friday's games postponed because of the football game at Louisville, will be played Wednesday night.

In tennis tournament, Krentler and Harris, Kappa Alpha's entry, clinched the doubles title in defeating Spangens and Denny. The quarter-finals have been reached in the singles with Spangens, Krentler, Orny, and Denny looming as the possible champion.

Meanwhile there has been an ample response to the call for entries in the basketball and swimming tournament. A large number of boys have reported to both boxing and wrestling training classes. Cliff Bailey, senior manager, announced that the deadline for the entries has been moved up to Nov. 13 and all contestants must report to the dispensary this week to undergo a physical. Two weeks with a wrenched knee, will be ready for action, along with Eddie Fritz who broke his nose in scrimmage last Friday.

NET SEASON SET TO OPEN DECEMBER 7

Seven Lettermen, Thirteen Others Report For Team

Kentucky Wildcats, kingspins of the Southeastern Conference for the past two years will inaugurate their 1940-41 basketball season against the Alumni December 7 in Alumni gymnasium.

Highlighting this year's schedule are the Sugar Bowl game of Indiana on New Year's Eve at New Orleans, and the Notre Dame contest at Louisville on January 4.

Coach Adolph Rupp sent his charges through their first scrimmage sessions last week, although they have been going through daily workouts for several weeks.

Seven lettermen returned to the cage wars for the Wildcats. They are Huber, King, Farnley, White, Sibley, Combs, and Allen.

Other varsity candidates are Orme, Brewer, Elsom, Ramsey, Matthewson, Splaine, Akers, Teco, England, L. Robertson, J. S. Robertson, Driver, and Thornton.

CAGE WIZARDS WILL PLAY HERE

UK All-Star Team To Oppose Celtics

Reputed to play the world's finest and most expert brand of basketball, the original Celtics will meet a team of former University stars on January 6 in Alumni gymnasium, according to C. A. Webb of the Lexington Lions club, which is sponsoring the game.

Coach Adolph Rupp, one of the nation's outstanding cage mentors, will direct the ex-Cats stars. He hopes to draft such former greets as Kentucky's George Yates, Ralph Carlisle, and Ellis Johnson. The squad will be trained during a 10-day practice preceding the tilt.

Strictly a traveling troupe, the Celtics have astonished basketball fans during their cage wizardry in annual national-wide tours.

Proceeds from the game will be used to purchase an iron lung for the Good Samaritan hospital, Webb said.

Tech halfback, blocked Billy Black's attempted conversion.

Noting happiness to an already happy ending was the fact that not a single Cat received any serious injury in the battle. Captain John Ebner and guard Eddy Fritz on the bench matched the nervousness of Coach Kieran during the game. Fritz had suffered a broken nose in scrimmage Friday. Both will be ready and rarin' for the West Virginia tilt Saturday at Morgantown, Va.

Running Wild

By ROY STEINFORT

If "The Mighty Casey" had swatted out a homerun and Mudvich had won—it still wouldn't have equalled the happiness that Charles "Dutch" Ismael caused in Louisville Saturday night.

The big Dutchman reached the crest of his collegiate football career on the Derby City's du Pont Manual Stadium field Saturday as he battered into smelters Georgia Tech's supposedly "great line" for nearly six minutes.

Junie Jones lived up to his reputation by spotting, almost immediately, Tech's biggest weakness—the guards and tackles. Then the little quarterback called on the big fullback from Pikeville to administer his charging blows to the Yellow Jackets' mid-section.

Ismael And Company Click

Starting their second touchdown march in the closing minutes of the second period on the 45's, Jones sent Ismael off guard and tackle eight times in eleven plays on a sustained drive into Tech territory. And on the eighth play, after four first downs had been clicked off by Ismael and company, the fullback tucked the rawhide under his arm and charged into the line for two-yards and the Cats' second touchdown of the opening period.

Again it was Ismael who escorted the Kentuckians to their third touchdown of the afternoon as he carried the ball 10 out of 13 times to march the ball from the Cats' 30 down to Tech's goal line. He never made less than three-yards per try on this sustained drive. Taking the ball on Tech's five, he smacked their line three times before he finally scored his second touchdown and Kentucky's third.

Many times throughout the afternoon we would see Dutch ram the Tech line and he apparently stopped only to emerge seconds later from a mass of Tech linemen and scamper a few more yards before the secondary could haul him down. This is the type of back that the pro coaches like and it's a sure bet that if Ismael wants to play for his keep after he graduates in June, he'll have plenty of opportunity.

Rough Robert Rode

Coach Kieran turned up with another fullback this season who looks better every time out—Rough Robert Herbert. The big West Virginian, who helped sign Tech's death warrant with his 14-yard excursion through the southerners' line, added the Cats' final marker with his sparkling run. Rough Robert advanced past the Tech line to the 5-yard stripe where a pair of Tech clunks climbed on and rode the Herbert Special to the goal line.

It was a funny sight as Herbert crossed the goal line with two Techmen on his back. As Robert made a final leap into the end zone, he sent the two engineers sprawling on their tummies and a mass of Cats and Technicians rushed over them.

KITTENS LOSE SECOND GAME TO CINCY FROSH

Blocked Kick Provides Margin For 2-0 Victory

By JIM BROWN

Although they more than doubled the score in the first down column, Coach Gene Myers' University of Cincinnati freshmen football team lost their second game of the season when the University of Cincinnati freshmen scored a safety in the initial quarter and then staved off several determined Kitten advances to eke out a hard fought 2-0 decision at Cincinnati Friday afternoon.

The game, which was played at Nippert Stadium, was for the most part, a punting duel between Abraham and Kuhn of the Kittens. It was on an attempted punt by Kuhn that the Cincy yearlings marked up their winning "two-point" margin. Sweeney, giant Bearcat tackle, crashed through as Kuhn stood on his own 27-yard-line and blocked the ball into the end zone and a safety was tallied against the Kittens.

Defensive Battle

After the Queen City lads' tally, the game developed into a tight defensive battle, with the Kittens' only serious threat in the first half being a drive to their opponents' 32-yard line. However, in the second half, with Kuhn and Nuckols doing the brunt of the ball carrying, they drove to the 16 and 25 yard lines before being stopped.

Friday, the Kittens will play their third and final game of the season when they tangle with the Tennessee freshmen on Stoll field. The Baby Vols held a win over the Duke freshmen while their only loss was a 19 to 0 licking at the hands of the Vandy yearlings, a team which holds a 13-9 win over the Kittens.

Cat-Tech Pictures Will Be Shown

Moving pictures of Kentucky's 26 to 7 wrecking of Georgia Tech in duPont Manual stadium last Saturday will be shown to the student body at 8:45 p. m., Wednesday, in the Union Bluegrass Room, it was announced last night.

According to present plans the pictures will be shown in both slow and fast motion, Bill Nash, chairman of the Union Sports committee which is cooperating with the athletic department in the project, said.

Gene Myers, freshman coach, will interpret the Wildcat plays. The only admission requirement to the showing is the presentation of student ticket books.

UK Rifle Teams Lack Candidates

If the University's rifle teams fail to shoot their opponents' eyes out this year, it can probably be attributed to lack of material. Lieut. John L. Carter, who is in charge of the teams, said. Only about 50 candidates have reported for the Varsity, ROTC, Pershing Rifles, and Freshman teams, he added.

Although not enrolled in the military department, any student interested in firing on the varsity may still try out. Practice firing is scheduled to begin this week on the gallery range in the basement of the Armory.

Matches have been scheduled with teams from the Fifth Corps area and the Southern and Southeastern conferences.
