The order of business was rearranged to accommodate some Senators who needed to leave early.

On behalf of the Honorary Degrees Committee, Dr. Wimberly C. Royster, Dean of the Graduate School, presented the proposed candidates for honorary degrees at the May 1975 Commencement. Dr. Royster presented six candidates with the request that the names be withheld until the Board of Trustees has taken action and the nominees have accepted. Following his presentation Chairman Krislov asked for a division of the question. Each name was presented and the Senate voted approval of each of the six candidates for recommendation to the President and the Board of Trustees.

Professor Sedler stated that he thought the University should reconsider the manner in which it is awarding honorary degrees; that the manner in which they are awarded cheapens the original intent of the award.

The Chair recognized Professor Roger Eichhorn, Secretary of the Senate Council, who recommended approval of changes in Section V, 2.12, 2.15, and 4.1, Rules of the University Senate, as circulated to the faculty under date of November 6, 1974, subject to editorial changes by the Rules Committee. He recommended further that the Senate approve the proposed addition to the end of 4.1, as recommended by the Undergraduate Council in its memorandum dated January 3, 1975, and circulated to the faculty by the Senate Council under date of January 21, 1975, which reads as follows:

*Absence explained

None of the 30 credits referred to in this section may be earned through correspondence courses.

He further recommended that all of these changes become effective immediately.

He reported that the Senate would not be voting on all the verbiage contained in the proposed change of 4.1; that presumably the Rules Committee will incorporate it into the Rules as it sees fit.

Chairman Krislov recognized Dr. James Knoblett, Chairman of the Joint Task Force which had been appointed to review the changes that would need to be made in the Rules, the Graduate School, and the various colleges, in order to comply with Standard Nine. Dr. Knoblett reported that Standard Nine dealt with the special activities of two groups: those activities outside the normal process of classes and students -- night classes, extension classes, correspondence classes -- for which credit is awarded; and those activities that the University is involved in of a non-credit nature -- workshops, institutes, et cetera. He stated that Standard Nine stipulated that a university providing these former functions must provide the same quality of work as the regular university curriculum; and that if it was of a non-credit nature, to be offered as a community-service project or a continuing education type of thing, the university should measure, report and make it a part of the budgetary process so that the financial resources can be made available.

Chairman Krislov recognized Dean John Stephenson, Chairman of the Undergraduate Council, to review the actions of the Undergraduate Council.

He stated that the Undergraduate Council's task had been to suggest changes in the Rules in accordance with what the Knoblett Committee had proposed -- to delete from the Rules those references to extension which would distinguish extension credit from the other college courses. He stated that these recommended Rules changes were presented to the Senate at its November 11, 1974 meeting but that in debate from the floor Professor Weil had pointed out that under the proposed change in 4.1 of the Rules it would be possible for a student to take 30 of the last 36 credits presented for the degree by correspondence. Therefore, the Senate had directed that the proposed Rules changes be returned to Committee (in this case the Undergraduate Council) with the expression of its concern about this particular rule.

He reported that he had also had a letter from Dr. Stephen Langston, Assistant Vice President for Academic Affairs, in which he had expressed the same kind of concern about correspondence credit and ordinary University course credit. Therefore, the Undergraduate Council had presented two recommendations in its letter to the Senate Council dated January 3, 1975, namely, that a Senate Committee on Special Teaching Programs be charged to review and recommend on continuation of distinction between credit earned by correspondence and that earned by other college courses, such committee to report to all three Councils of the Senate, after the fashion of the Knoblett Committee, for their action as appropriate; and that the status quo be maintained with regard to our operating policy on correspondence credit but that an additional sentence be added to the end of that Rule that "None of the 30 credits referred to in this section may be earned through correspondence courses."

Chairman Krislov stated that the Senate Council had already directed the Senate Committee on Special Teaching Programs, headed by Professor Jones, to review and recommend on the former recommendation.

In discussion which followed it was pointed out by Dr. Stephenson that there was a further place in the Rules that would need correction -- Section V, 4.2 Commencement Honors, subparagraphs a. and b.--which provide that students graduating "With High Distinction" or "With Distinction" may not have work completed by correspondence and extension included in the grade point average. Chairman Krislov stated that with the Parliamentarian's permission he would rule that as an editorial amendment and instruct the Rules Committee to make the needed changes.

The Senate then approved the motion on the floor that Section V, 2.12, 2.15, and 4.1 of the Rules of the University Senate be changed to read as follows; that the additional sentence be added to the end of 4.1 as recommended by the Undergraduate Council; that these changes become effective immediately; and that these Rules changes be corrected editorially by the Rules Committee for codification into the Rules of the University Senate.

2.12 Credit for Work Done by Correspondence:

Not more than thirty (30) credit hours of the total required for an undergraduate degree may be gained by correspondence. No more than one-third of the requirements for a major may be gained by correspondence.

No credit will be given in the Graduate School or in the professional colleges for courses done by correspondence.

2.15 Other

No more than half of the credit toward an undergraduate degree may be earned by any combination of special examinations, College Board Advanced Placement Examinations, the College Level Examination Program, and correspondence courses. (The maximum that may be earned by correspondence is 30 hours.) (See 2.12, this Section.)

4.1 Residence Requirements:

Having a University of Kentucky baccalaureate degree means, among other things, that a certain amount of academic work has actually been completed under the auspices of the University and not some other institution. It is especially important that a substantial portion of work in the field of concentration be taken from the University if a UK degree is to be claimed. Moreover, a student should not be allowed to take the bulk of his academic work from another institution, transfer to UK for the last few credit hours only and claim a UK degree.

For these reasons, for an undergraduate degree, a minimum of thirty (30) of the last thirty-six (36) credits presented for the degree must be taken from the University, but not necessarily on the main campus.

Any request for waiver by veterans or other students must be presented for approval to the dean of the student's college.

None of the 30 credits referred to in this section may be earned through correspondence courses.

The Senate approved the minutes of the special meeting of January 27, 1975, as circulated.

Chairman Krislov reported on the following information items:

I actually have four information items. The first is the appointment of an Academic Programs Task Force which may be a strange title but that seemed to be the appropriate designation. There are two reports regarding definitions of terms involving academic programs. One is a Senate Committee Report headed by Professor Robe and sent to the Senate Council in June, 1974. The second group, an administrative group, headed by Professor Sears, reported in July, 1974. There appear to be some differences between these two reports and there is some desire to reconcile these differences. There will be a joint administrative and Senate task force to work on this. The Senate members will be the Secretary of the Senate Council, Professor Eichhorn; a representative of the Academic Programs Committee, Professor Robe; and a representative of the Rules Committee, Professor Eakin. That Task Force will work on this problem and deliver its report to the Administration and to the Senate Council. Any changes in the Rules will be brought to the Senate for consideration.

The second item refers to the Department of Laboratory Medicine which is of concern to the Medical School. The hearings tentatively set for last week were cancelled at the request of the new Dean. Dean Clawson called Professor Criswell and indicated that he wanted to take a second look at the proposal. He indicated that he would be on campus in a few weeks, that there would be further consideration within the unit and that it was hoped the proposal would be brought before the Senate by the end of the academic year. Naturally, the Committee Chairmen acceded to the Dean's request and the Committee hearing has been postponed.

I am happy to announce the appointment of Professor Jaros of the Political Science Department as the Chairman of the Research Committee. The former Chairman resigned because of the press of some other duties. Professor Jaros has been on the Committee and has assumed the Chairmanship.

I want to announce that the Council met with the Committee Chairmen at a luncheon meeting Friday. This is the first meeting of the Council with the Chairmen. We uncovered some problems and some difficulties. We think that there will be future meetings of this kind and future discussions, and we will try to solve some of these problems. There appears to be some difficulty with the size of committees and the difficulty of finding a meeting date. The Council will work at solving these problems for the Committees so that the work of the Committees will move forward.

The Senate adjourned at 3:45 p.m.

UNIVERSITY SENATE COUNCIL
10 ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

January 21, 1975

TO: Members, University Senate

FROM: University Senate Council

RE: AGENDA ITEM: University Senate Meeting, Monday,
February 10, 1975. Changes in the Rules of the University Senate, Section V, 2.12, 2.15, 2.2 and 4.1.

Background:

The Senate discussed changes in the Rules of the University Senate, Section V, 2.12, 2.15, 2.2 and 4.1 at its meeting on November 11, 1974. The Senate voted to send the report back to the Undergraduate Council with the following instructions: "that the Senate recommit the entire package of proposed Rules changes to the appropriate Committee with the request that it rewrite the proposed change in 4.1 Residence Requirements, to reflect the concerns expressed in discussions from the floor."

The Senate Council asked the Undergraduate Council to review the issues discussed on the floor on November 11, 1974. The Undergraduate Council responded to the Senate Council in a memorandum dated January 3, 1975, with the two recommendations on page 2 of the memo. [see attached]

The Senate Council has instructed the Senate Committee on Special Teaching Programs to review the issue and report its recommendations. The Senate Council also adopts the proposed Rules change in Section V, 4.1.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Joseph Krislov, Chairman, Senate Council

FROM: John B. Stephenson, Chairman, Undergraduate Council

RE: Recommended Rules Changes Reflecting Standard Nine

In response to former chairman Stanford Smith's letter of November 15, 1974, instructing the Undergraduate Council to review the issues discussed on the Senate floor on November 11, 1974 in connection with proposed rules changes regarding extension credit, and to propose revisions of the rules accordingly, I am submitting this memorandum containing the Undergraduate Council's recommendations.

In addition to discussing the matter with Dr. Smith, the Undergraduate Council has carefully reviewed the Senate's deliberations of November 11, has consulted with Professors Weil and Adelstein, as well as with Dr. Ockerman, and has read correspondence from Dr. Stephen Langston and Acting Dean William Ecton (attached).

Dr. Langston's request for a rules change (removal of Section 2.12 entirely) is timely in view of the Senate's discussion on November 11. The arguments are sufficiently persuasive that the Undergraduate Council concludes that a University-wide study committee should be charged with the task of reviewing the nature and quality of our college level correspondence courses in order to recommend whether they should or should not continue to be regarded as different from (and, by implication, inferior to) other college courses for the purpose of regulating use of credit through such devices as Sections 2.12 and 4.1.

The Undergraduate Council is able to propose rules changes in the case of extension credit largely because thorough study and consequent informed recommendations were made by two University-wide committees which were asked to look at the implications of the SACSS's change in Standard Nine. There has been no such study and there are no such informed, broadly-based recommendations regarding correspondence study. Consequently, the Undergraduate Council will not, at this time, propose any rules changes which would alter current operating policies regarding correspondence credits.

The Undergraduate Council does, on the other hand, recommend that:

1. A University-wide body such as the Senate Committee on Special Teaching Programs be charged to review and recommend on continuation of distinctions drawn between credit earned by correspondence and that earned by other college courses (currently reflected in Section 4.1 as well as in other Sections). Such a body would be requested to report to all three councils of the Senate, after the fashion of the Knoblett Committee, for their action as appropriate.
2. Until such time as an informed recommendation from such a body is developed which suggests the contrary, that the current operating policy regarding correspondence credit be maintained. This policy, which is not expressed in the present Rules but is in fact operational in the Registrar's office, excludes all correspondence credit from the 30 hours of the last 36 required taken at the University of Kentucky.

It appears that Professor Weil's proposed amendment, which was defeated on November 11 by a vote of 72 to 42, was intended to accomplish the purpose of maintaining the status quo until there is informed, shared judgment to do otherwise. The Undergraduate Council therefore recommends the insertion of the following sentence after the second paragraph of Section 4.1 of the proposed Rules changes it has already suggested:

"None of the 30 credits referred to in this section may be earned through correspondence courses."
