June 14

I send you Tingley entertainment. I should not have delayed it so long, but have been waiting for Lottus's commission.
I have made several graphical tours round in the metropolis without discovering any trees that I would venture to recommend: id est, I have gone no further than the shops for such is my modesty, that if I explored internal I should be laying out complimentary shillings rather than give trouble without remuneration. I have sent you a pretty emblematical thing which I happen to have in my possession: you may get some hints from it, though perhaps you may think it too tame: not sufficiently romantic, — The loughs not shooting fantastically enough &c — But to supply poetry & wildness, you may read the American Farmer over again. Nevertheless if you desire it I will put my head within the shops — only speak your wants —

A. B. If I don't hear in 4 days that you have received Tingley &c. safe, I shall put you to the expence of a letter to ascertain whether this parcel have been delivered to you.

Johnson shall not be forgot at his mouth's end

Yours ever

C. L.
