FIFTY YEARS OF LIFE OF UNIVERSITY TO BE CELEBRATED WITH JUBILEE TOMORROW

Old Students To the Number of 10,000 Expected To Return To Enjoy the Entertainment Which Has Been Provided For Them.

TUG-OF-WAR, SMOKER AND BANQUET TODAY

Fifty years of the life of the University of Kentucky, fifty years of service and exalted sacrifice, fifty years of struggle and of triumph will be celebrated tomorrow with a Golden Jubilee that will far surpass any like event ever held in the South. Graduates and old students to the number of 10,000 will return to honor their Alma Mater and for them the gates to all the joys of the University will be thrown wide.

The Jubilee Committee, of which Dean F. Paul Anderson is chairman, has been busy since early in the summer, making plans for the entertainment of the great throng which will be here tonight and tomorrow. The tug-of-war between the Freshman and Sophomore classes, the alumni smoker and the alumnae dinner tonight, the "K" dance at the armory, the parade of the classes and the faculty tomorrow morning, the speeches and the burgoon, and to cap the climax, the dedication of Stoll Field and the Kentucky-Vanderbilt football game in the afternoon, are on the Jubilee program, and if the guests and students are not too weary, in the cool of the evening some more dancing will be indulged in and a night-shirt parade will be given, altho all the plans for this delicious event have not yet been completed.

The Lexington Alumni Club has made arrangements to care for the visitors to the University for the celebration, and they will be taken care of in a style befitting the traditions of the University and of Kentucky hospitality. Registration will begin at the Phoenix Hotel, where the Alumni Club will have a special desk, this morning at 10 o'clock. Badges, programs and tickets to the alumni and alumnae celebrations of the evening will be distributed at this desk.

The tug-of-war between the two lower classes of the University will be held at Clifton Heights pond at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a real battle royal is certain to be pulled off. The Fresh outnumber the Sophs slightly, but the latter insist that experience and the prestige of last year's victory will more than make up the deficiency. Many of the old students have never seen a tug, and to them, as to nearly everybody else, the affair will be more enjoyable than any circus. Captain Fairfax, commandant of the battalion, will fire the pistol that will consign the hopes of one of the valiant classes to a watery grave.

Alumni, former students, faculty and friends of the University will attend the alumni smoker at the Phoenix Hotel this evening, probably as many as 400. Large delegations will attend from Cincinnati, Louisville, Pittsburg, Chicago and New York. Railroad presidents, men of letters, college presidents, engineers, jurists, former football stars, army officers and all-around good fellows will make up the distinguished throng that will attend this great get-together dinner.

The dance at the Armory this evening will be given for the benefit of The Kentuckian, the University annual, and an admission of fifty cents will be charged. The "K" dane is always one of the best of the student dances, and coming at this time a very brilliant crowd is expected. The old boys will have a chance to shake a foot with the fairest bunch of co-eds in the world, and no doubt all of them will take the opportunity.

The scenic feature of the Jubilee will be the parade Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The committee has offered a prize of $100 for the class making the best showing, and each one of the four has made plans that appear unbeatable. From the Freshmen in their "caps and gowns" to the undignified Seniors in their wild variety of garb, the parade will be a regular scream.

The Sophomores will stage a "Kentucky" circus parade in an effort to win the prize. The wildcat for whom ours was named is to be featured. Kentucky colonels will be in evidence. Kentucky suffragettes will advertise the cause. Kentucky's superiority over Vanderbilt will be shown by the contrast between the largest man and the smallest man in the Sophomore class.

The Juniors will represent the important events in the life of the University during the past fifty years. The class has been divided into five sections, each of which will have charge of the happenings for a ten-year period.

The Seniors will represent themselves as diplomats, each member being entirely encased in a sheet of cardboard eight feet high. Those in charge promise novel effects.

The Freshmen will typify childhood in the parade. The girls will dress as six-year-olds and wear their hair in braids down their backs. The boys will dress in short trousers and carry school books.

On returning to Patterson Hall after the march thru the city, the students will be joined by the faculty and alumni, and all will march to the chapel in the Administration Building, where the speeches of the day will be

FIFTY YEARS.

Touch of sunshine, touch of shadow,
Rainbow smiles and flitting tears;
Life and love and youth exultant,
Age but mellowed with the years;
Portraits in the frame of Time,
Gold and gray—October's haze—
Come; we'll paint the picture over;
Memories of other days!

Wine and waywardness and wassail,
"Heaven," music and the dance;
Patt Hall and the lawn where dimly
Shone the warm lights of romance.
Wondrous ladies, sweet, appealing;
Satin, lavender and lace;
Whispers lost in sighs that told
Truest love in other days.

Serenades beneath the window,
White parades along the street,
And the screechers in the bleachers
When the Wildcat killed his meat.
Cannon law and politics,
Seniors with the mustache craze,
Mathematics, chem and physics—
Bitter-sweets of other days.

Years of trial; years of triumph;
Years of hope and high endeavor.
Paint the picture—what a canvas—
Life and love and youth forever!
Fifty years—Kentucky calls you;
Yours to censure or to praise.
Welcome, welcome home again,
To the joys of other days.

DR. PATTERSON GIVES UNIVERSITY HISTORY

President Emeritus Discusses Institution's 50 Years' Existence

PRaises THE JUBILEE

President Emeritus James K. Patterson in an interview with a Kernel representative concerning the Golden Jubilee which will be held tomorrow to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of Kentucky, emphasized the importance of such a celebration both to the alumni and to the student body. He told of the great work the University has done in the fifty years of its existence and said that he anticipated even greater things in the next half century.

Dr. Patterson, who was president of the University from the time it was founded until 1910, also gave a brief sketch of the institution from its beginning until the present time. It is chiefly due to Dr. Patterson, who worked long and hard during the early days of the University when there was much opposition to it, that the institution is in existence today, ranking with the best State Universities in the country. Dr. Patterson's interview in substance follows:

The Golden Jubilee will excite an interest among the alumni and the student body as nothing else would be likely to do. Every alumnus is interested in the prosperity of the institution from which he takes his degree and whatever reputation it may acquire thruout the country brings to him a reflected importance.

Every graduate of Yale feels an accession of dignity to his Alma Mater in a certain sense an accession of dignity to himself and altho Johns Hopkins has been in existence during a comparatively short period, every alumnus of that great institution feels that its growing reputation at home and abroad brings added lustre to himself. So the students of the University of Kentucky have a conviction that the work which it has done is only an earnest and a pledge of the Vanderbilt, the great, and Kentucky, the sensational, will meet on Stoll Field tomorrow afternoon. The Wildcats have high hopes to fulfill, the Commodores have a glorious reputation to maintain. Tomorrow's sun will smile upon the greatest gridiron battle in the football annals of Kentucky.

That bad boy, College Spirit, has sprinkled the sneeze powder of excitement in the class rooms of the University of Kentucky. Itching, fidgety is boss of the situation. The green grass on the campus is nervously wiggling and the factory whistle that calls the "collegians" to class has changed its customary groan into an excited shriek that reminds one of the yell of a boy in the gossling era of his career.

True Spirit Abounds.

Cheer Leader Wayne Haffler, with a voice already as strong as the sweet odours that rise from a cabbage patch, and as vigorous as Nuxated Iron makes a nervous wreck, is chewing orice root to get his yelling faculties in first-class shape. Modest Bill Shinnick has been practicing up in his sweet soprano on "Do, Re, Mi, Sol, Do" until he sings like a Siren, and is now ready to lead "Hail, Kentucky." Charley Planck has been working to get both hands to work in unison when he begins the milking motion of "Su-Ky." Taylor, with the billiard-ball appearance upstairs, is also ready. Charles Straus, who has charge of the sale of tickets, was so happy over the first day's sale of seats that he felt like licking the sticking out of all the postage stamps in the Phoenix cigar stand. Addison Foster says he will bet his molasses-colored mustache that Kentucky wins. Newland Waters is willing to wager his cane. All is turbulence. Byron Bacon Black, of Bedford, says all of him is so excited that he can't think about himself or anything but the game.

Dr. Tigert's Attitude.

Dr. Tigert sits in his office in a split-bottom chair and grins. It is not the same grin that lit up his face before the Purdue game. It is not the grin that he grinned before the Sewanee fracas. It is not the grin of the night before Tennessee came and went. It is not a doubtful, or a confident, or a certain grin. It is the sphinx-like grin of somebody who knows something he's not going to tell.

On the eve of the game tonight, more than one Kentuckian will fight the game before the whistle blows. It is a safe prediction that by morning the beds of the Varsity will look more like mules, who have rather noted hind-leg proclivities, slept in them than Wildcats. There is a rumor that some reckless youths have been wagging wealth. They too will toss as they dream of fortunes made or the despair of being broke.

Seating Arrangements.

Stoll Field, like the students, will be all dressed up in a new suit. The bleachers have been added to and the management has rented some chairs like those used at home funerals, and will set them in the gridiron and use them for boxes. The students will all sit in the cheering section of the bleachers, which will be reserved for those having college tickets. Reserved seats have been marked off to the right of the press stand and all the centrally-located seats on the north side are reserved at 50 cents per.

The sale of seats up to the present has broken all records and it looks like the overflow crowd will reach to Brittingham's. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock, Ingersoll time, and like the well-known and much-referred-to twin sisters, Time and Tide, it will not wait for anything or anybody.

The Vandy Bunch.

With Vanderbilt will be seen some of the cleverest football men in the South. In the line will be seen Williams, a 200-pounder; Cody, 218-pounder, and Lipscomb, 205. These three are said to be the best line men in the South in their positions. Our own Tom Zerfoss will be seen at half-back and doing the punting. Zerfoss is making good this year and is recognized as a punter without a peer in those parts. "Rabbit" Curry, touted as the greatest quarterback in America, will be piloting the team. It will be a rare opportunity to see him working against "Doc" Rodes. Many claim that "Doc" is just as good or better than Curry. Certainly two of the greatest quarterbacks in football history will be seen working against each other.

Vandy will bring a large number of subs. Floyd, Ray and Richardson, known as her "battering backs," much heavier than the men expected to start in her backfield, will probably be put in before the first half is over. McGugin, Vanderbilt's wonderful coach, will direct the fight of the team.

The Immortals of 1916.

Kentucky will line-up according to custom. The same men used in the Centre and Butler games will be called upon. Dr. Tigert has not announced even a prospective line-up. Haydon, Grabfelder and Rodes will start in the backfield, unless the situation changes. McIlvain and Gumbert will both be used at fullback, in all probability. On the ends, Captain Crutcher and Kinne will start. Hickerson, Heick and Murphree will all be given chances in the tackles. Brittain and Simpson will start out in the guards with Dempsey or "Fats" Clements at center.

The team is apparently in splendid physical condition. Whether the players are in good mental shape is another question. The excitement of the Jubilee, tug-of-war and other celebrations may disturb their minds. At present no men on the team are injured and everything looks lovely for the start.

Shaking the Skeleton.

Vanderbilt has played the University of Kentucky five times. In these games the University has never scored on the Tennessee club. The smallest score by which Vandy has beaten Kentucky so far is 18 to 0. The average weight of the Vanderbilt team is 180 pounds, which makes them about 14 pounds heavier than Kentucky. The team is considered unusually strong because of its heavy line. Its light backfield, which will probably appear in the original line-up, is hardly as fast as Kentucky's. Neither team will be at a loss to draw upon its substitute.

Sure, Kentucky Will Win.

The sporting scribe of The Kernel does not claim any honors as a ouija board, altho from a side view he may somewhat resemble one in figure. However, if forced to do the Sibylline stunt, here goes The Kernel's prophecy:

It will be a great game.

The best team will win.

Kentucky has not the two-hundred-pound line of Vanderbilt. She has not two sets of backfield men. She has not a Curry, Zerfoss or McGugin, but in the cool, cool of the evening, when Haydon, the wily; "Doc," the wonderful; Grabby, the great; "Mac," the marvelous; Gumbert, the line-smasher; Crutcher, the steady; Kinne, the sensational; "Hick" and Heick and Murphree and those two bears, Brittain and Simpson; Dempsey and "Fats" kick their cleats in the sod of Stoll Field, she'll be around here. She cannot make Vandy bite the dust of Stoll Field, for there's no dust out there, but she can make Nebuchadnezzars out of the Commodores and make them chew the grass of defeat. Kentucky will "Unbuild (what) Vanderbilt" and the old school will forget she bears the cares and wrinkles of fifty years and feel like a two-year-old.

AGS. SPEND A WEEK AS APPLE PACKERS

W. W. Owsley, Frank T. Street, G. B. Nance, M. G. Lewis, V. R. Pfinstag and F. H. Johnson, Seniors in the College of Agriculture, returned Sunday from Henderson, where they had spent a week packing apples on the Barrett farm. This is the first opportunity the students have had to get practical experience and practical work in the grading and packing of apples. As hands were scarce, the students having satisfactory grades, were given an opportunity to go with H. N. Elliot, of the Extension Department and Professor Olney of the Horticultural Department, who were there with them most of the time helping and instructing them in the work.

This is the first work of the apple team which Professor Matthews takes each year to the National Apple Show to compete with the teams from several other agricultural colleges. The apple-judging contest will be held at Columbus, Ohio, this year, probably during December. Usually seven to eight teams compete but it is thought that there will be more this year. The University team will be trained by Professor Matthews and Professor Olney.

One of the boys, speaking of the Henderson trip, stated that after the first day's work they had learned more about that phase of the work than they would have learned in years in the laboratory.

FOOTBALL RALLY IN CHAPEL THIS MORNING

Last Get-to-Gether Before Vandy Game Has Many Features

BARKER WILL PRESIDE

Rousing speeches, an abundance of old-time pep and cheers galore will be a few of the many features of the biggest football rally of the year, which will be held in chapel this morning at 10 o'clock. After chapel the holidays for the Golden Jubilee will begin and continue until Monday morning.

Speeches will be made by Maury Crutcher, J. I. Lyle, J. W. Carnahan, Professor E. F. Farquhar, Charles Straus, R. C. Stoll, Mr. Carey, and Dr. J. J. Tigert. President Barker will preside.

This will be the last get-together before the Vanderbilt game and all students are urged to attend and learn the yells and the plans for cheering at the game. Cheer Leader Whayne Hafner confidentially assured a Kernel representative that there were a number of other good things in store, so as an inside tip The Kernel suggests that every student be there.

MITCHELL TO LEAD JILTED BRETHERN

The national order of the Jilted Brethren held a meeting in the club rooms last Saturday night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Robert Mitchell, Grand Senior Mogul; Frank Crum, Grand Junior Mogul; Elmer Robertson, Grand Scribe and Finance-her; Herbert Schaber, Keeper of the Seal; T. L. Rector, Chairman of Poultry Committee; J. D. V. Chamberlain, Chairman of Old Maid Committee; "Rusty" Edens, King of Hearts; S. H. Brown, Right-hand Bower; C. T. Dotson, Left-hand Bower, and J. P. Ricketts, Trumps.

Mr. Mitchell's election to the exalted position of Grand High Mogul marks the third time he has been chosen to that office. It is customary for the one who is hardest hit in his love affairs to lead the society, making Mr. Mitchell the logical man for the place.

The principal talk of the meeting was made by J. H. Coleman, an alumnus member of the club, who declared the organization to be the most humanitarian in the world, being dedicated to the extension of sympathy and consolation to bereaved brethren who have been jilted by their beloved.

still greater work that it is destined under Providence to accomplish in the years that are to come.

The University of Kentucky, as almost all state universities, had its origin in the Land Grant made by Congress in 1862. The late Senator Justin S. Morrill while a member of Congress from the State of Vermont in 1862, introduced a measure, the object of which was to stimulate agricultural and industrial development, and for this purpose grants of land were given to each State in the Union in proportion to its representation in Congress.

The State of Kentucky received over 300,000 acres of land for this purpose. Instead of holding the land and awaiting the increase in value, the State sold it for fifty cents an acre and invested the money in Kentucky State bonds, the interest of which was to be applied to the support and maintenance of an agricultural and mechanical college.

This fund was not sufficient, and instead of providing a supplementary amount, the State readily consented to attach it as a college to the Old Kentucky University, reserving the right to withdraw at any time. It was found after an experience of thirteen years that this partnership worked badly.

In 1878 the State withdrew its college and placed it upon independent footing. In 1880 the State provided by a tax of 1-20th of a mill for its maintenance and support. This income added to the income from the investment of the money received from the sale of the land gave the college an income of over $25,000 a year.

In 1882 the denominational colleges of the State made a united effort to induce the State to repeal the tax for its maintenance on the ground that it was unconstitutional. A long and acrimonious contest ensued. It was the most important measure that came before the Legislature of that year. Dr. Patterson fought all the colleges and the Legislature, and won. He also fought the colleges in the Court of Appeals where he won another victory.

The next important feature was the establishment of the Experiment Station by Dr. Patterson in 1885, and in 1887 a bill was introduced in Congress by Representative Hatch, of Missouri, to endow with an annual income experiment stations in connection with land grant colleges thruout the country.

The bill was regarded as likely to fail in its passage because of the brief time that intervened between its passage by the Senate and the adjournment of Congress. Those who had charge of the bill telegraphed to Dr. Patterson to go to Washington and induce Speaker Carlisle, if possible, to recognize Mr. Hatch when he arose to move its passage. Speaker Carlisle promptly promised that he would and on the following morning when Representative Hatch arose to move the passage of the bill, he immediately recognized him. The result of this was that within fifteen minutes the bill had passed the House and only awaited the signature of the Speaker and of the President to become a law.

In 1893, after the adoption of the new constitution in Kentucky, a measure was passed by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth authorizing each representative district of the Commonwealth to appoint on competent examination properly prepared students who should receive as an equivalent for the tax levied on each county for the maintenance of the college, free tuition, the privileges of the dormitory, fuel and lights, exemption from all fees and traveling expenses. The object of this legislation was to remove the discontent of the remote counties of the State, who urged that the college was in the main a Bluegrass institution conferring benefits upon Fayette County and the adjoining counties, which they could not share.

The purposes of this legislation were achieved and the college was placed virtually in every county in Kentucky. The institution under this wise legislation, both State and Federal, prospered and expanded ultimately into the University of Kentucky as it is today.

From time to time the standard of education was raised. Fifty years ago 75 per cent of the students were in the preparatory department. Today these conditions are changed, and all the students matriculated are in classes of the University proper.

In 1869 there was but one graduate, the first from the institution. Last year there were 169 graduates. Its alumni are among the best graduates in America and readily find employment as soon as they receive degrees. Many are engaged even in advance of graduation.

With this record behind it and with the prospects of increased usefulness before it, the University of Kentucky is destined to become one of the greatest universities in the country and its alumni to rank among the best graduated from any institution in America.

made and honorary degrees conferred on a number of prominent men. Dr. James K. Patterson, "The Grand Old Man of the University," will deliver an address on "Fifty Years of the University," and Dr. Charles W. Dabney, president of the University of Cincinnati, will speak on "The University and the State." The presentation of a portrait of Dr. Patterson on behalf of the Alumni Association will be made by Charles R. Brock, a distinguished alumnus, of Denver, Colo.

Those who will receive honorary degrees at the celebration are:

Henry Watterson, editor and statesman, Doctor of Literature.

Professor John L. Patterson, Dean, College of Arts and Science, University of Louisville, Doctor of Literature.

President George W. Stevens, Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company, Doctor of Laws.

Professor Thomas H. Morgan, Department of Biology, Columbia University, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. Charles Dabney, president University of Cincinnati, Doctor of Laws. Right Reverend Bishop Brossart, Bishop of Covington Diocese, Doctor of Laws.

President Emeritus James K. Patterson, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. R. H. Crossfield, president Transylvania University, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Centre College, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. M. B. Adams, president Georgetown College, Doctor of Laws.

Dr. J. L. Clark, president Kentucky Wesleyan College, Doctor of Laws.

President J. H. Frost, Berea College, Doctor of Laws.

Charles R. Brock, attorney-at-law, Denver, Col., Doctor of Laws.

Following the conferring of the degrees, lunch will be served on the campus to all who attend. That no one may go hungry, the committee has arranged to make so much burgoo and barbecue so much meat that the imagination is staggered at the contemplation. The dainty hands of the Home Ec students will serve the viands to the guests.

Before the football game in the afternoon, Stoll Field will be dedicated. Major John T. Geary, in charge of the mine defenses in San Francisco Bay, and a native of Lexington, will deliver the dedicatory address, and Governor A. O. Stanley will respond in behalf of the University. A concrete box for the use of the President and his visitors will be finished by that time and a brass plate commemorating the dedication will be placed on the front of this box.

Captain Fairfax, commandant of the battalion, will be master of ceremonies at all the events on the program, and will be assisted by the officers of the companies. President Barker will preside at the exercises Saturday morning.

PRE-MEDICS TO MEET.

The Pre-Medical Society, which is composed of all students doing major work in Anatomy and Physiology, will meet Monday evening in the Science Building. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

An Auspicious Event.

The University this week celebrates with fitting ceremonies the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. Old students who have not seen the campus for years will return to renew their acquaintances and to live over with the students of the present the events in which they played a part themselves in years gone by. For them and for the student body every arrangement which efficiency could demand or hospitality require has been made. To the committee in charge, and to Dean F. Paul Anderson, its chairman, the thanks of every well-wisher of the University are due. It has been no small task to attend to the details of such a celebration on so lavish a scale, and to say that the task was well performed is to put the facts too mildly. The committee cannot be commended too highly.

But it is not to this committee nor to any man actively engaged in the preparations that most praise is due. If we were constrained to single-out any one man to whom the greater meed of appreciation should be given, we would without hesitation, name Dr. James Kennedy Patterson, president emeritus of the University, scholar, gentleman and benefactor of the youth of Kentucky, into whose hands were committed the reins of authority when the University was but a name; who laid the foundations for the high standard it now enjoys under the able and devoted leadership of the present, and who retains his interest in the welfare of the school of his chosen people. Without Doctor Patterson there would be no Golden Jubilee; without his unselfish belief in his ideals there would be no such University as we have today.

Recognized as an authority in the classical branches of learning, in literature and in history, Doctor Patterson is no less conspicuous as a legal light. When the existence of the State College was in jeopardy, he appeared before the Legislature and by his own efforts forced the most brilliant lawyers of the State to defeat. Unstintedly he gave of his genius and of his fortune that this University might be what it is, and in the twilight of his life we can look back over the glowing years when he worked and struggled to rear to himself a monument more lasting than bronze or marble, and say: "This is a man who fought the good fight; this is he who saw more clearly and builded more uprightly and steadfastly than his world knew; this is he of whose glory there can be no detractor."

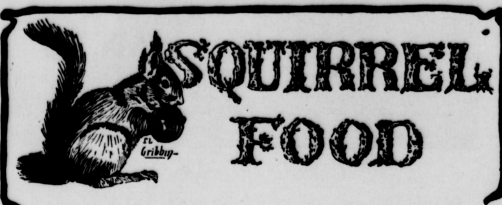

This Golden Jubilee is more than a celebration of fifty years of existence; it is—and it is well that we do not forget—the celebration of the consummation of the ideals and the hopes of the "Grand Old Man" who, though retired, still keeps watch over us. To him and to those who, with consecrated purpose, are carrying forward the great work of making of the boys and girls of the State and of the South better men and women, all honor!

The Sweet Co-Ed.

The Kernel wishes to thank the co-eds who are taking such interest in the preparations for the Jubilee. Last week at the suggestion of the cheer leader, the girls of the University congregated on one side of the chapel and with their own leader gave the yells that are to put the extra ounce of endeavor into the football team when it meets its most formidable opponent tomorrow. And there were more girls in the chapel than boys!

We are reliably informed that the co-eds intend to "pull some stunts" at the game that will make mere men students look like novices in the enthusiasm line. 'Tis even said that "dates" for the game are being declined, as the girls want all students in the cheering section. If you don't believe that, try to make one.

Suffrage is on its way, and any Kentucky co-ed with that spirit can have The Kernel's support if she wants it. It behooves our boys to show a little more speed if they intend to stay in the race on old Kentucky's campus.

Once upon a time there was a young man who loved a young lady, and, as such things sometimes happen, he told her a secret one night while the moon was gleaming saccharinely above the Hill of Foolishness on the Far Horizon. So, after awhile, everybody knew that it was a secret.

FEROCIOUS CATS EAT DANVILLE MEAT RAW

Haydon and Rodes Factors In Defeat of Centre College 68 to 0

GOOD WORK BY TEAM

A ferocious pack of Wildcat emerged from the wilds of Stoll Forest Saturday afternoon and savagely devoured eleven huntsmen from Centre College, of Danville, who came in search of big game and found bigger than they were looking for. The score was 68 to 0, which requires no explanation that the game was a walk-away.

The game was considered in the light of a "feeler" to tell just what condition the Cats will be in when they meet Vanderbilt in the greatest game of many years Saturday. The team was in much better shape than on its opening appearance against Butler. The most striking feature brought to light by the game was the large number of substitutes that are capable of doing good work in the line and in the ground-gaining positions. A large number of new men were given try-outs and made good.

Haydon, Kentucky's diminutive back-field man, starred with four touchdowns. "Doc" Rodes was in the game every minute and played his usual brilliant game. His long runs were telling factors in the victory and his forward passing, a field in which Kentucky has not ventured much, proved that with Kinne and Crutcher in receptive mood the pitch-and-catch game can be used for good gains during the season. "Doc's" punting was steady and was much better than the combined efforts of McDowell and Shaaf for Centre.

The game marked the renewal of fellowship and rivalry on the gridiron between Centre and Kentucky after a lapse of four years. These two teams were the first pair of gridgers that ever squabbled over a pigskin on a Kentucky field. In 1891 they met in Lexington and Centre taught the game to the Kentucky lads after they had lined up on the field. Relations were ruptured four years ago, but the old friends came together again with Saturday's game.

More penalties were enforced than had been inflicted in any game for many moons and it appeared that all were just. The Wildcats were so full of spirit that they could not hold themselves in.

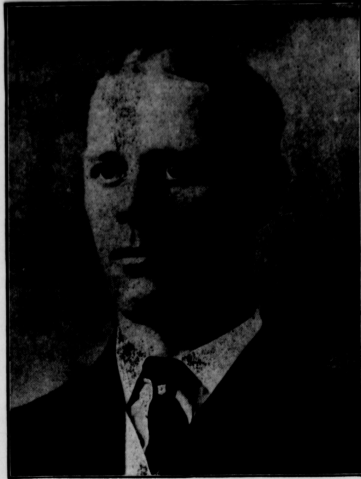

Earle Grabfelder was out of the game on account of a Hebrew holiday. Shaaf, Centre's star player, arrived after the game had begun, being detained by an auto mishap.

Dr. Tigert was out of the city on important business and "Squirrelry" Tuttle was in charge.

The first quarter opened with a kick to McDowell. Kentucky gained possession when a punt went out of bounds. Rodes attempted a field goal but missed. Centre kicked. After more kicking Rodes broke thru the line for twenty yards. Haydon carried the ball eight yards. Rodes advanced it fifteen and after McMillan had taken it three he plunged thru center three yards for a goal.

The touchdowns in the second quarter were made so quick it was hard to keep account of them. Kinne blocked a kick near the goal line and Rodes went over with the ball. Haydon recovered a fumble from a punt, and circled around end for a touchdown. No goal was kicked. Kinne caught a forward pass over the goal line for the third touchdown. The last part of the quarter was taken up with a promenade of the field by Referee Hamm who was kept busy penalizing first one team and then the other.

The only score in the third quarter was made by Walker, a Freshman, who went thru the line like a bullet.

In the last quarter it was bang! bang! against the Centre barricades. Haydon ran back a punt and Rodes kicked goal. Rodes made his remarkable run for over seventy-five yards for a touchdown from kickoff. Gus Gay caught a pass from Rodes, escaped two tacklers and trotted over the line for a goal. Rodes again kicked the pigskin over the crossbars. The last score was made by Haydon, who went thru left end for a touchdown. Gumbert had caught a pass and taken the ball to the fifteen-yard line when the whistle blew.

TUG-OF-WAR WILL BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Both Sides Claim Victory—Captain John Fairfax Is Referee

SOPHS OUTNUMBERED

The annual tug-of-war between the Freshman and Sophomore classes will be held at Clifton Pond this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Both sides are confident of victory, altho the Sophomores are outnumbered by fifty-three men. Captain John Fairfax, commandant of the battalion, will act as referee.

The men of both classes will hold meetings just before the big event and there is a rumor that a roll call of the men of both classes will be held at the pond and all men who are absent without a good excuse will probably be sorry. The young women of both classes will, of course, be on hand and decorate their brave warriors with the class colors.

The Sophomores will take their position on the east bank of the pond, which side was occupied by the losing Sophs last year. The Freshmen will occupy the same side that was occupied by the first-year men last year.

The Juniors will be on hand to see that the Freshmen are given a square deal, while the Seniors will look after the Sophomores' welfare.

The official count of the men in each class gives the Freshmen 217 as against the Sophomores' 164. The first-year law students, nine in number, who are entitled to pull with either side will probably cast their affections with the Freshmen, profiting by the lesson of the lawyers who pulled with the Sophs last year.

The classes will line-up on opposite sides of the pond with the cable stretched across the water. A signal by Captain Fairfax will be given in order that the men shall all get set and a pistol shot a few seconds later will start the pullfest.

Which ever side loses, the members will be required to go thru the pond. In case any student proves reluctant and refuses, he will be taken in hand by the upper-classesmen.

The tug-of-war always proves a big attraction and is witnessed by several thousand persons. The contest this year is expected to be witnessed by a still larger number than last year, due to the fact that many old students will have arrived for the Golden Jubilee.

"AMATEUR NIGHT" TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

Try-Out For Strollers Is Announced For Tuesday, October 31

The Strollers, the dramatic organization of the University, will hold their "Amateur Night" celebration the evening of October 31, and all students not members of the organization will be given a chance to show their dramatic talent they possess at that time. Full plans have not been announced as yet, but all those who intend to enter the competition should begin getting their "stunts" in shape.

The Strollers is one of the liveliest organizations on the campus, and is on a firm basis financially and artistically. The club has its own studio in the basement of the Main Building, where the rehearsals are held, and this room has been beautifully furnished with the proceeds of the plays given in past years. Each year a standard play is given, and last year's production, "Father and the Boys," was declared to be the best amateur show ever staged in Lexington. Full information about "Amateur Night" will be published in the next issue.

CHEMISTRY ARTICLES FOR STUDENTS' USE

The Manufacturers' Record, a magazine devoted to the future industrial development of the South, has a number of articles in the issue of September 14, which will be of interest to University students, especially to those in the chemistry department. A copy of this magazine can be secured from Dr. L. C. Daniels or from Dr. M. H. Bedford, in the old chemistry building.

Among the interesting articles which appear in the magazine are the following: "Chemical Science and Chemical Industry," by Ira Remsen, President Emeritus of Johns Hopkins University; "The Role of Chemistry in the Industrial Development of the South," by Charles H. Herty, president of the American Chemical Society; "The Synthesis of Southern Wealth," by Arthur D. Little, former president of the American Chemical Society; "How to Correct the Economic Balance in the South," by John C. Hebden, general manager of the Federal Dyestuff and Chemical Corporation; "Progress in the Chemical Development of the South," by David T. Day, petroleum expert; "Chemical Industries in the South and the Tremendous Development in the Near Future," by Edward Hart, professor of Chemistry at the Lafayette College; "The Development of Chemical Industries in the South and Southwest," by William B. Phillips; "An Opportunity for the South in the Dye Industry," by P. R. Moses; "The South and the Awakening of Chemical Industry," by A. S. Cushman; and many others.

SENIOR MEETING CALLED.

The Senior class will hold a meeting immediately after the chapel rally this morning, in front of the Civil Building. A matter of great importance will come up and every Senior should be there.

Y. W. C. A.—Y. M. C. A. PARTY WELL ATTENDED

Guests Have One Joyous Time—Refreshments a Feature

The joint social of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., which was held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Alumni Hall last Friday evening was a grand success. A large number of students attended and had the time of their lives. Refreshments, consisting of brick ice cream and individual cakes, added interest to the occasion.

The bald heads of the Freshmen were very conspicuous, but the girls did not seem to notice them as they gave them preference to the upper-classmen who were there expecting to receive all the attention. The time of departure came before any one realized it and the guests reluctantly departed.

MOVIE AUDIENCES TO HAVE A RARE TREAT

Arrangements have been made with the Universal Film Company to have representatives here today and tomorrow to film the tug-of-war between the Freshmen and Sophomores, to take pictures of the football game between the University of Kentucky and Vanderbilt University and of various phases of the Golden Jubilee.

The pictures will probably be shown first in local theatres and then in various parts of the country. Not only will they prove highly interesting, but will also serve to give the University well-merited prominence. This is the first time that activities of the University have been filmed, but the fact that the Universal Film Company has asked permission to film the happenings this week shows that they have not passed altogether unnoticed.

FRESHIES LONG SLEEP IS FINALLY BROKEN

Free-For-All Wednesday Night Starts Inter-Class Spirit

After peacefully sleeping for almost a month, the Freshmen awoke with a start Wednesday night when the Sophomores were preparing to paint out their numerals on the Gym Building. The fight which was started by the upper-classmen was taken up with vigor by the freshies and sophs and for two hours the campus presented much the same appearance as a battlefield.

Both sides claim the victory, the sophs on the grounds that they succeeded in their purpose and the freshies on the grounds that they got the best of the fight and also painted out their numerals in other places, which locations are in their opinion just as good as the Gym Building.

Class spirit has at last come into its own and all day yesterday the members of the two lower classes gave their class yells, and held organization meetings in which they swore to have vengeance on the other class.

STUDENTS TO PARADE TO FIELD IN BODY
 Entire Lower End of South Side Bleachers Are Reserved
ALL WILL BE THERE

The following plans have been announced by those in charge for the football game and the rooting section. Every student should be in the cheering part of the grandstand and no excuse will be found for one who tries to evade his duty.
 The student body will form as a whole in front of the Administration Building at 1:15 o'clock and will march to the athletic field in a body. The Athletic Committee has announced that the entire lower side of the south side bleachers has been reserved for students and that one will be admitted to the reserved section unless he comes with the classes.
 The Senior class will come first, the Juniors next, and the Sophs and Fresh will follow in order. The part of the stand for each class will be decorated with the class colors. The girls will sit next the press stand to lend their assistance to the male rooters and will sing "Hail Kentucky" with voices sweeter than any angel soprano could produce.
 Cheer Leader Haffler is of the opinion that the yelling at this game will be the best ever seen on Stoll Field and he wants every student to have an opportunity to get in the section where he belongs. If you want to yell and yell right, be in front of the Main Building at 1:15. The officers of each class will lead their respective contingents.

CURT PARK PRESIDENT OF "K" ASSOCIATION
 At a meeting of the "K" men of the University, held Wednesday afternoon in the office of Dr. Tigert, officers were elected and a committee appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the association. Curtis Park was elected president; Charlie Hayden, vice president, and Howard Kinne, secretary-treasurer. Assistant Coach Tuttle, Frank Crum and George Gumbert were appointed a committee to draft the constitution and by-laws.
 The association intends to make stringent rules against the indiscriminate wearing of letters, either college or high school, on the campus, and to increase the honor that accrues to the wearer of a "K" gained in athletics at the University.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS
 The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Sunday night at Patterson Hall. Miss Frances Jewell spoke in behalf of the Social Service Committee and several girls volunteered after the meeting to do the social work. It is believed that a fine work will be done in this committee during the coming year. Others who spoke were Miss Ellnor Eaker, Miss Susanne Beitz and Miss Eliza Piggett.

Patronize Our Advertisers.

AT THE ADA MEADE
 The Countess von Dornum, and her harpists are heading the Ada Meade show next Monday and can be counted on to supply local theater-goers with a world of superior entertainment. San Francisco critics have the following to say of the act:
 High-class in every particular is the program offered by Jeannette Von Dornum, assisted by Rita Denslow and musical trio.
 "Miss Von Dornum has a high, dramatic soprano voice of more than the ordinary range, power and flexibility, which, coupled with a charming personality, makes her offering particularly enjoyable. The harmony singing was an unusual feature, and the Egyptian dance by Miss Denslow was a pleasing diversion. This is one of the better things in vaudeville and after seeing this act it is easy to realize that the varieties are going forward by leaps and bounds."

COURSE IN COACHING TO BE GIVEN HERE

A new and profitable course to those who contemplate teaching is to be added at the University if Dr. Tigert's plans are fulfilled to establish a course in athletic coaching. Dr. Tigert has asked the Board of Deans of the University to approve his new course and give academic credit to the students for the work. The work of the new department will be divided, Dr. Tigert taking the football work, S. A. Boles the track and basketball work and Bill Tuttle the baseball work.

As has already been set out the purpose of the course is to prepare college men to coach athletics, especially in high schools. Realizing that many of the graduates of the University go to the high schools of the State as teachers and are called on to coach athletic teams, Dr. Tigert believes the new classes in coaching will be of great benefit to the college men. An old "State" man who was recently visiting in town expressed a wish that he might return to the University and take a course in athletic coaching along with a few other subjects which are becoming popularized in high schools. He said that he felt that these classes would terminate much the same as Dr. Tigert had figured it, namely, that those students who become high school principals would naturally send their good men here after graduation.

It is the intention to start the classes this semester and as academic credit is already given in gymnasium work a hope is entertained that such will be the case in the new course. Such a course is conducted at the University of Illinois as a part of the summer school by Coach Bob Zuppke, and has met with great success.

 "Bang!" went the rifles at the maneuvers. "Oo-oo!" screamed the pretty girl—a nice, decorous, surprised little scream. She stepped backwards into the arms of a young man.
 "Oh!" said she, blushing. "I was frightened by the rifles. I beg your pardon."
 "Not at all," said the young man. "Let's go over and watch the artillery."—Pickings (London).

BILL SHINNICK WILL LEAD SENIOR CLASS

Editor of Kernel Chosen President at Election Thursday

FRANK CRUM PRESIDES

(By Wayne Cottingham.)

William Shinnick, editor-in-chief of The Kentucky Kernel, was elected president of the Senior class, the highest gift in the power of the student body, at the annual election of officers which was held in chapel last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Shinnick's majority over his opponent, Joseph McMurtry, was twenty-one votes. Frank Crum, president of the class last year, presided.

The other officers chosen were as follows: Miss Nancy Innes, vice president; Miss Carrie Blair, secretary; W. C. Eyl, treasurer; Miss Marie Becker, prophet; Miss Helen Burkholder, historian; Oris Fowler, orator; J. D. V. Chamberlain, class representative; Maury Crutcher, grumbler; M. M. Montgomery, poet, and Curtis Park, giftorian.

The election was a very harmonious one and was characterized by the friendly rivalry which existed between the old guard party and the fusion faction. Both sides fought hard for every office and the election lasted almost three hours. For some of the offices as many as 137 votes were cast.

Prior to the election caucuses were held by each party and tickets were nominated. The fusion faction seemed to have the advantage of a better organization, securing eight of the eleven offices. Miss Carrie Blair, Miss Marie Becker and W. C. Eyl, nominees on the old-guard ticket, were elected. The old-guard party was somewhat crippled by the loss of twelve lawyers who bolted the party and affiliated themselves with the fusionists.

Mr. Shinnick, the fusion candidate, was nominated by Frank H. Ricketson, Jr., and Mr. McMurtry, the old-guard candidate, was nominated by I. C. Graddy. Both made stirring speeches, in which they set forth the merits of their respective candidates. The former received 75 votes while 54 votes were cast for Mr. McMurtry.

Just preceding the election a friendly bout took place between the Seniors and the Freshmen. Both had a meeting scheduled for the same hour and when the Seniors came to hold their meeting they found the chapel occupied by the Freshies. Upon attempting to eject them a fight ensued, in which the new canes of the Seniors and the bald heads of the Freshies played important parts. The Freshmen, however, soon grew tired of the contest and sued for peace, which the Seniors granted after impressing upon them the seriousness of the affair and making references to the cannon.

GULLION PROMOTED

It is a pleasure to students of the University to learn that Lieutenant Allen W. Gullion has received a commission in the National Guard as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Second Kentucky Infantry. It will be remembered that Colonel Gullion was the commandant at the University for some time, as well as having previously received an A. B. degree and an LL. B. degree from his native state, the former from Centre and the latter from the University of Kentucky.

STOLL FIELD TO BE DEDICATED WITH TABLET

The above is a replica of the tablet which will be placed on the front of the new concrete box from which the President of the University and his guests will witness future battles on Stoll Field. At the ceremonies tomorrow the field will be formally dedicated in honor of Mr. Stoll, and a sweater will be presented to him by the University Athletic Committee, with President Barker acting as spokesman. Major John T. Geary, of San Francisco, will make the dedicatory speech and Governor A. O. Stanley will respond on behalf of the University. The exercises will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock, and will be completed at 2:15. The football game is scheduled for 2:30, and this schedule will be rigidly adhered to.

Mr. Stoll is a member of one of the most prominent of Lexington's families, and an attorney practicing at the Fayette bar. He holds the degree of LL. B. from the University of Kentucky, being a member of the class of 1897, and also the degree of LL. D. from Yale. In 1914 the University of Kentucky honored him with a degree of LL. M. He has been a trustee of the University for a number of years, and has taken a great interest in the institution.

While in the University Mr. Stoll was prominent as an athlete and took part in the first football game ever played in Kentucky. This was in 1891 and he was also a member of the football squad in 1892. In 1893 and 1894 he was a regular on the football team, playing at fullback and end. His picture appears as a member of these teams. In 1894 Mr. Stoll was a track team man and was also manager of the baseball team. He was one of the men on the relay team that year, and aided in winning the intercollegiate meet. He captained the track team in 1895.

The name "Stoll Field" was given to the playground of the Wildcats at a meeting of the University Athletic Committee on October 7, 1898, and the name has stuck ever since, altho there has been no formal dedication in honor of the donor. The dedicatory ceremonies tomorrow will be in the nature of a well-deserved tribute to Mr. Stoll and his services to his Alma mater.

"FAIR AND WARMER" AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"Fair and Warmer," that brilliant and super-successful farce by Avery Hopwood, which was made famous over the whole country within a week of its New York opening, will be presented by Selwyn & Company at the Opera House tonight and Saturday matinee and night.

During the year of its run at the Eltinge Theatre in New York, "Fair and Warmer" played to capacity houses. Inevitably in such a continuous large attendance, there were many visitors from out of New York. And from these grateful and delighted visitors, "Fair and Warmer" received the country-wide advertising which made its local appearance the special treat of the season.

Avery Hopwood's reputation was made by "Seven Days," and enhanced by "Nobody's Widow." "Fair and Warmer" lifted it wholly beyond the reach of competition.

Selwyn & Company will present this classic of farces here with an excellent cast of farceurs. —Adv.
