

and I am sorry that we have failed in our visit.
I am always at home until 1 o'clock.

Believe me,

My dear Sir Baldwin Leighton

Yours very truly

+ Henry. E. Aubrey-Fletcher

Sir Baldwin Leighton. Bart

Cardinal Manning

ARCHBISHOP'S HOUSE,
WESTMINSTER,
S.W. March 9. 1874.

My dear Sir Baldwin Leighton

I have to thank you for sending me your pamphlet on Pauperization which I have read with, I think, a complete assent.

Two sentences in it express what I have been saying longer than I can remember, the one that we ought to test a

ARCHBISHOP'S HOUSE,
WESTMINSTER,
W. 2

relieve poverty" without breaking up the home: the other that personal "sympathy & supervision" are better than all money.

It seems to me that to the want of sympathy & supervision may be traced the mistakes of stupid Guardians, & too clear Political Economy.

I was not aware of the Atkham experiment which seems to me decisive.

I hoped & still hope that the Charity Organization Society would put a new mind into our Poor Law Administration.

It will give me much pleasure to talk over these subjects: