QUALITY ALWAYS WINS

STETSON HATS

On the gridiron, when the ball is snapped into action with one minute to play, every ounce of skill and strength flash into split-second action. In a smashing off-tackle play, as in a Stetson Hat, there is no place for the second rate. With skilled hand-blocking, you'll find the smart Fall Stetsons rugged champions of quality . . . a dependable team mate in the toughest scrimmage. $5.00 up.

FRANK LEROND McVEY
PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

"To labor constantly for the world with no thought of self, to find indifference and opposition where you ought to have active assistance, to meet criticism with patience and the open attacks of ignorance without resentment, to plead with others for their own good, to follow sleepless nights with days of incessant toil, to strive continuously without ever attaining—this it is to be a college president. But this is only half the truth. To be associated with ambitious youth and high-minded men, to live in an atmosphere charged with thoughts of the world's greatest thinkers, to dream of a golden age not in the past but in the future, to have the exalted privilege of striving to make that dream a reality, to build up great kingdoms of material conquest and make daily life richer and fuller, to spiritualize wealth and convert it into weal, to enrich personal character and elevate all human relationships, to leave the impress of one's life on a great and immortal institution—this, too, it is to be a college president."—J. H. KIRKLAND, Chancellor Vanderbilt University.

“The Best Band In Dixie”

Performing under the baton of John Lewis, dynamic young director of the “Best Band in Dixie,” eighty energetic horn tooters are trying to maintain the record of their predecessors. Each afternoon while the gridiron heroes are blocking, punting, and passing, the musicians are marching up and down the greensward blowing, puffing and blowing some more. The letters, formations and drills which the fans see on Saturday are the results of hours of constant practice. Each one of the eighty men must know exactly what to do during each moment of drill; there is a quarterback, commonly known as the drum major, and his signals with the baton perform the same service as the signals of a quarterback on the football team. A fumble, false signal, or sour note will spoil the “play.”

This year the band has an ace-in-the-hole. On October 6, at the Cincy game, the boys will demonstrate before the populace of that northern climate just what the well dressed bandsman should wear. In short, the horn-tooters will frolic in new uniforms. These flashy outfits will be purchased with money donated by the citizens of Lexington, the Military department, and proceeds from the “Horn Tooters Hop,” to be held tonight. The members of the band want to thank those who have already contributed to a worthy cause, and to extend an invitation to attend the “fluters jamboree” in the Men’s gym tonight.

The orchestra—“Andy Anderson.”

The place—“Men’s Gym.”

The purpose—“Make the ‘Best Band in Dixie’ the Beau Brummels of the South.”

Oh yes—Need we mention it? The price one dollar ($1) per male and date.

CHESTER A. WYNNE
HEAD COACH AND ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

A gentleman and a scholar, former member of the Nebraska State Legislature, one-time star full-back at Notre Dame University, lawyer by profession and football coach by choice—that is Chester Allen Wynne, "The Chetter."

A Kansan by birth, Chet Wynne received his higher education at Notre Dame, where he was a star pupil of the immortal Knute Rockne, absorbing not only a profound knowledge of the game and how to play it, but also a deep seated ability to pass on to others the knowledge which he has gained.

Coach Wynne was called to the University of Kentucky last spring to take supreme command of athletics after a disastrous football season had all but destroyed interest in the gridiron game here. He was selected by the Athletic Council after his record as a player and as a coach had been studied carefully, and after a series of personal interviews had convinced the Council that if anyone could place Kentucky on a high football plane, that man was Chet Wynne.

The Council decided that Kentucky needed an experienced football coach who had already won success at other institutions. Chet Wynne met that requirement. He already had led Creighton to a Missouri Valley Conference championship, and then he took a down-trodden Auburn team which had not won a conference game in several years, piloting the Plainsmen to a championship of the newly-formed Southeastern Conference.

Now Chet Wynne is at Kentucky. He is that quiet mannered gentleman on the bench in civilian clothes. He has a big job on his hands here. Kentucky never has won a conference championship in football. Victories over high class football teams have been few, despite the fact that a gradual improvement has been made in recent years.

It is up to Wynne to build up Kentucky still more, but in order to make a success, he must have the cooperation of students, players, alumni and those lovers of the game who are eager for Kentucky to win. Let's everybody pull together for Wynne and the Wildcats.

Ladies and gentlemen, we give you Chet Wynne.

Greetings
to a

GOVERNOR RUBY LAFFOON

The Governor of the great Commonwealth of Kentucky has demonstrated his friendship for the University of Kentucky time after time during the stirring period that he has been the State's chief executive.

Not only has he fought for the University and its right to exist as the foremost educational institution of Kentucky, but he also has been one of the University's most loyal supporters in athletics. Hardly a football or basketball game has been played during his administration that he has not honored the Wildcats with his presence to cheer them on to victory.

Governor Laffoon hails from the western part of the state and claims Madisonville as his home town. Before becoming Governor of Kentucky he served for many years as a lawyer and as Circuit Judge of his judicial district.

The University is proud to welcome Governor Laffoon to the football games this season. We hope and believe that his presence will serve to inspire the Wildcats to battle as he has been forced to battle. The world loves a fighter and all Kentucky knows that Governor Laffoon knows how to fight.

DANIEL BOONE

As this is the bi-centennial year of the birth of Daniel Boone, whose name is synonymous with early Kentucky history, it is fitting that the University of Kentucky Athletic Association should honor this great pioneer in the football program.

Trail blazer, colonizer and defender, Boone took a leading part in carving this Commonwealth out of the wilderness, and in so doing, contributed to the establishment of the University of Kentucky. Had there been no Boone there may never have been a Kentucky. Had there been no Kentucky, there certainly would have been no football game here today.

Every Kentuckian is familiar with the heroic exploits of Daniel Boone. What Kentucky boy has not, in his dreams, walked hand in hand with Boone as he crossed the mountains at Cumberland Gap; battled the painted savages with him, sorrowed with him at the death of his son who fell mortally wounded at the Battle of the Blue Licks; exulted with him at the recapture of his daughter who had been carried off by the Indians, and thrilled with him in his numerous narrow escapes from death at the hands of savage beasts and still more savage red men?

Kentucky claims Daniel Boone as her own, although he was born in Pennsylvania and spent his last years in Missouri. Not only did he lead the way for the first settlers, pointing out to them the richest lands, and building forts for their defense, but he also remained to help make their laws and to lead their military forces in the Revolutionary War.

RULE CHANGES FOR 1934

The rule changes for 1934 are minor in nature in so far as the spectators are concerned. The principal changes are in the dimensions of the ball, in the forward pass regulations covering an incomplete pass on, above or behind the opponents' goal lines, and some changes in definitions and penalties.

1. The circumference of the ball, short axis, is changed to "not less than 21 1-4 inches." This is a smaller ball than formerly used.

2. "The first forward pass in any series of downs (except on fourth down) which becomes incomplete by striking the ground, a second originally eligible player of the passer's team or any obstruction on, above or behind the opponents' goal line shall be penalized as though it became incomplete in the field of play. Any other forward pass which becomes incomplete in any of these ways on, or above or behind the opponents' goal line, is a touchback."

"Any forward pass which becomes incomplete by striking an ineligible player inside the opponents' 10-yard line may be a touchback if the opponents so elect."

Formerly a forward pass into end zone became a touchback on any down.

This year there is no penalty for an incomplete forward pass, except the loss of a down.

S. A. "DADDY" BOLES
GRADUATE MANAGER

What follower of the Wildcats doesn't know Daddy Boles?

He has been connected with the University of Kentucky as football coach, basketball coach, graduate manager of athletics, gymnasium teacher, programme manager or general major domo for so many years that many believe he is one of the founders of the institution.

No football programme would be complete without him and here he is.

In the ante-bellum days, Daddy Boles wore a moustache and a high-necked sweater. The sweater finally went to pieces. The hirsute facial adornment went out of style. But Daddy goes marching on in his easy-going way, making friends and keeping them.

RIX & CORBIN

Kentucky's Coaching Crew

And now we present the gentlemen of the ensemble.

The man on the left is Head Coach Chet Wynne; in the deep South they call him "The Chetter." He is the boss and there is no dispute about that.

Next we see a big Irishman by the name of Timothy Aloysius Twomey, Ted to you, who has the job of developing the Wildcat linemen. He was a big success as a tackle at Notre Dame only a few years ago, and he displayed his ability to coach linemen at the University of Georgia, where he coached before coming up to Kentucky with Wynne.

The handsome young man next in line is Porter Grant, whose job is to coach the Wildcat ends. He was one of The Chetter's star pupils at Auburn and after his graduation from that Alabama institution he remained to assist Wynne in coaching the Plainsmen.

Next Birkett Lee Pribble, a former Wildcat captain who is head freshman coach. Pribble has two little daughters born on days on which Kentucky's freshmen played Tennessee's freshmen in Lexington. Those were two games Pribble did not see.

The little fellow is Frank Moseley, star quarterback on Alabama teams for the past three seasons. He was poison to the Wildcats at the Capstone and now he is teaching that same poison to the Kitten backfield men.

Ever hear of Bernie Shively? If you haven't then you haven't been in Lexington long. He has been with the Wildcats for eight years and has won a host of friends. Shive was an All-American guard at Illinois and came to Kentucky as assistant 'varsity coach. Chet Wynne retained him on the coaching staff. He helps with the 'varsity and is the freshman line coach.

The Rodes Family and U. K. Football

The Rodes name is as interwoven with football lore at the University of Kentucky as the Boone name is connected with the early history of this Commonwealth. These Rodes are all great athletes, beginning with J. W. Rodes, who played halfback for Kentucky back in 1904 and 1905, and who is the father of Waller Rodes, tackle on the present team.

While the memory of J. W. was still fresh in the minds of Kentucky fans, his brother, Pete, entered the University to carry on the family tradition by J. W.

Like his elder brother, Pete was a halfback and a great one but Kentucky had only one year in which to appreciate his genius because he left Lexington after playing with the Wildcats in 1907, and entered the United States Naval Academy. While at Annapolis Pete won further laurels for himself on the gridiron and captained the Navy team of 1912.

Pete left the Navy after his graduation from Annapolis and won a commission in the Regular Army, where he became as famous as a polo player as he was as a football star. He was a member of the Army polo team which won the international army polo championship.

Another great Rodes football player was Red Doc Rodes, who was a star halfback at Kentucky in 1909, 1911 and 1912. He was followed by Black Doc, his cousin, and brother of the other two members of the clan. Black Doc captained the Kentucky freshman team of 1914 and was a sensation in the Wildcat backfields of 1915 and 1916.

The present Rodes representative on the Wildcat squad is a sophomore tackle, Waller Rodes, who bids fair to follow in the footsteps of the other celebrated members of his tribe. Waller already has shown that he has ability, size and determination to make good.

Best o' Luck to The "Wildcats"
LOUIS des COGNETS & CO.
"Builders of Goods Roads" and
THIS STADIUM

Chet Wynne, Kentucky's new head football coach, had better luck in his first game at Kentucky than he did in his first game with Auburn where he coached before coming to the Blue Grass. In his first game at Auburn his team was defeated by Birmingham-Southern, the same team that defeated Auburn in the Plainsmen's first game this year. Wynne's Wildcats, however, won their first game for him by defeating Maryville College by 26 to 0.

The record of past Washington and Lee-Kentucky games:

1923—Washington and Lee 6, Kentucky 6
1924—Washington and Lee 10, Kentucky 7
1925—Washington and Lee 25, Kentucky 0
1926—Washington and Lee 14, Kentucky 13
1927—Washington and Lee 25, Kentucky 0
1928—Washington and Lee 0, Kentucky 6
1929—Washington and Lee 6, Kentucky 20
1930—Washington and Lee 14, Kentucky 33
1931—Washington and Lee 0, Kentucky 45
1932—Washington and Lee 7, Kentucky 53
1933—Washington and Lee 7, Kentucky 0

Col. Dick Johnson, of the College of Engineering faculty, was a member of the Kentucky football team of 1892. The late Prof. A. M. Miller, who taught geology at this University for many years, was manager of the team.

The University of Kentucky Wildcats and the Washington and Lee Generals have met 13 times on the gridiron. Kentucky won six of these while the Generals won five. Two were tie games.

The Mattox family has the same relation to Washington and Lee football as the Rodes family has to football here. As long as football has been played by the Generals it seems that there always has been a Mattox in the line-up.

Three football captains were named by the Kentucky Wildcats in 1897. King was elected captain at the close of the 1896 season but failed to return the following autumn. Campbell was elected to take his place but resigned in mid-season, and Severs was named captain for the remainder of the season.

The University of Kentucky Wildcats played the last half of their opening game this season in a downpour of rain. The spectators were well soaked and the players were handicapped by the deluge which made a lake out of Stoll Field. Back in 1898 it either rained harder or the players were less rain-minded. The Kentucky-Centre game of that year was stopped after 15 minutes of play because of rain.

Maj. B. E. Brewer, of the United States Army, commandant of cadets at the University of Kentucky, played as guard or tackle on the Wildcat football teams of 1904, 1905 and 1906. He also played in one game in 1907.

Harry Gamage, who coached the Kentucky Wildcats in football for seven years, now is head football coach at the University of South Dakota.

GOODWIN BROTHERS

Kentucky's Basketball Squad

Kentucky can well afford to be proud of the Wildcats in basketball, especially since genial Adolph Rupp, the carefree Kansan, came to the Blue Grass as commander of the Wildcat basketeers.

Since Coach Rupp came to Kentucky his basketball teams have won 67 games and lost but nine, probably the greatest record held by any university in the country. Most of the games lost were by one or two points.

Kentucky now is recognized as the leader in southern basketball. For three consecutive years the Wildcats have ended the regular playing season at the top of the South-eastern Conference, while for the past two years they have been undefeated in the conference during the regular season, although losing their initial game in the post-season tournament last spring.

Kentucky holds the world's record for consecutive basketball games won by a major university, having won 24 games in a row, beginning in the latter part of the 1932-33 season and ending with the tournament of 1934. The Wildcats won 17 straight games last year and ended the season undefeated, but there had to be an end to the chain and so they lost to Florida in the first game of last spring's tourney. There was no reason for losing but they lost and no Kentucky supporter voiced any disappointment. Most Kentuckians considered the Wildcats as conference champions at the end of the regular season and saw no reason why they should be called on to risk their title in a tournament which finally was won by Alabama, a team which Kentucky whipped twice during the season.

Kentucky won the tournament in 1933.

Out of 20 all-conference players selected in the past four years, 11 of them have been Wildcats, while the All-American teams of 1932 and of 1933 each contained a Kentuckian. Forest "Aggie" Sale, Kentucky's great center, was selected as forward on the All-American team twice, an honor never before conferred on a Kentuckian.

The Wildcats who have been selected on all-conference teams in the past four years were Sale, twice; DeMoisey, twice; Johnson, twice; Yates, Spicer, "Little" McGinnis, Bronston and Davis. Of these great stars only one, Bill Davis, still is a Wildcat.

Now a word about Coach Rupp. A star basketeer at the University of Kansas, Adolph lives and breathes basketball, and he is recognized throughout the country as an authority on the game. He never had coached a college team before coming to Lexington, but had won success coaching the high school team at Freeport, Ill. He not only knows basketball but he also knows boys and how to handle them. The Wildcat basketball players fight for Rupp as they do for Kentucky.

TRACK

Douglas Parrish, Capt. 1934, and
Howard Baker, Capt. 1933

The 1934 edition of Coach Bernie Shively's track team completed a very successful season by downing the strong Vanderbilt tracksters by a decisive score, running roughshod over the Berea and Hanover College teams, and then making a very creditable showing against a galaxy of track and field stars from Georgia Tech and University of Tennessee. Although the Tennessee meet was not decided until the last two events, Georgia won by approximately 20 points. Captain Douglas "Red" Parrish, Wildcat ace speeder, could not match strides with the young giant, Perrin Walker, a sophomore at the engineering school, who is destined to be on the 1936 Olympic team.

Captain Parrish carried off high scoring honors for the season. He was closely pressed by Ralph Kercheval, mainstay of the Wildcat football team during the past three years, who went undefeated in the javelin throw. Kercheval also proved to be very versatile by running the 440, one lap of the mile relay, and winning several first places in the broad jump.

Such other stars as Gilmer, sprints; Jackson, pole vault, and Fields, miler, were also developed during the '34 season by Coach Shively and they added much to the personnel of the team.

Tom Cassiday, veteran of three years, completed a very successful season and won several firsts in the quarter mile.

Several sophomores proved their merit and promise to become real stars before their graduation cuts their athletic career short. Jimmy Long and Charley Olney won varsity berths as members of the mile relay team.

Ben Willis, a freshman from Cincinnati, was the shining light of the 1934 freshmen and is the Wildcat's choice to replace the veteran Parrish. Willis is a speedy dash man and is also a star hurdler.

Fifteen letters were awarded at the close of the season. Besides the forementioned men, others who were awarded varsity awards were: Cameron Coffman, hurdlers; Gene Filler, high jumper; Joe Rupert, weights; Langan Hay, pole vaulter; Holmes Ellis, half miler; Walter Hocker, miler and two miler; and Frank Adams, student manager.

TENNIS

The 1934 Wildcat tennis team did itself proud, winning seven engagements and losing four.

The tennis season was marked by the only meeting of Kentucky and Centre teams since athletic relations between the two institutions were severed after the 1929 football season, and Centre won the meet by 4 to 3 after a terrific struggle between Wildcats and Colonels.

The Wildcat tennis players got off to a poor start but gathered momentum as the season progressed. They lost their first two engagements, then won a match, but lost the next time they took to the courts, only to stage a come-back and win six consecutive meets.

The Kentuckians lost to the University of Louisville and Vanderbilt before entering the win column with a victory over Berea. Then they lost to a great Tulane team, but came right back to win over Indiana, Xavier, Cincinnati, Chattanooga, Louisville and Tennessee, but ended the season with a 4 to 3 loss to Centre.

The team was coached by Dr. H. H. Downing. Webster Cosse was the manager, and the players were James Bishop, Lawrence Jenkins, Jim Al Moore, Milton Rush, Elvis Stahr, George Tulloch, Fowler Weed, and Capt. George Yost.
