

Meadowcroft, Hanwell,

London,

12, June, '93.

Dear Sir, many thanks for your kind appreciative note.

I copy you one of my notes
I like best on the next page.

You are very good to think so highly of my poor work.

Yours sincerely

Richard Le Gallienne

To Henry Peckitt, Esq.

13 left

67M28

June 12, 1893

Have you loved the good books of the world, —

And written none?

Have you loved the great poet, —

And burnt your little rhyme?

'O be my friend, & teach me to be true.'

Richard Le Gallienne.