Dear Major Or Iwing

Thank you ever so much for the poem
It is a lovely description of a great stalk, and the clear details in it, such as the cold of the stream, & the old pine roots & the Hermigan, bring back so many memories, though

I never got a stay quite like yours.

I had been beginning to think that I must have exaggerated when I wrote of doing several miles to get at a stay.

But your poem reminds me again of the size of these corries.

Many thanks.

Yours sincerely
Hussain
