Dear Mr Westcott

It was exceedingly kind of you to send me the studies which I had not minded & was not bearing, as I suppose I dropped them out of a pocket which I can swear to my contents
may well contain of the contents of which I can quite unexcused there -

It was a great privilege to make Dr. [unclear]
acquaintance & to hear him speak. I came away with a new feeling for many purposes in the New Testament of which I had had an imperfect apprehension since I went, & with a new

deep feeling of reverence for your husband
and also, I think
to my view of the life
of the Church in England.
I'll have I have been thinking much
of many things he said me, more especially the great
principle that "he finds pleasure in shall live your words" - It is
