Dear Mr. Matthews.

I was at the Athenaeum on Tuesday for the first time for more than a fortnight & found your kind note & enclosures awaiting me. accept my best thanks for the trouble you have taken for me. The longer and more important letter that you have so kindly had copied is already in print. It is, as you say, in Mr. Dalman's volume, but it has also been printed in Fitzpatrick's

Edition of Lamb's Letters: will of course find a place in my Edition, which is in preparation, though it goes on slowly.

I have been looking to see you in town, hoped you might once again have been the guest of the Athenaeum; but I see you are "affiliated" elsewhere - What a charming company of comedians (the Dalys) you have sent us from New York! I am hoping to see them in any thing like play. Will ^{they} do the Henry Wiers, or any other Shakespearean Comedy? I hope so.

With renewed thanks,
(W. please also convey to Mr. McKee Mr. Henry Edward) I remain

Dear Mr. Matthews
Very truly yours
Alfred King.
