

STATION,
BOVEY TRACEY, G.W.R.

The best photo is the only one of the new snapshots that will do. It is by Alvin Langdon Coburn, I should like it carefully treated & returned with the others, please.
Y.

10
Sept 22. 1913.

WINGSTONE,
MANATON,
DEVON.

Many thanks for your letter.

Neither my wife nor I object to your using W. E. O.
Hopp's photograph of her.

I send you a few snapshots of our existence on the border of Dartmoor down here, where I do most of my work, in case any of them strike you as of any interest.

The Spaniel is the dog of 'Memories', and, in some sort, of the Spaniel John. The name that of 'Hiding in Mist'.

As to early photographs, I have none here.

In London I have one of myself at the age of three

Which is such a confutation of my reputation as a pessimist that I should have liked to send it you; but I don't be there again for over a fortnight. May I have the snaps back, please?

Believe me

Yours very truly

Wm. Galsworthy

I may be getting some recent snapshots by the best of photographers. Shortly; if so, & they're interesting I might pass them on. Does it interest you to know that my wife has set a good deal of my verse to music in the form of songs? } 27