

Rev. Brooke Lambert

THE VICARAGE, GREENWICH, S.E.,

24 January 1897

Dear Miss Linton

You are the only one of the family whom I know, & whom I therefore address my respects & sincere sympathy.

I have been appointed to continue your late father in the study of social & religious questions that his death has made me realize what his loss must be to you & his family.

Two years ago you then myself he has passed away, & I would like I thought when I saw at you I hope that we were much to

Lamborn

meets again. He has often invited me, & that was the first time I could avail myself of his hospitality.

He was a man who did much to try & draw together men of different views, & he will be a loss to the world, & more suggesting differences.

My excuse that poor note; and in my like to be silent when one writes me feels how little one can say - but you will accept my few words in the spirit in which they are written

Yours faithfully

Edw. Lamborn
