U. K. CADETS JOIN LOCAL SOCIETIES IN OBSERVING FOURTH ARMISTICE DAY

Scabbard and Blade Fraternity Holds Pledging Service on Campus

DR. HARMON IS SPEAKER

Kentucky Council of Defense Presents War Record to County

A large and enthusiastic crowd lined the streets of Lexington Saturday morning to see the Armistice Day parade, which was led by the battalion and band from the University of Kentucky; other participants were patriotic societies and ex-service men in Lexington. Doctor Harmon's speech at the Kentucky theatre, directly following the parade, was the outstanding feature of the program.

Shortly before the parade the active chapter of Scabbard and Blade, the honorary military fraternity of the University of Kentucky, pledged the following men on the university campus: Major Cyril A. Phelan, Captain George Taylor, Captain Edward Byars, and Captain C. H. Cecil.

The University of Kentucky is to be congratulated upon having the best battalion in its history, both from the standpoint of having the best drilled companies and also the greatest number of men in its ranks. The streets of Lexington were decorated with flags hanging in the windows of the various business houses, and poppies, reminders of the European battlefields, were sold through the crowd by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Preceding Dr. Harmon's address, Mr. John S. Bays, representing the Kentucky Council of Defense, presented a complete record of Fayette County's War record to the county. This record was compiled by the

STROLLERS AWARD PINS TO THEIR NEW MEMBERS

Chosen From Casts of Organization's Production Last Year

The Stroller dramatic organization of the University held a meeting Thursday afternoon for the customary awarding of pins, the much-sought-after and unique emblems, which mark those worthy of the honor as active and permanent Strollers. Those receiving pins at that time were the members of the casts, the business managers and stage crews who produced "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Lady Windemere's Fan."

The try-outs for parts in this year's play, "Seventeen," will be conducted in a new way. All the Strollers and the Stroller eligibles will be assembled and a dramatic artist will read the play, correctly interpreting each character. Afterwards those aspiring to parts will read aloud certain portions of the play selected by the judges and from the ability displayed in these readings the cast will be selected. The date for the initial reading of the play has not yet been set, but will probably be within the next few weeks.

NOTICE TO REPORTERS

Assignments for Kernel stories are on the hook Saturday morning. All reporters are expected to hand in their work Tuesday. Wednesday at the fifth hour is the dead line. Please co-operate with the editorial staff and get your work in on time.

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT Y. W. CONFERENCE

Prominent Speakers Address Delegates From Kentucky Colleges

The Kentucky Conference of the Young Women's Christian Association held at the University November 9 to 11, afforded an opportunity for the students from the colleges of Kentucky to meet and discuss the various plans and problems for work in the Y. W. C. A.

Such important questions as the International Student Fellowship Movement, which is to get college students the world over to have a broader understanding and appreciation of Christian Fellowship, The Relationship of the Faculty to the Student Association and the Relation of College Students to Industrial Workers were discussed at the meetings.

The work of the Student Friendship Committee was presented by Miss Grace Lumpkin, who remained for the week to start a drive on the campus for money to help the struggling students of Europe.

Delegates from the following schools were present: Science Hill, seven; Eastern State Normal School, twelve; Kentucky College for Women, five; University of Louisville, two; Louisville Normal, two; and Transylvania, four.

The secretaries and delegates were guests of honor at a supper given by the Faculty Woman's Club, a hike given by Blue Ridge delegation, and a tea at Patterson Hall.

MISS JEWELL RESIGNS

The resignation of Miss Frances Jewell, Dean of Women, which has been accepted, will go into effect on Thursday, November 15.

Miss Sarah Blanding, of Lexington, former Assistant Dean and present head of the Women's Department of Physical Education, has been appointed to fill the position.

NOTICE TO KERNEL STAFF!

All members of the Kernel staff be sure to order a print of your picture to go in the annual.

NOTICE!

The Catholic Club will hold a meeting Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the assembly rooms on Barr street. All students are invited to be present whether they are members or not.

OPERA 'MARTHA' MAY BE READY FOR PRODUCTION LATTER PART OF MONTH

Principals and Cast Working to Make Production Great Success

FORTY-FIVE IN CHORUS

Piece to Be Presented in Original Form; Singing and Acting

The principals of the opera "Martha," which the Music Department hopes to produce the latter part of this month, are working every afternoon in an effort to render this production the greatest success possible. The Art Department, under the direction of Professor Carol Sax, is at work on the scenery while the students of the Home Economics Department are making the costumes under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Cromwell. Miss Mary Frances Davidson is dramatizing the recitative into spoken dialogue.

The opera, composed by Flotow and others in 1845, has often been sung without acting. The beautiful music renders this possible but the Music Department will produce it as an opera the form in which it was originally conceived. Action has already been started by the chorus of forty-five voices.

The cast is made up of a number of students who have taken part in other musical productions. Miss Margaret Owens, of Somerset, who will take the part of "Martha," is a new student at the University. She has a remarkable soprano voice of unusual range and she has been a soloist in many recitals.

Mr. Robert Clem, who will play the part of "Lionel" is a member of the University Glee Club and of the University quartette which toured the state last summer under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Department. He is a former member of the University Band. The sweetness and range of his voice determine him as one of the best tenors that has ever come to this institution.

Miss Josephine Frazier, who made an exquisite "Ermie" in the opera last year, will take the part of "Nancy." Miss Frazier is from Paducah, and she has taken part in many musical entertainments there.

Mr. Elmer Barker, who will carry the interesting role of "Plunkett," entered the University this year from a school in Tennessee. He has a voice of remarkable range and power, and he has taken part in several musical productions.

Mr. J. W. McDonald will carry the part of the Sheriff of Richmond. Mr. McDonald is a Senior and a member of the University Glee Club and other musical organizations.

Mr. Elbert DeCoursey will play the part of Sir Tristan Mickleford. He is a member of the University Glee Club, the quartette and the band.

Minor singing parts will be selected from the chorus which is unusually brilliant and spirited.

NOTICE!

All Juniors who have not received their Junior information cards, please see Frank H. Carter, and get them at once, as they must be in within the next few days.

NOTICE!

All Alpha Delta Sigma members. There will be a meeting in the Kernel office next Monday night at 7:15. Every member is urged to attend as the meeting will be of great importance.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU TO HOLD TRYOUT MONDAY

Students Desiring Membership Required to Talk Five Minutes

The Student Speakers' Bureau will hold its first tryout, which is intended thenceforth to be an annual affair, in the Little Theatre, Monday evening, November 19, at 7:30 o'clock.

Those desiring to tryout are expected to make a talk from five to eight minutes' duration on any of the needs of the University. Those at loss for material may obtain same in the form of information from any member of the Bureau from the office of the Alumni Secretary.

The members of the Bureau are: C. M. C. Porter, Sidney Neal, James Darnell, Ryan Ringo and Bob Porter. The members are anxious for a large attendance for it is their desire to pick the best on the campus to represent the University upon various occasions this year in the role of speech maker.

The judges in this tryout will be Professors Greehan, Southerland and Farquhar.

DR. HENDRICKS ADDRESSES NEW EDUCATIONAL CLUB

Theme Taken From Shakespeare's "As You Like It"

Dr. A. S. Hendricks, of Lexington, delivered a delightful address in the Educational Building at 7:30 o'clock Monday night. His address was the program for the first public meeting of a club recently organized in the College of Education. He took the place of Hon. George Colvin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction who was unable to keep the engagement owing to the illness of his daughter.

Dr. Hendricks reviewed the stages of man as presented in Shakespeare's pessimistic view in "As You Like It." He then portrayed a more optimistic old age for man if he should go thru the seven stages of development smiling, energetic, upright and stalwart.

Dean Taylor, of the College of Education presided at the meeting. The officers of the club elected at a recent meeting are B. I. Berry, Frankfort, president; Frank Irwin, Warsaw, vice-president, and Miss Nancy Beall, Mt. Sterling, secretary and treasurer.

LAW SOCIETY MEETS

The regular weekly meeting of the Henry Clay Law Society was held Thursday night, November 8. A Round Table discussion of "Should Temporary Insanity Be a Defense for Murder in Kentucky?" comprised the evening's program.

WILDCATS AND GEORGIA TECH TORNADO TO MEET IN ATLANTA TOMORROW

R. O. T. C. Band and Kentucky Fans Leave Lexington Tonight

LAST TRIP OF SEASON

Kenneth King and "Chuck" Rice Unable to Accompany Team on Journey

Amid wild outbursts of cheering on the part of several hundred students who had assembled at the Southern Station to see them off, Kentucky's Wildcat Grid squad again left its lair for a southern port last night, this time bound for Atlanta, where the Blue and White eleven ties up with Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado tomorrow afternoon. Twenty-two players, three coaches, "Daddy" Boles, Doctor Lipscomb, and Manager Van Zant composed the Cat party that boarded the special car at 10:40 last night.

The R. O. T. C. band is scheduled to follow the team to Atlanta tonight, leaving over the Southern at 10:40 this evening. Reservations from alumni and Kentucky fans have been pouring into the office of Mr. H. C. King, district passenger agent of the Southern, who has taken personal charge of the trip, and indications point toward quite a number of Kentucky rooters being on hand for the scrap.

The Cats worked out on their native soil yesterday afternoon for the last time this week. Light work featured the afternoon's program with signal drill occupying the greater part of the practice. Winn and his assistants have been confronted with the problem of digging up two gridders for the end jobs since both "Chuck" Rice and Kenneth King have been forced out of uniform by injuries.

Ab. Kirwan, captain of the Kittens last year, who has made quite a name for himself as a back this fall, has been working out on one of the flanks while Captain Dell Ramsey has again been shifted to end. Both have had some experience on end and can be counted upon to take care of their po-

RIFLE TEAM BEGINS PRACTICING FOR MATCH

J. A. Weingartner Elected Manager of the Team

Tuesday afternoon the rifle team of the University started practice for the year. Several matches have already been arranged with the different Universities. One match is scheduled with the University of Maine to take place in March.

Plans are being made to organize teams among the different clubs and organizations in Lexington. These teams are to fire matches with the University team during the winter. All sophomores and advance course men of the R. O. T. C. are requested to try out for the team this year.

At the meeting last week, J. A. Weingartner, a junior in the Engineering College, was elected manager of the team. For further information see him.

Alumni Notes

Editor—Alumni Secretary

AN OPEN LETTER

The beginning of alumni activity in the affairs of any institution is epochal. When it has the spirit of Kentucky for a background how much more potent is its influence! Co-operation of former students in the last three years has made the work of the University more effective in all ways and incidentally has made life happier for those officially connected with it. The coming and going of any individual or group of policies is undisturbing. The idea is the thing. Appreciation of individual responsibility begets real progress. Effectiveness of the organization depends on "George" and all his friends as well. We can help only as we have understanding. The Association, with its home comings, local and general meetings, the constant intercourse socially of its individual members and with its publications is the medium for intelligence. But only the kernel can give motive force. —H. G.

OPEN IN LOUISVILLE

Workers Will Try For $15,000 Campaign Fund Next Week

Alumni and friends of the University in Louisville will conduct a supplementary campaign there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in an effort to raise $15,000 for the Basketball building, Stadium, Student Loan Fund and Patterson Memorial.

Judge James P. Gregory, father of three alumni and one of this year's freshman class, is chairman of the drive. The Executive Secretary is J. Paul Swain, one of the most experienced campaign men in the state. The Woman's Club of Louisville, which invited President McVey to address them this week on the purposes of the Greater Kentucky Campaign, are giving the workers much assistance. Among those who will have charge of teams are Mrs. W. A. Jenkins, Mrs. Walter Lapp, Miss Mary Boyle, Mrs. James W. Beattie, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Mrs. V. O. Gilbert and Mrs. George H. Webb.

A committee from the Alumni Club of Louisville, has been appointed to canvass for funds.

Just the mention of "Home Coming" conjures up such a vivid picture that it is unnecessary to say more to the far away alumni who are planning to return to the campus November 29. The cornerstone of the new basketball building will be laid in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. In appearance and in structure this will be the finest building on the campus. The thousands of former students and graduates whose contributions of money and the work and enthusiasm which brought gifts from countless citizens have a right to take great pride in the achievement which will be symbolized in the simple ceremony on the morning of Thanksgiving Day.

The Wildcats and the Volunteers from Tennessee will afford two hours of lively entertainment on Stoll Field beginning at 2 o'clock. Several hundred reservations for the game have been made by alumni and friends of the University through Professor S. A. "Daddy" Boles, director of athletics. Tickets for the Kentucky-Centre game were sold out two weeks before the contest, which will warm the home coming crowd not to delay. A dinner dance at the Phoenix Hotel will mark the close of the festivities. Both football teams will be guests of the alumni at that affair.

There has never been a Home Coming at Lexington that was not enjoyable. The committee in charge this year expects to equal the best in the entertainment offered.

YOUR UNIVERSITY

To create a feeling in the heart of the average Kentuckian that this is his University is of inestimable value. It will arouse a sense of responsibility more effectively than tons of publicity and scores of public addresses and allegiance sworn by public office holders when it comes to winning the popular support and getting the financial aid needed for the proper expansion of "Kentucky's Own."

Alumni and friends can help bring this about not by speaking of "the University" or "our Alma Mater" but by saying to every listener "Your University." Make him understand this proprietorship. The Kentuckian has too much pride to allow anything that is thoroughly his to suffer.

Occasional murmurings of discontent are heard as regards our athletic prowess. Smug satisfaction does not beget progress but there are times when patience is the greatest virtue. This is one of the greatest lessons we have to learn from the ancients.

The greatest football expert in the country was engaged a few months ago to take charge of football at the largest University in the land. In mid-season came a game with an old rival. It appeared this was the best chance for victory that had been theirs in a decade. But history repeated itself in the form of defeat greater than all the scores combined that have been made against the Wildcats this year.

THE SUN SHINES

For the second time in its history the University sees a son about to step into the chair of the Chief Executive of the sovereign state of Kentucky. He is William J. Fields, of Olive Hill. Many feared a close election last week but Fields' majority was greater even than Morrow's 40,000 four years ago.

The only other former Wildcat who presided at Frankfort was Augustus Owsley Stanley. Under his administration the State tax for the University was increased more than fifty percent. It was in 1918 that the University first began to receive appropriations that were sufficient to allow it to cast aside swaddling clothes. What a mighty young giant has developed since then. Governor Fields will have the aid in the Senate of Arch L. Hamilton, Lexington, who was one of the leaders in the House when the first big progressive step was taken. The Republican leader of the Senate will be Hiram M. Brock, of Harlan, who was a student in the days of "The Old State College."

In the House the Kentucky alumni will be led by Harry B. Miller, of Lexington, who earned his laurels in the 1922 session; by Joe F. Bosworth, the veteran statesman from Middlesboro, and whip of the minority; J. W. McFarlin, of Franklin, who has had a long record of public service; Jack Howard, of White Oak, a newcomer, and A. B. Cammack, of Owen-ton, who was a leader of the undergraduates during the last session.

This winter's session of the Legislature should give friends of the University their best opportunity to put through some significant legislation in its behalf.

A GOTHAM POINT OF VIEW.

An elderly lady, from a nice, quiet, old-fashioned New England city that has not materially changed its habits in half a century, is visiting a married daughter in New York.

"It is the subways that confuse me here," said the visitor, telling of her experience in Gotham.

"But you have them at home," remarked the neighbor, a typical New Yorker.

"No," was ths reply. "We have a few taxicabs that meet the trains, but no subways."

"You astonish me!" said the Manhattanite, adding: "Why, I thought every city had subways!"—Philadelphia Public-Ledger.

Most popular college sport

"As I look back on my college days," said the old grad, "it strikes me there were more men playing blind man's buff than all other games combined. I understand this is still the case.

"Get me straight. It was no child's play. What we were groping around for was pretty serious business—nothing less than a career.

"Too many men are in the dark as to what they will do after graduation. Either they neglect to specialize in anything, or hastily select a major which they afterwards regret.

"I know I would be considerably ahead in business if back at college I had sat down for a few hours' earnest thought to find out just what work I liked best—and then gone in for it heart and soul.

"Pick the thing that appeals to you, and don't let them tell you that particular line is overcrowded. Talk this over with graduates you know. Talk it over with your professors. Talk it over with the industrial representatives next Spring. Most of all, talk it over with yourself.

"The main thing is to get on the right track and to keep going. There's no fun in being 'It' in the game of life, with every change in fate ready to push you off an uncertain course."

WE WON EVEN WHEN WE LOST

Evidently the Blue and White football squad is in the clutches of a jinx. We have the best team that the University has had for a number of years; so good, in fact, that they persist in crippling each other in practice. This has resulted in sending men into the game who are injured and really should not be put into service at all.

This jinx followed us to Centre and to Alabama, where we were beaten in heart-breaking games that should have resulted in victories for Kentucky. Both games, however, left our opponents a wholesome feeling of respect and admiration for the prowess and the clean sportsmanship of our eleven.

It is the opinion of the Kernel, that altho the score of the Alabama game showed us to be the losers of the contest, the Wildcats won the greater victory of the two. It was a moral victory. We returned from the south with a reputation for cleanness and fair play firmly established in the minds of Southern University College folk. They have realized that the University of Kentucky is a moral power in southern athletics. This is the most gratifying thing that could come to our team at this time. The whole southland is looking to Kentucky to take a place among the best in the land, a place which she should have attained long since.

This new found respect and admiration comes to us when we have just lost two hard games. It comes to us not for our ability to win games, but for the never-say-die and ever-present fighting spirit of the Wildcats. Facing heavy odds and almost overwhelming defeat the team came back both times with such a rally that ignominious defeat was averted. This was done by the cleanness of playing as well as the hardest of playing.

With a spirit like this the University of Kentucky cannot but take its right place in southern athletic sportsmanship.

LAGNAPPE

The highbrow season is on. Students who have been duly impressed by the necessity of culture will hang up their pool cues long enough to lend their presence to the Woodland Auditorium functions. We who are wise, know that one's attendance is a sure indication that one belongs to the Illuminati. After the performance, the average student will retire to his room, write a letter to his best girl, also to a majority of his acquaintances, casually referring to the fact that he has just heard John McCormack. Next day he will fill his regular pew at the Ben Ali.

A fortunate few will come away carrying a memory of the true greatness that emanated from over the footlights. Wistfully, and with a touch of awe, they will dwell in contemplation upon their brief contact with genius, gathering to themselves, perchance, a spark of inspiration and exaltation.

No further proof is needed that the world is becoming effeminate; a University of Michigan youth has such beautiful legs that he has insured them for $25,000.

How can one doubt the artistic taste of university students after seeing their rooms adorned with the masterpieces of Coles Phillips.

A minister walked into the midst of a dance and made the jazz orchestra stop playing. What a voice he must have had.

Football is a hard, hard game. It requires asceticism and Spartan-like self-control. A northern coach has flatly refused to allow his team to go to petting parties.

The amazing rapidity with which the basketball building is being erected is undoubtedly due to the celerity of students in paying up long due subscriptions

CAMPUS NOTES

Mrs. Winn Harrison was elected president of the Council of Mothers of the University of Kentucky students at a meeting held Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. O. Davis was made secretary. It is planned to hold the mothers meeting three times a year, the next one to be in February. At this meeting the mothers will be shown places of interest on the campus.

The Council of Mothers is an organization composed of mothers of women students of the university who live in Lexington.

Students of the Model High School of the University of Kentucky have been given the Terman group test of mental ability by Prof. H. P. Fling, principal of the school. A uniform testing program in all of the regular school subjects has been adopted, by which it is hoped to estimate the pupils' ability at the beginning of the term as an aid to proper grading and instruction.

Prof. S. E. Leland will address the institute of the League of Women Voters of Louisville Saturday on the subject of "Taxation."

Professor J. J. Hooper has received notice from the Executive Council of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity that he has been appointed local chapter advisor for the current school year.

The ninetieth meeting of the Lexington section of the American Chemical Society was held in the lecture room of Kastle Hall, Wednesday, November 14 at 3:45 p. m. Dr. G. D. Buckner, of the Experiment Station, addressed the section on "Scientific Meetings in France."

Dr. Buckner, who has been engaged in university study in France during the past year, gave an interesting account of some prominent meetings which he attended and personal reminiscences of French scientists and customs.

FOOLS

sitions. With Kirwan out of the backfield, Len Tracy is taking care of one of the half-back berths. Tracy showed in the Alabama game last year that he is quite capable of holding down one of the back jobs. Sanders, Hughes and Gregg complete the backfield quartet that will start against the Tornado.

With Ramsey on end again Winn has been shifting the Cat forwards around in the practice sessions this week. W. H. Rice is a certainty to start at center. Cammack, Russell and Martin appear best bets for the guard jobs with the first two probable starters. McFarland, Stephenson and Montgomery have been dividing the tackle work among themselves this week, McFarland and Stephenson look like Winn's choices to start the game.

A. O. STANLEY DELIVERS ADDRESS TO STUDENTS

Economic and Social Needs Emphasized in Plea For Common Sense

"I want every student of the University of Kentucky to join me in my fight for common sense," was the closing thought of Senator A. O. Stanley's speech in Dicker Hall at the fifth hour Monday.

Declaring that there is a greater struggle ahead than any previous war, Senator Stanley urged that everyone should discriminate between visions and vagaries and not to tolerate the latter in the least, as the promoters of such are the biggest foes to the future welfare of the world. He drew a line of difference between a man with a vision and one of "wild-eyed" vagary by asserting that the man with a vision has his feet "firmly fixed on the ground of truth and reality" and faces the public problems with an open mind having due regard for all concerned.

He asserted that the great struggle is between these and "the demagogues and wild-eyed enthusiasts who never know whether their hears or their feet are up in the air."

Telling of a recent riot in the British parliament when thirty-five members walked out declaring that those who had opposed a "free milk bill" were murderers, Senator Stanley reiterated that the theories of socialism as set forth by Karl Marx are foolish and as old as folly and the instigators of such events as related. There are too many people wanting to make the government a "mother" and shift all their cares on to it, instead of being fathers and provide for their own family welfare. He warned against the centralization of power by saying that it and the oligarchy of wealth, of rank, and of industry must be guarded against.

Senator Stanley was introduced by Dean F. Paul Anderson of the College of Engineering.

CONCERT SERIES IS WELL BALANCED

John McCormack, Famous Tenor, Will Open Season in Lexington Friday Night

"Seems to me that your series of concerts for this season is the best balanced and most attractive of any series that you have had so far in your experience, and I am hoping for your success," says Ben Franklin, manager of musical events in Albany, N. Y., and vicinity, in a letter to Miss Anna Chandler Goff, local concert manager, of Lexington.

John McCormack will open the sixth annual Artist Concert Series in the Woodland Auditorium, Friday night, November 16, at 8:15 o'clock. He will be assisted by Mr. Lauri Kennedy, cellist and Edwin Schneider, pianist and accompanist.

The other four concerts of the series will be given by the following artists: Ethel Leginska, "the most impressive of women pianists," on November 27; Jacques Thibaud, "France's most famous musician violinist and one of her greatest musicians," January 28; John Charles Thomas, the popular American baritone, on Feb. 11; and Carolina Lazzari, who, according to the Dallas Dispatch, "is a beautiful woman, with a beautiful contralto voice," and Alberto Salvi, "wizard of the harp" in a joint recital on March 3, 1924.

A number of season tickets in the best locations remain to be sold. There are still several hundred single seats to the John McCormack concert to be sold and six hundred chairs have been ordered placed on the floor and platform. Part of these chairs will be reserved and are being sold. Tickets on sale now at Lexington College of Music. The down town ticket sale will begin Wednesday morning in the Ben Ali Theatre lobby. Y. M. & Y. W. C. A. NOTES

A Students' Volunteer Conference will be held in Indianapolis, December 28, and will continue to January 1.

All colleges are urged to send as many delegates as possible to this meeting, as it will conduct a discussion concerning international problems and their value and relationship to Christian affairs. Such speakers as John R. Mott and Fred B. Smith, whom we all had the pleasure and benefit of hearing at the University last year, along with Sherwood Eddy and many other great men of today, will address this assembly of students.

Notice—The final report of the finance committee, concerning the drive conducted last week by the Y. W. C. A., raised the amount of money taken in to the total sum of $404.

Mr. Bowden will speak at the regular Y. W. C. A. services held Sunday evening in the recreation room at Patterson Hall.

U. OF K. BAND DESERVES SUPPORT OF STUDENTS

Success of Organization Due to Co-operation of Upper Class Members

Many have asked why is the band so good this year? This is the answer. The band is composed of students who are not taking the course for military requirement but because they are interested in having a real musical organization in the University.

Following is a list of the members of the band who are not taking the course for the military requirement: A. E. Anglin, horn; D. L. Bicknell, piccolo; E. J. Asher, E-flat bass; A. L. Atchison, snare drum; W. W. Daniel, solo cornet; E. DeCoursey, tenor saxophone; T. A. Duncan, snare drum; E. M. Heavrin, solo clarinet; S. R. Hill, third alto; H. S. Jackson, third trombone; J. F. Justice, saxophone; P. W. Mathews, piccolo; W. B. Moore, snare drum; R. M. Platts, solo cornet; W. L. Poyntz, bass drum; C. E. Scott, solo cornet; B. S. Taylor, trombone; J. E. True, baritone; L. E. Underwood, clarinet. Professor Lampert is the director of the band and Edward F. Gans is the drum major.

The whole-hearted support of the student body should be behind the band for they are doing a big work for the University of Kentucky.

Yearlings Make Brilliant Plays— Completely Outclassing Their Opponents

The University of Kentucky Freshmen football team experienced little difficulty in defeating the Georgetown Reserves, last Monday on Hinton Field and returned home with a 32 to 0 victory. The game was very slow and uninteresting with the yearlings completely outplaying their opponents.

All around playing of the line and runs by Arnold featured. The Green line held like a stone wall and soon after the first whistle the Reserves realized this and had to resort to plays other than line bucks. Arnold made some beautiful end runs two of which netted over 35 yards each. Smith could gain through the line at will as did Fuller and Simpson.

Just before the end of the first half Coach Buchheit sent in nine second team men, leaving Fuller and Simpson in the back field. Just after the seconds went in, Georgetown completed a forward pass that put the ball on the yearlings' 10-yard line, the Kittens were penalized five yards for offside, this putting the ball on the five yard line with three downs to make goal. The scrubs realizing their position fought before and the line held for three downs. Fuller punted 30 yards to end the half. Score, Kittens 12, Georgetown 0.

The second half proved more fatal than the first with the Kittens making 20 points. Forward passing was the only play that the Tigers used to any advantage and most of their ground was gained in this manner. Ducommun played best for the losers. He was in nearly every play and was responsible for most of their gains.

In as much as "Buddy" Smith will be out of the game for the rest of the season, Coach Buchheit has shifted his back field around. F. Smith is still at full, with Arnold and Fuller at halves and Simpson at quarter. Arnold is calling signals and does the job admirably.

Before the end of the game every sub was given a chance and during the

KENTUCKY'S WHIRLWIND ATTACK IN LAST PERIOD THREATENS BAMA LEAD

Last Quarter Offensive by Cats Sweeps Crimson Off Their Feet

TRACY MAKES LONG RUN

Cat Back Dashes 60 Yards Thru Broken Field For Score

Although outplayed in the last two periods by Kentucky's Wildcat eleven, the University of Alabama Crimson eleven managed to hold its nine point lead and win over the Cats 16-8 last Saturday in a contest that changed from what appeared a walk-over for the Southerners to a bitter struggle on the part of the Tuscaloosa eleven to hold the lead it had obtained in the first quarter.

With the count 16-0 against them in the final period, the Cats started a forceful drive that netted them a touchdown and a safety and threatened to tie Alabama before the final whistle ended the contest.

By far the most spectacular play of the game was the flashy 60 yard broken field dash for a touchdown by Leonard Tracy in the final period. Sent in to take Kirwan's place in the backfield when Ab was shifted to the line to replace "Chuck" Rice, Tracy cut in with one of the best pieces of sidestepping and straight arm exhibitions that a Cat back has turned loose for some time. His run, coming after Bama had scored her last touchdown, put new life into the Cats and only the appearance of numerous breaks against the Cats and alertness in intercepting passes by the Bama secondary defense saved Bama from possible defeat.

Alabama counted twice in the first period. After an exchange of punts, Gillis, of the Crimson, kicked to Kentucky's one yard line, the ball being downed by a Bama forward after Gregg had thought the oval was going to roll over the goal line. Hughes kicked out to mid-field and the Cats held the Crimson back on the 40-yard line, only to have Compton, Bama tackle boot the sphere through the uprights for a field goal. Aided by numerous penalties the Tuscaloosa outfit worked the ball well into Kentucky territory and Hubert went thru the line for one yard and a touchdown. Compton missed the try for goal.

Neither team could score in the second and third quarters with Alabama having the better of the argument in the second period and Kentucky playing better in the third quarter. Bama again counted in the fourth period when Gillis intercepted a Kentucky pass while standing on the Cats' 30-yard line and ran the oval back to the one-yard line before he was tackled. On the next play Gillis skirted right end for a touchdown. Compton place kicked goal.

On the first play after the kick-off Tracy skirted left end, then cut back across to the opposite side line and dodging several would-be tacklers, ran along the side line for a 60-yard run and a touchdown. Sanders' place-kick went wild. The Cats continued their whirlwind attack and forced Bama back until McClintock fumbled a bad pass from center while standing behind his own goal line and was downed for a safety by Ted Brewer and "Reb" Russell before he could get a punt off. Again the Cats started an offensive but time was short and the contest ended without further scoring.

PROMISE BATTLE ROYAL IN FROSH-VANDY SCRAP

Grid-Graph to Show Plays of Georgia Tech-Kentucky Game

The University of Kentucky Freshman football team will meet the Vanderbilt freshmen Nov. 17, on Stoll Field. Game will be called at 2 o'clock in order that the fans may "see" the Wildcat-Tech game on the grid-graph.

In Vandy the Kittens will meet the strongest opposition that they have encountered this year. It has been rumored that Vandy has one of the best freshman teams in the south.

The yearlings have been working very hard since their defeat by the Centre Lieutenants and promise that their showing Saturday will excel expectations. Two practice games have been played during the last two weeks and the Kittens have shown marked improvement over their showing in the Centre game.

The line is working much better and in the Georgetown game held like a stone wall. The backs are also working well. Arnold shows great ability as a general and is running the team like a veteran. Simpson, the new quarter, handles the ball well and can work the quarterback sneak to a great advantage. Smith and Fuller are both in good shape and promise great things in Saturday's game.

A large crowd is expected to see the game and Coach Buchheit does not expect them to be disappointed, as he says the Kittens will be victorious.

STATE RECORD LOWERED IN KY.-CIN. DUAL MEET

Hall Wins in Cross Country Run - Kentucky Noses Out Cincinnati

Ray Hall again lowered the state record for the cross country run when he broke the tape in the dual meet between the University of Kentucky and the University of Cincinnati; his time being 22:32 3-5. The meet was very close, with Kentucky winning by the small margin of 27 to 29.

Captain Gorman followed Hall and then three Cincinnati men finished, with Hendricks getting sixth place. Although Cincinnati did not get first or second, they gave the Blue and White a hard fight owing to their three men finishing third, fourth and fifth.

Hall was never pressed throughout the journey and finished about 100 yards ahead of Gorman, who in turn finished about 125 yards ahead of the three Red and Black men who finished almost in a bunch. Butler, Allen and Smith, although not finishing very close to the front came in far enough ahead of the Cincinnati men to give Kentucky the victory.

While the Wildcats are battling Georgia Tech Saturday the cross country team will meet the strong Wesleyan squad. This meet will give Coach Porter a good line on his men and will offer them valuable practice for the State meet and also the "Turkey Day" run at Louisville.

SCRAPS

The University of Kentucky scrub eleven rode to victory on the toe of Mayo Anderson Monday afternoon when the second varsity squad defeated the American Legion team of Shelbyville 3-0. Anderson's 35-yard dropkick in the last half second play was the only score of the contest. The Shelbyville post of the Legion entertain the Cats at supper before they returned to Lexington.

Although actual basketball practice is not scheduled to start until after the grid season ends, over a score of candidates for the freshman and varsity quintets are working out three times a week in the gym. Most of last year's letter men with the exception of those who are out for football have already reported and should be in fine shape by the time George Buchheit issues the formal call.

Saturday's defeat by Alabama practically eliminates Kentucky in the S. I. C. title race. A victory over Tech will help a lot to raise the Cats' prestige in the south, while a defeat will tend to lower the Blue and White in the race. Centre, Tech and Alabama remain undefeated in the South, but only Tech and Alabama are in the Southern Conference.

"Whiskers" new Cat mascot, has quite established himself in the hearts of the gridders. Both of the Cats were taken on the Tuscaloosa trip and "Whiskers" got so well acquainted with the squad that he was allowed to run loose in the smoker. "Tubby" Sauer was the chief object of his friendship and it looks like "Squibs" will have to be appointed his guardian.

The trip to Tuscaloosa was under the personal supervision of Mr. H. C. King, district passenger agent of the Southern, and it was through his efforts that the Cats received the best of service despite the long delay going down to Alabama.

The entire Kentucky party received invitations to a tea-dance after the game and a big subscription dance Saturday night but were unable to lend their prestige to the affairs as the Cat special left Tuscaloosa immediately after the game.

Dell Ramsey and "Tiny" Montgomery made a wonderful discovery while in Tuscaloosa. No, not Alabama's peaches, but they found a five and ten cent store close to the hotel and proceeded to get acquainted with all of Kresge's sales force.

The Point that has Youth Eternal
No style of writing can distort it—no years of use can wear it away
PARKER DUOFOLD might well be called the Fountain Pen of Youth. Not that its Over-size ink-sac is everlasting—it is not. Yet should it wear out a few years hence it will take but five minutes to replace it.
But the point—the most vital part of a pen—this Duofold point will far outlast the generation that writes with it.
No need to decline to lend your room-mate this pen, for it never once loses its original shape. It's as smooth as a polished jewel bearing—hence it needs no "breaking in."
Try this super-smooth Parker beside any pen on earth regardless of price. There's a lure in its fit and balanced swing. It urges your hand to its work—it gives your mind free rein!
So don't ever buy an unruly pen—don't use one—such pens distract and discourage. They're the reason Parker created the Duofold. All good pen counters have it.

Remington Portable

Take any user's advice

Anyone who uses a Remington Portable will tell you how indispensable it is.

It makes writing swifter—likewise easier. And—without any reflection on your penmanship—it makes reading easier.

Compact—fits in a case only four inches high. Easy to pick up and carry around, or tuck away in a desk drawer.

Convenient—can be used anywhere—on your lap, if you wish.

Complete—with four-row keyboard, like the 'big machines, and other "big machine" conveniences.

Price, complete with case, $60. Easy payment terms if desired

ASSOCIATION CONDUCTS MEETING FOR RESIDENTS OF MEN'S DORMITORY

Problems of Interest to Men Rooming in Dorms Discussed

TO AID FRIENDSHIP FUND

Members of Council To Act As Inspectors Of Rooms

The Men's Dormitory Association met Monday evening at seven o'clock in the assembly room to consider matters of interest to those students rooming in the dormitory. A fair representation was present and much interest was manifested in the various discussions.

Some of the more important matters considered were as follows: No one shall use the telephone more than three minutes when others are waiting and not over five minutes at any time. Quiet hours from 7:30 p. m. to 8:00 a. m. shall be observed to the extent of omitting all boisterous talking and other unnecessary noise. The members of the Dormitory Council shall act as room inspectors as provided in the Constitution and By-laws of the Association. Students will refrain from using the brace-bars in the bath rooms for gymnastic exercise.

Other things discussed were the need of drinking fountains, lights in the stairway halls and on the north end of the building, a cinder path across the campus and out to Rose street and the shortage of mops and brooms. It was thought by the Association advisable to bring these needs to the attention of the University authorities, with the request that they be given consideration.

After having disposed of business matters of the Association, G. R. Page made a brief talk concerning the Student Friendship Fund and proposed that everyone subscribe something to the cause. A number of those present did so after the adjournment of the meeting.

The Dormitory Councilmen are Allen Miller, Robert Coleman, J. M. Morgan, G. W. Pirtle, Russell Page, Lilburn Allen, McKinley Elam, secretary, and F. P. Bell, president. All students rooming in the dormitory are members of the Association.

Y. W. FIELD SECRETARY SPEAKS TO FRESHMEN

Secretary and Treasurer of Freshman Class Elected

Miss Grace Lumpkin, field secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Atlanta, Ga., representing the Student Friendship Fund, spoke at the chapel exercises Tuesday on "What the Student Friendship Fund Is." After Miss Lumpkin's talk the freshman class met and Madyline Robards was elected secretary of the class and Lawrence Scott was elected treasurer.

Mr. Bart Peak took charge of the devotional, after which Dean Melcher introduced the speaker, Miss Lumpkin, head of the organization in forty nations connected with the Student Friendship Fund; the headquarters of which are in Geneva, Switzerland. The conditions in Europe are distressing; during one month there were 100 hunger suicides. There are 1,400 refugees in Europe and 3,100 students in Russia awaiting relief. Money was sent to them last year and for one week a conference of five different nations met for the purpose of distributing the money to the most needed places.

In the absence of the president of the freshman class, the vice president, Mari Pheiffer, took charge of the meeting, and the foregoing officers were elected.
