April 21, 1901.

My dear Mr. Josdick:

I thank you for these splendid pictures of a splendid man, whom I saw far too rarely: once at Harvard in the room of his friend John Dewett, and once at Westboro'. The face is Tolstoyan, Titanic. If one is proud of photography, I should think your work in that way would be a profound satisfaction.

to you. It seems now
to me.

Yours sincerely,

W. D. Howells.
