A QUARTERLY MAGAZINE DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF THE ALUMNI AND STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Greetings to the Alumni

By GROVER CREECH, President

In assuming the presidency of our Alumni Association, your new president is happy to inform you that he is now heading the largest Alumni Association in the history of our University. Credit for this must go to the retiring officers whose loyalty and untiring efforts have made this possible; also to the devotion and diligent work of your Executive Committee of the University Alumni Association who meet monthly, often at great personal sacrifice, to carry on the duties assigned to them. Especially do we credit our secretary, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, in whose capable hands has fallen the hard task of editing the Alumnus and running the Alumni office.

Through this war period our first thoughts are always with our thousands of Alumni who are so bravely and brilliantly serving our country's cause. We have many communications from our Alumni scattered all over the globe, and are always delighted to hear from you and trust that you will keep in contact with your Association. We are working closely with the University officials, giving them the advantage of the opinions of the Alumni as you express them to us. We want you to come back to the campus and find a greater University than when you left. As we prepared our Alumni for their present duties, so do we hope to prepare them in the future for the peace that is to come.

While the past year has been the most successful from the standpoint of paid-up membership, yet there is room for more improvement. Being an active Alumnus certainly gives you a closer tie with your Alma Mater, and we want more and more like you, who are now active in the Association. The active Alumni are the ones who make it possible to keep the Association a going concern, and we feel sure you take great pride in knowing your Association is accomplishing so much. Won't you ask the Alumni you know to join with you in the support of the Association?

We would like for every Alumnus to be an agent and a missionary for our University. We have a great institution and one of which we can all be justly proud. If you know of any young men or women contemplating going to college, won't you contact them and speak a word for Kentucky? Your influence in inducing these young men and women to attend our University will be of more effect than you perhaps realize. The Alumni of the University can give it more strength than any other one source of influence. Your voice is heard not only on the campus but wherever you may be.

Particularly this year we hope to see more Alumni Clubs organized. There are many communities all over the country where we are well represented, but why not get together and organize? The better organized we are, the stronger and greater our University will become, and some day we can hope to be the leading educational institution of the South. To that end and to a greater University, we pledge our efforts for 1944 and 1945.

Alumni Association Holds Annual Business Meeting

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 2, in the Great Hall of the Union building, the president, H. D. Palmore, in the chair. Wilson and L. K. Frankel, re-elected to executive committee of the association. Miss Helen King was requested to continue as acting treasurer, and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin as executive secretary. ### ALUMNI MEMBERSHIP

The Alumni Association congratulates new alumni trustees, newly elected officers and the thousands of active and inactive alumni and former students who continue to bring honor to their Alma Mater. All will continue to serve in the greatest way for the University, the State and the nation. The fact that day by day, in spite of the many tragedies, the glorious cause shines with more brilliance and the line of battle becomes stronger and stronger, lends assurance that there is never a lessening in the drive forward. On the home front there must be no drawing in.

During the past month more than a dozen letters have come to the Alumni office to thank the Association for sending Campus News to former students who are in the service located in England, Italy, France, North Africa, the South Pacific and all over the States. We are mailing another edition this week to 2,000 men and women.

Again and again appreciation is expressed for the larger Alum-

Thomas H. Cutler

Thomas H. Cutler, a graduate of the University in 1903, is the most recent alumni appointee to the Board of Trustees of the University. By virtue of his new assignment he will continue to be an active member of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association. Mr. Cutler is a past president of the Alumni Association and has been a member of its Executive Committee several years.

Having gained an enviable position in the field of engineering, Mr. Cutler has been called upon many times for outstanding service, and has been honored by his election to high and responsible offices in his profession. He began his work as a draftsman. In Illinois and Missouri he filled every important public office in engineering. He returned to Kentucky about eight years ago when requested to be the state chief highway engineer.

While realizing the important tasks his sons are doing in the global war, Lt. (j.g.) Frank M. Cutler is now in New Guinea and Lt. T. H. Cutler, Jr., Army Transport Command now in India, Mr. Cutler's friends may recall that in World War I he served as Captain of Engineers in the U. S. Army, and was advanced to his majority in September, 1918, with the 26th Division. He was awarded two citations for bravery under heavy fire.

More recently Mr. Cutler has served as president and secretary of the Mississippi Valley Conference of State Highway Engineers; as president, vice president and member of the executive committee of the American Association of State Highway officials; as president and member of the executive committee of the American Road Builders Association and he was United States delegate to the last international Road Congress. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers; of the National Society of Professional Engineers and is permanent international road commissioner of the Kentucky State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers.

Mrs. Cutler was Miss Miriam Wynter Naive of Lexington, a graduate of the University in 1903.

1944 COMMENCEMENT

War conditions notwithstanding, the 1944 Commencement season's program was carried out as it was planned, and was highly successful, although the graduating class numbered less than half of what it would have been in normal times. There was only one reunion held. The 1904 group convened for a very informal get together and joined the luncheon on Friday when the gathering consisted of the Board of Trustees, faculty, alumni, seniors and friends.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Kansas State University, gave the commencement night address, taking for his subject, "Toward World Democracy." Honorary degrees were conferred on Governor Simeon Willis, the Honorable Fred Vinson, Mr. Jesse Hilton Stuart and Dr. Francis S.

HEBER H. RICE SPEAKS AT ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Address by HEBER H. RICE, President of the Class of 1904, University of Kentucky, at the Alumni luncheon, University of Kentucky, June 2, 1944, Lexington, upon the Fortieth Anniversary Class Reunion.

Mr. Toastmaster, President Donovan, Distinguished Guests, Fellow Alumni and Friends:

Oliver Wendell Holmes said upon a similar occasion:—

"Has any old fellow got mixed with the boys?

"If he has, take him out without making a noise;

"Hang the almanac's cheat and the catalogue's spite,

"Old time is a liar, we're twenty to night."

This is the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the class of 1904. Our class extends its profoundest respects and heartiest greetings to our Alma Mater, the great University of Kentucky, to its distinguished President, its outstanding Board of Trustees and its distinguished faculty, who are today making this one of the greatest institutions of learning in the land.

The years, to us, have flown swiftly by, and we are still young. This will be recognized in the touch of youthfulness displayed by our class group here assembled. "That golden haze of student days clings 'round about us yet." Out of our original class of seventy-five members, fifty-five are still living and ten are here for the reunion: Charles R. Gilmore, Benjamin R. Hart, Louis E. Nollau, Charles O. Peratt, Homer Puckett, Heber H. Rice, Lillian Austin Robertson, J. Craig Shelby, William H. Warder and Dr. George H. Wilson. Messages of regrets and best wishes have been received from Nancy Buford, "Tommy" Smith and Cornelius Ware.

It is said that life begins at forty. If my span of years should be measured by that of my grandfather, thirty-two years still lie ahead, before the sunset. Our class tree planted in the Spring of 1904, though having experienced a struggle in its infancy, even as you and I, has, nevertheless, weathered the storms and shared the sunshine, to reach forth its spreading branches to shelter and to welcome us today. Prior to its planting we had been furnished three trees from which selection was to be made by the class. But the Juniors securely hid what appeared to be the two choice trees, which left us no option but to plant the scrubby little maple which remained. Not discouraged, however, we set it out amid pomp and ceremonies, made speeches and poured out oratory upon it. The Juniors suggested that little hope could be held for its survival, in view of the warm air that had been thus administered upon it, and that it was destined to wither up. However, there appeared to

With a companion he was ordered to take a new radio into the front line to replace one knocked out by German artillery fire. Through darkness and a heavy mist the signalmen, coaxing a jeep along, reached outpost positions held by French troops. Whitton's knowledge of the French language got them safely through the forward position but beyond the French line a German plane dropped a flare which caught the jeep in an open stretch of the road. Fortunately, the destination was finally reached, the radio delivered and the operators were able to establish communications.

PRESIDENT DONOVAN GIVES BUDGET REPORT

It is with pleasure that I report to the alumni that the Governor and the General Assembly adopted a budget which places the University in a favorable financial position during the next biennium. The University will receive approximately a ten per cent increase in its appropriation for operation and maintenance, and the budget for capital outlay for the construction of state buildings included the Field House. The amount of money to be set aside for this building is left up to the Governor.

The trustees, faculty, students, and alumni very greatly appreciate the budget which the Governor and the General Assembly have given us. This will place the University in a position to take care of the returning soldiers and the civilian students who will be entering the University in large numbers before the close of the biennium.

The new budget makes it possible for the summer quarter to be placed financially within the University. Heretofore the summer school has been operated on fees, plus a small appropriation of $10,000 for its maintenance. This has been entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the summer quarter. The summer quarter in the future will be regarded as an integral part of the school year and operated as any other quarter. Professors will be paid on a twelve months basis. The year round educational program of the University will make it possible for many students to graduate from the University in three years if they wish to accelerate their educational program.

We express to the Governor and the General Assembly the profound appreciation of all those citizens who have an interest in the University of Kentucky for the constructive budget which they have provided for your Alma Mater.

H. L. DONOVAN,
President of the University.

REPORTS FROM NEW GUINEA

C. A. Rose, left front row

Remember the halcyon days of Kentucky football in the early 1930's? When the headlines featured Kelly, Forquer, Covington, Phipps, Richards, Rose, Toth, et al?

We knew then that there was a lot of fight in those men—they proved it—and pictured above is one of that same outfit, now fighting for Uncle Sam. It is T/Sgt. C. A. Rose, Connie to you, (left, front row), with his crew from the famous "Bats Outa Hell" squadron, posed in front of their particular bad news carrier, "Lucky Bat."

U. K. Graduates Get Radio Appointments

Advancement of two University of Kentucky journalism graduates in the field of radio has been announced in a broadcasting magazine. They are Thomas L. Riley, 1931, and Gilbert W. Kingsbury, 1934.

Mr. Riley, who has been television director of William Esty & Company, New York, has resigned to make a radio and film survey of the office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs in South

Stationed in New Guinea for almost a year, Connie says the "Lucky Bat" has already completed 85 missions, and that the crew includes Captain Dick Baker (left) back row, who is the operations officer-pilot, and in Connie's own words, "a hell of a good pilot."

Although they "sleep well, have plenty to eat, good mail service and plenty of cigarettes," Connie states that the "natives don't get one dam' bit whiter as time goes on," and that he would love to hear news of some of his old friends. T/Sgt. Rose's address may be obtained from the Alumni office.

America.

Mr. Kingsbury, who has been assistant editor-in-chief of WLW-WSAI in Cincinnati since November, 1942, has been named editor-in-chief of the stations. Before joining the staff of WLW-WSAI Mr. Kingsbury was a reporter and assistant city editor of the Cincinnati Post and later assistant dean and assistant professor at the University of Cincinnati where he is still a member of the evening college faculty, lecturing on journalism.

have been sufficient fertilization, and perhaps inspiration, in the sentiments there expressed and prophecies heralded, to make it today one of the largest, symmetric and majestic trees upon the campus. We are proud of it.

McGuffey's old Fifth Reader contained a poem which appears appropriate to recite in reminiscence of those good old days and which contains treasured sentiments, even though the members of our class, in the main, seem to live longer and remain younger than our forefathers of McGuffey days:

"I've wandered to the village,
Tom, I've sat beneath the tree,
"Upon the schoolhouse playground,
that sheltered you and me;
"Though some were left to greet me, Tom, yet few were left to know,
"Who played with me upon the green, some forty years ago.
"Some are in the churchyard laid,
some sleep beneath the sea;
"And none are left of our old class
excepting you and me.
"And when our time shall come,
Tom, and we are called to go,
"I hope we'll meet with those we loved some forty years ago."

Miss Dotson At Smith

Miss Lucile Dotson of Wilmore, who was graduated from the University in 1936 and who is an aerographer's mate second class in the Waves, is taking training as an officer candidate at Smith College at Northampton, Mass. Miss Dotson, before enlisting was employed at the Lexington Signal Depot.

English Teacher Joins Service

Pfc. Mary B. Evans of Lexington, a graduate of the University in 1934, is now with the message-center unit at Patterson Field, Ohio. Before entering the service Miss Evans was a teacher of English at London, Ky.

Introducing Lieutenant Colonels

Sidney M. Kelly

Major Sidney M. Kelly of Lexington, an officer in the U. S. Marines, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel at his post in the Southwest Pacific. He is in charge of a Marine anti-aircraft battalion and an amphibious corps in the Southwest Pacific area.

Colonel Kelly was graduated from the University in 1937 and at that time was awarded a commission in the Marnies. After graduation he reported to Philadelphia for further work at a Marine base, and from there was assigned to Santiago for special work including a course in law which equipped him for his next promotion, which included judiciary work.

His latest certificate of graduation was received last December while assigned to a Command and Staff School at Quantico, Va.

Colonel Kelly will not celebrate his 29th birthday until December, 1944.

Frank M. Baker

From headquarters, First Air Service Area Command, North Africa, comes the announcement that Major Frank M. Baker of Province, Ky., has been advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He entered the Army in September, 1940, as a first lieutenant, and was assigned to the Second Armored Division at Fort Benning, Ga. Before going overseas in 1942 he was transferred to the Army Air Corps. He participated in the invasion of North Africa, and later in the invasion of Sicily. After two months in Sicily, he moved with his Air Service Command troops into Italy and remained there, organizing the unit, for five months. He returned to North Africa last February. He attended the University of Kentucky and was active in sports participating in football, basketball, track and swimming.

Joe Huddleston

Major Joe Huddleston, former assistant professor of physical education at the University and one-time member of the University football team has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel at his post as ground executive officer at an Eighth AAF Fighter Station in England. His group was the first P-38 Lightning unit to strike at the Luftwaffe from England. From his station also the first planes from America made combat flights over Berlin. Colonel Huddleston takes care of the ground duties, leaving Col. George T. Crowell, his commanding officer free to his flying and to looking after the pilots. Colonel Huddleston, who is six feet tall and weighs 200 pounds, has full responsibility for the administration of the field with the exception of flying duties. He entered the AAF as a first lieutenant in July, 1941, and was assigned to the service group he now commands. He was graduated from the University in 1937.

Gilbert O. Wymond

Gilbert O. Wymond of Detroit, formerly a student of the University, is one of the youngest Lieutenant Colonels in the United States Army and is the second combat pilot in point of service. Colonel Wymond was on the first operational mission by the United States Air Force against the Germans.

As part of the British Eighth Army, Colonel Wymond was in the "Fighting Cock Squadron" that fought its way from El Alamein, through Tunis, Sicily, Pantelleria, Naples, Rome and Corsica. He has presidential citations which he says were won by the squadron. The first was for support of the British Eighth Army in the Egyptian-Libyan campaign; the second for breaking railroad contact between northern Italy and Rome; the third for destroying seventy-six planes and damaging thirty others in the Palm Sunday battle at Cape Bon, called the greatest aerial victory of the war. He has ribbons for American, European and African service, with four battle stars. He holds the D.F.C., the Silver Star, the Purple Heart, and the Air Medal. He left the University in 1941 and has spent two years overseas.

Hutchins. The exercises were held at night on Stoll Field facing McLean stadium, President H. L. Donovan presiding. The Sullivan awards were presented to Dr. A. W. Fortune, Helen Louise Harrison and Henry Saunders.

As is the custom, the baccalaureate sermon was delivered on the Sunday preceding the graduation, and was held in Memorial Hall. Dr. Homer W. Carpenter of Louisville was the speaker. Dr. Carpenter took for his subject, "Concepts of a Mighty Dream."

Preceding the graduation exercises at noon on Friday, a luncheon was served in the Bluegrass room of the Union building. This has been for many years a delightful feature of the graduation season, and while there were not so many present and the class was much smaller, the occasion was enjoyed. Dr. Leo Chamberlain, Dean of the University, presided, and the principal speaker was the Hon. Fred Vinson, national director of economic stabilization.

The strictly social features this year were the "at home" with which the Student Union Board entertained the seniors and other guests after the baccalaureate exercises, and the reception at which the President and Mrs. Donovan entertained trustees, faculty, alumni, seniors and guests at Maxwell Place.

FOUNDER OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT RETIRES

Prof. Carl Lampert

Prof. Carl Lampert, for more than a quarter of a century, director of the Department of Music of the University, retired from active work at the close of the school year in June, but will continue his association with the University on specially assigned duties.

The many changes on the campus, which old timers note when visiting here again, might well be said to have their greatest impetus about the time Professor Lampert was invited to come to the University and organize a department of music. He had had wide experience and the most effective musical training. His violin has become as a friend to those who have the privilege of Professor Lampert's confidence. Of course he has given much time to concert work. The great John Barrymore had nothing to ad libbing, chatting with his audience, his soloists, his glee clubs and his orchestras. It was just all a part of the ease and charm which his devotion to his art had acquired and appreciated it.

This writer can not recall a time when the University did not have musical organizations, but prior to Professor Lampert's coming the interest and support, as well as the talent and finances, had to be furnished by the students. However, the music department has as much to offer now as any of its size in this country and the Kentucky glee clubs, orchestra, choir, bands and classes are the delight of the Commonwealth. Professor Lampert did not do all of the work but the staff was selected by him, and as its leader and director a great deal of the success of the department goes to his credit.

Guignol Theatre To Open

Guignol theatre, which has been closed since June, will be opened again in September, and Wally Briggs, a graduate of the University in the class of 1937 will be in charge in '44-'45. The plan at present is to give three plays, one each quarter, under the direction of Mr. Briggs, who has taught dramatics and English, the fields in which he is now working toward a Masters degree.

Mr. Briggs, whose home is in Meridian, Miss., returned from the Army a year ago, having been assigned to Fort Thomas, Fort Benjamin Harrison and Fort Haynes. Frank Fowler is on a year's leave for study at Columbia University.

Alumni Membership

There are notes from the faculty, the administration, from other institutions and from former students. These gestures are most heartening and are gratefully received.

A year ago at this time we had enrolled about twice as many seniors as there are this year. Because there were few back for Commencement there have been less than 100 members who have paid dues. This is a handicap which, it is hoped, we may overcome in the very near future. The annual membership reminder letter has Corp. Thomas E. Jones, Jr., of Lexington is in charge of radio maintenance and repairs at the Ninth Air Transport base in England. He attended the University in 1936-37 and enlisted in August, 1942, taking his Army basic training at Camp Crowder and stayed on to take courses in radio repair and to study frequent modulation. When he arrived in England, he was assigned to the Ninth Air Force Service Command and given work on the field. The Ninth A.F.S.C. is the unit of supply maintenance and repair for the fighting elements which are now supplying aerial support for Allied invasion troops.

Corporal Jones is responsible for the efficient operation of radio equipment in the field, oftentimes going out with the ships to ferret out trouble. He also insalls telephones and electrical appliances.

been delayed in printing but it is on its way and will follow soon.

Think over the matter of Alumni membership carefully, not as another case of joining but as an opportunity to help the University which made it possible for its alumni and former students to contribute so magnificently to human existence and to acquire profound satisfaction from living.

Attorney Gene Lair Died At Paris Home

Gene Lair, 42 years old, died at his home in Paris, Ky., May 31. Mr. Lair, who was one of Kentucky's best known young attorneys, had been in ill health for some time, but his death was unexpected.

Mr. Lair was born in Harrison county but became a resident of Paris and attended the Paris high school from which he was graduated. He took his academic at Centre College and his law at the University of Kentucky. He practiced his profession in his home town and in 1930 was elected to the office of county attorney, served three years in that capacity and then returned to private practice. ## 10 GAMES SCHEDULED FOR BIG BLUE TEAM

The 1944 edition of Kentucky Wildcat football history will be recorded from the results of 10 games scheduled for the season from Sept. 23 to Nov. 25. Head Football Coach Ab Kirwan will be assisted by Athletic Director Bernie Shively and the new assistant coach, Rome Rankin. Forty-one men are in training as this notice goes to press. They have been recruited from Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois, New York, and Indiana.

Kentucky will go back into the schedule for football games as one of the first to return after recessing because of war's demand on manpower and patriotism. There will be six Southeastern Conference games. Two games had been scheduled with Xavier but the Musketeers decided to omit football this year. Three new teams that meet Kentucky are Ole Miss, Carnegie Tech of Pittsburgh, and Mississippi State.

The first game will be against Ole Miss and will be a night game, Sept. 23, on Stoll Field. Tennessee, meeting Kentucky twice on a home and-home arrangement, will be the second opponent of Sept. 30 and game will be played at Knoxville. It is hoped that it will be decided to make the Tennessee-Kentucky game on November 25, in Lexington, Kentucky's Home Coming event. The Alabama game, Oct. 28, will be played in Montgomery. The Mississippi game was carded for Memphis, Tenn., thereby dividing the distance each team will have to travel. There will be special interest in the game which will be with Carnegie Tech on October 7 at Lexington. The following game, October 13, against Georgia, will be a night game at Athens. About mid-season Kentucky will meet an old rival, V.M.I., who did not play Kentucky in 1942, but will come to Lexington for the contest. West Virginia will come to Lexington on Nov. 18 and as has already been stated Tennessee will conclude the engagements. An open date of November 11 was not closed as the Alumnus went to press.

Coach Kirwan, who is starting on his sixth year with Kentucky's hopefuls, has been quoted as saying that it is the opposing teams that make the home team look good or bad. When asked about his 1944 squad he said "they are a hard working, lively bunch of freshmen, 4-F's and seventeen-year-olds, but they are fairly good and we will just have to wait and see results."
